

Largest Freshman Class in Recent Years

Freshmen Fight to Gain Supremacy Over Sophomores

Opening Battle Staged Tuesday Night With Sophs Victorious

School started Monday, September 9. The Frosh-Soph active animosities started the following Tuesday night with a big scrap in front of the Broadway Butcher Shop.

The Sophs met in front of the Candy Shopper; the Frosh at the Stout lot. The espionage system of the Sophs located the Frosh and reported this very valuable information to Chief Harmon. Upon receipt of the information, Chief Harmon and his loyal sons of the class of '32 started down the street. About the same time, the Frosh started up-street, meeting in front of the Broadway Butcher Shop.

What an appropriate place for that altercation! Who would be able to distinguish human from animal flesh? Traffic was held up for at least fifteen minutes while the tried warriors of the one class—tussled with the untried of the other class in the street, on the sidewalks, underneath cars and in the alleys.

Carl Hoerneman was the first to take the count. Four husky frosh took him down to the Church Tire Co. and soaked his head in a tire testing trough. Kid Harmon of Eau Galle was the official welder of the razor strap. He certainly did justice to his job.

Major Hooper was also desperately engaged in combat. He, with a frosh, was evidently attempting to examine the under side of a Ford. Unfortunately Major's shirt was pulled over his head. "Swede" Fordham tangled with a big mustached frosh which action kept him busy for some minutes.

These several fights were ended by the referee who appeared in the garb of a policeman. Both sides being too fatigued to continue hostilities further. (Continue on page two, please)

Forty Students at First Band Practice

At the initial band practice which was held Tuesday night, September 17, in the armory of the Industrial Arts building, forty members were present, among which were many new members.

Mr. Charles Ingram is the director for the band and Harold Taufman, who is a student here, has been appointed assistant director. Mr. Ingram has had a great deal of experience with band work in this city and others and with this college, and Taufman has had several years active connection with the Stout band.

For a reward, all those who have had an 85 percent attendance for two yards receive a solid gold watch chain key.

If there are any students, either men or women, who are interested in band work, they are asked to come to the fourth floor of the Industrial Arts building for regular practices which are held every Tuesday night at seven p. m.

There is a possibility of having an all-school orchestra if a sufficient number of students are interested. Those who are interested in belonging to an organization of this kind should hand their names in to Harold Taufman as soon as possible so that work can commence immediately.

Assembly Scramble for Seats Avoided

Yesterday's assembly might easily have been a state of chaos if the students had not followed the directions of Mr. Bowman. Last week he told the new students to become familiar with the location of their seats before the next assembly and apparently that was done, because the student body assembled with a high degree of efficiency.

It was announced that after the next assembly, Sept. 26, each class will elect its officers for this year. The officers to be elected are: President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer; a man and woman for the advisory board members and a man.

(Continue on page three, please)

Mr. Bowman Makes Survey of His Class

At the beginning of each semester, Mr. Bowman conducts a very interesting survey in his Administration and Organization class. On the first day Mr. Bowman takes an inventory of the practical experience students have had as well as an inventory of the teaching experience and work in educational courses. The inventory is taken for the purpose of identifying the elements of experience in the background which students use in working out the problems of the course. The thirty men in the course are mostly Juniors and Seniors and their practical experiences in the past indicate a very wide range of work. The following is a list of the various occupations in which they have been employed:

Motion picture machine operator, foundry work, oil station attendant, hardware store clerk, driver of express wagon, golf professional, bus driver, clerk in clothing store, sawmill carpenter's helper, dishwasher, machine hand, core maker, farming, grocery clerk, helper iron mine, print shop, clerk in tax office, concrete construction, painting, plumber, lumber yard, feed grinding and feed store, truck driver, telephone lineman, steam shovel fireman, book-keeper, fruit salesman, milwright, cannery factory foreman, nursery salesman, motion picture theatre manager, warehouse foreman, clerk in golf shop, tractor driver, manual labor in building construction book agent, auto mechanics helper, bakers helper, structural steel construction, ice cream maker, buttermakers asst., ore dock checker, helper dry cleaning, steel fabrication and hotel clerk.

These surveys are a sample of how Stout men students spend their summer vacations and are indeed interesting.

Tomorrow's game starts at three o'clock sharp at the fairgrounds.

NEXT WEEK'S CALENDAR

Tomorrow—Football game.
Monday—Stoutonia Staff, 5 p. m.
Monday—Science Club, 5 p. m.
Monday—Mens Glee Club, 7 p. m.
Monday—Womens Glee Club, 7 p. m.
Tuesday—Band, 7 p. m.
Tuesday—Marquette-LaSalle, 7:30 p. m.
Tuesday—S. M. A., 7:15 p. m.
Wednesday—Rifle Club, 7 p. m.
Wednesday—Y. M. C. A., 7 p. m.
Thursday—M. A. P., 7:15 p. m.
Thursday—Hyperion, 8 p. m.
Thursday—W. A. A., 7 p. m.

Several New Faces Appear Within the Teaching Corps

Greatest Number of Changes in Home Economics Department

The opening of the semester has not only found changes in the student body but also changes in the instructing staff. The Home Economics department has five new members on its staff, and the Industrial Education department has two.

Miss Burgoin is Cafeteria Head. Miss Alice M. Burgoin, of Silver City, Iowa, has assumed the duties of Cafeteria Manager and instructor of Institutional Management. She obtained her Bachelor of Science degree from the Nebraska university and a masters degree from Iowa State College. Her seven and a half years of teaching experience have given her ample opportunity to instruct the Home Economics students very profitably in those courses which she teaches.

Miss Ganz to Help Supervise

Miss Alma May Ganz comes to Stout Institute as Assistant Supervisor of Student Teaching. Miss Ganz, whose home is in Alma, Wis. is a diploma graduate of Stout Institute and a degree graduate as Bachelor of Science from the University of Minnesota.

Miss Hassler in Dramatics

The work of coaching dramatics and teaching Public Speaking is to be done by Miss Violet M. Hassler, of Chapman, Kansas. Miss Hassler will also instruct classes of English. She comes to Stout with a Bachelor of Science degree from Kansas State Teachers College and a Masters degree from Northwestern University. Miss Hassler has had four years of teaching experience.

Miss Smith in Parental Education. Miss Helen C. Smith, of Syracuse, N. Y., who has received her Bachelors degree and Masters degree from Columbia University, will be Head of the Department of Parental Education. Her 14 years of teaching experience have been done at the University at Syracuse and at the State (Continue on page three, please)

Dormitories Have Been Rejuvenated

During the summer months, both Tainter and Lynwood Halls and the Annex were exposed to a rejuvenating process, the results of which are very much appreciated by the students according to comments heard last week.

Lynwood looks as if the sun were shining from every corner now, for the dormitory has been thoroughly washed and cleaned from basement to attic. Ten new rugs are making that many rooms doubly cheerful, and twelve new mattresses are making a dozen girls more comfortable.

A squad of painters redecorated several rooms in Tainter Annex, and the kitchenette, with its recent coat of paint, is as spic and span as a bride's newest kitchen.

Tainter Hall is the most dressed up with its dining room glowing in several hues. The floor has been newly varnished, and the walls in light tan give back a cheery atmosphere. Perhaps the freshmen who are very bashful appreciate the ceiling more than any one else, as they seem to enjoy gazing at it. Nevertheless, it is very beautifully done in tan and the brown paneling contributes to the richness of the room.

S.S.A. Mixer Dance is Well Attended

The first mixer dance, given by the Stout Student Association, Saturday afternoon in the Gym, proved to be a great success. Although the students were a bit slow about getting to the dance, everyone made up for lost time by having a particularly good time after arrival.

The music, which was furnished by "Harold's Campus Playboys", was peppy and was a great inducement to the nervous feet of the dancers.

The unusually large crowd indicated that there are many students who enjoy dancing, which is only another way of saying that the college dances this year ought all to be lively and successful affairs.

All School Picnic Held at Riverside

The all-school picnic, an innovation as a first week mixer event, presented a lively picture at Riverside Park last Wednesday afternoon. Both students and faculty agreed that the affair was a successful undertaking from every standpoint. The freshmen were guests at the picnic, and it gave everyone an opportunity to appreciate the goodly number of green caps this year.

At five o'clock the band and students assembled in front of the Home Economics building and from there they hiked in a body to the park. The band, leading the procession, entered the park to the tune of "How Dry I Am."

Hot Dogs Sizzle

Supper was served cafeteria style. Fires and long sticks were provided for the roasting of the hot dogs, a procedure which added much to the spirit of the occasion. Approximately 350 persons were served. Both Tainter Hall dining room and the Stout Cafeteria were closed, and this, together with the announcement in a special assembly assured a big attendance.

The picnic was planned and sponsored by the Stout Y. W. and Y. M. and the committee is to be commended for their work. Kathryn Connell, President of the Y. W. and Mr. Milnes of the faculty should be especially credited for their efforts. The picnic was partially financed by charging twenty cents to everyone, but the freshmen.

Now that Stout is striving in every way to assume the complete college basis, it is right that a greater number of these events become established so that Stout may have its traditions along with other colleges. Getting the students together at the beginning of a school year can do much to create loyalty and Stout spirit among the students.

Let's turn out 100 percent and help Stout start the season with a win.

THE STOUT SCHEDULE

Sept. 21—Winona Junior College.
Sept. 27—At Gustavus Adolphus, St. Peter, Minn.
October 5—At LaCrosse State Teachers
October 12—At River Falls State Teachers
October 19—Open
October 26—Superior State Teachers.
November 2—Eau Claire State Teachers.

Classes Have Been Showing Gratifying Increase Each Term

Stout is Well on the Way to A Desirable College Enrollment

There are 231 men and 188 women, or 419 students, enrolled at The Stout Institute at the present time, according to a late report from the administration.

The corresponding enrollment figures for last year at this time stated 212 men and 168 women.

Last year the enrollment gained 31 students the second semester making a total of 226 men, and 185 women, with a grand total of 411. These figures show that there are 5 more men and 3 more women enrolled at the present time than during the entire school year last year.

This increase does not seem so very much, but when it is considered that in the Industrial Education department between 25 and 30 of the upper classmen left for teaching positions before graduating, it is quite a marked increase.

The distribution of students according to classes are as follows: Home Economics, freshmen, 73 with 65 entirely new; sophomores, 29; juniors, 52; seniors 22; specials, 7; transfers not yet assigned, 5. In the Industrial Education department the distribution is: freshmen, 83, with 76 entirely new; sophomores, 64; juniors, 49; seniors, 19; specials 11; transfers not yet assigned, 15.

Miss Irish informs The Stoutonia that there is a larger enrollment this year than any preceding year since the four year term was put in effect. Before that time the enrollment was much larger, in 1914 there being 589 in attendance.

Printshop Settled In New Location

The Stoutonia is now in its new home. The printing department has been moved to the first floor of the I. A. building, formerly occupied by the woodturning and woodworking rooms. These two departments have been transferred to the General Woodwork shop in the trades building.

The large demand for printing teachers made the old rooms entirely too small and with the enlargement, Stout probably has one of the best printing courses in the country. The one feature of the new plan is that each of the different printing operations will be carried on in separate rooms, thereby avoiding unnecessary disturbances.

With the new arrangement the presses will occupy the front rooms, and will be separated from the linotype room by a glazed partition. Similarly, the lecture room, composing room, and bindery will also be separated. In addition there are two stock rooms, making the arrangement very complete.

Although the moving has been completed, it will take some time to get everything settled. The rooms which were formerly the print shop are now being converted into classrooms.

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office,
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

Under Direction of.....C. W. Hague
Editorial Adviser.....Mr. John Faville, Jr.
Associate Adviser.....Miss Helen Sarchet
Editor.....Lester Hawkes
Associate Editor.....Irma Nichols
News Editor.....Elizabeth Williams
News Editor.....Bernhard Hagen

WELCOME TO NEW STUDENTS AND INSTRUCTORS

The Stoutonia extends a hearty welcome to the freshmen, new students and to the instructors who have accepted positions on our faculty for the first time. Although only a meagre way in showing our appreciation to the fact that you have chosen Stout as the school in which to put forth your best endeavors, we feel sure that you will take the welcome in the true spirit in which it is intended.

Although a small school, we feel that we have as much, or even more, to offer you than any other school of its size, and we know that you will help us in holding high the standards for which Stout has always stood.

We, therefore, give vent to the voice of the entire school in offering you a most cordial welcome.

THE VALUE OF A STOUT EDUCATION

Mr. Bowman, our director of Industrial Education, has said, "All roads lead to The Stout Institute." This is indeed a true statement.

Stout, without a doubt, ranks as high, or higher, than any other school of like nature in the country and we might well dare say, in the world. Any student attending our school would do well to stop and consider before leaving college or transferring his credits to another institution, if his chosen work is Industrial Education.

The need and value of Industrial Education to the country today need not be touched upon in this article. Every student who has a meagre knowledge of facts can testify to the rapidity of the growth of this movement. Statistics show that one reason for the great mass of unemployed men today is due to lack of training. The Stout Institute prepares students to teach these men and their families to become skilled tradesmen so that they may take their place among society instead of the horde of laborers or unemployed.

Truly, all roads lead to The Stout Institute.

SELFISHNESS

A word which many of us use almost daily, in a variety of ways, is the word selfishness. It is a pretty general conception that almost any form of selfishness should be avoided. Regardless of this firm opinion, we are all selfish, and yet, we condemn others for the same quality. It is not at all hard to stand by and say, "What a selfish individual he or she is," but it is more than difficult to apply the same criticism to ourselves. Because one hesitates to give up a good idea, a good preparation, or a good construction, the term selfish is speedily and sometimes effectively applied. But is that really the situation? Is it selfishness or selfishness? In other words, isn't it merely following the example of the sea creature that excludes, or partly excludes, itself and its secrets within a shell? No one need feel the blunt if he or she is independent instead of dependent. And therein lies the almost universal application of selfishness; the dependents inflict the independents with the unearned term of selfish.

DUMBELL DANCES

Although the chief motive of The Stout Institute is to train men and women to become teachers of Industrial Arts and Home Economics, another motive almost parallel with the above is that of teaching its students how to govern themselves properly while mingling in social affairs. While we feel that the majority of Stout students are well equipped socially, there is one small item which might well be corrected.

We refer to the dumbbells which were so skillfully maneuvered at the mixer dance last Saturday afternoon, and which were used as a means to cut in on couples, who up to that time, seemed perfectly satisfied with the partner whom they had chosen for that particular dance.

The sad part was the fact that while this practice was being carried on, numerous freshmen girls, attending Stout dances for the first time, were forced to sit by themselves around the floor. In other words the whole motive of the dance was defeated, that of being a "get acquainted mixer."

This practice might have its place in the public dance hall, but hardly on the floor of a college dance. Let's conduct Stout dances as college dances should be conducted.

Let's Laugh

To The Frosh!

Greetings! thou young and innocent specimens of perfect man and womanhood. Even though you are away from Mother's apron strings and Father's razor strap, have no fear—the Sophs will diligently and thoroughly chaperone you while you are here for your first year. As you will receive much advice in the course of your intended vacation (?) here, it might be well for this old and aged man to contribute his nickel's worth. Here 'tis:

1. Wear your green cap and ribbons during the time prescribed by law. It will save you many unnecessary baths, and remember, it is quite costly to bathe in Menomonie's Roman Baths. It is also an aid to your recognition of each other which should save the "Innocents of Stout" from the paws of the lion.

2. If you have any inclinations towards impersonating a monkey, do your impersonations with objects other than the campus flag pole. The pole was originally intended for the American Flag, and any antics on the pole might speed and warm up your acquaintances with the President.

3. Please remember that you are now located in the big city. There are no street cars or speeding bicycles out where the R. F. D. operates, so remember that while in this metropolis, do not jay walk or venture into the dark away from the main thoroughfares.

4. While attending the "Bucket of Blood", please carry a sponge or pail to catch the blood. If this is undesirable, remember that blood makes good paint and bring your water wings.

5. When kindly asked to Button, reach for the little red thing on the top of your cap and see if anything rings. If no noise is forthcoming, don't push the button, your efforts will be rewarded.

6. Observe that in each building there is a bulletin board. There are often important notices posted on same. It might be a bit embarrassing if your name were called at an important confab and said little Freshman was not there.

7. Here's a little advice if you want some good little grades sent home to mother and dad—"Don't cut on no-cut days for no-cut days are catastrophic."

8. If you can't get what you want when you want it, don't take what you can't get when you don't want it.

Frosh (leaving for school) "Good-bye dad, I'll write you soon."

His father, "But son, the money I gave you should last a month."

"The midnight oil now being burned by youths keeps motors running smoothly."—The Milwaukee Journal.

Freshmen girls taking Foods I are advised not to let the water burn the first day they cook.

Cryderman asked if Matterhorn was Trader Horn's mother.

Do you know the doctor who told the first patient that came to him and complained of insomnia, to go home and get some sleep and he'd be all right?

Janet's mother remarked the other day that she thought it a shame the way girls were their skirts today.

"Well, didn't they used to wear their skirts above two feet in your day?" asked Hooky.

We asked Carl Roll the other day—"What's your room-mate like?" "Most everything I've got," shouted Carl.

Where there's smoke there must be flaming youth.

Bill Soucie recently bought a bird that was supposed to be a singer. Bill

Heinie Honors "maw" With "Noos of Skool"

Dear maw:

It's ben a long time since i rote a good long honest-to-goodness letter to you so I'm goin to take the libertee to do it now. I'm purty well settled in the ol grind now and I'm workin just as hard and maybe wors than when i wuz home. I got a plentea stiff program this year includin a novel kourse which is a program it self. I gess they means to keep us guys busy to keep our minds from strayin home and from day dreamin. The only pipe kourse i got this year is helprin to strip the pipes out of the auto mekanics shop.

The ol gang is back rarin to go. All the popular guys like Hawkes the bluishn bo broemel from Illinois and the hootin tootin guy from north St. paul. Hard boled Harmon from O'Golly is back too and he brought another Harmon specimen back with him. When it comes to gang fights they don't show no brotherlee love. The frosh and the sofs had a purty good time last week. Everywher you look you can see a krop of green guraniums. They learned the ruddiments of the game by bein ducked into the speshully built ducking tank. This young Kasulskee kid from Illinois wuz plentea lucky the other night when he caught onto the rear end of a ford and got his rear end warmed up by bein pulled on it in the street. He used his head and other extremities of his body in gettin away what i mean. The ony bad part of him is liv'n with him and he's standin up under it purty well.

In our furst assemblies last week prexy Nelson, the guy what runs this skool, introduced his employees who deal out our forchuns. As they sat upon the stage you cud read on their faces, "They shall not pass if we kin help it." They had big smiles on their faces but I'll bet they didn't see no smiles lookin down onto their victims. They also gave us orders to kome prepared to have our pickchures taken for our next assemblies. We have that pickchur taken every year so that everybuddy can have everybuddy else's pickchur nailed on the wall.

Saturday afternoon we had a big mixer dance. That's the kind of a dance where everybuddy mixes and tangles together. They made us wear tickets with our trade marks written on em. We had lots of fun ony sometimes when we would be dancin with a keen bin some guy would kome along and give us a dumbell. All in all it wuz a keen dance and we'll be ankushly waitin for the next one.

Well i gess that's about enuf racket for this time, hopin this letter finds you in better shape then when i left you and tell pa he better get money'd up becuz the first of the month rolls around purty fast.

Your honorable son
HEINE

P. S. Saturday our football team is goin to play that ruffneck bunch from Winona. We got a purty darn good team this year with bashful Mac Morrison residing at the helm. They're goin to do their best to produce a winning team but win or lose its up to us to back em. Tell Amy hello and that i still think of her once in a while.

took it back and said that the bird couldn't sing. The dealer looked the bird over and then acknowledged his mistake, in that he had sold B.I. only a humming bird.

You usually can't ask a girl today if you can have the last dance with her. She'll usually tell you that you've had it.

Jane Fuller, a freshmen, was found asleep in an annex bathtub Saturday morning. Wonder if she was trying to drown her sorrows?

Butenhoff exclaims: "Stodious", at Carol McClurg, and Carol looks around to see who is behind her.

Did You Know That-

THERE will be no dance this week due to unforeseen complications?

MISS Lillian Baker, Dramatic and Public Speaking instructor here last year, and for several preceding years will sail the 21st of September for Germany where she will study dramatics?

THE Curtis House Bowling team, last year's intra-mural champs, won their first match last night in the city tourney being held on the recreation parlor alleys?

THE Stout Institute ranks higher than any similar school in the country? As Mr. Bowman remarked this summer in one of his classes, "All roads lead to The Stout Institute."

THE football game tomorrow afternoon between Stout and the Winona Teachers is going to be a hard fought and thrilling battle, and that we should have a 100 percent rooting section to help the boys bag the opening tilt?

THE Stoutonia offers a hearty invitation to all writers and would-be writers to try out for the editorial staff? Let's make the Stoutonia the liveliest college sheet in Wisconsin, so speak up, you who are journalistically inclined.

The Sophomore colors waved from the aerial between the H. E. and I. A. buildings all day Wednesday? The frosh's green hunting took its place Wednesday night some time. So goes it.

"BUCK" Schaudt is S. S. A. president, Eleanor Overby, vice-president, Clarisse Ness, secretary and "Lefty" Hanson, treasurer? Let's all cooperate with them!

"EDDIE" Canatsey prefers the cool waters of the fish hatchery to the spacious Stout pool? We might add he made this sudden choice through a little persuasion on the part of several sophomores.

Freshmen Fight to Gain Supremacy Over Sophomores

(Continued from page one)

ther, they walked two or three blocks up the street where they formed a snake dance and gave a few yells.

The Sophs then informed the frosh that everything was over for the evening and they might go home in peace. After some consideration, the sophs repented on being soft-hearted whereby they picked up several frosh and transported them to the "Roman Baths." The unfortunates received undesired baths while several of their cohorts entertained the natives with songs.

Eddie Canatsey was presented with several song requests, but being naturally modest denied the requests. He caught onto a rear car bumper and was dragged for a block on the very smooth street of the town. The car being too slow, and his trousers having started to smoke, he decided to get up and run. He did run, for two reasons: it aided him in cooling off his trousers, and also in eluding the sophs. He was finally successful.

Evidently some of the frosh came from places where water was a luxury for they jumped in the horse tank with no urging. Others went so far as to take two duckings. No so with "Tuffy" Johnson from the Junction. Six sophs had great difficulty in convincing "Tuffy" of the benefits of such a bath, but he finally became convinced.

The climax of the week came Friday when many yearlings studied the art of pressing clothes and shining shoes under the able tutelage of the educated sophs.

Trades Building Changes Completed

The completion of the changes in the Trades Building have allowed the auto mechanics and general woodwork classes to continue with their work more efficiently. A general woodworking shop consisting of pattern making, woodwork, and woodturning is located on the first floor of the Trades Building, using the floor space formerly occupied by the auto mechanics department. The combining of these courses is another step forward toward the utilization of a better woodworking department. As bricklaying and masonry have been discontinued, the auto mechanics shop has been moved to the floor space taken previously by these two shops. One of the reasons for this system of changes was to eliminate the necessity of driving automobiles through half the length of the Trades Building before entering the auto mechanics shop. The adequate working room and storage space that is made available by this change improves this department considerably.

The Misses Bachman, Callahan, Progaat, and O'Brien were hostesses at a bridge dinner, served at the "Corner Cupboard" Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Covers were laid for thirty-two guests.

Personals

Francis Taddy who lived at Tainter Hall has returned to her home in Milwaukee.

Week-end visitors at home seemed to be freshmen for the most part. Marie Schroeder was at Granton, Wis., Alice Lynum returned home to Baldwin with her sister Gladys after the latter visited at the Annex Thursday and Friday. Lorraine Nordlie and Lorraine Litchfield both of Eau Claire were at home over Sunday.

Edith Brevig, Alma Winzer and Ruth Lindall from the Annex have moved to Homemaker's Cottage for six weeks. Violet Parsons from Lynwood and Ruth Dodge are the other occupants of the cottage.

Marian Anspach has withdrawn from school and will leave shortly for Neenah, Wisconsin.

Miss Hattie Dahberg, who has been an instructor in the Foods Department, will be leaving in the near future. She will be missed greatly by both the Faculty members and the students.

Assembly Scramble for Seats Avoided

(Continued from page one)

and woman for the athletic council members.

The S. S. A. officers were introduced by Mr. Bowman, who told briefly the duties of each officer. Mr. Schaud had charge of the remainder of the assembly. Three candidates for cheer-leaders gave some samples of their skill. Canatsey, Sauter and Gardner were the aspiring acrobats. They also directed the singing of the Alma Mater at the close of the assembly period.

The real climax of the hour was the "shooting" of students and faculty. The photographer put the faculty in position so that he could not possibly miss them. They were in the center of the miniature stadium that was built at the east side of the I. A. building. The "stadium" was the foundation and the background was the motto: "For the promotion of skill, industry and honor."

The first Assembly of the year was distinctive in the stage setting. Instead of the Faculty hiding behind the curtains in the rear of the auditorium, they were arranged in defensive order on the stage. The odds against them were about ten to one, there being about forty faculty members and four hundred students. President Nelson, Miss Michaels, and Mr. Bowman introduced the faculty members to the students who very generously "gave the little lady a hand."

President Nelson gave a welcoming address, as well as admonitions, to the new students. The assembly was dismissed with the singing of the Stout Alma Mater song.

Three 1st Class Barbers

Haircuts at any hour of the day

THE ELECTRIC SHOP

TAILORING

Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service

A. E. HERREM

Drugs and Stationery

NOER DRUG COMPANY

Menomonic Baking Co.

Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

Society

Lutheran Students Hold Mixer Party

The Stout Lutheran students held a mixer party Wednesday evening. About sixty-five students attended the affair. Ernest Muller, president of the society, welcomed old and new students. Carl Roll directed the entertainment. Refreshments consisting of wafers and ice cream were served. Everyone reported a very enjoyable evening.

Science Club Holds Opening Meeting at Riverside

The first meeting of the Science Club was in the form of a picnic, held at Riverside park, Monday, Sept. 16. The members in charge of the picnic were Elva Page, chairman, Noble Neegaard, and Mary Hyea. Everyone spent a very enjoyable and entertaining evening.

Anyone interested in the Science Club is invited to visit the club on Monday evenings at five o'clock in the Harvey Memorial.

Lynwood Entertains at Pajama Party Monday Eve

By way of introduction to the fun which is to follow during the year, the Lynwoodites entertained their new frosh at a pajama party at 10:00 last Monday evening, September 9.

The get-together, which was in charge of Dr. Bachman, obligated each upper classman to become acquainted with all freshmen and new students.

A program of games and a round of Virginia Reel occupied the hour of recreation. Music was furnished by Irma Gilbertson and Doris Henry. Refreshments at 10:00 concluded the mixer.

Churches Hosts to Students Last Friday Night

According to the usual custom, which decrees that the first Friday night after the beginning of a school year is to be reserved for the church mixers, last Friday night was "get acquainted" night in the various churches of Menomonic.

At the mixer receptions, the townspeople of the religious denominations of Menomonic, welcomed the newcomers, as well as many old students.

WELCOME BACK OLD and NEW STOUT STUDENTS

L. W. NESSER BARBER SHOP

Welcome To Our Store

Lees' Drug Store

ATTENTION STUDENTS

WE HAVE the biggest supply of all makes of FOUNTAIN PENS
SWAN - SCHAEFFER - PARKER - MOORE

Prices from $1 up. Also high grade fountain pen inks

Nels Anshus The Jeweler

Several New Faces in Teaching Corps

(Continued from page one)

Teachers College at Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Van Ness in Clothing Dept. The clothing department has a new instructor who has a Bachelor of Science degree from Syracuse University and a Master of Art degree from Columbia University, Miss Hazel Van Ness. She has had over six years of teaching experience. Her home is at Baldwin, N. Y.

Mr. Early to Teach Drawing Mr. James M. Early, of Ames, Ia., will be a three-quarter time instructor in drawing. He has attended the State Normal and Training School at Oswego N. Y., the University of Illinois, the University of Wisconsin, Cornell University and Iowa State College. Mr. Early has had ten years of teaching experience.

Mr. Price Has New Position Upon the shoulders of Mr. Merle M. Price rests the responsibility of Dean of Men. Mr. Price comes from the University of Minnesota with a Masters degree and will teach social science and English. He has been a teacher and principal for seven years, the last three years of which he has been teaching assistant and administrative fellow at the University of Minnesota. Mr. Price's home is in Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Homemaker's Cottage is Officially Opened

Homemaker's cottage was officially opened for the coming year's session Saturday, when the following girls entered as hostesses: Misses Alma Winzer, Ruth Lindall, Edith Brevig, Ruth Dodge, and Violet Parsons.

The girls report that the family will be completed near the end of the week when the new Homemaker Baby Boy will arrive.

into their midst. There were lively games, music and refreshments, all helping to show the students an evening of wholesome, jolly entertainment.

Big and Little Sister Party Is Enjoyable Affair

The Y. W. C. A. Big and Little Sister party was held Thursday, Sept. 12th, in the Y. W. Club rooms for the purpose of acquainting all new students with the club, and giving the girls a good time. Stunts were put on by various groups in addition to a general mixer.

Officers for this year are the same as stated in the last spring's election, with the exception of Miss Alice Marquart, Publicity Chairman, who is not in school this year. Her vacancy will be filled by appointment within the next week. Plans for the coming year are being worked upon.

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

See US For HAIRCUTS
We Satisfy Our Customers
The Lakeview
Barber Shop

Menomonic Baking Company
Quality Bakery Goods
LIGHT LUNCHES SERVED

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

"THE SANDWICH SHOP"

We SPECIALIZE in FRIED
CHICKEN Sandwiches

Sandwiches of all Kinds

Delicious
Coffee

Across from Hotel Marion

SERVICE

We do DRY CLEANING
on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Articles brought by noon will be ready next day.

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE

Menomonic Dye House

Running and Cole

I'll Meet You
AT

THE CANDY SHOPPE

HOMEMADE

Candy - Pastry - Ice Cream

Portable Phonographs

for Rent at

A. R. OLSON'S

Latest Records & Sheet Music

at

A. R. OLSON'S

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Winona Teachers Eleven to Oppose Stout in Opening Game

Good Material Gives Promise of Playing "Class A" Football

Coach Paulus' Men Expect Tough Battle; Winona Has Team of Veterans

A wealth of material, about which very little forecast can possibly be made, is the impression gained by watchers of the first two week's practice of Coach S. E. Paulus' 1929 Trainer football squad. Frantic attempts have been made to cover the fundamentals in preparation for the first practice tilt tomorrow, which is against Winona (Minn.) Teachers College at the Dunn county fair grounds.

Covering of the necessities for throwing some kind of a team together with a few offensive plays, is about all the coach has had time to do. He has had the man-sized job of discovering, entirely single-handed, a team of likely candidates out of the original report of over 40 hopefuls. That at least two full teams will see action in Saturday's tilt is a certainty.

Not Brilliant, but Willing

Stout expected the good fortune of being benefited by several student transfers from other colleges, but these players materialized only temporarily, finding, perhaps, that Stout's eagerness for athletic success does not change its code of honor in the matter of players. Nevertheless, a fairly versatile, and quite abundant squad is on deck. This squad seems to excel in spirit and willingness any squad of recent years, so far.

There is plenty of weight among line candidates, and considerable speed in the backfield personnel, the certain vital departments are seriously lacking so far. For instance, a back field man who can kick surely seems to be a stranger here, and the overhead game looks weak at both ends, up to date. But these things may develop, and the training spirit will make up for many specific shortcomings.

Three Teams Still Out

About 35 candidates are still reporting, regularly, and all want their as stiff a pace as can be dictated by a single coach, this week. Even tonight, a stiff practice is scheduled. Last night the long scrimmage at the fair grounds showed that Stout may be severely disciplined by Winona tomorrow, as the latter went through last season untouched in its own conference, and looks strong again this year.

Practices have also shown that few players this fall will have steady jobs unless their production is consistent, for there is too little to choose, at this writing, between many of the candidates below.

Centers:—Bilecki, Penn, Cronk, Biver.

Guards:—Morrison, Kube, Kanges, Wolfgram, Maerszke.

Tackles:—Muller, Doehlinger, Redgren, Novascone, J. Harmon, Buss Jakoubek Hermann.

Ends:—Paulus, Hoger, Hoernemann, O'Connell, Johnson, Peebles, Schmidt.

Quarterbacks:—Micheels, Nutting Haass.

Halfbacks:—Wallin, Brownsey, Palmer, Bitters.

Fullbacks:—Harmon, Neudecker.

Positions listed above are far from certain, many of the end and back listings particularly being due for shifts. It will be noted that only five lettermen grace the lists, and one of these, Maerszke, won his letter eight years ago. The team is therefore mostly sophs and frosh — very green, now, but full of potentialities.

—S—

Miss Ruth E. Michaels visited at Menomonee over the week-end.

Miss Margaret Skinner, a former instructor at Stout, visited here last Thurs. Miss Skinner was in the English Department while she was here.

Marty Opem Writes Opinion of Team

"Marty" Opem, captain of the 1928 football team, has sent a much appreciated letter of encouragement to Coach Paulus and the 1929 squad from his new home at Benton Harbor, Michigan, where he coaches the backfield as well as teaches industrial arts.

Marty's chief admonition for this year is the result, he says, of his observations last year on the causes of Stout's failure to produce as expected. Player training and spirit were lacking then, and the former captain feels that if those lapses are not repeated this season by the players, Stout will come through in good shape.

—S—

TUMBLERS ORGANIZE FOR COMING SEASON

Twenty men met in the gym Wednesday to start the Tumblers on another successful year. Glenn Lockwood, Carl Roll, Nicholas Marsilio, and Everett Smith were elected on a

LeRoy Borg Injured in Football Practice

LeRoy Borg, of Superior, Wis. and a member of the freshman class, received spinal injuries last week while engaged in football practice. His injuries were thought to be of a serious nature but after a thorough examination it was stated that he will entirely recover.

It is indeed unfortunate, and although the injury was purely accidental, the fact that it was during his first week at Stout makes it extremely discouraging for the injured man.

He is at present confined in the city hospital, but the entire student body is hoping for an early recovery from the injury.

committee to work with Messrs. Nelson and Kranzsch, coaches of the of the organization. The committee will take care of matters pertaining to the club. Practice will be held twice a week on Tuesday and Thursdays from five to six o'clock.

Classes Pay First Visit to Twin Cities

The first Twin City visiting trip of the season was made by Mr. Hansen's Cabinet Making III class last Saturday. The purpose of the trip was to study various types of period furniture and their construction.

In Cabinet Making III the student designs his own project and draws complete full size drawings for its construction. It was for the purpose of getting new and better ideas for the work then that the trip was taken.

The places visited were the Golden Rule in St. Paul and Dayton's in Minneapolis. Both of these places showed a great deal of interest in the work that was being done by Stout Institute in this line. The boys also agreed that they saw many pieces of furniture which they are in hopes of having built in their classes some day and which will be of practical use.

—S—
Mrs. Harold Lautner, (Miss Vasold) was a visitor in Menomonee over the week-end.

— See Us —

For The Latest Models
In Fall Footwear

Our Qualities and prices please

Swensen and Berndt

"The Shoe Men"

We Welcome Students
to try
Our REAL Homecooking
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"Home of Good Food"

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP

PHOENIX HOLEPROOF HOSIERY 98c to $1.95
GOTHEM GOLD SIRIPE

Welcome
Stout Students
Billiards And Pocket Billiards
Try One Of Our
Delicious Malted
Milks
FRED & ANNER
"The Smoke Shop"

ANNOUNCEMENT

Dr. H. J. Vanek, formerly located in the 1st National Bank Building is now conducting his Dental practice at 332 Main St.

Hours 9-12; 1-5.

Evenings by special appointment.

Telephone 142

"Shaker Studios"

Photographs of Distinction

Students be sure and see "The Student Special" before having your annual picture made.

BRING YOUR KODAK FILMS HERE FOR DEVELOPING

"Shaker Studios"

Good Meals and Refreshments

SERVICE

Hotel Marion

Coffee Shop

SPORT JACKETS

In All the Going Colors

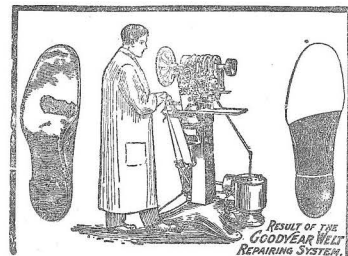

Scarlet
Royal Blue -- Navy Blue
Black and Fancies

HEAVY SHAKER SWEATERS

In All the High Colors

Evens-Tobin Co.

MODERN
SHOE REBUILDING
by the Goodyear
QUICK SERVICE METHOD

OUR SERVICEMEN are experienced Shoemakers

WE USE the very best Materials

— and —

GUARANTEE SATISFACTION

GRAVEN & WILCOX

The SERVICE SHOE STORE
336 Main St.

Class Officers and Board Members are Chosen Thursday

Various Classes Hold Meetings to Elect Officers for Year

At the meeting of the last regular Thursday morning assembly, Leo Gardner was chosen as master cheerleader of the school yell, with Byron Canatsey and Lawrence Sauter as assistants.

Upon closing this election, the various classes adjourned to assigned rooms for the purpose of electing class officers, and people to serve on the various councils in the school.

The senior class with Miss Burgoin and Mr. Paville as advisers, elected the following people to offices: Pres., Al Poellinger; Vice-Pres., Irma Nichols; Treas., A. E. Frieberg; Sec., Marceline Stephany.

The following people were elected to the various councils: Stout Student Advisory Board, Janet Clark and Theo. Roswell; Athletic Council, Winifred Cooper and John Maerzke; Nominating Tower Staff Committee, Beulah Todd and Lawrence Johnson.

With Miss Strayer and Mr. Johnston as advisers, the junior class elected Francis Julin, Pres.; Frances Schroeder, Vice-Pres.; Ardella Anderson, Sec. and William Soucie, Treas. Dorothy Williams and Edwin Reed will represent the juniors on the Advisory Board; Frances Inenfeldt and Russel Wallin on the Athletic Council, and Eleanor Overby and Bernard Hagen as members of the Tower nominating committee.

The sophomore class elected the following officers: Pres., William Hoesser; Vice-Pres., Ethel Anderson; Sec., Helen Chamberlain; Treas., Carl Roll. Myrtle Anderson and Helmut Bramstedt will serve on the Advisory Board; Alice Ostrom and Adolph Fordham on the Athletic Council, and Doris Henry and Lewis Palmer on the Tower nominating committee. Mr. Hoesser appointed a committee to select and send flowers to Mr. Borg, a member of the sophomore class, who is in the local hospital suffering from a fractured vertebra. Miss Jeter and Mr. Good are the sophomore advisers.

The freshman class with Miss Hassler and Mr. Price as advisers elected the following people as their representatives: Pres., Theodore Pierson; Vice-Pres., Janet Robertson; Sec., Doris Spears; Treas., Alfred Reinhold. Members who will serve on the Advisory Board are Evelyn Aides and Ralph Brownsey. Members on the Athletic Council are, Lucille Schultz and Frank Harmon; and the committee for nominating the Tower Staff will be composed of Virginia Slump and Allan Poesbilies.

Don't forget the dance at the gym tonight. Thirty-five cents and your Master Ticket will admit you.

Initiation Accorded Freshman Females

"Hey, a dollar bill won't do; you gotta fork over twenty-five pennies, six nickels, and two dimes. Haven't got it? Run down to the bank then, they'll help you out. Oh a little rain won't hurt you.

Next. Alright sign your name to the pledge to serve the Sophs, then tread lightly up the stairs to the left for you won't get the chance again very soon. Say, Susie, where's your poem?

So a steady stream of trembling freshmen went to their doom, returning an hour later, tired and happy, but not hungry. And I'll venture to say that some of the sophs passed up plenty of good things to eat at supper, too.

We'll let you in on the poetic trend of some of our freshmen on the subject, "Freshman-Sophomore Love."

I

Roses are red
Violets are blue
We're crazy for class.
But that class isn't you.

—Dorothy Madden

II

The sophomores came
On little cat feet
They sit looking Over us, one by one
With silent? lips

(Continued on page four)

Stout Band to Be Exceptionally Good

A band of which Stout may justly feel proud is anticipated for the coming year. With the election of the following officers Tuesday evening, organization was completed. Mr. Knutson was elected president; Mr. Beterly, vice-pres.; Miss Laymond, director of publicity; and by unanimous decision, Harold Taufman, librarian and asst. director.

Several new and popular numbers were tried at the last rehearsal, and the roof of the Industrial Arts building will be raised regularly every Tuesday night from now on getting these numbers into shape. The first appearance has been set for the 24th of October at which time the band will play in the Stout auditorium.

—S—

S.S.A. Plans Homecoming

The first meeting of the S. S. A. officers was held Monday, September 23rd. They discussed the plans for Homecoming. The dates set are Nov. 1st, 2nd and 3rd. Very soon the S. S. A. officers will be calling on students to assist with the Homecoming plans. It is hoped that the classes will follow the same plan of charging an additional twenty-five cents to the class dues to help finance Homecoming. Let us as members of the S. S. A. help to make this a bigger and better Homecoming.

NEXT WEEK'S CALENDAR

Tonight—Hyperian dance.
Monday—Science Club, 5 p. m.
Monday—Stoutonia Staff, 5 p. m.
Monday—Men's Glee Club, 7 p. m.
Monday—Womens Glee Club, 7 p. m.
Tuesday—Band, 7 p. m.
Tuesday—Philos., 7 p. m.
Wednesday—Rifle Club, 7 p. m.
Wednesday—Metallurgy, 7 p. m.
Thursday—Inky Fingers, 5:30 p. m.
Thursday—Arene, 7:30 p. m.
Thursday—Hyperians, 5 p. m.

M.A.P. Cast and Play Picked for Fall Start

The Manual Arts Players have begun their regular schedule for the year in earnest, under the direction of Miss Violet Hassler.

On September 18 and 19 tryouts for new club members were held in the auditorium. The judges, who were several members of the club and Miss Hassler, found the following people to have good dramatic talent, and as a result they are chosen new members: Myrtle Anderson, Jane Foeller, June Lockhart, Emma Newby, Patsey Ruth Kelley, Esther McKowen, Geo. Bryant, Willard Hanson, George Price, Theodore Pierson, John Waniga and Nathaniel Ward.

The dramatic club will have another similar tryout next semester.

Homecoming Play Announced

Following the filling of the membership quota for this semester, the Homecoming play was chosen. "The Family Upstairs," by Harry Delf, is a farce in three acts. This production is very popular at the present time. It has played in New York for several seasons, and at other noted playhouses of the country lately. "The Family Upstairs" is especially desirable for Homecoming because it is joyous, peppy and entertaining.

The cast of characters chosen for the play is as follows: Al Poellinger, Mildred Belina, Janet, Kyle, John Waniga, Emma Newby, Theodore Pierson, Marie Simonson, and Irma Nichols.

Class Given Demonstration

The class in Institutional Administration, which is instructed by Miss Alice Burgoin, had a very interesting and educational demonstration last Friday morning when Mr. Klaes, a representative from the Libby Co. "cut" samples of both the fruits and vegetables canned by that concern.

Cans containing different grades of the same fruits were opened, and the girls had the opportunity to form a comparative judgment of each kind, and to learn the condition and appearance as well as the taste of the food. We can expect to find under the hat we can expect to find under the specific grades. Mr. Klaes defined clearly what the different kinds of packs meant. As this is the type of work that the class is particularly in at this time, the demonstration was much appreciated.

Placement Bureau Has Busy Year

One hundred new positions were secured through the Stout Placement Bureau this year. These Stout men and women are located in twenty states of the Union and in Hawaii. Calls were received from nearly every state in the Union as well as from Alaska, Panama, Canal Zone and Haiti. But the available list was exhausted too early to meet all of these calls.

It is interesting to notice in the list below that Wisconsin was the largest field for locating Stout trained teachers this year.

Wisconsin—38.
Michigan—18.
Illinois—6.
Indiana—6.
Iowa—5.
Ohio—5.
Hawaii—4.
Pennsylvania—3.
Minnesota—3.
Montana—1.
Alabama—1.
Kansas—1.
Massachusetts—1.
North Carolina—1.
Florida—1.
Tennessee—1.
West Virginia—1.
New Jersey—1.
Colorado—1.
Texas—1.
Nebraska—1.

Motor's Gift to Make New Course Possible

Many changes have been made around the school of Industrial Education during the past year. A change which will be of great significance to various fields of automotive engineering is about to take place. This change will be the bringing of Aircraft motor work into the Auto Mechanics courses. It has just been revealed that the school has secured two Liberty motors from the government. These two motors will give students interested in this kind of work a chance to get first hand information along this line. It is not definitely known just when the motors will be delivered, but Mr. Good expects them here soon.

Freshman Honor Roll

Miss O'Brien has presented us with the Freshman Honor Roll for 1928-1929. The freshmen listed above obtained an average of "B" or above:

| Sem. Hrs. Grade Pts. |       |
|----------------------|-------|
| Anderson, Ethel A.   | 32 71 |
| Beinert, Carl John   | 32 79 |
| Butenhoff, John E.   | 32 65 |
| Chamberlin, Helen    | 32 74 |
| Cvengros, Steve A.   | 32 76 |
| Henry, Doris         | 32 70 |
| Kyle, Janet G.       | 32 68 |
| Nelson, Ellen F.     | 32 74 |
| Reich, Robert G.     | 32 72 |
| Rose, Homer          | 32 64 |
| Weir, Hazel H.       | 32    |

450 Students Were Enrolled for Stout's '29 Summer Session

Students Were Distributed Over the Complete Range of Work Offered

The 1929 summer session brought a registration of 450 students with a very fine distribution of enrollments in the complete range of work offered in the session. This summer saw the addition of some new opportunities of both curricular and extra-curricular nature. The promptness with which the summer session students availed themselves of these opportunities was indeed gratifying to the administration. The 450 students included 150 women and 300 men, and were virtually all in advanced work. Due to the fact that the summer session has been steadily becoming a group of experienced teachers who are furthering their professional preparation, the administration has advised all beginning freshmen to start their work in September rather than in a summer session. The pace set by the more mature people who make up the large majority of summer session registration is a little too fast for beginning students.

In spite of the fact that these students have been advised to register in September, the summer session attendance has consistently remained large. In a tabulation of the teaching addresses of the summer session students for the school year of 1929-30, it was disclosed that they would be in thirty-one states, Canada, and Hawaii. In an informal check of states represented by license plates on automobiles parked in the neighborhood of the Stout buildings, twenty-five states were found to be represented.

Recreation Receives Emphasis

A special program of recreational opportunities for men and women was maintained throughout the summer. This program made use of the Stout pool, the swimming beaches, and various locations in the region of Menomonie. The kittenball league was very active. The Stout Rifle Club enjoyed a very prosperous summer with an unusually large membership. A large picture of this club was carried in the rotogravure sections of a number of Sunday papers. The social events which have become traditional were held. The all-school party and the following dances were unusually well attended. The summer session picnic had the largest attendance in years. Two special evening programs were presented. The Startford players presented Shakespeare's Macbeth and the Chicago Art Theatre Co. presented an unusual program of sketches of Russian and American life.

Camp Colony is Successful

Last spring President Nelson completed arrangements for the lease of (Continued on page two)

—S—

Don't forget the dance at the gym tonight. Thirty-five cents and your Master Ticket will admit you.

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office,
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

Under Direction of.....C. W. Hague

Editorial Adviser.....Mr. John Faville, Jr.

Associate Adviser.....Miss Helen Sarchet

Editor.....Lester Hawkes

Associate Editor.....Irma Nichols

News Editor.....Elizabeth Williams

News Editor.....Bernhard Hagen

THE IMPORTANCE OF THE START

Doubtless you have all heard the story of the man who broke all speed records, and incidentally his grip and suspenders, in a vain attempt to catch a train. As he was sitting amid the wreck of his clothes, which decorated the platform and track, a small boy rushed up and extended this bit of encouragement to the cursing man: "It was a great race, Mister, but you didn't start soon enough."

Every year there are students at Stout who do this very same thing. They go along peacefully for about the first five or six weeks, never seeming to get started, just playing along. About the sixth or seventh week we notice these people rushing around; trying to complete their notebooks, copying from friends, having conferences with teachers, and "cramming" for dear life. Later when the grade cards are issued, these students are asked to seek success in other fields."

Not only in scholarship, but in your whole attitude or school spirit the start counts so much. You freshmen entering Stout for the first time should bear in mind that your reception by the students and your final place in the school depends much upon the start you get now.

How much easier it is for you to travel smoothly if you get started right. All the rush and hurry will be unnecessary if the good resolutions are made now instead of later. It simply remains for you to live up to them.

FOOTBALL

Although our first football game played last Saturday with Winona Teachers College must be charged to the lost column, that is no reason why we should allow ourselves or our team to become discouraged. There is no doubt, taken individually, that the team is worthy to meet any team in its class, but the lack of time for proper preparation, combined with the fact that there were several men who were playing varsity football for the first time, had disastrous results.

Football is a hard game and two weeks is a short time in which to whip a team into condition for competition. The fact that Winona was a team of veterans, who have played together for several years, made Stout's chances for a win doubly hard.

We predict a great improvement this week and believe that before a football season is over Stout will have a football squad of whom it will be proud.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

School Spirit, that element which is so necessary to win football games was sadly lacking last Saturday afternoon.

We have read that, "A team is as good as its support" and if that is the case, we, the students, may be credited partially with the loss of our first game.

The cheering was poor, lacking that much used word "pep." No organization was shown, whatsoever, by the students. The influence of the cheer leaders was practically unheeded and taken altogether, our demonstration Saturday was a poor example of Stout spirit.

Let us all learn the yells and songs, and when the proper time comes, let's use them.

Remember, "A team is a good as its support."

SHOULDER THE LOAD

Many persons, when facing the task of doing a thing, shirk and push their part of the load onto the shoulders of another.

A true spirited student of a school will feel that it is as much his duty to go to an athletic game as it is the duty of the player to be on the field. A true spirited student will feel that it is as much his duty as it is his pleasure to support the activities of his school. Only too often students feel that the other fellow will do it, so why do it himself? The success of a school depends on the students who support it. When the time comes that only a few students are supporting the school the burden becomes too heavy for those few and the school falls.

Unless every student in the school does his share in upholding the institution, he cannot hope to keep it at the top of the ladder, where every one wishes it to be.

Let's Laugh

At the first Stoutonia meeting, the new aspiring members of the staff were introduced to the mysteries of the printshop, especially type lice.

We know now why the Sophs forbid the Frosh men to date on certain nights—they want a few dates themselves.

"Marsh" Millar said, "Your girl knows the difference between a sap and a crook—and she knows you're a crook."

Me, "Oh yeah! Too bad your girl can't tell the difference."

"Doc" Hawkes and "Rusty" Wallin want to know where they can rent a car for Sunday afternoons.

One coed is sore because Detroit is closer than Mount Joy, Penn. She doesn't get as much for her two cents as she did.

Several "sideliners" at the game were quite interested in the snake dance between halves.

Administration attendance is quite heavy due to the possibility of an executive session.

Dyke, the automobile wizard, commonly known as Lockwood, appeared in golf knickers Tuesday. Oh girls! Don't you just love little boys?

Bower wishes to thank his housemates for their moral support Sunday night. Thank you!

One Soph when contemplating Math, asked me how much a sliding rule cost.

Tom Nelson took his Overland home last spring but came back on the train. I'd hate to shove a car (?) that far, too.

What do you think of "Lefty" Hanson's blue sweater shirt?

I understand that a member of the H. E. Faculty pitched hay this summer.

We wonder whom Sid Cotton was standing next to when the picture was taken.

Some people have questioned me in regard to forming a dating bureau. Well, if you want one, send your suggestions to "Bozey" care of the Stoutonia.

We wonder how many people will get by physical exams, although they are not able to stand the strain of attending football games.

We know now why the girls give away their cooking products—they have to eat them.

One of the "Chem" teachers in discussing lubricating oils said, "and you use heavy lubricating oil in your crankcase?"

Famous last words—
Call me up sometime.
Your money positively refunded if you're not satisfied.

I have this dance—I'm sorry.
No thanks! I'm sitting out this dance.

Copey likes cats.

Got one?
Yeah!
Give me one!
O. K.—Socks!

It is rumored that the men will attempt to get some of those Freshman girls' beautiful tams for souvenirs.

First Eternal Triangle Solved
Bozey won three-cornered billiard game by brilliant shot. Marsh and Lurnie also played.

450 Students Were Enrolled for Stout's '29 Summer Session

(Continued from page one)

A well wooded tract of land immediately south of the fair grounds on the eastern edge of the city. The lease is for a period of years and the grounds were immediately prepared for use as the summer session camp colony in connection with the summer session. A faculty committee developed plans and supervised the preparation of the grounds. A number of families and groups took advantage of the opportunities and lived at the camp colony during the summer session just closed. The total group at the camp colony is a self-governing body, organized under certain regulations set up by the administration of the school. In the plans for the further development of the grounds for the 1930 session the suggestions of the 1929 group of residents will, so far as possible, be incorporated. It is interesting to note that of the group in the camp colony in the 1929 summer session all have reserved their locations for the summer of 1930 with the exception of one who received his exemption in August this summer.

The camp colony tract is being platted and camping sites located. Reservations for these sites will be made on the same basis that reservations for dormitory rooms are made. Specific spaces will be reserved for each session. The location of the grounds is unusually convenient. They are secluded, well wooded, and still within walking distance of the Stout buildings. Local dealers deliver ice, meat, groceries, and milk to the grounds. Running water, electric lights, and telephone service are available. The central refractory has a large study porch, well lighted for use of the students. It also has provisions for cooking and heating in inclement weather.

Special Speakers Appreciated

An unusually strong program of special speakers and special unit courses was offered. A series of short unit courses in Home Economics met with a very gratifying reception. The registration in these several unit courses was heavy. In addition to units handled by regular members of the staff, a number of specialists were brought to the campus for two-week periods. Miss Adelaide S. Baylor, Chief of the Home Economics Education Service of the Federal Board for Vocational Education, presented the unit in Homemaking Education. E. Leona Vincent of the Merrill-Palmer School of Detroit, Michigan, presented the special unit on Child Development Problems, and Anna M. Kloss, State Director of Teacher Training and Household Arts for Massachusetts, presented the unit in Adult Education in Home Economics.

In addition to the assembly addresses by the specialists presenting the Home Economics units several special speakers were on the campus for two-day periods. This list included Chas. R. Allen, Educational Consultant of the Federal Board for Vocational Education, Mr. Henry Ohl, Jr., President of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor, Mr. Homer J. Smith, Associate Professor of Industrial Education, University of Minnesota, Mr. R. L. Cooley, director of Vocational Education in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and President of the American Vocational Association, and Mr. Geo. P. Hambrecht, State Director of Vocational Education for Wisconsin. As a general rule these speakers presented assembly addresses on the first day of their two-day stay with two discussion sections on the second day. This arrangement met with very general approval on the part of the students, with excellent participation.

Advanced Courses Offered

In the technical group of shop, drawing, and design courses, Printing Economics and Auto Mechanics IV were included in the summer schedule. The listing of these courses marks the opening of a group of advanced technical courses in each of the trade groups. These courses are being developed as a part of the broadened

Here & There

A new sport is being initiated at Dunwoody Institute this year—touch football. As the name implies, this game closely resembles football, however, it is not so rough. All tackling and actual interference are prohibited. Only eight players are used. Instead of having four downs to make ten yards, four downs are given to make goal. The forward pass and field running are the chief methods used for gaining ground.

Touchball, an outgrowth of sandlot football, was first organized and named at the University of Minnesota and is rapidly spreading over the country.—The Dunwoody News.

Scientists would have you believe that fish is a most excellent food for thought. According to them, with a consistent menu of much fish and no pepper, one could pour forth volumes of term papers and editorials, and find lesson plans growing in the linings of their hats. These people would have you sit and dream the hours away, and then on examination days fill your fountain pen with cod liver oil.

But most of us find when we sit down to write a lesson plan or a theme that all the fish around Cape Cod couldn't help us. We have reached the stage where in a lead pencil is often our best food for thought. We place the pencil in our mouths vertically and rotate it between our teeth; we put it to our lips horizontally and treat it as if it were an ear of fresh sweet corn boiled on the cob. We dent it, and bite it, and crunch and crackle the fibers. We mark little skull and cross bones on our teeth, and fill our mental stomachs with bits of wood, and lead, and paint and rubber.—The E. I. Teachers College News.

curriculum resulting from the placing of The Stout Institute on the straight four year basis. These courses are planned particularly for seniors or experienced teachers. It is planned to increase the range of offerings of courses of this type in future summer sessions.

Commercial exhibitors brought a number of exhibitions of professional value. Publishing houses, tool and equipment concerns, supply houses and others were scheduled through the summer and maintained very nearly a continuous series of exhibits.

A number of special demonstrations of food products were presented during the session.

At the close of the summer session at the last general assembly an informal recognition was given to the men and women completing the work for the degree in the summer session. This group of 63 people (26 women and 37 men) constituted the largest degree group in any summer session. A number of the students in the graduating group returned to their regular teaching positions. Others went to new positions. This large graduating group came at a fortunate time, as the 1929 placement season has been one of the heaviest which the appointment office has had in years.

Students Favor Long Session

The informal check made at the last assembly indicated a 4-1 majority in favor of the long summer session as compared to the short session. The spirited recreational program, the new opportunities in the short unit courses, the two-day discussion groups headed by specialists, the advanced courses in the technical groups, the availability of Lynwood Hall for married men and their wives, the Nursery School opportunities and the summer camp colony all gave evidence of having made distinct contributions to the general satisfaction on the part of men and women making use of the opportunities in the Stout summer session. The summer session students have with gratifying promptness always taken advantage of all new opportunities offered. This stimulating fact results in increased effort on the part of the administration to broaden and enrich opportunities in future sessions.

Peterson Heads Year For Stout Rifle Club

The first meeting of the Stout Rifle Club held Thursday, September 19, in the Harvey Memorial. The officers elected were: Pres., Earl Peterson; Vice-President, Paul C. Nelson; Secretary, Orville Clementson; Treasurer, Homer Rose. The officers elected Norman Peterson as executive officer.

There are twenty-five new members, fifteen of which are women. Messrs P. C. Nelson, T. W. Johnston and R. F. Kranzsch, are instructing the new members in the proper use and care of rifles. The Stout Rifle Club is affiliated with the National Rifle Association.

The shooting practice is divided into four seasons. First on the outdoor range with the high power rifles, until about Nov. 1; second indoors with the .22 rifles; third indoor pistol practice; fourth, outdoors with the high power rifles.

The women have the privilege of shooting on the outdoor range if any desire to do so; those that do not, may shoot on the indoor range during that time. Two prizes are given each season: one for men and one for women. The prizes are awarded to the one having the highest average taken from the highest score during the season and the score made at a match at the end of the season.

Firing is held on the outdoor range twice a week, Wednesday, at 4 and Saturday morning at 8 o'clock. Women who do not desire to shoot the high power rifles may shoot at 9 o'clock Saturday morning on the indoor range.

HYPERIAN DANCE TONITE

The Hyperian society is giving a dance at the gym tonight (Friday). The music will be furnished by the Masked Marvels. 35 cents and your S. S. A. ticket will admit you.

Society

Y. W. C. A. Girls Hold Cabinet Meeting Wednesday

The Y. W. C. A. girls held a cabinet meeting Wednesday night at 7:00 o'clock to discuss and formulate plans for the calendar of the coming year. The work of the various committees was assigned for the year.

The plans decided upon by the cabinet will be put before the members for approval at the next meeting.

Hyperians Entertain New Members of H. E. Faculty

The regular social meeting of the Hyperian society was held Tuesday night at the Y. W. C. A. club rooms. The new members of the Home Economics faculty were entertained at bunco. To conclude the party refreshments were served.

S. M. A. Society Holds Initial Meeting

The initial meeting of the S. M. A. was held Tuesday night, Sept. 24, at 7:15 in the club rooms. At the general business meeting Lora Andreasson was elected vice-president to fill the position held last year by Lucile Miler.

Inky Fingers Elect Officers for Ensuing Year

A reorganization was effected in the Inky Finger Society at its first meeting held Tuesday night in the Bandbox. New officers elected were:

I. W. Nesser
Gents' & Ladies'
Hair Trim SPECIALIST
opp. Schools

Ruling Pen, Lois Ina Bunker; Vice-Ruling Pen, Marjorie Cronk; Fountain Pen, Donald Lind; and Paper Weight, Ellen Nelson. Plans for the year's work were proposed. Prospective members who are interested may petition for admission by submitting original manuscripts to the club.

New Officers Elected By Philomathean Society

The Philomathean Literary Society held its first regular meeting in the Y. W. Club rooms, Tuesday evening, Sept. 17. Edith Brevig, the new president, presided. A proposed program for the year was discussed. The following committee chairmen were appointed: Membership, Charlotte Watchorn; Refreshment, Vivian Hewitt; Social, Mildred Dingee; and Publicity, Alice Haselrud. Mrs. Paul Wilson and Miss Merna Miller continue as advisors.

Miss McCalmont Addresses Science Club

The Science Club met in the Harvey Memorial, Monday evening at five o'clock. A guest, Miss McCalmont, gave a most interesting talk on her trip to the cities to attend the National Chemical Convention. A number of the lectures, she informed us, were held on the University Campus, and a feature of the convention was a trip to the world's greatest iron mines at Hibbing, Minn.

Menomnie Baking Co.

Don't Forget Jaeger's Select Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

We Welcome Students to try
Our REAL Homecooking
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"Home of Good Food"

Personals

Alice Nelson visited in Minneapolis Saturday and Sunday.

Dr. Bachman was called home this week on account of the illness of her mother.

Mary Jane Dodson accompanied her parents to St. Paul for the weekend.

Freshmen again made up the delegation which left the Annex last weekend for home visits. Mabel Schroer was at Minneapolis; Marie Schroeder at Granton, Alice Lynum at Baldwin, Katherine Glasie at Spring Valley, Ruth Clemens at Amery, and Lorraine Litchfield, Lorraine Nordlie, and Pauline Bonesho at Eau Claire.

Eleanor Overby, who was stationed at the Lake Camp in Yellowstone National Park this summer, returned

Drugs and Stationery

NOER DRUG COMPANY

TAILORING

Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

Regret Offered Heideman

THE STOUTONIA, in behalf of the students and faculty of The Stout Institute, extend sincerest sympathy to Harry Heideman in his recent bereavement, the death of his wife, Mildred Sirtim Heideman. Mrs. Heideman is survived by her husband and baby of Charleston, West Va., and her mother, Mrs. Ed Sertemi of Minneapolis, Minn.

Harry Heideman graduated from Stout Institute in 1924 from the two year course and has since been back to summer sessions.

Mrs. Heideman has been taken to Minneapolis for burial.

this week. Winifred Cooper, who was also at Yellowstone, returned last week. Both girls were delighted with their summer work and the experience that they received.

Three 1st Class Barbers

Haircuts at any hour of the day

THE ELECTRIC SHOP

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomnie Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

See US For HAIRCUTS
We Satisfy Our Customers
The Lakeview
Barber Shop

FOUNTAIN PENS

Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

"THE SANDWICH SHOP"

We SPECIALIZE in FRIED
CHICKEN Sandwiches

Sandwiches of all Kinds

Delicious
Coffee

Across from Hotel Marion

SERVICE

We do DRY CLEANING
on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.
Articles brought by noon will be ready next day.

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE

Menomnie Dye House
Running and Cole

I'll Meet You
AT

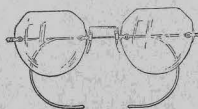

THE CANDY SHOPPE.
HOMEMADE
Candy - Pastry - Ice Cream

Portable Phonographs
for Rent at
A. R. OLSON'S

Latest Records & Sheet Music
at
A. R. OLSON'S

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Buy Whiting and Cook
Stationery

With 'STOUT' Seal
LEE'S DRUG STORE

OVERCOATS

In All the New-Going Colors
$12.75 to $165.00
EVENS-TOBIN CO.

SUCCESSFUL
MEN...

$5

Successful men have no time to worry about their appearance. They buy clothes that they know are fashionably correct. That's why so many leaders wear Friendly Fire's. Authentic styles, marvelous comfort—and a price that every man appreciates. The smart new line is here—styles to suit every individual. $5.00 a pair. May we fit you?

Graven & Wilcox
MAIN STREET

The Goodyear System Of Shoe Rebuilding In Connection

Friendly
Five Shoes

Stout Will Oppose Gustavus Adolphus On Gridiron Tonight.

Gloom Hovers Over Trainer Squad as Contest Approaches

Numerous Injuries Make Victory Improbable at St. Peters

The football team left this noon for St. Peter, Minnesota, where they will meet Gustavus Adolphus college this evening at 8:30 in the first night football game of Stout's history. With three of the most promising end candidates definitely out of the game from injuries, a quarterback unable to play, and another end badly crippled, the squad left with some hope, but with little confidence that they could do more than improve their game for the beginning of the conference schedule.

Scrimmage Wednesday showed much improvement, but was a costly affair, when Lou Paulus, the only experienced end, suffered the fracture of three ribs after being tackled, following the completion of a forward pass. Corsette, who took Paulus' place at end, was out of the game a few minutes later, and O'Connell continued in bad shape as a result of last week's game. Redgren ruined his knee in the Winona scrap, and is the other hopeful end on the bench. Michael's ankle is not improved enough yet to make him a probability in tonight's game.

A Tough Assignment

No one is optimistic enough to expect a win tonight, the only expectations being that Paulus' green squad will gather some much needed experience from the Gusties. A much abbreviated squad was taken, owing to the deplorable condition of the athletic association's finances. The players will not only meet a large, experienced college squad, but will have the thrills of a night game, accompanied by a general celebration, according to Twin City papers.

The squad to make the trip was not known when this was written, but the starting line-up will look something like the following:

From end to end: O'Connell, Novascone, Morrison, Penn, Wolgram, Penn, Wolgram, Cronk, and Rude, with Bilecki, Kube, Eng, Maerske, Schmidt and Muller along for another line trial.

In the backfield: Hoernemann, Neudecker, Wailin, and Fordham, with Brownsey and Harmon on deck.

Miller, Ex-Coach Here, Gets New Athletic Job

George "Bud" Miller, predecessor to Coach S. E. Paulus as director of athletics at Stout, was appointed last week to the headship of sports and professor of physical education at the Kirksville (Mo.) College of Osteopathy and Surgery where he entered as a freshman last fall after his resignation as head of sports here.

Miller was assistant football coach at Kirksville last season and gained the confidence of the college, which caused his elevation this year. The information, which reaches here thru The Stilleto, bi-weekly newspaper of Kirksville college, also includes the fact that "Bud" has the job of reorganizing the entire athletic program there. This fall they were unable to schedule enough games to make a season worth while. Stout griders were cut out of a long trip for this reason. Miller is expected to have a full basketball schedule, however, and an extensive intra-mural program under way soon. The Stoutonia extends congratulations and wishes for success to Stout's former coach.

Initiation Accorded Freshman Females

(Continued from page one)

And then move on They prattle away By the hour unabated, To make us believe they're sophisticated

But anyone knows In spite of their fuss They might learn a few things Even from us.

That is, they could If they would only get wise For its better to know Than it is to surmise.

We're here to be happy And learn more and more Without crabbng or snooping At anyone's door

We want to be loyal We want to be true We want to be friendly And happy with von So that when next year comes We'll be true to the core To all that comprises A REAL sophomore!

—June Lockhart

Don't forget the dance at the gym tonight. Thirty-five cents and your Master Ticket will admit you.

Stout Defeated in Practice Tilt With Winona Teachers

Trainers Show Poor Form in Second Half and Succumb 13-0

The men who represented Stout against Winona last Saturday may have looked rather weak, but are really to be commended. There were only four men in the starting line-up who have won Stout letters. They played a team that won the championship in the league that they were in last year. Hope continues in the Stout team, because they put up a good fight against a better team, losing in the second half, 13 to 0.

"Mac" Morrison won the toss and chose the north goal, getting the benefit of a strong wind. In the first quarter Stout held Winona on pretty even terms, largely because of profitable exchanges of punts. The first bad break was a blocked kick. Stout had the ball on its own 46 yard line and by the time everything had quieted, Winona had the ball on Stout's 20 yard line. Stout held them and got the ball on downs. Again near the end of the quarter a Stout kick was blocked, but recovered. The next play Stout kicked with better success, and that finished the first quarter.

First Half Ends Even

Winona opened up with some passes that didn't gain them anything at all. They kicked, and took advantage of another Stout fumble, and had the ball on Stout's 35 yard line. Some more passes were attempted, but they too proved to be ineffective. The second round might well be called Winona's because nearly all of the play was in Stout's territory, in fact The Trainers had to hold once at the five yard line.

At the beginning of the second half Stout kicked off to Winona, and Winona did some mighty nice work in returning the kicks. Griffith made a run of twenty five yards, and that was just part of it. On a fumbled pass from center, Kern got off a long, wobbly pass which finally nestled in a Winona player's arms, and this paved the way to the touchdown which they slid over in the third period. Stout's defensive right side exhibited some pathetic tackling during this quarter.

In the final round, a blocked punt of Stout's again put Winona in scoring position, and Rogge went over for the second touchdown. The kick for point was again missed, but Stout's

Stout May Join New Conference

Stout may be a member of two conferences if the suggestion of Concordia college of St. Paul materializes. Coach Paulus received a letter this week from that school suggesting the formation of a new sports league consisting of Concordia, Minnesota Aggies, and Luther college, all of St. Paul, and Stout, River Falls, and Eau Claire teachers colleges in Wisconsin. No definite action has been taken.

It is known that local athletic authorities view the new conference favorably. They emphasize, however, that participation in the new group would in no way lessen Stout's interest in the state teachers conference. It is reported that, besides Concordia, Luther and River Falls have already reacted favorably to the proposition.

Advantages of this double allegiance are pointed out as including financial benefits, the possibility of a full schedule without long exhausting trips in both football and basketball, early season games definitely arranged in both sports with the St. Paul schools because of the conference affiliations, and the opportunity of better success in many ways because of the new connection. Settlement of the matter may be effected before the basketball season, it is said.

offside gave the victors the point. Score: 13-0.

Errors Make Too Long Story

To pick out the faults would be exhaustive. Practically every one was a natural result of inexperience and lack of training time, and are not too discouraging. Stout's offensive game was completely ineffective, as was to be expected, and individual errors on defense, plus three needlessly blocked punts, gave Winona what might easily have been a greater edge on the fast-learning Trainers.

Nearly every promising squad member got a chance Saturday, but little could be told of their possibilities. The heavy dust made the game seem worse than it was. The lack of sideline observation on the part of spectators helped the sand-lot atmosphere, and lack of organized cheering also contributed its share to an afternoon which may now be forgotten.

First General Meeting of Y. M. C. A. Held in Stout's Club Rooms

Thirty-one Students Find Meeting to be Beneficial and Entertaining

The first general meeting of the Stout Y. M. C. A. held in their club rooms last night proved in all respects to be a very good fore runner and indicator that this year's work will be one of the most enjoyable and successful that has been accomplished for some time.

Thirty one students, many of whom were freshmen, were present. The meeting conducted as a social means of acquaintance proved both beneficial and entertaining. Mr. Milnes, advisor of the club, presented the group with a view of the opportunities in store for the Y. M. C. A. to accomplish many worthy projects on the Stout campus. Ideas of Y. M. C. A. work. Ideas of Mr. Price gave a talk on the general aims of Y. M. C. A. work. Ideas of the future possibilities of athletic activities were given by Gordon Johnson. Banjo selections by Thomas Nelson and Frank Castle, and a humorous monologue by Carl Roll completed the program of the evening. Refreshments were served, and the remainder of the evening was devoted to giving those present a chance to become acquainted and discuss matters of Y. M. C. A. work.

The Y. M. C. A. has adopted the very fitting and worthy slogan of The "Y" needs you, you need the "Y". A hearty invitation is extended to all students to attend the Y. M. C. A. meetings and to become active members of the club.

Marquette-LaSalle Club Holds Meeting

The first regular meeting of the Marquette-LaSalle Club was held last Tuesday evening in the Harvey Memorial. The attendance was very good, and there is promise of a good term for this club this year. Plans were discussed for programs and activities throughout the year. Then the other officers and the advisors were introduced to the new members by the president.

Home Economics Committees Meet

The counsel, made up of the various committees of the Home Economics Club met Monday night after school to discuss plans for providing and entertaining a speaker who is coming October 17th. You will hear more about her later.

ORPHEUM

Tonight (Friday and Saturday) William Haines in "A MAN'S MAN" Also Sennett Talking Comedy "Whirls and Girls"

Sun., Mon., Tues. Mary Pickford In her first all talking play—"COQUETTE" Mat. Sun. 2:30

Wed. and Thurs. Vilma Banky in "THE AWAKENING" Pathe News

GRAND Friday "HONEYMOON" with Polly Moran

Saturday and Sunday Tim McCoy in "SIOUX BLOOD"

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP
PHOENIX HOLEPROOF HOSIERY 98c to $1.95
GOTHEN GOLD STRIPE

ATTENTION STUDENTS

We have the biggest supply of all makes of FOUNTAIN PENS
SWAN - SCHAEFFER - PARKER - MOORE

Pens from $1 up. Also high grade FOUNTAIN PEN Inks
Nels Anshus The Jeweler

Light Lunches

Home - made - Candies

Open after Dance

The OLYMPIA

ANNOUNCEMENT

Dr. H. J. Vanek, formerly located in the 1st National Bank Building is now conducting his Dental practice at 332 Main St.

Hours 9-12; 1-5.

Evenings by special appointment.

Telephone 142

"Shaker Studios"

Photographs of Distinction

Students be sure and see "The Student Special" before having your annual picture made.

BRING YOUR KODAK FILMS HERE FOR DEVELOPING

"Shaker Studios"

Good Meals and Refreshments

SERVICE

Hotel Marion

Coffee Shop

Stoutonia Boosts Homecoming by Novelty Contest

S.S.A. Names Persons To Make Plans For Biggest Homecoming

Homecoming Will Arrive One Month From Today

Just one month from this week end, homecoming will be in full swing. All our plans will have materialized into the biggest and best homecoming Stout has ever known. Freshmen will be experiencing a new kind of enthusiasm. Upper classmen will be greeting old friends. Alumni will have returned to their Alma Mater. There will be activities of which we all will participate. Although the program has not yet been completed, we are already preparing for the M. A. P. play, the bonfire, the pajama parade, the flash ball game, the football game, the football banquet, the dance, the society breakfasts, and the dormitories open houses. Yet we cannot have any of these activities on our homecoming program without previous cooperation and preparation of the students.

Committees Chosen Monday

Last Monday evening at a meeting of the S. S. A. officers the following chairmen and committees were chosen:

Decoration of the gymnasium—Sophomore class, Eleanor Overby, supervisor.

Decoration of the corridor—Junior class, Ardella Anderson, chairman.

Decoration of the cafeteria—Senior class, Janet Clark, and Al Poellinger, chairman.

Decoration at football field, of the tower, entrances and welcome signs—Freshmen class, Willard Hanson, supervisor.

The Bonfire—Freshmen, Willard Hanson, supervisor.

Registration of Alumni—Y. M. C. A. and Science Club. Presidents of organizations, chairman.

Pep chairman—Pep assembly—Bill Gardner.

Stout Band—Harold Taufman, chairman.

Parade—Carl Roll, chairman.

Football banquet program—Jane Hambley, chairman.

Football banquet dinner—Marcelena Stephany.

Publicity chairman—Winifred (Continued on page two)

Norsk Films Depict 1930 Jubilee Scenes

The latest authorized motion pictures of Norway are going to be shown in the Stout Auditorium, October 8th, at 8 P. M. The pictures deal with various points of interest concerning the Nine hundredth Historical Jubilee, which is to be held in Norway in 1930. The film will also give as a two hour trip through Trondjem and Tromsødal.

The proceeds of the picture go to the Jubilee Gift, which is to be presented by the Norwegian Americans in 1930, to the Historical Cathedral.

Will Take Views of Campus

There has been very little illustrative material such as post card views of Stout Institute to afford the students and visitors to carry with such pictorial views as have been of interest to them. In view of this fact President Nelson has contracted to have a photographer make up representative post card views that will be available to students and others who wish to acquire them.

Forty Stout Bandmen Commence Rehearsals

Judging from the spirit with which the members are getting to work, and with over forty players present at the last rehearsal, it is apparent that in the very near future Stout will have one of the best bands in its history.

Seven o'clock Tuesday evening, the band held its regular meeting on the fourth floor of the Industrial Arts building with an unusually good practice. Director Ingraham especially emphasized a good practice in preparation for the band's first public concert, Oct. 24, in the Stout auditorium.

Lorraine Steinbrink was appointed assistant librarian. Harold Taufman, the librarian asked the band's assistance and cooperation in collecting the music and placing chairs in order after the meeting.

We were informed by Mr. Ingraham that nine new band racks are under construction.

The band has also purchased a new helicon sophone, and it is hoped that the instrument will be received this week or next. With one of these monsters already in the band, the addition of another will improve the looks and balance of the organization besides greatly helping the bass section.

—S—

Oct. 24 Opens Lyceum When Cossack Chorus Appears in Auditorium

Lyceum Committee Has Arranged Worthwhile Program

The Lyceum Committee, which is composed of Mr. Green, Miss Walsh, and Mr. Tustison, with Mr. W. B. Davison as chairman, has been busily engaged in the selection of the Lyceum program for this year. Their efforts have brought forth the following program which includes four numbers.

The opening number will be given October 24, when the Russian Cossack Chorus, an ensemble of fourteen male voices will be heard in the Stout Auditorium. The chorus has done extensive touring and has given many concerts. It is especially noted for its excellent rendition of both Russian and Italian music. This number offers an unusual treat for music lovers.

Reno, the magician and great master of illusion, will appear January 9, 1930. Any one who likes the unexpected can definitely plan on an evening of entertainment when this number is produced.

On March 10, Mr. Howard Cleaves, world traveler and lecturer, will come to Menomonie. Mr. Cleaves, who is now on the Pinchot South Sea Expedition. (Continued on page four)

—S—

M.A.P. Sponsor Dance and Prize Waltz Tilt

The Manual Arts Players will be hosts at the Friday night dance this week-end.

The music, which will be furnished by the Masked Marvels, will be a great inducement for everyone to be a participant in the prize waltz that will be one of the features of the evening.

The dance will start at eight-thirty. An S. S. A. ticket and thirty-five cents will admit you to the gym.

—S—

The Masked Marvels are playing at the M. A. P. dance tonight. Be there!

Men's Mixer Saturday Night

Every member of the Industrial Arts department is invited and urged to attend the Men's Mixer Saturday night between eight and ten o'clock. This is an attempt to undertake a new form of amusement. All three floors of the gym have been secured for the evening. A splendid program has been arranged which includes a number of special features. Come and share in the big get-together that is in store for all.

"Biggest Year" Say Printers in 1st Meet

The Stout Typographical Society held its first formal meeting of the year on October 1, in the printshop. The club, commonly known as the Printer's Club, elected its officers as follows: Kent Riggs, pres.; Willard Hanson, vice-pres.; Thomas Jungck, sec.-treas.; and William Gardner, reporter.

As there are several aspirants to take the honors of a printer upon themselves, it was necessary to appoint an initiation committee. Those appointed are: Hawkes, Zimmerman, Jungck, Hanson and Taufman.

Mr. Hague the adviser, gave an interesting talk in which he made a request for a more friendly and sociable feeling among its members.

It was decided to have a dance, sponsored by the S. T. S. in the near future.

The date set for the Journeyman's Test is October 16, 1929. At present, there are several S. T. S. Journeyman in school, but only one Master Printer who is Mr. Riggs.

This club is one of the liveliest clubs on the campus, holding peppy, educational meetings throughout the year. During summer session, it held several very enjoyable get-togethers. All those who are eligible for membership may hand in their names to the secretary, Thomas Jungck.

—S—

New Drawing Course Offered to All Men

A new course called Freehand drawing has made its appearance in the group of required freshmen shop and drawing courses. The addition of this course was made possible through the consolidation and redistribution of content in Woodturning I and Elements of Woodwork II. The two required woodwork courses now remaining are: Elements I and General Woodwork I.

This course, which is being taught for the first time this year by Mr. James Early, is intended to develop in the student the appreciation for drawing. It is hoped that the student will also be able to visualize that which he continually looks at in every day life. The course consists of varied forms of freehand sketching taken from both nature and regular mechanical and architectural drawing projects and problems.

It appears to be a very practical course and is not limited to freshmen; it is open to all men.

—S—

Beg Pardon!

Through an oversight Valeria Vulp's name was omitted from the Freshman Honor Roll last week. Miss Vulp earned 32 semester hours and 69 grade points.

Comedy of Home Life Is M. A. P. Selection

The first play that will be presented this season by the Manual Arts Players is "The Family Upstairs" by Harry Delf. It is an excellent three-act comedy that portrays the life of a typical American home. This family is not poor and yet it is far from rich—a family that manages to elude out a satisfied life by having all the children go to work. There isn't one member of the family who wouldn't die for the others, but yet they do have an occasional family quarrel.

The cast of characters and the people playing each part are:

Joe Heller, the father—Al Poellinger.

Emma Heller, the mother—Mildred Belina.

Louise Heller, the elder sister—Janet Kyle.

Willie Heller, the brother—John Waniga.

Annabelle, the baby sister—Emma Newby.

Charles Grant—Theodore Pierson.

Mrs. Grant, his mother—Marie Simonson.

Miss Callahan—Irma Nichols.

—S—

"No Throat Irritation" Mr Good Learns When Glee Club Men Report

Stock Soars Upward; Temperature Follows in Wake

People, ordinary people that is, usually read the comic section of a newspaper before they look at the news and the editorials. It shows a lack of training of some sort. But the editorial page is of little value to John D. and myself. We prefer the page on which the stocks and bonds are printed. I study them with the idea in mind that I am a "Wall Street financier," big "butter and egg man," so to speak.

Last summer, John D. wanted me to invest in some stock of a certain company, but after I thought about the matter for some time, I deemed it advisable not to buy, at least for a while. Tuesday morning, October 1st, this same company's stock had risen .00001 of a point. That made my temperature rise 13.763 degrees (Fahrenheit).

In order to become a success in the financial world it is best to study your mistakes, so that is what I did by conducting an extensive search for the reason that this stock was going up. I found it—here—at The (Continued on page two)

Millar Makes Clear Lawmaking Methods

The world series is certainly drawing nigh and The Stout Institute faculty and students seem to have the feeling. To watch them enter the auditorium for yesterday's assembly. It would have given anyone interested in mob psychology an excellent group with which to work.

After the customary notices were given, Mr. Bowman introduced Assemblyman J. D. Millar, who represents this district in the state legislature. Mr. Millar gave an educational talk on some of the proceedings of lawmaking that are not commonly known.

Detailed Ideas For Greater Homecoming Bring Cash Awards

Students Have Three Weeks to "Put it on paper"

The Stoutonia, for the next three weeks will be sponsoring a contest which, it is hoped, will promote the spirit of a "Bigger and Better Homecoming."

The Stoutonia is extending its interests toward the promotion of new features of entertainment, which will add a lot of pep and liveliness to the whole Homecoming program. Previously, the faculty, students, and their guests have enjoyed together the usual pajama parade, the M. A. P. play, the float parade, the football game, the dance, and the social activities of the various organizations. Surely, there must be some novelty that would be new and different, which would make an enjoyable addition to the regular program.

The Stoutonia thought that the students would be interested in planning some part of their entertainment, and is, therefore, asking each student to offer a suggestion for a novelty, with a full description as to how it may be carried out.

Three prizes in money will be given for the three best suggestions. The first prize will be ten dollars; the second, six dollars, and the third, two dollars.

The first prize novelty suggested will be a part of the Homecoming program; the second and third suggestions, if not too long, will also be a part of the program. The novelties to be usable, must be short, snappy, and lively!

Representative members from each class, and certain S. S. A. officers will act in the capacity of judges. The students under the direction of the S. S. A. will convene in classes at a designated time, and choose their respective members.

Each student is asked to put a suggestion in the mail box, which is (Continued on page two)

—S—

Milwaukee Banquet Planned for Alumni

Mr. Roy Van Duzee, of West Allis, is completing arrangements for a banquet of the Stout Alumni Club which will assemble in Milwaukee, Wis. at the time of the meeting of the Wisconsin Teacher's Association. The date of this meeting is Nov. 7th.

The Stout Alumni Club has carried on an active program during the past year and the growth of membership and the spirit of activity displayed indicates the promise of a very successful and profitable year.

—S—

Stout to Have Orchestra

Not content with having one of the finest small college bands in the State, President Nelson has authorized the organization of a Stout orchestra and has agreed to supply the needed music and also a place in which to hold rehearsals.

Full particulars have not as yet been forthcoming, but it is evident that the organization will be formed as soon as possible.

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office,
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                             |                           |
|-----------------------------|---------------------------|
| Under Direction of.....     | C. W. Hague               |
| Editorial Adviser.....      | Mr. John Faville, Jr.     |
| Associate Adviser.....      | Miss Helen Sarchet        |
| Managing Editor.....        | Lester L. Hawkes          |
| Associate Editor.....       | Irma L. Nichols           |
| News Editor.....            | Elizabeth A. Williams     |
| News Editor.....            | Ernest Christenson        |
| Assistant.....              | Bernard C. Hagen          |
| Assistant.....              | Belinda L. Hendrickson    |
| Sports Editor.....          | William J. Micheels       |
| Assistant (I. E.).....      | Frede Anderson            |
| Assistant (H. E.).....      | Henriette L. Quilling     |
| Feature Editor.....         | John W. Barber            |
| Feature Editor.....         | Bernice G. Bricker        |
| Exchange Editor.....        | William J. Soucie         |
| Humor Editor.....           | Harold F. Tauffman        |
| Assistant Humor Editor..... | Al J. Poelinger           |
| Society Editor.....         | Ardella Anderson          |
| Cartoonist.....             | Kathleen L. Lind          |
| Head-Line Writer.....       | Stuart Carnes             |
| Business Manager.....       | Earl C. Halverson         |
| Mario McCullough.....       | Advertising Manager       |
| Donald K. Lind.....         | Asst. Advertising Mgr.    |
| Robert G. Reick.....        | Circulation Manager       |
| Carl Roll.....              | Asst. Circulation Manager |

CULTIVATING FRIENDS

You have no doubt heard many college graduates, and even those who have attended college for only one year, remark about the friends they cultivated while attending such schools. You have also heard them say that the years they spent in college, surrounded by people of their own age and who were interested in the same things, were the happiest years of their lives.

I do not believe that most of us realize the value of a true friend; one who is ready to give both advice and criticism, and who will stick to us through the greatest of odds. Right now, during your years at Stout, is the time to cultivate such friendships; friends who you will be proud to call friends after we are all out in the world and another set of students has taken our places here.

The Men's Mixer, which is being held Saturday night in the gymnasium, is being promoted mainly to give the men students a chance to become acquainted. It is very seldom that the men of the school are gathered together for the purpose of knowing each other better and cultivating each other's friendship. This opportunity should not be slighted, and the gymnasium should ring with the good fellowship of Stout men.

The sponsors of the mixer and The Stoutonia strongly urge a large attendance and if it proves successful we have it upon good authority that more will follow.

Remember: "A true friend is priceless". Let's get acquainted.

THRILLS AND NEWS

Newspaper Comment—American newspapers have deteriorated because American readers want thrills rather than information.

A diet of thrills may keep one in a continual state of hilarious excitement but it can scarcely be expected to keep one informed of events, knowledge of which is necessary to full living.

We of The Stoutonia intend to give you information—"to chronicle the events of the school in a newsy way," which gives us leeway to make the writeups interesting. The outside public's opinion of American college students may be summed up in this word—frivolity. But we are old-fashioned enough to believe that after all, students are interested in the telling of those common things in which they have a part. The knowledge that a person has shared in some enterprise lifts it from the commonplace to the extraordinary for that person.

Again, names with which we are familiar, besides our own make "news." And so you may expect to find here in the columns of The Stoutonia items concerning you and your friends. It is not possible through the efforts of the limited number of our staff to get all the news all the time. Your cooperation is necessary. Tell us about those events that come to your notice—no matter how trivial. The very one you're going to discard is probably the one we are looking for.

And criticize!—We can't do everything perfect. We'll try, but we'll make mistakes in spite of all. And we want you to co-operate with us with your criticisms and suggestions.

News, to be news, must be up to date, have a common interest and cover the most important points on the subject covered. Send your items in—we'll appreciate them!

Let's Laugh

The writer of this column wishes to apologize most humbly for his failure to give due publicity to the episode which took place Sunday evening, Sept. 22 and was referred to in this column last week in a paragraph in which "moral support" was mentioned. I regret that I did not give the young lady concerned the credit she very rightly deserves. Please accept my apology.

—B—
And those people who like to ride in a Chevrolet coupe, would like to have some one dance with their girls so that they wouldn't have to dance "straight"; cannot afford $1.50 for a pair of spats or do not realize that they might be stylish—are in LOVE!!

—B—
"Doc" thinks the only place good girls come from is Illinois.—Someone disillusion him, please.

—B—
One woman wanted to know how the participants in a night football game could see the ball. Then some smart young rascal informed her that each player carried a lighted candle.

—B—
And now the Frosh girls are privileged to button up.

—B—
Did you ever hear "Marsh" sing, "I've Got a Feelin' I'm Fallin'"? He is now.

—B—
Oh, this inequality! One person receives ten dollars to get her hair cut while we poor males must pay fifty cents to let a barber cut ours.

—B—
"Sid" Cotton says it wasn't the girl next to him on the picture; it is the second one from him. Sorry "Sid."

—B—
"Speed" says that Gustavus Adolphus has a good team. (He should know!)

—B—
"Bill" Soucie bought his own razor blades from "Kidd" Riggs.

—B—
Flyswatters are forbidden in the Library. So are conferences and other forms of pests.

—B—
Let's be cordial to the chaperones. Perhaps they might even dance with you if you asked them.

—B—
While on the way to St. Peter Friday, John Rado stopped at Hudson and bought a pedigreed souphound. While riding in the car, the dog became senile. In order that the dog should not be alone, one or two of the men joined in the chorus. And now the dog has disappeared!!!

—B—
Now we know why "Tom" Nelson left the Overland home. I wouldn't ride in it either, girlie.

—B—
What do you get when you try to make your cigarette lighter work? Answer:—A sore thumb!

—B—
Here's a conversation which took place between two characters in "Fritze Ritz"—"I wonder why that cow is standing in cold water."
"So the milk won't sour, I guess."

—B—
A couple of "meetings" were interrupted in the Library Monday morning.

—B—
Not much activity between the Frosh and Sophs right now.

—B—
One girl went on a hiking date Sunday and came back thoroughly mad—even furious. When asked the reason, she replied, "We went out for a hike and all we did was walk!"

—B—
"Nick" Marsileo was going to get on the elevator with a young lady friend when "Hans" shut the door in his face. I guess he needed a little Ade (aid).

—B—
"Sid" Kachel is a regular week-end visitor at Beloit. We wonder what the attraction is?

—B—
Beware men! There are a number

Ideas for Celebration to Merit Cash Prizes

(Continued from page one)

located in the main corridor of the Home Economics building at the west entrance. All suggestions for novelties must be in by five o'clock on Wednesday, Oct. 23—one week before Homecoming!

The suggestions, as they are received will be published in the following issues of the Stoutonia, with no name attached.

The winners will be announced at the Homecoming dance, and will receive their prize money at that time.

Let's get into the contest! Boost the Stoutonia, and promote Homecoming spirit!

—S—

Question Box

Do you believe that a systematized program of study would be advantageous to students?

Lisle Hason, frosh—Yes, I believe it would be, because without a study program one is always asking himself: "What should I study now?" or "When will I get all that history or math studied?" Much time which could be used is wasted this way. With a systematized program of study one makes much better use of his time and always accomplishes his studying without difficulty.

Mary Carmody, frosh—I think that there is no program which would suit everyone's needs. Each person should make out his own with the aid of some one whom has had experience.

Everyone has some system, or should have, even if it is not a written one. Without one it would be impossible to have the correct amount of work finished at the right time. Business people have failed because of lack of system, and college students will find system necessary to success.

Lorrie Nordly, frosh—Some students require more time for some subjects than for others. With this in mind, I believe that each student should follow a certain schedule. I would rather work on one subject until I finished it than have a certain time for one subject and a certain time for another, although in this way, I might not have everything done at the right time.

Miriam Moore, frosh—An organized schedule for the students is all very well, providing they stick to it. I heartily disapprove of a schedule made out beforehand for the student to follow throughout the semester. There are too many things aside from his course of study that have to be taken into consideration, such as recreation, personal attention, and outstanding activities. However, each student should have his schedule organized so that he has a pretty definite time each day in which to do his work. But this schedule must be made out by himself, with, perhaps, a little help. He alone knows what the demands on his time are and he is the only one who can definitely arrange for himself a schedule that will be satisfactory.

Belinda Hendrickson, frosh—A systematized program of study, because all of us are inclined to waste too much time thinking about what we should study instead of actually studying. In a school of this type, there are so many things to be accomplished that unless we budget or systematize our hours of study, we will gradually fall behind and have to deprive ourselves a great part of our leisure time. This can all be avoided by planning to have a good finished product. This same principle holds true in regard to students at college. Therefore, if one wants to be a good finished product of The Stout Institute, a well balanced systematized program of study would be very helpful.

of girls joining the rifle club.

—B—
We also have a fair representation of Montana at Stout this year.

Here & There

The University of Washington, Seattle, Washington, will have one of the first and one of the finest Schools of aeronautics in the country as the result of a gift of $29,000 from the Daniel Guggenheim Fund for the promotion of aeronautics and an appropriation of $50,000 by the state legislature for equipment.

With this new building, a four year curriculum leading to a B. S. degree in aeronautical engineering, and the establishment of a government ground school on the campus this fall, the University of Washington expects to take a leading position in the advancement of this branch of learning.—The Nation's Schools.

The average cost of sending Chicago's 500,000 school children to public schools is $100.72 each per annum.

A $52,000 school building, to be paid for with money raised from tuition fees of non-resident pupils is under construction at Aurora, Neb. It is one of the few in the state built without the necessity of a bond issue.

The building will be a two-story structure with a gymnasium and an auditorium with a seating capacity of nine hundred.

There were 3,995 students from foreign countries registered in American universities in the last school year.

Monmouth College, at Monmouth, Illinois, carried over three full teams for a recent game against Mount Forest, Illinois.

—S—

S.S.A. Boards Ready for Fall Reunion

(Continued from page one)

Cooper.

A committee of four faculty members was chosen to judge the store window decorations.

A committee of three business men was chosen to judge the floats.

A committee of two faculty members was chosen to judge the pajamas at the parade.

As in previous years every class, club, and organization of the school is expected to have a float in the parade. These organizations are urged to appoint their chairmen and begin planning their floats as soon as possible. Let's have some real enthusiasm and competition thus making the parade the best it has ever been.

Come on, students, faculty, everyone—enter into the spirit of our 1929 home coming. Let's make it a big week end of Whoopie for our alumni.

—S—

No Throat Irritation Singers Demonstrate

(Continued from page one)

Stout Institute. Here 'tiz.

Mr. H. F. Good, director of the Men's Glee Club, (and incidentally a professor on the Stout Institute faculty) conducted a rehearsal last Monday evening,—in fact he had the aspiring, (and perspiring) candidates go through a series of "ah's", "oh's", "aye's", and "ee's" on try-outs for the perious positions to be filled. Marshall Field's store of Rusk, reports that they sold a package of Lucky Strike cigarettes to a student named Biver. The Rusk police force saw Biver receive $.01 from fourteen other young "scalawags." Biver gave them a cigarette in return for their investment. Every fag was smoked until it was only 3.8 cm. long. That was the factor that gave them an advantage over the rest of the glee club candidates, they smoked a Lucky and the Lisget Myers Tobacco Co's stock soared immediately. These sixteen fellows that sang all the notes of the alphabet with great dexterity are to be complimented.

Personals

LYNWOOD

Grace Linderson, accompanied by Margaret Senty, spent the week-end in Clear Lake, Wis.

Misses Emma Anderson, Cecelia Cadigan, Ellen Nelson and Francis Hill spent Saturday in Minneapolis.

At the last home meeting at Lynwood Hall, the following house officers were elected: Ethel Anderson, head proctor; Cecelia Cadigan, associate proctor; Doris Henry, secretary; Marie Simonson, treasurer; Ellen Nelson, house inspector.

Plans were discussed for initiating the Lynwood Frosh.

TAINTER ANNEX

A house meeting was held one night last week for the purpose of electing house officers. The following girls were elected: Pres., Mildred Belina; Vice-Pres., Josephine Edinger; Sec. and Treas., Patsy Ruth Kelly; room inspectors, Nelda Damrow and Florence Verbrick.

The Annex seemed strangely quiet last week end, due mainly to the fact that Joe Edinger and Nelda Damrow spent the week end in St. Paul.

Others who were away for the week end were: Grace Quarters and Babel Schroe who were in Minneapolis; Alice Lynum and Mary Jane Dodson who were in Baldwin; and Katherine Grassie and Janet Evans, who were at Katherine's home in Spring Valley.

Mildred Belina, Marion Cress, and Winifred Cooper also spent the week

Miss Irish to Leave for Racine, Oct. 14

Miss Mina Irish, who has been doing secretarial work for The Stout Institute for the past six years, will leave October 14. Her record here at Stout lists four years in the service of the Deans, and two years as the President's secretary.

Miss Irish has accepted a position with the General Implement Co. of Racine, Wis. There is some probability that this firm will move to Chicago or Milwaukee in the near future.

Both the faculty and students are sorry to see Miss Irish leave for her home and new position in Racine.

The position being left open by Miss Irish, has not as yet been filled. One applicant has been offered the position, but has not as yet accepted.

end in Minneapolis.

Emma Newby and Florence Verbrick drove to St. Paul Saturday with Emma's parents from Appleton, Wis.

The new students at the Annex were entertained at a pajama party given by the old girls last Thursday night. A short program was given by Emma Newby, who played two lovely Chinese selections on the piano, and Jane Foeller who gave a very interesting reading. The newcomers received the "Annex stamp" on their foreheads and were served refreshments of ice cream, cookies, and candy bars. After singing the Alma Mater everyone retired, feeling much better acquainted and more at home in the Annex.

Society

Philomatheans Hold Regular Meeting

The Philos held their regular business meeting in the Club Rooms, Tuesday night at 7:00 o'clock. After the business was concluded, refreshments were served.

Science Cub Has Interesting Session

The Science Club held a general meeting Monday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock. Each member was required to come prepared to discuss briefly a topic in answer to roll call. The variety of topics given made the meeting both worth-while and interesting.

Y. W. Hopes for Increase in Membership

To stimulate an interest in the Y. W. membership, a tea was given Wednesday afternoon in the Club Rooms for all new Home Economic students. The Cabinet girls acted as hostesses.

It is hoped that membership will be increased this year as the Y. W. is one of the most active organizations on the campus. Anyone interested in securing a membership card should see Henriette Quilling, chairman of the membership committee.

—S—

Girls Glee Club Plans Work for Year

Glee Club was held Monday night, and the work for the coming year was started in earnest.

The following officers were elected: Anita Gundlach, president; Hazelle Flaget, vice-president; Marie Simonson, secretary; Alice Haslerud, treasurer; Irma Gilbertson, librarian; Myrtle Anderson, assistant librarian.

The Glee Club this year has a number of new members, and is a somewhat larger organization than it has been for the past two years.

—S—

De Molay Club Holds First Session

The Stout De Molay Club held its first regular meeting held in the gymnasium last Wednesday night was held primarily for the purpose of electing its officers. The following were elected: Gould Morrison, President; Ernest Christensen, Vice-President; Carl Beinhart, Secretary; Francis Whiting, Treasurer.

Did You Know That-

Gail is the Annex reporter? We wonder why?

Miss Cruise backed into the skeleton in the Nutrition lab and said, "Pardon me."

Barney has the latest in footwear for men? Take a look at his "jingle-heels"—he got them in Chicago.

"Doc" dictates to the dean of men on the subject of Stoutonia copy? Would you call that a serious offense?

"Pete" Zimmerman hopes that he will be able to wash Marge's car someday?

That the S. S. A. president wears a six and a quarter shoe, triple A width?

Harmon's shoes have a squeak? Wonder if they're paid for!

I. W. NESSER

If Better Appearance Is What You Seek—Get A Haircut Every Week.
Opp. Schools

TAILORING

Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

Three 1st Class Barbers

Haircuts at any hour of the day

THE ELECTRIC SHOP

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonic Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

See US For HAIRCUTS
We Satisfy Our Customers
The Lakeview
Barber Shop

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

ORPHEUM
Tonight (Friday) and Sat.
Vilma Banky and James Hall
in
"THIS IS HEAVEN"
Part Talking
Sunday and Monday
Mat. Sun. 2:30
Norma Shearer in
"THE LAST OF MRS. CHENEY"
All Talking
Tues. and Wed.
Ramon Navarro in
"THE PAGEN"
Taken in the South Sea Islands
A sound picture. Also an all talking comedy.
Thurs., Fri., Sat.
Douglas Fairbanks in
"THE IRON MASK"
Doug speaks in the prologue.
GRAND
Tonight
Glen Tryon in
"IT CAN'T BE DONE"
Saturday and Sunday
George Bancroft in
"THE THUNDERBOLT"

We Welcome Students
to try
Our REAL Homecooking
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"Home of Good Food"

"THE SANDWICH SHOP"
We SPECIALIZE in FRIED
CHICKEN Sandwiches

Sandwiches of all Kinds
Delicious
Coffee

Across from Hotel Marion

SERVICE

We do DRY CLEANING
on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.
Articles brought by noon will be ready next day.

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Menomonic Dye House
Running and Cole

OH BOY!!

HAVE YOU TRIED THOSE TAFFY APPLES or HEAVY MALTEDS
of OURS.

THEY'RE SURE GOOD.
WE SPECIALIZE IN TASTE.
THE CANDY SHOP

Portable Phonographs

for Rent at
A. R. OLSON'S
Latest Records & Sheet Music
at
A. R. OLSON'S

OCTOBER is DIAMOND
Month

Come in and see our EXCLUSIVE ASSORTMENT of new

Diamond Ring Designs
Prices from $12.50 to $800

Nels Aushus the Jeweler

Good Meals and Refreshments
SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Buy Whiting and Cook
Stationery

With 'STOUT' Seal
LEE'S DRUG STORE

OVERCOATS

In All the New Going Colors
$12.75 to $165.00
EVENSTOBBIN CO.

Undaunted Trainer Squad Prepared for Conference Opener

Trainers Meet Team With Victory Over Winona Pedagogues

Coach Paulus and Captain Morrison Work Hard For Victory

If Coach Paulus and Captain Morrison can keep the seventeen men on the LaCrosse invasion from getting the blues, there is no good reason why Keeler's physical ed. boys should not be forcibly reminded that Stout played them to a 6-6 tie here a year ago.

With Twin City papers verifying the fact that the Gustie game was by no means the walkaway which the score indicated, the Trainer squad has recovered pretty well from momentary discouragement and are willing—a few more times—to try to overcome the wearisome obstacles which seem to be directly in the path of athletic success at Stout.

More Shifts Are Evident

The twelve woolen jerseys will probably be worn by the following starting lineup: From right to left in the line—Wallin, Novascone, Morrison, Penn, Kube, Cronk, Wolfgram; backfield—Hoernamann, Brownsey, Rude, and Harmon. At least the following will also perform: Fordham and Neudecker as backs; Bielecki, Muller, and Mareszke as linemen, and Schmidt, if his appendix behaves.

Micheels' ankle needs absolute rest. Nutting and Peebles are two who might be along. Valuable contributors to the squad every night include Kangas, a real worker, Hermann, shifty, but ineligible for varsity games, Jakobek, Bitters, Buss and Harmon. The last named will develop into real material if they continue their spirit.

Hospital List no Better

O'Connell's ankle 's improved, and he is on deck. Paulus is up, but his ribs will keep him off the field for a couple of weeks still. Redgren and Corsette will be valuable if they continue practice after their injuries improve. The wing situation is pretty

Stout Line Forces Gusties to Pass Game

Playing in a constant rain and under the glare of floodlights, the Stout football team went down to defeat before the attack of Gustavus Adolphus. The veteran Minnesota team outclassed the greener Stout men and piled up 51 points. The night playing didn't seem to bother the playing, especially from the Gustie's point of view. Aside from the weather conditions it was an interesting game to watch although the score indicated anything else but.

Unable to penetrate Stout's line, Gustavus resorted to sweeping end runs, together with a polished aerial attack. Two of their touchdowns were scored on intercepted passes. Some people seem to think that the Stout team should be discouraged, but many lessons were learned Friday and the real test will come in future games.

All of the men who made the trip to St. Peter saw action in the game. The starting lineup included: Rude, l. e.; Cronk, l. t.; Wolfgram, l. g.; Penn, c.; Morrison, r. g.; Novascone, r. t.; Schmidt, r. e.; Hoernamann, q. b.; Wallin, r. h. b.; Fordham, l. h. b.; Neudecker, f. b. The others who played were Brownsey, Kuke, Maerzke, Harmon, Bielecki, and Micheels.

bad, but Wolfgram's new assignment at end may work, and Schmidt is a corner if his insides will straighten out.

Rude has been worked in as a blocking back to make chances for the stepping of Brownsey or Fordham. Wallin is back at end where he got his chance last year, and will be pulled back on punt formations. Stout hasn't a great attack yet, but the defensive work of at least part of the line is looking pretty good. The Trainers meet a full squad of veterans at LaCrosse, while Mac Morrison is the only last year's regular who will make the trip. LaCrosse beat Winona by three touchdowns, but two were intercepted passes, so that comparison means nothing.

Middies Obsolete, So Girls Don Rompers For Convenience

Childhood Reminders Are to be Worn In Gym Classes

Do you remember way back when we were kids, 'n we used to wear the cutest little blue and white and pink rompers? Yes, we were quite young, but then—they were happy childhood days.

They say that history repeats itself. And so it does, for over in the gym the girls are again wearing rompers, not for childish reasons however. They're blue—and they're the new gym uniforms. They have little, short sleeves and cute little pockets.

It seems that these uniforms are much more convenient, in that it's easier to carry around only one piece of cloth than three, middy, bloomers, and tie as before. The rest of the ensemble consists of black cotton stockings rolled just below the knees, and black slipper tennis shoes. The Menomonee Eaking Co.

Don't Forget Jaeger's Select Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

Lower Lynwood Being Overhauled

The lower Lynwood Hall apartments are being entirely overhauled and decorated and will be occupied by Major and Mrs. McCauley. Mrs. McCauley has been in Europe where she has been engaged in work pertaining to the Fidac of which she is international president.

rompers must be easier to perform in or the present classes would not be using them. Of course there may be a noticeable rise in laundry bills, because one little romper must be washed and ironed more often than a middy and black bloomers. But think how cute they look! And they're being worn in gym classes at all the big eastern schools.

Oct. 24 Opens Lyceum With Cossack Chorus

(Continued from page one)

pedition will be here shortly after his return to America.

The Berger-Steindel-Astor Trio will make their appearance, which is the concluding number of the program for the year, on April 16. Accompanying the trio will be Miss Gloria Randolph, dancer of ability.

Reservations for tickets to the Lyceum will be made within a few days. It will be advisable for students to watch closely for announcements to this effect, as good seats for this program will be in great demand.

Drugs and Stationery
NOER DRUG COMPANY

ANNOUNCEMENT

Dr. H. J. Vanek, formerly located in the 1st National Bank Building is now conducting his Dental practice at 332 Main St.

Hours 9-12; 1-5.

Evenings by special appointment.

Telephone 142

From an engraving of the time in Harper's Weekly

Autumn of '79

WHILE Yale and Princeton were battling to a tie at Hoboken, New Jersey, a small group of scientists, directed by Thomas A. Edison, was busy at Menlo Park, only a few miles away. On October 21, their work resulted in the first practical incandescent lamp.

Few realized what fifty years would mean to both electric lighting and football. The handful who watched Yale and Princeton then has grown to tens of thousands to-day. And the lamp that glowed for forty hours in Edison's little laboratory made possible to-day's billions of candle power of electric light. In honor of the pioneer achievement, and of lighting progress, the nation this year observes Light's Golden Jubilee.

Much of this progress in lighting has been the achievement of college-trained men employed by General Electric.

JOIN US IN THE GENERAL ELECTRIC HOUR, BROADCAST EVERY SATURDAY AT 9 P.M., E.S.T. ON A NATION-WIDE N.B.C. NETWORK

95-717DH
GENERAL ELECTRIC
GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, SCHENECTADY, NEW YORK

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP

KLEENEX YELLOW - GREEN
PINK AND WHITE

"Shaker Studios"

Photographs of Distinction

Students be sure and see "The Student Special" before having your annual picture made.

BRING YOUR KODAK FILMS HERE FOR DEVELOPING

"Shaker Studios"

QUALITY -- SHOES

AT

Swenson and Berndt

"The Shoe Men"

TAFFY APPLES
HOME MADE CANDY

Every Day at

THE OLYMPIA

Open After All Dances

Homecoming Plans Indicate Mammoth Celebration

First All Men Mixer Held Last Saturday Was Well Attended

Mr. Nelson's Gym Class Shows Skill in Tumbling Performance

The first "All Men Mixer" of the year, held last Saturday evening, was undoubtedly the most successful social event so far this year. The gym was crowded to capacity with students and members of the industrial faculty. Everyone seemed filled with the atmosphere of good fellowship; students and faculty mingled with one another as one big family. The mixer was purely an informal affair and proof enough was evident by the dark clouds of smoke that rolled up from various places in the club rooms, and now and then shrieks of laughter filled the rooms, these coming undoubtedly from some of Stout's champion laughers. Members in attendance confess that never before has so large a portion of the students attended a social event of this kind. It is estimated that about 175 men were present.

The earlier part of the evening was spent in cards, billiards, checkers, and to say the least, the radio. It was rumored that the students could run the faculty a close second in several of the games especially in getting the good hands in five-hundred.

About nine o'clock the group adjourned from the upper floors of the gymnasium to the gym proper, to witness some of the most daring and clever tumbling stunts ever performed by Paul Nelson's tumblers. It became evident to the spectators that Stout will have a very good gym team before the season is over.

After the athletic exhibitions, Mr. Schaudt, S. S. A. president, called upon various members of the faculty for short talks. President Nelson voiced his opinion of the social life (Continued on page four)

Tower Publication Will Be Product of Junior Class

Staff To be Selected at Meeting Held Next Monday Afternoon

Another step has been taken toward the placement of The Stout Institute on the same basis as other colleges by the junior class accepting the responsibility of producing the 1930 Tower, as a class presentation to the seniors. Although the Tower will be a class publication, the book will be democratic in character, as it will contain interesting things for everyone.

Double honor is due the juniors for two reasons: first, the juniors are doing the job, and secondly, they are the first class to put out the year book publication.

The Tower nominating committee met last Wednesday with the idea of nominating staff members from all the classes, but after the juniors decided to take the proposition, this committee automatically dissolved in favor of the new arrangement. A committee of eight, including the four junior class officers, have been appointed to meet with faculty advisers on Monday afternoon, Oct. 14, at five o'clock, in Miss Michael's outer office to nominate the staff for the 1930 Tower. It is expected that the staff will be composed of junior class members only, for we are assured there is real talent there to fill all of the positions.

Nursery School Bulletin Wins Favor For Stout

One of the most imposing bulletins ever put in the mails here is the descriptive booklet of The Nursery School at The Stout Institute written by Nathalia Vasold-Lautner former director, and edited by Miss Michaels, dean of the school of home economics. The bulletin was distributed last week to many people interested in a similar field of education, to Stout alumni, to parents of the nursery school children, and to others. Favorable comments are already being received from many sources.

All of the activities of the school are rescribed, and its relation to college courses offered in the school of home economics is explained. Contributing editors were those who have a definite connection, daily, with the nursery school program: Miss Cruise, in charge of the department of nutrition, Miss Wangen, nurse, Dr. Blom, physician and Dr. Vanek, dentist. Thirteen full-page cuts of children and equipment illustrate the function of the school. The Stout print shop force were the publishers.

Miss Abby Marlott to Speak to H. E. Club

The Home Economics Club is fortunate to have as its guest and speaker on October 17th, Miss Abby Marlott, head of the Home Economics department at the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Marlott is one of the pioneers in the field of Home Economics; in fact, she is recognized as having the longest record in this field today.

She obtained her education at the Kansas State Agricultural College, and for the past 25 years has been director of Home Economics at the University of Wisconsin. During the war she assisted in the food conservation program. She has been affiliated with the National Home Economics Association, being especially interested in the social aspects of this work.

No girl in the school of Home Economics can afford to miss this opportunity of hearing Miss Marlott.

Don't forget the big Band Dance at the gym tonight. "Hooky" and his Masked Marvels are going to beat time.

| Next Week's Calendar               |  |
|------------------------------------|--|
| Tonight—Band dance.                |  |
| Monday—Stoutonia Staff, 5 p. m.    |  |
| Monday—Science club, 5 p. m.       |  |
| Monday—Men's Glee Club, 7 p. m.    |  |
| Monday—Women's Glee Club, 7 p. m.  |  |
| Tuesday—Band, 7 p. m.              |  |
| Tuesday—Philo, 7 p. m.             |  |
| Wednesday—Rifle Club, 7 p. m.      |  |
| Wednesday—Metallurgy Club, 7 p. m. |  |
| Wednesday—Y. W. C. A., 5 p. m.     |  |
| Wed.—Lutheran club, 7 p. m.        |  |
| Wednesday—S. T. S., 7:30 p. m.     |  |
| Thursday—Arene, 7:30 p. m.         |  |
| Thursday—Hyperians, 5 p. m.        |  |
| Thursday—Orchestra, 7 p. m.        |  |

Miss Overby Will Attend University

Eleanor Overby, vice-president of the S. S. A. and prominent in all of the college activities, is leaving Stout to enroll at the University of Minnesota. Miss Overby is to do part time work in retail selling at Dayton's, and this necessitates the change in schools. Her credits have been accepted at full value at the university.

Miss Overby has always taken a very active part in all student activities, besides making an enviable scholastic record here. Among other things, she has held the highest women's office, student vice-president, has been a member of W. A. A., the girls' glee club, and news editor of the Stoutonia. The Stoutonia wishes Miss Overby the greatest success, and expresses the sincere regret of all Stout, students and faculty both, that she is leaving this college.

Child School Work Extended To Homes

On Wednesday, October 2, the mothers and fathers of all the children who are enrolled in the nursery school had a meeting with Miss Smith. Regular meetings have been scheduled for the first and second Wednesdays of each month. The purpose of these conferences is to familiarize the parents with the customs and habits that are taught in the school, so that the same regulations may be followed in the home. With the cooperation of the parents, the methods used in training the children will become permanent.

Miss Ruth Bell to Replace Miss Irish

President Nelson informed a representative of THE STOUTONIA this morning that the position left vacant by the resignation of Miss Irish has been filled by Miss Ruth E. Bell, of Topeka, Kans. Miss Bell came to supply for Miss Irish, who leaves Sunday for her home in Racine, but after becoming acquainted with the nature of her work and demonstrating her high ability along this line of work, has been appointed as permanent secretary to the President.

She graduated from the Topeka, Kansas high school in 1921, and attended Strickers Business College the following year. Miss Bell obtained her A. B. degree from Washburn University at Topeka, Kansas, in 1927, and secured an A. M. degree from Clark University in 1928. While at Clark she majored in Economics and Business Administration.

The President of Clark University in his letter to President Nelson states that Miss Bell is highly efficient in her (Continued on page three)

Dr. Frost Honors Stout Science Club

Dr. W. D. Frost, and his wife, were guests of the Science Club last Friday enroute from Minneapolis to Madison. They were entertained at a tea in the afternoon given by the Science Club, to which the Faculty and the bacteriology classes were invited.

A dinner, attended by the Science Club members, the Science Committee, and Miss Schabecker, Miss Knutson, and Miss Kuntz of the Science Department of Menomonie High School, was given by the Science Club at 6:30 in the Band Box.

Dr. Frost, who is associate professor of bacteriology at the University of Wisconsin and one of the leading authorities on the subject, gave a talk about milk. He spoke of the improvement in methods of sanitation of milk and also told how he first became interested in this work. Some of the books which he has written may be found in The Stout Institute library.

BEAT RIVER FALLS!
Tomorrow—the game of games! Stout at River Falls. Everybody get lots of pep and go.

by Kathleen Lind

Plans Give Evidence of Most Successful Homecoming Days

Exceptionally Good Program Is Completed and Signed by President Nelson

Preparations for homecoming are well under way. Definite plans and arrangements have been made during the past week.

On Thursday, October 3, there was a meeting of the chairmen of the various committees. At this meeting definite plans were made for the work of the committees.

Monday night, October 7, the chairman of the homecoming decorations committee met with Miss Overby. Many of the plans for decorations are already made. The color scheme appears to be unusually good this year.

There was also a meeting of the S. S. A. officers and publicity chairman on Monday night. At this meeting the homecoming program was completed. The program is as follows:

Friday, November 1
7:30 P. M.—Registration of alumni in main corridor.

8:15 P. M.—M. A. A. play, "The Family Upstairs."

10:30 P. M.—Pajama parade, bonfire, and ceremonies. (Particular note should be taken of the fact that a platform will be provided so that everyone will be able to witness the ceremonies.)

Saturday, November 2
7:30 A. M.—Club breakfasts in honor of the alumni.

8:30 A. M.—Registration of alumni.

9:00 A. M.—Annual S. Club meeting.

10:00 A. M.—Flashball game.

Freshmen girls vs. Sophomore girls.

11:00 A. M.—Mass meeting assembly.

12:00 (Noon)—Alumni luncheon—(Continued on page two)

—S—

Homecoming Events Are Endless Source For "Bright Ideas"

Suggestions Must be In by October Twenty-third To be Eligible

Students, are you forgetting the cash awards offered by the Stoutonia for the best idea for some new kind of entertainment for Homecoming on November 1, 2 and 3? The people to judge the suggestions have been chosen; it is now time for you to come across with these brilliant ideas!

Maybe your suggestion will make ceremonies more impressive at the bonfire; maybe you will be able to dress up the snake dance attractively, or organize it so that people will not be run over as they were last year. Likely, you will have some stunts on the pep assembly program for Saturday morning of Homecoming. A new seating arrangement is much desired at the football field. Previously, one had to stand through the entire game. One of the big problems is to keep the crepe paper decorations on the tower from blowing away. People, there are hundreds of improvements necessary to make this Homecoming the best ever. It is for you to tell how these improvements can be made, and you will succeed by offering a suggestion, with a detailed description as to how it may be carried out.

Put your idea in the black mail box which is located in the main corridor (Continued on page two)

CAMPUS CARTOONS

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office,
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                                 |                        |
|---------------------------------|------------------------|
| Managing Editor .....           | Lester L. Hawkes       |
| Associate Editor .....          | Irma L. Nichols        |
| News Editor .....               | Elizabeth A. Williams  |
| News Editor .....               | Ernest Christenson     |
| Assistant .....                 | Bernard C. Hagen       |
| Assistant .....                 | Belinda I. Hendrickson |
| Sports Editor .....             | William J. Micheels    |
| Assistant (I. E.) .....         | Prode Anderson         |
| Assistant (H. E.) .....         | Henriette L. Quilling  |
| Feature Editor .....            | John W. Barber         |
| Feature Editor .....            | Bernice G. Bricker     |
| Exchange Editor .....           | William J. Soude       |
| Humor Editor .....              | Harold F. Tauffman     |
| Assistant Humor Editor .....    | Al J. Poelinger        |
| Society Editor .....            | Ardella Anderson       |
| Cartoonist .....                | Kathleen L. Lind       |
| Head-Line Writer .....          | Stuart Carnes          |
| Business Manager .....          | Earl C. Halverson      |
| Circulation Manager .....       | Robert G. Reick        |
| Asst. Circulation Manager ..... | Carl Roll              |
| Advertising Manager .....       | Marlo McCullough       |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr. ....     | Donald K. Lind         |
| Under Direction of .....        | C. W. Hague            |
| Editorial Adviser .....         | Mr. John Faville, Jr.  |
| Associate Adviser .....         | Miss Helen Sarchet     |

OUR EDITORIAL POLICY

1. To foster school spirit and cooperation.
2. To encourage clean sportsmanship.
3. To promote good scholarship.
4. To encourage worthy activities.
5. To serve as a medium of expression for the entire student body and faculty.
6. To give honor where honor is due.
7. To uphold, promote, and carry out the traditions of The Stout Institute.

PEP ASSEMBLIES

Due to most unfortunate circumstances, the pep assembly which generally precedes an important football game was sadly lacking at yesterday's assembly. Although we realize that it was impossible to arrange for such a demonstration, THE STOUTONIA heartily endorses these pep meetings and hopes that arrangements will be made to conduct a roaring assembly before our next game.

The importance of a pep demonstration on the part of the students is obvious. There is nothing that puts more fight and determination into the football men than student appreciation, and the least we can do is to give them a send-off that will ring in their ears all during the game.

Most of the students do not realize that we are now on the eve of one of the most important games of the year. A win tomorrow will change Stout's outlook for the remainder of the year considerably. A win tomorrow will put confidence and fight into the team. Fight to battle the two remaining games and put Stout far up the percentage column where she rightly belongs.

We urge everyone possible to attend the River Falls game tomorrow and if impossible, the least we can do is come down to the gym in the morning and give the boys a send-off. Let's show them we are behind them one hundred percent. Let's yell for them before the game instead of knocking afterwards.

CHOOSING A VOCATION

"For the great masses of men, life is organized around work." Every normal man and woman expects to spend the next forty-five or fifty years preparing for and pursuing some occupation or profession. For this reason the occupation should be selected intelligently rather than be chosen because somebody thinks it would be nice, or because one's best friend is in it, or because one merely drifts into it.

An intelligent choice of a life work involves the consideration of the amount of ability the individual possess, the physical characteristics and health, the personal qualities, such as, initiative, industry, ability to get along with others, interest; as well as the requirements of the vocation, the future in it, and the preparation needed for it.

Giving each student the necessary information so that he may decide upon his career is one of the functions of vocational guidance. The school offers sources of information and guidance of which every student should take advantage; so that no one will go through four years of college having no idea what he is going to do upon graduation, nor drop out of school to enter some occupation blindly. The school period is the time to start preparation for one's life work.

—Neshota News.

Let's Laugh

Well, we had a plenty good mixer Saturday night in the gym. In addition to apples, "sinks" and coffee, a good time was had by all. Mr. Price asked me if I wanted more men mixers. I said "Sure!" What do you fellows say about it?

—B—
Some Frosh asserts that Miss Sarchet told him to go jump in the lake. The Frosh contends that only the sophs can tell him that.

—B—
By the way, isn't it nearly time for the annual sack rush?

—B—
In connection with the temporary removal of opposing factions, gentlemen, stock-cars are pretty cold right now the Freshmen tell us.

—B—
"Fritz" Doetsy denies that he is one of the most popular frosh in school.

—B—
We wonder where everyone was Friday night? You know there was a mighty good dance at the gym that night.

—B—
Pet sayings of some campus notables:

Here's the idea.
Here's a teaching episode.
Now, in this educational set-up.
My, I like pink.

What are you wearing a high collar for today?
Hello, partner.

I am not stuck-up.
Aw, you're crazier 'n—
And I got another bone to pick with you.

Aw, Go on, pest.
Oh! He's a keen dancer.
Will you people take separate tables, please!

—B—
Lit Survey
"Speed" says Chaucer should take a course in spelling.

—B—
Excerpts from Chaucer:
—He was a lord full fat and in good point;
—His head was bald, as shown as glass;

—B—
Among the prevalent campus diseases is "cold sores."
—B—

If there is one "b" in "ball"; how many "b's" are there in "hive"?
—B—

How many chews in a cud of gum?
—B—

A census is being taken of those collegiates who sport dimples.
—S—

Fall Reunion Plans Take Rapid Strides

(Continued from page one)

Tainter Memorial building.
1:15 P. M.—Parade to football field.
2:30 P. M.—Football game.
6:30 P. M.—Homecoming football banquet.
8:00 P. M.—Business meeting of alumni association.
8:30 P. M.—Homecoming dance.
Sunday, November 3
3:00 P. M.-5:00 P. M.—Open house at Tainter Hall, Tainter Annex and Lynwood Hall.
—S—

"Bright Ideas" for Homecoming Needed

(Continued from page one)

of the Home Economics building, as soon as possible, and likely the ten dollar cash prize will be yours. There are two other prizes given—six dollars and two dollars.

The representative members from the classes elected as judges for this contest are: seniors, Beulah Todd and Theodore Roswell; juniors, Mercedes Cranston and Lucian Paulus; sophomores, Janet Kyle and Carl Bienen; freshman, Lorraine Litchfield, and Nathaniel Ward.

Discussion Group Planned

The attempt is being made by a non-sectarian group of college-age people to organize a discussion club to meet Sunday evenings, at 7:30. The purpose is an informal, yet serious, consideration of vital topics which concern every Christian young man or woman.

Mr. Faville has consented to help in the organization of the group and to be chairman of the first meeting; this Sunday evening. All students are urged to come to the Congregational Church Sunday at 7:30, and help decide what points the club's discussions shall cover.

Faculty is Prominent in Teachers Session

It is indeed interesting to STOUTONIA readers to know that people with whom we are daily associated are going out into broader fields and carrying with them a bit of advertising for The Stout Institute.

On Thursday, October 3, Mr. W. B. Davison talked to The General Teachers Meeting which was held at Eau Claire, Wis. The title of his address was, "A Challenge to Modern Teachers." On Friday of the same week, Mr. Davison gave an address at Whitehall, Wis. to the Parent-Teachers Association of that city on "The Functions of Parent-Teachers Associations."

During the Northwestern Wisconsin Teachers' Association, which will be held at Eau Claire, Wis. October 17 and 18, there will be several Stout faculty members on the program. Mr. H. F. Good will be chairman of the Industrial Arts Round Table. Mr. S. E. Paulus will give a talk on "What We're After in Athletics" at the Athletic Round Table. Coach Ralph Bongey of Menomonie High School will be chairman of the Athletic Round Table.

One of the interesting people to appear at the Home Economics session, will be Miss Tby Marlett of the University of Wisconsin, who will give a talk on "Neglected Factors in Education for Life." Miss Mildred Gibson, instructor at the Dunn County School of Agriculture, will be chairman of the Home Economics Round Table.

Due to this meeting of all the teachers of Northern Wisconsin there will be no classes held on Friday, Oct. 18.

Sixty Members in Stout Rifle Club

The Stout Rifle Club is developing into a very healthy youngster as is evidenced by a membership this fall of nearly sixty members and by the enthusiasm and earnest effort the members give to their rifle practice.

It was found necessary this fall to divide the membership into two large teams and to provide rifle practice four times a week instead of twice weekly, as in the past. Most of the new members have received their first units of instruction in preliminary practice, and have been doing actual target shooting for some time. Considerable progress has been made by all the shooters and consistently improving, high scores made by several members indicating that this year a rather large number of rifle-men and rifle-women from the club can make creditable showing in the various target matches.

Exams and Awards to Come
A committee is at present revising the material used in preliminary rifle instruction. This revision is made in order to secure for the club members the latest and best information on rifle practice. An addition to the instruction material will be a printed examination, and the club will probably offer a suitable emblematic reward to all members passing the examination and shooting a specified score.

In addition to these rewards, the members in their regular practice firing throughout the year, are constantly competing for the several valuable club prizes, and they have opportunities from time to time to

Question Box

Which do you prefer, the more formal "date" dances or very informal "stag" dances?

Claire Knutson, Junior—Within the last two or three years, it has been the custom of most of the students to stag it at our school dances. This system has been very unsuccessful because those who date change dances and that leaves the person who has no partner without a dance. Therefore, I believe that everyone would have a much better time if we started the formal date dance.

Sidney A. Cotton, Senior—I, along with several other seniors, with whom I have talked, prefer the more formal date dances. If that rule was strictly conformed to, the dances would be better attended because the men would know that if they wished to dance they would have to date a partner instead of depending on chance to give them a dance. There would also be a better spirit and more enjoyment in the exchange of dances if each gentleman had his lady friend.

A. Ostrom, Soph.—I think that the more formal "date" dances are preferable because fellows attend "stag" dances expecting girls to be there. As a rule girls don't like to "stag" it. If the dances were strictly "date," the men would be forced to bring a girl and this would, I think, bring a larger crowd and a better time for all.

Charlotte E. Watchorn, Junior—It has always seemed to me that the majority of the people have had a much better time at the first dances of the year, when everyone starged, then they did at the later dances when practically everyone went in couples. Somehow, going to the dances in couples gives a feeling of severe formality, which does not seem quite at home at our dances—kept, as they are, so strictly for our own students.

Faculty and Students Plan Vocational Club

A faculty committee is cooperating with a student committee on formulating plans leading to the formation of a Vocational club for men. The purpose of this club is planned to be along the lines of interest professionally. Plans have not as yet, however, been completed in sufficient detail to publish a specific plan of organization at this time. A very keen interest is being shown in the club by those interviewed and it is expected that the plans will be made definite at an early date.

Stout Institute has numerous clubs of social and semi-professional nature, but this club will undoubtedly be the highest specialized club in school along this line. It will give students more of a chance to develop along professional lines in proportion to their development socially.

participate in national postal matches and to try to win the regulation army qualification medals. These postal matches and the issuing of the qualification medals are sponsored by the National Rifle Association, abbreviated N. R. A. is the parent association of over sixteen hundred rifle clubs, including the Stout Rifle Club.

Saturday, October 12, will be the last chance for new members to join the rifle club during the outdoor season. New members wishing to join, be on the range Saturday, at 8:30 for preliminary practice.

A picture of the club will be taken on the range Saturday, October 19. Everyone is asked to be there, and to wear shooting tops.

The highest scores to date are as follows:

|                     |     |
|---------------------|-----|
| Small Bore Section  |     |
| Possible 300        |     |
| Caroline Brick..... | 171 |
| Gail Galloway.....  | 154 |
| 30-06 Rifle         |     |
| Possible 100        |     |
| James Dodge.....    | 86  |
| Walter Hintz.....   | 84  |

Friday, October 11, 1929

Society

Philomatheans Entertain

The Philomathean society entertained the Hyperians and S. M. A.'s at a tea, Tuesday afternoon in Miss Michael's outer office.

Areme Society Selects Pins

At the regular meeting of the Areme Thursday night, a pin for the society was selected. The constitution was read and discussed.

Bacteriology Classes Are Entertained

The members of the Bacteriology classes were entertained at a tea on last Friday afternoon in Miss Michaels outer office for the purpose of giving the girls an opportunity to meet Dr. Frost.

Hyperians Hold Regular Meeting

The Hyperian society held its regular meeting Thursday, Oct. 3. Josephine Edinger was formally initiated as a member of the society. Miss Burgoin was chosen as the new advisor to succeed Mrs. Lautner. The associate advisor of the society is Mrs. W. B. Davison.

W. A. A. Appoints Hike Leaders

Hike leaders have been appointed for the W. A. A. They are: Annex, Alice Ostrom; Lynwood, Ethel Anderson; Town, Henriette Quilling. These leaders supervise the hikes by which the girls earn points for membership and also for obtaining emblems and letters. Let's have more hikes.

Woman's Glee Club Practice Concert

The Woman's Glee Club was organized two weeks ago by the former leader, Miss H. Balrud.

Thirteen new members were taken in the club and thirteen of the old members remained.

The members of the club are as follows: First sopranos, Overby, Funk, Sievert, Flaget, Hazelrud, M. Anderson, Schultz, Kiturakat, Hewitt, Linderson, Simonson; Second sopranos Watchorn, Bricker, Gilbertson, A. Anderson, A. Page, Rassler, Virgin, Cooper; Altos, Hambley, Rasmussen, Nurgard, Gundlach, Bechtol, Evans, Chronquist.

Last week the election of officers

FOUNTAIN PENS

Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

ORPHEUM

Friday and Saturday
Douglas Fairbanks in
"THE IRON MASK"
Matinee Sat. 2:30
Sun., Mon., Tues.
Roland West's great drama
"ALIBI"
One of the best all talkies.
Matinee Sun. 2:30
Wed. and Thurs.
Greta Garbo in
"THE SINGLE STANDARD"
A sound picture
COMING
At Jolson in
"SAY IT WITH SONGS"
GRAND
Sat. and Sun.
Richard Dix in
"THE WHEEL OF LIFE"
Tues. and Wed.
"PASSING OF THE OKLA-HOMA OUTLAW"
A road show. Mat. Tues. 4:30
See lobby display

Dr. Harrington Gives Impressive Address

Dr. Harrington of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association was the speaker at yesterday's assembly. If one should judge from the hearty laughs that he drew from his audience, he certainly would be right in saying that Dr. Harrington was an interesting speaker. Mixed with his entertaining style were many worthwhile statements that he gave us to think about.

"The truth hurts" is an old saying we should apply if we didn't like some of the facts which he drove home. He believes that the aim of education should be to build character and health. Dr. Harrington certainly left the impression that he is sincere in his beliefs, and that he has years of experience and study to call upon to prove his statements.

Dickie's a Dear, Girls Say

The rest of the family at the practice cottage has arrived, in fact he has been here several weeks. Richard, better known as "Dickie" is four months old, at least he will be on October 15. The girls report that he wears a smile most of the time and is an exceptionally good baby—except when he is hungry, and then he has his own way of letting the world know of his discomfort.

was held. The following people were elected: Pres., Anita Gundlach, Vice-pres., Hazelle Flaget; Sec., Marie Simonson, Treas., Alice Hazelrud, Librarians, Myrtle Anderson and Irma Gilbertson, Accompanist, Miss Helen Erhard.

Work has been started on our Spring Concert, "May the Maiden", a Choral Dance Cycle by Harvey W. Loomis, paraphrased from the Ballet Music in Faust by Charles Gounod.

Farewell Dinners and Parties for Miss Irish

Miss Irish has been the honored guest at several farewell dinners and parties during the week. She expects to leave Sunday morning for her home in Racine, Wis.

Miss Irish has been the efficient secretary to President Nelson for the past six years, and it is with much regret that the students and faculty see her leave. However, we wish her great success in her new work, and hope that she will always remember her years at Stout as happy ones.

Personals

LYNWOOD HALL

Dr. Bachman left Tuesday evening for Toledo, Ohio, where she will remain indefinitely. Miss Haseler will be presiding preceptress during this time.

There was the usual depletion of personal funds when Treasurer Simonson collected Lynwood dues for the semester.

Doris Spiers left Tuesday for her home in order to attend her sister's wedding.

Jessie Hanson accompanied Eleanor Vergeen to her home in Dallas, Wis. for the weekend.

Myrtle Anderson spent the weekend at her home in Colfax, Wis. Esther McKowan and Mary Fox were business callers in Eau Claire on Saturday.

TAINTER ANNEX

Miss Eleanor Overby who was beginning her Junior year in the School of Home Economics, has withdrawn from school. Eleanor has transferred her credits to the University of Minnesota, where she has enrolled as a student. Miss Overby was also vice-president of the S. S. A., her resignation being turned in to Mr. Schaudt, President of the association, this week.

Mary Carmody spent the week end at her home in Mount Hope, Wis.

Lorraine Litchfield, Pauline Bonesho and Lorraine Nordley spent the week end at their homes in Eau Claire.

Elaine Cantelon spent Monday and Tuesday in Minneapolis with her parents of Warroad, Minn.

Dorothy Dodge was at her home in Rib Lake, Wis. this week end.

Dorothy Madden spent Saturday and Sunday in Eau Claire with her

Miss Ruth Bell Appointed

(Continued from page one)

line of work, and that during the time she spent at Clark she acted as assistant secretary to the Dean of the School of Economics and Sociology. Miss Bell's practical experience also includes time spent as private secretary to the president of the Capper Auto Supply Co. of Topeka, Kansas.

HAVE YOU TRIED OUR

HOT! OR COLD! "MALTED MILKS"
IF NOT. WHY NOT?

FRED & ANNER
"THE SMOKE SHOP"

SERVICE

We do DRY CLEANING
on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.
Articles brought by noon will be ready next day.
SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Menomonic Dye House
Running and Cole

OH BOY!!

HAVE YOU TRIED THOSE
TAFFY APPLES or HEAVY MALTEDS
of OURS.
THEY'RE SURE GOOD.
WE SPECIALIZE IN TASTE.
THE CANDY SHOP

Miss Mildred Nokes Conducts School

Miss Mildred Nokes, a graduate of 1928, has been conducting a Better Baking School at Springfield, Illinois. The school is held at the John Bressmer Co. under the auspices of the Russell-Miller Milling Co. of which Miss Nokes is a staff baking specialist of the home economic department.

Miss Nokes' work consists of demonstrating the preparation of appetizing, attractive foods from one basic recipe, such as preparing ordinary bread dough into new and delicious foods. She also shows how to make a variety of cakes from one master recipe and illustrates new and tested ways of making rolls, biscuits, and other dough baked foods.

parents of Port Edwards, Wis. Marie Schroeder spent the week end at her home in Granton, Wis.

TAINTER HALL

Margaret Allen spent the weekend at her home in Faribault, Minn.

Margaret Casey represented Tainter Hall at the La Crosse-Stout game on Saturday. Margaret was accompanied by Harriet Knak. The girls were guests of Miss Patsy Gilligan, of La Crosse until Sunday.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Roswell, at the city hospital, on Oct. 6, a baby boy, Billie Gene. Mr. Roswell is a student, and director of the evening vocational school.

Bowman To Lecture At Coming Institute

Mr. Bowman left yesterday morning for Stevens Point where he will address the Manual Arts section of the Central Wisconsin Teachers Association. His topic will be: Changing Factors and Their Effects On Industrial Education.

Each year Mr. Bowman is called upon to come to various conventions to speak on the subject of industrial education. Already this year the calls have begun coming proving that Stout Institute is rated as being foremost in this line of activity. It also shows that this college is widely known and recognized throughout the United States. Last winter, it will be recalled, Mr. Bowman went to the western coast and spoke before a large convention on the subject of Industrial Education. Miss Michaels had numerous similar engagements and instructors from both schools were and are frequently called upon for varied speaking engagements in the northwest.

Mr. Bowman accompanied Mr. Bowman to Stevens Point and while there, she and Mr. Bowman will be the guests of Anna de Young, who is a graduate of Stout, and who made her home with the Bowman family during the last year.

NOTICE TO STUDENTS

All Stout students interested in forming a class in clog and tap dancing, please see Mr. Arnold Storf.

We Welcome Students
to try
Our REAL Homecooking
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"Home of Good Food"

Wanted!
A Student Lady to sell Christmas Cards during spare time.
Apply At

LATEST HITS
In Sheet Music & Victor Records
At

A. R. OLSON

"THE SANDWICH SHOP"

We SPECIALIZE in FRIED
CHICKEN Sandwiches

Sandwiches of all Kinds Delicious Coffee

Across from Hotel Marion

Good Meals and Refreshments

SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind Our Own Lenses Broken Lenses Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Trainers All Set to Avenge Past Defeats by Win Tomorrow

Expect Stout Attack Now Ready For Test; Full Squad To Leave

Paulus' Men to Face Squad of Over Forty in Hectic
Struggle

With plenty of backers on hand to help in the morale, the Trainers will meet River Falls at the Falls tomorrow at 2 p. m., with the hope of avenging themselves for the defeats of the past few years, and putting a different complexion on the present season. The team has put every ounce of energy possible into this week's preparation, and Coach Paulus believes that they are primed for a supreme effort.

It's getting to be an ankle-less squad, that injury being predominant among at least eight squad members who either are out entirely or else severely handicapped. But ankles and what-not can be forgotten in a real scrap. And woe unto the Blue players who forgets one second to try, tomorrow! He'll not only be out of luck against the powerful Klandrud organization, but he will also find himself on the sidelines if he hopes.

Stout Must Finish Stronger

The past two years, Stout has had the edge on the Falls for most of the first half; then given in. The same signs were evident last Saturday, when observers, because of the first period sports, were picking Stout to beat La Crosse. The crowd can help on this; any team will start to slip sometime in every game; encouragement from any source may prevent the slip from being disastrous.

The Redmen will be kept plenty worried; that much can be promised. Stout now has an attack which, if properly used, will be dangerous on any field. The errors of inexperience are fast disappearing. There will be no idea of "just holding" the Falls to a small score. It will be "win or nothing" so the sidelines are

Stout Coeds Show Prowess In Pool

Splash! And another Freshman went into the tank. No, not the horse tank on Main street, but the swimming tank in the gymnasium. This event happens regularly once a week, when the girls have their swimming lessons. 'Tis said that some of them actually are trying to trace relationship to fishes and whales. Perhaps some of them would be more successful were they to trace their ancestorship back to Jonah, instead of to the whale.

Some participants in this aquatic sport prefer dry land. We must admit that it is disagreeable to imbibe chlorinated water in an extraordinary fashion. It's much more satisfying to drink from a cup or glass in the usual manner. Of course it is convenient to be able to drink without stooping.

Johnny Weismuller may find himself meeting plenty of competition from these girl splashers.

due for plenty of thrills.

Full Squad to be Taken

Against the forty-odd men which were taken to Eau Claire by the Falls last Saturday, and who will be evident at their home camp tomorrow, Coach Paulus will this trip be able to take most of his available material, tho the squad is thinned by injuries. Rude, blocker and passer, has a hurt shoulder. Bislecki, who showed something at guard at La Crosse, may be on the sidelines with a bad ankle. And none of the former cripples have been out long enough to get fully into the harness yet.

So the starting lineup will probably be: Penn, center; Captain Morrison, Novascone, and Wallin on the right side; Wolgram, Cronk, and Schmidt on the left side; Hoernamann, quarter; Harmon full; Brownsey, and Fordham, halves. It is suggested that the students go and see for themselves whether or not this guess is right, and also what other Trainers will see action in what promises to be a bit of fall sporting event.

Stout Threatens, But La Crosse Wins, 25-0

After giving La Crosse a scare by taking the ball down to the eight yard line in the first five minutes of play, Stout was unable to score and went down to defeat before the Redmen 25-0.

Soon after the game opened the Blue team completed two passes, Rude to Schmidt, and Rude to Fordham, to bring the ball into scoring territory. Plunges by Harmon and off tackle runs by Fordham brought the ball to the eight yard line, where the spurt ended with two yards to go for a first down.

Stout Has Edge at First

The play in the first period was almost entirely in La Crosse territory, but as the second quarter started, the Koeler men, with the aid of the wind, began a drive up the field which culminated in a quarterback sneak for a touchdown.

From then on the play was in Stout territory and as the end of the half neared a Stout punt was blocked, resulting in a La Crosse touchdown. The half ended with the score 12-0.

Two More in Second Half

In the second half La Crosse scored two touchdowns, one on a long pass and the second on a quarterback sneak. This made the final score 25-0.

The Stout lineup consisted of Schmidt, and Wallin, ends; Cronk, Novascone, and Maerzke, tackles; Morrison, Wolgram, and Kube, guards; Penn, and Bielecki, center; Fordham and Rude, halfbacks; Hoernamann and Michaels, quarterback; Harmon and Neudecker, fullback.

See US For HAIRCUTS
We Satisfy Our Customers
The Lakeview
Barber Shop

Three 1st Class Barbers
Haircuts at any hour of the day
THE ELECTRIC SHOP

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonee Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

If Hair's Your Pride
Have It Trimmed Right.
I. W. NESSER
"The Barber"

Menomonee Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

Drugs and Stationery
NOER DRUG COMPANY

Men Make Merry at Men's Mixer

(Continued from page one)

at Stout and expressed his desire of seeing more such events take place in the near future. Mr. Price also expressed his interest in the social activities about the school and would like very much to see many such gatherings of the men brought about and carried across with as orderly and good natured spirit as this one had. Mr. Bowman also seemed very pleased with the meeting and hoped to be able to attend more events of a similar nature. Mr. Davison, as Axel Peterson, gave several entertaining selections which made the group roar with laughter. His rules for duck hunting are unrivaled in their sagacity.

This event was sponsored by Mr. Price and much praise is due him and his worthy assistants, Schaudé and Jansen. The carrying out of all the plans were entirely in the hands of the students under the direction of these two men and in general the event was very pleasant and worthwhile.

STUDENTS

Don't forget the big Band dance at the gym tonight. Hookey and his Masked Marvels will beat time.

New Athletic Board to Give Basketball Main Consideration

Mr. Keith Represents Stout at Meeting at Concordia
College

The Athletic Conference at Concordia College, St. Paul, on Oct. 7th, Stout was represented by Floyd Keith. The remaining five colleges represented were: River Falls, by Carl Klandrud; Concordia by T. W. Stor; St. Paul Luther, by J. E. Rognstad; Minnesota Aggies, by Robt. Thompson, and Eau Claire, by A. J. Fox.

As a first step in organization, Mr. Stor was elected temporary chairman and Mr. Rognstad secretary. Mr. Fox was appointed by the temporary secretary to draw up a constitution, by-laws, and eligibility rules.

The next meeting will be held about Dec. 1st, at Hudson, Wis. at which time it is likely that a constitution and by-laws will be adopted.

The majority of the colleges represented have no definite athletic program, and as neither Concordia or the Aggies play football, the purpose of this conference will be chiefly to promote basket ball.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Dr. H. J. Vanek, formerly located in the 1st National Bank Building is now conducting his Dental practice at 332 Main St.

Hours 9-12; 1-5.

Evenings by special appointment.

Telephone 142

Sport Coats and Sweaters

in ALL the
GOING COLORS

EVENS-TOBIN Co.

TRY OUR NEW YARDLEY'S
PERFUME ODORS
LEE'S DRUG STORE

OCTOBER IS DIAMOND
Month

Come in and see our EXCLUSIVE assortment
of new

Diamond Ring
Designs

Prices from $12.50 to $800

Nels Anshus, The Jeweler

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP

KLEENEX YELLOW - GREEN
PINK AND WHITE

"Shaker Studios"
Photographs of Distinction

Students be sure and see "The Student Special" before having your annual picture made.

BRING YOUR KODAK FILMS HERE FOR DEVELOPING

"Shaker Studios"

QUALITY -- SHOES

AT

Swenson and Berndt

"The Shoe Men"

TAFFY APPLES
HOME MADE CANDY
Every Day at

THE OLYMPIA

Open After All Dances

Series of Debates Planned by Stout and Eau Claire

Librarian Convention at Wausau, Wisconsin is Highly Successful

Meeting Declared Most Successful From Every Point of View

That the meeting of Wisconsin librarians held at Wausau, Oct. 2-4 was a success is the opinion of Mrs. Nickerson, Librarian of the Memorial Library, and Miss Froggatt, Librarian of the Stout Institute Library. From the trip over there, past one brilliant colored wood after another to the banquet, which closed the second day's activities, interest and inspiration were not allowed to flag.

Headquarters were in the new lecture room of the Wausau Public Library. Here the meeting opened with a welcome by Mayor A. V. Gearhart, followed by a response by Mr. Walter M. Smith, Librarian at the University of Wisconsin and president of the state association. "Some Virtues and Voices of Librarians," by Mr. Frank K. Walter, Librarian at the University of Minnesota and a man of national importance in the library field, was the outstanding talk of the afternoon. He stressed the librarian's need for educational background, professional training, and the continual acquiring of knowledge. "A Look at Asia," Professor E. A. Ross' resume of his study of social conditions in Japan, the Philippines, Java, and India, gained on his recent trip with the floating university, was the event of the evening's program.

Full Program Continued

The second day began with a program devoted to school libraries, and was followed by a luncheon in the dining-room of Wausau's beautiful new Presbyterian church. An automobile ride, tendered by the citizens of Wausau, gave the visitors an appreciation of the beauty and prosperity of the city and its fine civic spirit. They were then ready for the high

(Continued on page two)

Printers Arrange for Speeches from Faculty Members

Initiation of New Members To Be Held Next Wednesday Evening

The second regular meeting of the Stout Typographical Society was held last night.

The S. T. S. is very fortunate in having for its speakers for this semester: Mr. Bowman, Mr. Welch, Mr. Hague, Mr. Brown and Mr. Hawkes. Their topics will be along the line of printing or subjects relative to printing.

The aim of the S. T. S. is to secure speakers who can furnish subject matter that is not obtainable in regular printing classes.

Plans are now being made for the S. T. S. initiation to be held Wednesday, Oct. 22. All men who express their desire to become printers are eligible. If one intends to become a printer he cannot afford to miss membership in this order, for it provides a splendid opportunity to gain more knowledge about printing in general.

The S. T. S. has always had an appropriate float in the homecoming parade and are assured by the float committee that their reputation shall not flag this year.

Due to conflicting dates, the Journeyman test will not be given until after homecoming.

Tropical Atmosphere Sought by Prexy

Feeling somewhat discouraged because of his inability to spend the winter in Florida, President Nelson has determined that Florida shall spend the winter with him. His determination has materialized in the presence of a beautiful grapefruit tree which occupies one corner of his office. With the morning sun streaming through the windows, the grapefruit tree radiating its rays from the deep green foliage, and the imagination letting one forget the bitter, whistling, wind without one could very easily enjoy a comfortable half hour in Florida.

Grape fruit trees also bear grape fruit. Late or no breakfast at all will no longer play havoc with the president's mind. What could be more typical of Florida than to be able to pick one's breakfast from a tree, if it is so desired. The tree is about six feet high and of a very uniform shape making it an attractive addition to President Nelson's office.

—S—

Co-ed Gunwomen Show Skill on Rifle Range

Braving a cold driving rain, the worst of the season, a large group of enthusiastic co-eds exhibited their pluck and determination by attending their regular rifle practice on Wednesday evening, October 9, and by showing an attention to details of range work befitting a "dyed in the wool" rifle expert.

Each one of the girls present fired her string of 30 shots in the standing kneeling, sitting, and prone positions. All the members of the team are progressing very creditably, and several fine scores were made during the evening. The spirit of friendly competition was keenly felt to the very end of the period, and when the scores were finally counted, Caroline Brick had again proven the value of training and application in rifle practice. Miss Brick, by shooting a score of 180, established a comfortable lead over her nearest competitor, Miss Miriam Moore, who made a new beginner's score of 154 points.

Elusive Bulls-Eye Sought

Many times during the evening was heard the jubilant statement, "I've

(Continued on page two)

Next Week's Calendar

Saturday—Freshman party.
Monday—Stoutonia Club, 5 p. m.
Monday—Science Staff, 5 p. m.
Monday—Men's Glee Club, 7 p. m.
Monday—Women's Glee Club, 7 p. m.
Tuesday—Band, 7 p. m.
Tuesday—Marquette-LaSalle, 7:30
Tuesday—S. M. A., 7:15 p. m.
Wednesday—Rifle Club, 7 p. m.
Wednesday—Y. M. C. A., 7 p. m.
Thursday—Inky Fingers, 5:30 p. m.
Thursday—M. A. P., 7:15 p. m.
Thursday—Hyperian, 8:00 p. m.
Thursday—Orchestra, 7:00 p. m.
Thursday—W. A. A., 7 p. m.

Many Changes In I. E. Building Near Completion Point

Re-arrangement Necessitate a Large Number of Changes in Faculty Offices

The changes which have been taking place in the Industrial Education building will soon be completed. Many offices of the faculty members will be moved this week. The changes which will be made immediately are quite complicated and involve all men in the Industrial Education faculty.

Mr. Johnston will move from his present office in room 17 I. E. to his new office in the General Woodworking shop in the Trade Building. Mr. Good will move from room 15 to the

(Continued on page two)

Airplane Motors Attract Interest

The two twelve-cylinder liberty motors, which were presented to Stout have arrived and are causing widespread attention, both from students and faculty. The motors are of the V type, air and water cooled. As yet the motors are located on the first floor of the auto shop, but will as soon as possible be removed to the upper floor where they will be mounted on permanent stands, so that work may be begun on them. It has not been decided just when the motor work will be brought into the curricula, but it is hoped that it will be in the very near future.

Doctor Bodey Gives Interesting Address

The faculty and students of The Stout Institute were indeed fortunate in listening to the address given by Henry Boyd Bodey at this morning's assembly. Mr. Bodey will appear in several addresses before the Northwest Wisconsin Teacher's convention which is being held in Eau Claire, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week.

Doctor Bodey was formerly a professor of philosophy at the University of Wisconsin, and is now a professor of education at the Ohio State University. He is the author of several books on philosophy and education.

The broad knowledge and understanding of his subject and the interest and sincerity of its presentation gives to Mr. Bodey a quality which made his address this morning a very interesting and profitable one.

—S—

Tainter Annex Stages Halloween Party

Tainter Annex was the scene of a lively witch and goblin party on Saturday night. Three big brazen quality lanterns perched on the front balcony to greet the Lynwood and town girls, who were the guests of the evening.

The night was ideal for ghosts, dark and with just enough wind for the witches to ride safely through the air on their brooms.

The passage-way up into the basement, through which the guests had to pass, was dark, secluded, and winding. All along the way were ghosts flapping their long arms, and embracing the passers-by when they least expected it.

The living room was arrayed with corn husks and jack-o-lanterns, and a low crackling fire in the fire-place completed the setting.

Entertainment was varied. Particularly outstanding was a sign which read "Hell, walk in." Once inside the place no one was allotted mercy. About the only safe place was on top of the table but, everyone was tackled before she reached it.

There were various fortune telling

(Continued on page two)

No-Decision Debates Would Undoubtedly Prove Beneficial

President In Favor of Debating Team If Students Will Cooperate

The Eau Claire Teacher's College has been in correspondence with President Nelson in regard to the organization of debate teams at The Stout Institute which would result in debates between the two colleges. Mr. Donaldson, the coach of the debate at the Eau Claire Teachers' College, states that he is anxious to arrange a series of debates. He suggests that non-decision practice debates would be beneficial and satisfactory and hopes that Stout may produce some action on the suggestion.

President Nelson, in reply to Mr. Donaldson's request and suggestions, stated that debating and literary societies were not extensively organized at Stout, as the field of extracurricular activities is confined more or less to the program of the home economics and industrial arts departments.

To Learn Student Reaction

The administration is intensely interested and desirous of fostering such activity and will give every encouragement to its organization and growth. The president feels that this work is an extremely important development of any institution which intends to take college rank.

Deans Michaels and Bowman have conferred with the president and they feel much the same as he does about the matter. As soon as convenient an opportunity will be given to the students to express themselves on this new college movement.

It will be necessary, of course, that students will check their extra-curricular activities before they decide to submit their names as interested parties. It may be necessary that

(Continued on page two)

Juniors Name Staff and Sketch Tower; "Christy" Is Editor

Work on Annual to Start as Soon as Necessary Arrangements Are Made

As announced last week, the Tower will be the production of the junior class this year. The juniors have already selected their editorial staff and work has begun in the drafting of plans for the Stout year book. The nominating staff met Monday evening and nominated people eligible for the various positions. The selections were approved at the Junior class meeting today. The editorial staff is composed entirely of juniors and is as follows:

Managing Editor—Ernest Christenson.

Associate Editor—Ardella Anderson.

Business Manager—Kent Riggs.

Advertising Mgr.—Marlo McCullough.

Organization Editor—Edna Mathews.

Asst. Organization Editor—Vivian Hewitt.

Asst. Organization Editor—Bernhard Hagen.

Athletic Editor—Edwin Reed.

Asst. Athletic Editor—Francis Inenfeldt.

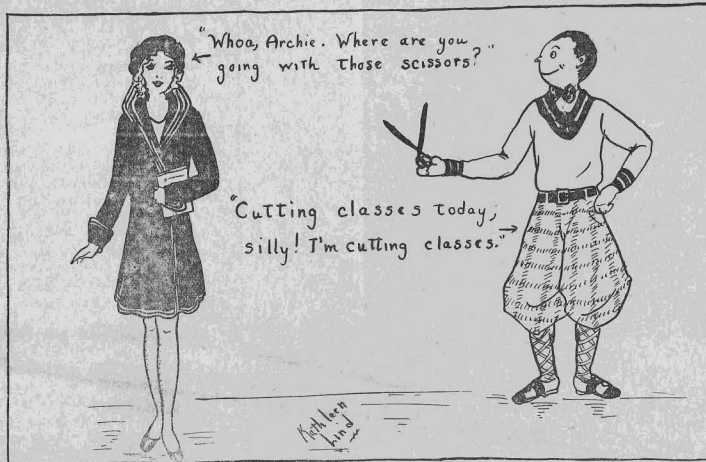

Associate—Francis Schroeder.

Editorial Advisor—Gertrude Chan.

(Continued on page three)

CAMPUS CARTOONS

by Kathleen Lind

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office,
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                                    |                        |
|------------------------------------|------------------------|
| Managing Editor .....              | Lester L. Hawkes       |
| Associate Editor .....             | Irma L. Nichols        |
| News Editor .....                  | Elizabeth A. Williams  |
| News Editor .....                  | Ernest Christenson     |
| Assistant .....                    | Bernard C. Hagen       |
| Assistant .....                    | Belinda I. Hendrickson |
| Sports Editor .....                | William J. Micheels    |
| Assistant (I. E.) .....            | Frede Anderson         |
| Assistant (H. E.) .....            | Henriette L. Quilling  |
| Feature Editor .....               | John W. Barber         |
| Feature Editor .....               | Bernice G. Bricker     |
| Exchange Editor .....              | William J. Soucie      |
| Humor Editor .....                 | Harold F. Taufman      |
| Assistant Humor Editor .....       | Al J. Poellinger       |
| Society Editor .....               | Ardella Anderson       |
| Cartoonist .....                   | Kathleen L. Lind       |
| Head-Line Writer .....             | Stuart Carnes          |
| Business Manager .....             | Earl C. Halverson      |
| Circulation Manager .....          | Robert G. Reick        |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....    | Carl Roll              |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....    | Al Reinhold            |
| Advertising Manager .....          | Marlo McCollough       |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr. ....        | Donald K. Lind         |
| Make-up Foreman and Pressman ..... | Kent Riggs             |
| Under Direction of .....           | C. W. Hague            |
| Editorial Adviser .....            | Mr. John Faville, Jr.  |
| Associate Adviser .....            | Miss Helen Sarehet     |

FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE ANIMOSITIES

What has happened to our underclassmen? Judging from the lack of vindictive animosity between our Freshmen and Sophomores, the two groups have either signed a secret peace treaty or else each class is waiting for the other to start something, and hoping it won't.

It is not the usual policy of this paper to attempt to fill the tranquil air of our campus with thunderstorms of inter-class hostilities, but the present situation is in need of some form of correction. Cries are heard on all sides from the upper-classmen that they are being deprived of one of the basic privileges of a college education, that of being able to stand aside and watch others go thru the process of acquainting and becoming acquainted with the elementary laws of college via the oak paddles, rough pavement, horse-tank, green caps (including the customary red button,) clothes pressing, shoe shining and last but not least, the bag rush!

Furthermore, if this year's sophomores do not teach the Freshmen these methods of acquainting, how will they, when their time comes next year, be able to teach them to next year's beginning class?

The bag rush has always been one of the major sports, so the upper-classmen say, and they are wondering just when this annual event will take place.

ATTITUDE TOWARD ASSEMBLY SPEAKERS

Buzz! Buzz! Buzz! This continual drone is the opposition most assembly speakers have to fight, while they are delivering their address. Put yourself in their place. Would you like to talk to a group the majority of whom were talking to their neighbors? Of course you wouldn't, so let's treat the other fairly and pay the strictest of attention. You might and probably will hear something interesting, and without a doubt something you have not heard before. Then, too, think of the impression of our school a speaker would take away with him and probably spread if he had had to contend with the eternal buzz of conversation.

These speakers are here for our own good, and they have something to say to us that is worthwhile. The least we can do is to show them the respect which they so rightfully deserve.

A HIKE FOR HOMESICKNESS

Do you ever get that irritable, restless feeling at the end of the week? Do you feel peeved and out of sorts with the world? Do you feel mad at yourself, your teachers, and at everybody else in general?

If you do, take a hike. There is nothing like a hike over the hills or through the trees along the river to relieve one's feelings. Get out! If only for an afternoon, and you'll be surprised how much better you feel after a short walk in the crisp autumn air or the gentle breezes of Indian summer. An hour's walk in almost any direction will take you off the pavement and into the woods, filled at this time of the year with that harmony of color which fall brings.

The country surrounding makes an ideal place for a tramp and students with that homesick feeling will find it an ideal place for a cure.

Machine Shop Roof Being Re-conditioned

Workmen have been engaged in re-roofing and rebuilding the upper portions of the machine shop due to the trouble encountered by the freezing of the eaves troughs and the backing up of the water in Mr. Kiehl's general metal shop. The water drains are being made to converge at the center of the roof, and the troughs for carrying off the water will be so built as to run inside of the building. This construction will prevent the freezing of the water in the troughs and will allow its free passage without inconveniencing Mr. Kiehl's classes.

The space between the industrial and trade buildings is being concreted in conjunction with the repair work being done on the machine shop. The concreting of this space will make access to the auto mechanics shop much more convenient, and will also permit easier entrance to the ash and coal compartments.

Co-ed Gunwomen Show Skill on Rifle Range

(Continued from page one)

got one!" (translated into English this means, "I have shot a bulls-eye.") The bulls-eye seems to be the most elusive spot on the entire target range. It is the coveted little circle towards which the shooter looks with grim determination and sad forebodings, the spot on which to line the rifle sights even though it seems to be very bashful about such direct attention.

The National Rifle Association when determining what should be a standard target, was evidently desirous of protecting the poor little black bulls-eye. To accomplish this, the Association shrunk it to a diameter of 5-16 of an inch, and ruled that the shooter must be back not less than 75 feet from the target. Is it a wonder that a shooter's heart swells with pride when she, or he, hits that almost invisible black dot once or several times during the short string of firing?

I.E. Building Changes Nearing Completion

(Continued from page one)

room formerly occupied by the linotype, on second floor. He will share this office with Mr. Kranzsch. Mr. Milnes will move from room 17 to room 15 where he will share offices with Mr. Keith. Mr. Hague will occupy the office in room 17 which was formerly occupied by Mr. Johnston and Mr. Milnes.

Many New Offices Planned

The space formerly occupied by the print shop recitation room, bindery, and Mr. Hague's office, will when rearranged provide offices for Mr. Davison, Mr. Brown, Mr. Tustison, and Mr. Price. Immediately adjacent to the office space occupied by Mr. Good and Mr. Kranzsch, there will be an additional store room for the Homb Mechanics shop and space formerly occupied by the print shop store room will be converted into a ladies' rest room.

The moving will begin some time this week and will be completed as soon as the partitions are completed and the advance electrical class has finished the rewiring.

Plan Revision of Bulletin

Work has begun in regard to the revising and reprinting of the Stout bulletin for the school year of 1930-31. Each year there are several changes to be made which necessitates a complete revision of the catalog. Much of the work is being delegated to Mr. Bowman and upon completion of his committee's work, the printshop will be engaged in printing the new bulletins.

Let's Laugh

Extree! Extree! Carl Roll, Wisconsin's gift to women, gave the girls a break. He had a heavy date last Friday night.

Noticed a few new stags at the dance Friday night. Don't know why they were staggering.

"Al" Goodrich in Administration the other day: "I noticed this difficulty in a certain class. Now an ordinary man wouldn't have noticed it."

For those ignorant of the fact, S. A. E. means Stout Automotive Engineers.

It's too bad that there are no men's dormitories at Stout so that the men could have "bull" sessions concerning their dates just as the girls do now.

It is rumored that Bill Soucie and Jabouk are at last going to buy some cigarettes. It must be admitted however, that we have found very little, if any, substantiation, of the rumor.

"Al" Poellinger got hold of "Bill" Soucie's shaving cream instead of his toothpaste. How did it taste, Al?

And then there is the little girl who cried, "Don't get lost on the way home."

The stars of the bus trip to River Falls were "Tiny" Slaughter, who entertained with tales of Old Arizona, and Penn, who did his bit by narrating wonderful human incidents.

We have still seen no evidence of a sack rush. When's it coming off?

It seems that "Ed" Reed has a particular liking for red-heads. Excuse me, I mean auburns.

Hey! What is it? First its bashful, and now its cooed. What is it?

It seems as though the weather was dampish over the week end.

No, you can't have this dance. I'm going home now.

No-Decision Debates Will Be Beneficial

(Continued from page one)

students interested will have to cancel some other extra-curricular responsibilities. It will be recalled by upper-classmen that Stout had a debating society from 1925 to 1927, the Nelsonian Forensic Club, under the advisement of Mr. Faville. Ralph Schaud, president of the S. S. A. was one time head of that club.

Tainter Annex Stages Halloween Party

(Continued from page one)

booths where witches waved their magic wands over the glowing embers of their fires.

Equally horrifying was the death chamber, where each guest was compelled to touch the dismembered eyes, arms and teeth of an unfortunate victim.

Lunch was served at nine o'clock. A bushel of doughnuts, a case of apple cider, and many lolly pops were consumed.

After lunch was served, there was a short program. Jane Fuller gave several appropriate readings, Charlotte Watchorn sang "Tying Apples on the Lilac Tree." The program was concluded by a pantomime presented by two black cats.

After singing the Alma Mater, the cats, witches and ghosts disappeared again into the blackness of the night.

Miss Johnston; Miss Falgatter to Speak

Miss Margaret Johnston, State Superintendent of Home Economics Education, and Miss Florence Falgatter, Regional Director of Vocational Home Economics, will be at The Stout Institute on Saturday, Sunday, and Monday, October 19, 20 and 21.

Miss Johnston and Miss Falgatter will hold a conference with the faculty Saturday morning. The problems discussed will deal with Home Economics Education. Various social affairs will fill in much of their time Saturday afternoon and Sunday.

Monday will be given to the guests as a time for visiting some of the Home Economics classes and for holding individual conferences with the faculty members. They will also be the guests at the faculty dinner which is given by the Home Economics faculty for the entire staffs of both schools on Monday evening.

Gymnasium to be Greatly Improved

President Nelson has been in consultation with decorators and plumbers with the view of making the gymnasium much more attractive and usable. Plans have not been fully worked out as to just how best to make this building serve its full purpose without incurring expense which will be chargeable to certain budget classifications, from which all of the funds are already appropriated.

Nursery School Gains Recognition

Indeed, The Stout Institute has reason to be very proud! Although the Nursery School here is comparatively new, it has already gained recognition. The Editor of The National Educational Association Journal wrote a very complimentary letter to us, asking for pictures of the Nursery School which that magazine wants to publish in some of its later issues. As "A person is known by his deeds," very true, so could this be added to the great list of proverbs, "A school is known by its activities."

NOTICE

Areme dance, Friday, Oct. 26. Adm. 37c. Good music. Everybody welcome.

Librarian Convention Is Highly Successful

(Continued from page one)

point of each annual meeting: Miss Reely's talk on outstanding books of the year. Following this, a tea gave opportunity for the less formal contacts.

In the evening the annual banquet, which was held in an exclusive club generously loaned to the librarians for the occasion, had as its speaker, Dr. E. A. Birge, President Emeritus of the University of Wisconsin. After alluding to a total of seventy-five years of library work on the part of three generations of his family, twenty years as a member of the Wisconsin Free Library Commission constituting his own contribution, he told charmingly of a village library in Massachusetts which had been administered by his grandfather in the late eighteenth century. The records of this library have come to Dr. Birge by inheritance, and the note-book kept by the grandfather was in his hand as he spoke. In responding to the ovation given him at the end of his talk, he made a memorable occasion more memorable for Menomonie representatives by saying that he had counted it a privilege to be on the Commission, especially because of association there with Senator Stout. Altogether the meeting at Wausau was one to be remembered by those fortunate enough to be present.

Society

Science Club Initiates Four New Members

At the Science Club meeting last Monday, four new members were taken into the club. An interesting program consisting of special topics by some of the members formed a part of the entertainment. Plans for the Homecoming float were suggested and discussed.

Ten Men Taken Into Order of De Molay

On Wednesday evening, October 9, the De Molay club met in the club rooms. New members were taken into the club. Mr. Price of the faculty and Mr. T. Moore of the Masonic lodge were selected as advisors. Plans for Homecoming and for the dance which the club will sponsor were made.

Sketch Club Holds First Regular Meeting

The Sketch Club held its first regular meeting in Miss Mutz's room, Monday afternoon at four o'clock and business was started in earnest. The following officers were elected: president, Louise Hobart; vice-president, Dan Greene; secretary and treasurer, Kathleen Lind. Meetings will be held from ten to twelve on Saturday morning. Anyone who is interested is invited to attend the regular meetings.

Miss Irish Honored Guest at Dinner

Mrs. B. E. Nelson and Mrs. Grace M. Dow entertained the entire H. E. faculty at dinner at the home of President and Mrs. Nelson last Thursday evening. Miss Mina Irish, former secretary to the President, was the guest of honor.

The thirty guests spent the evening playing bridge and keno, and performing stunts. Honor prizes were won by Miss Balerud, Miss Hassler, Miss Irish, Miss Callahan, and Miss Burgoon.

Hyperians Adopt Temporary By-Laws

The Hyperian Society held its regular business meeting Thursday night for the purpose of drawing up a set of temporary rules for becoming acquainted with prospective members, which were submitted to the inter-society counsel for re-checking. Homecoming plans were discussed.

Instead of attending the place of the regular meeting on Thursday night, the Hyperian girls, Miss Burgoon and Mrs. Davison will be the

Miss Michaels Is Home Ec Chairman

Miss Michaels is chairman of one of the Home Economics Sections at the Meeting of the Wisconsin State Teachers Associations. The problem for discussion in this section will be, "The Teaching of Family Relationships in the Secondary Schools." This section promises to be very interesting because Mrs. Belding, who is Social Advisor to Girls in the Milwaukee Continuation School, will give a resume of her work, telling of her contacts with the girls in school and in their homes. Mrs. Belding's talk will be a very fine introduction to Dr. Ogborn's speech on Friday afternoon, the title of which will be, "The Child and Its Social Relations in the Home."

guests of Winifred Cooper at Colfax on Friday night of this week.

Miss Myrtle Anderson Initiated Into S. M. A. Society

The S. M. A. society held its regular meeting Tuesday, October 8, in the club rooms. At a formal ceremony Myrtle Anderson was initiated into the group. Committees were appointed and plans were made for Homecoming.

Dr. Bachman on Leave of Absence

Dr. Bachman, of the Science department, is on a leave of absence for an extended period of several weeks because of the death of her mother. Miss Miller is taking charge of her classes.

Inter-Society Consul Sets Rushing Rules

On Monday evening the Inter-Society Consul met for the purpose of discussing and formulating rules that each society will observe during its Rushing Week. This Consul is made up of the Dean of Women, the President and Secretary, the Faculty Advisor, and Associate Advisor of each of the social organizations.

Christy Will Head Tower Publication

(Continued from page one)

Feature Editor—Helen Novak.
Asst. Feature Editor—Lawrence Sauter.
Art Editor—William Soucie.
Business Advisor—C. W. Hague.

There will be no dance given this week-end.

Personals

LYNWOOD HALL

Lynwood girls having birthdays in September and October entertained the other girls at a pajama party Wednesday evening.

Cecilia Cadigan leaves this week for Homemaker's Cottage.

At four-thirty o'clock following the Homecoming football game, Lynwood girls will serve tea at Lynwood Hall. Everyone is invited. Come dressed as you are for the game and enjoy a social time together.

TAINTER ANNEX

Miss Ina Litchfield from Eau Claire was the guest of her sister Lorraine, at the Annex Saturday and Sunday.

Winifred Cooper spent Monday night at her home in Colfax.

Dorothy Dodge left school last Friday and returned to her home in Rib Lake, Wis. where she expects to stay until next semester.

Mabel Schroer spent the week end at her home in Minneapolis where she was Maid of Honor at the wedding of a friend.

Edith Brevig, Alma Winzer and Ruth Lindall are returning to the Annex Friday night after spending the past six weeks at Homemakers.

TAINTER HALL

Hazelle Flaget and Margaret Casey visited in Minneapolis on Saturday.

Esther Sickle spent the week end at her home in Elma Center, Wis.

Kathleen Shannon was awakened the other night by a curious noise in her room. Upon investigation, she found the intruder to be only a mouse in the waste basket.

Miss Leota Hanson of Webster, Wis. visited at the Hall over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hansen of Duluth, Minn. spent Sunday with their daughter, Gertrude.

Tainter Hall's ranks will be decreased to sixteen members when Mildred Dingee, Hazelle Flaget, Margaret Casey and Esther Sickle leave this week end for Homemaker's Cottage to spend the next six weeks.

Band Practices "Stoutonia March"

"Stoutonia March," played at band practice Tuesday evening, made the I. A. building ring. The enthusiastic members of the band didn't stop with the efforts of putting through just one good selection, but emphasized many others which met the approval of the director.

Only four visitors were seen on the side-lines observing the band in action Tuesday evening. This number will be greatly increased Oct. 24 at the concert given in the Stout Auditorium.

The band expects to be ready to parade and play at the game Homecoming and with over forty in the ranks they should make a very creditable showing.

MISS MICHAELS TO SPEAK

On Friday, Miss Ruth Michaels, Dean of Women at The Stout Institute, will address the Eau Claire Women's Club on the subject of "The Social Economic Aspects of Home-making."

GIRLS LECTURE TONIGHT

Miss Marlott, a well known worker in the field of Home Economics, will give an address to all the girls Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Harvey Memorial. It is a great privilege to have Miss Marlott here to talk, and it is hoped that all of the girls will attend.

A short program will precede the lecture.

MISS WINSTON ON LEAVE

Miss Winston who is assistant registrar is resting from her office duties. She will be absent for about a month because of poor health.

Three 1st Class Barbers

Haircuts at any hour of the day

THE ELECTRIC SHOP

TRY OUR NEW YARDLEY'S PERFUME ODORS LEE'S DRUG STORE

Wanted!
A Student Lady to sell Christmas Cards during spare time.
Apply At

LATEST HITS
In Sheet Music & Victor Records
At

A. R. OLSON

Good Meals and Refreshments SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

BROTHER, Here's Your Chicken!!

SOUTHERN FRIED

Quarter of Spring Chicken 35 cents
Phone 746 We Deliver

THE SANDWICH SHOP
525 BROADWAY

Did You Know That-

The fellows had to do the dishes at the Staff feed Friday night?

Bill Soucie has a "mouthful of dishpans"?

Nick Marsilio was nearly overcome by gravity when he tried to get back to the primitive out at Paradise?

Mrs. Dow "went to hell" at the Annex party and the little devils found out that she was ticklish?

Harmon told an instructor that he had his notes in three different notebooks? The instructor said, "I don't see how you keep track of them." Harmon, "I don't."

A Frosh asked what C. A. B. at the end of announcements meant? Reese said, "Cab."

A Stout co-ed exclaimed after a date, "Honest, kid, he looked better than I ever saw him before—even on Sunday?"

"Lefty" Hanson has sworn off drinking coffee since the T. B. talk?

Kent Riggs nearly swallowed Webster's when some one threw it at him?

There is no dance this week-end?

The Stoutonia welcomes all sayings for the "D'd You Know That" column?

Drugs and Stationery

NOER DRUG COMPANY

FOUNTAIN PENS

Waterman-Moore-Conklin Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

SEE YOU AT THE CANDY SHOPPE BETTER Candies - Lunches - Ice Cream

GOOD SHOES at LOW PRICES

HEELS RECOVERED to match all colored shoes

ANY COLORED shoes DYED BLACK

We Have an Expert Shoe Repairing Department

Swenson and Berndt

"The Shoe Men"

Your next pair!—

Enna Jetticks

The good looking shoes that fit and feel like foot—$5 to wear of the more expensive kind. $6

Combination Last

Sizes 2 1/4 to 10—extra narrow—narrow—medium—wide and extra wide.

Junior Enna Jetticks in smart, tailored styles for the modern miss. 2 1/2 to 9—AAA to E.

$5 to $6

GRAVEN & WILCOX
Exclusive Agents for Enna Jetticks in Dunn County

Stout Goes Down In Defeat at Hands of River Falls Team

Seventy-five Stout Rooters Brave Weather to Cheer for Local Squad

Although history repeated itself to the extent that Stout bowed to River Falls by three touchdowns as they did over there two years ago, one definite thing was noted: the Trainers came back stronger in the second half than they had been in the first, and produced a contest for the Redmen which thrilled about 75 Stoutites who made the rainy trip last Saturday.

The stronger team won, but the complexion of the contest was unfortunately determined in the first four minutes after Stout had received the Fall's first forced punt. The first play by the Trainers lost ground because of a bad pass from center, and the punt off Wallin's toe was blocked and recovered by the Red. Then they immediately used scoring plays for the first seven of their 21 points.

Score Again in Half

Then, until the end of the second quarter, it was a see-saw game. The defensive work of Novascone, and the line backing of Harmon and Novas-prevented too great gains by the Falls thru the line, and the accurate punting of Paulus, in spite of yards of tape on those broken ribs, and in spite of no practice for three weeks, generally kept Stout out of danger.

But wind and plunging advantages finally backed up the Trainers, and the big Redmen pushed over another score and extra point just before the half ended. No one was at fault; the Blue line never got pushed around, and they fought like demons, but they usually got their hands on the plunger a bit late. The Falls, however, failed on several pass attempts.

Third Score Early in Half

The Falls' third and last touchdown came after hard breaks following the second half kick-off. It was accomplished as quickly as it had been at the beginning of the first half. From then on, it was an even tug game, and Klandrud didn't have any third and fourth teams in the game either, though he has the men to use, and they are nicely protected against such a day with hooded coats, also.

The Falls' running game was checked at the ends by head work on the part of Paulus, and nifty tackling by O'Connell. Gains for Stout were made by Hoernemann and Brownsey, and a series of first downs put Stout in position toward the end of the third quarter. On the eight yard line Stout elected a new play which bobbled, plunged Harmon for some gain, and then failed to complete passes, ending the threat.

Great Improvement Shown

There is small satisfaction from a lost game, but the improvement shown by the Trainer eleven in the game, compared to their earlier starts, was nothing short of remarkable. They were nobody's fools last Saturday. Several errors were made but many more redeeming features were predominant. In Paulus and O'Connell, the coach has a pair of ends who will help matters a lot, when they get rid of their injuries. Novascone and Cronk at the tackles were never taken out of the play, but could use their hands even more effectively.

Stout guards are fast and fighters, but seem too light. Morrison was rendered ineffective by that old shoulder going bad again. Kube was under every play and recovered the only fumble for Stout. Penn and Bleleck will do all right in the center of that line if one or the other of them will learn to pass accurately in the pinches, allowing the other to use his power at guard. The backfield hasn't been seen on the offensive long enough yet to prove what it can do.

No classes tomorrow because of the teachers institute being held at Eau Claire.

See US For HAIRCUTS
We Satisfy Our Customers
The Lakeview
Barber Shop

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonee Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

If Hair's Your Pride
Have It Trimmed Right.
I. W. NESSER
"The Barber"

Menomonee Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

ORPHEUM
Thursday (Tonight)
Greta Garbo in
THE SINGLE STANDARD
In Sound

Friday and Saturday
Monte Blue in
"SKIN DEEP"
All Talking

Sunday and Monday
Everett Horton in
"THE HOTTENTOT"

Matinee Sunday
Tuesday & Wednesday
"MODERN LOVE"
Part Talking

Thurs., Fri., & Sat.
"NOAH'S ARK"

GRAND
Thursday and Friday
"THE CHARLATON"
Star Cast
Saturday and Sunday
Buddy Rogers in
"THE RIVER OF ROMANCE"

Importance of W.A.A. Not Commonly Known

One of the important organizations on the Stout campus is the Women's Athletic Association, better known as the W. A. A. It is through this club that girls may obtain the much-needed exercise that every doctor recommends; it is through this club that they earn the coveted "S".

To become a member, a girl must earn 150 points. After this she is entitled to wear the W. A. A. pin. The second award is the W. A. A. emblem which signifies 650 points earned. Several girls now in school have this emblem.

The next reward is the "S." Thus far this has been the highest prize won, and three girls have been honored by its possession. A fourth award has never been earned, but several girls are working toward this highest goal.

The W. A. A. sponsors the various

Extensive Survey Now Being Made

A rather elaborate survey and report of faculty changes, changes in administration policy, analysis of student personnel, and of curriculum changes is being made for the North Central Association of Teacher's Colleges of which The Stout Institute is a member.

This survey and report will have a considerable influence in determining whether or not The Stout Institute will be transferred from its present classification in the teacher training group to that of the regular college classification. The favorable reception of the changes which have taken place since Stout has become a member of the association will place the institution on a regular college basis without qualification.

athletic contests for girls, as well as the annual water carnival.

HAVE YOU TRIED OUR
HOT! OR COLD! "MALTED MILKS"
IF NOT, WHY NOT?

FRED & ANNER
"THE SMOKE SHOP"

SERVICE

We do DRY CLEANING
on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.
Articles brought by noon will be ready next day.

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Menomonee Dye House
Running and Cole

ANNOUNCEMENT

Dr. H. J. Vanek, formerly located in the 1st National Bank Building is now conducting his Dental practice at 332 Main St.

Hours 9-12; 1-5. Evenings by special appointment.
Telephone 142

Sport Coats and Sweaters

in ALL the
GOING COLORS

EVENS-TOBIN Co.

OCTOBER IS DIAMOND
Month

Come in and see our EXCLUSIVE assortment
of new

Diamond Ring
Designs

Prices from $12.50 to $800

Nels Anshus, The Jeweler

We Welcome Students
to try
Our REAL Homecooking
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"Home of Good Food"

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP
KLEENEX YELLOW - GREEN
PINK AND WHITE

"Shaker Studios"
Photographs of Distinction

Students be sure and see "The Student Special" before having your annual picture made.

BRING YOUR KODAK FILMS HERE FOR DEVELOPING

"Shaker Studios"

QUALITY -- SHOES

AT

Swenson and Berndt

"The Shoe Men"

Service and Quality
Light Lunches and Specialty
The Olympia
Open After Dances

1930 Homecoming Celebration Starts Next Friday

Manual Arts Players to Present Auxiliary Homecoming Feature

"The Family Upstairs" To Be Given Friday Night, Nov. 1,
In Auditorium

Once more the Manual Arts Players will present an evening's entertainment that you cannot afford to miss. To crash the gate is not necessary because your S. S. A. Master Ticket will admit you. "The Family Upstairs" is a play dealing with an average American family and is a comedy of American life in three acts by Harry Delf. It will be presented in the Stout Auditorium, Friday evening, November 1, at 8:15 o'clock, as the opening feature of Homecoming.

Characters Are Well Chosen
Joe Heller, played by "Heinie" Poellinger, is a street-car inspector, with a salary of $42.50 per week. Mr. Heller's elder daughter, Louise, is an office worker who hasn't managed to get a husband—and is already twenty-one. Mrs. Heller, played by Mildred Belina, has one anxiety to get Louise married, (and getting Janet Kyle married ought not to be very difficult).

On the other hand, father's one ambition is to get Willie, his son, to work, (and getting John Waniga to work is SOME job!) Emma Newby, the "kid sister" of the family, whose monicker is Annabelle, also has a passion, and that is getting out of doing her piano lessons.

Setting Typifies American Home
It is a typical American home that we look into: Annabelle practicing on the "tin-panny" piano, Willie making a telephone date with a girl friend, father coming home from work fagged out, Mother bossing Annabelle's play. (Continued on page two)

Value of Vitamines Is Demonstrated To Bacteriology Class

Proves Life Saver to Girls After Strenuous Three Hour
Session

Gee, but this tastes good! Are there more crackers left? Good! Me for another "combination."

Such were the various exclamations when the Food Bacteriology class met last week. The subject under discussion was: when a person is hungry should he, or should he not have food, in order to remove the uncomfortable feeling caused by aforesaid hunger?

Tongues Get Exercise
Just previous to this time, Phizopus nigricans, Oospora lactis, and Schizosaccharomyces cerevisiae had been the cause of various outbursts, some very nearly resembling intelligence. No, my dear readers, Schizosaccharomyces cerevisiae is not a "swear" word, but merely the name of a common, useful and widely advertised thing—yeast.

Circumstances caused this class to meet for three consecutive hours in one afternoon. After gazing at the many and varied wonders of sundry Thallopheyes under the microscope and transferring this to that, one's patience becomes a minus quantity.

Re-vivifier Introduced
With the sun shining through the windows, the "sleepy time" of the afternoon, and everything else combined, it is almost impossible to avoid a "let down" sometime during the three hours. So the above mentioned live-saver was introduced.

(Continued on page two)

New Books Are Added to Library

The following books were added to The Stout Institute Library during the month of September:

Child Study and Child Health
Child Care and Training, by Faegre and Anderson.

Problem Child at Home: a Study in Parent-child Relationships, by M. B. Sayles.

Children's Behavior and Teachers' Attitudes, by E. K. Wickman.

Negativism of Pre-school Children, by M. M. Reynolds.

Five Years in Fargo, by Child Health Demonstration Department of the Commonwealth Fund.

Restaurant Management
Secret of Successful Restaurants, by Mrs. A. F. McDougall.

Kitchen Management, Construction, Planning, Administration, by J. O. Dahl.

Selling Public Hospitality: a Handbook of Advertising and Publicity for Hotels, Restaurants, and Apartment Houses, by J. O. Dahl.

Annals of the American Academy Foreign Office Organization, by H. K. Norton.

Lobbying, by E. B. Logan.
(Continued on page four)

Hyperians Are Guests of Winifred Cooper

The Hyperian society and Miss Burgoin were entertained by Miss Winifred Cooper at her home in Colfax, Friday evening. The trip was made in cars furnished by Emma Hanson, Henrietta Quilling, and Miss Burgoin.

A short program was given. Original poems, presented as welcomes to the new Hyperian Advisor, Miss Burgoin, proved interesting as well as humorous. Miss Burgoin gave a short response to the welcomes.

The rest of the program consisted of musical numbers and readings.

Miss Cooper chose "Crazy Bridge" as the entertainment for the evening. During the first four rounds no one was allowed to talk after bidding or she was penalized ten points. It was required during the next four hands that diamonds were trump. Following that, each was to bid without looking at her cards. During the (Continued on page two)

Next Week's Calendar

Sat.—Football Superior vs. Stout
Sat.—Areme dance
Mon.—Science Club, 5 p. m.
Mon.—Stoutonia Staff, 5 p. m.
Mon.—Men's Glee Club, 7 p. m.
Mon.—Women's Glee Club, 7 p. m.
Tues.—Band, 7 p. m.
Tues.—Philo, 7 p. m.
Wed.—Metallurgy Club, 7 p. m.
Wed.—Y. W. C. A., 5 p. m.
Wed.—S. T. S., 7:30 p. m.
Thurs.—Areme, 7:30 p. m.
Thurs.—Hyperian, 5 p. m.
Thurs.—Orchestra, 7 p. m.

Miss Follgatter Stresses Value of Home Economics

Miss Johnson Accompanies Miss Follgatter On Educational Tour

Miss Florence Follgatter, Federal Agent for Vocational Home Economics of the North Central Region, from Washington, D. C., and Miss Margaret Johnson, who is the State Supervisor of Vocational Home Economics from Madison spent several days here this past week.

Miss Follgatter visits twelve states, and Wisconsin is one of them. She is spending one week in Wisconsin with Miss Johnson, visiting day and evening vocational schools, and The Stout Institute, which is the Teacher Training Institution for vocational work in Wisconsin.

Miss Follgatter and Miss Johnson were at the North Western Teachers Association meeting at Eau Claire last week and attended the luncheon meeting of the Chippewa Valley Home Economics section. Miss Follgatter (Continued on page two)

L. Berg Moved to Infirmary

It is gratifying to learn of the removal of Leroy Berg, who was injured during football practice early this fall, from the hospital to the infirmary.

The last few days he has been able, for the first time to sit up and walk around a little and it is hoped that his condition will permit his seeing the football game Saturday.

Rifle Club Picture To Be Taken Saturday

The following rifle report shows the high degree of accuracy which the members of this Club have attained. Their efficiency is largely due to the excellent instruction given by Mr. Nelson, head of the organization.

The scores this week are exceptionally good, and provide marks which are well worth striving to equal.

Small Bore Section
(Highest score to date)
Gail Galloway .....181
Grace Quarters .....172
Florence Verbrick .....166

Large Bore Section
(Highest score to date)
Reuben Hagen ..... 88
Paul C. Nelson ..... 86
Alvin Cidman ..... 79
Karl Miller ..... 79

A group picture will be taken of the entire rifle club on the outdoor range Saturday, October 26, at 11:30 o'clock. This picture is being taken for the Tower, and for the Milwaukee Journal, and every member is requested to be present. Here is your chance to get your picture in the paper! Please wear your shooting togs.

(Continued on page two)

S.T.S. Initiates 20 Members Wednesday

An exceptionally cordial welcome was extended to the twenty men who entered the Stout Typographical Society Wednesday night of this week.

The pledges were administered a very warm reception by the old members. The oath was given by President Riggs.

Printers Punch Satisfies
The printers were surprised to find that some of the new members really liked printer's punch.

After the initial festivities were completed, the society adjourned to the Hotel Marion Coffee Shop, where an enjoyable luncheon was served.

The men who weathered the initiation were: Roll, Hooper, O'Connell, Anderson, Cryderman, Mann, Larson Murray, Chester Larson, Michaels, Mau, Canatsey, Halverson, Lind Barber, Beinert, A. Reinhold, Carnes,

Plans Completed For Week End of Huge Enjoyment

Campus and Buildings To Be Decorated; Merchants Asked To Cooperate

Just one week from this week end, Nov. 1, 2, and 3, Stout's 1929 Homecoming will be in full swing. All plans and months of preparation will have materialized into the greatest Homecoming this school has ever known.

Upper classmen and Menomomie friends will be greeting the returning old friends. Alumni will have returned to their Alma Mater.

There will be activities in which we will all participate and it is hoped that the program will be the best it has ever been.

The program is as follows:

Friday, November 1
7:30 P. M.—Registration of alumni in main corridor.
8:15 P. M.—The Manual Arts Players' play, "The Family Upstairs."
This is one of the best plays the M. A. P.'s have ever featured and a laugh a minute is guaranteed.
10:30 P. M.—The pajama parade, bonfire and ceremonies at the Stout lot on Broadway. (Particular note should be taken of the fact that a platform will be provided so that everyone will be able to witness the ceremonies.)

Saturday, November 2
7:30 A. M.—Club and society breakfast in honor of the alumni.
8:30 A. M.—Registration of alumni.
9:00 A. M.—Annual "S" Club meeting.
10:00 A. M.—Flashball game in Stout Armory. (Freshmen girls vs. Sophomore girls.)
(Continued on page two)

Miss Marlott Speaks To Women on Value of Home Economics

Address Given Was One of The Best Ever Presented at Stout

Approximately one hundred fifty students of the Home Economics department heard Miss Abby Marlott's address on "The Changing Ideals of Home Economics Education," last Thursday evening at the harvey Memorial.

It was indeed an opportunity for the girls, as Miss Marlott is one of the oldest workers in the Home Economics field, and as she has experienced the development of this particular phase of work, she is probably authoritative in foretelling the future of Home Economics than anyone else. Home Economics Valuable in Home

In her talk she interpreted and emphasized the social aspect of Home Economics as centered in the home, rather than the technical side.

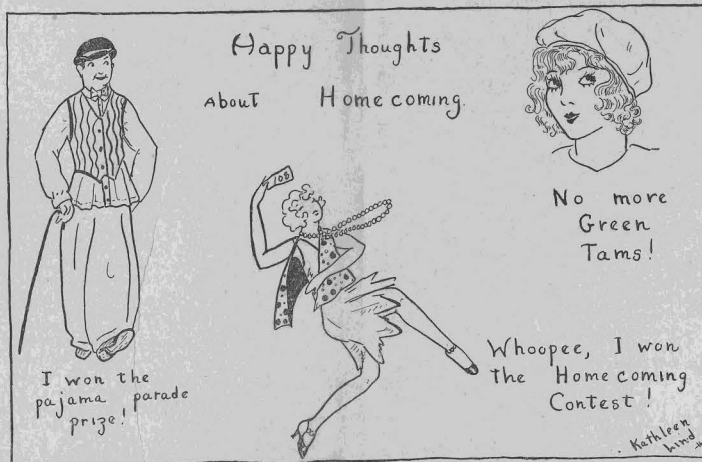

Today people are inclined to do creative work in the home, due to the fact that color, modern conveniences, and design are introduced more than ever before.

Parents are realizing, as a result, that they need to learn something of this creative work; she especially emphasized the training of parents in the same methods that are followed in the teaching of children who attend nursery schools.

Preceding the talk, Charlotte Watchorn sang a vocal selection, Helga Rasmussen accompanying her. Doris Henry, accompanied by Irma G'bertson, played a violin solo.

CAMPUS CARTOONS

by Kathleen Lind

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office,
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                              |                        |
|------------------------------|------------------------|
| Managing Editor              | Lester L. Hawkes       |
| Associate Editor             | Irma L. Nichols        |
| News Editor                  | Elizabeth A. Williams  |
| News Editor                  | John Barber            |
| Assistant                    | Bernard C. Hagen       |
| Assistant                    | Belinda I. Hendrickson |
| Sports Editor                | William J. Micheels    |
| Assistant (I. E.)            | Frede Anderson         |
| Assistant (H. E.)            | Helen Chamberlin       |
| Feature Editor               | Henriette L. Quilling  |
| Feature Editor               | Bernice G. Bricker     |
| Exchange Editor              | William J. Soucie      |
| Humor Editor                 | Harold P. Taufman      |
| Assistant Humor Editor       | Al J. Poellinger       |
| Society Editor               | Aneta Gundlach         |
| Cartoonist                   | Kathleen L. Lind       |
| Head-Line Writer             | Stuart Carnes          |
| Business Manager             | Earl C. Halverson      |
| Circulation Manager          | Robert G. Reick        |
| Asst. Circulation Manager    | Carl Roll              |
| Asst. Circulation Manager    | Al Reinhold            |
| Advertising Manager          | Marlo McCullough       |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr.       | Donald K. Lind         |
| Make-up Foreman and Pressman | Kent Riggs             |
| Under Direction of           | C. W. Hogue            |
| Editorial Adviser            | Mr. John Faville, Jr.  |
| Associate Adviser            | Miss Helen Sarchet     |

HOME COMING

We are approaching the greatest week end in the school year—that of Homecoming.

Soon our campus will be filled with returning alumni, some degree graduates and many who have entered the teaching profession before securing their final award, but who, nevertheless, have a secret longing to finish their college career at Stout.

We believe that these alumni are greatly interested in our advancement, our desire for progress and our high aim in extracurricular activities.

Graduates of years past will return with a secret memory of the years they spent here, hoping to catch a glimpse of some old pal or friend, whom they have lost in the greatness of the scope of Stout alumni.

They will view the campus and buildings with a sacred reverence of past years, and perhaps offer a tribute to the Stout Tower, which stands as a symbol, high in the heavens, of Stout greatness.

No doubt they will feel a pang of envy for the gay and light-hearted students who are at present fortunate enough to spend their collegiate years at their beloved Alma Mater.

It is, indeed, these old-time graduates who will appreciate Homecoming, and who fully realize the large part our school has played in shaping their lives for the position which they hold in life.

Then there will be those men and women of recent years who will return to greet friends, sing Stout praises and recall many incidents which they so fondly cherish. To these people it will be a week end of hilarious activity; a time in which to forget their troubles, worries and cares, and place themselves in the role of the student which they so recently abandoned. They will be filled with their recent accomplishments and eager to receive any advice which might help them to obtain greater success in the teaching world.

There is still another class of young people who will enjoy Homecoming to the utmost. Perhaps not with the reverence and sobriety of the older ones, but nevertheless, with a proud feeling that they too, are well on their way toward that goal which the older alumni have attained.

It is we students, who make Homecoming possible; who make this week end a time of never-to-be-forgotten enjoyment for the returning men and women. Let us do our part in upholding the high standards which these alumni established when they were all striving for a common aim—a Stout degree.

Band Gives Concert In Pep Assembly

"Every band member get your band uniform before leaving practice to-night," were Mr. Inghram's final words at band practice Tuesday evening. The suits, as in previous years, are heavy dark blue serge jackets with a broadened band down the front, around the neck and cuff. The caps also, are of dark blue and are trimmed with a ribbon and leather a leather band extending around the crown

Perform In Assembly

About forty members were arranged on the platform in Assembly yesterday morning to give the long looked-for concert. Harold Taufman directed the first selection, Mr. Inghram then taking charge.

Some of the selections rendered were: "Roseland March," "Cloth of Gold," and "Honour Band." The entire audience joined in singing the latter presentation.

Stoutonia Contest

Ends Wednesday

The contest for bright suggestions for this year's program during Homecoming was ended Wednesday at five o'clock. There were several suggestions submitted, over which the judging committee is struggling now to determine which was the best. THE STOUTONIA, sponsor of the contest, specified that the suggestion which received first place must be usable; it will be incorporated in the plans of the 1929 Homecoming.

The winners will be announced at the Homecoming dance, and will receive the cash awards at that time.

Prizes To Be Given For Best Marksmen

(Continued from page one)

This will also be match day. Shooting for prizes begin on the indoor range at 9:00 A. M. and on the outdoor range at 8:30.

The prize winners will be determined by adding the match score to the shooter's highest score of the season and an average taken. The highest average wins.

Many Features For Homcoming Week

11:00 A. M.—Mass meeting assembly, Stout Auditorium.

12:00 (Noon)—Alumni luncheon in Tainter Memorial building.

1:15 P. M.—Parade to football field.

2:30 P. M.—Football game, Stout vs. Eau Claire.

6:30 P. M.—Homecoming football banquet—Stout Cafeteria.

8:30 P. M.—Homecoming dance in gymnasium.

Sunday, November 3

3:00 P. M.—5:00 P. M.—Open House at Lynwood Hall. Tea served by Tainter Annex and Tainter Hall at the Tainter Hall.

Chairmen and committees of the various Homecoming activities have been making preparations for the past weeks.

Chairmen of Committees Selected
The Stout Student Association chose the following chairmen to head the committees:

Decoration of the gymnasium—Sophomore class, S. S. A. Officers, supervisors.

Decoration of the corridor—Junior class, Ardella Anderson, chairman.

Decoration of the cafeteria—Senior class, Janet Clark and Al Poellinger, chairmen.

Decoration of football field, tower, entrances and welcome signs.

Freshmen class, Willard Hanson supervisor.

The Bonfire, Freshmen men, Willard Hanson, supervisor.

Registration of Alumni, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. and Science Club. President of organizations, chairman.

Pep chairman—Leo Gardiner.

Stout Band—Harold Taufman, chairman.

Parade—Carl Roll, chairman.

Football banquet program—Jane Hambley, chairman.

Football banquet dinner—Marcelena Stephany, chairman.

Football banquet serving—Lorraine Litchfield, chairman.

Publicity chairman—Winifred Cooper.

Faculty Members To Judge Windows

A committee of four faculty members was chosen to judge the store window decorations. In previous years we have had splendid cooperation from the Menomonie merchants and Commercial Club in decorating their windows and putting up welcome signs.

A committee of three business men was chosen to judge the floats.

A committee of two faculty members was chosen to judge the pajamas at the parade and bonfire.

Cooperation Is Essential

It is hoped to make this year's Homecoming a real success. It must be a big week end of anticipated

Let's Laugh

"What do you consider a crowd at a dance?"
"Oh, about a mile!"
"A mile?"
"Sure, 5280 feet."

—B—
The human brain is a wonderful organ. It starts functioning as soon as we wake up in the morning and never stops until we get to school.

—B—
Floorwalker (In his own home at 1 a. m. to burglar): Silverware? Yes, sir, step right this way.

—B—
New Campus Battle!
Norwegian Attacked By Indians
Norwegian wove chief's girl, while chief is hunting. Chief returns after vacation at Fall Creek reservation to find Menomonie Snuff-chewer has dated his girl.

Now Barber wants to take his Ford to Carleton College to look at the stars, I'll bet he knows all about stargazing.

—B—
All right boys, now altogether—Some.....!

—B—
After Dr. Bodey's address, it is not difficult to understand why some people flunk out in school. A three-year-old can see no value in reading.

—B—
We are still wondering how something can be concocted and at the same time bashful.

—B—
Cryderman changed his mind and decided to join the Printer's Club. Oh! Hot paddles!

—B—
I heard that "Al" Poellinger was the big bearing man from Maine.

—B—
Fred Dietz is the big Plaster man from Paris.

—B—
What's wrong with this story?—Glenn Lockwood says he can drive 120 miles in three hours and not go faster than 40 miles an hour.

—B—
"Noisy" Cronk has a tender place in his heart for Webster, Minn. We wonder why?

—B—
And now someone wants to start a "Giggling Marathon" at Stout.

—B—
I wish to thank those who turn in items to help fill this column. We appreciate everything usable.

Complications in M.A.P. Play To Be Amusing

(Continued from page one)

ing, and everyone wanting dinner.

At dinner Louise announces that a young man is calling on her later, and she would like to have the parlor for herself if the FAMILY doesn't mind! SENSATION! Louise has never had a young man "caller" before, and what is more, Charles Grant, portrayed by Theodore Pierson, works in a bank.

Mrs. Heller thinks that he surely is a good "catch," and attempts to help matters along, but with disastrous results.

Amusing Situations Prevail

Miss Callahan, the dressmaker, played by Irma Nichols, adds more to the confusion, by making Charles feel very uncomfortable.

Marie Simonson, who is taking the part of Mrs. Grant, finally brings about a peaceful situation and a happy ending.

By this time you should be able to understand that you have a splendid opportunity to see a play that will keep you talking from November until Christmas!

pleasure for our alumni. We cannot have it, however, without the cooperation and interest of everyone.

We are asking and urging the Menomonie people to enter into the spirit of a Homecoming that will it take years to equal.

Russian Cossacks Are First Lyceum Number

Music, rendered by the Russian Cossack chorus, was the entertainment provided by the Lyceum course in its first number last night at the auditorium.

Sergei Sokoloff directed the men's chorus, all of whom are natives of southern Russia, and incidentally all world war veterans. The native military garb of their country was worn as uniforms during the concert.

In the music of this chorus the great voice of the awakening Russia spoke. The full burden of Russia's grief and the ancient and grim beauty of her traditions was blended in the harmonies that gripped the heart. The program consisted of classics, serenades, folklore, prayers and military marches.

Cheese and Crackers Provide Nourishment

(Continued from page one)

The demand of students for Food Bacteriology will be on the increase; the National Biscuit Company will have a larger demand for the production of soda crackers; the Kraft Cheese Company will be offering new kinds and varieties of cheese if you don't watch out.

Miss Burgoin Wins "Crazy Bridge" Prize

(Continued from page one)

last four hands each one was given the chance to cheat, providing she could get away with it.

When the scores were counted, every one was quite surprised to find that Miss Burgoin was the winner. The prize for the high cut was won by Josephine Edinger.

Dainty refreshments consisting of sandwiches, pickles, nut bread, pumpkin pie and coffee were served.

The Hyperians are very grateful to Miss Cooper, who proved to be a charming hostess.

Home Economics Talk Is Valuable

(Continued from page one)

spoke at this luncheon. Both came to Menomonie Friday evening.

Saturday forenoon, a conference of all the Home Economics faculty was called. At this time, Miss Fallgatter explained the new regulations of the Federal Board of Vocational Education in regard to present operation of the Smith-Hughes Act and the George Reed bill. At this same meeting Miss Johnson explained how the additional money secured in Wisconsin from the new bill is being used. This talk was followed by many individual conferences.

All of this information was very valuable, because the Home Economics faculty is now working on re-organization of catalog material and content of subject matter courses.

On Monday Miss Fallgatter spoke to Miss Price's classes in Vocational Education and explained the George Reed Act, the new Rural Smith-Hughes High School program, the work of the Federal Board for Vocational Education, and her relations to this board and her reasons for visiting Stout Institute.

DANCING CLASS MEETS

The tap and clog dancing course under the direction of Miss Mildred Schaeffer, Central High gymnasium instructor, has been organized, and approximately twenty-five Stout students, both men and women, have enrolled.

The class will meet for an hour each week for nine weeks. Each person taking the course is charged a small fee.

The first class meeting was held at the K. C. hall last Tuesday evening.

Society

Lynwood Girls To Serve Tea Saturday, November 2

Lynwood girls are giving a tea at Lynwood Hall immediately following the Homecoming game Saturday, November 2. Everyone is invited to attend. Come dressed as you are for the game, and enjoy a good time.

S. M. A. To Hold Candy Sale Saturday

The S. M. A. society will hold a candy sale at the Farmer's store on Main St., Saturday, October 26, from ten-thirty A. M. to three o'clock P. M. The society will appreciate your patronage.

Miss Price and Miss Ganz Entertain at Dinner

Miss Price and Miss Ganz entertained at a dinner Sunday night at the Corner Cupboard. Miss Margaret Johnson, State Supervisor of Home Economics Education, and Miss Florence Fallgatter, Federal Agent of Home Economics, were the guests of honor. Covers were laid for ten people.

Tea To Be Served At Tainter Hall

The girls of Tainter Hall and Tainter Annex are serving tea to all alumni and friends at Tainter Hall from 3 P. M. to 5 P. M. on the afternoon of Sunday, Nov. 3.

This event will take the place of the separate open houses held by the Hall and the Annex at Homecoming in previous years.

Y. W. C. A. Holds Meeting In Harvey Memorial

A very interesting musical program was given at the Y. W. C. A. meeting held Wednesday evening at five o'clock in the Harvey Memorial.

The program consisted of a violin solo by Miss Doris Henry, a piano solo by Miss Helen Erhard, and a vocal solo by Albert Hanson. A reading was given by Miss Jane Foeller was also much enjoyed.

Y. W. meetings are held every Wednesday evening at five o'clock; everyone is invited to attend.

Three New Members Taken Into Science Club

Three new members, Ethel Anderson, Margaret Senty, and Esther Hendrickson were taken into the Science

Club Monday evening at five o'clock. Special topics of interest were reviewed by several members. An interesting report on "The International relation of Minerals" was given by Miss Hazel Weir reported on the subject, "Bees."

Anyone wishing to become a member of the Science Club must obtain a recommendation from a science instructor, and must have an average grade of C in all science courses.

Fireside Party Held By Philomathean Society

The Philomathean society entertained prospective members at a fire-side party, held Sunday afternoon from four to six o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Paul Wilson.

Entertainment was varied, consisting of a program of games and stunts. Miss Louise Whitehurst sang several negro spirituals. A general talk on the Philomathean society, particularly its aims and history was given by Gertrude Hanson. Several relay games were staged and prizes were awarded to the groups winning the most points.

After the program, a deinty fire-side lunch was served.

S. M. A.'s Entertain Prospective Members

The S. M. A. society held its first function in honor of prospective members in the form of a Backward party in the club rooms last Saturday afternoon from two-thirty to five o'clock.

The guests were asked to wear gingham dresses which were turned back to the front as the girls arrived. The stairs to the club rooms were traversed backwards.

Bunco was played, then refreshments were served backwards in the following order: toothpicks, coffee and pie-a-la-mode with the pie on top of the ice cream. To conclude the party, the girls joined in the singing of songs.

Prizes for Bunco were won by Jane Foeller and Doris Spiers.

Lutheran Society Elects Officers

The Lutheran Society met in the Y. W. C. A. Club rooms Wednesday night at 7:30. During a short business meeting Mabel Neergard was elected chairman of the refreshment committee and Earl Halverson was elected publicity chairman. Helmut Bramstedt will have charge of the Homecoming float.

The remainder of the evening was spent in performing Halloween stunts, each member making some contribution to the program. To conclude the party, refreshments were served.

Faculty Dinner Held In H. E. Corridor

The Home Economics faculty entertained all the members of the entire staff and their wives, at a bridge dinner last Monday evening. Miss Johnson and Miss Follgatter were present.

The third floor corridor of the H. E. building had been arranged as a dining room for the occasion and was beautifully decorated with fall leaves. The autumn color scheme was repeated in the menu.

Music which was much enjoyed by the guests during the dinner was furnished by two students, Miss Gilbertson and Miss Henry. Miss Hambley sang several delightful vocal selections.

After the dinner the guests played bridge. Prizes for high honors were won by Mrs. Keith and Mr. Ingraham. Low scores were credited to Mr. Milnes and Mrs. Hague.

Hyperians Hold Party At Corner Cupboard

Saturday night from seven-thirty to nine-thirty, the Hyperians held their

(Continued on page four)

Personals

LYNWOOD HALL

Lynwood welcomes Miss Ruth Zimmerman as a new member of the hall. Up to this time, Ruth had been staying out in town.

Several of the girls from the hall were business visitors in Eau Claire on Friday and Saturday.

TAINTER ANNEX

Francis Schroeder was a business caller in Eau Claire Friday.

Elva Page spent the week end at her home in Elk River, Minn.

Mrs. Irene Johnston, who is attending the University of Minnesota, was a visitor at the Hall on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Johnston is planning to enroll in The Stout Institute the second semester.

Miss Margaret Allen was a week end visitor at the Haas home in Eau Claire.

Carol Brick returned Monday after having spent the week end at her home in Manitowac.

Ether Sickler, Margaret Casey, Hazelle Flagat and Mildred Dinger

TAINTER HALL

Miss Balerud and Miss O'Brien spent the week end in La Crosse where they attended the teacher's convention and Homecoming at La Crosse Normal. Miss Jeter acted as preceptress at the Annex while Miss Balerud was gone.

Girls from the Annex who spent the week end at home were: Ruth Lindall, St. Paul; June Lockhart, Oshkosh; Pat Kelly, Mankato, Minn; Winifred Cooper, Colfax; Velma Gutwasser, Chippewa Falls; Mary Jane Dodson, Siren; Alice Lynum, Baldwin; Lorraine Litchfield, Eau Claire; Marie Schroeder, Granton, and Dorothy Madden, Port Edwards.

We hope no one was seriously frightened by the peculiar noises on the first floor about one o'clock Friday night, as it was only Ruth Aleeson walking in her sleep. What's the trouble, Ruth?

Henrietta Sievert spent the week end with Winifred Cooper in Colfax, Wis.

Several Annex girls spent last Friday in Eau Claire.

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP
PHOENIX and HOLEPROOF Hose
Price's 98c to 1.95

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

TRY OUR NEW
YARDLEY'S PERFUME ODORS
LEE'S DRUG STORE

Wanted!

A Student Lady to sell Christmas Cards during spare time.

Apply At

LATEST HITS

In Sheet Music & Victor Records

At

A. R. OLSON

Good Meals and Refreshments
SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

BROTHER,
Here's Your Chicken!!

SOUT HERN FRIED

Quarter of Spring Chicken 35 cents

Phone 746

We Deliver

THE SANDWICH SHOP
525 BROADWAY

HAVE YOU TRIED OUR

HOT! OR COLD! "MALTED MILKS"
IF NOT. WHY NOT?

FRED & ANNER
"THE SMOKE SHOP"

We Welcome Students to try
Our REAL Homecooking
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"Home of Good Food"

SEE YOU AT
THE CANDY SHOPPE
BETTER
Candies - Lunches - Ice Cream

GOOD SHOES at LOW PRICES

HEELS RECOVERED to match all colored shoes

- or -

ANY COLORED shoes DYED BLACK

We Have an Expert Shoe Repairing Department

Swenson and Berndt

"The Shoe Men"

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

Three 1st Class Barbers
Haircuts at any hour of the day

THE ELECTRIC SHOP

Drugs and Stationery
NOER DRUG COMPANY

Stout Will Attempt to Upset Conference Race Here Tomorrow

Superior, League Leaders, Have Strong Offense; Trainers in Good Condition

Stout meets Superior tomorrow, the team which expects to become conference champions, unless the Trainers will spill the dope bucket and effect one of those upsets which are always possible, and which keep every conference race interesting. The game is called for 2:30 at the Fair Grounds.

Coach Tubbs of Superior has many veterans, including "Pash" Paciotti's kid brother, and the same style of offense, generally speaking, as usual. And he has several men who are noted for their execution of this difficult offensive style. So far, they have won two conference games; 51-0 over Eau Claire, and 13-6 over River Falls.

Two Weeks' Rest Ends

The Trainers have had two weeks to recuperate from the Falls game, which took little toll in injuries, but showed a number of glaring weaknesses. So Coach Paulus has driven his team hard this week, and feels confident that Superior's natural confidence in Saturday's outcome will be considerably shaken.

At the first of the week, the Trainers looked rather down-in-the-mouth, but evidences of campus spirit since then have brought most of the players back to a morale which will assure a battle tomorrow. The fact that Superior was lucky, according to witnesses, to get away with the Falls game, coupled with Stout's creditable battle at the Falls, makes the Superior game here look anything but hopeless.

In Good Physical Condition

As far as injuries are concerned, Stout is in the best condition of the season. Morrison's shoulder is a doubtful member, but that doesn't worry Mac much. Rude's shoulder has

Excellent Books Are Purchased by Library

(Continued from page one)

Present Day Causes of International Friction and Their Elimination. Women in the Modern World.

Home Economics Economics of Fashion, by P. H. Nystrom.

Anyone Can Bake, by Royal Baking Powder Company.

Stimulating Books Discovery, or, The Spirit and Service of Science, by S. R. A. Gregory. Preface to Morals, by Walter Lippman.

Problems of the Family, by Willy-stine Goodsell.

Education of the Modern Girls, by M. B. Blake.

The Will to Work, by C. L. Robbins

some weak ligaments also, but should be good by Saturday. Mid-season discouragements have taken their toll, the substitute full back having quit and others having wavered temporarily. But the coach has 25 faithful men to work on almost every night.

Penn, center, Morrison and Bielock guards, and Novacek and Cronk tackles, are pretty sure starters. Whether or not ends as light as Paulus and O'Connell can be effective against Superior's offense, is a problem, and Schmidt and Wallin may be used. If Rude can forget the troublesome shoulder, he may be starting at the wing-back position; otherwise Wallin will be there.

Hoernemann will start directing the team, with Michaels on deck; Brownsey, Fordham or Wolfgram will be in back; Harmon will be at full, with Kube now pinch-hitting in that position. Wolfgram, Cossette, Muller, and a couple of others are pretty sure to see action in the line. Fans may at least expect to see considerable difference in the actions of this outfit from what it showed in the last home game, September 21, even tho the opposition tomorrow is supposed to be the best in the loop.

Superior, Oshkosh Are Leading League Race

With the Wisconsin Teachers College conference well underway, the success of the various teams in the other parts of the state commands the interest of every college.

Although it is too early to pick the exact winner, it looks as if Superior Whitewater, Oshkosh and Milwaukee will be in the thick of the fight.

Starting the season with two defeats from teams of Big Ten calibre, Superior has since disposed of two conference teams. They have defeated Eau Claire 52-0, and River Falls 12-6, making them the big favorites in the fight for championship honors. River Falls has won from Eau Claire 18-0, and from Stout 21-0, but by losing to Superior, they were ousted from first place.

Eau Claire Wins a Game Eau Claire has been defeated by River Falls and Superior, but with their 19-0 victory over Stevens Point last week they climbed out of the cellar.

The La Crosse team, which was a favorite after defeating Stout 25-0, was beaten last Saturday by Oshkosh, 7-0, in a game which proved to be an upset.

Southern Teams Strong

In the southern part of the state the struggle seems to be rather hotly contested with three undefeated teams. Milwaukee has defeated Platteville 7-0, and with Oshkosh's victory over La Crosse, these two teams remain on top.

While Whitewater hasn't as yet

Hyperians Hold Party At Corner Cupboard

(Continued from page three)

first party for prospective members at the "Corner Cupboard."

Thirty guests were entertained at Bunco. The prize for the highest score was won by Miss Eileen Ross, Miss Grace Quarters claiming the consolation prize. At nine-thirty refreshments consisting of pop corn and fudge were served.

Mrs. Haynes, formerly Miss Christine Kent, of Chicago, visited Menomonie friends on Saturday and Sunday.

played any conference games, it looks like a strong team, having gained impressive victories over such teams as Northwestern College and the Marquette Frosh.

Platteville and Stevens Point have lost their conference games and together with Stout occupy the bottom rung of the ladder.

1923 Stout Graduate Visits Alma Mater

Mr. Otto J. Dorr, Director of Vocational Education at Fond du Lac, Wis. was a visitor at The Stout Institute last Monday.

Mr. Dorr is one of the progressive Stout graduates in the field of Vocational Education. He received his degree from Stout in 1923 and has been making a name for himself ever since. He appeared very much pleased over the opportunity of being able to visit his Alma Mater once again.

See US For HAIRCUTS
We Satisfy Our Customers
The Lakeview
Barber Shop

SERVICE

We do DRY CLEANING

on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Articles brought by noon will be ready next day.

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE

Menomonie Dye House

Running and Cole

ANNOUNCEMENT

Dr. H. J. Vanek, formerly located in the 1st National Bank Building is now conducting his Dental practice at 332 Main St.

Hours 9-12; 1-5.

Evenings by special appointment.

Telephone 142

Service and Quality
Light Lunches and Specialties
The Olympia
Open After Dances

We rebuild and refinish old Shoes by the Goodyear Quick Service process. We use the very best sole leather obtainable and guarantee the workmanship.

GRAVEN and WILCOX
The Service Shoe Store
Main Street

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonie Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

If Hair's Your Pride
Have It Trimmed Right.

I. W. NESSER
"The Barber"

Menomonie Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

ORPHEUM

Thursday, Friday, Saturday
Dolores Costello in
"NOAH'S ARK"
A $2,000,000 spectacle.
7:20 and 9:20

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday
"THE VALIANT"
Mat. Sun. 2:30

Wednesday and Thursday
Dolores Costello in
"THE GLAD RAG DOLL"

GRAND
Friday
Douglas McLean in
"DIVORCE MADE EASY"

Saturday and Sunday
Tom Tyler in a Western
Mat. Sun. at 3 P. M.

Sport Coats and Sweaters

in ALL the
GOING COLORS

EVENS-TOBIN Co.

OCTOBER IS DIAMOND
Month

Come in and see our EXCLUSIVE assortment
of new
Diamond Ring
Designs

Prices from $12.50 to $800

Nels Anshus, The Jeweler

STUDENTS ATTENTION!!

Be Sure and See "THE STUDENT SPECIAL" Before
Having Your ANNUAL PICTURE Taken
"SHAKER STUDIOS" of course!

Old Grads Are Welcomed By Their Alma Mater

Miss McKowen Gets 1st Prize Awarded By The Stoutonia

Irma Nichols and Kent Riggs are also Winners; New Stunt Appears Tomorrow

"Bright ideas" for a more elaborate Homecoming brought cash awards to three students, namely Esther McKowen, Irma Nichols, and Kent Riggs, who entered the contest sponsored by the Stoutonia for the past month.

Miss McKowen will receive ten dollars as first prize; Miss Nichols, six dollars, and Mr. Riggs, two dollars.

There were several other persons who offered suggestions for improving the Homecoming program, but the prize ideas proved to be the most usable.

Football Float Is Suggested

Miss McKowen's "bright idea" of having a blue and white decorated float, carrying a large football with the letters S-T-O-U-T painted on it, and filled with blue and white balloons, will be a special feature of the float parade and game Saturday. The Stoutonia does not care to disclose how the football will be used at the game—that's your surprise. Watch for the big football and then see what happens to it!

Pajama Parade to Form "S"

Miss Nichols suggested a torch-light pajama parade, which will feature the formation of a large "S," when the students assemble for yells during the parade.

She suggested "dressing up" the parade in other respects with special attention to the marriage ceremony and the snake dance.

Whitewashing Pavement Third Prize

Mr. Riggs contributed the idea of whitewashing peppy expressions on the pavement around school, on Main (Continued on page six)

—S—

Chicago Nursery Meet Was of Great Value, Say Stout Delegates

Miss Smith and Miss Cruise Are Representatives of Stout at Convention

Miss Smith, director of the nursery school, and Miss Cruise, who plans and manages the feeding of the nursery school children, attended the Conference of Nursery School Workers which was held in The Stevens Hotel, Chicago, Ill., October 23 to 26.

The conference proved to be interesting and valuable because there were present representative people from every phase of the nursery school work.

Eminent Educators Speak

At the first general meeting E. C. Lindeman, Consulting Director of the National Council of Parent Education gave an address in which he outlined the organization to be followed by the conference. A discussion on the "Philosophy Underlying Early Childhood Education" was conducted by Dr. Goodwin E. Watson, Teachers' College, Columbia University.

General meetings were held every morning and evening. The sectional meetings were held in the afternoon. One of the general meetings was in the form of an observation trip, and one took the form of a dinner. At this dinner, Dr. E. Anderson, Director of the Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota, gave an address on "The Practical Bearing of Current (Continued on page six)

Stout Band Is Best In Recent Years

The Stout Band, always one of the best small college bands in the state, has this year proved itself worthy of the reputation which it has attained.

When first organized this fall it was discovered that over half of the musicians were new members of the organization. By constant practice and incessant drill under the leadership of Mr. Ingraham, they have developed into a band of the first class.

At the present time there are forty in the organization, very near half the number being freshmen. This speaks well for a nucleus for years to come.

During the season so far a new sousaphone has been purchased, and this, combined with two other such instruments gives the band a bass section of high quality and rounds out the instrumentation perfectly.

Their first concert was given Oct. 24 in the auditorium and they also marched to the football field last Saturday afternoon preceding the Stout-Superior football game.

—S—

Girls at Homemakers Vie With Spooks in Halloween Party

Elaborate Decorations, Novelties, and Stunts Contribute to Happy Evening

Homemaker's Cottage was the scene of a gay Halloween party on Wednesday night, the guests being Miss Jeter, Francis Schroeder, Anita Gundlach, Edna Matthews, Grace Linderson and Alice Haslerud.

The cottage furnished a typical Halloween setting. Lighted jack-o-lanterns perched on the mantle and in various dark corners of the room, and a low, crackling fire in the fireplace created the desired atmosphere.

As the girls assembled around the fireplace, each girl was given a slip of paper containing full directions for a stunt. Much amusement was furnished by Miss Strayer, who demonstrated her ability to ride a broom as the witches do.

A peanut hunting contest afforded some keen competition. The winner of the hunt was given the opportunity (Continued on page five)

—S—

Welcome, Alumni

In placing here, in the Stoutonia, a word of greeting to our many friends among the Alumni who will be with us on Saturday, and who certainly will be favored guests. We feel that a modest reminder and appeal is equally important with an expression of welcome.

We are extremely anxious to have hundreds of visitors on this occasion. We are equally anxious that they shall all be happy in their contact here and that they shall leave feeling that Stout is justifying their good opinion of it. We know that each year records improvement in student personnel, teacher preparation, school equipment and curriculum development, and we want the Alumni to know it too. The student attitude toward the Alumni, the whole-hearted recognition and reception of the old grads, will help materially. Here's hoping that we may all get together in the spirit of family congeniality, and loyalty.

Let Saturday be a real celebration!

Burton E. Nelson.
President.

S. S. A Vice-Pres. Appointed

At a joint meeting of the College Government Committee and the S. S. A. officers on Wednesday evening, Dorothy Williams was appointed to fill the vacancy in the Vice-presidency of the Stout Student Association.

Miss Eleanor Overby, who was the former Vice-president of the S. S. A. resigned a few weeks ago when she withdrew from school. She is now attending the University of Minn.

—S—

Governor is Guest at Week-end Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Brown had the most unusual and delightful pleasure of being hosts to Governor Christianson of Minnesota, last Sunday. Governor and Mrs. Christianson were accompanied to Menomonie by their son, Theodore Jr., Mrs. Donaldson, and Miss Hall, both of St. Paul.

The group included also President and Mrs. Nelson, Dean and Mrs. Bowman and Dean Michaels. They were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Brown at a dinner party held in the Band Box Sunday. Governor Christianson was very glad of the opportunity of visiting Stout Institute.

They returned to St. Paul the same evening.

Societies Make Bids For New Members

Rush! Rush! Rush! The past week so many girls seemed to be in such a hurry, hither and yon. Maybe there was a fire? Maybe there was an important letter to read? But most likely they were going to an entertainment for prospective members of the various societies.

Hush! Hush! Hush! Who is going what and where? It is the present campus mystery. Enie, meenie, minie, moe—are these the magic words? Or perhaps they are—"to be or not to be." Best of luck to them all.

Also, we wonder what all the suitcases and bags that the boys are carrying around are for—and the dolls! It appears that either a crime has been committed or that the nursery school has been robbed, or else some advertising genius has let the boys know of the absolute necessity of dolls to human happiness.

In other words, the S. T. S. initiations in effect. Luck to the "innocents" involved. May the next paddle be padded.

—S—

Physical Exams Are Completed, and Much Improvement is Shown

Postures, Weights, and General Conditions Show Value of Check-up

During the last month, physical examinations have been given to the students of the H. E. and I. E. departments by Miss Wangen, the school nurse, and by Dr. Julius Blom, the school doctor.

Last year was the first year that the examinations were given to the entire student body, and there has been decided improvement in the physical condition of a majority of students since that time. It is interesting to note the marked interest of the students in their general health which is evidenced by their ready response to the notices of their appointments.

Posture and Weight Improve

The greatest improvement was shown in posture and in gain in weight. Here the women outranked the men, probably due to the study of posture in some of their classes. The teeth and tonsils were fairly well (Continued on page five)

Dance is Climax to Grid Game, Parade, And General Welcome

Registration in Progress; Begin Entertainment with Play This Evening

Nature has decreed that this is the time for all birds to migrate (with the exception of Al Capone, who is wintering in Philadelphia). To all the Stout alumni who have braved the elements to attend this Homecoming, we extend our heartiest greetings, and as to those who have found that it is impossible to attend, we wish that you might have been here.

"The Family Upstairs", a farce in three acts, by Harry Delf, will be the opening feature of Homecoming, to be presented at 8:15 o'clock tonight in the Stout Auditorium by the Manual Arts Players. The production is under the direction of Miss Violet M. Hassler.

The play is a comedy of the average American family life, in which the members place themselves in peculiar situations which are highly entertaining and amusing. The players assure you of a laugh a minute during the performance, and of some that will keep you chuckling for a number of days.

Pajama Parade to Follow Play

Immediately following the play, will be the usual pajama parade and the bonfire activities at the Stout field on Broadway. The students, faculty, and alumni will form the pajama line at the west entrance to the Home Economics building and will follow the band and wedding procession to the field.

At the bonfire the Frosh class president will marry the Soph vice-president, to do away with all animosities which have culminated since September. The administration suggests (Continued on page six)

—S—

Pres. Nelson Reviews Stout Accomplishments In Report to Board

State Board Asks for Additional Report on Present Situation Here

President Nelson submitted his regular monthly report to the Board of Trustees of The Stout Institute last Tuesday, at the Pfister Hotel in Milwaukee. All the members of the board were present with the exception of Supt. Callahan.

The President's report covered such items as the increases in enrollment, the changes made in Industrial Education department, adding new safety devices to the elevators or rather provision for increasing the safety of the elevators, the repairs that have been made to some of the buildings, and the changes in the faculty. President Nelson also submitted to the board his revised annual budget covering all items of expenditure for the fiscal year 1929-1930.

General Survey to be Given

Following the presentation of these reports, a resolution was passed by the board asking President Nelson to submit as early as possible a rather elaborate survey of all the departments in The Stout Institute.

The Board wants to know just what teachers are enrolled, how many students are attending Stout, the number of classes taught by each teacher and the salary of each teacher. Not (Continued on page six)

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office,
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                                             |                        |
|---------------------------------------------|------------------------|
| Managing Editor .....                       | Lester L. Hawkes       |
| Associate Editor.....                       | Irma L. Nichols        |
| News Editor .....                           | Elizabeth A. Williams  |
| News Editor .....                           | John Barber            |
| Assistant .....                             | Bernard C. Hagen       |
| Assistant .....                             | Belinda I. Hendrickson |
| Sports Editor .....                         | William J. Micheels    |
| Assistant (I. E.) .....                     | Frode Anderson         |
| Assistant (H. E.) .....                     | Helen Chamberlin       |
| Feature Editor .....                        | Henriette L. Quilling  |
| Feature Editor .....                        | Bernice G. Bricker     |
| Exchange Editor .....                       | William J. Soucie      |
| Humor Editor .....                          | Harold F. Taufman      |
| Assistant Humor Editor.....                 | Al J. Poelinger        |
| Society Editor.....                         | Aneta Gundlach         |
| Cartoonist .....                            | Kathleen L. Lind       |
| Head-Line Writer .....                      | Stuart Carnes          |
| Business Manager .....                      | Earl C. Halverson      |
| Circulation Manager .....                   | Robert G. Reick        |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....             | Carl Roll              |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....             | Al Reinhold            |
| Advertising Manager .....                   | Marlo McCullough       |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr. ....                 | Donald K. Lind         |
| Make-up Foreman and Pressman .....          | Kent Riggs             |
| Under Direction of.....C. W. Hague          |                        |
| Editorial Adviser.....Mr. John Faville, Jr. |                        |
| Associate Adviser.....Miss Helen Sarchet    |                        |

DEDICATED TO ALUMNI

We hereby dedicate this issue of THE STOUTONIA to the alumni who have returned to Stout for the greatest of all school events—Homecoming.

We trust that you will find in our columns items that will interest you; items that will bring memories of the years which you spent at your Alma Mater.

Alumni, THE STOUTONIA offers you a most hearty welcome.

WELCOME ALUMNI

Welcome home, alumni, to your Alma Mater. You have returned to the school of your choice; to scenes that are familiar and dear to your memory.

Extensive plans have been completed for staging the biggest of all Homecoming celebrations, and it is for your entertainment that these plans have been made. The pep meeting, the pajama parade, the football game, and all the other forms of entertainment on the program have been planned to show you that Stout is still alive and growing, and worthy to be called your Alma Mater.

You are the product of this school and your success contributes to Stout's success. To you, we undergraduates look for the fulfillment of the school's ideals, for in you we see mirrored the tomorrow of our own lives. Everything you undertake and accomplish is a shining example for us to follow, and the reflection which you cast upon us will have a great deal to do in shaping our lives, so as to attain achievements equal to those which you now possess.

Though your life out in the world is lived apart from Stout, though out there you are a graduate of Stout—you will live again in today's events your life of yesterday. This all too short glimpse into the past brings you a happiness that we have not yet known, but our efforts are maintained with the hope that we too, may some day come back to view with pride, and longing, and love the Alma Mater which helped to make possible our dreams.

Through this issue of THE STOUTONIA we speak for the entire school in extending you, our alumni, a most hearty and cordial welcome.

OUR LIBRARY

In the last issue of THE STOUTONIA we published a list of books which have just been purchased and installed in the library.

The books have been selected as fitting material to be used in conjunction with the various lines of work carried on here, and it would be well worth our time to study them.

Little do we realize the amount of money spent in preparing this excellent library which is always at our command. We cannot visualize the time spent by the authors of these many volumes in preparing their material, the years spent in research work, compiling facts so that we might have them at a moments notice to aid us in our work.

Let us think before we pass up these books; weigh the value of their contents and its value to our work and then use them properly.

Here & There

Until this year, when Superior spoiled the record, River Fall's goal line had never been crossed in a Homecoming football game. The Falls had been beaten only once; that was in their first Homecoming game in 1922 when Oshkosh kicked a goal to win 3-0.—The Student Voice.

St. Mary's College, Winona, is just completing a new athletic field. When completed it will be equipped with a gridiron, baseball diamond, soccer and indoor field, tennis courts, volley-ball courts, hockey rink and ample room for minor sports.

Although is is not completed as yet, the foot ball field was used October 5, in a game with Dubuque University. It was apparently put to good use, because St. Mary's won 78-0—a fitting inauguration for a new athletic field.—The Nexus.

One that Strikes Home!

Senior:—How many cigarettes do you smoke a day?

Soph:—Any given number.

—The Nexus.

And then there was Washington, first in war, first in peace and near the bottom of the American League.

Some one else is in the same boat as Stout. Read these from the Oshkosh Teachers sheet:

Green Caps

"If it is the duty of the Sophomores to see that the Frosh wear green caps, why isn't it carried out?

When we became a college, granting degrees, etc., the Freshmen began to wear green caps. It gave to the campus more of a college atmosphere. This year possibly three or four fellows have been seen with their colors.

Are the Sophomores lying down on the job and must the upper classmen take a hand?

Alpha Pi, the oldest fraternity at Bradley Tech claims to be the oldest local fraternity in the state of Illinois. It was founded in 1899, one year after the foundation of Bradley Tech itself.—The Bradley Tech.

Central State Teachers College, Stevens Point, has a new teaching laboratory. In it are included an up-to-date ventilation system, a large well-equipped gymnasium, and observation rooms. In the latter, the observers, are seated behind low partitions at the rear, so as not to disturb those who are being observed.—The Pointer.

In the editorial section of a recent copy of "The Hamline Oracle" we find a scorching write-up to the effect that only ten of the forty people eligible for band work turned out and that as a consequence, the band had to be discontinued. This is just another point in favor of our loyal band members!

"Oil-burning furnaces may be a boon to the houseowner, but they are a blight to ambitious students, who hoped to shovel their way thru the University of Wisconsin," comments the director of student employment office at the U. of W.

"More than 1200 students have applied at the office for work and there aren't nearly enough jobs to go around reports the Madison State Journal.

—S—

Orchestra of Forty To Make First Bow

Another item which will make Homecoming for the alumni more realistic is the appearance of the newly organized Stout Institute orchestra. The orchestra has already made considerable progress under the direction of Harold Taufman and will make its first public appearance during Homecoming.

Forty Members Enrolled

The organization began with a fairly good enrollment and has at the present time a permanent membership of about forty, which no doubt speaks favorably for the continuance of the organization. Considerable music has already been obtained and President Nelson has agreed to further the organization to the utmost if sufficient interest is maintained.

'Homecoming Here Is Purty Keen, Maw,' Says Her Son Heinie

Famous Campus Scribe Writes The Home Folks All About It

Dear Maw:

Homecomin is here again maw and I'm gonna celebrate by writin to ya. How are you—I hope youre not anywors than the last time i saw you. Homecomin at this skool is purty darn keen, maw. Evrybuddy thats within a couple thousan miles tries to come back to their ol alma Mater, even if they cant they write letters of regret to Buck, our prexy de looks.

Its good to see the old grads back too. Guys like this here crazy Reppe and Jocko Notabaart and handsome Mike Cvengros. There'ss be lots of koeds back too, but they dont intrest me nomore. Im wonderin whether this blond haired Eyetalian Curly Carellee will be back. We all wish he wuz cuz we'd like to hear and see him play that ole skweez box that he used to play.

Our dramattick club, the manyul arts Players is startin the celebration with a play called the Family Upstairs. Its about a familee thats always fightin so i wish you an paw cud see it. maybe you cud get a few more pointers. From whut they tells me about it, its gonna be a wow and I'm gonna see that I'm johnnie on the spot. After this play the gang will be rarin to go and they can take their rarin out by donnin their pajamaz and paradin to the stout lot where the big bonfire will be made. They tell me that fire are built not made, and maw if you cud see this fire you cud see that it was built too, not home made. They gets all the boxes and paper and junk and stuff that everybuddy saves for this okashun. The pile is about 25 feet hi and then when its doo time they lite her up oh gosh, maw what a fire that makes. The flames go way up in the air announcin to the world around us that stout is onse again celebratin their famous homecomin. Its a grand and glorious nite maw, and it makes everybuddy feel happier and glad they picked this skool to prepare them to face the world.

Then when the blazes run high the guys and gurls in their pajamas play ring around the rozee around it. After a little while the famous wedding starts that supposed to end the fightin between the freshmen and sophomore class but this year it wont end any becuz there isn't any to end. Honest maw, i never saw two deader classes in my life here. Just when us guys gets far enough learned so that we cud sit on the sidelines and watch em mix er up they dont mix. Its ben d'isgustin as kin be and it makes us older kids feel purty bad becuz believe me when we was fresh from the farm and green we did some fightin to show the boys that we wuznt so green as we looked. Well anyway maw, its a prty good weddin and after that we watch the bonfire grow dead and then we hit for town and make boom. After that we hit for home and wait for mornin to kome. In the mornin the girls play sokker but i cant imagine gruls sockin each other so i think I'll sleep thru it.

At eleven bells the pep assemblee is held. I dont know what the assemblee is gonna be about but they got some plentee peppy kids on the kommittee in charge so it ought to be purty hot.

Then with lumps of excitement in our throats we go home and try to eat dinner. About 1 bell the parade starts in which the band marches and each club in skool enters a float. There are keen floats and funny ones each club tryin to outdoo the next one. Well, the prade marches to the fairgrounds where the final game of the seezun will be held. The team has had tuff lunk this year and lotsa grumblers are grumblin and whinin about our defeets. Some of these kids dont have no skool spirit at all—now dont get me wrong maw, its not the kind of spirits youse thinkin of. Skool spirit is the way you feel toward your skool and youre team. its the stuff that makes you yell an cheer

(Continued on page six)

Let's Laugh

We'll say it was a hard time dance Saturday night. Everyone had a hard time dancing in that crowd.

—B—

Don't be alarmed Gentle Reader—the fellows carrying dolls and suitcases are merely would-be printers.

—B—

And how some people like to play with a spotlight during a moonlight waltz.

—B—

It is reported that the "new" printers are able to proceed with their regular duties. Some of them can even stand erect or sit down.

—B—

It's about time for the annual "Norwegian joke."

—B—

Modern girls:—"I understand that the girls of your time set their caps for men, Grandma."

Grandma:—"Yes, child, but not their kneecaps."

—B—

Why should the frosh challenge the sophs to a sack-rush? The frosh don't have to wear their green lids anyway.

—B—

"Why did you break your engagement with that school teacher?"

Tiny—"I didn't show up one night and she wanted me to bring an excuse from my mother."

—B—

"Have you anything to say, prisoner, before I pass sentence?" asked the judge.

"No, your Honor, except that it takes very little to please me."

—B—

Barney Hagen says his car will hit 60 miles an hour. We had a ride in it, and he convinced us—20 miles per hour forward and forty up and down.

—B—

Just because they have ear drums and a hat band, some freshmen think they're the whole parade.

—B—

Myself to the editor:—"Editor, I'm absolutely out of humor. My supply of it is exhausted. In fact, I'm absolutely dry."

Editor:—"Good! You're now on the staff to write dry humor."

—B—

Hyperian—"How're your new prospects?"

S. M. A.—"Great! A cadillac, three fur coats, and two heavy allowances."

—B—

Orchestra leader—"Do you play by ear?"

Piereson: "No, I read."

—B—

"May I hold your palm Olive?"

"Not on your Life Bouy!"

"Then I'm out of Lux?"

"You sure are. Ivory formed!"

—Northwestern Purple Parrot

—B—

Schaude—"Who are your favorite actors?"

Mr. Bowman:—"Lon Chaney."

—B—

Stewed:—"I shay, ol man. Hash youse got anything to cheer me up?"

Stout student—"Surely, sir, Rah! Rah! Rah!

—S—

Phases of Stout Life Depicted by Pictures

There is at the present time a very interesting pictorial review of The Stout Institute and its various activities on display in Dean Bowman's office in the Industrial Education Building.

This display consists of pictures taken about the campus showing activities from shop, classroom, laboratory, summer camp colony, and Stout buildings, including the dormitories, infirmary and home makers cottage.

Students may feel free to bring friends and relatives into the office to look over this very interesting review of all activities of the school. The case in which the pictures are mounted will be found in the northwest corner of the office of the Dean on the first floor of the Industrial building.

Trainers Are Confident of Homecoming Victory

Trainers Mar Goal Of League Leaders With Strong Attack

Show Three Quarters of Brilliant Football Despite Top-Heavy Score

Stout presented a real team to local fans last Saturday in the clash with the league leaders from Superior—with the exception of one disastrous quarter, when a medley of errors, the brilliant Yellow Jacket attack, and a streak of bewilderment resulted in four touchdowns for the opposition. The score was 45-8.

The first quarter was even, the second was disastrous, except for two points on a safety, the third gave the Tubbsmen a touchdown and the fourth added only one more to the total. Despite the score, the Trainers felt an enemy goal line, and piled up enough first down to prove they have an offense against an outfit in their class.

First Quarter

Superior kicked off to Cronk on the 28 yard line, and Jeff brought it back to the 32. After two attempts, Paulus kicked to the Superior 35 line, but Superior punted back to Stout's 20 line. Brownsey fumbled on the 15, Superior recovering. The Trainers stopped three plays, Harmon, playing defensive end, throwing them for a loss. On the fourth down Superior passed, a yellow jacket snatching it just as Brownsey started to ground it, over the goal line. They kicked the extra point. Score: Superior 7; Stout 0.

Lou Paulus received the kick-off on his 25 line, returning it 13 yards. Hoernamann skirted right end for 11 and a first down. Hank crashed twice for another first down on the Superior 38 line. A pretty pass and catch, Hoernamann to Rude, covered the rest of the way for the first Stout touchdown of the season. The kick just missed. Score: Superior 7; Stout 6.

Superior received the next kickoff and slipped around Stout's left side on the return to the home 40 yard line. They made 8 on a pass. They opened up guard for another 12. Cronk threw them for an eight yard loss, they grounded a pass, and punted out of bounds just beyond the line of scrimmage. Lou exchanged the punt. Superior advanced steadily on spinner plays, covering most of the field to the Stout 7 line as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter

Rude recovered Superior's fumble on the first play of the second period, but Hoernamann fumbled on the Stout 2 yard line, Superior recovering. Stout held once, but the goal was made. The kick was missed. Score: 13-6.

Cronk got the kickoff again and returned it nine yards to his 34 line. Hoernamann passed to Lou for a first down in mid-field. Hoernamann fumbled, but recovered, and Fordham annexed four yards. Hoernamann got caught on an attempted pass, and lost 15. The demoralization was on. A bad pass from center went over Lou's head but he picked it up and got off a short punt. Stout tackling became atrocious, and two delayed spinner plays went thru the Stout line for another Superior touchdown. Their pass for point failed. Score: 19-6.

Kube, Wolfgram, and Cossette were sent in, but Stout failed to pick up the kick off. Superior recovered, and circled the Stout right side for the fourth marker, but failed on the point. Score: 25-6.

More Poor Work

O'Connell went in. Stout returned the kickoff to the 35 line, but the next play was an intercepted pass which a yellow jacket carried along the side line for the sixth touchdown. They bucked the point across this time. Score: 32-6. Muller, Micheels, and Maerszke went in.

Superior delivered another short

Captain "Mac" Morrison of Stout

If ever a captain has had the good, old never-say-die spirit, "Mac" is the boy. He has never gone into a game expecting to get licked, and in fighting spirit, he never HAS been licked. He's a standby at the guard position, and the type of player leader which a team is lucky to have.

kickoff to the Stout 35 line. Stout passed for a first down, and again for 8 yards, but the next tries were incomplete, and Lou delivered another sweet punt to the Superior 7 yard line. Their attempt to run it out around the Blue's left side cost them a safety. Score: 32-8.

Superior's kickoff from their 20 line was downed on their 40. Pass was incomplete, but should have been a Stout touchdown. Another pass was intercepted as the half ended.

Second Half—a New Team

Stout came back and played real ball the rest of the game except for one or two brief spasms. They showed a spirit which should win for them tomorrow. Coach Paulus evidently showed them the significance of the abominable second quarter, during the rest period. The starting line-up went back in. Coach Tubbs was not making substitutions, either.

Hoernamann returned the kick 8 yards to the Stout 38 line. Stout passed for a 9 yards gain, and Fordham smashed for a first down. Swede took the ball twice more for another first down to Superior's 39 line. Passes were grounded, and Lou's punt went over the goal line.

From their 20 line, Superior made two first downs, but nice defensive work by Penn and Harmon stopped them and they punted to Stout's 46 line. Hoernamann went eight yards, but penalties prevented keeping the ball and Lou punted another pretty ball to the Superior 20. Then a flat zone pass got away, and Superior went 79 yards, and pushed over another marker on the next play. Point was missed. Score: 38-8.

Game Begins to Look Even

The rest of the third quarter was see-saw. Hoernamann's knee went bad, and Micheels directed. As the third quarter ended, Lou placed a 45 yard punt on the Superior 8 yard line. Superior could not gain and kicked to Swede on his 45 line. He returned it 10, and made enough for a first down on two plays, but penalties halted Stout again. Paulus punted over the goal.

From their 20 line, Superior ran wild to the Stout goal line on a steady series of cleverly executed plays and passes. They ran the point, making the score 45-8. Wolfgram was sent back in. It was not until this point that Tubbs risked his second team. Stout added one first down and several valiant attempts, and proved it could gain on running plays, before the melee ended.

The lineup which started both halves was, left to right: Paulus, Cronk, Bielecki, Penn, Capt. Morrison, and Wallin; backfield: Hoernamann, Rude, Brownsey and Fordham, Harmon. Every one showed flashes of competence, and serious lapses. Praises must be delayed until after tomorrow.

Basket Ball Assumes Front Stage Monday; New Men Promising

Cage Stars to Limber Up in "Wild-Cat" Tournery, Starting Monday

Pre-season indications are that the basketball team will be better than it has been the last three years. It is expected that the insertion of several new men who are in STOUT this year will give the Blue Devils a better "batting average" than they have had in some time.

Decker, Notebaart, Opem and Cven-gros, of last year's team are missing. The letter men now in school are Schaudé, Paulus, Rude, Hanson and Micheels. In addition, Leon Haase, and Adolph Fordham from last year's frosh team, will be available. Of the freshmen, Stori, of Menomonie, and Buross of Superior, Peterson, who played two years with Eau Claire Normal, and others will be on hand to bid for places on the team. Undoubtedly some additional prospects will be unearthed during the "wild-cat Tournament."

Intra-Mural Begins Next Week

Each team entering the wildcat tournament may register not more than six players of which not more than two may be basketball letter men. This holds good whether letter was earned here or elsewhere. Lists are to be in the coach's office not later than 5 p. m. today. (Friday, Nov. 1st.)

Drawings will then be made and either the captain or a team member should be present.

First elimination games will be played Nov. 5th or 6th, and no postponements will be allowed as the tournament must be out of the way as soon as possible to make way for varsity practice. It has been suggested that each "Wildcat" contribute 10 cents to a pot to be used for a feed for the winning team, and a vote on this matter will be taken by the captains today.

Captain Larson, of Eau Claire

Eau Claire's player leader has won for himself a reputation of steadiness and consistency which has made him a fine type of captain. The way his team rallied against Stevens Point two weeks ago in the Eau Claire Homecoming, shows that he leads a fighting outfit.

Coach "Bill" Zorn of Eau Claire

Next to ourselves, we'd like to see "Bill" and his valiant men have a really successful season, for his spirit of fairness and his fine type of leadership have made him not only popular at Eau Claire, but also among his conference rivals. Coach Zorn writes, "I wish for you the best of Homecomings, with one exception—a victory. Don't hate me for that." We won't have the chance to "hate" you, Coach Zorn.

Coach "Syl" Paulus of Stout

From the standpoint of victories, "Syl" has seen an unsuccessful season. But by the way he has torn into unsurmountable obstacles that lay in the path of full success this year, he has won the esteem and appreciation of his players and the students more than ever before. This afternoon will produce the finishing "sweet taste" to which his courageous fight for success this season entitles him.

Stout Holds Margin On Eau Claire Squad

Since the five-year armistice between Stout and Eau Claire Teachers College was discontinued in the fall of 1925, Stout has retained the edge over the neighbors by winning two games, tying one, and losing one.

It will be recalled by homecomers that the two teams did not clash from 1920 to 1924. The years before that should not be recalled. (In fact, incomplete Stoutonia files make it impossible, anyway.) It is satisfying to know that the two teams have been so nearly on a par recently. The results follow:

1925—Eau Claire 28, Stout 7 (here)
1926—Stout 0, Eau Claire 0 (there)
1927—Stout 8, Eau Claire 0 (here)
1928—Stout 14, Eau Claire 13 (there)

Coach Paulus' regime began in 1927 so his team has not bowed to the enemy yet. Former Coach Gerber of Eau Claire finished his work there with a zero tie against Stout, while Coach Zorn says he hopes to make his record at Eau Claire consist of 50-50 results against Stout by beating the Trainers tomorrow. Coach Paulus insists that three straight wins over Eau Claire will be small enough satisfaction, and that he can afford to show no mercy on them tomorrow. The players feel the same way—

Homecoming Contests Reviewed Since '25

Of the past four Homecoming football games, Stout has won two and lost two. Eau Claire was the Homecoming attraction in 1927, the result being a Stout victory, 8 to 0. THE STOUTONIA says that Stout had a much bigger edge than the score indicated, but a muddy field prevented scores.

In 1925, interestingly enough, after last Saturday's game, Superior came down here for Homecoming and was beaten by Bud Miller's Trainers, 6 to 0. (The next year, Stout furnished the Homecoming opposition at Superior, and was beaten. Superior has continued the trouncing ever since.)

Last Two Rather Sad

In 1926 River Falls spoiled the day by giving the Homecoming crowd a 21-6 score to mourn over. 1927 saw the victory over Eau Claire. Last year saw a hard-fighting Stout bow to superior strength in the person of Stevens Point, and go down, 25 to 7.

An expected part of the much-heralded "bigger and better" Homecoming, which begins today, will be the victory over Eau Claire tomorrow afternoon. That will give Stout three Homecoming wins out of the past five.

Eau Claire is Ready Too, so Tremendous Battle is a Certainty

Squad is in Excellent Condition and Promises Glorious Season Finale

Confident at last! Overconfident? Certainly not. But those Trainers of Coach Paulus' have a win in their sytems; this is the last chance to get it out; this is the logical time, anyway. Therefore, out it comes—against Eau Claire Teachers college gridders to the fair grounds at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Coach Zorn of the visitors refuses to concede that much. And well he may refuse, for his team has given him a come-back demonstration already, in their Homecoming game against Stevens Point, which was enough to make any coach die happy.

On the Other Hand

On the other hand, it will take a better team than Eau Claire has been so far to beat the scrappers from Stout tomorrow. The Purple have several advantages, but they won't be enough. They have rested two weeks after that Stevens Point victory of 19-0. They have tasted victory and gained confidence. They are always stepped-up miles over their heads when they meet Stout.

But their 19-0 victory was over a team which so completely outplayed them in the first three quarters that there wasn't an Eau Claire nickle in sight. Stevens Point was no team at all in the fourth quarter of that warm day two weeks ago, and completely died after Eau Claire counted its first touchdown with six minutes to go. Anyway, in preparation, we prefer to remember that Eau Claire bowed to Superior 51 to 0—worse than we did.

Stout in Fine Shape

The Blue will be handicapped but very little with injuries tomorrow, unless something happens early in the game. Coach Paulus has made one major change in his lineup, that of starting Bud Micheels at quarterback. Bud is going to call signals without the huddle in the last game, a job for which he is fitted in every way. Fordham, who gained plenty of ground against Superior, will play in back, with Harmon for crashes, and Rude out on the blocking wing.

There is no doubt of Frank Novascone and Jeff Cronk at the tackles after last Saturday, for both big boys can play ball. The guards are still a problem, and problems in the last game aren't funny. Captain Morrison will start at one, and Bielecki, Wolfgram, or Corsette may be the choice at the other.

Ends Have Job Tomorrow

The coach remembers the end runs which nearly cost Stout the game at Eau Claire last year, and has figured accordingly. His brother, Lu, will be at one wing, as Lu's punting and receiving are one of the team's most valuable assets. Rusty Wallin may be placed at the other end. He's a crashing tackler when he makes up his mind to it, and can snap passes.

Stout's offense looked sweet in practice this week. The team has some beautiful plays, and are beginning to execute them, for they were a group of entirely inexperienced players six weeks ago, and are now feeling the veteran's confidence. Eau Claire has a foxy offense also, and the game will probably be one of tricks, unless one or the other finds unexpected weaknesses to hammer at.

And if the battle begins to create casualties both teams are fairly well fixed in reserve men. The above-named starters for Stout are by no means all that the Coach may use. He will jerk a weak sister quickly, probably, for tomorrow is no time for inexcusable errors. But there won't be any errors!

Gang, this page is with you, tooth, nail, and whatever else you want!

Question Box

What do you think of changing the Girls Club Rooms to the Harvey Memorial?

Helen Bunker, Senior—The idea of converting the Harvey Memorial into a Girl's Living Room is a good one. As it is now, the Harvey Memorial is a lifeless meeting room with no particular function. If it were made into an attractive girl's room, it would not only provide a more accessible place for club meetings, but would present an entirely different, more inviting view from the outside. It would provide during the day a social center for girls. The boys have their exclusive center, and as this is a Home Economics Building, there should be some provision for all the women. The Y. W. Club room provides for only those girls who belong to societies.

The room as it stands is too long for good proportion, but it would be possible to make an improvised kitchen by screening off the west end where electric plates could be installed and the Y. W. dishes stored. Helen Novak, Junior—I think that changing the Girl's Club Rooms to the Harvey Memorial would be a fine idea, considering it from the standpoint that the girls seldom use the Club Rooms except for special meetings of organizations, and then for only a few hours. If the Harvey Memorial were finished as a living room, it would be used more than the Club Rooms are now, and would also provide a social meeting place for the girls. This would create more friendly feeling among the dormitory and town girls.

Ruth Lindall, Senior—I am in favor of the Girl's Club rooms being changed to the Harvey Memorial. Why shouldn't the Girls Club Rooms be in the Home Economics Building, which is the girl's building? At the present time there is no room available for the girls in which they can gather during school hours. However, there would be one drawback in this arrangement, that of serving refreshments for any parties which might be given by the girls.

Jane Foeller, Senior—I think that it would be an advantage to the women to have the Club Rooms in the H. E. building. The only objection is the lack of the kitchenette. The suggestions offered to overcome this objection hardly seem adequate. Unless better kitchen facilities can be had we certainly should not accept the suggestion for the exchange of Club Rooms.

Mildred Dingee, Senior—I think that such a change would be very desirable. Having the Girls Club Rooms located in the Harvey Memorial would make a more integral unit of our Home Economics activities, and this fact should result in better Club participation. After the Harvey Memorial is re-decorated, the new Club Room should be made into a room open to the girls at all hours of the day is a clever one. The entire plan should work out successfully as most of the girls approve of it, and are anticipating the change.

Ardella Anderson, Junior—I can see advantages and disadvantages for both plans. Having a general living room in the H. E. building would be a splendid thing. The Harvey Memorial could be made into a very pleasant and attractive meeting place, and it is in a much more obscure location than the Y. W. Club Rooms. As it is, the room and the new piano get very little use. However, if the Girl's Club Rooms are given up, the three gym club rooms will be for the men students, and the girls will have no specified meeting place as they now have. We would lose the kitchenette and its facilities for serving refreshments at our club meetings, but it might be arranged so that the Band Box would be open for such occasions. I do not believe that it would be as satisfactory as the present arrangement in the Y. W. Club Rooms. I'd like to see the Harvey Memorial

Trade, Social Growth
Is Aim of New Club
Now Being Formed

Reprint of Stoutonia Article Is Made to Inform Grads of Tentative Plans

It will undoubtedly be of interest to returning alumni that there are very definite plans being worked out for the formation of a new club at Stout. The nature of the club will be slightly different from any now existing on the campus. THE STOUTONIA takes the liberty of re-printing an article which appeared some time ago, which gives the details of the formation of this club and which will no doubt be of interest to the returning students.

Vocational Club Planned
"A faculty committee is cooperating with a student committee on formulating plans leading to the formation of a Vocational club for men. The purpose of this club is planned to be along the lines of interest professionally."

"Plans have not as yet, however, been completed in sufficient detail to publish a specific plan of organization at this time. A very keen interest is being shown in the club by those interviewed and it is expected that the plans will be made definite at an early date. "Stout Institute has numerous clubs of social and semi-professional natures, but this club will undoubtedly be the most highly specialized club in school along this line. It will give students more of a chance to develop along professional lines in proportion to their development socially."

Normal Schools Rushed,
Regents Report Shows

An increase in enrollment of more than 200 students is noted in the state's nine teachers colleges, according to E. G. Doudna, secretary of the normal school regents. He remarked that the largest increases are at Milwaukee and Eau Claire. The figures follow: Eau Claire, 419; La Crosse, 650; Milwaukee, 1,317; Oshkosh, 541; Platteville, 350; River Falls, 407; Stevens Point, 352; Superior, 717, and Whitewater, 428. Stout Institute enrollment was about 425 when these reports were taken.

Faculty Members Plan
For Milwaukee Meet

Plans have not been finally arranged for the attendance of the faculty of The Stout Institute at the Milwaukee State Teachers convention, but there is a strong possibility that several members of both the Industrial Education and Home Economics faculty will attend next Thursday and Friday. President Nelson, Deans Bowman and Michaels, Misses Smith and Ganz, Messrs Brown, Davison, Early, Green, Hague, Hansen, Keith, Kranzusch, Paul Nelson, Tustison, and Welch are planning to attend.

made into a living room, if the Y. W. Club Rooms could be retained for the girls to use. Georgia Aber, Junior—The Club Rooms are too far away. Often girls leave without coming to a meeting because they dislike climbing the stairs. It would be more cozy and homelike to have the Harvey Memorial as a meeting place. It would make an inviting room in which to bring visitors to rest or tarry. The Club Rooms are never open except with permission, and therefore never could be made into as convenient a place as the Harvey Memorial could. In conclusion I think that one room on the third floor of the gym should be left so that the men and women could hold social gatherings there if they feel that they need a larger place with a kitchen. I do not believe that the men need three recreation rooms.

Next Week's Calendar

|                                           |
|-------------------------------------------|
| Mon.—Stoutonia Staff, 5 p. m.             |
| Mon.—Science Club, 5 p. m.                |
| Mon.—Men's Glee Club, 7 p. m.             |
| Mon.—Women's Glee Club, 7 p.m.            |
| Tues.—Band, 7 p. m.                       |
| Tues.—Philo, 7 p. m.                      |
| Wed.—Rifle Club, 7 p. m.                  |
| Wed.—Metallurgy Club, 7 p. m.             |
| Wed.—Y. W. C. A., 5 p. m.                 |
| Thurs.—Arema, 7:30 p. m.                  |
| Thurs.—Orchestra, 7 p. m.                 |
| Thurs.—Hyperian, 5 p. m.                  |
| Fri.—Men's Glee Club dance, (November 8.) |
| Sat.—Hyperian Kid Party (November 9.)     |

Graduate Wins $1000
in Journal Contest

Word has been received that Mr. Harvard C. Smith of Kenosha, Wis., a degree graduate of Stout Institute in 1925, won a $1,000 prize as first place winner in the Milwaukee Journal Famous Faces contest. The contest, which started on June 2, and closed on August 4, consisted of matching and identifying the pictures of famous statesmen, presidents, athletes, movie stars and other widely known people. The Stoutonia offers its congratulations to Mr. Smith on his success.

—S—

Don't forget, alumni, to register as quickly as possible.

Flashball Final Comes
Tomorrow at Ten

The final clash between freshmen and sophomore girls will come Saturday at 10:00 in the gym when they will play the annual Homecoming flashball game. This feature of Homecoming was introduced last year and promises to become a very essential part of this Homecoming, and to those that come in the future. Each team is pepped up and out for a win at this crucial time when the desired supremacy is the stake. The classmates of the teams will be there in legion to cheer their players on to victory, and the other classes and alumni will surely miss a thrill if they neglect to attend the contest.

"Socking" Is Essential

Flashball is a game of little organization, with seven players on each team. It is played with a volleyball and uses many of the rules of baseball. The batter steps up to the line and "socks" the ball with her hand. The opposing team gets control of the ball and attempts to hit the batter with it. The batter aims to run to a safety zone at the opposite end of the floor, and back without getting hit. If she succeeds, the team scores one point. The freshman class will be represented by June Lockhart, Marie Schroeder, Velma Gutwasser, Miriam Moore, Rhoda Rossler, and Jean Moe, for the starting line-up. Ruth Hossman, Virginia Bechtol, Edna Eichorst, Virginia Schlumpf, and Eleanor

Homecoming

The wind whistles around the eaves,
Snow is covering the fallen leaves;
Streets are bare, clear and cold,
The world takes on a different mold
It's Homecoming.

The ground is brown, and crisp and light,
The gridiron is a glorious sight;
The grads came in, just over night,
The motto turns to, "Fight gang, fight!"
It's Homecoming.

The purple can't win on a cold day,
Eau Claire's victory is far away;
Stout will win—wait and see,
Let's help cheer the boys to victory.
It's Homecoming.
—Contributed by Ben Schwartz

Schroeder will be on deck to go into the game if anyone in the regular line-up should falter. The sophomore class has given the responsibility to Grace Quarters, Ethel Anderson, Lois Lamon, Marian Cress, Florence Verbrick, and Katherine Graslie. The other five girls who are on the sophomore squad are, Clarysse Ness, Beth Murray, Patsy Ruth Kelly, Carol McClurg, and Eldrid Wike, are set to get in and show the frosh girls how to play flashball. Possibly one of the two teams might try Rockne's plan, and start their "shock troops", but no matter how they start, or whom they start, homecomers are going to see some classy flashball.

"Eyes"
for blind flying!

Three new G-E contributions to the conquest of the air

LINDBERGH, flying blind much of the way, hit Ireland "on the nose" as he winged toward Paris. Now, as an aid to air navigation comes the magneto compass, a product of General Electric research, which gives pilots a navigating instrument of extraordinary accuracy. Meanwhile, two other General Electric contributions to aviation have been developed—the electric gasoline gauge and the radio echo altimeter. The ordinary altimeter shows only height above sea level. The radio echo altimeter warns the pilot of his actual distance above ground or water by flashing green, yellow, and red lights on the instrument board.

Every year hundreds of college-trained men and women enter the employment of General Electric. Research, similar to that which developed "eyes" for blind flying, is one of the many fields of endeavor in which they play an important part.

JOIN US IN THE GENERAL ELECTRIC HOUR, BROADCAST EVERY SATURDAY AT 9 P.M., E.S.T. ON A NATION-WIDE N.B.C. NETWORK

GENERAL  ELECTRIC

95-713DH

Society

S. M. A. Society Entertains Prospective Members

The second function of the S. M. A. society for prospective members was given Saturday night at the home of Miss Janet Clark, on Wilson avenue. Thirty-six guests were entertained.

The four course dinner was prepared and served entirely by the members of the society. Black and white, the society's colors, were effectively used in the various decorations for the occasion.

After the dinner, a short program was given. A vocal solo by John Barber, as well as several vocal selections by Jane Hambley, were much enjoyed.

—S—

Hyperians Holds Formal Dinner at Hotel Marion

The Hyperian society entertained its prospective members at a formal bridge dinner at the Hotel Marion Friday night.

At 6:30 o'clock a dainty four course dinner was served. The color scheme of yellow and white was artistically repeated both in the menu and in the chrysanthemums which formed the center of each table.

After dinner was served, the guests retired to the hotel parlor where bridge furnished the entertainment for the evening. The prize for the high score was won by Lorraine Litchfield. Florence Verbrick was given the prize for the high cut.

—S—

Corner Cupboard Is Scene of Philomathean Dinner

The Philomathean society entertained at the Corner Cupboard Wednesday in honor of its prospective members.

A three course dinner was served. The tables, including fortunes for each guest, were decorated with Halloween colors.

After dinner polo bridge was played. Each table was allowed to play eighteen minutes and then the winner passed on to the next table. The idea was to speed up the playing, so as not to have to forfeit any plays. The high score was won by Gertrude Hanson and the consolation prize by Lorraine Litchfield.

—S—

Miss McFadden Addresses Science Club

Miss McFadden addressed the Science Club at the regular meeting on Monday evening on the subject, "Recent Trends in Psychology."

The discussion which followed indicated a very general interest in the

Physical Exams Show Much Improvement

(Continued from page one)

cared for, although a number of students were advised to have their tonsils removed.

Students who are not up to standard in every way or who have defects that can be corrected, will be called in from time to time for a check-up. For those who are not in condition to take the regular strenuous gymnasium work, there will be special attention given, until they are able to take the regular workouts that everyone must go through.

"types" of individuals described.

A committee was appointed to consider the present constitution and make recommendations for revision. The report of the committee will be given at the next meeting.

—S—

Lynwood Hall to Hold Tea Saturday After Game

The following letter which the editor received is being published for the benefit of the alumni and students who expect to take advantage of the open house at Lynwood Hall immediately after the game Saturday afternoon:

To the editor:—

I noticed in a recent number of the Stoutonia that Lynwood Hall was scheduled to be "At Home" on Sunday, Nov. 3. This is a mistake and we will be pleased to have a correction made. Lynwood Hall will welcome students, alumni and faculty immediately after the game on Saturday. We hope to have a cup of hot coffee plus a very little more for all who care to drop in on the way home from the game.

Freda M. Bachman.

—S—

BEAT EAU CLAIRE!

Personals

The Misses Burgoin, Van Ness, Buchanan, Carson and Jeter of the Home Economics faculty, enjoyed a shopping tour and visit to Minneapolis and St. Paul on Saturday.

—S—

LYNWOOD HALL

Lucille Hebl, Margaret Senty, Lisle Huson, and Doris Henry enjoyed a 16 mile bicycle ride Saturday afternoon. We haven't heard anything regarding the after effects of the trip.

Dr. Bachman has returned to Lynwood after spending three weeks at her home in Toledo, Ohio.

The Lynwood girls are anticipating a large attendance at their open house which will be held at Lynwood Hall immediately after the Homecoming game on Saturday.

—S—

TAINTER ANNEX

Marie Schroeder spent the week end in Minneapolis where she attended the Minnesota-Ripon football game.

Lorraine Nordlie and Pauline Bonesho spent Saturday and Sunday at their homes in Eau Claire.

Ruth Clemens and Miriam Moore were week end visitors at Ruth's home in Amery, Wis.

Mabel Schroer was a Minneapolis visitor Saturday and Sunday.

The Annex will hold open house for the returned alumni Sunday. Graduates are invited to call at the dormitory and renew old friends and also become acquainted with those who at present make it their home.

—S—

TAINTER HALL

Margaret Allen spent the week end at her home in Fairbault, Minn.

Elna Page and Kathleen Shannon were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Harrington Sunday afternoon.

Carol Brick was an Eau Claire caller on Saturday.

Due to the arrival of "boxes" from home, several of the girls have been giving spreads the past week. Kathleen Shannon entertained the girls at a midnight luncheon Saturday night. The food was exceptionally good, but the after effects were bad, as Francis Schroeder persisted in talking in her sleep and Louise Whitehurst was caught singing negro spirituals about 3:30 Sunday morning.

Alice Haslerud and Louise Whitehurst were dinner guests of Hazelle Flaget and Mildred Dinger at Home-maker's cottage Thursday night.

On Sunday, Mrs. Dow made the usual six weeks change in the seating arrangement in the dining room. Seven new senior hostesses took their places at the heads of the tables, and the retiring hostesses were relieved from further responsibilities for the six week period. Everyone is now busy adapting herself to her new neighbors.

The change however, has not been serious enough to cause anyone to lose her appetite. Table number three still maintains its reputation of being the last table dismissed from the dining room; if Mabel Neergard weren't reducing, we'd almost believe she was the guilty party.

Girls at Homemakers Entertain at Party

(Continued from page one)

to present a stunt before the audience, this distinction being given to Anita Gundlach, who proved that a peanut isn't always a nut.

When all the peanuts were consumed, three tables were set for bunco. High score was won by Edna Mathews, and Alice Haslerud seemed pleased when she was awarded the "booby" prize.

The girls all agreed that Edna Mathews is an experienced palmist; each girl had her fortune told.

When refreshments which consisted of pumpkin pie and whipped cream, salad, nut bread and coffee were served, every one was fully convinced that the proof of the pudding is the eating.

The hostesses were Margaret Casey, Esther Sichler, Mildred Dinger, Hazelle Flaget and Cecilia Cadigan, and Miss Strayer.

After a nice Hair Cut use
FITCH SHAMPOO
result;
Clean scalp, Beautiful fluffy hair
AT
I. W. NESSER

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP

WELCOMES
THE OLD GRADS

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind

Our Own

Lenses

Broken

Lenses

Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

ALUMNI
WE WELCOME YOU
LEE'S DRUG STORE

"WELCOME OLD GRADS"

Come in and hear The Latest Hits

in SHEET MUSIC
and
VICTOR RECORDS
A. R. OLSON

Good Meals and Refreshments

SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

GOLDEN BROWN WAFFLES
with MAPLE SYRUP

15c

CHICKEN SANDWICHES — SHORT ORDERS

We Deliver

Phone 746

525 Broadway

THE SANDWITCH SHOP

THE OLYMPIA

WELCOMES

THE OLD "GRADS"

ICE CREAM - CANDY - LIGHT LUNCHES

"WELCOME OLD STUDENTS" -- FRED & ANNAR

TRY MILLER'S "DELICIOUS" MALTED MILKS

THE SMOKE SHOP

We Welcome Students

to try

Our REAL Homecooking
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"Home of Good Food"

Welcome!!

Grad's

Meet your friends at the Old "HANG OUT"

THE CANDY SHOPPE

Our Shoes are the very Best.

We have an expert shoe repairing department
in connection.

Swenson and Berndt

"The Shoe Men"

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

Three 1st Class Barbers
Haircuts at any hour of the day

THE ELECTRIC SHOP

Drugs and Stationery
NOER DRUG COMPANY

Dance Is Climax to Great Homecoming

(Continued from page one)
gests that all festivities cease at 12:00 o'clock on both evenings of Homecoming.

Alumni Breakfast Saturday
Club and Society breakfasts will be served to the returning alumni at 7:30 Saturday morning. This will be about the only chance the graduates will have to see if their society is still progressing and busying itself as one of the active organizations on the campus.

The "S" club has its annual meeting in the Harvey Memorial at 9:00 o'clock. This meeting is open to all letter winners, those out of school, and those that are in school.

The final clash of the Soph-Frosh feud will start at 10:00 A. M., Saturday in the Stout Armory, when the girls have their Flashball game. Both classes are going to try to get the "last laugh" and a fast game is assured.

Pep Assembly Saturday Morning
The mass meeting in the auditorium is going to be the preliminary exercise to get our vocal chords in good condition for the afternoon game. One of the main features of this assembly will be talks by old grads. One must accustom himself to the cheer leader's "antics" in order to produce the best effect of organized cheering; therefore it is essential that everyone be at the mass meeting.

A luncheon will be served to the alumni in the Tainter Memorial building at 12:00 o'clock.

The parade is one of the most essential features at any Homecoming, and Stout's is to be no exception. Every organization is going to have a float that will be remembered for quite some time. This parade gives you an excellent chance to get some prize snap-shots for the Tower, as well as for your own scrap-book. In order to see all of the parade, you will have to be there promptly at 1:15.

Game Stars at 2:30
At 2:30 the game starts. We know you won't miss it, because it is going to be full of thrills.

The banquet in the Stout cafeteria at 6:30 P. M. will be the best place to talk about the "big" game, and discuss some of its peculiar "breaks" of the day.

Immediately after the dinner the Homecoming victory dance, with an eight piece orchestra, will climax one of the most successful Homecomings that Stout has ever had.

Hamline University had her Homecoming last Saturday. Besides the customary pep-fest, bon-fire, and play they had a game with Macalester College, and a series of airplane stunts were performed.

Heinie Writes Maw Of Keen Homecoming

(Continued from page two)
wen the team is losin. Some four stoodents dont know what this spirit is and its just too bad for em. Were gonna win that game saturday and if we all have to break our necks doin it. Anyway win or lose were gonna be out their backin the ole team and cheerin em on. After we win the game were gonna celebrate by holdin a feed in the kalfateer a. boy it sure is a keen one. They have speakers who talk and singers who sing and everybuddy raises kane. Then after the banquet we rest up for the big dance. We have lotsa fun at the dance. There's always a krowd and everybuddy has a large time. The danse lasts till midnight and then when everybuddy is all fagged out they go home and go to bed an dream of the best homecomin so far and dreamin of ones to kome.

Outside of bein excited everybuddy is normal otherwise. The Kurtis House is stronger than ever and everybuddy is studyin hard. The married guys like sid Heath and Klayt Hellverson, and Doc Hawkes is still goin strong. If you want eny dope on me ask Rustie Wallin, he's my new manager and boy hes a guy whut kin manage but that aint so funny cuz he kin do evrything..

I'll write more when we celebrate again.

Your dootifull son
HEINIE
P. S. Tell Amy that she hasnt got a chance any more and if she wants to know why tell her to reffer to me manager. i dont monkee with trifulls enymore.

Pres. Nelson Reviews Stout Accomplishments

(Continued from page one)
only that, but the board must know how the salary to a teacher in Stout compares with the salaries paid in corresponding positions in similar institutions. This survey includes the engineering and physical plant groups. It is clearly evident that the Board of Trustees of The Stout Institute sympathize with Governor Kohler in his campaign for economical expenditures, and the indication is that the board will want a survey of salaries and expenditures, much more completely and more carefully done than has been the practice previous to this time.

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonie Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

Did You Know That-

Ten faculty men will move their offices in the I. E. and Trades building during the following weeks?

Mr. Johnston has his office adjacent new Woodworking shop?

Mr. Hague has his office adjacent to Room 17 in the I. E?

Stout's enrollment for this semester totals 426 students — 235 men and 191 women?

Caroline Brick is as busy as a one armed paper hanger with the itch when she is in Food Bacteriology class?

Barney has a new hat?

Mr. Hague suggests that someone supply Fordham with a pillow for class use only?

Knilians is going to trade his car in for a Chevrolet because all Chevs have drop center motors.

The blonde haired Indian from Fall Creek imported a man from Eau Claire to save his girl from the onslaught of the Norske Snuff-Chewers at Stout while he played in the band?

The teacher said: "Columbus found America,"

The student asked, "Where did he find it?"

Mable screamed when she came some and found herself in bed?

Davison said: "Are bedbugs a natural resource?"

Goodrich said, "I use the hunt and peck system?"

Jerry Larson receives a letter every day from his girl in La Crosse, even specials on Sundays? And that he writes just as often as she does? That she is a blonde and her name is Murel?

That the co-ed said, "Pardon me," as she punctured an orange with her knife?

Somebody was peeved because he had to carry home a box of candy given to his girl by another man?

ORPHEUM

BEAT EAU CLAIRE! YOU CAN DO IT.

Tonight and Saturday
Marian Nixon in
"IN THE HEADLINES"
All talking
Also short reeis

Sun., Mon., Tues.
Sophie Tucker in
"HONKY TONK"
Matinee Sunday 2:30
Singing, Dancing and Talking

Wed., Thurs., Friday
Georgia Artis in
"DISRAELI"
First time shown in the Northwest. A dramatic treat.

GRAND
Tonight
Bob Steele in a Western

Sat. and Sunday
Ranger in
"TRACKED"

Coming to the Orpheum
"On With the Show" and "The Gold Diggers of Broadway" 100 per cent Natural Colors.
Singing and Dancing. As good as any $2.00 stage attraction.

Stoutonia Prize Won By Esther McKowen

(Continued from page one)
Street and Broadway.

The first prize idea in order to meet qualifications had to be usable at Homecoming this year; the second and third prize ideas did not need to be usable but could be if the S. S. A. officers could conveniently work them in with the program.

Classes Selects Judges
The judges in the contest were two members from each class and the S. S. A. officers. The seniors were represented on the judging committee by beulah Todd and Theodore Roswell; the juniors by Mercedes Cranston and Lu Paulus; the sophomores, by Janet Kyle and Carl Beinert; the freshmen by Lorraine Litchfield and Homer Proudlaah.

Makes No Claim for All Placements Made

The placement list which was published in the October Alumnus contains the names and location of the May and August graduates and some of those who accepted new positions this year. Many of the August graduates returned to positions previously held.

The introduction to the pages containing this list may have given the impression that the Stout registrar was responsible for all of the placements, and Miss O'Brien has asked THE STOUTONIA to correct this impression.

Everybody get lots of pep Saturday

Chicago Nursery Meet Is of Great Value

(Continued from page one)
Research in Child Development on the Education of Children in Home and School."

Miss Edith Hodsman of London gave a report on English Nursery Schools. W. E. Blatz, M. D., Ph. D., University of Toronto, discussed "Clinical, Social, and Educational Implications of Mental Hygiene."

Experiment's Results Discussed
One of the important meetings was held Thursday, at which time Clara M. Davis, M. D., reported and discussed her three years' experiment from the educational as well as the nutritional standpoint of the problem on "Self-selected Diet for young children." Although there were many points brought up that might not be agreed upon by everyone, there were presented many situations that would be worthy of experimentation either in the home or in the nursery school. Dr. Julius H. Hess, Head of Department of Pediatrics, University of Illinois, and Dr. C. A. Aldrich, Children's Memorial Hospital, Chicago were the discussion leaders of this section.

Both Miss Smith and Miss Cruise report that the conference was entirely worthwhile.

BEAT EAU CLAIRE!

See US For HAIRCUTS

We Satisfy Our Customers

The Lakeview Barber Shop

SERVICE

We do DRY CLEANING on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Articles brought by noon will be ready next day.

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE

Menomonie Dye House

Running and Cole

Sport Coats and Sweaters

in ALL the GOING COLORS

EVENS-TOBIN Co.

!GREETINGS--ALUMNI!

Come in and see

Our Exclusive Assortment

Of New Wrist Watches

NELS ANSHUS, THE JEWELER

Yes Ladies with this machine we repair your smartest Shoes!

The Goodyear Factory System Quick Service Shoe Repairing Allows Us To Guarantee A Perfect Job.

GRAVEN AND WILCOX

Main Street

STUDENTS ATTENTION!!

Be Sure and See "THE STUDENT SPECIAL" Before Having Your ANNUAL PICTURE Taken "SHAKER STUDIOS" of course!

EXTRA

EXTRA

ALUMNI BANQUET
TONIGHT AT 6:30

THE STOUTONIA

BIG DANCE AT THE GYM TONIGHT

Vol. XVII — No. 6

THE STOUT INSTITUTE, MENOMONIE, WISCONSIN

Saturday, November 2, 1929

HOMECOMING GAME IS TIE

"The Family Upstairs" Is Complete Success, Say Happy Audience

M. A. P.'s Score Knock-Out With Rolling Comedy of Human Nature

An audience with tears running down their faces left the auditorium last night, unanimously voting the M. A. P. production a perfect start to the 1929 Homecoming. The tears resulted entirely from laughter, not from grief.

Mildred Belina played the part of Mrs. Heller, the over officious, affected mother convincingly. Her "Annabelle, Oh Annabelle, come practise your music lesson" and her efforts to impress young Mr. Grant during his first call upon her daughter Louise, were especially effective.

Al Poellinger in Role of Father

Al Poellinger as Mr. Heller, much harassed husband and father of the family, entered into his part with spirit.

Tears of honest sympathy must have stood in the eyes of every marler's pathetic, oft-repeated "Yes, yes," and "now ma, please get me something to eat."

Perhaps the most difficult part of the play, that of the sensible and winsome daughter Louise, was skillfully played by Janet Kyle, who combined in her portrayal charm, and no inconsiderable ability in portraying emotional depth.

John Waniga is Typical Boy

John Waniga as the lazy seventeen year old brother drew many laughs from the audience.

Theodore Pierson's Charles Grant, suitor to Louise, was more than satisfactory.

Special mention should be given Irma Nichols, who though she had but a few minutes on the stage, did a splendid piece of work in depicting the mannerism of the nervous, highly-strung dressmaker, Miss Calahan.

Emma Newby, as the twelve year old sister of the family, did an especially good piece of work. Her easy adaptation of the manners and behavior of a twelve year old child deserve commendation.

Marie Simonson who took the part of Mrs. Grant, mother to Charles, although she had the slightest role in the play, performed with her usual gratifying capability.

Miss Hassler Deserves Credit

The play was a clever one, the cast was well chosen, and the performance moved swiftly and smoothly. Much credit is due Miss Violet Hassler, director of M. A. P., for the finish and spontaneity of this, the first production which she has staged at Stout.

Frosh Girls Win At Flashball

The freshman girls decidedly defeated the sopomore girls, 9-5 in the flashball game held this morning in the Stout Armory.

As a result the frosh girls will not be required to wear their green tams next spring.

Gym in Gala Attire For Homecoming Hop

Under the array of the blue and white streamers in the Gymnasium, the Homecoming dance this evening will be one of the outstanding events of the year. The Masked Marvels, an eight piece orchestra, will furnish the music for the dance tonight from eight-thirty to eleven forty-five.

During the course of the evening, the announcements of the winners of the Stoutonia contest, the window display, and the floats will be given. A novelty balloon dance will be one of the features of the evening.

Gym Beautifully Decorated

The Sophomores have very ably decorated the gymnasium in blue and white. Large, white letters, S-T-O-U-T on a black background have been placed on the two sides of the gymnasium. Very effective arches have been placed around each letter, making a unique and beautiful decoration. The orchestra pit has been cleverly arranged in the upper corner of the room.

It is hoped that everyone will come and help make this Homecoming dance a fitting climax for a most successful Homecoming.

—S—

Huge Bonfire Helps In Warm Reception

To symbolize the warmth in the hearts of the undergraduates, a huge pile of lumber and what have you, was burned in honor of the alumni, at Stout field last evening.

It certainly brightens the town to have the grads of Stout back here once more, even if only for a short time.

The freshmen class kept a vigilant watch over their collections until three o'clock Thursday night, but sometime after that, a person lit the pile, and all of the frosh labors were lost. With perseverance they got another one, just as big. Many thanks to them!

Pajama Winners Announced

Following the customary routine, pajama parading and a little yelling were indulged in. Reppe and Norris "talked it up" and they, too, led a couple of yells.

Miss Nellie Gieger and Mr. Tom Nelson won the prizes which were given at the pajama parade.

—S—

THE LINE-UP

|              |       |              |
|--------------|-------|--------------|
| * Jensen     | c.    | Penn         |
| * Nowen      | g.    | Morrison (C) |
| * Miley      | g.    | Bielecki     |
| * Larson (C) | t.    | Novascone    |
| * Ward       | t.    | Cronk        |
| * Finn       | e.    | Paulus       |
| * Scott      | e.    | Wallin       |
| * Shea       | q.b.  | Micheels     |
| * Daroin     | h.b.  | Fordham      |
| * Henneman   | h.b.  | Rude         |
| * Schwartz   | f.b.  | Harmon       |
| * * *        | * * * | * * *        |

Coed Societies Reveal New Members During Alumnae Breakfasts

Graduates Are Welcomed At Morning Functions; New Members Are Guests

The three society Alumni breakfasts were held this morning at 8 o'clock.

The Hyperians with their advisors, Miss Burgoon and Mrs. W. B. Davison, met in the Band box of the Home Economics building. A short program was given. The president's welcome by Ardella Anderson was followed by remarks from the returned alumni, Helen Diamond, Leola Vreeland and Pearl Lindall. Letters from alumni unable to be present were read.

Henrietta Seivert sang "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," after which the Alma Mater was sung by the society.

Newly chosen members of the society who were guests included: Emma Newby, Florence Verbrick, Lorraine Litchfield, Belinda Hendrickson, Charlotte Mc Nab, Marian Cress, Alice Lynum, Esther Hendrickson, and Mary Jane Dodson.

Philos Breakfast at Marion

The Philomatheans held their breakfast at the Hotel Marion, the alumni present were Mrs. H. Vanek, Margaret Blair, Irmgard Schwartz, and Ruby Ekman. Letters from several alumni unable to be present were read. To conclude the program the Alma Mater was sung.

The following newly chosen members of the Philomathean society were guests: Mariorinda Osgood, Jane Poeller, Mariam Moore, Edna Langseth, Janet Robertson, Alice Ostrom, Katherine Graslie, Grace Quarters, Marie Schroeder, Paulene Bonesho, Louise Hobart and Mabel Schroer.

S. M. A.'s Meet at Corner Cupboard

The S. M. A. breakfast was held at the Corner Cupboard, the guest of honor being Miss Michaels. Alumni present were: Phyllis Lind, Francis Verkerke, Florence Babcock, Helen Louise Larson and Emma Sogge. The welcome, "Glad to see you," given by the president Elizabeth Williams, was followed with a response "Hello black and white," by the former president, Helen Louise Larson.

Miss Janet Kyle gave a musical reading entitled "Eskimo."

The following newly chosen members were guests: Gail Galloway, Alice Nelson, Dorothy Madden, Patsy Ruth Kelly, Doris Spiers, Ethel Anderson, Lila May Huson, Lucille Schultz, Ruth Hossman, Elizabeth Curran, and Doris Henry.

Inspiring Talks Rouse Pep

That the Stout students and alumni have not forgotten the Stout spirit was well demonstrated in this morning's pep assembly. Talks by Mr. Davison, Jack Notabar, Mr. Patrick and Coach Paulus inspired the grads and students to a high pitch.

Stout and Eau Claire Fight to Scoreless Finish

Stout and Eau Claire fought to a scoreless tie at the fairgrounds this afternoon in the annual Homecoming game.

Eau Claire won the toss and chose to kick from the south end, with the wind. Fordham received and returned to the Stout 20. He made 2. Harmon made one. Paulus punted out of bounds on the Stout 41 line.

Eau Claire smeared completely in two plays. A pass gains four, but they have to punt. Goes over goal, so Stout is on their 20 yard line again. Make 6 yards in 3 plays. Paulus punts out of bounds on Eau Claire's 39 line.

Eau Claire goes thru Stout left side for 8 yards, and makes a first down in mid-field on two more bucks. Stout penalized 5 yards for offside. Three plays net Eau Claire another first down on the Stout 35 yard line, and Stout takes time out.

An Eau Claire forward pass goes for another first down on the Stout 22 End runs aren't working and Paulus and Rude each stop one. Wolgram goes in for Stout. Eau Claire pass fails and its Stout ball on own 19 line.

Swede Fordham, with good interference tears off first down for Stout, and 8 more on three plays, but Bud elects to punt. The punt is downed on Eau Claire 38 line and they are penalized 15 yds. for clipping.

Eau Claire punts on 2nd down. Novascone and Cronk block it, but Eau Claire recovers and they get off the next one.

Swede returns it 10 yards to the Eau Claire 40 yard line. Eau Claire takes time out for injury. Stout playing fierce ball so far. From the Eau Claire 40 yard line, Harmon makes 5-on two plays, but Stout is penalized 12 yds. A fake pass is smothered and Stout elects to pass on third down. It is completed for a 6 yard gain as the quarter ends.

Score: 0 to 0.

Second Quarter
Rusty punts a beauty out of bounds on the Eau Claire 4 yard line. Eau Claire's trick play brings them out to the 38 line. Rusty spills an end run with a beautiful tackle. Stout smears their pass attempt for a ten-yard loss and they punt to Swede on his 35. He returns to the Stout 42 line. Eau Claire takes time out.

Stout penalized 10 yds. and Lu punts to Eau Claire 38 line. Wolgram and Penn stop a smash and a run over the Stout left side is also spoiled.

Eau Claire rooters get egged on to yell by Dusty Sauter, as Eau Claire pass is grounded. Their punt is returned 12 yds. by Swede to the Stout 36 yd. line. Harmon runs for 3. Bad pass is fumbled and Eau Claire gets a break on our 33 line. On the third play, Wallin intercepts their pass and returns it 12 yds. to the Stout 34 line. Harmon goes 3 and Lu adds 3 on an end-around play. Eau Claire takes time again. Stout has the edge so far.

Third play pass is incomplete, so Lu punts to the Eau Claire 30. They return it to their 38 line. Their punt is hurried and kicks out of bounds on the Stout 45 line. On Stout's third play, Eau Claire intercepts the pass and its theirs in mid-field.

They are completely stopped in 3 plays and their punt is downed on our 20 line. Stout tries two plays as the half ends.

Score: 0 to 0.

Third Quarter

Stout going north again. Lu brings the kickoff back 17 yards to the Stout 37 line. Harmon is hurt on the play, but stays in. Fordham to Lu gains a first, but Stout is offside. A short pass, and a run by Swede makes 7. Pass is incomplete and Lu's punt backs Eau Claire up to their 25 line. Eau Claire is clipping again and are on their 10. They punt and Swede returns nicely to the Eau Claire 43.

Passes are grounded twice and Stout is on the 48 line. Rusty downs the receiver of Lu's punt on the Eau Claire 18 line. They slip around our left side to their 29. Then Stout gets mad and smears two plays. Eau Claire punts and Swede gets over anxious, and drops it. Eau Claire recovers on the Stout 22 yard line.

Stout stops Eau Claire on four plays and gets ball back on Stout 14 line.

On a fake punt, Lu runs 9 and gets hurt on the tackle, but stays in. On the next play Stout fumbles again and lose the ball on our 19 line. Stout halts them again on 3 plays and Rude intercepts their fourth down pass on the 5 yd. line. Lu punts out to the 45 line.

Eau Claire's end runs fail. Their fourth down pass wasn't enough and Stout gets the ball, but gives Eau Claire intercepts pass on 42 line.

Wallin grabs Eau Claire pass and Stout starts once more on their own 27 yard line, as the third quarter ends.

The game was still nobody's at this stage.

As the fourth quarter starts, Lu punts to the E. C. 38. They make a first down on an end run and buck. Penn is hure, but stays in. Harmon stops the next run and Stout's right side smothers the next.

Eau Claire kicks to Swede. The big Eau Claire tackle knees Swede on the return and Stout gets 15 yd. gain on E. C. penalty. Hank smashes to the 50 line. The next play fails and the E. C. receiver brings back the punt to his 30 line.

Hank stops their advance by intercepting their pass on their 36. Brownsey goes in for Swede. Fordham, who has played a wonderful game. Hoernamann goes in with instructions.

Brownsey runs twice for first down and a 5 yard penalty on E. C. puts it on their 21 line. Eau Claire rests two minutes. An E. C. tackle gets thru and throws Brownsey for 5 yd. loss.

The crowd floods the field. Stout can't win. Lu's drop kick is straight but 5 yds. short and its E. C. ball on their 20 line with 4 minutes to play. E. C. pulls a surprise punt and it rolls to the Stout 25. A long pass fails. O'Connell goes in with instructions. Brownsey goes 9 1-2 but loses 9 on the next. Lu punts to E. C. 40.

E. C. gets a first down on the Stout 45 line. Two passes are grounded, and end run fails to gain much. Another pass is downed, and Stout gets the ball on our 40 line. The whistle blows.

Keen Competition is Seen in Closing Shoot Of Outdoor Season

James Dodge and Carolyn Brick Win Respective Prizes in Match Shoot

That training or rifle match firing has to be obtained by actual participation in matches was again indicated by the results of the indoor and the outdoor matches. The advance speculation as to who would be the winners was rudely upset, when the most promising candidates broke under the tension usually affecting the new shooter.

The fall season of rifle practice was brought to a close with the matches fired on both indoor and outdoor ranges, October 25 and 30. Considering the lateness of the season, the weather was exceptionally favorable, and an unusually large number of members responded to the call of the out-doors and to the lure of the prize contests.

Competition is Keen

The keen interest shown in the matches was caused not only by the valuable prizes to be won; it was heightened by the fact that several shooters in each team had nearly equal chances for winning a prize.

Exceptional progress had been made by many of the new members on the outdoor range. They had not only matched the older and more experienced shooters, but one of them, Reuben Hagen, had actually taken the lead in the season's practice firing, in which he held the highest score, 88x100.

Several others had shot scores which added an interesting element of uncertainty and a definite tenseness to the match.

After the smoke had cleared away and the score sheets were finally checked, the trained, unruffled nerves and the persistently uniform shooting of one of the oldest members, James Dodge, had won for him the season's prize; he had fired an average score which has not been surpassed in The

(Continued on page two)

—S—

Glee Club to Present Novelty Dance Tonight

(By the Chief Glee)

Step right up, folks, and buy your tickets! Only 35c! Come and dance to the smoothest music that has ever been "concocted" by an orchestra in the Stout gym. And rhythm? A wooden soldier could dance to this music! The Campus Playboys are back! You simply can NOT afford to miss them.

What's more—you ain't heard nothin' yet! (ala Jolson.) The Men's Glee Club, which has gargled listerine, sucked lemons, and smoked "Lukies," besides rehearsing promptly and faithfully, are going to harmonize a couple of numbers for your benefit. The Glee Club this year has some frosh that are keeping things lively, and help a lot in producing some real music.

Whoops! Scandal Afoot

But here is the great surprise! Amos 'n Andy have finally decided to come and entertain you for a few minutes. They have had forwarded to them some personal items that you have never heard. They will give you the "low down" on some of our faculty members and also some of our prominent undergraduates.

It is going to be a big evening. You can come and dance, and be entertained, too. All it will cost you is 35c and your Master Ticket; for some of the fellows—70c, and two Master Tickets—but, whatever you do, be sure and come and spend an enjoyable evening, and at the same time give the glee club a hand.

Y.M.C.A. Completes Drive For Members

The Y.M.C.A. membership drive, with Ernest Christensen as chairman has been completed and it is gratifying to know that the membership totals 110. Last year the organization was only about one-third as large, but this year the drive created interest and spirit, and as a result the Y. M. C. A. is a thriving organization again.

Two weeks ago a reception was given the new members, at which Ted Jensen, the state student secretary, was the chief speaker. Music and refreshment, added to the enjoyment of the evening.

To Furnish Club Rooms

At a recent meeting of the cabinet the project of equipping the "Y" club rooms with suitable furniture was discussed, and plans were laid for a finance drive for this purpose. It is the aim of the cabinet to arrange a desirable men's club room and then permit other organizations to use it, and contribute toward the expense.

Pledges toward the improvement have been coming in and the finance committee feels that it will be possible to take some action soon.

—S—

"Pressures" Cited by Bowman In S.T.S. Talk

Dean Bowman addressed the Stout Typographical Society Wednesday evening, October 31, at their regular meeting. His talk was entitled, "Here and There," in which he pointed out the different pressures brought to bear upon teachers by their surroundings.

Illustrates By Chart

In chart form, Mr. Bowman indicated these pressures as being Religion, Family and Professional, made up of Educational and Industrial. Also Social, which consists of Civic and Recreational.

The speaker made the various phases of these pressures clear and emphatic by citing specific examples of each.

Mr. Bowman gave the first of a series of talks to be given to the S. T. S. this year. Future talks will be given by faculty members, students and men in the printing field.

—S—

S. M. A. FLOAT WINS PRIZE

The S. M. A. Society won first prize for the best float in the Homecoming parade last Saturday. The Philos were a close second and the M. A. P. third.

Next Week's Calendar

Tonight—Men's Glee Club dance
Saturday—Hyperian Kid Party.
Mon.—Stoutonia Staff, 5 p. m.
Mon.—Science Club, 5 p. m.
Mon.—Men's Glee Club, 7 p. m.
Mon.—Womens Glee Club, 7 pm.
Mon.—Tower Staff 7 p. m.
Tues.—Marquette La Salle, 7:30 p. m.
Tues.—S. M. A., 7:15 p. m.
Wed.—Rifle Club, 7 p. m.
Tues.—S. T. S., 7:30 p. m.
Tues.—Y. W. C. A., 7 p. m.
Thurs.—Inky Fingers, 5:30 p. m.
Thurs.—M. A. P., 7:15 p. m.
Thurs.—Hyperian, 8 p. m.
Thurs.—Orchestra, 7 p. m.

Saturday News Extra Real Accomplishment Says Staff Adviser

Extra on Street Thirteen Minutes After Final Whistle of Homecoming Game

(By Mr. Faville)

Thirteen minutes after the final whistle of the Homecoming game Saturday, or before the walkers from the field had reached the downtown section, THE STOUTONIA had a special edition on the streets of Menomonie containing a full play-by-play story of the Stout-Eau Claire scoreless football game.

So many have asked for an explanation of how we did it, that the news adviser decided to tell the story. I believe that it is the cleverest project that the paper has accomplished since I came to Stout, and I can say that because it was about 99-100 a student project. And I appreciate better than does the staff that it is considerable of a trick to equal, or even beat, the time of city papers.

Editor Conceives Idea

"Doc" Hawkes, managing editor, approached the staff members with the idea toward the latter part of the week, and he was cautiously, but, nevertheless, gamely applauded. It looked like too big a job, but by carefully working out a system, we finally beat even the time we had hoped for.

Editor Hawkes, Kent Riggs, Charles Cryderman, and the news adviser worked most of Saturday morning getting everything ready which could be accomplished before the game. Staff members furnished the copy of

(Continued on page four)

Spirits Whisk Away Efforts of Frosh Lads

The eve of spooks and ghosts has passed, but not without leaving its sad mark behind. Some witch, goblin, or devil is in for violent persecution. Oh—if we only had those old New England days when witches and witchcraft could be detected and appropriately punished.

Perhaps it will be necessary for us to commune with certain spirits to determine just who is the guilty firebug. Such a beautiful bonfire that wood would have made had it been lighted at the proper time, in the proper manner, and by the proper persons.

Night Before Is Disastrous

It was a shame that the material for our homecoming bon-fire was destroyed on the night before. Just an "innocent" Halloween prank for someone, but to us, such a disappointment.

The Annex and Hall girls had the benefit and enjoyment of two fires, but on the other hand, think of the Frosh who had been so faithful to guard the pile until the "wee small hours of the night," only to have their efforts go for naught. It's just a shame; that's all.

—S—

Institute Graduates Numerous at Winona

On October 25 and 26, Miss Walsh attended the Southeastern District Teacher's Association meeting at Winona, Minn., where she talked on "Individual Instruction and Short Units in Homemaking Classes."

Probably the most interesting feature of her trip is the fact that she saw and visited some of the former graduates of Stout Institute. It is interesting to learn just what some of the graduates are doing out in the field of Home Economics, and this opportunity proved itself of great importance.

Visits With Miss Maude West

While there, Miss Walsh visited with Miss Maude West, who graduated from Stout in 1918, and who is at present the head of the Home Economics Department in the High School at Austin, Minn. She also saw Miss Agnes Thompson, who graduated with the class of 1921, and who is now the head of the Clothing Department at Rochester, Minn.

Another worker in this field is Miss Janice Purdy, who is dietician in a hospital in Minneapolis, and who is at present recovering from an automobile accident received some time

1929 Homecoming Surpasses All Those In Previous Years

S. S. A. Officers Thank Those Helping to Make Annual Event Possible

The 1929 Homecoming of The Stout Institute surpassed all of those that have preceded it. The S. S. A. certainly deserves all the credit that we can give them. The job they performed was a big one, and it was done in a big way. Ralph Schaudé, Clarence Ness, Willard Hanson, and Dorothy Williams, our S. S. A. officers, performed their duties with a high degree of efficiency.

The S. S. A. officers also feel that the Homecoming was entirely successful. They feel that the students and faculty can be termed co-workers and that better cooperation between the students and faculty could not have been asked for.

S. S. A. Thanks Students

The S. S. A. would like to take this opportunity to thank the Science Club and Y. W. C. A. for the part they took in having the alumni register. They were always on duty and were responsible for the registration of the 65 alumni whose names appear in the register.

The cafeteria was well decorated by Janet Clark and Gordon Johnson, with the help of the Senior Class.

William Hooser and his sophomore class were responsible for the beautiful and fitting decorations in the gym.

The Juniors spent their labors on the H. E. corridor and the Harvey Memorial. Ardella Anderson was the chairman of that job, as most of you know.

The Frosh class built two bonfires, put up the welcome signs, and decorated the Tower.

Jane Hambley directed the plans for the banquet and Miss Stephany was in charge of the ticket sale.

Unqualified For Typical College

It might interest you to know that of the 1929 graduates, 16 returned; 1928, 12; 1927, 2; 1926, none; 1925, 6; 1924, 4; 1923, 46; 1922, none; 1921, 4; 1920, 1; 1918, 1; 1917, 1; 1916, 4;

(Continued on page two)

—S—

Report of Stout to N.C.A. Is Complete

President Nelson announced at the regular faculty meeting, Tuesday, that The Stout Institute has completed its report for the North Central Association of Colleges. For several weeks the administration has been studying conditions at Stout in respect to the standard set up by the N. C. A.

The president says that we are absolutely in the clear on 12 of the 15 requirements that are set up. The three things which may possibly influence the rating accorded to Stout are: first, we do not have the required number of teachers having a Doctor's degree, and that not all of our teachers have a Master's degree; second, the ratio between the number of students and teachers does not quite meet the requirements of the standardizing committee of the N. C. A.; third, the association objects to having any teacher carry more than fifteen hours per week of actual class instruction. A few of our teachers carry heavier work than fifteen hours.

The administration is not so certain about Stout's being able to qualify as a typical college, that is, as a college of letters and science, as it was when application was made for membership in the teacher's college division. This is the situation: the classification of teacher's college is to be discontinued in the N. C. A. next year; all members of the N. C. A. therefore are measured by the standards set up from old time college ideals.

CAMPUS CARTOONS

by Kathleen Lind

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office,
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                                    |                        |
|------------------------------------|------------------------|
| Managing Editor .....              | Lester L. Hawkes       |
| Associate Editor.....              | Irma L. Nichols        |
| News Editor .....                  | Elizabeth A. Williams  |
| News Editor .....                  | John Barber            |
| Assistant .....                    | Bernard C. Hagen       |
| Assistant .....                    | Belinda I. Hendrickson |
| Sports Editor .....                | William J. Micheels    |
| Assistant (I. E.) .....            | Frode Anderson         |
| Assistant (H. E.) .....            | Helen Chamberlin       |
| Feature Editor .....               | Henriette L. Quilling  |
| Feature Editor .....               | Bernice G. Bricker     |
| Exchange Editor .....              | William J. Soucie      |
| Humor Editor .....                 | Harold F. Taufman      |
| Assistant Humor Editor.....        | Al J. Poelinger        |
| Society Editor.....                | Aneta Gundlach         |
| Cartoonist .....                   | Kathleen L. Lind       |
| Head-Line Writer .....             | Stuart Carnes          |
| Business Manager .....             | Earl C. Halverson      |
| Circulation Manager .....          | Robert G. Reick        |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....    | Carl Roll              |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....    | Al Reinhold            |
| Advertising Manager .....          | Marlo McCullough       |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr. ....        | Donald K. Lind         |
| Make-up Foreman and Pressman ..... | Kent Riggs             |
| Under Direction of.....C. W. Hague |                        |
| Editorial Adviser.....             | Mr. John Faville, Jr.  |
| Associate Adviser.....             | Miss Helen Sarchet     |

ARE STOUT STUDENTS LOYAL?

Someone "on the street" the other day was heard to remark, "If they had some student spirit over at that institution, they might be able to produce some victories."

We contend that that person, and the few others like him who become audible on this subject occasionally, don't know anywhere near what they're talking about. Be mindful for a very brief moment that Stout has won only one conference football game in the past two years. What would happen at the ordinary college where student fellowship is eliminated by campus politics, group envies, divergent ambitions, and differing opinions on serious matters in general? The question needs no answer.

Is this the situation at Stout? When has the student group (except, of course, the chonic sour-boys, the don't-care-girls, and a few others) failed to say to its team, "We're sorry you lost the last game, but here's another, and we're just as strong for you as ever"? They have never failed thus to rally, and we think it is high time that Stout students got the credit they deserve for staying with the battle thru adversity, or-at least- it's time time to condemn the undeserved discredit aimed at us for an attitude, the possession of which we are not guilty.

Stout has been loyal, and, we believe, will continue to be loyal. The heavily vocal minority of calamity howlers, we predict, will be a feeble falsetto in the basket ball season just ahead. This does not mean that we should not continue to do every reasonable thing necessary to improve sport success. It means, rather, that the best way, now, to help bring success is by that sideline support which never lets a team down;—a support also, which no team will let down in its efforts to bring the joys and satisfactions of victory to its college.

CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS DUE

One of the editorial policies of THE STOUTONIA is to "give credit where credit is due."

Unlimited praise is deserving by the members of the cast, and Miss Hassler, the dramatic instructor, of the M. A. P. play given last Friday evening. Their work was of a high nature and to our estimation, is far above reproach. Not only did they display talent that would be a credit to a much larger school, but the spirit with which they entered their work must be heartily commended.

As in everything, there must always be someone to do the unnoticed work. Someone to prepare the setting for those who present the feature attraction. In this particular case we are refering to the production staff, which we carelessly overlooked in our story in the special edition last Saturday.

We are prone to praise those who are first brought to our notice, without delving further into the particulars. In this manner we often neglect those who are deserving and have spent much time and energy in preparing for that event that it might be successful.

With all due credit to the characters in last Friday night's play, and to their coach, we heartily commend the production staff in the part they played in making the Homecoming production so worthwhile.

Question Box

What impressed you most during Homecoming?

Eva Hanley, frosh.—Of all the activities of Homecoming, the play "The Family Upstairs," impressed me the most. The play was realistic, humorous, and peppy. It gave one an insight into to family affairs that seldom receives such publicity. The players all took their parts very well.

Louise Hobart, soph.—The thing that really impressed me most at Homecoming this year, and the thing that best expressed the Homecoming spirit, was the football game. The fact that this was the last game, that it was Homecoming, and that there was a good chance of winning, brought more people out and they had more spirit than they ever had before.

W. B. Davison.—The organized cooperation everywhere in evidence, the healthy spirit of optimism which permeated each Homecoming activity, the refreshing acquaintance and beautiful friendship, the renewal of pledges of loyalty to each other and to the best that this school stands for, the predominance of clean gaiety and exuberance over reprehensible license, the doing of things together, the return of graduates to the school which mothered them—these are some of the precious elements in Homecoming. In a school such as ours anything which helps to overcome petty bickerings and jealousies, and centers interest and effort on bigger things, is desirable, if not indispensable. Homecoming should remain one of our institutions.

Stout Man Declares Detroit Good Field

The following card was received by Mr. Hague, printing instructor, from W. H. Jeske, former Stout student, now a printing teacher in Detroit, Mich.

"Dear Mr. Hague:

Just a line to inform you that I have been fortunate enough to be transferred and am now teaching printing at Cass Tech. under R. W. Polk, and a real place and job it is.

Have been going to night school last year and must this year to "soak" up some more printing.

Hoping all is O. K. and tell the boys chances the great.

Say hello to the boys I know.

Sincerely,
W. H. Jeske.

Mr. Faville To Debate At Congo Church

A debate on the question of whether or not military preparedness is the best guarantee of peace will be held by the discussion group at the Congregational church Sunday evening. Anyone interested in this question is invited. Major McCauley and Mr. Faville will be the debaters. Questions and discussion will follow.

Douglas Harris Writes From Oxford, Ohio

Following is a letter received from Douglas Harris, who is a part-time teacher and student at Miami University at Oxford, Ohio.

"Dear Mr. Hague:

I thought it was about time to let you know that I'm not sorry that I'm here.

My responsibility here as a teacher is not extreme. I have one class of nine from the University High School and a class of five from the University; besides that I assist in laboratory supervision in drawing two periods per week where there are sixty in the class.

The equipment of the print shop is very meagre; however, I have two good presses, an 8 x 12 C. & P. and

Homecoming Surpasses Those of Former Years

(Continued from page one)

1914, 1; 1913, 1; 1912, 2; 1910, 1; 1908, 1.

The climax of this year's Homecoming was the dance held in the Stout gym. The floor was crowded, but at that every one "sailed" over it with a feeling that this 1929 Homecoming will go into the annals of Stout's history as the best that Stout has ever had.

STOUTONIA advisers' note—Please permit the faculty advisers of this newspaper organization to order the following "thank-you's" to be inserted here:

The student staff of THE STOUTONIA should be thanked, among others, for sponsoring with plenty of space and with $18, the contest for ideas which added to Homecoming; for the columns of publicity with which staff members had to do most of the work; for the ten boxes of candy which were distributed at the banquet; and for more than a full day's extra work—involving the missing of big events by staff members—resulting in the special edition which, we are told, was the outstanding novelty of the 1929 Homecoming.

P. S.—No, we aren't modest at all. That isn't a newspaper's business.

Keen Competition Is Seen In Closing Shoot

Stout Rifle Club and which will probably stand as the record for some time.

Girl's Contest is Close

An equally interesting contest had been developing among the girls. Only one members of this team, Miss Carolyn Brick, had previous training in rifle practice, but competition had developed much the same as in the men's team. One of the new members, Miss Gail Galloway, had progressed until she held the high score for practice firing. Miss Brick and Miss Galloway, however, had a host of competitors who were close at their heels in making scores, and it was evident that some rather careful firing had to be done to secure the prize.

The value of training was again evident, when during the excitement of the final match Miss Brick bettered any previous performance and won the prize with a splendid exhibition of putting shot after shot into the black of the target. Miss Brick's winning score was 199, which is eighteen points higher than any previous score made in the girl's team.

Pictures Are Taken

As a fitting climax to the final match for the fall season, the members of both teams assembled on the outdoor range, and a group picture was taken of the members of the club "in action." A copy of this picture will be sent to the Milwaukee Journal for the rotogravure section of the Sunday issue of that paper.

It is not known just when this picture will appear. During the summer session a similar picture was taken on the rifle range and it was printed in the pictorial section of Minneapolis Sunday papers.

The prizes won by the high scorers in the prize match will be presented at a meeting of the club to which all members are cordially invited. This meeting also marks the opening of the indoor shooting season, and will be held at 7 p. m., Thursday, November 14th. A lunch will be served.

a 15 x 21 Golding Jobber. They are getting about five or six hundred dollars worth of new equipment, the selection of which is up to me, and that all helps. (This place will grow.)

The Stout shop must take on a new air when it gets all stretched out in the new quarters. That ought to hold you until you're ready for a multiple form web press.

They let me carry a half time study schedule, 5 hrs. of under-graduate work and 3 hours of graduate credit in Education; that, along with the rest of it manages to keep yours truly out of mischief. Even that doesn't

Let's Laugh

Great believers in the principle of white space—we, THE STOUTONIA, dedicate this portion of the paper to the great body of college students who have adhered to this principle during past examinations.

quench a desire to sling a little extra type now and then.

This is sure one pretty town, about half and half, residents and University students. The University roll reaches better than the 2,000 mark this year.

Realizing that this is a more or less egotistically constructed letter, I implore you to lose sight of the fact and view this from the information side.

One of your disciples,
D. W. HARRIS.

Society

As a result of personal choices approved by members of the societies, the following girls have been selected as new members:

Hyperian Society—
Emma Newby, Florence Verbrick, Lorraine Litchfield, Belinda Hendrickson, Charlotte Mc Nab, Marian Cress, Alice Lynum, Esther Hendrickson, and Mary Jane Dodson.

Philomathean Society:
Jane Foeller, Mariorinda Osgood, Mariam Moore, Edna Langseth, Janet Robertson, Alice Ostrum, Katherine Graslie, Grace Quarters, Marie Schroeder, Paulene Bonesho, Louise Hobart, and Mabel Schroer.

S. M. A. Society—
Gail Galloway, Elizabeth Curran, Doris Henry, Alice Nelson, Dorothy Madden, Patsy Ruth Kelly, Doris Spiers, Ethel Anderson, Lila May Huson, Lucille Schultz, and Ruth Hossman.

Carnegie Report on Sports Surprises No One, but Has Value

The facts about the tainted amateurism of college athletics published by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching took by surprise no one who has been acquainted with the subject during the last ten or fifteen years. The invasion of so-called "commercialism" has been a matter of common knowledge, and the spots in which this invasion has been most leniently tolerated or even invited have not escaped the seeing eye.

It is well, nevertheless, that the results of this most thorough investigation should have been put on record. There is a strong movement, which the Carnegie bulletin notes, to restore college sports to a more strictly amateur status. Those college which have aspirations in this direction will profit not only by the impetus which this report negatively supplies in its division of sheep from goats but also by the definitions that are given of subsidization, recruiting and such practices and the standards which are set-up as a guide for the return to simon-pure amateurism. The report defines a subsidy, for instance as—any assistance, favor, gift award,

NOTICE

In order for the Tower staff to have the best yearbook that has ever been published in the interest of Stout, it is necessary to let a few new conditions enter into the staff work. One of these so-called conditions is in regard to individual pictures. All of the students must have their individual pictures in the hands of a Tower staff member before Christmas, in order for them to appear in the book. Will the students please cooperate?

scholarship or concession, direct or indirect, which advantages an athlete because of his athletic ability or reputation and which sets him apart from his fellows in the undergraduate body.

Here is a mark for the colleges to shoot at. In a more general way, the preface points out the practices which would not exist under a strictly amateur regime, as follows:

The paid coach, the gate receipts, the special training tables, the costly sweaters and expensive journeys in special Pullman cars, the recruiting from the high school, the demoralizing publicity showered on the players, the devotion of an undue proportion of time to training, the devices for putting a desirable athlete but a weak scholar over the hurdles of the examination—these ought to stop.

It is up to college opinion—including that of faculties, trustees, students and alumni—how far it is desirable or practicable to go in the direction of the ideal or whether the standards here set forth are to be adopted at all. From this viewpoint, the Carnegie "Bulletin No. 23" is a work of constructive criticism. For the moment, coming in the midst of the football season, the report will arouse greatest interest in its destructive and condemnatory aspects. There will be quite a storm.

Personals

TAINTER HALL

Miss Francis Nelson of Elk River, Minn. was the guest of Elva Page over Homecoming.

Homecoming guests of Miss Kathleen Shannon were her mother and sister Olive, of Crosby, Minn. On Sunday, Kathleen accompanied them to Minneapolis where they spent the day with Miss Marjorie Shannon, who is attending the University of Minn.

LYNWOOD HALL

Misses Ruby and Isabel Eckman were guests of Ellen Nelson over the week-end.

As a result of the various duties connected with Homecoming studies were forgotten until Monday morning when alarm clocks were resorted to as a means of awakening many students to duty.

Bicycling has become the favorite sport at Lynwood. Emma Andersor suggests that bicycles would make excellent Christmas gifts.

TAINTER ANNEX

Tainter Hall and Annex held open house on Sunday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock. Approximately one hundred

OUR SANDWICHES
ARE A MEAL.
TRY THEM
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"Home Of Good Food"

fifty people were served tea at Tainter Hall, the guests including students, faculty, and alumni.

Mrs. Happy Sheburne, Miss Mary Brooks, and Mr. Ray Koepke of Appleton, attended the Homecoming events as guests of Emma Newby and Florence Verbrick.

Much to the surprise of her many friends at the Annex, Mabel Schroer returned Tuesday morning Mrs. Wallace Lozier. Mrs. Lozier was married at her home in Minneapolis, Saturday, Nov. 2nd. The girls at the Annex join in wishing Mrs. Lozier much happiness.

Janet Evans visited her parents in Osinkosh this past week-end.

Florence Hansen and Margaret Poier of Eau Claire were guests of Lorraine Litchfield and Pauline Bonesho, this week end.

Mrs.—Did baby at last go to sleep on your lap?"

Mr.—Yeah, on my 377th lap around the room.

Milwaukee Session Now in Progress

President Nelson, Deans Michaels and Bowman, Misses Smith, Callahan, Ganz, Price, Jeter and Messrs Brown Davison, Green, Keith, Kranzusch, Tustison, and Welch are attending the state teacher's convention at Milwaukee.

Mr. Barte McCormick, secretary of the Wisconsin Teacher's Association is the speaker at the banquet.

Mrs. Catura, president of the Stout Institute Alumni Association, will be there, and she reports that about 75 alumni will also be present at the banquet.

Don't forget the big dance tonight!

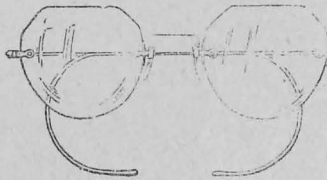

Menomonie Baking Co.

Don't Forget Jaeger's Select Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP
SERVICE QUALITY

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Good Meals and Refreshments
SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

GOLDEN BROWN WAFFLES
with MAPLE SYRUP

15c

CHICKEN SANDWICHES — SHORT ORDERS

We Deliver

Phone 746

525 Broadway

THE SANDWITCH SHOP

SEE

BELAIR

BELAIR

FOR

FOR

TOWER
PHOTOS

TOWER
PHOTOS

BELAIR STUDIO

MAIN STREET

OPP. SCHOOLS

Our Shoes are the very Best.

We have an expert shoe repairing department
in connection.

Swenson and Berndt
"The Shoe Men"

OVERCOATS

$14.90 to $75.00

In all the New going Colors

Evens-Tobin Company

NOW IS THE TIME TO THINK ABOUT
CHRISTMAS GIFTS

FOR YOUR FRIENDS

SEE OUR SPLENDID ASSORTMENT OF
STAPLE AND CUSTOM JEWELRY
NELS ANSHUS
THE JEWELER

After a nice Hair Cut use
FITCH SHAMPOO
result;
Clean scalp, Beautiful fluffy hair
AT
I. W. NESSER

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

Three 1st Class Barbers
Haircuts at any hour of the day

THE ELECTRIC SHOP

Drugs and Stationery
NOER DRUG COMPANY

Remarkable Advance Shown by Squad is Feature of '29 Season

Practically Entire Team Will Be On Deck for Next Year's Hostilities

The Stout football season does not look very good on paper, but THE STOUTONIA cannot pass up the opportunity of summarizing many of the good things about the season, nevertheless. It is true that no games were won, but—compared to previous seasons, the 1929 squad showed one of the most steady and remarkable improvements ever witnessed in this league.

The first game with Winona was mostly a story of individual errors. In the last game, the 0 to 0 deadlock with Eau Claire, it would be hard to find an individual error which would not be made by any player on any team in any game. Not a single back-field player had previous college football experience, and most of the line were nearly as green. We insist that the coach and players did an exceptional training job, despite scores.

The Last Game
There were no outstanding stars in the last game; the team has no one of that category. Fordham showed signs of becoming a first rate half back, and he has two more years at Stout. Harmon's plunging, spirit, and defensive work have also improved so greatly in six weeks, that he is going to shine in the conference the next two years. Rude developed into a strong blocking back and defensive man, and Brownsey's ball-carrying will always be a strong asset.

The quarterbacks, Hoernamann, and Micheels, could combine their assets, but the performances of both have been creditable.

Paulus, playing very satisfactorily at end, has added a ten-yard average to his punts this season, and hasn't had one blocked. He and Wallin each have another year, and Wallin's work has also shown commendable improvement as the season progressed. In general, the Stout regular tackles have not been outplayed. Novascone and Cronk were both new to college ball this season, so should retain their jobs next year.

The middle of the Stout line has always been a problem, with Captain Morrison the regular at guard, and always turning in a steady, dependable performance. His courage and spirit have helped materially in keeping heads-up on a losing team. Penn, Bielecki, Wolfgram, O'Connell, Kube, Muller, Maerszke, Schmidt, and Cossette also saw plenty of action. Penn's defensive work at center was usually excellent, and his passes in the last game could not be criticized. Wolfgram performed well at the other

Saturday News Extra Is Real Accomplishment

(Continued from page two)

Saturday morning's events, and Miss Sarchet helped edit it. By noon, all was in readiness for the main story, of the little edition.

The Rush Starts
Working along the sidelines, members of the sports staff wrote a running account of that historic struggle. Until the middle of the third quarter, Miss Gail Galloway acted as "copy boy" and rushed the penciled story to Hawkes, whose rapid linotype operating kept him a long ways ahead of the copy.

In the fourth quarter, John Barber handled the wires, and all but the story of the last four minutes of play was set up, checked, and in the forms on the press before the game ended. A dash with the last copy, a rapid proofing, the necessary changing of headlines to the comprise result which the staff had not foreseen (our prepared heads told about a victory, of course!) and the press roared.

Newsboys Specially Imported
John Barber's practice class of junior high school boys helped in the rapid distribution of copies of the single-page, pink extra to points where homecomers and other fans were just beginning to argue about the game. The Eau Claire team were presented with copies while still under the showers; the officials of the game and other visitors proclaimed the stunt a real one.

Readers will pardon our self praise, we know, if they have ever been exposed to the deadly fever which gets so deeply into the blood of every real newspaperman. It's the same feeling as winning a game. In other words, we're human enough to be unable to conceal the broad grin when we've done something which results in a preponderance of praise over criticism.

guard in most of the last game, he and Bielecki usually dividing that job. Bielecki, Paulus, Micheels and others were badly handicapped thru part of the season with injuries. At no time, however, did the "blues" overcome this game squad. This was due to several factors which should be recorded in the season's summary: Coach Paulus' determination that the season should not be a flop; the players loyalty to him, each other, and Stout, and the general support from the students who displayed real Stout spirit in spite of adversities.

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonee Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

Varsity Basketball Schedule To Include 15 Conference Games

Two Games With Chiropractic School at Kirksville, Mo. Are Also Pending

With football out of the way, basketball has loomed on the horizon and many are wondering just what the Stout schedule is. With the Blue Devils entered in two conferences there will be a 15 game schedule assured.

Although some of the games are still tentative the season is due to start on Dec. 13 with Concordia. Following is the present schedule with 3 more games assured:

Jan. 10—At La Crosse.
Jan. 17—At Superior.
Jan. 18—At Minn. Aggies.
Jan. 24—River Falls here.
Jan. 30—At Eau Claire.
Jan. 31—Stevens Point here.
Feb. 6—La Crosse here.
Feb. 14—St. Paul Luther here.
Feb. 21—At River Falls.
Feb. 28—Superior here
March 7—Eau Claire here.

The other games which have not been definitely arranged are those in the new conference. At the present time there is a probability of two games being played in Kirksville, Mo. during the Christmas vacation.

Institute Graduates Numerous at Winona

(Continued from page two)

ago.
The fact that some of The Stout Institute graduates were present at this convention made the trip very enjoyable and interesting.

The Home Economics teachers were entertained at a delightful luncheon which was supervised by Miss Myra Vaughn, head of the Department in Winona. The high school pupils served the luncheon.

—S—
"Why do you do so much darning, my dear?"
"Oh, just runs in the family, I suppose."

ORPHEUM
Tonight (Friday)
Last chance to see George Arliss in
"DISRAELI"

Saturday
Dolores Costello and Conrad Nagle in
"THE REDEEMING SIN"

Sunday
Everett Horton in
"THE TERROR"
Matinee 2:30

4 days starting Mon., Nov. 11
"ON WITH THE SHOW"
A great musical comedy in Natural Colors.

GRAND
Thursday & Friday
Bill Cody in
"Eyes of the World"

Sat. and Sun.
Cohens and Kellys in
"AT ATLANTIC CITY"
Matinee Sun. at 3:00

Two Quints Survive Pre-Season Tourney

With the start of the wildcat League, basket ball has started off with a bang and several good games have been played. This tournament has been going all week and the winner will be announced Friday.

In the Monday night games the Wadenians defeated the Mind Readers. The second game between the Aces and the Biwabik team was forfeited to the former team when Kerke's men failed to show up.

On Tuesday night there were two good games—Rude's team winning from Harmon's by the close score of 10-8. The other game between Hooser and Rowe was won by Hoosers team 19-9.

On Wednesday night the Aces played the Wadenians and came out victorious, 26-6, and Fraser's team beat the Lochinvars, 23-22.

In the games last night Hooser's team defeated that of Fraser, 26-14, and the Aces beat Rude's team 19-8. The championship will be played off tonight between the Aces and Hooser's team. If one is interested in seeing a good game, turn out to the Stout Armory at five o'clock tonight.

—S—
"That fellow referred to me as an old fool!"
Nonsense! Why, you aren't forty yet."

Frosh Girls Win In Flashball Contest

The Homecoming Flashball game between the Freshmen and Sophomore girls was played last Saturday in the Stout Armory. The Freshmen won by a score of 9 to 5.

The Sophomores opened up with some fast playing and acquired a lead, but it was not long before the freshmen rallied and came through with some scores of their own. The sophs were unable to defend themselves against the inspired frosh who came out of the game with a four point lead.

Try Hard to Score
All of the members of both teams made supreme efforts to score, but no one member starred, for one one person made more than two scores.

The game was played in a short fifteen minutes, and the action of both teams was fast although the freshmen outdid the sophomores a bit in team play. The spoils limited themselves to short hits while the freshmen scored with long fielders.

See US For HAIRCUTS
We Satisfy Our Customers
The Lakeview
Barber Shop

SERVICE

We do DRY CLEANING
on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.
Articles brought by noon will be ready next day.
SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Menomonee Dye House
Running and Cole

"Let's Eat"

HOMEMADE
PIES — CAKE — DO-NUTS
Enjoy a lunch
With the bunch!
AT
THE CANDY SHOP

The Olympia

PETE JEATREN, Prop.
SERVICE . . . QUALITY
Taffy Apples always the Best
Open After Dances

WARD'S Club Parchment Stationary
at OLSON'S
See our New Ward's Line-a-Day
"IDEAL GIFT"
A. R. OLSON

The Goodyear Factory System Quick Service Shoe Rebuilding Allows Us To Guarantee A Perfect Job.

GRAVEN AND WILCOX
Main Street

STUDENTS ATTENTION!!
Be Sure and See "THE STUDENT SPECIAL" Before
Having Your ANNUAL PICTURE Taken
"SHAKER STUDIOS" of course!

Wisconsin H. E. Ass'n Holds Annual Meet at Milwaukee, Wis.

Miss Michaels Is Chairman Of Child Development and Welfare Group

The Wisconsin Home Economics Association held its annual meeting at the Teacher's Convention in Milwaukee on November 7 and 8. The sectional programs on Thursday afternoon were all very worthwhile for home economics people.

Miss Michaels of The Stout Institute was chairman of the group devoted to the problems of teaching child welfare. One of the discussion leaders, Mrs. Belding of Milwaukee, emphasized the need of parental education. She said that a large per cent of the questions that come up in the management of girls could be solved by proper adjustments in home situations. Her discussion led to many very interesting and profitable questions.

Miss Smith Is Speaker

Miss Smith of Stout Institute discussed objectives that were set up by the National Parental Education Conference on the education of parents, and she supplemented the main points in her talk by emphasizing the essential routine factors in the child's daily program in the nursery school.

Another section that met was the Foods and Nutrition group at which Dr. Hart of the University of Wisconsin was the chief speaker. A illustrative discussion was given in the Clothing section by Miss Louise Cleveland. At this same time Dr. Adelaide S. Baylor of Washington D. C. talked to the Vocational group.

H. E. Sections Numerous

On Friday afternoon a large group of Home Economics people heard Dr. Ogburn of the University of Chicago talk on, "The Place of the Child in the Home."

Dr. Ogburn is a leading modern sociologist. He stressed habit formation as a part of home training for the child. There were various other section meetings of the home economics people on Friday afternoon.

An outstanding program on Character (Continued on page two)

Annex Holds Shower For Mabel Lozier

A very interesting and unusual pajama party was given in the Annex living room Tuesday evening. After everyone was assembled, supposedly for "house meeting," a short program was started by Jane Foeller, who gave a reading "Popping the Question." This was followed by "I Love You Truly," sung by Charlotte Watchhorn. A mock wedding followed with Georgia Aber as the blushing bride, Mildred Hoggard the bridegroom, Ardella Anderson, the august minister, and Dorothy Cole and Mabel Neergard as charming little flower girls.

Mabel Lozier is Honored

After the wedding the purpose of the meeting was disclosed, when Mabel Lozier was presented with a waffle iron as a wedding gift from the Annex girls. A huge white wedding cake was then brought in to be cut by the bride and a delicious looking chocolate cake with "Happy Birthday" written on it was presented to Miss Balerud.

After eating their fill of birthday and wedding cake, everyone departed for their rooms to sleep on wedding cake and dream of.....?

The De Molay's are sponsoring one of their exceptional dances at the gym, Friday, Nov. 22.

Studebaker Fails; Ford May Be Favored

Peculiar things sometimes happen in this world. The Studebaker has failed! The exact cause was not known, but it was rumored that a broken spring was at the seat of the trouble.

We wonder how Mr. Keith and Mr. Davison enjoyed their vacation? It was a known fact that the students of above mentioned instructors used this time to a good advantage in preparing other studies. Especially as tests at that time were frequent and time for study was at a premium.

Get a Ford!

The praises of "Lucky Strikes" are sung by great stage stars, screen and opera favorites; the value of vitamins are heralded by nutrition experts and doctors; the power and ability of the Studebaker is advertised by Mr. Keith. After this unexpected event may he still continue his praises of said car. Many might say, "Give me the Ford." Fords are thick as flies on a road, but one can at least obtain suitable parts easily when a mishap occurs.

A possible solution to their predicament: overstimulation of minds by too much convention, for we understand that there were worthwhile lectures given.

Anyway, more power to the Studebaker next time.

Stout Alumni Hold Banquet In Milwaukee

One of the special meetings of the Milwaukee Convention was the banquet of the Stout Alumni Association, Friday evening at the hotel Schroeder, at which eighty-three people were present. This is the largest attendance that the association has had for several years.

The members elected Mr. Peter M. Krogstad of Huntington Park, Cal. to serve as president of the organization for three years. Mr. Krogstad succeeded Roy Van Duzee. Reka Lembke will continue as vice-president for two more years and Mrs. Sarah Catura as secretary and treasurer for one year.

The alumni were welcomed by president Burton E. Nelson, after which talks followed by Mr. B. E. McCormick, secretary of the Wisconsin Teacher's Association, and Mrs. Catura. The meeting was reported an enjoyable "get together" for Stout alumni.

Next Week's Calendar
Friday, Nov. 15
Metallurgy Dance.
Saturday, Nov. 16
Y. W. C. A. Kid Party.
Monday, Nov. 18
Stoutonia Staff—5 p. m.
Science Club—5 p. m.
Tower Staff—7 p. m.
Men's Glee Club—7 p. m.
Women's Glee Club—7 p. m.
Tuesday, Nov. 19
Band—7 p. m.
Philomatheans—7 p. m.
Wednesday, Nov. 20
Rifle Club—7 p. m.
Metallurgy Club—7 p. m.
Lutheran Students—7 p. m.
Y. W. C. A.—5 p. m.
Thursday, Nov. 21
Arene—7:30 p. m.
Hyperion—5 p. m.
Orchestra—7 p. m.

Chicago Chapter Of Stout Alumni Growing; Bowman Gives Report

Revision of Stout Curriculum and and Placement Outlook
Are Discussed

Mr. Bowman attended the meeting of the Chicago Chapter of Stout Alumni last Saturday evening. There were about 18 Stout graduates present at this meeting which was one of the most favorable indications of the popularity of the growing club.

This chapter of Stout Alumni holds two meetings annually, one about the time of the State Convention at Milwaukee and the other some time in the spring. This meeting was held at this time to allow several members to be present who were in attendance at the Wisconsin convention.

Future of "Alumnus" Discussed

Mr. Bowman gave the club a report on the curriculum revision program at Stout and a review of the outlook of the present placement season. He also told this group of the successful meeting just held at Milwaukee. The possibilities of the Stout Alumnus as an Alumni quarterly was discussed at considerable length.

The latter part of the evening was given over to reports from the individual members as to their activities, both of the past and current school teaching year. Mr. John Steendahl is president of the Chicago chapter for the current year.

NOTICE

The De Molay's are announcing their big hop, Friday evening, Nov. 22 in the gym.

Professor Brown Leads S. T. S. in Discussion

Professor Arthur Brown led the Stout Typographical Society in an informal discussion of the aims and objectives of printing instruction in the several types of schools, last Wednesday evening at the regular meeting of the society.

Discussion Highly Valuable

The discussion dealt with the three correct instructional divisions of the industrial education program. The first division consists of a general exploratory course made up of general values of equal importance to every student regardless of the vocation he may later choose to pursue. The second division consists of a specific exploratory course that gives the student specific aid in the selection of his vocation. The third instructional division starts the student toward specialization in his chosen vocation.

Industrial Education Stressed

Mr. Brown made note of the trend toward the standardization of industrial education courses, with the above mentioned divisions as the probable outcome.

The large attendance at each of the meetings held so far this year marks the Stout Typographical Society as one of the most prominent and worthwhile organizations of the school.

Mid-Semester Adds Four to Enrollment

Mid-semester enrollments, which are quite unusual in many of the leading schools of the country, are becoming quite popular here. During the past week there have been four new enrollments in the school of Industrial Education. Roland Miller and J. W. Docker, who are both juniors, Paul Marschner, senior, and Leonard Browe, freshman, are the new men. Steve Cvengros, former student, re-entered.

It is possible to enroll at this time in the school of industrial education because of the quarterly division of many of the courses. The shop and drawing courses and some of the education courses run on the quarterly basis, altho most of the academic courses are strictly on the semester basis, and are, of course, closed to mid-semester enrollments.

Although the subjects taken consist of largely shop work, the fact that a required number of hours are required in the shops, makes enrolling at mid-semester highly valuable.

Part-Time Classes of Employed Boys and Girls Attend Stout

Student Teachers To Instruct Classes; Will Meet Twice
Every Week

Part-time classes for the employed boys and girls under eighteen years of age who are not attending school elsewhere, met last Monday for the first time, under the direction of Mr. Theodore Roswell, who is a student here, and who is also in charge of the evening vocational classes.

At present there are nine in attendance, but a total enrollment of 20 is expected.

Classes will meet for two half days during the week. All students have two hours of academic subjects on Monday afternoon. Home Economics and Industrial Education classes meet for two hours each, on Tuesday afternoon.

Student Teachers Instruct

The instructors in the Home Economics department are student teachers; namely: Winifred Cooper, Henrietta Sievert, and Irma Nichols, who are supervised by Miss Grace Price, teacher trainer and supervisor for vocational education. The classes have been organized on the unit basis: courtesy, responsibilities of the girl in the home, and practical work in foods and clothing form the content of these units.

The instructors in the department of Industrial Education are Charles Strong, Edwin Reed, and John Barber, who are students in attendance here at Stout. These classes are supervised by Mr. Welch, who is also a teacher trainer of vocational education.

Saturday Classes Abolished

Heretofore, part time classes were held on Saturday, but experience has proved that this day is not advisable in many ways for school attendance.

For the last two or three years, there has been much antagonism on the part of parents toward vocational classes, and all attempts for such education have been unsuccessful. It is hoped that the present program will both create interest in, and facilitate the teaching of part-time classes.

New Equipment To Improve Print Shop

The new equipment soon to be added to the Stout print shop will consist of two type cabinets, and a Chandler & Price press with a Miller automatic feed. These will enable the students of printing to carry on their work with a greater degree of efficiency. Two form trucks have already been spent upon the make-up of THE STOUTONIA forms.

The two new sets of type cabinets will now make it possible for twenty students to enter a class of elementary composition whereas sixteen students was the former limit. The use of form trucks will eliminate the carrying of printing forms from the composing stone to the press, which undoubtedly will decrease the time installed and are being used for THE STOUTONIA.

Miller Feeder To Be Installed

A Chandler & Price press with a Miller automatic feed is the largest addition of new equipment made to the shop for some time, and will allow the press time on long run production jobs to be cut down considerably.

DANCE TONIGHT

The Metallurgists are promising a dance tonight that will make everyone forget their cares and worries. Features and fun galore are on the program.

CAMPUS CARTOONS

by Kathleen Lind

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office,
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                                    |                        |
|------------------------------------|------------------------|
| Managing Editor .....              | Lester L. Hawkes       |
| Associate Editor.....              | Irma L. Nichols        |
| News Editor .....                  | Elizabeth A. Williams  |
| News Editor .....                  | John Barber            |
| Assistant .....                    | Bernard C. Hagen       |
| Assistant .....                    | Belinda I. Hendrickson |
| Sports Editor .....                | William J. Micheels    |
| Assistant (I. E.) .....            | Frøde Anderson         |
| Assistant (H. E.) .....            | Helen Chamberlin       |
| Feature Editor .....               | Henriette L. Quilling  |
| Exchange Editor .....              | Bernice G. Bricker     |
| Humor Editor .....                 | William J. Soucie      |
| Assistant Humor Editor.....        | Harold F. Taufman      |
| Society Editor.....                | Al J. Poelinger        |
| Cartoonist .....                   | Aneta Gundlach         |
| Head-Line Writer .....             | Kathleen L. Lind       |
| Business Manager .....             | Stuart Carnes          |
| Circulation Manager .....          | Earl C. Halverson      |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....    | Robert G. Reick        |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....    | Carl Roll              |
| Advertising Manager .....          | Al Reinhold            |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr. ....        | Marlo McCullough       |
| Make-up Foreman and Pressman ..... | Donald K. Lind         |
| Under Direction of.....            | Kent Riggs             |
| Editorial Adviser.....             | C. W. Hague            |
| Associate Adviser.....             | Mr. John Faville, Jr.  |
|                                    | Miss Helen Sarchet     |

"Support The Tower"

Pursuing the same line of work, The Stoutonia is naturally interested in the work and the results of The Tower, our school annual. The editor of The Stoutonia, in an interview with a member of The Tower staff, learned many of the difficulties and obstacles which have to be overcome before the yearly book is ready to be published.

Little do the majority of the students realize the time and energy that is required to compile the photographs and various articles to fill this book. Little do we realize the hours spent combating engraving salesmen so as to secure the lowest bid possible and still retain the high quality of work that previous annuals have boasted.

A good year book is one of the best advertisements a college can possibly have, and it is through the staff and the co-operation of the entire body of students that this advertisement is made possible. A poor annual is a detriment, rather than a boost for our school, and while the Tower staff are laboring many hours a week, their work will be a complete failure without the co-operation of every man and woman attending Stout.

One of the greatest problems confronting the staff at the present time is that of student photographs. The pictures to enter this year's annual MUST be in the hands of the staff before Christmas. Any pictures turned in at a later date will have to be omitted. The photographers have informed the Tower that owing to their enormous holiday trade it will be necessary to have student pictures taken as soon as possible. This will not only relieve the work of the photographer, and assure your picture a place in The Tower, but it will also reduce the work of the staff when they are ready to arrange the panels to be sent to the engravers.

The actual cost of each book in this year's issue will approximate six dollars. In giving the annuals to the students for $3.50 or less, you cannot afford to be without one. Have you stopped to realize the value of this book to you in years to come? Have you thought how many times in future years you will refer to it when memories of Stout and of old college friends are brought to your mind? If you haven't, think it over, and then subscribe for your annual now. The number of annuals ordered will be the exact number pledged now, so anyone relying on securing an extra copy in the spring is bound to be disappointed. Pledge today and rest assured that there will be one awaiting you when they are received next spring.

It is your duty as a student at this school to buy one of these annuals and it is also your duty to co-operate with the staff members, who are faithfully working to produce for you the best Tower that was ever published from Stout.

THE STOUTONIA is heartily endorsing the work of the staff and is urging the students to do their utmost to produce an annual of which we all will be proud.

Let's Laugh

For Sale: Big fat hog. Come out and see me. John Brown.

Say, Teacher, what does a fairy tale look like?

Voice in the car: Going down?

Outside: Why, yes.

Voice in the car: Take the elevator.

Girls, are you looking for a date? George Biwer would like to go hunting squirrels tomorrow and take a lunch.

Detailed information on love, its symptoms and cure. See Clarence Nelson, office above popcorn wagon, corner Main and Second streets.

Stike has just retired as chief of the Kekoskee tribe but he still retains its love call.

Cosette has sold his mustache to the Fuller Brush Company, who are making bigger and better brushes.

Where did you get those red hair? Oh, that is just another of my rusty ideas.

One of the Frosh wants to know Alma Mater. Juniors, please enlighten him.

Karl Miller was sentenced to jail for repairing his alarm o'clock on Art Dehlinger's English theme.

Haase neved dusturbs his room-mates while he is typing. They have read volumes between clicks.

Mr. Johnston is teaching his students how to make circles with a tri-square.

Bill Murray has already written to Santa Clause.

On the way to Milwaukee, after taking another piece of candy, Miss Callahan exclaimed, just as the car went over a bump, "That's fine. I don't have to chew when you do that."

Butenhoff: "How does your girl like your new mustache?"

Guelson: "Darn it, I forgot to show it to her!"

Dean Price: "Were you ever in trouble before?"

Dusty: "Well, Mr. Antrim fined me two cents day before yesterday."

Pierson: "I play the saxophone just to kill time."

Miss Hassler: "You certainly have a fine weapon."

Johnny Jump-Up's Diary

Saturday—Fell down and broke arm Sunday—Got married today.

Monday—Gosh, how happy I was on Saturday!

—Pennsylvania Punch Bowl

Hopeful: Dear, they say that the people with opposite characteristics make the happiest marriages.

"Kid" Riggs—Yes, That's why I'm looking for a girl with money.

I just had a wonderful chicken dinner—an egg sandwich.

Wouldn't you know it? Just as soon as we get our "lip-reading" perfected, they come along with the talkies.

The turkey is sentenced to be executed for Thanksgiving. You might be the man or woman to wield the ax, if you are lucky. Ask any De Molay—They know all about it.

If no news is good news, then some members of our Stoutonia staff are good reporters.

Absent Minded?

Dentist: "Do you want gas?" Man in the chair—Yeah, and look at the oil."

The Journalistic writing class is learning all about a "morgue." Possi-

SCHOOL LIBRARY RECEIVES NEW BOOKS

Among books recently received by the Library are the following:

Home Economics

The Shopping Book, by W. H. Baldwin.

Hotel Management, by L. M. Boomer. Home Economics Teacher Training under the Smith-Hughes Act, 1917-1927, by G. A. Branegan.

Science of the Home, by N. B. Giles and Dorothy Ellis.

Problems in Home Living, by M. M. Justin and L. O. Rust.

Education

Am I Getting an Education? by John Dewey, W. L. Phelps, Sherwood Eddy and others.

Normal Schools and Other Institutions, Agencies and Means for the Professional Education of Teachers, by Henry Barnard. (Reprint of a book first published in 1851.)

Handbook of Teaching Skills, by W. H. Lancelot.

Supervision of Secondary Subjects, edited by W. L. Uhl.

Travel and Biography

Cruise of the Cachalot, by F. T. Bullen.

—S—

Did You Know That-

Harmon said: Although we know the objective method is best we will go right out and use the wrong method in the field?

And Emma Hanson said, "Not after taking Ed. Pro.?"

The orchestra received a letter of congratulation from President Nelson?

The Annex boasts a bride?

The girls at the Annex gave a Bridal Shower for her Tuesday?

Peebles and Penn through their research in agricultural experiments are developing a new species of cow? The results will be published in Farm and Fireside, Wis. Agriculturalist, Northwestern Farmer, Wisconsin Farmer, Eau Claire Leader, Dunn County News and The Stoutonia.

The Y. W. girls are going to sell apples at Lynwood and the Annex? Who says that the coeds don't believe in keeping the doctor away?

Bill Hoeser came on time to Ed. Pro. Monday for the first time this year?

The students enjoyed the results of the Teacher's Convention? We ought to have more.

Harmon said, The girls wore their hair sort of bobbed 30 years ago, didn't they?

Brown asked, Why?

Harmon replied, I was looking at some pictures of dad's girls?

—S—

Wisconsin H. E. Ass'n. Holds Annual Meeting

(Continued on page two)

acter Education was given Thursday afternoon when Dr. Babbit of the University of Chicago and Dr. John Denges of Lawrence College talked on "The Probability of Character Building Through School Activities."

Miss Callahan Visits Marquette Miss Callahan of the English Department here attended a very interesting demonstration of teaching composition which was conducted by Miss Cook of Central High School of Minneapolis. She also visited some classes in literature at Marquette University.

bly news writing is a matter of life and death after all.

"That will be enough out of you," said the doctor as he stitched this poor humor editor together.

Tasty: What is a slide rule?

Dusty: Never slide with your new pants on.

Here'n There

Vernon and Austin Smith, North Dakota athletes, and proprietors of the most luxurious mustaches on the school campus, have invented two new devices which they hope will give them a break financially.

The inventions are a mustache rake and a hair net for mustaches. It seems that weeping willows dropping from the Smith upper lips impeded their enjoyment at meals and led to the new inventions.

There were other reasons your informant has discovered. Room mates of the Smiths, it is said, reported them to the school authorities, alleging that a family of field mice were living in Black Austin's foilage and that the offsprings were destroying the truck garden of Prof. Raymond Hitchcock on University avenue. Needless to say, Black Austin resented these accusations and cleared the character of his mustache by submitting to an official investigation by Prof. Pletch's geology class. An inspection showed that the roots were firmly imbedded and that no field mice were discovered, although the examiners did find a colony of ground sparrows nesting in the rough.

"With this little rake which I have invented," Vernon said yesterday, producing the implement from his pocket, "I gently but firmly agitate the soil around the roots three times a day, after which I squirt the whisksers with a little water. This invigorates each sprig and helps the growth."

"I then catch them up in this little net, which may be had in roan, sorrel, bay or black, to match the foilage and comes equipped with loops to hitch over the ears. Thus when one is walking down the campus, horses cannot reach out and chew off the tops and the mustache does not get caught in classroom doors. It also keeps dead leaves and scraps of paper from lodging in the mustache."

"I have only begun to cultivate my beard," said Vern. "In six months I shall have my mustache in full bloom and if there are any mustache shows it would not surprise me very much if Black Aus and myself won the blue and black ribbons."

Vern and Aus agree that they do not care to make any more money out of the inventions than it would take to get them through school this year.

"The rest," said Black Aus, "might be used to purchase corn plasters for football players whose should pads do not fit."

Jack West hereby is notified of the probability for such a fund.—The Dakota Student.

It is a noteworthy fact that every member of the first class to be graduated from Cornell college married within the class. The fact that there were only two in the class does not mar the illustration.—The Cornellian.

Last Saturday, when Marquette U. played Detroit U., over 4,000 Marquette rooters utilized trains, busses, airplanes, boats, cars and even shank's mare to go over and see the Golden Avalanche tie the Detroit Titans, 6-6. The was the first break in the latter's string of nineteen consecutive victories.—The Marquette Tribune.

Northern State Teacher's College, Marquette, Michigan went thru its football season without a defeat and with only one tie. They made ninety-one points against their opponent's 12.—The Northern College News.

Customer (who has been struggling for some time what he received as steak:) "Waiter!"

Waiter: "Yes sir."

Customer (w. h. b. s. f. t. w. w. h. r. a. s.), "I don't mind so much, when I order beef and get horseflesh, but for heaven's sake, I wish you wouldn't bring me the harness along with it!"

Society

Philos Hold Formal Meeting Sunday

The Philomathean society held its first formal service for prospective members in the club rooms Sunday morning at 8:45. After the short service, the members of the society attended the Congregational Church.

Formal Ceremonies for New Members Is Held By S. M. A.

The first formal initiation of the S. M. A. Society for prospective members was held Sunday morning at 8 o'clock in the club rooms. Breakfast was served at the Hotel Marion for the entire group.

Hyperians Hold First Formal Initiation Sunday

Prospective members of the Hyperian society were given their first formal initiation Sunday at 5 o'clock in the club rooms. A candle light service was used. The girls then left for the Hotel Marion where they were the guests of Miss Burgoin at dinner.

Sketch Club Holds Regular Meeting

The Sketch Club held its regular meeting in Miss Mutz's room Saturday morning at ten o'clock. Plans were discussed and ideas presented for different types of Christmas cards will be for sale. Anyone who is interested in sketching is invited to attend the meetings held every Saturday from 10 to 12 in Miss Mutz's room.

Y. W. C. A. "Kid Party" To Be Held Tomorrow Night

The Y. W. C. A. "Kid Party," an annual event of much interest to the girls, will be held Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock in the gymnasium. An invitation is extended to all Home Economics people, regardless of membership in the Y. W. C. A. There are just two requirements, everyone must come dressed in kid costume and have with her ten cents. Two prizes will be given for the best dressed little girl and boy. Refreshments will be served to the "kids."

After a nice Hair Cut use
FITCH SHAMPOO
result;
Clean scalp; Beautiful fluffy hair
AT
I. W. NESSER

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

Three 1st Class Barbers
Haircuts at any hour of the day

THE ELECTRIC SHOP

Drugs and Stationery
NOER DRUG COMPANY

"Dusty" Promises Fun at Metallurgy Dance

Of course you haven't forgotten last season's Metallurgy dance, but just to freshen your memory, greet yourself Friday night at the Stout gym and dance to that rhythmic orchestra that would make a wall flower come out into bloom.

The old metal worker, "Dusty," promises novelty dances, decorations, and even a novel act or two by himself if necessary to satisfy those who always demand a bit more in the way of entertainment.

Admission is 35c and your S. S. A. ticket and the only requirement for leaving will be a good time, which is assured by the Metallurgists to all who attend.

HOMEMAKERS NEWS

Miss Michaels, Miss Ganz and Miss Walsh were dinner guests at Homemakers on Wednesday night.

As the girls at Homemaker's were sitting in the living room Thursday night after dinner, the door bell rang loudly several times. Mildred Dingee, thinking it was some of the young neighborhood who had been playing pranks decided to give the boys a scare. She opened the door quietly, jumped out, and called "Boo!"

To her utter surprise, she came face to face with a salesman of silk hosiery.

You can control the kind of books you read and the kind of thoughts you allow to stay in your mind and color it. You cannot always control the conversation you hear, but you can keep your own talk clean and reverent.

Personals

TAINTER ANNEX

Beth Murray was the week end guest of Marie Simonson at her home in Cameron, Wis.

Ruth Lindall spent the week end in St. Paul.

Ruth Bassuener visited at the home of Velma Gutwasser in Chippewa Falls this week end.

Miss Dorothy Springer of Elmwood was a week end guest of Katherine Graslie.

Miss Fern Stone, a former Stout student, visited Katherine Counsell this week end.

Miss Bernice Sievert of Milwaukee visited her sister Henrietta Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Catherine Cress was the week end guest of her sister, Marian.

TAINTER HALL

Francis Schroeder and Anita Gundlach spent Saturday in Eau Claire.

Alice Cockerill visited friends in

OUR SANDWICHES
ARE A MEAL.
TRY THEM
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"Home Of Good Food"

Fountain Pen Sets —
Desk Sets —
OF EVERY MAKE AT
LEE'S DRUG STORE

Our Shoes are the very Best.

We have an
expert shoe repairing department
in connection.

Swenson and Berndt
"The Shoe Men"

SPORT COATS of all KINDS

$4.50 and up

Evens - Tobin Co.

NOW IS THE TIME TO THINK ABOUT CHRISTMAS GIFTS

FOR YOUR FRIENDS

SEE OUR SPLENDID ASSORTMENT OF
STAPLE AND CUSTOM JEWELRY

NELS ANSHUS

THE JEWELER

Rice Lake over the week end.

Frances Schroeder will major in extra curricular activities for the next quarter. We wonder why?

We are told that Marj Robb did a seven weeks washing on Saturday.

Marseline Stephany and Kathleen Shannon were dinner guests of Esther Sichler and Mildred Dingee at Homemakers on Wednesday.

Tainter Hall was unusually quiet Sunday due to the fact that Mary Hyrz spent most of the day sleeping.

With Mrs. Dow's permission to use her radio, several of the girls listened to the Minnesota-Iowa game on Saturday. We are now anticipating the Wisconsin-Minnesota game with nearly an equal number of loyal supporters on each side.

Marceline Stephany and Kathleen several days in the Infirmary where she is recovering from an attack of pleurisy.

LYNWOOD HALL

Thirteen girls spent the week end at their homes.

Dr. Bachman served coffee to a group of fourteen Lynwood girls Sunday P. M.

An exchange of roommates is prevalent among Lynwood girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Gilbertson visited their daughter Irma over the week end.

A liking for bike riding was evidenced by a trip to Elk Mound and back by Emma Anderson, Violet Walstrom and Margaret Senty.

Menomonie Baking Co.

Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP SERVICE QUALITY

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Good Meals and Refreshments

SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

GOLDEN BROWN WAFFLES
with MAPLE SYRUP

15c

CHICKEN SANDWICHES — SHORT ORDERS

We Deliver

Phone 746

525 Broadway

THE SANDWICH SHOP

SEE

BELAIR

BELAIR

FOR

FOR

TOWER PHOTOS

TOWER
PHOTOS

BELAIR STUDIO

MAIN STREET

OPP. SCHOOLS

45 Men Report For Basketball; "A" and "B" Squads Selected

Eighteen Men Survive First Cut Of "A" Squad; Only Five "S" Men Are Out

The forty-five men who reported for Coach Paulus' first call for basketball were divided into "A" and "B" squads Wednesday evening, eighteen men surviving the first cut. These have begun their long grind toward a smooth performance under the coach's direction, while the "B" squad will be coached by Clayt Halverson and Harry Wolfram, two members of the coaching class.

The basketeers are starting the longest season on record in recent years. Intensive work will be approached slowly for this reason, as the first game in the new conference relationship will not occur until December 18. Concordia, who split even with Eau Claire last year, will be the opponent, and the attraction is here.

Five "S" Men Out Now

Only five of last year's varsity squad appear on the first string posed Wednesday. They are: Hanson, guard; Micheels, Rude, and Schauder, forwards; Cvangros, center.

The others who are attached to the first squad at present, but who may be reduced in favor of promising second string material any time, of course, are: Graf, Chippewa Falls; Art Peterson, Eau Claire Teachers College regular last season; Buros, Superior; Hoernamann, Menomonie; Fred Johnson, Biwabik, Minn., "B" team last year; Haase, Wausau, "B" team last year; Southern, Wesby; O'Connell, Menomonie; Stori, Menomonie; Fordham, N. St. Paul, "B" team last year; R. B. Smith of Vermont; Shudlick, Rice Lake; Schalumpf, Durand.

Mr. George Rector Is Home Ec Guest

Mr. George Rector, who is in charge of all of the dining car service of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, and Pacific Railroad Company will be the guest of the School of Home Economics during the early part of the second semester, probably the first week in April.

Mr. Rector is internationally known through his connections with the Rector Restaurants. He will bring with him a fench chef, and together, they will give a group of very unusual and interesting demonstrations, which it is hoped, will be open to the public.

SUPPORT THE TOWER

Mr. Bonsal Smith to Lecture Sunday Eve

Mr. R. Bonsall Smith, of Middlebury, Vt., who is attending The Stout Institute on leave of absent from the educational fields of Tarsus, Turkey, will deliver a lecture about education in Turkey at the Methodist Church, at 6:30 o'clock Sunday evening, Nov. 17th.

Mr. Smith will illustrate his lecture with actual pictures taken by himself during his stay in Turkey.

This is the first of a series of illustrated lectures to be announced from time to time during the winter months. They are to be given under the auspices of the Epworth League, and all faculty, students, and townspeople are cordially invited to attend.

Miss Hasseltine Will Address Girls Monday

Miss Marjorie Hasseltine, Director of Home Economics at Hill Brothers, a large commercial concern in New York, will be a visitor of the School of Home Economics of The Stout Institute on Monday, November 18th.

Miss Hasseltine has had many years of unusually successful work in Home Economics along commercial lines. She will undoubtedly have some fine material to give to the women of the school in her talk to them which will be Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Milwaukee Meeting Is Outstanding Event

The state convention held at Milwaukee last week has been termed by persons in attendance as the outstanding convention of the season.

There were many very interesting sessions and round tables. The general session in meeting Saturday morning elected Mr. S. B. Tobey as president of the Wisconsin Teachers Association for the ensuing year. Mr. Tobey is at the present time superintendent of schools at Wausau, Wis.

Macalester College, St. Paul, publishes a biennial book instead of an annual as we do. A camera contest is also being staged there, much like ours, with a book as the prize.—The Mac Weekly.

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomnie Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

Season of Intramural Sports Draws Near; Much Spirit Evident

Boarding House Teams To Hold Highest Interest; Class Teams Are Dropped

With many memories of last year's games still lingering, another intramural sports season is about to start. This year Ernest Mueller has charge of the entire program and with the proper student support it is sure to go over big.

The first thing on the program is a wildcat volleyball tournament which will start next week. This means that anyone desiring to organize a team may do so and enter it in the tournament.

Last year there was a boarding house league and a class league in the program. Because of the big interest between the boarding houses and the little rivalry between classes, there will be only the boarding house league this year. All eating houses desiring to enter must see "Charleston" at once.

As yet the exact program is undecided but if it imitates that of last year, it will probably include the following sports: volleyball, basketball, bowling, swimming, pool, and billiards, with the possibility of adding others. At the end of the season the name of the winner is engraved on the loving cup given by the S. S. A.

Social Events Enjoyed at Milwaukee Meet

Everyone who was present at the convention of the Wisconsin Teachers' Association enjoyed the social events very much. On Thursday evening the Russian Choir gave a fine concert consisting of sacred, classical and folk selections at the auditorium.

The City Club sponsored a program at the auditorium by Fritz Kreisler, noted violinist, which was one of the unusual opportunities of the annual meeting.

ORPHEUM

Friday and Saturday
Betty Compson and Grant Withers in

"THE TIME, THE PLACE AND THE GIRL"

A clever story of what might happen to any college athlete. Also 2 acts screen vaudeville and News.

Sun. Mon. Tues. Wed.
"GOLD DIGGERS OF BROADWAY"

Positively the best and biggest musical comedy to date. You will marvel at the stage and screen stars and natural comedy. Mat. Sunday 2:30. Don't miss this one.

GRAND

Friday
"HEY RUBE"
Sat. and Sun.
Tom Tyler in
"GUN LAW"
Mat. Sun. at 3:00

Miss Marlotte Is New H. E. Association Pres.

Miss Marlotte of the University of Wisconsin was elected President of the State Home Economics Association for the coming year. Mrs. Grace of Madison, vice-president, and Mrs. Tonigan of the Milwaukee Vocational School, secretary and treasurer were also elected.

Advisory Board Tells Students to "Pay Up"

At the meeting of the Stout Student Advisory Board, Thursday night the question of class dues was brought before them. Again, those students who have not paid their class dues, are reminded that this must be done at once. Unless this matter is attended to promptly, drastic means will be taken to collect them. Your class needs this money. Please see to it and uphold the standard of your class.

The Treasurers of the various classes are asked to set definite dates for collection. If necessary, get an assistant so as to collect in both the I. A. and H. E. building simultaneously. Stout Student Advisory Board.

Pledge your dollar to the Tower now. You must pledge this fall if you want a book.

STUDENTS NOTICE

Those students who have not as yet paid their pledges for the 1930 Tower, are asked to do so next Monday, November eighteenth.

Likewise, all students who have not yet pledged, are asked to do so Monday and so avoid the necessity of continued requests for support of the yearbook.

Every loyal student wants a copy of their Alma Mater's yearbook, especially in view of the fact that the 1930 Tower will be the best that has ever left the press. That statement will be easily fulfilled if there is student support and cooperation.

Bring your dollar Monday and give it to any member of the Tower staff. HELP PUT THE TOWER ACROSS!!

See US For HAIRCUTS
We Satisfy Our Customers
The Lakeview
Barber Shop

SERVICE

We do DRY CLEANING
on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.
Articles brought by noon will be ready next day.

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Menomnie Dye House
Running and Cole

"Let's Eat"

HOMEMADE

PIES — CAKE — DO-NUTS

Enjoy a lunch
With the bunch!

AT

THE CANDY SHOP

The Olympia

PETE JEATREN, Prop.

SERVICE - - - QUALITY

Taffy Apples always the Best

Open After Dances

WARD'S Club Parchment Stationary

at

OLSON'S

See our New Ward's Line-a-Day

"IDEAL GIFT"

A. R. OLSON

The Goodyear Factory System Quick Service Shoe Rebuilding Allows Us To Guarantee A Perfect Job.

GRAVEN AND WILCOX
Main Street

STUDENTS ATTENTION!!

Be Sure and See "THE STUDENT SPECIAL" Before Having Your ANNUAL PICTURE Taken "SHAKER STUDIOS" of course!

De Molays To Give Thanksgiving Hop In Gym Tonight

Campus Playboys Will Furnish Music for Dance; Turkey
To Be Given Away

The De Molay Club is going to give everyone in Stout an excellent chance to start this week end in a successful and happy mood. How? By sponsoring a dance in the Stout gym, tonight at 8:30. Perhaps the groove in your mind that is being dug deeper at the present time, tells you that this is just "another week end dance." BUT, your groove is absolutely WRONG! This is a week end dance, true enough but it is going to be different than any other.

You can't have the "frosting" of this article until the end but you can get an ear full right now. The gym is going to put on its best clothes, (like you are going to do for your Tower photo) and it is going to produce an image on your optic that will satisfy, mainly because it is toasted, by Old Sol himself.

The inspiration for your feet is going to be sent out on longitudinal waves by the Campus Playboys. They have been out in the wood shed this week and have practiced some new numbers that will be a treat for sore ears. They have also worked on some novelties which they will "present at that time."

And last but not least—the frosting! Believe it or not, Thanksgiving is getting rather near and you know what symbolizes that time of the year. Gobble, gobble, gobble,—smell the blood of a turkey.—"Ma, kin I have some more mashed potatoes and stuffin'?" (by the process of evolution)

If you want a turkey free, all you have to do is buy a ticket for the De-Molay dance and give the stub to the ticket taker at the door. Each and every ticket will have a number on it. The stubs are to be put in a box, thoroughly mixed up, and then one of the stubs will be drawn out. The number on the stub that is drawn out is the lucky number. If your ticket has the corresponding number, you can waltz home with the

(Continued on page four)

Valuable Talk Given To Home Economics Girls Monday Evening

Miss Heseltine Talks on Business Opportunities To Home Economics Girls

Miss Marjorie Heseltine, who has charge of the home economics department of Hills Bros. Co. of New York City, spoke to the Home Economics students Monday evening on the opportunities in business for the home economics trained woman. She says that the number of business openings is still very small compared to the number of teaching positions, but that they are developing rapidly.

Various types of positions, especially those relating to the foods field, were discussed. The Public Utilities companies maintaining home service departments were said to offer the greatest number of openings for home economics people.

Candidates Qualifications Discussed

The qualifications for this type of work were, in general: four years of college home economics training, preferably with a degree, although some positions require graduate study and research training. Experience and some maturity were stressed as being essential. At least three years of teaching seemed to be considered the best background. If the work dealt

(Continued on page three)

Toy Exhibit To Be Held This Month

Stout students, along with the townspeople, are going to have an exceptional opportunity to find out the proper toys, books, and what-not which should be taken home to kid sister or brother when the Nursery school parents have their annual display of play material in the Harvey Memorial room Nov. 30 to Dec. 3.

Upperclassmen will recall the interesting displays of previous years, and may expect something considerably more extensive this year. The parents' committee and Miss Smith, nursery school director, have traveled long and often in search of a wide range of toys, both in point of interest and in price.

Students Especially Invited

Such a Santa Claus shop should be of especial interest to embryo teachers, for the girls in the parental education class will assure anyone that the kinds of toys selected by parents can easily determine much of a child's development.

But the exhibit will be of interest for its own sake, too; that is, it will be by far the best opportunity in Menomonie to see what is being offered this season in the realms of play materials for all ages of children and adolescents. The exhibit starts next Saturday, continues until Tuesday, and will be open from 2 to 5 and from 7 to 10 p. m. every day.

M. A. P. To Give Christmas Production

Fiat Lux (Let There Be Light), a modern mystery play in one act, is the choice of the Manual Arts Players for the Christmas program to be held in the assembly on Thursday, December 20.

The play is a Samuel French production, the author being Faith Van Valkenburgh Vilas. The production was chosen by Miss Hassler because it very fittingly brings out the Christmas message.

Cast Already Chosen

The following people have been cast: Azariah, Nathaniel Ward; Father Ambrose, Leo Gardiner; Nellie, Janet Kyle; Soldier, George Bryant; the Waits, Doris Henry, Mildred Haggard, and Emma Newby.

Rehearsals are being held every other night after school; after Thanksgiving there will be a rehearsal each night.

—S—

De Molay dance at the gym tonight.

Next Week's Calendar

Monday

Science Club—5 p. m.
Women's Glee Club—7 p. m.
Men's Glee Club—7 p. m.
Tower Staff—7 p. m.

Tuesday

S. T. S.—7:30 p. m.
Band—7 p. m.
Marquette-La Salle—7:30 p. m.
S. M. A.—7:15 p. m.

Wednesday night the Thanksgiving holiday will formally begin. Don't forget that Wednesday and the following Monday are no-cut days.

The cafeteria will not serve meals at any time during the four days vacation. The last serving will be Wednesday evening and the next Monday morning.

A Capella Choir Gives Exceptional Program At Regular Assembly

Miss Clara May Ward Is Able Directress of Organization; Is Credit to E. C. Normal

Yesterday during the assembly hour, we had the pleasure of listening to the A Capella Choir from the Eau Claire Teachers College. This choir is under the direction of Miss Clara May Ward, who is widely known in musical circles. The choir rendered a program of very fine music. Those who know say it was a wonderful piece of work, and their selections showed excellent training. Their ability to stay on the key without the use of a piano, their enunciation, and the remarkable ability to sing softly were more noticeable because of the comparatively young voices in the choir and the unexcelled direction.

Variety Program Presented

The program was divided into five groups of selections. The entire choir took part in three groups while the Men's and Women's quartet each rendered several selections.

Program

Send out Thy Light.....Gounod
Summer Passes.....Verdi
Kentucky Babe.....Geibel
A Cappella Choir
Indian Song.....
Neapolitan Nights.....Zamecnik
Girls Quartette
Butterfly, Butterfly.....Delibes
The Skippers of St. Ives.....Roeckel
Maria, Maria.....di Chapua
A Cappella Choir
On Venice Waters.....Moore
(Continued on page four)

Wanted: Ideas By Staff Feature Writer

What's a person going to do when he runs out of ideas? It is my suggestion that some bright, sunshiny person write a book on ideas. How many people wouldn't thank him? You could easily count them on one hand.

It's really awfully hard when it's necessary to write at least one theme a week for Advanced Composition or Freshman English. Then there's always something new in ideas required in writing a book report or a novel review. There are special topics and papers galore for the students to expound their ideas on. Just what is a person going to do?

True, here and there, and now and then, we encounter one of the so-called, unusual geniuses with a new thought every minute. But there's no medicine one can take to cause new ideas to grow, as you can take a tonic or cod liver oil to make your bones and muscles enlarge.

There are classes for the cultivation of good taste, classes in the fundamental subjects, as well as classes for special subjects, but where are the ones for the cultivation of ideas?

Sometime, someday, some genius will discover a way to help students gain new ideas. Sad that we are not living in that generation or age. It's coming just like Christmas and Santa Claus are coming—sometime.

—S—

Foods Expert Visits H. E. Department

May McDonald, of the General Foods Corporation, New York, spent part of Tuesday visiting the School of Home Economics. Miss McDonald is a representative of the home economics work of the largest food merger in the United States. This combination is sponsored by the Post Products Co., and is known as the General Foods Corporation.

The home economics group who comprise the consultants and experimental workers of this concern number close to one hundred, and are under the immediate direction of Margaret Sawyer, former nutrition director of the American Red Cross.

Miss McDonald was much interested in the types of activities she found being carried on at The Stout Institute and expressed a desire to visit the department again at some future date.

—S—

De Molay dance at the gym tonight.

Woodworkers Make Interesting Trip To Beloit Machine Plant

Make Entire Survey of the Yates
American Machine Company

(By L. A. Johnson)

The woodworking students of the school took advantage of a rare opportunity last week end when a number of them, accompanied by Mr. H. M. Hansen and Mr. T. W. Johnston, left Menomonie early Friday morning in response to an invitation extended to them by the Yates American Machine Co. of Beloit, Wis. to visit and study their organization and its many products.

To attempt to convey any ideas to others as to the value and interest of such a trip could never be accomplished by means of printed words. One would be compelled to make the trip himself in order to gain the actual significance of this tour. One seems to gain a much broader outlook in this highly specialized field, and comes into contact with things that were before only intangible.

Plant is Described

Let us review the material side first. The plant is an enormous structure with an approximate total floor space of 500,000 square feet. It has an employed personnel numbering close to 950 people. The business transacted during the fiscal year totals over $7,000,000.

The production at this plant includes the various types and styles of woodworking studied and diagnosed from all possible angles, such as, needs, operation safety, economy, strength, durability, etc., and are then designed and constructed so as to be of the greatest efficiency and simplicity of operation.

Observation is Thorough

Our tour through the plant itself was conducted in a systematic manner. Starting from the Main Office we were escorted throughout the institution in the same order that would be characteristic if an order being carried through to completion. The factory is divided into many departments, each one having its specific and detailed type of duties. In

(Continued on page two)

—S—

Dean Bowman Likely To Attend Convention At New Orleans

Mr. Bowman Appointed on Committee of Standards In Industrial Arts

Dean Bowman of the School of Industrial Education, as a member of the American Vocational Association has been appointed a member of the committee on Standards in Industrial Arts. This committee will make its annual report of the year's developments and progresses at the convention at New Orleans.

The convention will be held some time in December and present plans indicate that Mr. Bowman may attend the meeting. Plans have not been fully made or released at this writing, but we hope that Mr. Bowman will be able to attend.

Readers of THE STOUTONIA no doubt recall that last winter Mr. Bowman traveled to the west coast and at some time previous went to the eastern part of the United States. With the contact at New Orleans it seems evident that Stout Institute is known over the United States as a whole. Looking into the future it is possible that in a few years Alaska and northern Canada will be territory desiring Stout graduates in their educational systems.

CAMPUS CARTOONS

by Kathleen Lind

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office,
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                                    |                        |
|------------------------------------|------------------------|
| Managing Editor .....              | Lester L. Hawkes       |
| Associate Editor .....             | Irma L. Nichols        |
| News Editor .....                  | Elizabeth A. Williams  |
| News Editor .....                  | John Barber            |
| Assistant .....                    | Bernard C. Hagen       |
| Assistant .....                    | Belinda I. Hendrickson |
| Sports Editor .....                | William J. Micheels    |
| Assistant (I. E.) .....            | Frode Anderson         |
| Assistant (H. E.) .....            | Helen Chamberlin       |
| Feature Editor .....               | Henriette L. Quilling  |
| Feature Editor .....               | Bernice G. Bricker     |
| Exchange Editor .....              | William J. Soucie      |
| Humor Editor .....                 | Carl Roll              |
| Assistant Humor Editor .....       | Al J. Poelinger        |
| Society Editor .....               | Aneta Gundlach         |
| Cartoonist .....                   | Kathleen L. Lind       |
| Head-Line Writer .....             | Stuart Carnes          |
| Business Manager .....             | Earl C. Halverson      |
| Circulation Manager .....          | Robert G. Reick        |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....    | Carl Roll              |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....    | Byron Canatsey         |
| Advertising Manager .....          | Marlo McCullough       |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr. ....        | Donald K. Lind         |
| Make-up Foreman and Pressman ..... | Kent Riggs             |
| Under Direction of .....           | C. W. Hague            |
| Editorial Adviser .....            | Mr. John Faville, Jr.  |
| Associate Adviser .....            | Miss Helen Sarchet     |

ARE OUR SCHOOL DANCES FAILURES?

The editor, upon several occasions has been approached and asked to publish an editorial on the attendance, interest and courtesy shown at the Stout dances. Although of the opinion that our regular week end dances should be governed according to the majorities idea of a good time, we do think that something should be done to make the dances more attractive, therefore offering more enducement to attend.

What can possibly be the aim of having an all school dance and then have only a meagre few there to enjoy the social affair? There is no better place on the campus to enjoy the friendship of our fellow students than at the Stout mixers. Do the majority of the students want a dance every week end, every other week or abolish them entirely? If we appreciate the work of the organizations in sponsoring these social affairs, the least we can do is attend them and help put them on an even finacial basis.

Another comment which is so much discussed, and yet seems never to be entirely settled, is that of the reception lines at regular mixer dances. Although we have not conducted a general survey of the opinions of the various instructors and administrative officers we have obtained in a general way a very clear conception of the students reaction.

There is no doubt but what the chaperones at the dances are deserving of the best of respect and attention from all those who attend, and that every care should be taken to make them enjoy the evening. We are of the opinion that they would appreciate a few minutes conversation and a dance program to the receiving of the rather stiff line that must of necessity "run the gauntlet" before being considered eligible to dance. The formal reception most certainly has its place at the formal ball, but we believe is hardly correct at an all school mixer.

Wouldn't you, chaperones, much rather go to the dances just as chaperones, have a dance program arranged for you and entertainment provided to amuse during the evening, than to form a stiff reception line and then sit the rest of the evening and wait for late comers to acknowledge you? We would greatly appreciate some comment on this subject from the faculty for as to their personal opinions we are quite in the dark.

Still another item which has helped to decrease the attendance is the lack of girls who are not escorted. Come on fellows, let's get going and make these dances date affairs as college dances should be. You can't blame the girls for not attending without escorts.

Tonight's dance is being given by the De Molays and as several extraordinary features are being offered, this is a good chance to show this organization that we appreciate their efforts in sponsoring for us an evening of entertainment.

Woodworkers Make Trip to Beloit, Wis.

the engineering department, the designs, especially those in the experimental stage, and studied for weaknesses and service.

Improvements on machines that are already in use are also designed and adopted if proven adaptable. Blue prints of all new and old parts are kept on record so as to simplify the duplication of any certain part.

Students See All Departments

In the pattern making shop utmost care is exerted in making patterns so as to insure perfect castings. In the foundry department many efficient and capable devices are installed so as to produce many perfect castings with the least amount of mishaps.

In the machine shop precision is the watchword; parts are constructed to such a degree of accuracy that they are interchangeable with other machines of the same type. This department is one of the best equipped and operated shops in the State.

Knife and Head Dept's. Hold Interest

The knife and head department is one of acute interest; many new and expensive machines have just been installed so as to insure the production of more precise products. The study and diagnosis of steel has to be delt with in this phase of work, and as a result many types of knives and heads have been developed that insure efficient and durable performance.

In direct connection with this department also was a laboratory whose main objective was to insure a standard uniform quality of product. The steels are here tested for tensil strength, yeild point, analysis, etc. Experimental work on new steels is constantly being carried on.

Marvel at Shop Efficiency

So throughout the factory we were face to face with the idea that here was being worked into the daily production the result of analytic study and painstaking endeavor so as to make every piece of machinery produced as close to 100 percent efficient as possible.

We came away feeling that our time was well spent. We gained a broad scope of knowledge as to the construction of the machines with which we come in direct contact in our daily work in the school shops.

Yates Co. Given Thanks

The group is indeed grateful to the Yates American Machine Co. for its hospitality and interest shown toward our group, and also for making it possible for us to take advantage of such a rare opportunity.

We are personally indebted to Mr. A. S. Fleming, Head of the School Sales Dept., who so capably arranged all matters for our trip; also to Mr. M. L. Kouwer, Assistant Sales Manager, who gave us his undivided attention in escorting, together with Mr. Fleming, the group through their plant.

Home Economics Club Joins National Ass'n

The Home Economics Club, which was the first all school professional club on the campus, has recently become affiliated with The American Home Economics Association. The field of work has been greatly broadened, and a strong, active organization should be the result of this movement.

The regular monthly meeting of this Professional Home Economics Club was held Wednesday evening in the Harvey Memorial. At this meeting various reports were given, and the announcement of the completed affiliation of the Stout Home Economics Club with the National Home Economics Association was made. This affiliation broadens the field of activity for the local organization, and a more progressive group movement should result.

Other business pertaining to the club activities was discussed under the leadership of Jane Hambley, President of the local group.

Program Well Appreciated

The social program for the meeting

Let's Laugh

Nutting: "I want a bigger pair of shoes."
Coach Paulus: "What for?"
Nutting: "To cover more floor space."

What is a boob spelled backwards?

Knock! Knock!
"Whozit?"
"It's I, opportunity."
"G'wan, can't fool me. Opportunity knocks but once."

It is said that fools can ask more questions than wise men can answer. Is that why so many students flunk?

If January can't make February March, April May.

Brandt (calling a restaurant) "Have you any stewed oysters?"
Prop: "Yes."
Brandt: "Better sober them up; the prohibition agents are in town."

Art Dehlinger went home to see Joe. We wonder who she is.

A freshman's head is full of air,
Of air so hot and breezy;
A sophomore's head is full of naught-
Of naught but: "Take it easy."
A junior's head is full of love,
The love you get at college;
BUT a senior's head is full of brains
The brains that we call knowledge.
—Neshota News

Editor's note: "How about the Stout specials?"

Canatsey has put his sweetheart back into circulation.

Barney: "How do you like those Indian fried spuds?"
Nick: "What kind?"
Barney: "Scalloped."

Farmer: "Don't you see that sign marked 'Private, no hunting allowed here?'"
Soucie: "Yes, but I don't read anything marked private."

She: "Where is your wavy hair?"
Tom Jungck: "I forgot to ask for a curly hair cut."

Librarian: "Why are you jumping so."
Rusty: "I took my medicine and forgot to shake it."

Mr. Shaker: "They don't have any Norwegians down at your place?"
Charleston: "No, we have niggers instead."

Famous last words: "W—h—o—e"

Shooting Schedule Of Rifle Club Announced

The regular shooting schedule during the indoor season will be as follows:

| Women Members   |                |
|-----------------|----------------|
| Wednesday ..... | 7:00           |
| Saturday .....  | 10:30 to 12:00 |
| Men             |                |
| Monday .....    | 7:00           |
| Saturday .....  | 8:30 to 10:30  |

This schedule will be adhered to strictly every week. The outside door of the Industrial Arts building will be open the first fifteen minutes of each shooting period.

was in charge of the Freshman girls. The talent displayed by the students who were on the program was warmly received by the audience and speaks well for the future of the H. E. program.

Upper classmen were enlightened as to the reasons for choice by the freshmen of Stout as an Alma Mater.

Various musical numbers and readings were also enjoyed. The freshmen contributing especially to the program were Lorraine Litchfield, Ruth Hassman, Lisle Huson, Martha Keturakat, Rhoda Rassler, Eleanor Virgin, Minnie Cronquist, Emma Newby, Jane Fuller, and Belinda Hendrickson.

Winter Season Is Opened by Rifle Club

Combining pleasure with serious rifle practice, the members of the Stout Rifle Club opened the winter target season with a shooting party on the club's indoor range Thursday evening, November 14. Free lunch was enjoyed by the team shooting the high score for the evening, andn during the lunch the prizes for the fall season's shooting were presented to the winners.

The members of the women's and the men's team, who took part in the rifle club's mixer party on the opening date, found themselves placed in one of two teams selected for the evening. Alice Ostrom and Edwin Reed were appointed team captains by the executive officer. Norman Peterson. Competitive shooting was immediately started to determine which team should carry the financial burden usually connected with a good lunch.

Financial Suspense is Great

As the selection of members to the two teams had been done alternate choosing, the teams were exceptionally well matched. It was not until all the scores were recorded that anyone dared offer genuine sympathy to members of either team.

The score sheet—the sheet which the winners trust like Mr. Green's slide rule, and which losers like to examine and check for irregularities, proved "conclusively" that Miss Ostrom's team was to pay for the lunch. The officers of the club unanimously decided to tax each member of the losing team one cent.

Carolyn Brick, Dodge Get Awards

During lunch, the prizes for the fall season's shooting were presented by the president. Earl Peterson, who spoke briefly for the winners. An electric toaster was presented to Carolyn Brick for shooting the winning scores in the girl's team, and James Dodge, winner in the men's men's team was given a camp stove.

Match Shoot Comes Monday

The executive officer brought up the matter of the challenge sent the Menomonie National Rifle Club by the Stout Rifle Club. It was decided to have this match Monday, November 25.

Regular practice firing for the winter season commences this week. The winter season is the most important one on the rifle club calendar. During this period, lasting till about the first of March, rifle shooting is developed to its highest peak on the indoor range, and a large number of regional and national matches are open to all club members. New members may join during November and during the first week of December. Anyone who is interested is urged to obtain his membership immediately in order to get in at the start of the gallery shooting practice.

Local Y.M.C.A. Goes to River Falls Meet

A joint conference between the Stout and River Falls Y. M. C. A. cabinets was held last Sunday afternoon and evening. The purpose of this conference was to exchange views and ideas and discuss the work being carried on by both groups.

An open forum was held, and a very interesting discussion was led by Mr. Aldrich, Senior State Secretary, who stressed the importance of Y. M. C. A. work and its relative connection on the college campus. Impressions of the Geneva Conference and plans for the St. Croix retreat were given by the River Falls group.

The young men then enjoyed a banquet after which the five Stout delegates, accompanied by Mr. Milnes, returned to Menomonie. Similar conferences are being planned in the future.

Notice freshmen: The way to get good marks is to eat plenty of brain food; such as head lettuce, noodle soup, and coconut pie.

Society

Hyperians Hold Regular Meeting Thursday Night

The regular meeting of the Hyperian society was held in the club rooms Thursday night at eight o'clock. Several talks were given. For the benefit of the new members, Henrietta Sievert outlined the work of the society and reviewed the aims. An interesting report on "Feminism's Awkward Age" was given by Ardella Anderson. As a follow up of this report, Henrietta Quilling reviewed some of the lines of work open to Home Economics people.

After a lainty lunch was served, the girls played bridge.

—S—

Y. W. C. A. Kid Party Held Saturday Evening

The annual "Kid Party" given by the social committee of the Y. W. C. A. at the gymnasium Saturday night was a success from every standpoint.

The array of clever costumes showed that originality was not lacking. There were shy, modest, curly headed little girls with big dolls, freckled faced boys with shell rimmed spectacles and girlish manners, and little boys and girls wearing pink and white checkered rompers and carrying big "all day suckers". As the biggest, best dressed little kid, Ellen Nelson deserves all the credit.

The evening was spent playing games. At nine o'clock a grand promenade was held at which time the judges made their decision as to the best dressed little boy and girl. The prizes were awarded to Frances Schroeder and Anita Gundlach who were each given a bottle of stick candy.

Refreshments consisted of ice cream, lolly pops and crackerjack.

—S—

Y. W. and Y. M. Hold Joint Social Gathering

An enjoyable social gathering, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., was held in the club rooms Thursday evening for the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. members.

The true Thanksgiving spirit was carried out in the program given, which consisted of readings and musical selections by Y. W. C. A. members and a very interesting talk by Reverend Waters, who spoke on the subject of "Reality."

Refreshments were served after which both organizations enjoyed a short informal social hour.

Although this is the first joint gathering of members of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A., closer associations between both organizations are planned so as to promote the true "Y" spirit on the Stout campus.

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

-- HAIRCUTS --
At Any Hour Of The Day
Three 1st. Class Barbers
THE ELECTRIC SHOP

Drugs and Stationery
NOER DRUG COMPANY

Interesting Talk Given To H. E. Students

(Continued from page one)

with farm women, most employers were said to demand a candidate who had lived for a time on a farm.

It was said that salaries might begin lower than teaching salaries, but that there was no limit to the advancement andn that advancement might come more rapidly to the person of ability than it usually does to teachers. Concerning the best way to secure a business position, Miss Haseltine's advice was to go after it; make a personal application; and prove that you have something to offer.

—S—

Stout Orchestra Is Progressing Rapidly

The Stout orchestra is progressing rapidly under the capable leadership of "Bozie" Taufman. There are now about twenty members and they are working together very nicely. Last night, the violinists were given a try-out to determine who will occupy the first chair.

A name for the orchestra is being sought and the members of the organization will welcome any suggestions. For several weeks, the practice periods will be given to the preparation of a concert which will be presented in the near future.

Personals

LYNWOOD HALL

Betty Malcolm and Virginia Schlumpf visited friends in Eau Claire over the week end.

Open nulls and ten no-trump are favorite bids among Lynwood's 500 aces.

Miss Irene Meyers is a patient in the Luther Hospital in Eau Claire, where she is recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

Emma Anderson spent the week end in Chicago with friends.

Violet Parsons served coffee, cookies and cake to the Lynwood girls on Sunday afternoon, the occasion for this hospitality being her birthday.

—S—

TAINTER ANNEX

The Annexites spent the usual week end washing clothes, sleeping, cleaning rooms and making fudge.

Pat Kelly and Alice Nelson spent the week end in Minneapolis where Pat attended the Minnesota-Michigan football game.

Grayce Quarters reports a wonderful week end in Minneapolis where she attended the football game.

Ruth Lindall spent the week end with Winifred Cooper at her home in Colfax.

Mildred Belina attended the football game in Minneapolis Saturday.

—S—

TAINTER HALL

Alice Haslerud visited her brother in Minneapolis over the week end and attended the Minnesota-Michigan game.

Mrs. R. P. Madel of Chicago spent

Fountain Pen Sets
Desk Sets
OF EVERY MAKE AT
LEE'S DRUG STORE

SERVICE
The OLYMPIA
Open after Dances
Try Our Taffy Apples

SPORT COATS of all KINDS
$4.50 and up
Evens - Tobin Co.

Now IS THE TIME TO THINK ABOUT CHRISTMAS GIFTS
FOR YOUR FRIENDS

SEE OUR SPLENDID ASSORTMENT OF STAPLE AND CUSTOM JEWELRY
NELS ANSHUS
THE JEWELER

Saturday with her sister, Edna Mathews.

Margaret Casey is spending a few days at the Hall while she is recovering from a sprained ankle. Margaret expects to return to Homemakers this week.

Kathleen Shannon spent the week end with her sister, Marjorie in Minneapolis.

Marseline Stephany left Saturday night for her home in Port Washington, Wis. where she will remain until next semester.

—S—

Mr. Faville: "What is the lower house of the Michigan state legislature called?"

Wolfgram: "House of David."

—S—

Smart: "Why have you got such a red nose?"

Alek: "Seeing you are so interested I'll tell you. It's blushing with pride to think that it keeps out of other people's business."

—S—

Bill Murray says: "The only way one can hurt my feelings is to call me late for breakfast."

STUDENT BOARDS MEET

The following report of the joint session of the S. S. A. Advisory Council and the College Government Committee held October 8, 1929, was sanctioned by President Nelson, October 14, 1929.

should hereafter etao in etao in es th

1. All full time special students should hereafter be classified according to their credits in the Registrar's office and assigned to their approximate class organization.
2. Mr. Davison, as chairman, should appoint a committee to prepare a recommendation regarding the auditing of accounts in the various student andn faculty organizations.

Respectfully submitted,
Clarysse M. Ness, Sec. S. S. A.

Hair should be cut and arranged to express the personality and character of the wearer.

I. W. NESSER
"The Barber"

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP

WE ARE OFFERING A FULL FASHION
CHIFFON HOSE AT $1.25

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Good Meals and Refreshments

SERVICE

Hotel Marion      Coffee Shop

GOLDEN BROWN WAFFLES
with MAPLE SYRUP
15c
CHICKEN SANDWICHES — SHORT ORDERS
We Deliver
Phone 746      525 Broadway
THE SANDWICH SHOP

SEE

BELAIR

FOR

TOWER PHOTOS

BELAIR

FOR

TOWER PHOTOS

BELAIR STUDIO
MAIN STREET      OPP. SCHOOLS

Basketball Candidates Startle Sport Writer With Real Cleverness

Predicts a Faster Squad than Any Seen Since the 1926 Championship

The basket ball grind is under way with a vengeance. And unless this department is badly mistaken (as it has been known to be!) better basket ball is already being displayed this year up in the old attic than Stout has seen for several years. Yes, there is actually some clever work on display. It is the STOUTONIA'S belief that the 1930 Trainers should get the idea just about right now that they're good, and keep that idea until the campus alleviated that starved feeling it's had for too long where victories are concerned.

"Nice Going"

It must be enjoyable for Coach Paulus to be able to say rather frequently, "Nice going, So-and-So." Of course, they are ragged, and of course they have not progressed very far yet, but the possibilities are too abundant this season to be overlooked. Both the "A" and the "B" squad contain more honest-to-goodness basketball players than Stout has seen since the 1926 championship.

The upper group was about to be cut as this was written, and it is our guess that the following are possibilities for the varsity. The freshmen who can be spared this year are being retained on the "B" squad for a seasoning, tho there may be promotions and demotions late in the season as there were last year.

Some Fast Boys Here

For forwards, the Coach may select from: Art Peterson who is fast and clever and experienced; Bud Micheels who broke up more opponent's plays last season than any other Blueshirt; Leon Haase, who did the "B" squad scoring last year and who is improving steadily; Swede Fordham, who threatens to develop into a real threat as he did in football; Buck Schauder, with two season's experience as a pinch-hitter on the varsity, and maybe a couple of others.

At center and guard there are several big, shifty men available: Dave Stori, frosh, was a feature in Menomonee High's surprise showing at the state tourney last season, and looks good here, too; Rol Graef is the squad long-boy and seems to handle himself like a varsity possibility; Stike Cven-gros is out, but is ineligible until the second semester.

Others Look Like Winners

In Lovey Buros, the Coach seems to have a strong guard possibility, as he has ability and experience; Lefty Hanson is already looking better than last year, which was pretty good; Carl Hoernamann is going to make a strong bid for a job in the back line; John Rude, another of last year's squad, is back on the job showing signs of rapid improvement; and then there's Stony O'Connell and Fred Johnson, and a couple of others here who are sure to be heard from

Freshman and Annex Win Flashball Games

The two flashball games played Tuesday evening in the gym, which were won by the freshmen and the Annex, were as exciting as the most avid fan could desire.

The first game, which was between the freshmen and juniors, was fast and close throughout the whole period, and finished with a 9-9 tie. Both teams were proficient in putting the players "out"—often three in a row.

The other hard-fought battle was between Lynwood and the Annex, and was fully as thrilling as the previous one. The Annex finally triumphed over Lynwood with a 7-6 score.

—S—

Science Organization Appreciates Pins

There's a gold ring 'round our Science pin,
And a sprig of leaves behind;
And a streak of lightning through the center,
And it's mine—ALL MINE!

So the members of this club sing of their pin. To show how much they appreciate the honor and privilege of wearing the pin, they are considering increasing the period of membership to one year before new members may obtain the pin. Not only membership counts; actual reports are necessary before the privilege of wearing the pin is granted.

Reports of Educational Value

We have thought that goitre is prevented by a sufficient iodine content in drinking water. Very recently Gert-rude Hansen reported some research studies which indicate that fruits and vegetables may supply iodine.

We have also been in the habit of selecting desirable foods for young infants. Ruth Dodge reported on the work of Dr. Clara Davis in which nine months old babies were allowed to choose their own foods and still thrived. The arguments for cafeteria service increase when even young babies thrive on such choices of food

—S—

Barney Hagen spent the week end with parents and friends at Decorah, Iowa. He claims that he was the first man of the season to go deer hunting also. It's a squad in which no job will be "secure" for anyone.

And it's a squad with a feeling of confidence in itself even this early in the game which is never going to allow itself to get the "also-ran" feeling. This column may be courting trouble with early predictions, but we are not "kidding" this trip when we say that we confidently expect to write up some victories soon.

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonee Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

Wildcat Volleyball Starts With Bang

With several of the games already played the wildcat volleyball league has shown us that we are in for an interesting season. The six captains met Monday in Coach Paulus' office to draw for places. The rules were ready and each leader was instructed as to the running of the game.

Opening Matches Interesting

In the first match the Eye Openers defeated the Home-Towners by close scores. The second game between Greeleys and the Curtis Cats was won by the former.

On Monday at 5:20 there will be a game between the Curtis "Kittens" and the cafeteria. Everyone is invited to see the championship games which will be played on Monday night at 6:30, and on Tuesday afternoon.

—S—

Male Quartet to Give Concert Sunday

As one of the projected activities of the Stout Lutheran Association, the Nordix Male Quartette will present a musical program in the Stout Auditorium, Sunday afternoon, Nov. 24, at 3 o'clock.

The quartette is composed of former members of the St. Olaf choir, which has gained much prominence by the outstanding qualities of its personnel and programs in the light of musical presentations. During the course of the season the quartette has made various tours throughout the northwest and has been acclaimed everywhere. They have done considerable broadcasting from the National Battery Broadcasting Station, K. S. T. T. of St. Paul, and have won equal approval from their radio audiences.

See US For HAIRCUTS
We Satisfy Our Customers
The Lakeview
Barber Shop

ORPHEUM

Friday and Saturday
Pauline Frederick in
"EVIDENCE"
Also two screen vaudeville acts and News.

Sunn.—Mon.—Tues.
Lenore Ulric in
A melodrama of Nome. Hear her sing, "Looking for the Right Kind of Man"
Mat. Sun. 2:30

Wed.—Thurs.—Fri.—Sat.
Al Jolson in
"Say It With Songs"
Mats. Thursday and Saturday, 2:30.

Coming Dec. 4—"Cock Eyed World"

GRAND

"Wolves of the City"
Sat. and Sun.
"The Desert Rider"
with Tim McCoy.
Mat. Sun. 3:00
Hoot Gibson Thanksgiving
Mat. at 3:00

De Molays To Give Thanksgiving Dance

(Continued from page one)

turkey. To make a long story short—there will be a turkey raffled at the De Molay dance tonight in the gym. You buy a ticket to the dance, and get your chance on the turkey free. "Come one—Come all—A winner every time! Step right up folks and win a great big Thanksgiving TURKEY!!

—S—

S. M. A. TO HOLD CANDY SALE IN CORRIDOR

The S. M. A. society will be sponsoring a candy sale in the main corridor of the Home Economics building on Monday, November 25. There will be a large variety of candy, and lots of it. The S. M. A. s are specialists in making the pancake fudge, divinity, and carmel candies.

You may purchase a pound box of any kind of candy for sixty cents, by placing an order with Janet Clark, or by signing the bulletin board notice in the H. E. corridor.

A Capella Choir Gives Exceptional Program

(Continued from page one)

Cornfield Melodies .....Gat-s
Boys Quartette
Shadow March .....Prothro
Water-boy .....Robinson
Sweet and Low.....Barnby

After the program, the members of the choir were entertained at a luncheon in the Stout tea room, after which they were given an opportunity to inspect our school before returning to Eau Claire.

OUR SANDWICHES
ARE A MEAL.
TRY THEM
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"Home Of Good Food"

Menomonee Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

SERVICE

We do DRY CLEANING
on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.
Articles brought by noon will be ready next day.
SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Menomonee Dye House
Running and Cole

We have
QUALITY SHOES
at
Minimum Prices.
See
SWENSON AND BERNDT
"The Shoemen"

SPECIAL

While They Last
One Pound
Alice Hanson's Butter Creams
49c
THE CANDY SHOPPE

WARD'S Club Parchment Stationary
at OLSON'S
See our New Ward's Line-a-Day
"IDEAL GIFT"
A. R. OLSON

BUY a box of Prestige for Thanksgiving

Lee's Drug Store

STUDENTS ATTENTION!!

Be Sure and See "THE STUDENT SPECIAL" Before
Having Your ANNUAL PICTURE Taken
"SHAKER STUDIOS" of course!

Woodworkers Share Ideas of Beloit Trip at Meeting Monday

President Nelson Indicates Value Of College Training and Experience

Students and faculty members, who made the trip to the Yates American Machinery Company, Beloit, Wis. last week, met Monday evening of this week in the Men's Club room to exchange ideas and impressions gathered during the trip. President Nelson, Dean Bowman, and several others who did not participate in the factory visit were among those present.

Each student present led in discussing interesting and valuable facts observed in some particular department in the plant. Outstanding facts concerning the engineering department were given by Turnwall. Marsilio reported on the pattern shop, Lockin discussed the foundry and machine shop, Muller the assembly room, and Enli the head and knife department. Reinhold spoke of the interesting trip through the Beloit Vocational School.

President Nelson voiced his approval of that educational trip and his pleasure in taking part in the meeting. A number of students had expressed the opinion that the brief visit to the Yates American Machinery Company was worth several days—yes, even weeks of college training. President Nelson raised this question: "How efficiently would you have observed and how much would you have profited by the numerous intricate facts, relating to organization, management, and production, had it not been for your studies and your contacts at school?"

Coeds Develop Skill On Basketball Court; Flashball Season Ends

Inenfeldt and Quilling to Receive Highest Honors Offered By The W. A. A.

The women's athletic department has just completed an interesting season of flashball and have already started in earnest to develop skill and speed for the next sport—basket ball. Miss Balerude reports that the Freshman class has some very able players in its midst. The Juniors have been putting in their extra minutes on the gym floor practicing hard for the coming basket ball games; they are exceedingly anxious to hold the Silver Loving Cup which they won last year after five championship games.

The gym classes are working with the W. A. A. getting the girls in training for the games and from the looks of things now there will be keen rivalry between the classes.

This year the women's flash ball season was played in good shape, and with interesting results. The teams were well matched and all four classes were well represented. The Annex, Lynwood and Town, each had a splendid team and the girls fought hard for honors. A summary of scores for the game are as follows: Annex vs. Lynwood, 7-6; Town vs. Annex, 3-2; Freshman vs. Sophomores, 9-5; Seniors vs. Juniors, 20-5; Freshmen vs. Juniors, 9-9.

The highest number of runs made by the girls of the different classes are as follow: Junior: Quilling, 11; Edinger, 7; Freshman: Gutwasser, 6; Moore, 5; Lockhart, 4; Sophomores, Hansen, 3; Aber, 2; Seniors: Each player averaged 1.

According to the point system of the Women's Athletic Association, a girl earning 150 points is entitled to

(Continued on page four)

Stout Riflemen Lose to City Rifle Club

Monday, November 23rd, the Stout Rifle Club held its first competition match of the season on the indoor range. The Menomonie Rifle Club were the intended victims, but they were on the long end of the final score of 802 to 789.

The teams were made up of ten members from each club, the scores of the five highest being taken for the final count. Each member shot five standing, five kneeling and five prone. Mr. P. C. Nelson, shooting with the Menomonie Club, shot the high score of 175 out of a possible 200.

The scores of the five highest on each team are as follows:

| City              | Stout               |
|-------------------|---------------------|
| 1. Nelson, P. 175 | 1. Dodge, J. 169    |
| 2. Sherf 164      | 2. Johnston, T. 159 |
| 3. Buss 160       | 3. Hagen, R. 157    |
| 4. Running 152    | 4. Peterson, E. 157 |
| 5. Olstad 151     | 5. Hintz, W. 147    |
| 802               | 789                 |

The Stout Rifle Club is looking forward to return matches during the season.

The absence of the girl members selected for the match team was commented on by several of the shooters, and it was mentioned that had they been there to do their bit, the Stout team would probably have been on the long end of the score.

Press With Automatic Feeder Now Installed

The new Chandler and Price press with a Miller automatic feeder attachment has arrived in the print shop. This press, which has been long sought and greatly needed, will give the printing students a broader view of the modern printing industry and will also offer them an opportunity to operate automatic machinery.

Mr. Hague has been planning for some time to install a Miller Feeder in the shop but until this year funds have not been available to make the purchase. The press will print forms up to 10 by 15 inches at the rate of 2300 per hour, and will feed anything from tissue paper to thick cards. Almost all modern printshops are now using automatic machinery and if Stout is to keep pace with the times it must have modern machinery with which to train its teachers.

This press will help to speed up the production of school forms because it can be used on long runs and save the time usually taken for hand feeding. It will also do a more accurate job on register feeding.

The press will be put into operation in a few days and you are welcome to stop in the shop at any time to watch it operate.

Miss Sievert to Teach In Vocational School

Henrietta Sievert, a member of the mid-year group who will secure degrees in January, has signed a contract to teach in the West Allis Vocational School.

She will be working with Miss Rika Lembke, a former Stout graduate, who is Home Economics supervisor there.

Miss Sievert's work is to consist mainly of girl's counselling and home visiting; besides teaching the short-unit Home Economics work. This type of work is just one of the many interesting phases of vocational work and from past records it is felt that Miss Sievert is particularly suited for this field of work.

Monday of next week will be a no-cut day. Three percent off if you're not in attendance at classes.

Next Week's Calendar

| Monday                    |
|---------------------------|
| Science Club—5 p. m.      |
| Stoutonia Staff—5 p. m.   |
| Women's Glee Club—7 p. m. |
| Men's Glee Club—7 p. m.   |
| Tower Staff—7 p. m.       |
| Tuesday                   |
| Band—7 p. m.              |
| Philo—7 p. m.             |
| Wednesday                 |
| Rifle Club—7 p. m.        |
| Metallurgy Club—7 p. m.   |
| Y. W. C. A.—5 p. m.       |
| Thursday                  |
| Arene—7:30 p. m.          |
| Hyperian—5 p. m.          |
| Orchestra—7 p. m.         |
| Friday                    |
| S. M. A. Dance            |

Miles Standish Uses Telephone to Invite Thanksgiving Guests

Shipments Of Turkey Arrive From Chicago Markets For The Occasion

Everything was bustling and stirring in the little village of Plymouth in the year 1621. The reap of the harvest had been so successful that the Pilgrims had decided to show their gratitude by celebrating with a great festival which was promoted by Miles Standish, the able Captain and protector of the colony.

Invitations had been sent far and wide to all the people of the colony, and to the Indians of the nearby reservations. Due to the fact that John Alden was the only scholar who would be able to write these invitations, it was necessary for Miles Standish to invite the guests by telephone, and he had to hire a private secretary to assist him. The telephone wires certainly buzzed!

Extra shipments of turkey from the Chicago markets arrived for the occasion; other food, such as cranberries, head lettuce, canned goods, grapefruit, and pecans were bought at the neighboring A. and P. stores so it could be obtained much more cheaply. (They saved at least eighty-nine cents.)

Each one had his share of the work to do. Priscilla with nutbrown eyes and golden wavy locks, was chosen to be head dietitian and to oversee the preparing of the meal. John, a rival of Miles for Priscilla's hand, Alden, a dashing young man, who was had charge of making the high-balls and cheese kistwiches.

At last the day of the big feast arrived. It was a perfect day—it rained! Miles Standish donned his uniform he had worn in Flanders. John Alden looked charming in his new tux. Priscilla, dressed in a gorgeous formal of parisian creation, looked very beautiful.

'Midst the honking of horns and the sputting of aeroplane propellers the Indians arrived. There were huge numbers of them. Everything was ready but Miles Standish was no

(Continued on page four)

AUTUMN

(Contributed by Virginia Bechtol)

A fountain of colors,
A splash of red,
A shower of leaves,
Coming down on your head.
A spray of yellow,
A drop of green,
It's a natural diadom,
Fit for a queen.

A moment only,
The kingdom is dimmed,
Then, all is lost—
In a guest of wind.

Dean Bowman's Office Completely Changed

Dean Bowman's office has undergone a complete change in the last two weeks. A glass paneled partition has been erected at the west end of the former office, making an inner office available. At the east end of the former office the partition which formed the locker alcove has been removed, making the office about six feet longer, and the old entrance at the foot of the stairway has been closed and the alcove entrance is now being used as the entrance to the office.

A large bulletin board is being installed on the south wall of the outer office. The purpose of this bulletin board is to convey current industrial education news to the students and faculty. If a student wishes to keep abreast of the times in I. E. this board will save him a lot of time.

The new arrangement has involved considerable moving of equipment and inconvenience, but the result is a great improvement.

The inner office allows Mr. Bowman more privacy. Through the glass panels in the partition he can observe what is taking place in the outer office and still not be bothered by a lot of unnecessary noise.

In the years past it has been necessary to hold group meetings in the office and now the outer office is

(Continued on page four)

Stoutonians Entertain at Thanksgiving Feed

Members of the Stoutonia staff with student and faculty guests including Pres. B. E. Nelson, Miss Ruth Michaels, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bowman Mrs. C. W. Hague, and Mrs. John Faville Jr., were present at the annual Thanksgiving staff dinner which was given in the Bandbox Monday evening.

As the four course dinner progressed, each person looked to the back of his place card for instructions as to his part in the serving. Consequently, Carl Roll rolled around with a plate of rolls a large part of the time.

Speeches by the faculty stressed the fact that the staff is a very representative group of the school and commented on its cooperation and good spirit. Editor "Doc" Hawkes and associate editor Irma Nichols contributed a few remarks. An excellent reading in Norwegian dialect was presented by Bernhard Hagen and William Soucie gave one in French dialect.

The dinner lived up to the traditions of former Stoutonia feeds and passed off in the typical short and snappy fashion.

Hyperians to Sponsor Berea Exhibit; Sale

The Hyperian Society will again sponsor the Berea Exhibit and sale on December 2, 3 and 4 in Miss Michaels' outer office. The exhibit consists of hand woven articles made by women in the Berea, Ky, mountain region.

Through this home weaving that is supervised by Mrs. Matheny these consequently improve their standard women have been able to earn and of living.

The articles themselves are beautifully made and have a distinct artistic appeal. Such an exhibit should be of interest to every student and all are urged to take advantage of the opportunity.

Monday of next week will be a no-cut day. Three percent off if you're not in attendance at classes.

Varsity Trims "B" Squad In Season's Preliminary Battle

Development of a Shooting Eye To Make Varsity Team Unconquerable

Basketball fans got their first chance to see this season's candidates in competition last night when the "B" team came upstairs to do valiant battle with the varsity. The Blue-shirts let the boys down with a 37 to 12 score, which was just about proper, but it was a nice early-season contest.

For the varsity, Peterson and Haase started at forward, Stori at center, and Hoernamann and Hanson at guard. Art was in the clear for about fifteen shots, and handled the ball quite like he should, but his counting eye only registered once, so he didn't look so hot in the score-book. This will change, we promise.

Scoring Looks Better

On the other hand, the scoring abilities of the varsity squad look to be far better than last year. Dave Stori eased in 50 percent of his tries, a total of six baskets. He takes the ball toward the basket consistently, and we predict a real season for Dave if he stays "on earth."

Leon Haase may develop into a sweet forward this season. His shots are good, but the score book showed that he didn't use his good eye often enough. He was getting away from his old habit of dribbling away from the scoring range, and should get more aggressive soon under Coach Paulus' tutelage.

In the first half of the scrimmage,

(Continued on page three)

"Persons Respond to Color Influences" Says Miss Mary I. McFadden

Color Schemes Tested in Class Rooms in California School System

A very interesting article on "Neural Responses to Color Influence" was written by one of our instructors, Miss Mary I. McFadden, and was published in the Hamtramck Public School Bulletin, Volume III. The following is a brief resomme of the article.

Psychological experiments show that different colors have different effects upon bloom pressure; upon emotions; and upon muscular, mental and nervous activity of persons. I an individual is nervous, exciteable and high-tensioned, he is stimulated by red rays. If two of these people were put in a room which was lighted with red lights, they would sooner or later become very irritable and would start quarreling. If these two people were put in a room which was lighted by a more restful, cooler color they would cease to quarrel, and may soon be on friendly terms.

For a normal person who is not of a nervous, exciteable nature, it was found that foliage green permitted him to work to best advantage and with the least expenditure of energy. Another color which aids a person when working is sunlight yellow and if he has a north room, sunlight yellow is the best.

A third type of person is the melancholy, low-spirited person who needs to get away from the cooler colors of blue, and blue-green, and turn to the warmer oranges and reds to stimulate him.

An unusual experiment was carried on in a grade and high school in California. The children would work for a certain number of minutes each

(Continued on page four)

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office,
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

Managing Editor ..... Irma Nichols
Associate Editor ..... Paul C. Nelson
News Editor ..... Lester Hawkes
News Editor ..... Ardella Anderson
Reporters:—D. Williams, C. Cryderman, M. Belina, N. Foley, V. Hewitt, G. Aber, L. Gardiner, L. Lamon, A. Cockerill, H. Quilling, J. Barber.
Under direction of ..... C. W. Hague

THANKFULNESS

Thanksgiving Day is of deep spiritual import to Americans. At that first festival our ancestors gave thanks for the harvest which freed them from cold and hunger. We, that are living today, are happily freed from all fear of hunger, but keep in remembrance that first great festival of gratitude, for the purpose of giving thanks for the heaped up blessings of our generation.

As we recall the story of the lives of the Pilgrims, preceding their festival—their suffering from cold the first winter, the doubtful harvest, unfriendly Indians for neighbors, and few tools and conveniences to work with—it would seem that they had little to be thankful for. But, the story goes on to say that personal thanks was given by these Pilgrim fathers in all sincerity. To-day we, with all our unlimited opportunities for choice of work, recreation, religion, with all possible freedom and conveniences, are less observant of rendering thanks than those people of days gone by. Though we have become richer in material things, we have become poorer in capacity to realize them.

Thankfulness is a quality which grows only as it is used. It is reasonable to believe that the person who practices returning thanks is more aware of the abundance of things for which he should be thankful, than a person who does not attempt to develop such character. To give personal thanks is a characteristic to develop, but in the course of our busy lives, we do not always give it the attention we should.

Through all the year, day by day,
Pleasant things for me are wrought;
I have enjoyed them, but have never stopped
to say,
The gratitude I ought.

But as Thanksgiving Day draws near
'Tis good to formulate in words,—
At that that one time of all the year—
The thankfulness I thought.

AMERICAN HOME ECONOMICS ASSOCIATION

The Stout Home Economics Club, the first all school professional club on the campus, has recently become affiliated with the American Home Economics Association. It is desirable to know something of this association and its work in order to fully realize the importance attached to membership in such a professional group.

The American Home Economics Association was the outcome of the Lake Placid conference (small gatherings of earnest pioneers in the study of Home Economics which were held from time to time during the years 1899-1908). These study groups were led by Mrs. Ellen H. Richards, whom we know as prophet and interpreter of Home Economics at that early time.

"From the beginning the purpose of the conference was educational, dealing with economic and social study of the home, and with the problems of right living. Its keynote was 'efficiency through health.'

"The conference was a clearing house for the exchange of ideas and formulation of new plans for students, teachers and homemakers, and other individuals interested in the betterment of life."

After five years of conference work, through the tastful efforts of Miss Richards, a committee on national organization was formed, which made plans for the American Home Economics Association. This great professional organization had as its aim "to improve the quality of living in the home, in the institutional household, and the community."

The work of the Association at the present time consists of promoting the training of Home Economic teachers; to plan courses of study for grade schools, colleges and universities, and for agricultural, evening and vocational schools; extension teaching; rural school work and extension in women's clubs. A journal is published monthly which is known as the Journal of Home Economics.

Student teachers should be interested in knowing that the program of the Association is so very extensive as to permit high schools and college clubs to become affiliated with it. No matter how small the school system is, the privilege is granted. As an advisor you are able to secure a state and national membership for your club through the State Secretary of the Home Economics Association.

It behooves every Home Economics teacher to be alert to possibilities of professional nature; to have your club become affiliated with the American Home Economics Association is only one possibility.

Let's Laugh

Father— (After viewing son's report card) My son, I'm very much displeased to see you at the bottom of the spelling list.
Son—Gee pop, the words are just as hard there as anywhere.

Oh My Suds

We don't take in washing but we surely like the suds.

Murray has taking ways. (But he wouldn't take anything that was hot or anything he couldn't lift.)

"Hickey" Julian wants to take a vacation. Maybe Fleischman will send him "y"-east.

Breathes there a man with soul so dead, who never to someone else has said, "Give me a cigarette."

At the Orpheum tonight, "The Great Stage Success from Palmistry.

Miss Sarchet to Mr. Betterly: What is a preposition?
Mel.—Oh, that's when you ask a girl if she will.

Dusty—Say, Deitrich, did you ever take chlorform?

Deitrich—Chloroform, what period did it come?

English Teacher—Why didn't you pause, don't you know that a period means a rest?

Frosh:—Yah, but I don't need a rest yet.

She was a fireman's daughter, but she had flames of her own.

He: I just shot a dog.

She: Was he mad?

He: He wasn't any too pleased.

She was only a drycleaner's daughter but she was all wet.

Mr. Price: Is there anything you expect to be when you graduate?

Frosh: Yah, an old man.

Famous poems by well known authors
The room was dark as she entered the flat,
And on a red-hot stove she sat.
—Burns.

I love to see the smiling faces,
As Babe Ruth hits and runs four bases.
—Homer

You stole my wife, you horse thief.

Meditation while resting

I wonder what Merdutt did with his mustache!

I wonder if Guelson will ever have one!

I wonder what became of the boyish bob?

I wonder why more of the boys don't wear spats?

I wonder what became of the tight-fitting trousers the boys used to wear!

I wonder how the tap-dancing class is getting on!

I wonder how I look when I'm asleep!

I wonder where Dave Stori got his basket ball haircut!

I wonder how they happened to call Wynn "hooky."

I wonder what the printers did with their little dolls!

I wonder what became of Sally!

I wonder why there wasn't a large crowd at the Metallurgy dance!

I wonder if the girls went on a strike.

I wonder if "Mo" will have cranberries with the turkey!

I wonder how you like this edition of the Stoutonia!

Mr. Brown: (holding paper) "Run through this with me."

And remember, dear student, only three more weeks of school until the Christmas vacation.

Clever Poster Display Announces Toy Exhibit

An interesting array of clever posters are on display announcing the Toy Exhibit that is to take place in the Harvey Memorial, Nov. 30 to Dec. 3. The exhibit is sponsored by the parents of the nursery school children with Mrs. John Faville Jr., as chairman.

These posters were designed and made by the freshman girls in Miss Mutz's Color and Design class. Through poster work the girls learn to apply their knowledge of art principles and color harmony and to express their originality.

—S—

Question Box

How might our school dances be improved so that both faculty and students will be more induced to attend?

Miss Walsh—Most colleges rate the success of any all-school party in direct proportion to the extent to which it proves a "good mixer." Since the dances this year have seemed to appeal to a disappointing small number, perhaps some variety might be suggested in the type of entertainment offered. I have heard students here suggest that occasionally there might be substituted for a dance an evening "party" where games, cards or some social entertainment feature e. g.—a costume party, would be provided.

Ruth Clemens, freshman—I think that if the dances were made date affairs more students would go. As it is there are always more fellows than girls and then the fellows kick because there aren't enough girls at the dances. The girls don't like to tag it to all the dances. The fellows say they can never find any girls to take, but I have noticed that most of them find girls to take home, so why couldn't they have taken those same girls?

If some little novelty were offered between dances, or something of the sort, then the chaperones and those who don't care to dance every dance would enjoy themselves more than if they were to just set and watch the dancers all evening.

Dorothy Williams, junior—The question of school dances and attendance has long been discussed and talked about, yet when it comes right down to it, the dances are not as successful as they should.

I think a solution to the matter of getting the faculty to come would be for each organization who is giving the dance to send invitations to every member of the faculty inviting them to come. The organization giving the dance should feel it a privilege to make out a dance program for the chaperones and to have entertainment for them after they have been kind enough to chaperone a dance. The way the situation is now, one cannot blame the faculty members for not coming. A big improvement was made when card playing for the faculty was introduced at the dances, but a larger improvement would be to have an all-school party atmosphere where both students and faculty could enjoy card playing or dancing or both. This idea has been very successful in some schools.

It seems as if every possible effort to induce students to come to a dance has failed. There have been various types of dances which ought to make an appeal to almost every person sometime or other, but yet the crowd does not come. I think the only possible solution is for each student to feel it an opportunity to loyally support all the school activities.

William Hoeser, sophomore—There certainly is something radically wrong with our dances at Stout. What is wrong? It is simply that the general idea among the men is that the dances are stag dances. According to college (Continued on page four)

Here'n There

GIRLS MAKE DATES

HARDER TO OBTAIN

Collegiate reports state that sorority sisters have a new way of tantalizing the fraternity brothers. When the boys go date seeking via the telephone, the sorority sisters make them guess whether they're talking to a blonde or brunette. If the boys guess properly they get a date. If not, they tag it—or call up another sorority house. Maybe some of them even give the "steady" a fling—who knows?

At any rate, the idea is a splendid one, and might work out upon other lines. Sleepy-eyed employees who have flirted with the cards and chips the night before might call up their bosses in the morning and brusquely ask off hand, "Who is this?" If the employe should be entitled to the day off.

—Student "W" World

The Public Speaking classes at Stevens Point Normal are going to present "The Family Upstairs," soon.

—The Pointer.

We wonder if they will do it as well as the M. A. P. did?

For some uncontrollable reason, Stevens Point is not having a Homecoming football game, at present, according to "The Pointer." There is much agitation and inquiring as to suggestions for a substitute. The best idea so far, seems to be a Housewarming in the new training school building.

This year Knox College played in four homecoming games and won them all.—The Round Table.

Visitor—What pretty hair you have Helen! You get it from your mother, don't you?

Dorothy (aged 5)—I guess I must have got it from daddy, his is all gone.

—The Spectator.

Macalester College, St. Paul, is beginning work on the skating rink. Season tickets are already on sale.—The Mac Weekly.

That brings up the question: Why can't a good skating rink be maintained for Stout students?

HELLO

Get acquainted. The Montana campus has long been noted for its spirit of good fellowship. It is the custom for students passing to and from classes to say hello to their fellow students and to any strangers who may be visiting here. This custom goes a long way in furthering the spirit for which our school is noted. The student body is of such size that the students may all become acquainted within a comparatively short time.—The Montana Kaimin.

—From "The Collegian Reporter"

'Twas November twenty-eighth
And just about two o'clock,
A handsome turkey gobbler
Strutted up to a Plymouth Rock.

"O, pray tell me why so sad today,"
Said the turkey to the hen.
"Is it because you're out of feed,
Or because you're in a pen?"

"Neither," sighed the chicken,
"But I heard our master say,
I'd make a dandy meal,
And it's soon Thanksgiving day."
The Konah.

—S—

HOME TALKIES

London—Since the craze of talking movies, a machine has been perfected here which enables amateur photographers to take home "talkies." It is a cheap instrument, designed especially for the home and home pocket-books. Pictures are recorded and reproduced on a screen by the same machine.

—S—

The American gallon is less than the English by one-seventh.

John Greenleaf Whittier is often referred to as the "Quaker" poet.

Society

Report on Ice Industry Given at Science Meeting

The regular meeting of the Science Club was held Monday night. Mabel Niergard gave an interesting report on the scientific side of the ice industry. The talk concerned ice manufacturing with reference to sanitation, and laws, as well as the effect of the science of ice engineering on making northern waters navigable.

Areme Makes Plans for Social Welfare Work

A regular meeting of the Areme Society was held Thursday evening, November 22, in Miss Price's room. Further plans for social welfare work were discussed and preparations were made for admitting new members. A standard pin has been adopted by the club.

Miss Cronk Will Entertain Inky Finger Members

Members of the Inky Finge Society who do not leave town for the holiday will hold a social meeting at the home of Marjorie Cronk Friday afternoon. The usual business will be dispensed with and the procedure will be entirely social.

Philos Play "Gugenheim" At Social Meeting

"Gugenheim" was the special feature of the social meeting of Philos which was held Tuesday night, November 20, in the Y. W. C. A. club rooms in honor of the new pledges. Alice Ostrom and Ruth Malcolm proved to be most clever at the new game.

Intersociety Meeting Held Tuesday Night

In order to create a spirit of good fellowship and co-operation, a joint meeting of the Hyperian, Philomathean, and S. M. A. societies, including their advisors and prospective members, was held in the Harvey Memorial Tuesday night at five-thirty. Following a buffet supper, this program was given:

Musical Selections by Charlotte Watshorn, Doris Henry, and Irma Gilbertson.

Reading, "Eskimo", by Janet Kyle. A discussion led by the Presidents of the three organizations on the topics of co-operation, boosting school functions, and the value of being a member of a society.

True to form the Alma Mater song closed the program.

LOST—Saturday morning between H. E. Building and Tainter Hall, a red leather coin purse, containing considerable sum of money. Finder please return to Edna Mathews.

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

-- HAIRCUTS --
At Any Hour Of The Day
Three 1st. Class Barbers
THE ELECTRIC SHOP

Drugs and Stationery
NOER DRUG COMPANY

Varsity Trims "B" Squad In First Battle

(Continued from page one)

the "B" team has nearly as many shots as the varsity which is not quite as it should be. Hanson and Hoernamann both turned in good performances, but were not sensing the breaks rapidly enough to stop the battling yearlings at first. Fred Johnson did some consistent guarding while he was in, and will bear watching. O'Connell was on the ball plenty often, and ought to develop an ability to handle it after he gets it, as he is improving fast. Rude was tried at guard also, and John looks consistent enough again to be a varsity possibility.

Schaude, at forward part time, showed his ability of breaking up plays, but his size handicaps him as a scorer. Swede Fordham is living up to predictions; he is finding himself, and beginning to handle the ball as a real athlete, like he is, should. He counted three baskets in a few minutes. Graef got a shot at center, and seemed to handle that position pretty well. Micheels and Buross had to be absent, so did not get a chance to show their stuff.

Some Fast Frosh Seen

The Wadena trio, Brownsey, Schmidt, and Nutting, were among the "B" team starters, and are going to see blue suits some day if they continue to show up as they did last night. Only, they should remember that football season is over, and play more basketball on the indoor court. Southern and Pierson were Assistant Coach Halverson's first choice for guards last evening, and they held the "A's" at bay pretty well for a while.

Other second squad material which came to light in this first fracas included McNaughton and Kangas, guards; Hoeser, Schlumpf, Doetze, and Roe, forwards; Harmon, center. More will be heard about these future possibilities later. The impression remains: Stout has far more real basketball players on deck this year than

Personals

TAINTER HALL

Gertrude Hanson and Elna Page were guests at dinner and a theatre party given by the "Homemakers" Saturday night.

Frances Schroeder attended the Wis. - Minn. football game.

Mildred Dingee, Hazelle Flaget, Esther Sichler, and Margaret Casey returned from Homemakers today.

Due to the cold weather last week, Alice Hazlerude found it necessary to purchase a pair of new mittens.

Marjorie Robb visited relatives in Saint paul this past week-end.

TAINTER ANNEX

Grayce Quarters, Patsy Ruth Kelly, Beth Murray, Henrietta Sievert, Winifred Cooper, Ardella Anderson, and Ruth Lindall spent the week-end in Minneapolis.

The Annex was enveloped in darkness (and the fragrance of fried onions which wafed down from the kitchenette) for a period of thirty minutes Sunday evening while waiting for Herman to come to the rescue and fix the lights, not the onions.

Nelda Damrow and her cousin Rose Damrow of Fondulac spent the week-end in Minneapolis.

At last Mable Neergard has discovered a painless method of reducing! Mable's latest idea is to replace bath for a long time. We only hope that other conference papers are not truthfully recording the same situation at their schools.

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

salts with Epsom salts which can be obtained from Sears, Roebuck and Co. in ten pound lots.

We hear that Mildred Belina had a little practical experience in keeping house over the week-end.

Several of the girls from the Annex spent Saturday in Eau Claire doing a little early Christmas shopping.

LYNWOOD HALL

Jean Moe has the misfortune Saturday morning of falling on an icy side walk and fracturing several ribs.

Ruth Zimmerman was the lucky winner of the De Molay prize turkey.

Irene Meyer, who has been in the hospital at Eau Claire, is expected back after Thanksgiving vacation.

Anna Westman and Ellen Nelson spent Saturday in Minneapolis.

An Indian Pow-wow dance livened things up for those who didn't attend the De Molay dance Friday night.

Cecilia Cadigan returned today from Homemakers.

HOMEMAKERS

Vacation comes at a very opportune time for the Homemaker girls. The practice house closes Wednesday night and the girls get out of cooking the Thanksgiving turkey.

Miss Strayer is spending Thanksgiving in Minneapolis. Ruth Dodge is mothering "Dickie" until Monday when Homemakers opens again with Adele Lanskon, Jane Hambley, Agot Moe, Kathleen Shannon and Mary Fox in charge for the last six weeks of the semester.

HAVE YOU TRIED OUR
HOT OR COLD
MALTED MILKS
IF NOT ?
WHY NOT ?
FRED and ANNER
"The Smoke Shop"

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Good Meals and Refreshments
SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

GOLDEN BROWN WAFFLES
with MAPLE SYRUP

15c

CHICKEN SANDWICHES — SHORT ORDERS

We Deliver

Phone 746

525 Broadway

THE SANDWICH SHOP

SERVICE

QUALITY

The OLYMPIA

Open after Dances

Try Our Taffy Apples

SPECIAL prices on
ALL ARTICLES

EVENS TOBIN CO.

*NOW IS THE TIME TO THINK ABOUT
CHRISTMAS GIFTS
FOR YOUR FRIENDS*

SEE OUR SPLENDID ASSORTMENT OF STAPLE AND CUSTOM JEWELRY

NELS ANSHUS
THE JEWELER

SEE
BELAIR BELAIR
FOR FOR TOWER TOWER
PHOTOS PHOTOS
BELAIR STUDIO
MAIN STREET OPP. SCHOOLS

Leslie Brown Honored
by Poem Publication
In Education Journal

Student of '27 and '28 is Teacher at Delevan, Wisconsin
High School

Stout teachers who are in the field occupy their spare moments in various work—so we have heard—but we daresay that only a few of them are poetically inclined. Leslie W. Brown, a student of '27 and '28, who is now teaching at Delevan, Wis. seems to have as his hobby the writing of poetry.

In the November issue of "The Wisconsin Journal of Education" is a poem written by Mr. Brown entitled "My River" which received favorable comment when judged. The STOUTONIA congratulates Mr. Brown, and takes great pleasure in reprinting his poem in this issue:

MY RIVER

I hear my River calling
As it ripples in the breeze.
I see my River flowing
And sparkling in the breeze.
I hasten to its wooded shores
Of birch, and spruce, and pine,
And I listen to the stories
By this river I call mine.

It tells me of the Indian fights
That were fought along its shores
When the redskin painted warriors
Paddled off to many wars.
To the hungry, naked tribes
When the tepees of the village
Were bare and cold inside.

It tells me of the friars
Who came to save lost souls,
The explorers and the trappers
Who came in search of gold,
And how the river guided them
And made their burden light
While blazing trails for other men
In the darkness of a night.

How when the cities wanted pine
The river did its best
To bring them logs, the finest kind
Carried on its breast.
And when men wanted power
For these cities grand and fine
The river turned the turbines,
Whence came the power lines.

As I listen to the stories
My River tells to me
I catch a greater vision
Of the things that used to be.
And I hear my River murmur
As I slowly turn away
"God sendeth me to work for man;
And all my work is play."
—S—

Dean Bowman's Office
Completely Changed

(Continued from page one)
more logically arranged for group meetings.
The partition was made by the woodworking class under the direction of Mr. Hansen. It is a sturdy piece of work and required much skill and labor.

"Miles" Telephones
Thanksgiving Guests

(Continued from page one)
where in sight. A radio message was received saying a bus had bumped into Miles Cadillac on one of the paved roads, and he had to walk the rest of the way. As soon as he came to the feast everyone started to make whoopee—and how! The high-balls were perfect; the turkeys had been roasted to crisp brown; the pumpkin pies were delicious. The pies were made from the pumpkins used for jack-o-lanterns at hallowe'en a month before.

A surprise awaited the audience. Immediately following the partaking of the calories and vitamins, Miles Standish's football team rallied forth against John's eleven. Excitement was weighty due to the fact that Priscilla had promised to become the wife of either of these two managers, provided his team won. The suspense of the outcome was increased with the ending of each quarter. As the final shot was fired it was found the game had ended in a tie, 57-57. This was terrible! Well, the only thing to do was to flip a coin to determine the groom. John was the victor!

The blushing bride and the nervous groom marched to the altar to the tune of "On the Banks of Lake Menominee." After the fatal knot had been tied it was only proper to celebrate still more. Trees were cut down and space was cleared for a big dance. The Clearwater Collegians furnished music that made even the Indians feel like letting out a few of their war cries.

Food was still left; people stayed on. At the end of the third day not a morsel of food could be purchased in town. The only way to keep peace was for Miles Standish to request all the Indians to leave and go back to their tepees. The Indians had been so thrilled over their first Thanksgiving that their only request was, "Don't forget us next year!"
—S—

Coeds Develop Skill
On Basketball Court

(Continued from page one)
membership and W. A. A. pin; 650 points—W. A. A. Emblems; 1100 points—"S" 1500 points—highest honors of the club. (This honor has not been decided upon as yet.)
In their respective classes these girls have earned the highest number of points: Seniors: Cooper, 1018; Lanckton, 965; Winzer, 783; Hambley, 752; Moe, 668; Counsel, 667; and Lindal, 560; Juniors: Inenfeldt, 1512; Quilling, 1295; Edinger, 918; De Cramer, 915; Cranston, 647; Sophomores: Aber, 859; Lamon, 508; Ness, 495; Andreason, 434; Freshmen: Spiers, 230; A. Nelson, 156; Moore, 137, and Gutwasser, 134.
The girls in W. A. A. having the highest number of points and who are hoping to receive the highest honors offered by that association are: Frances Inenfeldt and Henrietta Quilling, who have 1512 and 1295 points respectively.
—S—
Next to agriculture, fisheries are the most important sources of food.

Question Box

(Continued from page two)
standards a college dance should not be a stag dance and this idea is prevalent among women of the college as can be noticed by their refusal to attend the dances.
Come on fellows, give the girls a break—if you like to dance with them bring them!
W. B. Davidson—Your question is timely and sensible. My reply runs as carping rather than constructive criticism, but it is sincerely given. There is need for improvement in these features of our problem:
1. Instead of coming promptly at 8 or 8:30 o'clock, we are drifting into the habit of slouching in an hour or two late.
2. We are too prone to be clique and snobbish. If "this person" is not of "our crowd" we give him a cold reception.
3. Straight programs between students who have "cases" on each other detract from the true spirit of the party. A straight program is all right on a desert island, but it smacks too much of jealous ownership in a society such as ours.
4. Chaperones are tolerated and are seldom shown any cordial consideration. Some reasons for that which we should get out of our systems are these: The student who dances with an instructor is either pitied or accused of "handshaking." If an instructor dances with a student he is accused of "horning in" or having a case on the student. Green-eyed scummy jealousy is at the bottom of both insinuations.
5. The women of the school are still mid-Victorian in their attitude toward coming to the dances without a "boy friend." It is never true that all the charming people and good dancers have 'steadies'. Look them over.
6. We need to eliminate everything that savors of roughneckness, and cultivates the spirit that makes dancing a beautiful, intimate sharing in poetry and song.
7. The small town practice of hanging round the entrance should be eliminated. It looks cheap.
8. Circle or mixer numbers should be the variety known as "passing the dumbbell" or some other implement be more frequent, and I do not mean the variety known as "passing the dumb-bell" or some other implement.

Hair should be cut and arranged to express the personality and character of the wearer.
I. W. NESSER
"The Barber"

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonic Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

See US For HAIRCUTS
We Satisfy Our Customers
The Lakeview
Barber Shop

OUR SANDWICHES
ARE A MEAL.
TRY THEM
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"Home Of Good Food"

Menomonic Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

Individuals Respond to Color Influence

(Continued from page one)
day under the influence of different colored lights. The result was that red was most stimulating; the efficiency curve rose rapidly but their energy was soon exhausted and the children became nervous and unmanageable. The low-spirited children responded less quickly and their efficiency curve rose gradually and energy was retained for the whole period.
Blue quieted the excitable and made discipline more easy, but made the low-spirited children very tired and so unhappy that some of them low and work could not be sustained. cried. The energy curve went very
For the average person a change of light from red toward green was very helpful because the energy curve remained constant throughout the day, the work was better and more done each unit of time, and discipline was almost perfect.
The effect of color on individuals is becoming such an important issue that it is being recognized by decorators of hospitals and school rooms. Hamtramck school, which is building rehabilitation, is leading in this respect and from the research and work they have carried on, they expect a cultural and psychological reaction which will benefit the children enrolled in the school.

Remember, Monday is a no-cut day.

ORPHEUM

Thurs., Friday and Saturday
AL JOLSON
—in—
"SAY IT WITH SONGS"
Mat. Thanksgiving at 2:30

Sun., Mon., Tues.
THOS. MEIGHAN
—in—
"THE ARGYLE CASE"

Mat. Sun. at 2:30
4 Days Starting Wed., Dec. 4
"THE COCK-EYED WORLD"

GRAND

Thurs. and Friday
HOOT GIBSON
—in—
"POINTS WEST"
Mat. Thanksgiving at 3:00

Sat. and Sunday
TOM MIX
—in—
"SOFT BOILED"

SERVICE

We do DRY CLEANING
on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.
Articles brought by noon will be ready next day.
SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Menomonic Dye House
Running and Cole

We have
QUALITY SHOES
at
Minimum Prices.
See
SWENSON AND BERNDT
"The Shoemen"

SPECIAL

While They Last
One Pound
Alice Hanson's Butter Creams
49c
THE CANDY SHOPPE

BUY a box of Prestige for Thanksgiving
Lee's Drug Store

OUR SANDWICHES
ARE A MEAL.
TRY THEM
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"Home Of Good Food"

Menomonic Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

WARD'S Club Parchment Stationery
at OLSON'S

See our New Ward's Line-a-Day
"IDEAL GIFT"
A. R. OLSON

SEE SHAKER FOR YOUR ANNUAL PHOTO NOW
SHAKER STUDIO

S. E. Paulus Resigns To Accept Position With Chicago Firm

Will Leave Here in February;
Successor Not Yet Known

Coach S. E. Paulus, head of the department of physical education, is leaving Stout February first to accept a fine position in Chicago, according to information released this morning. His successor here is not yet known.

Mr. Paulus will be field representative for an organization which supplies educational institutions with assembly programs. It is known that Mr. Paulus' new position is a distinct advance for him and THE STOUTONIA takes this early opportunity to congratulate him.

Ends Five Terms' Work Here

The Coach came to Stout in the fall of 1927, and, with Coach Miller as head of the department, assumed the direction of the major sports. He also, for two years, had classes in the English department. Last year, Mr. Paulus became head of the physical education department, being assisted by Mr. M. W. Van Putten who is principal at Aurora, Minnesota, this year.

This year, the Coach was given charge of all of the gymnasium work, as well as the coaching. In his stay here he has won the friendship of the entire college. The football squad expressed this when they presented him with a token of their admiration at Homecoming. The city, as well as Stout, will miss the Pauluses, and THE STOUTONIA also expresses the regret of all Stout that they are leaving Menomonie.

St. Paul Auditorium Is Scene of Famous Stage Production

"The Miracle" To Be Given Until December 21; Is Play of Pantomime and Music

On last Wednesday evening at the St. Paul auditorium, the first performance of what is probably the world's greatest and most lavish dramatic production, "The Miracle," was staged. "The Miracle" will be played continually until December 21. Students, there is still time to get seats reserved for this great spectacle.

Send For Tickets

It is advisable to send for tickets early. They may be secured at the Box Office Merchants National Bank, St. Paul, or the Metropolitan Music Co., Minneapolis. The price of tickets are $1.00, $2.00 and $3.00; for chancel and box seats the price is $4.40. Mail orders should be accompanied by remittances. If a self-addressed stamped envelope is included in the order, tickets will be returned by mail.

"The Miracle" is performed at 8 o'clock every night except Sunday. Matinee performances are given on Thursday and Saturday at 2 o'clock.

Well To Know Story

Critics have stated that "The Miracle" can be fully appreciated only when the story is understood in advance.

"The Miracle" is a play of pantomime, reading and music. It is not presented on an ordinary stage with the footlights separating the auditorium from the actions, but rather the setting includes the whole auditorium which has been made over into

(Continued on page two)

Soph Girls Learn Art of Life Saving

This year the Sophomore girls are most fortunate, in that their swimming course includes, for the first time, work in life saving, which will eventually entitle them to the Red Cross life saving pin and to the Red Cross Senior Emblem.

Each girl is given the pamphlet entitled "Red Cross Life Saving Methods," and studies the procedures used in life saving work; then she bravely dives into the pool tank waters to put into practice the approaches to a drowning person, the head, cross chest, arm lock, and tired swimmer's carries. Of course a Sophomore girl does not let a strangle hold bother her, indeed not, before you know it she will be free and have you in a position where she can carry you safely to shore and begin her work on resuscitation.

In fact these girls are regular fish, there isn't much they can't do. I wonder if you can do all they do? Can you do this? Float like a jelly fish? Roll like a log? Propel yourself like a steam boat? Bring up objects in seven foot of water? Do the trudgeon? Do a back dive? Float motionless for one minute? Tread water for one minute?

Through this constructive work, the girls are taught to take care of themselves in the water, and also in case of emergency, be ready to assist a drowning person.

—S—

Library Adds New Books to Shelves

The following books have recently been added to The Stout Institute Library:

Industrial Education

Zinc Workers Manual, by the Bruce's Specification Annual for 1929.

Arc Welding: Lincoln Prize Papers Submitted to the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, edited by E. P. Hulse.

Building Trades Handbook, by International Correspondence Schools.

The General Shop, by L. V. Newkirk and G. D. Stoddard.

Industrial Arts in Education, by D. M. Schweickhard.

Economics

Men and Machines, by Stuart Chase
Buyers and Makers, by D. M. Vaughan.

Science

G. M. Culver and T. A. Rogers.
Organic and Food Chemistry, by Principles of Animal Biology, by
A. F. Shull and others.

New Edition

Feeding the Family, by M. S. Rose.
3d ed. 1929.

—S—

Singer Educational Head Conducts Course

Miss Miller, Supervisor of the Educational Department of the Singer Sewing Machine Company is at present conducting in the clothing department a complete course of instruction on the care and use of sewing machine and the use of the attachments.

It is the work of Miss Miller to go into the colleges and instruct girls on the use of the machines, and we are happy to know that she likes especially to come to Stout Institute because of the well-equipped laboratories for clothing work, and because of the splendid cooperation that she gets from both the students and the faculty.

—S—

Support the "S" Club; purchase your tickets for "Salute" now.

Next Week's Calendar

Monday
Science Club—5 p. m.
Stoutonia Staff—5 p. m.
Tower Staff—7 p. m.
Men's Glee Club—7 p. m.
Womens Glee Club—7 p. m.

Tuesday
Band—7 p. m.
S. M. A.—7:15 p. m.
Marquette LaSalle—7:30 p. m.

Wednesday
Y. W. C. A.—5 p. m.
Metallurgy Club—7 p. m.
Rifle Club—7 p. m.
S. T. S.—7:30 p. m.
De Molay—7:30 p. m.

Thursday
Inky Fingers—5:30 p. m.
Orchestra—7 p. m.
M. A. P.—7:15 p. m.
Hyperian—8 p. m.

Popular Tune Girl Makes Initial Bow In The Stoutonia

A. Lotta Dough Typifies College
Coed In First Installment
Of Continued Story

A Lotta Dough (A. standing for Abigail), was a typical college girl, smart and up to the minute in slang and dress. Were the boys crazy about her? I'll say, especially "Collegiate Sam." Lotta had "That Something I Adore," commonly known as "It" or personality plus. This girl went over big with the professors too, at least she wasn't expelled from school. She was not at all a "Bashful Baby," in fact the collegiates all thought her "Lovable and Sweet."

One night she stepped out with "Piccalo rete" whose brother was called "Harmonica Harry." As it was Friday night there was the usual dance to attend. It was a strange thing, but the crowds were diminishing in size each week. Everyone wondered why. Lotta, however, was not going to let that bother her, she was popular. She and the boy friend walked into the dance and—there was Paul Ash and his Passionate Playboys to furnish the jazz for the night.

(Continued on page four)

—S—

Orpheum to Show "S" Club Benefit Movie

"Salute," a real snappy up-to-date football picture is to be shown at the Orpheum next Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 11 and 12. Do not fail to see this picture as it is filled with action from start to finish. Many of the scenes are taken from the Army-Navy football game of last year. Nothing is sacred any more. For years people have been going to football games, watching the plunging players from a distance and wondering what the tangled mass was all about—but those days are gone forever.

In the Fox Movietone all talking picture, "Salute," having for its background the picturesque life at West Point and Annapolis, a close-up is shown of football players in action. The puffing and panting, exchanges of signals, groans of despair, shouts of triumph—all are heard, perfectly reproduced.

Joe August, cameraman, employs many unique camera angles to achieve an amazing effect. Right in the thick of the scrimmages went the camera, to emerge for the first time with a sequence never heard on or off the screen before except by the players themselves.

George O'Brien plays the role of a West Point football star against his brother, played by William Janney, of the Navy team. Others in the cast are

(Continued on page four)

Child Dev. Class Sponsors Exhibit

The Child Development class under the direction of Miss Helen Smith, and the parents of the nursery school children sponsored a book and toy exhibit in the Harvey Memorial room on Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The books and toys were arranged according to their suitability for the different age groups. Each group had a small educational card telling why the toys were good for the activity that is characteristic of the age. This arrangement proved valuable to the visitors when selecting books and toys

Many Parents and Students Attend
The parents, fathers as well as mothers, were very interested in the exhibit, and showed their interest by being present at all times of the day.

As well as being artistically arranged, the exhibit had a definite educational value. Mr. Hanson brought his class over to show them some of the toys that would be possibilities as projects for school boys. Miss Ganz gave her girls the experience of selecting toys and books that would be good for children of different ages. This will be valuable for the girls when they teach the unit on child care that is scheduled for next semester.

Miss Smith announces that next spring another exhibit will be given. This will be of books, pictures and homemade equipment.

—S—

Dancing Instruction To Be Given in Gym

"Did I hear you say that you wanted to go to the school dances, but couldn't because you didn't know to dance?"

"Why yes, I did make that statement."

"Well, if you aren't in luck! Miss Balerud has just organized a dancing class for Stout students like you."

Any student, able to fill the following requirements is eligible to the class: first, pay the fee of one dollar (This fee covers the cost of the orchestra, that will make any pair of feet step in perfect rhythm), and second, you must have a desire to learn the gentle art of dancing.

These dancing classes are to be conducted in the Stout Gym on Saturday afternoons beginning tomorrow, Dec. 7 at 1:30. The class will continue for six or seven lessons and maybe longer. Already thirty men have signed up for the lessons. Girls, these men must have partners. See Miss Balerud at once so you don't miss Saturday's fun.

Tomorrow's class will precede the S. M. A. dance at 3 o'clock.

—S—

Former Stout Student Honored by War Dept.

Stanley Tarzynski, a graduate of Stout Institute with the class of 1928, Saturday was awarded the distinguished service cross by the war department eleven years after he had earned it. The award was made for gallantry in action in the battle of Juvigny, Aug. 30, 1918. Mr. Tarzynski is now an instructor in manual training in the West Allis Vocational school.

Mr. Tarzynski is also entitled to wear the Croix de Guerre with palm awarded him by the French government following the armistice. He was a member of Co. K, 127th Infantry, 32nd Division, a famous Polish Company of Milwaukee.

—S—

Don't forget the S. M. A. "Sunset Dance" Saturday afternoon.

Miss Lillian Baker Writes Interesting Letter From Europe

Gives Excellent Description of English Conditions; Says U.
S. More Advanced

The following letter written by Miss Lillian Baker, former instructor here will be interesting to students who knew who last year. Miss Baker is at present traveling in Europe and the letter tells of many interesting experiences. The following was clipped from The Decorah Journal, Decorah, Ia., Miss Baker's home.

Hotel St. Kilda, Oct. 6th, 1929

Dearest ones all:

For the first time since we sailed I have a feeling that perhaps I can write a letter that will catch up a little on some of the things I have been wanting to tell you about. I'll go back to last Monday when we had our first sight of land after twelve days. That was the day we got into Plymouth, where we had planned to land, but found that we could stay right on the boat with no additional charge and arrive right in London harbor. The smaller boats, like ours, you see, can go right up the Thames, while the larger liners all dock at Plymouth, Southampton, Boulogne, or Liverpool. So by Tuesday evening we were settled in our hotel, The Imperial, at first, and now Edra and I are at the St. Kilda, a private hotel. A little later I'll tell you more about our accommodations. Edra and I got acquainted with the ship doctor and a young fellow going to the west African coast who took us around London for three days, then the latter took us with him down to Southampton from whence he sailed for Africa. We went on a special English train first class. I must tell you something of them. Everything is first, second, and third class, funny little

(Continued from page three)

—S—

Bowman and Welch Leave For Southern Vocational Meeting

Mr. Welch To Continue To Cuba,
Central and South America

C. A. Bowman and Robert Welch left on Monday for New Orleans where they will spend the remainder of the week at the convention of the American Vocational association. Mr. Bowman is a member of the committee on Industrial Education and that committee would make its report at the convention.

Mr. Bowman will return to Menomonie at the close of the convention, but Mr. Welch is planning an extensive tour throughout the south. He intends to visit several Stout graduates who are working in the vicinity of New Orleans and parts of Florida. From there he will go to Havana, Cuba, where he will inspect the prevailing situations in the school setups.

Central and So. America

From there his plans are to go to parts of Central America and the Canal Zone. There are several Stout students teaching in the Canal Zone at the present time. Then he will go to Guatemala and other parts of northern South America. He may also visit some of the islands in the surrounding territory.

This trip will undoubtedly be the most extensive trip ever taken by a member of the Stout faculty during the school year, for he will not return until the holidays. Consequently, his classes will not resume until sometime in January.

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office,
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                                    |                        |
|------------------------------------|------------------------|
| Managing Editor .....              | Lester L. Hawkes       |
| Associate Editor.....              | Irma L. Nichols        |
| News Editor .....                  | Elizabeth A. Williams  |
| News Editor .....                  | John Barber            |
| Assistant .....                    | Bernard C. Hagen       |
| Assistant .....                    | Belinda I. Hendrickson |
| Sports Editor .....                | William J. Micheels    |
| Assistant (I. E.) .....            | Frode Anderson         |
| Assistant (H. E.) .....            | Helen Chamberlin       |
| Feature Editor .....               | Henriette L. Quilling  |
| Feature Editor .....               | Bernice G. Bricker     |
| Exchange Editor .....              | William J. Soucie      |
| Humor Editor .....                 | Carl Roll              |
| Assistant Humor Editor.....        | Al J. Poelinger        |
| Society Editor.....                | Aneta Gundlach         |
| Cartoonist .....                   | Kathleen L. Lind       |
| Head-Line Writer .....             | Stuart Carnes          |
| Business Manager .....             | Earl C. Halverson      |
| Circulation Manager .....          | Robert G. Reick        |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....    | Carl Roll              |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....    | Byron Canatsey         |
| Advertising Manager .....          | Marlo McCullough       |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr. ....        | Donald K. Lind         |
| Make-up Foreman and Pressman ..... | Kent Riggs             |
| Under Direction of.....            | C. W. Hague            |
| Editorial Adviser.....             | Mr. John Faville, Jr.  |
| Associate Adviser.....             | Miss Helen Sarchet     |

ARE WE OVER-ORGANIZED?

Is over-organization the cause of decay and inactivity in some of our technical clubs? Is our time too limited and are we too small in number to carry out, in numerous single-activity clubs, a program covering the desired range of subjects?

The few technical clubs now in existence on the campus deserve recognition for the good work they are doing. Several clubs of a similar nature have been organized and reorganized from time to time. However it has proven difficult to hold together sufficient interest and to enlist necessary energy to keep up vital and vigorous performance and growth in these clubs. As a result certain activities, representing decidedly important phases of industrial education, are sorely neglected in the extra curricula work of our school.

Variations and combinations of subjects in teacher's programs, confronting our men when they go into teaching positions, make it almost necessary for each one to be a member of more technical clubs, with their organization burdens, than his time permits.

This is the condition which probably exists on our campus today, and which probably is the cause for the apparent lack of interest in much of the splendid work which may be accomplished in these clubs.

One suggestion for remedying this unfortunate condition is offered for consideration.

An Industrial Education Club should be organized. It might be named, "The Vocational Education Club," "The Industrial Education Guild," or be given any other suitable name. Its purposes should be to do practically what the single-activity clubs have been organized to do. In addition to the regular set of officers, the club might have a committee for each major industrial education activity represented in the Stout Institute curriculum. The officers of the club could lay out a calendar or schedule for the year, and each committee could be held responsible for the program for its assigned meetings.

It is felt that under this plan a large amount of unnecessary club organization work could be eliminated. Each member would have the benefits of all the combined club activities that would be of interest and value to him in his chosen lines of work. These advantages could be had through a single membership and through a single club organization, with the probable result that the club would exert a vigorous and beneficial influence in all the industrial education divisions.

—PAUL C. NELSON.

Fizz: "They have no piano, no summer home, no fur coats, no victrola, no washing-machine, no automobile, no radio—

Fuzz: Gee, they must have money."

"Miss Dense, allow me to present Professor Smith."
"Oh, professor, please do something absent-minded!"

Visitor: "Sonny, whats that noise upstairs?"

Sonny: "Oh, Maw's dragging Paw's pants over the floor."
Visitor: "Well, that should'nt make so much noise."
Sonny: "Yes, but Paw's in them."

Pop: "There's nothing worse than to be old and bent."
Son: "Yes, there is, Dad."
Pop: "What is it?"
Son: "To be young and broke."

Let's Laugh

Mr. Tustison: "Fraser, what are your initials?"
Red: "2R".

Beinert says if an educator became president, Thanksgiving would be the day after Christmas.

"There is something dovelike about her."

"Yes, she is a little pigeon-toed."

Mr. Brown: "What are you writing?"

Swoyer: "Nothing."

Mr. Brown: "How do you spell it?"

We suggest wipers for the people that wear windshields.

Some football coach said that the huddle system originated when eleven Scotchmen lit eleven pipes with one match.—Neshota News.

Biwer: "Where is your shoe shine cloth?"

Nelson: "I sent it home."

Biwer: "I'll look for it."

Nelson: "Don't take any of my new socks."

The recent snow flurries are caused by the Eskimos sweeping the snow from the North pole, so that Santa Claus can sit upon the pole comfortably to watch all the boys and girls.

Anyone interested in new uses for Colonial Shaving Lotion see Riggs.

Hoeser: "I call my Ford opportunity."

Fordham: "Why?"

Hoeser: "Because it knocks."

"There is one thing I can always count on."

"What's that?"

"My fingers."

Mr. Faville: "What is first degree murder?"

H. Randecker: "It is to kill a person out right."

Tip: "Why do elephants have such big trunks?"

Top: "Because they have come all the way from India, I suppose."

It was time for roll call at the Chinese Institute. The professor sneezed and six students jumped to their feet and cried: "Present."

Variety to life gives spice.
So why take out the same girl twice —Canatsey.

An Algebra Problem:

X equals the boy
Y equals the girl
Z equals the chaperone
X plus Y add Z equals misery
X plus Y minus Z equals Oh Boy!
—The Talisman.

Tom: "Have you any matches?"

Landlady: "No, I have an electric stove."

Tom: "How do you light the stove?"

Larsen thinks that Thanksgiving came on Wednesday last year.

Three Bulldog Courage Boys from duck shoot and gave swimming lessons the Gordon House became lucky at a sons in the bath tub to their prizes.

Mau: "How did you get that black eye?"

Hoernamann: "I couldn't hold her hand any longer."

Newspaper article: Two college boys held up a filling station. We wonder if it was heavy.

Canatsey wants to know if girls go to the Army School—the school that played Notre Dame Saturday.

A Freshman was seen scratching his head and heard to say, "Pretty Soft."

Lynwood Girls Make Merry Thanksgiving

"Ooh! Meleagris gallopavo is burning," screamed Jessie.

"No, he isn't burning? Can't you see that he is a glorious brown? And look at that dressing! It looks and smells almost as good as the kind my mother makes," answered Violet.

"Oh, look! We're going to have stuffed olives with our fruit salad. And there's a whole pound of marshmallows and nuts in it besides all kinds of fruits. Are the rolls heating in the oven yet? Say, Edna, don't let the peas and carrots burn!"—this from Ceal.

"Let's have steamed potatoes! I can't find the potato masher," chimed in Novak. "That's an idea, Helen, and let's have buttered parsley over them," replied Dr. Bachmann.

"Hey, Ruth, which side does the napkin go on, and what'll I do with the salad fork?" begged Ellen.

This is a glimpse of the preparations during the hour before the serving of Lynwood's Thanksgiving dinner. If one had at the end of that hour taken another glimpse, one would have found these same girls, formally attired, seated around a table covered with an honest-to-goodness" tablecloth, snow white napkins and glistening china.

"Dr. Bachmann, have you new silverware?" asked Ceal.

"No," Edna replied, "Jessie and I spent a whole half-hour cleaning it!"

The turkey was brought in although the waitresses had failed in their endeavor to make him stand up as a gentleman should. This Dr. Bachmann attributed to the fact that he had died lying down.

"This turkey does taste pretty good even if he is dead, doesn't he, Violet? Let's all have second helpings," whispered Ruth.

From then on the dinner progressed without many interruptions. Every—
(Continued on page three)

—S—

St. Paul Auditorium Scene of "Miracle"

(Continued from page one)

a twelfth century Gothic Cathedral. People have marveled at the remarkable reality of the illusion produced.

The legend of "The Miracle" is briefly told as follows:

"A beautiful convent church on the banks of the Rhine is served by nuns of the 'Grey Order.' Among them is a young and beautiful one called Megildis. To her is entrusted the care of the wonder working statue of the Virgin. The Virgin represents divinity and Megildis is humanity. One day when the young sacristan was attending to her duties she heard the notes of the Piper, who is the spirit of the 'Denial of Good.' Then a handsome knight appears. Megildis resolves to go with him, but the doors of the church will not open for her. Finally she appeals to the Virgin, and the church parts. Wresting the infant from the Virgin's arms, Megildis departs with the Knight and Piper. Whereupon the Virgin descends from her altar, dons the robes of the little sacristan and goes on with her duties. None suspect the absence of Megildis, but there is great horror on account of the disappearance of the statue. "Seven scenes follow Megildis through seven years of wondering—of bitterness. No suffering is spared her.

"The eighth and final scene is in the interior of the cathedral. Here the Virgin takes off the robes of the sacristan, mounts to the old place and becomes again the lifeless statue of the Virgin. A gust of wind blows open the door and Megildis, clutching her child comes in. Everything is as when she left it seven years ago. She hastily puts on her robes, but when she turns to her child she finds it dead. She lifts it up to the arms of the Madonna. On Christmas morning when the nuns come to worship they find the image restored."

Story on Reserve at Library
Miss Violet Hassler, director of dramatics here at school has very kindly placed on reserve at the lib-

Here'n There

Here are significant bits taken from a recent "Bradley Tech" editorial named "Student-level Professors." It followed an address by Dr. Hughes Mearns, in which he brought forth the theory that professors should assume the level of the student and thus obtain the best possible work from the student.

"We know of some professors, who, when asked for help, reply: 'It's all there in the book. All you have to do is study it.'"

On the other hand: "Did you ever hear a dean say to you, 'Whenever you don't have anything to do, drop into my office and we'll talk.'"

Did you ever listen to a professor tell how, in his under-graduate days, his Ford fell apart on Fifth Avenue New York?

You have no doubt experienced many examples like these. And with what result? You feel a determination to master that teacher's subject, for you do not want to fail and lower yourself in his estimation.

—The Bradley Tech.

"A Bit 'O Math"

To prove: that a good looking girl can not be trusted.

1. A good looking girl is a "chicken"
2. A chicken is a fowl.
3. Fowl means "not fair."
4. What is not fair can not be trusted.
5. Therefore a good-looking girl cannot be trusted.

—The Bradley Tech.

To prove: that a sheet of ruled paper is a lazy dog.

1. A sheet of ruled paper is an inclined plane.
2. An individual plane in a slope is a pup.
3. A slow pup is a lazy dog.
4. Therefore a sheet of ruled paper is a lazy dog.

—The Konah.

Eau Claire Teachers College has in enrollment at the present time, a tourist-student, Mr. Bertschmann of Switzerland.

"I like this country very much," he said, in a recent interview, "and have no desire to go back to Switzerland. I am interested in business and realized that I should have much more chance for advancement if I came to America.

Mr. Bertschmann is a tourist for six months, which time he will spend attending school at Eau Claire. At the end of this time he plans to have his visa renewed if possible, and if he can permanently enter this country.

—The Spectator.

Boss—You're late this morning, Rastus!

Rastus—Well, sah, when Ah looked in de glass dis mawnin' Ah couldn' see mah self there, so Ah figured Ah'd gone to work. It was sometime afterward dat Ah discovered dat de glass had dropped out of de glass.

—The Ship.

The spread of smallpox at Bradley has become so great that it has been thought advisable to inforce vaccination among the students.

—The Bradley Tech.

rary the story of "The Miracle" so that anyone can avail himself of the opportunity to become acquainted with the story, and thus have an incentive to see the play at St. Paul during the season's run.

First Produced in London

"The Miracle" was first produced in London in 1911 under the direction of Max Reinhardt. Today, the production is directed by Morris Gest, "The Miracle Man of the American Stage."

Cast Is Not Changed

The cast for the St. Paul production of "The Miracle" will be practically the same as that which opened the play in 1911. Marmi Carmi, now Princess Matchbelli, takes the role of the Madonna. She played this part in London.

Society

Girls Glee Club Hold Interesting Rehearsal

The girls Glee Club held a very interesting rehearsal in the nursery school Monday night. Many of the Christmas selections that the girls have been practicing are well under way. With some extensive practice the second soprano section is overcoming its tendency to "flat." The first sopranos still maintain the most volume, but in proportion to numbers it has nothing on the altos.

In accordance with the usual custom, the Glee Club will sing Christmas Carols in the corridor during the Christmas week.

Inky Fingers Give Matinee Party

A matinee party was given Thursday afternoon for the members of the Inky Fingers organization who remained in Menomonie for the Thanksgiving vacation. After seeing and hearing Al Jolson in "Say It With Songs," the party proceeded to Miss Callahan's apartments where a dainty lunch was awaiting them. For the remainder of the evening, the members enjoyed a social time together. Reminiscences of Childhood displayed the Inky Finger's power of narration and their imagination in story telling. The conversation proved to be lively and witty. The organization anticipates many enjoyable meetings in the future.

Y. M. C. A. Holds Special Election

As a result of the special election Thursday night, Bonsal Smith was chosen for president and Earl Halverson for vice-president. Plans were made for a Christmas party for all Stout men. Sid Eng gave a talk on birth control which was followed by a discussion on the same topic. Carl Roll gave a humorous reading and refreshments ended the meeting.

ODDS AND ENDS

Bernhard Hagen accompanied by Nick Marsilio spent the Thanksgiving vacation at Bernhard's home in Decorah, Ia. They made the trip in Hagen's "old Chrysler" which is nothing more than a Maxwell. Al Poelinger, Al Gillis, and Wm. Soucie accompanied them as far as La Crosse. Carl Roll, Ernest Muller, and Helmut Bramstad spent the week end at Helmut's home in Fond du Lac.

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

-- HAIRCUTS --
At Any Hour Of The Day
Three 1st. Class Barbers
THE ELECTRIC SHOP

Drugs and Stationery
NOER DRUG COMPANY

Lilian Baker Writes Letter From Europe

(Continued from page one)

narrow coaches all subdivided into compartments. First class are very attractively furnished, beautiful upholstery, pictures on the walls, etc. After two hours on his boat we slid down the gang plank and waved our farewell. Before we left Southampton I had the momentous thrill of seeing the Leviathan leave her harbor, starting for the States. It's still the world's most gigantic liner, you know, and I have always wanted to see it. It came very close to the Wangani on which we were located. The latter is a beautiful German ship that makes the trips from Hamburg down the African coast.

England Far Behind U. S.

Well, you'd like to have some of my impressions of London and Britishers, wouldn't you? England in most ways, is about twelve to fifteen years behind the States. There are no tall buildings; there is no hurry; styles in dress, music, stores, traffic, vehicles, etc., are almost absurd. I wish you could see the London automobiles and street cars. Once in a while one sees a snappy looking, low built American car. The British ones get a laugh out of me every minute. Great big, old, high, right hand drive, punch horn affairs, taxis and private cars, trucks; they're simply terrible. One of the most evident features of the city as a whole is that economically it certainly is wobbling. There are thousands upon thousands that are out of employment. We are approached every minute on the streets by shabby beggars, especially wrecked women. Everything is very sombre—they dress in dull browns, dull grays and blacks, no color; no life; no optimism in their faces. We have met some very pleasant people tho,

(Continued on page four)

Personals

Miss Smith, Miss Cruise, Miss Van Ness, and Miss Sarchet visited in the Twin Cities over Thanksgiving vacation. Miss Michaels spent the week end in Chicago.

LYNWOOD HALL

Miss Callahan was Lynwood's guest at dinner on Sunday.

Dr. Bachmann spent Friday and Saturday in St. Paul.

There were thirteen girls left in the Hall over Thanksgiving. Were we lucky or unlucky? The mailman, laden with a heavy sack of boxes, showed that we were not forgotten.

TAINTER HALL

Margaret Casey and Carol Brick spent Saturday in Minneapolis.

Alice Cockerill visited friends in Rice Lake over the week-end.

Alice Haslerud and Mildred Dingee were week-end visitors at the latter's home in Kilbourn, Wis.

Marjorie Robb reports an enjoyable week end with friends in Chicago.

Hazel Flaget and Anita Gundlach were Minneapolis visitors on Friday and Saturday.

Edna Mathews spent Thanksgiving with her aunt in Chippewa Falls.

Gertrude Hanson visited friends in Minneapolis Saturday and Sunday.

It is interesting to note that Louise

Whitehurst and Frances Schroeder were the only girls who kept the home fires burning at Tainter Hall over the entire Thanksgiving vacation.

The following girls spent the week end at their homes: Esther Sichler at Alma Center, Wis; Mary Hyrz at Melrose, Wis.; Elva Page at Elk River, Minn.; Margaret Allen at Fairbault, Minn., and Kathleen Shannon at Crosby, Minn.

Tainter Hall welcomes back Mildred Dingee, Hazel Flaget, Esther Sichler and Margaret Casey who spent the past six weeks at Homemakers. Kathleen Shannon is now taking her turn in the Practice House for this six weeks period.

TAINTER ANNEX

Dorothy Cole, Elaine Canelon, and Mabel Neergard spent Saturday in Eau Claire.

The seven girls who spent their vacation at the Annex report an enjoyable week end playing bridge, roasting chicken, telling fortunes and sleeping.

Much excitement was caused by the disappearance of our most valued possession, the vacuum cleaner, Saturday morning.

Lynwood Girls Make Merry Thanksgiving

(Continued from page two)

one was busy devouring Meleagris Gallopavo. All of a sudden Novak exclaimed, "Oh! I forgot to turn out the flames in the kitchen!"

"I thought you usually did that at the telephone, Heien," answered Dr. Bachmann.

At the end of the fourth course, before the pumpkin pie, mince pie, fruit cake, coffee and mints appeared, Jessie said complacently, "Isn't it funny? Really, I'm not hungry now."

After the dinner was over, we pushed back out chairs and heaved a sigh. We took one glance at the dishes and exclaimed universally, "Let 'em stand in the sink!"

Thus, another pleasant occasion will remain as an event ever to be remembered by the girls who remained here to spend their Thanksgiving vacation.

urday morning. We had almost decided that someone had taken it home as a Thanksgiving gift when it was discovered on the attic stairway where someone had put it for safe keeping.

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Good Meals and Refreshments SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

GOLDEN BROWN WAFFLES
with MAPLE SYRUP

15c

CHICKEN SANDWICHES — SHORT ORDERS

We Deliver

Phone 746

525 Broadway

THE SANDWICH SHOP

SERVICE

QUALITY

The OLYMPIA

Open after Dances

Try Our Taffy Apples

SPECIAL
DECEMBER SALE

EVENS TOBIN CO.

AN EXCLUSIVE ASSORTMENT
Of New Ring Designs, with all the attractive
New Stone Settings
New modernistic designs in Bracelets, Vanities, & Watches

A small deposit will reserve any article until Xmas

NELS ANSHUS

"Gifts that Please your Student Friend"

SEE

BELAIR

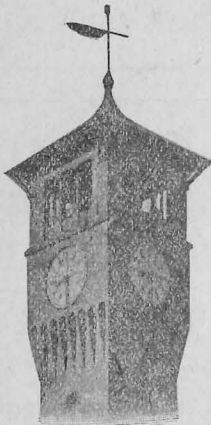

BELAIR

FOR

FOR

TOWER
PHOTOS

TOWER
PHOTOS

BELAIR STUDIO

MAIN STREET

OPP. SCHOOLS

Gloom Centers Over Conference Camps as Net Season Appears

Stout's Chances for Successful Season Bright; Will Start On Even Terms

In answer to this paper's expressed hope last week that the other conference writers were not expressing the same satisfaction with early-season prospects that we are, several stories came to light from other conference camps.

The general situation seems to be one of gloom. Of course, much of that may be discounted. It is usually well to establish a team's alibi early in the season, especially if the past season for that team was a winning one. But, as a matter of truth, the other teams are not in quite as pretty shape for victories as they have been, and here's how:

At Eau Claire and Superior

The Eau Claire writers are sounding a note of hope, as they have a few lettermen back, and some fast newcomers, including Finn, the flashy football end, and others. But they haven't Art Peterson, who was one of their best performers last season.

Superior should not duplicate her football championship in basketball, if one can believe the A. P. correspondent, and their school newspaper. Mestnick, star center, is the only letterman back from last season, but Horyza, 1927 guard, is back again, and Coach Tubbs always has a rangy aggregation from which to build the usual potent cage team from the north.

A. River Falls

The Falls writers are also singing the blues. They lost Hunt, Segerstrom, and the Manion boys after three years' valiant service for the Red. That's a point, but it's hard to get enthusiastic about River Falls' bad condition when it is recalled that they had so many athletes out in football suits that they looked like somebody's university.

There is no question, however, that at last—a new aggregation at Stout is not going to run into a conference full of tried veterans. For a change, the Trainers are starting out with the breaks about even. It will be a case of whether the Blue Devils upstairs in the attic right now who look so competent, are still going to look that way later on. We still believe they are, and we shall get an indication of their worth next Friday evening when Concordia appears here for the opener.

Popular Tune Girl Makes Initial Bow

(Continued from page one)

Lotta was heard to comment to Pete, "This will be 'Revolutionary Rythm' all right."

The first dance was "I Am Only Making Believe." After this dance all the boys rushed up to Lotta to arrange dances, because Lotta was "Beautiful." Her program was soon filled to overflowing and Pete was heard "Moanin' Low."

The second dance Miss Dough had with Slim. Poor Pete stood on the sidelines thinking "Am I Blue." There really was no need for this because there were several girls also on the sidelines. Was he going to dance with them? He had brought Lotta, he was a date. Just then Lotta dances by and said, "Ain't Misbehavin'".

But Pete merely replied, "All That I'm Asking Is Sympathy."

This dance was soon over and Lotta rushed up to him and said, "Can't You Understand?" This next dance is yours." Pete was glad, indeed, and thought, "True Blue Lu," anyway.

Thus the evening went on. Lotta danced with Bill, Bennie, Dave, Stony, and the rest of the collegians. On the way home Lotta and Pete discussed the crowd. Lotta remarked, "The same fellows stag again." Why in the world don't a few people wake up and hear the birds sing? Half of them are just "Painting the Clouds With Sunshine." Why don't they take girls to the dances? The girls would like to go but they refuse to "stag." If they would date more, "Little By Little" the dances would be better attended." Piccolo Pete, however, had nothing to say, for he knew it was practically useless to argue with his girl friend. Then suddenly a light flickered and Pete suggested, Perhaps the boys would rather be "Loneiy Troubadors."

Lotta and Pete had to hurry home and could discuss matters no more for it had started to "Rain." Lotta then remarked, "I Get the Blues When It Rains." Pete was inclined to agree with her and "It Was Unanimous Now."

—S—

Chippewa Falls To Oppose "B" Team Tuesday Night

The "B" team will open its season Tuesday evening against the senior high school team at Chippewa Falls. That this will be a severe test for the group of yearlings under the tutelage of Clayt Halverson is a foregone conclusion, for Chippewa is always strong. Those who will make the trip will probably be: Pierson, Schmidt, Brownsey, Nutting, Roe, Hoerer, Schlumpf, Southern, Aune, and McNaughton.

Lillian Baker Writes Letter From Europe

(Continued from page three)

too, and London has one very beautiful section, the park gardens and royal palaces, with beautiful arches and sculpture, hedgerows and well platted boulevards. Yesterday morning Edra and I hiked to St. James palace and watched the changing of the Royal Guard, a daily ceremony that lasts an hour and a half. Some morning we'll watch the changing of the Royal Horse Guards at Buckingham palace.

While the men were still with us we saw several good shows and Edra and I have tickets to three splendid plays this week. Then we plan to leave London late this week and head straight for Paris. We have given up the bicycle trip until next summer when we come back through here. People all along have advised against it so late this season. Its so cold and never a day without rain. Atmosphere is so piercing chilly, so damp, and we are shivering around in our blanket coats most of the day. We have done gloriously on learning to handle our English money, it is so bewildering at first. One glance at us spells America, so people try to gyp us on every turn and we watch closely. I'm having an awful time finding food I really relish. They prepare everything so abominably. I had no idea we would find such a difference, just in England. How I crave American food. So much of the terminology for every ordinary use is almost beyond recognition. Places and things are named so differently and their accent is beyond understanding at times. Their words rattle like C—s for speed, that's the only thing they do in a hurry. Service everywhere here is very poor and traffic is irritably slow like in Boston. No furnace fire anywhere, we freeze, huddle around gas fireplaces in our rooms, dropping a shilling in the sloth everytime we turn on the heat. The effect is like that of a bonfire, hot on one leg and frozen on the other. Write care American Express, Paris. I'll get mail from you tomorrow, I hope. Heaps of love.

LILIAN.

—S—

Support the "S" Club; purchase your tickets for "Salute" now.

SUCCESSFUL PEOPLE VISIT THEIR BARBER FREQUENTLY.

I. W. NESSER
"THE BARBER"

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonie Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

See US For HAIRCUTS
We Satisfy Our Customers
The Lakeview
Barber Shop

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
EAT

THE PEERLESS GRILL
"THE HOME OF GOOD FOOD"

Menomonie Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

Orpheum to Show "S" Club Benefit Movie

(Continued from page one)

Helen Chandler, Frank Albertson, Joyce Compton and Stepin Fetchit. The University of Southern California's football squad appears in many of the scrimmages.

John Ford has done his best job in directing this picture,

To Buy Sweaters for "S" Men

The proceeds from this picture will go towards the purchase of sweaters for all the "S" men in school. Up-to-date, no funds have been available for this purpose and this is one method of getting for the "S" men something which they deserve.

Tickets are now on sale by all "S" men. Let's all buy one or more tickets. Tell your friends and help put this over.

S. M. A. SPONSORS DANCE

The S. M. A. society is sponsoring a "Sunset Dance" Saturday afternoon from three to five-thirty o'clock. Music, which will be furnished by the "Masked Marvels" should be an inducement for many to attend as the orchestra has established a very favorable reputation on the campus. For harmony and melody, the "Masked Marvels" have them both.

The price of admission is your master ticket and thirty-five cents.

Don't forget the S. M. A. "Sunset Dance" Saturday afternoon.

ORPHEUM

Thurs., Friday and Sat.
"THE COCK EYED WORLD"

The sequel to what price glory.

Sun. — Mon. — Tues.

"Married In Hollywood"

All singing, talking, dancing, song romance. Gorgeous, lavish costumes. 60 piece orchestra, 200 in chorus, with music by Oscar Strans, composer of the "Chocolate Soldier"

Matinee Sunday at 2:30

Wednesday and Thursday

"SALUTE"

Taken at West Point and at Annapolis — see the Army — Navy football game. Buy your tickets from an "S" Club member as they receive a percentage on all they sell. A great show and a great cause.

GRAND

Saturday and Sunday

Karl Dane in

CHINA BOUND

Extra: E. K. Lund will entertain you in majic.

Mat Sun. at 3:00 — 10c and 25c

SERVICE

We do DRY CLEANING
on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Articles brought by noon will be ready next day.

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE

Menomonie Dye House

Running and Cole

We have
QUALITY SHOES

at

Minimum Prices.

See

SWENSON AND BERNDT

"The Shoemen"

Buy "HER"

a Box of Our

"Fresh Chocolates"
for Christmas

"The Candy Shoppe"

WARD'S Club Parchment Stationary

at

OLSON'S

See our New Ward's Line-a-Day

"IDEAL GIFT"

A. R. OLSON

MERRY XMAS EVERYBODY

A Pair of "Goodrich Zippers" Would Be A CAPITAL GIFT

GRAVEN AND WILCOX

"The Zipper Men"

Selective Christmas Gifts

BRIDGE SETS, DESK SETS
LEATHER PURSES

LUCITECOMB, BRUSH & MIRROR SETS

Come In and Look Them Over

LEE'S DRUG STORE

SEE SHAKER FOR YOUR ANNUAL PHOTO NOW

SHAKER STUDIO

Basket Ball Season Opens Tonight With Concordia

Dean Bowman Back From New Orleans Vocational Meeting

Relates Interesting Experiences
To Stoutonia Reporter; Mr.
Welch to S. America

Dean Bowman returned Monday from New Orleans where he attended the annual convention of the American Vocational Association. The convention this year was unusually well attended by delegates from all parts of the United States and parts of Mexico. The southern states were of course well represented and Wisconsin had a good sized delegation present.

Mr. Bowman did extensive work on the committee on Standards in Industrial Education while at the convention. This association does much for the bringing together of people from the entire country interested in various phases of vocational education and is doing much to acquaint the various regions with each other and to assist in the furthering of the progress of vocational education of the nation.

Wisconsin Gets Next Meeting

An increasing amount of attention is being given to the development of a nation-wide program of vocational education for adults, in which Wisconsin is making unusual strides and taking a place with the leading states in the development of a good and stable program of adult education. It was decided that the meeting next year will be held in Milwaukee, and the opinion was frequently expressed at the New Orleans convention that the meeting at Milwaukee next year will undoubtedly have significant results.

Mr. Bowman left Monday, Dec. 2, in company with Mr. Welch for New Orleans. They joined the Wisconsin delegation at Chicago where special accommodations for their comfort had been made. The Wisconsin delegation, in three special Pullmans, left Chicago (Continued on page four)

Lotta Dough Is strong 'Leap Week' Advocate

A new idea dawned in the gray matter of our friend and colleague, Lotta Dough. It was seldom that this had ever happened, but when it has, the effect she was powerful. This is what it was all about.

Lotta had received from her girl friend at a nearby college a letter that was the basis for the idea. Why not have "Leap Week" on our campus as they have had on other campuses? This is how it would work, and Lotta was the first to try it out.

Our dear girl friend decided to call up "Collegiate Sam" as she was no longer stepping out with "Piccolo Pete."

Central: Number please.

Lotta: 613-W, please.

Ring—Brrrrring.

Voice: Curtis House.

Lotta: (giggling) May I speak to Sam, please?

Voice: Certainly.—Sam, S-a-a-m—Telephone.

Sam: Coming.

Hello.

L. D.: Hello, is this Sam speaking?

Sam: Yes, who is this?

L. D.: This is a girl by the name of Lotta Dough. Are you busy Friday night?

Sam: Well—no, I guess not.

L. D.: Well, will you go to the (Continued on page two)

Dancing Class Holds First Dance of Year

Oh Gollee! We had the dandiest time at Dancing class Saturday. There is a peppy gang attending this year and they're all full of fun.

Did you see Pat Kelly counting the men in the opposite line and then sliding down the line of girls to a certain place opposite that "certain party." Pat, however, was not the only one counting off, for the men were up to the same tricks. And perhaps even some of the other girls.

Nelson Gets In Difficulty

Then that cute blond fellow, Nelson by name, had trouble remembering his one, two, three, four, step, glide. We don't know whether he really forgot how to count, or whether the girl with whom he was dancing temporarily stunned his counting abilities.

John Harmon and Art Dehlinger, we have decided, from our Saturday's observation, will make the coming "Moonlight Waltzers."

We had a lot of fun, but really it's cheaper to wear a pair of old slippers than it is to ruin a pair of new ones. It is agreed that last Saturday's dancing class gave us one dollar's worth of fun, and if every succeeding class gives us an equal amount, then at the end of seven lessons, we will have saved six dollars. I'll see you at dancing class tomorrow at 1:30 sharp for we aren't let the men razz us again this Saturday for being twenty-five minutes late.

—S—

'S' Club To Present Minstrel and Comedy Show Wed. Evening

Proceeds to be Used to Furnish Sweaters for Members
Of Organization

Wednesday, December 18, marks the date of a gala night at the Stout Auditorium. The "S" Club is presenting minstrel and comedy features which are known as the Whatzit.

From all reports, people are coming from near and far to see this unique attraction. As stated in last week's Stoutonia, the "S" Club is trying to raise money for the purpose of buying sweaters for all letter men.

Twenty-six "S" Club members are taking part in the Whatzit. Everyone of them is putting in some hard work and long hours of practice. New ideas are being added daily. Miss Hassler, who very successfully coached the homecoming play is coaching the Whatzit. She is being assisted by Al Poellinger. Along with the talent of the "S" Club, members on the stage as well as in athletics will guarantee this attraction to be a success.

Program In Three Parts

The Whatzit is divided into three main features, a minstrel, a style show and a football game. This minstrel is not to be the ordinary kind of minstrel. Something new and snappy is to be offered and there is a laugh in store for us for every minute of the two hours of entertainment.

There will also be some classical musical selections and some new popular ones under the leadership of "Rusty" Wallin. The style show will feature all the latest styles. Buck Schaudé is featured in this and it is going to be good. It is to be carried out in pantomime.

Hank On Program

Harmon and his gang are offering an unusual attraction in Squeal's

Girls' Rifle Club To Meet Arizona Team In Match

Club Starts Practice for Team Composed of Veteran Shooters

A challenge sent by girl members of Union High School and Junior College, Phoenix, Arizona, was immediately accepted by the girl's team of The Stout Rifle Club. Preparation have been started for putting a winning team of girls on the firing line in this, their first inter-college match.

Receives Challenge

A week ago Miss Balerud received a letter from the Junior College rifle club in Phoenix, Arizona, challenging the girls of the Stout rifle club and requesting that the club enter a team of fifteen or of seven shooters. If a team of fifteen members is entered, the ten highest scores are to be counted; and if only seven shooters are entered, the five highest scores will be counted in the match. The match is to be shot on fifty feet range, and under N. R. A. regulations. Acceptance of the challenge has been sent to the Arizona Club. The executive officer, the captains of the girls' team, the coaches, and the members are attacking with determination the problem of beating a presumably much more experienced team.

Requirements Discussed

At the last executive meeting a complete outline of instruction material, based on the U. S. army rifle instruction manuals and on "Marksmanship", published by Boy Scouts of America, was laid before the executive committee. A complete set of tests, examinations, and requirements leading to an honor certificate and badge for marksmanship, was read and discussed. The entire system of rifle instructions, examinations, and awards was approved and adopted. As a result, definite instruction in all the phases of rifle marksmanship will soon be part of the work of each rifle practice period.

—S—

PUBLICATION ROOM USE

There seems to prevail a mistaken idea of the purpose and use of the Publication Room in the basement of the Home Economics building which we hereby wish to correct.

It is not practical to keep the door of this room locked because of the continuous use which it receives from the members of the staffs, and we are therefore requesting that other students, who have a tendency to use the room for lounging and general study purposes, please discontinue this practice.

Next Week's Calendar

Monday

Science Club—5 p. m.
Stoutonia Staff—5 p. m.
Tower Staff—7 p. m.
Womens Glee Club—7 p. m.
Mens Glee Club—7 p. m.

Tuesday

Band—7 p. m.
Philo—7 p. m.

Wednesday

Rifle Club—7 p. m.
Metallurgy Club—7 p. m.
Lutheran Students—7 p. m.
Y. W. C. A.—5 p. m.

Thursday

Areme—7:30 p. m.
Hyperian—5 p. m.
Orchestra—7 p. m.

Stout Graduate Wins Picture Contest Prize

Harvard C. Smith, Stout graduate in 1925, and now an instructor in Kenosha, has just been awarded another handsome prize for cleverness in picture work. The January "Photoplay" magazine, out this week, announces the fact that Mr. Smith has been awarded first prize of $1500 in the picture-cutting contest conducted in recent months.

The "Photoplay" says, "When advised that his entry was under consideration for a possible prize, Mr. Smith wrote, 'Two days after your letter reached me, the stork presented Mrs. Smith (the former Harriet Froelich of Stout) and me with a fine eight-pound girl. As she is our first baby, we are anxious to give the little miss a good start in life, and the prize right now would help out a whole lot.'"

Constructed Movie Camera

Mr. Froelich's prize-winning entry in the contest was a camera made of wood and metal in his school shop, and lacquered so realistically that one standing ten feet from it would declare it to be a camera like those used in the big studios of Hollywood, according to "Photoplay." Inside the camera were the assembled solutions, as neat and accurate in every way as was the camera in every detail.

The November 1 issue of THE STOUTONIA carried a story of Mr. Smith's winning a prize of $1000 in another pictures contest. According to (Continued on page two)

—S—

Tower Staff Informs Students of Progress On Yearly Annual

Asks for Cooperation of Students
Throughout Year; Pictures
Due Before December 20

Much of the work on the 1930 Tower, which up to this time has been of a general nature, has resolved itself into specific allotments and is being completed by the various sub-editors. Believing that the success and originality of the book lies in the interest and responsibility which the entire school displays, the Tower staff feels that to further the work, the student body should be kept informed as to progress of the book.

The entire plan of the book is to be centered around its theme, which will try to depict in a true sense the activities of Menomonie at the time of the founding of The Stout Institute. Among the new features to be incorporated in the book are: a rearrangement of the class panels, a bordered scenic section, a novel pictured historical section, a baby section, and a complete departure from the previous styled division pages.

Picture Deadline is Dec. 20

The necessity of each student to feel a personal responsibility for his picture, and the promptness with which the organization representatives respond to calls for their pictures is as vital as ever; the immediate attention to these details will be a material aid in planning details of the book.

All appointments for pictures are to be in by the 20th and all organization write-ups must be submitted to the organization editors before the holiday recess.

The humor and snap shot editors request that the students collect as many jokes and snaps as possible. Arrangements will be made to take care of this material.

St. Paul College to Furnish First Test For Paulus' Machine

Trainers Are Well Groomed for Tonight's Debut in
New Conference

The last of Coach Paulus' Stout teams gets its first chance to give him a pleasant memory when it meets Concordia College of St. Paul at the city armory at 8:15 tonight. There will be no preliminary, so the debut of the new Trainer "A" squad will be the whole attraction.

Not much could be found out about Concordia, except that they major in basketball, having no football at all. They therefore have the jump on their rivals in the newly formed inter-state conference, and can be counted on as heavy competition. They play at Eau Claire tomorrow evening.

Team Shows Effects of Drill

A month's preliminary practice has rounded out what seems at this hour to be a commendable squad for Stout. Whether or not they will look as good later in the evening remains to be seen. It is certain, however, that they are faster and more clever than the hard-trying team of last season.

On Wednesday evening, the "B" squad, still stinging from the Chipewa defeat, took out their grudge on the varsity, and held them even in the scorebook for 20 minutes. But then the "A's" walked away from the frosh fighters, and re-established confidence in themselves. The first team has managed to run up nearly 40 points in every scrimmage so far, proving that a good percentage of their shots are sinking, this year.

Combination Getting Settled

There is, of course, some doubt as to the best combination at this stage of the season, but Paulus has three forwards who look best at present, and who will be carefully scrutinized in action tonight. These are Micheels, Peterson, and Haase, tho Fordham and Schaudé have both demonstrated (Continued on page four)

—S—

Christmas Assembly To Be Next Friday

The date for the Christmas Assembly program has been changed. According to the Administration, the special assembly will be on Friday, December 20, at eleven o'clock instead of Thursday, Dec. 19, during the usual assembly hour. In so far as possible provisions will be made for holding the classes on Thursday between eleven and twelve o'clock, which would regularly meet Friday between eleven and twelve. Details for schedule of classes will be posted later.

Exceptional Program Planned

This year the Manual Arts Players and the Men and Women's Glee Clubs are cooperating on the Christmas program by the dramatic club producing a one act play and the Glee Clubs singing carols and various other chorus numbers.

Previously, the Manual Arts Players have presented a three act play preceding the Christmas vacation and the Glee Clubs have had charge of the assembly hour.

The program to be presented this year will be as follows:

1. Arise, Shine for Thy Light is Come ..... Nevin
  - Men's Glee Club
  2. O Babe Divine.....Hamblen
  - Solo—John Barber
  3. The Perjured Santa Claus.....
- (Continued on page two)

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office,
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                                             |                        |
|---------------------------------------------|------------------------|
| Managing Editor .....                       | Lester L. Hawkes       |
| Associate Editor.....                       | Irma L. Nichols        |
| News Editor .....                           | Elizabeth A. Williams  |
| News Editor .....                           | John Barber            |
| Assistant .....                             | Bernard C. Hagen       |
| Assistant .....                             | Belinda I. Hendrickson |
| Sports Editor .....                         | William J. Micheels    |
| Assistant (H. E.) .....                     | Helen Chamberlin       |
| Feature Editor .....                        | Henriette L. Quilling  |
| Feature Editor .....                        | Bernice G. Bricker     |
| Exchange Editor .....                       | William J. Soucie      |
| Humor Editor .....                          | Carl Roll              |
| Assistant Humor Editor.....                 | Al J. Poelinger        |
| Organization Editor (Womens).....           | Anita Gundlach         |
| Organization Editor (Mens).....             | Alfred M. Reinhold     |
| Cartoonist .....                            | Kathleen L. Lind       |
| Head-Line Writer .....                      | Stuart Carnes          |
| Business Manager .....                      | Earl C. Halverson      |
| Circulation Manager .....                   | Robert G. Reick        |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....             | Carl Roll              |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....             | Byron Canatsey         |
| Advertising Manager .....                   | Marlo McCullough       |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr. ....                 | Donald K. Lind         |
| Make-up Foreman and Pressman .....          | Kent Riggs             |
| Under Direction of.....C. W. Hague          |                        |
| Editorial Adviser.....Mr. John Faville, Jr. |                        |
| Associate Adviser.....Miss Helen Sarchet    |                        |

“LEAP WEEK”

In this week's issue of THE STOUTONIA we are running a continued feature article dealing with the personage of one Miss Lotta Dough, a strong advocate of the much discussed “Leap Week.” While the story does not continue far enough to obtain the result of Lotta's experiment, it is nevertheless, a suggestion that might well be carried out here at Stout.

While we would not be advocates of making “Leap Week” a habit, yet we do believe it would prove a novelty and an interesting experiment.

The men of the school, while not willing to give up the age-old custom of serving as the protector, and the offerer of things for his lady friend's amusement, they would no doubt welcome a week of reciprocation in that respect.

Why not have “Leap Week?” Is there anything so terrible wrong in letting the young ladies ask for the dates and paying for her friend's amusement one week out of the school year? We believe that most of the Stout women would welcome such as an opportunity to express their appreciation for the kindnesses shown them by their gentlemen friends. Why not give the girls a chance to show whose company they desire instead of always keeping them in the background, and taking their dates as they find them. And who knows, more than one college romance has developed in a more unique way than through “Leap Week.”

The idea was tried out at Antioch College, Oxford, Ohio, and met with such enthusiasm that another such week is being planned. What Antioch does, surely Stout can do.

The editor, while in a rather precarious position to offer such a suggestion, believes the idea would prove a huge success and a great amount of enjoyment would be derived. Let's have the views of some of the students, especially the women.

Nebraska Dean Voices Vocational Ed. Opinion

Dean Hicks of the University of Nebraska is distressed about the popularity of vocational specialties over cultural generalities in the college curriculum. But he sees a ray of light. He thinks the people of the state will soon realize that it isn't the best thing to start in college with the sole idea of learning things that will land a good job at the end of four years.

If he can see that, Dean Hicks has better vision than we have. What the people will do, either in the near future or in the far future, must of necessity be pretty much of a guess. Our guess is that instead of backtracking on emphasizing the vocational side of the college curriculum they will demand bigger and better vocational courses and departments.

The old college with its emphasis upon the Latin and Greek classics and mathematics existed chiefly for the sons of the well to do. It was the place where one acquired either scholarship or that savoir faire which a gentleman needed to support inherited wealth. It's doors were closed to youth of limited means except where one showed evidence of a scholarly bent. There was a place for him under the patronage of endowed scholarships or fellowships.

Today, the college doors are wide open, particularly those of the state universities. Anybody can hope to get a college education and almost anybody with a little grit, ingenuity and perseverance can realize that hope.

The consequence is a popular interest in higher education that never existed before. That interest manifests itself in a compelling demand that the college justify itself in a practical way. While it is teaching let it teach something which the student can make use of after graduation.

Let's Laugh

Haase: “Does a college education pay?”
Stike: “No, your dad pays.”

Most girls would rather have a chap alone than a chaperone.

Biwier: “You should see my girl in the cities.”
K. Miller: “Does she belong to any fraternity?”

Irma Nichols gets her education by working on The Stoutonia staff.

Advice to a Freshman: You may think you'll get thru on looks, but the way of pathway lies in the books.
—The Wamago.

Scene takes place in the lobby of the auditorium. A play is on called, “The Miracle.” People are lined up waiting to get in. First in line is a Scotchman and back of him is a Jew.

Teller: “What is it, please?”
Scotchman: “How much are the tickets?”
Teller: “One, two, three, and four dollars.”
Scotchman: “Give me four, $4.00 tickets.”
Teller (to Jew): “How many tickets, please?”
Jew: “Oi, I don't want none, I just saw the Miracle.”

Collegiate Love Letter

Oh, how I am to see my Oil Can? I must, I must confess, I was out with a Dragout whom I had considered a Torch but who was classed as a spare tire by the Sofa Pups who are always on the stub. We crashed a party for a chance to hoof and mouth. Yes, and whom should we meet but your Chissler friend. I hang him every chance I get—Allez Oop, Slick, how about a Touchdown? he asks.

Blotto, answers I, barging again? No, Hank, the Parlor Leech, had a Snuggle Puppy who was a dead hoofer though.

Let us shinslop, demands a friend. Come on Drag a hoof then, says she. Oooh but what a flat tire.

When the ball was over we left in her covered wagon but were hung up and didn't get home until two gargles from a cuckoo. “Well, I'll give the neighbors something to gore about, says she as she squeezed on the howler.

What an inkwell that place will make, says I, as I left her.
Call me an Airdale if you wish, but I love you yet.

Your Snooty Roch Crushes,
—The Pathfinder.

WANTED:— Girl to sew buttons on the second ffloor.

Life is but a joke;
All things show it.
Look at a Freshman;
And you'll know it.
—The Rocket.

Grace: “I thought I'd die.”
Beth: “Why didn't you?”

Clarysse: “Your mother should have called you Luke.”
Bozie: “Why?”
Clarysse: “You aren't so hot.”

“Have you read, “To a Field Mouse.”
“No, how do you make them listen”

He: “I'm quite a neighbor of yours. I live just across the river.”
She: “Well, I do hope you drop in some day.”

Who was Homer?
He was the fellow that made Babe Ruth famous.

Teacher: Shelly was very kind hearted.
Clarence Nelson: So am I, once in a while.

Davison: What is in your head?
Goodrich: I don't know—not much. At least the boy is honest.

Mid-week Smoker Featured by S. T. S.

The members of the S. T. S. heartily enjoyed a smoker, held in the club rooms on Thursday night of this week. It was one of the many enjoyable affairs planned by the officers for the entertainment of the members. Several unique features were given and the billiard and pool table, along with the checker boards and card tables were the scene of interesting battles.

No S. T. S. smoker would be complete without refreshments, and those who attended were not disappointed.
—S—

Dean Bowman To Illinois Convention

Dean Bowman left Wednesday evening for Peoria, Ill. where he will spend the remainder of the week attending the twentieth meeting of a group under the chairmanship of Dr. W. T. Bawden, who is connected with the Industrial Education Magazine. This group is made up of representatives from teacher training institutions in the Mississippi valley.

The attendance is not restricted to this region, however. Advance indications point to an attendance this year of representatives from twelve or more states. The meeting is an intensive one holding morning, afternoon and evening sessions devoted to teacher training with special emphasis on training for manual arts work. Mr. Bowman will return to Menomonie on Sunday.

—S—

Excursion to Cities Attracts Students

On Saturday, December 7, a Teachers' and Student's Educational Excursion to St. Paul and Minneapolis was sponsored by the Chicago & Northwestern Railway Line. Several took advantage of this opportunity of reduced rates and spent a week-end in the cities.

The program for the occasion was the inspection of the Capitol Building and the State Historical Society Building in St. Paul, where there were interesting exhibits of Pioneer days in the Northwest.

Many Points Visited

An adequate Indian exhibit was also shown. A tour through the Pillsbury Flour Mills was another feature of the program, and the final event, a visit to the Minnesota Theater on Saturday afternoon.

Many students and faculty took this opportunity however, to see the “Miracle” which is now being given in St. Paul.

—S—

Many Students Earn Way at Wisconsin

By special correspondent of the Journal, Madison, Wis.—An unusually large proportion of men students at the University of Wisconsin, 73 per cent, are at least partially self supporting, according to figures released by the University statistician Wednesday. The survey included 4,744 men students in an enrollment of 5,962. Of the 73 percent, 26 per cent are wholly self supporting.

33 percent of Women Work

The women students who work are not nearly so numerous, only 33 per cent being at least partially self-supporting, according to the survey, which included 3,054 women in an enrollment of 3,506. Only 13 percent are entirely self-supporting.

Fifty-seven percent of the 7,798 students covered by the survey are at least partially self supporting and 21 percent wholly self-supporting. There are 9,468 students at the university.

The figures reveal that graduate students especially depend on themselves for their maintenance, as exactly 86 percent earn at least part of their way and 65 percent all of it.

Did You Know That-

Dehlinger told Miss Sarchet that he would rather write a theme than go on a date because it was cheaper.

A frosh handed to Mr. Faville a notebook which had some of the corners of the pages glued together. When asked why he did that he replied, “Some one told me that some of the instructors didn't even open up the notebooks to look them over, and I was attempting to find out which ones they are.”

Mr. Early looked at Dan Green's home plan, “What is this extra room for Dan?”

Dan: “That is where my wife and I are going to settle all our quarrels.”

Carl Roll was found in Pete's reading poetry to Margaret Allan.

Everyone is making plans for Christmas. The depots and bus stations are going to be very busy answering calls for homesick frosh who want to find out what time the bus that takes them back to the home town leaves.

—S—

Stout Graduate Wins Picture Contest Prize

(Continued from page one)

friends, the Smiths have increased their fortunes by about $5000 in this way, and again, friends in Menomonie take this medium to offer them congratulations both on the prize, and also upon their newly arrived future prize-winner.

—S—

Christmas Assembly To Be Next Friday

(Continued from page one)

|                                       |
|---------------------------------------|
| .....Myra Kelly                       |
| Reading—Jane Foeller                  |
| 4. Christmas play: Fiat Lux.....      |
| .....Vilas Cast                       |
| Azariah.....Nathaniel Ward            |
| Father Ambrose.....Leo Gardiner       |
| Nellie.....Janet Kyle                 |
| Soldier.....George Bryant             |
| The Waits.....Doris Henry             |
| Emma Newby, Mildred Haggord.          |
| 5. Great is Thy Love.....Bohm         |
| O'er the World in Sleeping.....Harris |
| Women's Glee Club                     |
| 6. Carols: The First Noel.....        | | .....Traditional                      |
| Silent Night.....Gruber               |
| Combined Glee Clubs                   |

At a signal from the director, all will stand and join in singing the last verse of “Silent Night.”

—S—

Lotta Dough is Strong ‘Leap Week’ Advocate

(Continued from page one)

dance with me? I'm doing the treating. You know we girls are starting “Leap Week” around here. The boys, however, suggested it. We ask for the dates and we pay the expenses.

Sam: Hot dog! Sure, I'll go. The fellows whose checks from “Fawther” didn't come will be tickled pink.

Lotta: What time shall I call for you, Sam?

Sam: Oh, I think I'll be dressed by 9 o'clock. That will be O. K. with me.

Lotta: All right, goodbye.

Sam: Goodbye.

With a crash and bang the idea started. It flew about like lightning. Meanwhile, time passed slowly.

Friday night came—the time for the dance was upon them. Would Lotta get cold feet and back out of the date? Were the other girls also asking the fellows for dates? Would the fellows razz them? Read THE STOUTONIA next week and find out the results of this “heavy date,” this “leap week date.”

—S—

“S” Club Dance tonight after game

Friday, December 13, 1929

Organizations

Areme Society Initiates Four New Members

At the meeting of the Areme Society on Thursday night in the Club rooms, four new members, Nellie Bailey, Myrtle Ray, Frances Hill, and Grace Quarters were formally initiated into the organization. The candle light service was used.

An open discussion concerning a Christmas project for the society was held. The society decided to do a little social welfare work by making scrap books for poor children in hospitals. The girls will begin their work Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Steves.

After a short social meeting, refreshments were served.

Second Six Weeks At Homemakers

The girls who are assuming duties at the Practice House this six weeks are Adele Lanckton, Mary Fox, Aagot Moe, Kathleen Shannon, and Jane Hambley. On Saturday night their guests at dinner were, Nellie Geiger, Frances Schroeder and Esther McKowen.

Mrs. Davison Entertains Hyperian Society Members

Mrs. W. B. Davison entertained the Hyperian society at her home Thursday night. A short, snappy program was given. A comb orchestra, composed of Marian Cress, Florence Verbrick, Mary Jane Dodson, and Alice Lynum, with Emma Newby as director, played several Christmas selections. The variations proved to be quite harmonious. Emma Hanson gave a very interesting reading. The jingle of sleigh bells brought old Santa, who proved to be none other than Henrietta Sievert. The girls gathered in front of the fireplace, where Santa had a gift for everyone. Before Santa proceeded on his journey, Mrs. Davison served a dainty luncheon to the group.

Y. W. C. A. To Hold Christmas Party

Girls! Come one, come all to the joint Christmas party which the Home Economics Club and the Y. W. C. A. will give next Thursday, Dec. 19th, in the Home Economics building. There will be a program of features, one of the best being the telling of Christmas customs in foreign lands.

Santa Claus' twelve helpers will be present. All that we urge is that you be there with the Christmas spirit.

Girls Glee Club Holds Regular Rehearsal

The Girls Glee Club held its regular Monday night rehearsal in the auditorium. Contrary to the last report, the altos and second sopranos are making the most progress. This also contradicts the statement that "there is power in numbers."

During the latter part of the practice the Mens Glee Club joined the girls in singing Christmas carols. Miss Balerud directed the singing; she was aided by Mr. Good, who supervised from the balcony.

The Glee Clubs will sing in assembly during the Christmas week.

Drugs and Stationery

NOER DRUG COMPANY

-- HAIRCUTS --

At Any Hour Of The Day
Three 1st. Class Barbers

THE ELECTRIC SHOP

Corner Cupboard Scene Of Lovely Dinner

Miss Walsh, Miss Froggat, and Miss Callahan were hostesses at a bridge dinner Monday evening. The party was held at the Corner Cupboard. Covers were laid for thirty-four.

Y. W. C. A. Holds Candle Light Service Wednesday

The traditional Candle Light service of the Y. W. C. A. took place Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Harvey Memorial Room. This service is very suggestive and significant. Each girl carries a small candle and lights it at one large central candle. About thirty new members were admitted to the organization at this time.

H. E. Corridors To Ring With Christmas Carols

Everyone likes to sing Christmas carols, but some times there is no place to sing them. However, that will not be the problem at The Stout Institute this year. The halls of the Home Economics building are appropriately decorated for Christmas with the large Christmas trees in the central section of the halls. Every day from 11:50 until 12:00 o'clock music will be provided. All that remains to be secured are the singers. These will come from the entire student body. The Girl's Glee Club will lead the music. Let's all—men as well as women, come at 11:50 and join in with the singing.

Annex Girls To Entertain At Christmas Party

The Annex girls will entertain the Tainter Hall girls and Mrs. Dow at a Christmas party Sunday afternoon.

Personals

TAINTER HALL

Hazel Flaget visited in Minneapolis on Saturday.

The Hall was unusually quiet over the week end. Whether the girls were catching up on their school work or just recuperating from the Thanksgiving vacation is not exactly known.

Since Kathleen Shannon has moved to Homemakers several of the girls resort to alarm clocks to awaken them in the morning. In some cases, even alarm clocks fail to get them to their eight o'clock classes on time.

TAINTER ANNEX

Florence Verbrick, Emma Newby and Mary Jane Dodson spent the week end in Minneapolis where they attended "The Miracle" Saturday night.

Alice Lynum spent the week end at her home in Baldwin, Wis.

A house meeting was held Monday night to discuss plans for the Tainter Hall and Annex Christmas party which is to be held Sunday night at the Annex.

Bernice Bricker spent the week end in Minneapolis.

The latest occupation of the first floor widows, Joe and Nelda, is playing double solitaire.

LYNWOOD HALL

The observance of Lynwood tradition of singing Christmas carols after 10 o'clock began on Monday night. The Christmas spirit is also aroused by the Lynwood tree with its many lights and icicles.

Irene Meyer has returned to Lynwood after a three weeks absence due to illness.

The installation of a better piano in the Lynwood recreation parlor accounts for the melodies prevailing throughout the hall.

Hazel Weir and Ruth Leavitt served tea to the Lynwood girls Sunday afternoon.

Plans are being made for the annual Christmas party to be given Sunday afternoon for Lynwood girls and their friends.

Buy your tickets for the "S" Club "WHATZIT" now!

GIFT SUGGESTIONS FOR CHRISTMAS
ENGLISH IMPORTED COMOYS PIPES
50c UP TO $7.50
ALL KINDS OF CIGARS and TOBACCO
(Including home made brands)
CIGARETTES and CANDY
"THE SMOKE SHOP"
F. E. MILLER

Good Meals and Refreshments SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

GOLDEN BROWN WAFFLES
with MAPLE SYRUP

15c

CHICKEN SANDWICHES — SHORT ORDERS

We Deliver

Phone 746

525 Broadway

THE SANDWICH SHOP

HOLIDAY GOODS

Crisp New Neckwear
High Color Suspenders
Attractive Pajamas
Bright Mufflers & Reefer
Teare Clothing Store

Our CHRISTMAS BOXES Are Now on Display
Make Your Selection EARLY

Leave Your Order With Us
We Mail and Deliver

THE OLYMPIA
Pete Jeatren

Rubber Zippers!

Warm, Fleeced Lined in Black and Brown
with High and Medium Heels.
Priced at $3.00
Graven and Wilcox

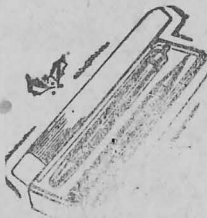

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Double Appreciation

When the gift is a Fountain Pen and Pencil set, a Wrist Watch or a Ring.

We have a complete collection of Watches for Ladies and Gentlemen. A complete line of new ring designs. We have all makes of Fountain Pens and Pencils.

NELS ANSHUS

GIFTS THAT PLEASE YOUR STUDENT FRIEND

Curtis House and Hometowners Tied In Volleyball League

Everyone Is Invited To Attend Games; Basketball To Start After Holidays

The first round of the intra-mural Volleyball was completed last Tuesday when the Cafeteria defeated Greeleys. The standing of the teams up to date is as follows: Home Towners and Curtis tied for first; Cafeteria second; Eye Openers and Greeley's tied for third and Brakers occupy the cellar position. These standings signify the relative strength of the teams for the first round, but comebacks and upsets may change this considerably by the end of the second and final round.

Interest In Contest Is High

This year there has been keen competition between the teams. The teams are evenly matched and much interest has been shown by the students. Every one is invited to attend these games, girls as well as boys. No admission is charged, so pick a team and give them your support.

Intramural basketball will start soon after Christmas vacation with the same six teams entering.

Other activities which are to be included in the intramural sports are bowling, swimming and kittenball. The aim of the teams entering these contests is a loving cup to be given to the winning team at the end of the year.

The schedule for volleyball games to be played next week is as follows:

Monday

5 P. M.—Cafeteria vs. Eye Openers.
5:35 P. M.—Hometowners vs. Curtis.
6:30 P. M.—Greeleys vs. Brakers.

Tuesday

5:15 P. M.—Hometowners vs. Cafeteria.
5:50 P. M.—Eye Openers vs. Brakers
6:30 P. M.—Greeleys vs. Curtis.

Wednesday

5:00 P. M.—Cafeteria vs. Greeleys.
5:35 P. M.—Eye Openers vs. Hometowners.
6:30 P. M.—Brakers vs. Curtis.

—S—

Daughter: "Yes, I've graduated, but now I must inform myself in psychology, philosophy, bibli—"

Practical Mother: "Stop. I have arranged for you through courses in roastology, sewology, stichology, and patchology, not to mention general domestic hustleology. Now get on your working clothesology."

—S—

Poem On Long Distance Love
Roses are red, violets are blue,
Oh gosh, the postage I've wasted on you.

Mr. Paulus to Attend Athletic Conference

Mr. Paulus leaves tonight for Madison to attend the coach's meeting held there tomorrow. At this meeting the 1930 football schedule will be drawn up and if there are any new rules to be brought up they will be adopted or dismissed here.

In all probability Stout will play about the same schools next year as they did during the past season. It may be that another game will be added but this will not be certain until after Saturday.

There will not be an arrangement of next year's basketball schedule at this time as another meeting is held in March for this purpose.

—S—

"B" Team Drops Close Game to Chippewa Falls

Getting away to an early start, the Stout "B" team showed impressive form although they were defeated by the veteran Chippewa High team Tuesday night at Chippewa Falls, 16 to 11. It wasn't a case of being outplayed, but rather the same old story of missing the set-ups.

Chippewa failed to score a short shot, making all their counters from the center of the floor. On three occasions Stout men had short shots with no one around but failed to count.

Stout Played Good Ball

According to statements of those watching the game, the Stout yearlings showed signs of developing into a first class team. With more games booked in the future Halverson's men will have a chance to show their wares before the home crowd.

Those that played were Schmidt, Roe, Brownsey, Southern, Pierson, and Hooser. Harmon, Aune, Schlumpf and Mc Naughton also made the trip.

—S—

Net Season Opens Against Concordia

(Continued from page one)

an ability which makes them sure members of the squad even now—to say nothing of a season's development ahead.

Buros will probably be used at center, and Hoernamann and Hanson have seemed to look best so far at guard, with Johnson and O'Connell ready when needed. Graef is pinching at several positions now, and Cvengros is being groomed for possible use later, when he becomes eligible. The first chance at a once-over of this squad should attract a big opening-night crowd.

Dean Bowman Back From New Orleans

(Continued from page one)

Monday evening for Nashville, Tenn., where they stopped for luncheon at the Hermitage Hotel, Tuesday noon. The afternoon at Nashville was spent sightseeing, including a visit to the home of Andrew Jackson.

Have Interesting Experiences

The delegation reached New Orleans Wednesday morning and as the first meeting of the convention was Wednesday evening, the group had the entire day for visiting the city. Mr. Bowman and Mr. Welch spent the day very interestingly in taking tours to various points of interest, including an airplane trip up 2500 feet above the city. They visited the old site of the battle of New Orleans; also several cemeteries where the people are buried above the ground in odd shaped stone vaults.

They also visited many historic buildings such as the Cabildo, formerly a Spanish prison, and now used as a state museum. They also saw the first apartment houses built in America, and found them still in use. The fact that New Orleans is the second port in the United States for shipping made a visit to the wharves very interesting.

See Several Stout Graduates

Mr. Bowman met a number of Stout graduates and former teachers while there. There is a very promising development in many of the southern cities in vocational education. Stout graduates already in the south are doing fine work and making distinct contributions in making additional positions available for Stout graduates.

Mr. Bowman returned home at the close of the convention, but Mr. Welch, in whose company he went, embarked for a southern cruise which will take him to Havana and several Central American countries.

—S—

"S" Club Dance tonight after game

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

SUCCESSFUL PEOPLE VISIT THEIR
BARBER FREQUENTLY.

I. W. NESSER
"THE BARBER"

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonic Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

See US For HAIRCUTS
We Satisfy Our Customers
The Lakeview
Barber Shop

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
EAT
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"THE HOME OF GOOD FOOD"

Menomonic Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

'S' Club To Present Show Wed. Evening

(Continued from page one)

Radio School. One of the main features of the evening will be the cross country Bunion Derby. Al Poellinger as radio announcer will give you some idea of who is who in the radio world. Tiny Slaughter has advanced to the position of head coach of the Whatzit football team and will have to wait until Wednesday to see what his team can do.

Now we have given you an idea in a small way of what it is all about. The "S" Club promises two hours of good, snappy entertainment and tickets are on sale by "S" Club members at fifty cents apiece. Don't wait for the big rush at the ticket office, but get them early.

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

SERVICE

We do DRY CLEANING
on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.
Articles brought by noon will be ready next day.
SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Menomonic Dye House
Running and Cole

We have a complete line of
SHOES and BED-ROOM SLIPPERS
Our line also includes a fine choice of OVER-SHOES priced from $1.48 up.
SWENSON and BERNDT
"THE SHOE MEN"

Buy "HER"
a Box of Our
"Fresh Chocolates"
for Christmas
"The Candy Shoppe"

Holiday Gifts For Everybody.
A. R. OLSON
We pack our merchandise for mailing.

Don't forget the "S" Club dance tonight after the game.

ORPHEUM

Tonight and Saturday
"THE GAMBLERS"
with Lois Wilson and H. B. Warner.

Sunday, Mon., and Tues.
Will Rogers
in
"THEY HAD TO SEE PARIS"
Mat. Sun. at 2:30

Wed., Thurs and Friday
Gloria Swanson
in
"THE TRESPASSER"
Hear Gloria sing, "Love" and 'Serenade."

GRAND

Saturday and Sunday
Tom Mix in
"ROUGH RIDIN' ROMANCE"
Mat. Sun. 3:00
Wed. and Thurs.
Buster Keaton in
"COLLEGE"
Benefit M. H. S. Athletic fund

A Very Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year is the wish to the Students from Hasse's Apparel Shop

Selective Christmas Gifts
BRIDGE SETS, DESK SETS
LEATHER PURSES
LUCITECOMB, BRUSH & MIRROR SETS
Come In and Look Them Over
LEE'S DRUG STORE

SEE SHAKER FOR YOUR ANNUAL PHOTO NOW
SHAKER STUDIO

Blue Devils Are Victorious In Season's Opener

Stoutonia Receives Interesting Letter From Lillian Baker

Is Touring Europe With Sorority
Sister; At Present in
Paris, France

The following letter was received this week from Miss Lillian Baker, former Stout instructor, who is now touring Europe. Miss Baker is at present in Paris, France.

Paris, France
November 30, 1929

Dear Stoutonia readers:

From my gay whirl of Parisian interests, I have at last found an evening in which I may write to you of some of my impressions and experiences. In the three months that have elapsed since I left home, I have thought often of my many friends at Stout. It is with the hope that you are still interested in what I am doing this year that this letter is written.

My trip from Chicago to the eastern coast was a little out of the ordinary, for my sorority sister and I traveled the entire distance by bus rather than by train. For the special benefit of the Manual Arts Players, I went to mention some of the leading plays I saw in New York before sailing. Undoubtedly one of the best was the English Play, Journeys' End. The play itself is a superb piece of drama and was staged with perfection. Another effective production was Camel Through the Needle's Eye, done by the Theater Guild.

The Pulitzer Prize play of last year, Elmer Rice's Street Scene, was a fascinating and absorbing study. Eva Le Gallienne in Francine Larrimore in Let Us Be Gay, her Civic Repertory Theatre has launched another successful season. My only disappointment was in Miss (Continued on page four)

—S—

"Bud" Miller Makes Enviable Record at Osteopathy School

Stout Quintet Scheduled to Meet Missouri School on February 8th

The following was taken from the "Stiletto", the Kirkville School of Osteopathy weekly edition. "Bud" Miller, former coach here is at present coaching at the Kirkville school and a basketball game has been arranged between that institution and Stout for February 8th, there.

"Folks, meet the miracle man of the school, none other than the renowned Coach Geo. 'Bud' Miller. He has performed the impossible and scheduled a 'real honest to gosh' list of basketball games for K. C. O. S. Varsity Team that includes only College Varsity Cagers, and that despite the fact that no attempt was made to do so until late October of this year. If you have ever had any experience Colleges have their schedules filled by March for the following fall, and in that line you will know that most open date is an almost unheard of affair.

The schedule opens Jan. 11 when our players journey to Mexico, Mo. and meet Central Wesleyan College; Jan. 18 is open at present but there is a possibility that negotiations may be closed for a game with 'Columbia College' at Dubuque, Ia., the battle probably will be staged here if it (Continued on page four)

Remodeling of I. E. Building is Completed

A great surprise will be awaiting students when they return after the holidays. Those who have been in the habit of going to room 26 in the Industrial building will need to accustom themselves to a right turn at the top of the stairs, and overcome the habit of the inside left turn which they have been making.

The fact is that the room formerly occupied by the print shop has been skillfully remodeled and redecorated into an unusually fine classroom. Mr. Davison's classes will meet in this room immediately following the holidays, and at the beginning of the second semester several instructors will maneuver their classes there also. An effort will be made to place the largest sections in this room because it is at the present time the largest classroom in the I. A. building.

Room 26 will be developed into a many purpose practice teaching shop, while room 25-A will be remodeled into a practice teaching print shop. These changes will all be completed, it is expected, before the end of the second semester.

—S—

Furnishing Apartment Is 10th Grade Project

The tenth grade public school students, enrolled in home economics under the direction of Henrietta Sievert and Gertrude Hansen, have been decorating a three room practice apartment which is off from room 320 in the H. E. building. The purpose of a practice apartment is to enable students to obtain their training and experience under conditions that are similar to the home; a second purpose is to show how economically a attractively an apartment or a home can be furnished.

Plans Made During Summer

The plans for this apartment were made during the summer session by Stout students enrolled in the H. E. Seminar I under the direction of Miss Walsh. This class planned for the equipment and its decoration and made plans for having public school children work out the project.

Often teachers are confronted with this very problem of planning an apartment, and for this reason the experiences received in the working out of this project are especially helpful.

This project has been under way for about eight weeks, during which time the classes have been painting furniture and accessories, and sewing curtains, luncheon sets, and couch and chair covers. Work will continue until the end of the semester at which time the apartment will be open for inspection, and everyone will be welcomed to see it.

—S—

STOUT GRADUATE OF 1929 COMPLETES SURVEY

Miss Irmgard Schwartz, Stout graduate of last year, has completed an interesting survey clinic at Fox Lake, Wis., where she is teaching home economics, according to a report sent to THE STOUTONIA by Principal G. W. Brown.

Miss Schwartz directed, in this instance, a free dental clinic which examined 116 children of the Fox Lake public schools, a project which shows that city to be among the progressive ones. This publication congratulates Miss Schwartz on having helped sponsor so valuable a work.

Lotta Dough Has "Leap Week" Date; Startles Friends

Experiment Proves Successful;
Stoutonia to Sponsor Novelty
Following Holidays

Last week you remember, Lotta startled the campus by asking a boy for a date. Now we're wondering how it all turned out.

Well, Lotta and Sam arrived at the dance per schedule. The girl friend immediately proceeded to obtain dances for her boy friend. This was not at all difficult, for the event was an unusual occurrence and Sam was no slouch on the dance floor anyhow.

As far as the dance was concerned the date was a great success. (Girls, take heart!) Everyone was talking about it and that's what Lotta wanted—to have it talked up and down, backward and forwards as well as vice versa and sideways. How can the success of an incident be known unless it is discussed.

Of course Lotta treated the "flame" at the corner drug store after the dance. Then to cap the climax, she took him home. Sam objected, but Lotta recalled the terms of the agreement.

If we had been a little mouse in the corner perhaps this is what we might have heard:

Lotta: Well, goodnight, Sam.

Sam: Thanks, Lotta, I've certainly had a good time. I'll do my best to be publicity agent and get the fellows interested. When a girl calls one of them I'll do my duty and promote. (Continued on page four)

—S—

Former Stout Student Writes From Hawaii

"There is no place like Hawaii," according to a letter from Ferdinand Franz recently received by Dean Bowman. Franz, who left Stout last year is at present located at Kohala, Hawaii, and tells some interesting facts about the situation in which he is working. He says he likes the climate and scenery, and that his work is very interesting and pleasant in the Junior high school in which he is teaching.

Franz reminds former friends that there are at present six Stout graduates teaching in the islands, the closest of which is John Schaffner who is located about 75 miles distant at a town called Kealahou. These six persons have planned to have a reunion in Honolulu during the Christmas holidays. (We were just wondering if some Stout students wouldn't like to send them a box of snow so (Continued on page four)

JANUARY 6th NOTICE!

Some days are quickly forgotten, And gone with a sigh of relief; But some you remember, Like a last glowing ember, As a day that will bring you more grief.

But January 6th is the day of all days,

As a day to confirm our belief; That a No Cat day is a very rare day,

And to postpone it brings joy and relief!

But as Prexy says, we've got to be here,

Or suffer the resulting "inevitable" Three percent, hard luck, grief!

Football Schedule For 1930 Announced

By adding Stevens Point to the Stout list and dropping the La Crosse game, the Stout football schedule will again consist of four conference games with Stevens Point, River Falls Eau Claire and Superior, according to Coach Paulus who attended the coaches' conference at Madison last week end.

Two non-conference tilts will be engaged in. Winona Teachers will again start the ball rolling, and an extra game will be played with Macalester.

The complete schedule is as follows:

Sept. 20—Winona There.

Oct. 4—Stevens Point Here.

Oct. 11—Macalester Here (tentative)

Oct. 18—River Falls Here.

(Probably Homecoming)

Oct. 25—Superior There

Nov. 1—Eau Claire There.

—S—

Co-eds Picked for Mid-winter Shoot

Picking a girls' rifle team that can beat the challenging Arizona co-eds, setting the date of the match and the course of firing, and accepting an additional challenge, this time from the girl shooting stars of the University of Maryland, were some of the matters disposed of at the executive meeting of The Stout Rifle Club Monday evening, December sixteenth.

Meeting to settle details of the match scheduled to be fired in competition with a girls' team of the Arizona Junior rifle club, the executive committee of the Stout club was confronted with a new challenge from the university of Maryland rifle club. This challenge was for a prone match to be fired during the week ending April 12, and it was accepted by the committee.

Members of Team Selected

For the match with the Arizona Junior College rifle club the date was set at February eighth, and the course of fire selected was ten shots standing, ten kneeling, and ten prone. Records of firing were compared and a tentative list was made of members selected to represent Stout in the match. The following co-eds will probably be called upon to chastise the challengers.

Caroline Brick, Ruth Clemens, Mary Jane Dodson, Gail Galloway, Alice Lynum, Miriam E. Moore, Alice Ostrum, Grace H. Quarters, Florence Verbrick.

—S—

UNKNOWN WRITES VERSE FOR STOUTONIA

One is never given credit for trying hard to write those weekly themes, when the inspiration just won't come. Teacher's ought to ask "Were you inspired?" and then mark accordingly. So this:

Words, oh words thy power I do seek Give me more of you that I may peak Into the realms of life's best joys, I wish not the power of false deceptions. Truth, oh truth thy beauty bold, Give it, share it, and let me hold The greatest gifts of all that's told, In words thy blessings none unfold. So, when I write in this the hour, Give me, oh give me, God give me power.

Concordia Smothered By Fighting Stout Quintet, 29 to 12

Defense Displayed by Trainers
Holds Visitors to Two Baskets

The best that Concordia College could muster together was not good enough to cope with Coach Paulus' Stout Institute quintet, when they smothered the St. Paul team under an avalanche of baskets to the tune of 29 to 12. Although the game was played on the Menomonie Armory court, this advantage was not enough to cause any distinct change in the final count.

It was a fighting team that represented Stout Friday evening, resolved to avenge the defeats handed them in the past several seasons. Their spirit could not be criticized, and their machine-like execution of plays bodes ill for the other opponents on the local schedule.

Shock Troops Start Battle

Coach Paulus, using some of Rockne's strategy, started his reserves and the result was a pleasing lead at the end of the quarter. Not content however, he injected his first string line-up into the fray and proceeded to draw gradually away until the result was never in doubt.

Although it was plainly seen that the visiting aggregation was outclassed, the fact that they missed the greater percentage of their tosses served to keep the Stouties out of danger.

To Steve Cvangross must go the honor of scoring the first point of the season when he sunk a free throw. Art Peterson, last year Eau Claire regular, set himself in solid with the Stout fans by his brilliant floor work, taking the ball off the opponents (Continued on page two)

—S—

"S" Club "Whatzit" Greatly Appreciated By Small Audience

Faculty Football Game Proves Interesting; Harmon's Radio
School Is Big Hit

The "S" club, ably assisted by Miss Hassler and their adviser, Coach Paulus, gave the campus plenty to laugh and talk about as a holiday present Wednesday evening when they tickled the ribs of a responsive audience with their collection of funny sketches assembled under the teasing title "Whatzit."

This well-prepared piece of work was for the purpose of marking the closing week of college as a happy one, and incidentally, for the purpose of raising money for sweaters on which to mount the college emblem earned by the club members while representing Stout in inter-collegiate contests. As an inducement, the show management gave away a sweater, the lucky and logical winner being a girl intimately interested in the club personnel—or part of it—Miss Mildred Belina.

Show Has Racy Start

Roaring onto the stage after the orchestra's introduction came the great promoter, Red Fraser, who started the cross-country banion race between the great sprinters, George Merdutt and Hookie Winn, after they had been carefully examined by the visiting physician, Vukelich. They ap- (Continued on page three)

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office,
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                                    |                        |
|------------------------------------|------------------------|
| Managing Editor .....              | Lester L. Hawkes       |
| Associate Editor .....             | Irma L. Nichols        |
| News Editor .....                  | Elizabeth A. Williams  |
| News Editor .....                  | Chester Mau            |
| Assistant .....                    | Bernard C. Hagen       |
| Assistant .....                    | Belinda I. Hendrickson |
| Sports Editor .....                | William J. Micheels    |
| Sports Editor .....                | Georgia Aber           |
| Feature Editor .....               | Henriette L. Quilling  |
| Feature Editor .....               | Bernice G. Bricker     |
| Exchange Editor .....              | William J. Soucie      |
| Humor Editor .....                 | Carl Roll              |
| Assistant Humor Editor .....       | Al J. Poelinger        |
| Organization Editor (Womens) ..... | Anita Gundlach         |
| Organization Editor (Mens) .....   | Alfred M. Reinhold     |
| Cartoonist .....                   | Kathleen L. Lind       |
| Business Manager .....             | Earl C. Halverson      |
| Circulation Manager .....          | Robert G. Reick        |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....    | Carl Roll              |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....    | Byron Canatsey         |
| Advertising Manager .....          | Marlo McCullough       |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr. ....        | Donald K. Lind         |
| Make-up Foreman and Pressman ..... | Kent Riggs             |
| Under Direction of .....           |                        |
| C. W. Hague                        |                        |
| Editorial Adviser .....            |                        |
| Mr. John Faville, Jr.              |                        |
| Associate Adviser .....            |                        |
| Miss Helen Sarchet                 |                        |

BLUFFING

He who attempts bluffing on final exams during the next few weeks—and there will be plenty of us attempting it—may be assured that he belongs to what is perhaps the greatest class of bluffers in existence.

Out of one hundred University of Cincinnati students who recently took a special examination composed of questions which had no answer, half of them bluffed 46.58 per cent or more. Some bluffed their way through 81 per cent of the examinations, which asked for fictitious word definitions, authors of unwritten books, and identification of certain alleged passages in Shakespeare.

The same examination, given to fifty-eight non-college men and women chosen at random, showed that the bluffing score of this group was only 25 per cent. This leads a well-known writer to declare that “our educational system trains to dishonesty and pretentiousness.”

Perhaps he is right, but nevertheless we still defend bluffing. There is something to it that savors of a reliant, do-or-die, fighting spirit that seems commendable in youth. Students on the whole know that bluffing is wrong, yet they often resort to it because of a notion that instructors sometimes give some credit for “attempts” at answering exam questions. If they are ingenious enough in bluffing, some instructors may respect their genius enough to give it consideration. And then bluffing always produces some amusing material for faculty small talk.—The Daily Illini.

WHY NOT COMPLETE OUR SKATING RINK?

Winter sports at Stout includes an extensive varsity and intramural program, but as yet, little attention has been given to promoting outside activities.

Our school, being located in the heart of the northwest, is in an advantageous position to take advantage of all kinds of winter sports. While many of the students here are from states to the south of us and are probably not experienced in outdoor sports, they nevertheless would no doubt welcome an opportunity to learn.

At the present time, we hear many comments and suggestions as to the flooding of the ice skating rink at the Stoutlot for the use of Stout students. The lake makes an ideal place to skate but the time between that when it is frozen over and that when covered with snow is extremely short. We believe this artificial rink should be completed and several studnts appointed and perhaps paid a nominal sum, donated by the students who skate, to keep it in condition. If this were accomplished, skating would be possible up until the middle of winter when the deep snow and extreme cold would then make it impossible.

Lost: A hycinth.
Found: An onion.
Finder please return the hycinth
There will be no questions asked.
Reward: A sweet bunch of onion tops.

Clothes make the men and a scarcity of them make the women

Canatsey: “You know a kiss in time saves nine.”
Dot: Let’s wait until tomorrow night and then we’ll collect our dividends.”

If education is so refining,
what makes a college course.

Let’s Laugh

Who is that?
That’s Otto.
What model?

Christie: What are you sweating
for?
Myrtle: I’m not sweating.
Christie: Why are you wearing a sweat shirt?

Englishman: For this picnic I’ll bring the lunch.
American: And I’ll bring the cigars Scotchman: And I’ll bring my brother.

Biwer is looking for a nice little girl to adopt.

Two Scotchman have just written a very successful play. It seems that the script calls for the chorus to come out in kilts and flip pennies to the audience. It is called ‘The Miracle’

Alice Ostrom, a Norwegian, and Mr. Johnston, an Irishman, were discussing nationalities at Rifle Club practice.

Alice: Do you know what they do with crazy Norwegians in Norway?
Mr. Johnston: No, what?
Alice: They send them to Ireland to be school teachers.

Traffic cop: You were going sixty.
Driver: But the salesman said that I could go as fast as I wanted to after the first five-hundred miles.

Miss Michaels: Who is the general office dog of the Stoutonia staff?
Miss Sarchet: I am.

Jaboubek: You’re sure a little fellow.
Howe: Of course, they don’t make men like me any longer.

What is the suspender song?
It all depends on you.

Patsy: What is dumber than a dumb Irishman?
E. Hansen: You tell me.
Pat: A smart Norwegian.

Don Lind: If you were in my shoes
you would become angry.
Slim: Yes, they would be rather tight for my feet.

See that chimney over there?
Yes.
It is condemned.
Why?
Too young to smoke.

Love is an ocean of emotion entirely surrounded by expenses.

Bill Gardiner is the biggest pig.
How do you figger?
He is the chief rooter, isn’t he?

Shall I brain him? cried the hazing Soph.
The victim’s courage fled.
You can’t, it’s a Freshman.
Just hit him in the head.

Mr. Brown says that he must eat half a pie before he can tell if the pie is any good. It doesn’t take Hank Harmon that long.

Listen Freshmen: There is one thing of the many that you don’t know which we believe is very important for you to know at this point;
therefore we are dedicating this space for the furthering of your knowledge. We admit that a college course is tough, but don’t be disappointed when we tell you that there ain’t no
Santa Claus.

The other day while dinner was being served at the Curtis house,
Haase placed a large quantity of food upon his plate. Harmon looked at him and said, “Take all you want and place some in your hair.

Mr. Tustison: What is the difference between a logarithm and a number?
Maerzke: Numbers are harder.

Heinie Writes Maw In Regard to the Christmas Spirit

Describes Stout Yuletide Spirit
To the Most Minute
Detail

Dear Maw:

The holladay seesun is here once again and everybuddy is gettin the Christmas spirit. Anybuddy that ain’t got it by this time has somethin wrong with em and should be eggsszamined. All over town they got Christmuss trees lined up along the streets set in big white garbage cans.
In order not to make them look like garbage cans so much they painted a red stripe around em. In the block in front of Pete Jetruns coffe and sinker shop they got a string of red and green lights. These murchunts in this block are about the most prospurous in town becuz they live closest to skool and the stoo-dents swallow their lines better so they kin afford the lights.

In the main korridor in skool they got a great big tree all it up with lights and silver tinsell. On both sides of this big one they got two little ones standing guard. Its a keen sight and helps to make the stoo-dents forget all about the notebooks and long themes and orall topicks that are due before Christmas.

The new S club that has joined the skool held a show Wednesday night in order to help to defray the expenses of their new sweaters. The show was called the “Watzit.” Koach Paulus named it that becuz he didn’t know whut it was all about and since no-buddy else did either we all thought that it was a good name. Those guys know their stuff when it comes to makin money whut I mean. They gave a dance last week and whut did they do but talk the orchestra into playin for that dance for nothin.

Last Friday nite we had our first basketball game. We played some Konkordia outfit from St. Paul and we smeared ’em too. We got a darn good start and now the idea is to keep it up.

The men teachers in skool have installed some new offices for themselves. The offices are situated on the second floor of the I. A. building and are they ever keen. They all got mohagonee desks and I understand that they got some orientull rugs ordered too but they won’t be here for some time. Those guys think they are purty darn ritzy and when they sit in those offices you almost think that they’re some big money men or govnurs or something—you can’t get near em with at ten foot pole.

Everybuddy is waitin for Friday night to come so that they kin go home for Christmuss. The Frosh can’t hardly wait but us older stoodents will predickt that by the time they’re home a week they will be achin to come back here again. Most of us live in bigger and better places than Menomonie an yet there something irressustable that draws us back. Nobuddy kin explain whut it is whether its love for this skool or love for Pete’s coffee or whut it is.
Be that as it may it will seem darn good to get home again and away from this dump for awhile.

If everything goes well I’ll be home with you Saturday. Tell the band that they don’t need to bother metin me cuz I know the people apprescheate my gettin home enyway.

Your dootiful son,

HEINIE.

P. S. This is a good chance for me to say a merry Christmuss to everybudy. To all the stoo-dents in skool, to all the graduates that are out teachin —to Jocko Notebaart, to Reppe, to Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Brown way down in Hula Hula Land, to Curlee Care-lee and to al the guys whut used to be here I wish the best ’o happiness in the holidays and plentee of good luck in the comin year. Thank yuh!

Here’n There

Green Caps prevail as the proper head gear for freshmen during the entire school year at Bradley. Laxity in observing this rule, led to a recent general hair-clipping campaign, led by a group of the lettermen. As a result, freshmen are much more observant of the law, and green caps are now more numerous.

—The Bradley Tech.

“I’ll show them,” said the hen as she kicked a porcelain egg out of the nest, “they can’t make a brick-layer out of me.”

—The Bradley Tech.

Northern State Teachers College, Marquette, Michigan, is holding an intramural debating contest. The question is, “Resolved that the expansion of the chain store is determined to the best interests of the American public.

—The Northern College News

have submitted a petition to change
The dormitory women at Bradley the time when they must be in from parties, dances, etc, from 12:00 to 12:45. No action has been taken as yet by the Girls Welfare Committee.

—The Bradley Tech.

Ever since last week Macalester College has had its skating rink in shape. Season tickets cost $1.00 and maintenance comes through the athletic department. A student manager is put in charge of caring for the rink, and he chooses other students to help him.

The Mac Weekly.

This gives us another suggestion for maintaining a skating rink.

A long, long time ago, Shakespeare named the Seven Ages of Woman. An observant photographer now names them as follows: 1, babe; 2, child;
3, little girl; 4, young woman; 5, young woman; 6, young woman; 7,
young woman.

—The Northern College News

—S—

Blue Devils Victorious In Season’s Opener

(Continued from page one)

backboard, in one instance, and dribbling the entire length of the floor
Every member of the squad must be given credit for his classy performance, and we are predicting a large numbers in the win column at the end of the season.

The following men made up the personnel of the Stout squad last Friday night: Hanson, Peterson,
Micheels, Burros, Hoernamann, Haase
Cvengros, Johnson, O’Connel and Schaude.

—S—

Y. W. C. A. And H. Ec. Clubs Enjoy Party

The program which was presented at the Y. W.—H. Ec. party last night, was made up of several unusual numbers.

Some girls dressed in native costume told about Christmas in their countries. Florence Verbrick told of Japan, Helen Novak of Czecho-Slovakia, Marie Simonson of Holland and other countries and Lois Ina Bunker of Porto Rico.

Emma Newby rendered a piano selection and Henrietta Sievert sang “Star of Bethlehem.”

Gifts were presented to the graduating girls of this semester and the Santa Clauses also had a gift for everyone present.

—S—

Lorraine Litchfield and Lorraine Nordlie spent the week end at their homes in Eau Claire.

Joe Edinger and Nelda Damrow spent Saturday in Eau Claire shopping.

Organizations

Lutheran Students Hold Christmas Meeting

The Lutheran Students' Association held their annual Christmas meeting Monday night in the Y. W. C. A. club rooms. The meeting opened with a short business session, at which time the proposition of class pins for the club was discussed. The meeting adjourned, Mr. Carl Roll took charge of the program.

A novel stunt of blowing out the candles was indulged in. "Slim" Branstet then read an appropriate Christmas selection. This was followed by a vocal solo by Mr. Hensen, accompanied by Miss Gilbertson, who also entertained with several musical numbers on the piano.

Groups were cleverly appointed and each put on a novelty presentation. The funniest one came when Mr. Price the guest of the evening, was ushered in on two pans and a tow rope, manipulated by four girls of a group. A "twist and turn" game was then played. Lunch followed this fun, and an enjoyable evening was concluded.

—S—

Inky Fingers Hold Regular Meeting

The Inky Fingers, at their meeting Thursday, December twelfth, had a very interesting program centering about writers of America's golden west. Ellen Nelson gave a very interesting report on the life of Rolvaag and of his book "Giants In the Earth". The life of Hamlin Garland was reviewed by Marjorie Cronk. A summary and criticism of Cornelia James Cannon's "Red Rust," given by Mary Green added considerable interest. Miss Callahan favored the club with sketches of Cannon's life and comments on the works of all three authors under discussion.

Christmas Party Is Held by Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. held its annual Christmas party in the club room Thursday night. It was a stag affair, open to all students and was very well attended. The party was opened with a devotional period, followed by the singing of "Holy Night" by Frode Anderson.

R. Bonsall Smith next gave an impressive address as to the significance of the Y. M. C. A. on the campus. This was followed by Christmas songs sung by the group. Mr. F. B. Randall, the speaker of the evening, then gave us an inspiring speech.

After his speech, the gifts which the members brought were "satisfactorily" distributed, much to the amusement of the entire assemblage.

Refreshments were then served, and a delightful evening was climaxed by a friendly and cheerful social hour.

—S—

Foods III Class Serves Luncheon

As a class project, the Foods III girls planned, prepared, and served a buffet luncheon Friday noon in the dining room on the third floor. Sixteen people were served, the cost being fifty cents a plate. The menu consisted of the following dishes:

Chicken a-la-king in patty shells.
Baked potato in half shells.
Cranberry salad.
Parker house rolls.
Pineapple mousse and cakes.

Drugs and Stationery NOER DRUG COMPANY

A Merry Christmas
STUDENTS
THE ELECTRIC SHOP

"S" Club "Whatzit" Greatly Appreciated

peared every so often, ending late in the evening at Hollywood in a perfect tie—making three tracks each.

Following them, the abbreviated minstrels furnished many good laughs the principals being Buck Schaudé, interlocutor, and the end men, Rusty Wallin and Bud Micheels. These boys snapped into their short-talk with professional abandon.

Radio School is Big Display

Professor Hank Harmon's niggah radio school brot onto the stage lots of unique equipment, and a nice collection of assorted cullud boys. Prof. Hank failed to complete his lesson when the white sperrits interrupted his pedagogy, but he and his pupils gave a big contribution to the evening's merriment.

The feature dance of "Miss" Lorny Johnson and Army Stori was not only a nice piece of dancing, but also a nice piece of make-up. "Miss" Johnson's attention to detail in "her" makeup was the cause of considerable amused comment among the female members of the audience. Another look was demanded, and an encore granted by the pair.

Style Shows Knocks 'em Over

A 2029 style show unbent the audience still further. Such knock-outs as the bathing beauty, Lefty Hanson, the perfect lounge pet, Penn, the stylish stout Slaughter and all the others will be remembered for a long time.

Then came Rusty Wallin again, living up to his reputation with a nice assortment of darky jazz and blues with piano and voice, so good that he was called back for more. The bunion derby wobbled into the final lap, as the evening's finale got set.

Football Scene Gets Personal

Finishing an evening which proved to Menomonic that athletes can please crowds in more ways than one, a lively football scene was put on. With Al Poellinger and his helpers at the mike, and the usual football stand assortment in back of him, a football game was cleverly described which featured the local faculty.

That "Sassy Sarchet" and "Sis Van

Personals

President and Mrs. Nelson, Miss Michaels and Mr. Price were dinner guests at Homemakers on Tuesday night.

—S—

TAINTER HALL

Louise Whitehurst, Elva Page, and Esther Sichler spent Saturday in Eau Claire.

All spare moments are now spent wrapping Christmas presents. Frances Schroeder has developed considerable technique along this line.

'Tis the week before Christmas,

And all through the Hall;

Not a person can study—

Not one or not all.

Our pocketbooks lay—

All flattened out,

But that's such a mall item,

To worry about.

Our tickets are bought,

And our luggage is packed;

The hours are all counted,

Till we pull out.

So we're bidding farewell,

To old Tainter Hall;

And till January, 6th,

Folks—that's all.

—Anita Gundlach.

—S—

TAINTER ANNEX

The Annex girls again proved themselves to be real hostesses when they entertained the Hall girls and Mrs. Dow at a Christmas party Sunday afternoon. Everywhere the Christmas spirit prevailed.

Ness" played such a nice game of stopping their male opponents, was a surprise to no one, and the fact that Copius Copey and Slide-rule Green didn't function so well, was to be expected. The comments of the rooters were perfect, and the yells added the proper atmosphere. All in all, the evening's result was a mighty fine production.

At six-thirty a dainty lunch con-cake, hot chocolate, and nuts was consisting of fruit salad, sandwiches, ved. The girls then assembled in the living room for a short program. Henrietta Sievert sang several Christmas songs after which Emma Newby added some clever contributions which met with hearty applause. Another interesting feature of the program was the reading given by Mildred Haggard. At the close of the program old Santa himself arrived, bringing his usual abundance of gifts. Every one agreed that Mabel Neergard was exceptionally good in her disguise. After all the gifts were distributed, all the girls joined in singing favorite Christmas carols.

—S—

LYNWOOD HALL

Eldrid Wike, who has been at the Infirmary doctoring a cold, is back at the Hall again.

Emma Anderson is the proud possessor a new saxophone which plays "Annie Laurie" and "The Irish Washer Woman."

The Lynwood recreation parlor was the scene of a gay Christmas party Sunday from three to five. This is the one party of the year when the girls may invite their friends. Dominoes, cards, table croquet, singing, and dancing all helped to make the afternoon one of enjoyment. Everyone received a little Christmas gift. After apples and popcorn balls were served, everyone joined in the singing of Christmas carols and then went home blowing toy horns, or carrying dolls, dogs or rolling pins.

At the Christmas party on Sunday afternoon, the Lynwood girls presented Dr. Bachman with a week end bag.

THE SMOKE SHOP

Wishes you a good old-fashioned Merry Christmas and a Bright and Prosperous New Year.

Good Meals and Refreshments

SERVICE

Hotel Marion

Coffee Shop

HOLIDAY GOODS

Crisp New Neckwear
High Color Suspenders
Attractive Pajamas
Bright Mufflers & Reefer
Teare Clothing Store

LATE ARRIVALS IN

Suspenders — Pocket handkerchiefs

Grips — Silk lounging robes

EVENS - TOBIN CO.

Rubber Zippers!

Warm, Fleeced Lined in Black and Brown
with High and Medium Heels.

Priced at $3.00

Graven and Wilcox

WISHING YOU A MERRY CHRISTMAS

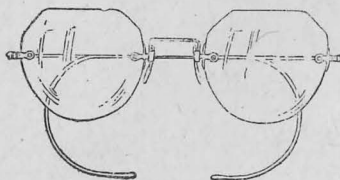

AND

A HAPPY NEW YEAR

THE OLYMPIA

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Nels
Melvin
and Catherine wish

A MERRY CHRISTMAS
TO ALL

LAST MINUTE
SHOPPERS

WILL MEET

WITH

SATISFACTION AT

NELS ANSHUS

Miss Baker Writes Interesting Letter

(Continued from page one)

ing the Guild performance of Eugene O'Neil's Strange Interlude. I had counted on seeing it in Boston, but with characteristic caution, Bostonians denied its appearance in their city.

The excitement of a voyage just begun is almost bewildering. When a person anticipates an adventure of this kind for two years, the final realization of that dream seems unreal. So it was with me when I found myself cabined in the S. S. Minnekahda on Sept. 21st. About me was the gay, excited chatter of some 400 persons who were to be my acquaintances for 10 days at sea—some longer, for often in Paris we see several of our fellow-passengers. Then followed many pleasant dining room associations, refreshing, exhilarating hours on deck, cabarets, masquerades and concerts each evening,—bridge games and deck sports, and several hours of observation of porpoises following our ship.

On the first of October we docked in the port of London. For only two weeks we were exposed to the life of Britishers, for our exposure to London weather made us postpone our bicycle trip through the Isles until next summer. In spite of the gray drabness of London, we found it to be a curiously interesting city. We spent several impressive hours in Westminster Abbey and in the leading museums. A visit to the London Tower was truly entertaining. We saw the colorful ceremony of the change of Royal Guards at Buckingham and St. James' Palace. And the theatres in London are very fine—Shaw's inimitable The Apple Cart—his last play, and Galsworthy's The Skin Game. The play which was most artistic, however, most charming in every way, was St. John's Erviner's last play, The First Mrs. Fraser. It was truly enchanting.

One cannot visit London without being aware of its excessive poverty. The streets are filled with destitute beggars, ragged, hungry. This is partly due to the fact that England pays her poor enough to eke out a bare existence, a mistake in its result for beggars refuse to work. But even so, the effect of the World War on England was amazing, she was very hard-pressed, and the cheerlessness persists. She does not throw it off as does Paris.

London's inadequate comforts caused us to leave for ports south. On Oct. 12th we came to Paris by aeroplane. It was an indescribably happy trip for me. I still peek down through soft, lovely banks of fleece and I see neat, colorful field plots and gardens, red-roofed villages, and gray-green Channel waters. I still hear the ringing hum of motors. When we landed at the air-port at Le Bourget, a surge of helplessness came over me as we heard the strange language of those about us. I had never really grasped the great difference it would make in our travel after leaving England, where at least there is a similarity of tongue.

But Paris is gay! Paris is warm and responsive and artistic. I have been overjoyed at the beauty of parks, gardens, boulevards, fountains and

Hometowners Lead In Race For First Place In Volleyball

Cafeteria and Curtis House Tied For Second Honors; Greeleys Are Fourth

Because several members of the intramural volley ball league took part in the minstrel and had to miss several games to practice for it, the league has suffered a setback as not all games could be played. However, this temporary postponement of games will be taken care of Monday and Tuesday after the holidays.

In this week's schedule, Braker's forfeited two games, one to the Eye Openers and one to Curtis. The Hometowners beat the Cafeteria.

Greeley's aggregation did not make a big showing last year, but are holding their own this year and have a good chance to get in the front ranks of the volleye ball league by winning both of the last two games.

The number of games won and lost up to date are as follows:

|                   |   |   |
|-------------------|---|---|
| Hometowners ..... | 7 | 1 |
| Cafeteria .....   | 5 | 3 |
| Curtis .....      | 5 | 3 |
| Greeleys .....    | 4 | 4 |
| Eye Openers ..... | 3 | 5 |
| Brakers .....     | 0 | 6 |

sculpture, and the priceless treasures of the world famous art museums. I think that I enjoy as deeply as anything else, the quaintness of narrow, winding streets filled with old musty shops. And then there is the contrast of life as revealed in the brilliant, fashionable shopping districts. Each day we find new places and persons to exclaim about. Each day we find more drama on the streets than in the theaters. We are studying French at a large university here in Paris, and though we are ridiculously limited in expression, we manage to understand and be understood in all routine matters.

At present we are living in a very attractive apartment house. We are having such perfectly delightful, intriguing times, that we have decided to remain here until after the holidays.

The first of January will find us on our way to Spain, from there along the French Riviera into Italy and Switzerland. Our route through the spring will include Greece, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Austria, Germany, Russia, the Scandinavian countries, Holland and the British Isles next summer. So you see we have campaigned quite an intensive and extensive year of travel. We find that one of the most satisfactory features of our trip is that we move on our own independent schedule.

Now I'm going to close with the wish that everyone of you will have perfectly splendid Christmas holidays. I think of you so often, and hope some time to come back and talk some of my impressions rather than write them. Any questions?—Will you please wrap them up in an envelope and send Care the American Express, Paris. Most sincerely, your friend always.

Lilian M. Baker.

Former Stout Student Writes From Hawaii

(Continued from page one)

they might throw some snow balls at one another.)

This reunion of Stout graduates in a distant land might be of considerable significance if they get the initiative to organize a Stout Alumni club. If these people become the charter members of the Stout Alumni club of Hawaii, it will be a great honor for them. THE STOUTONIA and their Stout friends sincerely hope that the contacts made will be both pleasing and educational.

—S—

Lotta Dough Has "Leap Week" Date

(Continued from page one)

Lotta: Well, Sam, just talk it up—you're a poular fellow around here, and if they see and hear the step you have taken, they might do likewise. When one frog jumps into the pond, usually the rest follow. We need more social life between fellows and girls, and if the fellows won't do their bit, it's up to the girls to start things. You know women are no longer content.

Sam: You bet; I'll do my stuff sidered the "weaker sex." (after that lecture you just gave me). This "date" certainly has been one great big success, in my opinion.

Lotta: Yes, I've had a good time, too. Goodnight.

Whereupon Lotta tripped lightly homeward.

Last but not least—Lotta Dough wishes you all a very Merry Christmas and a most Happy New Year.

—S—

Many students bought popcorn balls and apples that were for sale in the corridor all day Tuesday. The sale was sponsored by the S. M. A. society.

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

Wishing you a Merry Christmas
and a Happy New Year.
Yours for service
I. W. Nesser
"The Barber"

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonie Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

See US For HAIRCUTS
We Satisfy Our Customers
The Lakeview
Barber Shop

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
EAT
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"THE HOME OF GOOD FOOD"

Menomonie Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

"Bud" Miller Makes Enviably Record

(Continued from page one)

materializes; Jan. 25 Hannibal-Lagrange will meet us here and Jan. 29 St. Benedicts College of Kansas will journey here to meet us "at home." Feb. 1, Central Wesleyan will play a return engagement here and Feb. 8 the mighty Stout Institute team, champions a number of times in the Wisconsin College Conference, and said to have their best team since 1926 will come to Kirksville. Feb. 18, we play a return engagement with Hannibal-Lagrange on their own floor. March 8, winds up the present schedule when the great University of Minnesota "Aggies" meets us here, giving K. C. O. S. five games at home."

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

Don't forget that Monday, January 6th, is a no-cut day.

The Orpheum and Grand Theaters

Wish The Students
A Merry Christmas
And A
Happy New Year

WE Wish to Extend BFST WISHES for A MERRY CHRISTMAS and A PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR

Menomonie Dye House
Running & Cole

MERRY CHRISTMAS
AND A
HAPPY NEW YEAR.

SWENSON AND BERNDT
"The Shoemen"

Sincerest Wishes to Faculty and Students for a Merry Christmas
and a Prosperous New Year
A. R. Olson

Buy "HER"
a Box of Our
"Fresh Chocolates"
for Christmas
"The Candy Shoppe"

The Stoutonia Wishes You A Merry Christmas

Stout in Conference Opener at LaCrosse Tonight

Mr. Welch Returns From Central and South American Trip

Relates Interesting Experiences
To Stoutonia Reporter;
Returned Monday

Mr. Welch has just returned from a quite extensive southern tour which took him to within eight degrees of the equator, and allowed him to visit Cuba, the Panama canal zone, and interior portions of central America. Mr. Welch, it will be remembered, left this country at New Orleans immediately after the convention of the American Vocational Association which was held in that city. His first stop was at Havana, where he visited for several days with a physician whom he has known for a long time. Havana is perhaps one of the most beautiful cities in the romantic south and many old historic monuments, such as forts and harbors give the city the touch of inspiring beauty, Mr. Welch says. He also visited some of the vast pineapple growing plantations and the University of Havana.

Watches Canal Operate

From here he went to the city of Cristobal, which is located in the Canal Zone. He spent some time in the city of Colon which is also in the Canal Zone. Mr. Welch then spent one day along the canal watching the various things done to a ship passing through and admiring the wonderful scenery along the canal. There is no road across the peninsula so the trip across must be made either by boat

(Continued on page four)

Magician Displays Unusual Tricks In Lyceum Number

Unusually Large Crowd Present
To Make Second Lyceum
Number Successful

There are still a few operations in the cabinet making field of industrial arts and a few accomplishments in the culinary field of home economics which the men and women of The Stout Institute have yet to acquire. These accomplishments were successfully demonstrated by Reno, the magician, before a large, enthusiastic and responsive audience. The performance was given before students and townspeople in the Stout auditorium last evening.

Crack an egg into a pan, season well, apply a lighted match and produce not a crumbled egg, but a live duck; that is not only economics, but also magic.

Menomone Boy Learns Tricks

The two hour exhibition was filled with amusing incidents contributed by a worthy assistant selected from the audience. Reno's ability to produce anything at will caused much envy and hope from some students who are engaged in their shop work. Some were on the verge of requesting him to produce a couple of reamers to satisfy and complete the requirements in machine shop, others were looking forward to obtaining satisfactory results from doubtful experiments in physics and chemistry, and a few trusty freshmen were anticipating his display the mysterious board stretcher for which they have been looking since they were initiated into the realms of elementary wood-work.

Reno's ability to perform his rep-

Monday, Jan. 13
Science Club—5 p. m.
Stoutonia Staff—5 o'clock.
Women's Glee Club—7 p. m.
Men's Glee Club—7 p. m.
Tower Staff—7 p. m.
Tuesday
Band—7 p. m.
Marquette-La Salle—7:30 p. m.
S. M. A.—7:15 p. m.
Wednesday
Rifle Club—7 p. m.
S. T. S.—7:30 p. m.
Y. W. C. A.—5 p. m.
De Molay—7:30 p. m.
Thursday
Inky Fingers—5:30 p. m.
M. A. P.—7:15 p. m.
Hyperians—8:00 p. m.
Orchestra—7 p. m.

New Britannica Is Installed in Library

The much heralded 14th edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, which appeared this year, may now be found in the Stout Library. Published originally in 1771, the Britannica is the oldest encyclopedia in the English language. Noted always for its scholarly character, it retains that quality in this edition, which is not popularized as the advance advertising threatened that it would be, but revised and modernized. The text is interestingly written. There is new emphasis on industrial subjects. In fact, the contents indicate a new valuation of the world's knowledge as is shown by the article of 10,000 words on Diesel Engines, for which a short paragraph sufficed in the 1910 edition.

The work consists of twenty-four volumes, one of which is devoted to atlases and an index. It has larger, clearer print than the earlier editions. The frequent use of diagrams adds greatly to the value of the text. Its 15,000 illustrations are highly attractive as well as practical.

According to one reviewer, this work is one "of consuming interest and one which establishes a standard that will long remain unchallenged."

—S—

MR. DAVISON TO LECTURE

Mr. W. B. Davison who has had considerable experience in the Lyceum field and whose talks have met with much approval, will again make his appearance on Monday evening, January thirteenth at Luck, Wis. The subject of his lecture is "Living Tortures."

Earl Burbidge Is Elected Coach to Succeed S. E. Paulus

Is Wisconsin Graduate and at Present Coaching at Antigo, Wis.

Earl Burbidge, graduate of Wisconsin in '28, who has coached the Antigo high school football team to two successive championships of the Wisconsin River Valley conference, has been engaged as director of physical education and coach of the Stout Institute athletic teams, according to announcement today by President E. Nelson. Mr. Burbidge will come to Stout at the opening of the second semester in February to succeed S. E. Paulus, of Holland, Mich., who resigned early in December.

Basketball at Stout will receive but little benefit from Mr. Burbidge this season, for there will be but four games remaining on the schedule when he relieves Mr. Paulus, but the school and the fans are looking forward to more satisfactory participation in the football season than has been their lot since the championship year of 1921.

Seven games won and one lost was the record of the Antigo football team the year Mr. Burbidge took charge. Last year they bettered the record by playing seven winning games and tying one. Both years they defeated Wausau high school in the championship game of the Wisconsin River Valley Conference. The basketball—

(Continued on page four)

Class of '29 Presents Memorial to School

The Senior class of 1929 has presented to the school a lasting memorial by which they can be remembered. This memorial is a very neat trophy cabinet. After much discussion, it was found that the best place for this cabinet was the south side of the library where it now stands. As soon as possible the present trophies of the school will be placed in the cabinet.

The class of 1929 are to be congratulated upon their selection. It is a beautiful cabinet and it harmonizes with the woodwork in the library. It has room for many trophies, and we have bright hopes to have this cabinet filled before many years have passed.

One More Chance To Pledge For Towers

The Tower staff has decided to give the students one more opportunity to pledge for a copy of the 1930 Tower. Present indications lead to the belief that more yearbooks will be purchased this year than during any previous season, so that in all probability the price will be lower than ever before. Pledges may be turned in to any member of the Tower staff any time during the next week. This is positively the last chance so remember to bring your dollar and pledge.

Resumption of Classes Brings Slight Response

The first day of school after Christmas vacation might be compared to the morning after the night before. For some unaccountable reason the classes on Monday morning seemed to be a matter of who was the sleepiest, yawniest and tireddest (with apologies to the English department.)

This feeling is circumstantial evidence against the fact that the vacation just passed was a period of rest and relaxation! True, some allowances must be made for the excitement caused by the coming of Santa Claus as well as a new year.

Speaking of new years, so far, 1930 hasn't seemed a bit different than 1929, except perhaps that we realize we're becoming a little older, and have made and broken several resolutions, good or bad. We have the opportunity before us of making this year a bigger success than any previous year; that in itself is a huge task.

All that we have to look forward to before the end of this semester is a mere nothing. I'm sure there is not one person in school who isn't looking ahead to exam week and the wonderful achievements which can be exhibited at that time. The past is past, so let the future take care of itself.

—S—

TWO LYCEUM NUMBERS

The next number of the Lyceum course on March tenth will be "Harvard Cleaves, an explorer in the South Sea expedition."

The Berger-Steindell-Aster Trio with Gloria Randolph, dancer, will be the entertainers on April sixteenth.

La Crosse To Present Stiff Scrap But Stout Is Also Plenty Tough

Coach Paulus Taking Eight Men
To Oppose Opposition on Foreign Court

Stout's varsity basketball team invades LaCrosse tonight for a tussle with the Phy. Ed. varsity. Coach Paulus is taking Hanson, Micheels, Schaudt, Fordham, Buros, Hoernemann, Haase, and Johnson.

For the varsity, this is the first teachers college conference skirmish, and the outcome is a broad guess. Last year, LaCrosse had a commendable club, and held a two-to-one edge the contest here, Stout only made on the Trainers in both games. In four baskets out of 44 shots, and that is one of the factors which is much different this year.

LaCrosse Is Always Tough

It might have been just as well if Stout had been able to have the Luther game Tuesday night. It was cancelled by Luther on account of illness. It would have given Coach Paulus' good looking team some badly needed seasoning, and would have made a forecast on tonight's game much easier. Little is known of LaCrosse, except that they never had a poor team yet, and that they are more anxious than Stout, even, to redeem a mediocre football season.

The trip was made to LaCrosse in cars, which was necessary, but it is no help to any team in winter weather

Squad Has Hard Workouts

Preparation for the regular conference schedule beginning tonight, (Continued on page four)

—S—

Hard Schedule Faces Paulus' Trainers As Season Progresses

Double Trip Next Week to be Followed by Falls and
Eau Claire Games

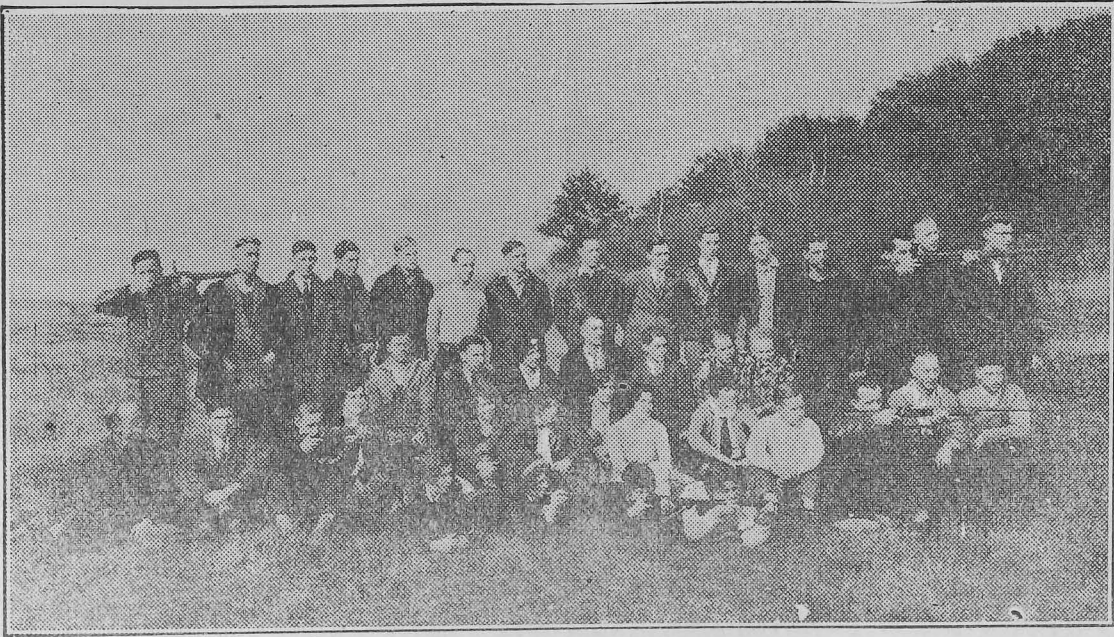

Coach Paulus' basketeers face another hard trip next week-end when they travel to Superior Friday, and meet the Minnesota Aggies on the way back, Saturday evening. The first home game is on January 24 when River Falls comes to Menomonie for the annual battle.

Whatever the outcome of the intervening contests, the squad will be pointed for the Falls encounter, because it is on that game that the season turns either into a satisfying thing, or into just another season.

Falls and Eau Claire Soon

After the Falls game here, the annual pilgrimage to Eau Claire is scheduled. The date is Thursday, January 30, and it is none too early to be preparing to follow the team on that invasion. Eau Claire is apparently considerably stronger than usual this season, as is also Stout, so the game should be just that much better.

Stevens Point is slated for appearance here on the following evening, January 31. It can be seen that the month of January is going to turn out to be a grueling one for the Trainers. It is expected that Coach Paulus will be able to counsel the team thru the above games, and that Coach Burbidge will be on deck to work with him so that there will be no harsh break for the squad after Paulus leaves.

Reprint From The Milwaukee Journal

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office,
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                                             |                        |
|---------------------------------------------|------------------------|
| Managing Editor .....                       | Lester L. Hawkes       |
| Associate Editor.....                       | Irma L. Nichols        |
| News Editor .....                           | Elizabeth A. Williams  |
| News Editor .....                           | Chester Mau            |
| Assistant .....                             | Bernard C. Hagen       |
| Assistant .....                             | Belinda I. Hendrickson |
| Sports Editor .....                         | William J. Micheels    |
| Sports Editor .....                         | Georgia Aber           |
| Feature Editor .....                        | Henriette L. Quilling  |
| Feature Editor .....                        | Vikko Ahonen           |
| Feature Editor .....                        | Bernice G. Bricker     |
| Exchange Editor .....                       | William J. Soucie      |
| Humor Editor .....                          | Carl Roll              |
| Assistant Humor Editor.....                 | Al J. Poelinger        |
| Organization Editor (Womens).....           | Anita Gundlach         |
| Organization Editor (Mens).....             | Alfred M. Reinhold     |
| Cartoonist .....                            | Kathleen L. Lind       |
| Business Manager .....                      | Earl C. Halverson      |
| Circulation Manager .....                   | Robert G. Reick        |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....             | Carl Roll              |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....             | Byron Canatsey         |
| Advertising Manager .....                   | Marlo McCullough       |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr. ....                 | Donald K. Lind         |
| Make-up Foreman and Pressman .....          | Kent Riggs             |
| Under Direction of.....C. W. Hague          |                        |
| Editorial Adviser.....Mr. John Faville, Jr. |                        |
| Associate Adviser.....Miss Helen Sarchet    |                        |

SEMESTER EXAMS

With only two more weeks remaining of this semester and consequently only two more weeks before the semester examinations, we should do our utmost to finish the first half of the year with flying colors.

By this time most of the freshman should have a fair idea of the nature of college work, and we hope that most of them can see that they have made considerable progress in their first sixteen weeks.

The first semester of college is without a doubt one of the most important periods in the four year course. A good start is essential and the freshmen should take their first year just as seriously as the remaining three.

To the upper classmen who have already completed their freshman year successfully, little need be said concerning the importance of the coming examinations. They have experienced them and know the value of an early start.

While some students can take exams with comparative ease, others make them the most difficult part of the entire semester. Look at them not only as a matter of determining grades, but also from the educational viewpoint. Do not worry while writing the tests, wondering if you have enough to secure a passing grade, but write them as if you were determined to find out for yourself what you have learned, and you will find the examinations to be much easier.

Lets make the next two weeks count and show our instructors that we have secured lots of knowledge while attending their classes.

EDUCATION AND APPRECIATION

"A man's life can rise no higher than his aspiration and his aspiration will be no higher than his appreciation." Dr. A. E. Winship, one of America's eminent educators, thus very tersely states one of the great truths of life. It is the appreciation of the facts of existence that makes the world what it is to each one of us. Appreciation is a distinct art and it must be cultivated as such. It is the result of experience and training and like other true arts it is an invaluable acquisition. It is appreciation that enables one to give beauty, color, and desirability to otherwise drab experiences. Thus the great music of our civilization may be either a source of the most exquisite pleasure or of the most trying boredom; there is simply a difference in the cultivation of tastes. Weeds are weeds and vermin are vermin because we do not appreciate them.

The true aim of education, and therefore its true test, is appreciation. Knowledge has power only when it has been appreciated, but it is through knowledge that we acquire that precious sense of the value and significance of things that makes life an inexhaustible treasure-house of rich experiences. Most of us are at present devoting the major part of our time to the attempt to acquire that elusive thing known as education. We are striving under conditions as nearly perfect as circumstances and the modern science of education can supply to imbibe this essential ingredient of culture. Undoubtedly if appreciation could be administered in doses we would be asked to gulp it down, but as it happens, its acquisition depends upon ourselves. So it rests with us whether when we have finished our period of formal learning, we can look upon the world as a fascinating bundle of interests or a confused jumble of meaningless facts.

Let's Laugh

S. O. S.
(Same Old Story)
It confronts me every morning,
That problem dark and deep,
If I rest I lose my breakfast
If I rise I lose my sleep. —Life.

If Santa Claus came a day late you must excuse him because he was held up in a traffic jam.

"I got a letter from the college that says our Nellie's been stealin'".
What?
"Says she's takin' Home Economics."

Favorite song after the last two weeks: "There's not much left of me."

Miss Hassler: "What is your subject?"
Randecker: "Man's independence."
Miss Hassler: "That is too broad."
Randecker: "I'll make it short."

Haase: "What becomes of boys who use such bad language when they play marbles."
Fordham: "I hope to tell you. They grow up and play golf."

Slick: "Do you have this dance?"
Wall flower: "No, Sir." Slick: "Hold this cigarette while I dance it."

Do you know the Pawn shop song?
"No, what is it?"
"Ve Lencha."

Most of us were so tired Monday that we couldn't kill the day.

"She reminds me of the North Pole."
"Howzat?"
"Ice all around her but still that magnetic personality."

Many have returned wearing eyeglasses. We suppose they wear them when they are asleep so that they can recognize the people they dream about."

DUCKS (Composition written by a twelve year old boy.)
The duck it a low, heavy set bird, composed mostlyl of meat, bill and feathers. His head sets on one end and he sets on the other. There ain't no between to his toes, and he carries a toy balloon in his stomach to keep him from sinking.
The duck has only two feet and they are set so far back on his running gear that the come near missing his body. Some ducks when they get big are called drakes. Drakes don't have to set or hatch; just loaf, go swimming and eat. If I was a duck,
I'd rather be a drake every time."

Soph: "What did Paul Revere say at the end of his ride?"
Frosh: "Whoa."

Have you heard that song, "If the rain makes the flowers beautiful, why doesn't it rain on me?"

Scotch Pome
He would not ride the bus,
Because it cost a dime.
To save the coin he chose to walk.
He'd rather spend his time.
—Pathfinder.
Barney: "What is a legitimate excuse from tumbling?"
Mr. Nelson: "Death."

Sandpaper will remove freckles.

"There goes our phone."
"Well, I told you to close the door."

Becky: "I had my eyes examined yesterday."
"Nell: "I always close mine when they kiss me."

Dehlinger: "My roommate sure has

"Vic" Ahonen Tells Of Impressions On Return to School

Finds School Better Than Ever
After Year's Teaching in Florida

It took a lot of courage to keep on coming to Menomonie from St. Paul for two reasons.

First, not a soul on the train bore even the slightest resemblance to any student that had been at Stout during my previous stay. A few there were, however, who were journeying to the beloved Alma Mater, as the tell-tale numbers on the ticket rack indicated. My heart sank. So these were examples of our coeds. Disappointed? I nearly contemplated suicide.

The second reason: a year away from books, a year as the overlord;
and now I could picture myself once more the underdog, restricted in movement; the slave of education.

Meets Former Mates

Derression and disappointment meagerly express my feelings when the train stopped at Hudson. With but scant interest I reviewed the new comers, and then awith a cry of joy and relief I jumped up to greet three oldl students. The day was saved.

At the junction a few cheery welcomes helped even more to elevate my spirits, but somehow everything seemed different; even the old timers seemed to have lost their enthusiasm
What a shame! Was the school going to the dogs or was I? It was impossible to answer the question, so I gave it up.

Town Unchanged

The town looked pretty much the same. You could still shoot a cannon down the street at 10:30 at night and not even hit a stray cop.

At the house I received my last disappointment. Only two or the old crowd remained. The three vacancies had been filled by a good-hearted frosh who coul do nothing else but boast about his little one-horse home town in Michigan, a loud mouthed senior who could do nothing but razz the frosh about his Indian squaw, and a dumb looking soph who liked his sleep too well to be bothered.

I could have cried myself to sleep,
but that wasn't being done this season, so I contented myself with a little sob and went to sleep determined to make the best of what I took to be a bad condition.

But Monday Was Different

On Monday morning things took on a new light; by Tuesday evening things didn't look so bad; and by Wednesday night I was convinced that Stout was still the S. O. S. (same old school) with its pretty coeds, ten-thirty hours and ambitious students, to say nothing about the hungry
boarding house gangs.

The lowly frosh, outside of his tendency to kick and snore at night, turned out to be a good roommate.
The loud mouthed senior proved that he could use the sofe pedal when on his guard. The soph turned out to be a likeable fellow. All in all everything was O. K.

vanity. He stands for hours in front of the mirror admiring his good looks."
Nelson: "That ain't vanity; that's imagination."

How to be a callege man:
Wear no garters.
Walk about with a dazed look in your eyes.
Bend forward to get that midnight oil effect.
Wear "Slaughter House" (registered) clothes.
Have something cute painted on your slicker.
Watch the men about the campus and learn to use their captivating walk.
Wear a key.
Carry an empty pipe in your jaw.
Attend a college.

Stout Instructor Is On State Community Survey Committee

Mr. Faville to Attend Legion
Conference at Racine
This Week-End

Mr. Faville will attend a meeting of the Wisconsin Community Survey committee to be held at Racine this weekend in connection with the midwinter officers' conference of the American Legion. Mr. Faville has been appointed tenth district director of this project, as well as chairman of the Menomonie legion post's survey committee.

The community survey is the Wisconsin Legion's major project for 1930. The state committee of eleven men, one for each district, is headed by Aubrey Williams, who is general secretary of the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work, an organization cooperating with the Legion in this project.

Will Awaken Community Interest

The object of the survey is to get the people of all of the cities and towns of this state interested in their civic conditions by carefully surveying these conditions, reporting on them, and thereby showing the strong and weak spots existing in every branch of community activity for the purpose of creating constructive and corrective interest on the part of the citizens of that community.

It will be noted that, in the division of education, a thoro review of the value of Stout Institute as a participating institution in the city of Menomonie, and as the unique leader in the tenth congressional district of the state, will be a result of this survey.

—S—

Stoutonia Staff Loses Several Members

THE STOUTONIA faces a serious condition next semester because of the departure of three of its most prominent staff members to teaching positions. The top three names in the masthead are the losses—editor, associate editor, and news editor. These pending vacancies have not been filled.

Editor Lester L. Hawkes has accepted a position as instructor of printing in the Madison Vocational School. Associate Irma Nichols will teach in the Green Bay Vocational School, and News Editor Elizabeth Williams is to be in the Detroit system.

How their shoes can be filled in the publications work here is a problem now being figured on by the advisers. It is well for the STOUT-ONIA subscribers to know the conditions that charity toward the first few issues of next semester may be granted. Incidentally, this is the proper time for freshman, interested in newspaper work, to apply for staff positions.

—S—

Registrar Reports Numerous Placements

According to a report from the registrar's office, Gordon O. Johnson and Edith M. Brevig have left to assume teaching positions.

Gordon Johnson is teaching drawing in the Senior High School at Kenosha; Edith Brevig is teaching Home Economics and Science at Hixon, Wis.

Those who are leaving at the end of the semester to take up student dietetic work ar: Janet Calrk, University Hospital, Columbus, Ohio;
Marjorie Robb, St. Luke's Hospital,
Chicago; Elva Page, St. Luke's Hospital, Minneapolis.

A complete list of those taking teaching positions is not definitely arranged as yet but will be announced in the near future.

“Just A Cold” Means Wrong Attitude On Potential Dangers

Warning Again Given That So-Called Colds May Become Serious

“Just a cold.” Such is the remark made by thousands of individuals daily who go about in society transmitting their affliction to their friends and other people with seemingly no thought as to their responsibility in the matter. In spite of repeated articles about the common cold that have appeared in the daily press recently, the public apparently has not become aroused to the importance and seriousness of this condition.

There are several types of infection that produce the condition commonly known as a cold. Many of these are no doubt communicable from one individual to another. Some of these infections are more serious than others and under certain conditions the inflammation may extend from the nasal passages and involve the sinuses or extend through the eustachean tubes and endanger your hearing. Other types of infection that make their early presence known by producing a congestion of the nasal passages with increased secretion frequently result in bronchial afflictions or terminate in pneumonia. The sooner therefore, we realize the importance and dangers lurking behind the careless statement “Just a cold” the sooner society will take the necessary steps to protect itself.

The course of the average cold will extend over a period of from three to five days. If the sinuses become involved or other complications occur the period of the disease will be much longer.

Among the measures for preventing the transmission of this condition from one person to another, probably

Magician Displays Unusual Tricks

(Continued from page one)

ertoire of tricks and magic with such ease and skill is complementary to his long association in this line of pursuit. The receptiveness of the audience, the rapid delivery of each successive demonstration, and the character of the feats performed were of such a nature as to make the entire presentation highly enjoyable.

the most effective is immediate isolation of the first member of the family or group who shows any signs of developing a cold. To be effective this must be a real isolation.. The individual should be placed in a room by himself and all others except the nurse should be excluded from coming into the room occupied by the patient. The meals should be served on a tray and all dishes, clothing and other articles coming in contact with the patient should be scalded or otherwise sterilized. Absolute quiet in bed for three days will greatly aid in the recovery from a cold.

If we could abandon the ancient custom of hand shaking it would help materially in limiting the spread of these infections.

Now a word about the indiscriminate use by the public of nasal sprays, douches, and what not in the treatment of the so-called “cold.” Serious damage can be, and not infrequently is done by the too frequent and improper use of such remedies.

When society reaches the point where the individual with a “cold” is given to understand that his presence is not desired, when the afflicted individual senses his responsibility, remains at home and voluntarily isolates himself until he has fully recovered, we will then have attained some degree of success in preventing the spread of these infections.—G. W. H.

House Furnishing II Students Go On Field Trip This Week-end

Miss Carson’s Girls Have Fine Survey Opportunities at City Plants

The House Furnishing II class, (economic course) of the Related Art Department will accompany Miss Carson on a two day’s field trip to the cities this week.

The trip through the Wm. D. French Furniture Company plant Friday will enable the students to see for themselves the fine art, the skilled craftsmanship, the perfection in details and the materials used to make good furniture.

The group is invited to have luncheon as the guests of the Dayton Company. Miss Strand of the Personal Service Department will act as the Dayton Company hostess and conduct the group to the various house furnishing departments where the students will not only have an opportunity to study the merchandise, but will talk to the buyers of the sections.

Stationary and School Supplies
Sheet Music - Records
A. R. OLSON

Saturday will be spent visiting the Wm. D. French Furniture and Decorating establishment, Anderson China Shop, Donaldsons, Powers, the New England Store, the Northern States Power Company Model cottage and inspecting the new Y. W. C. A. building and furnishings.

Pledge for your Tower NOW!

See us for haircuts; we satisfy our customers
THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP.

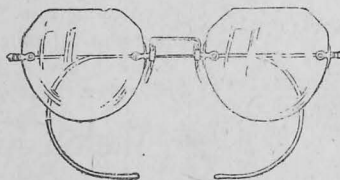

Weep and you are called a baby, Laugh and you are called a fool, Work and you are called a grind, Stand and you’re called a mule. Smile and they’ll call you silly, Frown and they’ll call you gruff, Put on a front like a millionaire, AND SOMEBODY CALLS YOU A BLUFF.

Haircuts at any hour of the day
Three first class barbers
THE ELECTRIC SHOP

The Place “The Gang” goes when they are Hungry THE OLYMPIA

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Good Meals and Refreshments SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

A STORE THAT CARRIES A COMPLETE LINE OF FOUNTAIN PENS and PENCILS
CONKLIN, MOORE, SHEAFFER, SWAN, & WATERMAN
WE ALSO HAVE THE BEST OF FOUNTAIN PEN INKS
NELS ANSHUS

Sport Coats Sheep Lined Coats
Pullover

at prices that will please you.

TEARE CLOTHING COMPANY

STORE WIDE
Reductions
EVANS TOBINS CO.

UP FROM THE OXCART

“Acceleration, rather than structural changes, is the key to an understanding of our recent economic developments.”—From the report of President Hoover’s Committee on Recent Economic Changes

JOIN US IN THE GENERAL
ELECTRIC HOUR, BROADCAST
EVERY SATURDAY AT 9 P.M.,
E.S.T. ON A NATION-WIDE
N.B.C. NETWORK

GENERAL
ELECTRIC

YESTERDAY, the rumble, creak, and plod of cart and oxen. To-day and to-morrow the zoom of airplanes. Faster production. Faster consumption. Faster communication Significant of electricity’s part in the modern speeding-up process is the fact that during the last seven years, consumption of electric power increased three and one-half times as fast as population.

General Electric and its subsidiaries have developed and built much of the larger apparatus that generates this power as well as the apparatus which utilizes it in industry and in the home.

The college-trained men who come every year to General Electric take a responsible part in the planning, production, and distribution of electric products, and at the same time receive further technical or business training.

Many New Books Placed on Shelves Of Stout Library

Books of All Descriptions Added
To Already Unusually Fine
Selection

Among books recently received by the Library are the following:

- Literature
Much Loved Books, by J. O. Bennett.
Best Plays of 1927-28, edited by Burns Mantle.
The Best of Carlyle, edited by H. L. Creek.
The Thought Broker, by S. M. Crothers.
The Delight of Great Books, by John Erskine.
The Technique of the Novel, by C. H. Grabo.
Memories and Studies, by William James.
Selected Poems of Amy Lowell, edited by J. L. Lowes.
How to Criticize Books, by Llewellyn Jones.
Oxford Book of English Prose, edited by Sir Arthur Quiller-Couch.
College Composition, by T. E. Rankin and others.

- History and Travel
Essentials of Civilization, by T. J. Jones.
The Great Thousand Years and Ten Years After, by R. A. Cram.
Selection of the Principal Voyages, Taffiques, and Discoveries of the English Nation, by Richard Hakluyt.
Tramping with a Poet in the Rockies, by Stephen Graham.
The Tragic Era, by C. G. Bowers.
Home Economics and Industrial Arts
Airplane Welding, by J. B. Johnson.
Program Suggestions for Home Economics Entertainments, by L. W. Gillum.

- Education
Measurement of Early Levels of Intelligence, by K. S. Cunningham.
School Clubs, by H. C. McKown.
N. E. A. Proceedings, 1929.
Progressive Practices in Directing Learning.
Have We Kept the Faith, by C. A. Prosser & C. R. Allen.
Biography
Audacious Audubon, by E. A. Muschamp.
Barrie, the Story of a Genius, by J. A. Hammerton.
Andrew Johnson, Plebeian and Patriot, by R. W. Winston.
Napoleon, by Emil Ludwig.
Nad Anthony Wayne, by T. A. Boyd
Chronology of Woodrow Wilson, compiled by J. R. Bolling and others.
Fiction
Hangman's House, by Donn Byrne.
Red Rust, by Mrs. C. J. Cannon.
The Haunted Bookshop, by Christopher Morley.
Best Short Stories of 1928, edited by E. J. H. O'Brien.
O. Henry Memorial Award Prize Stories, 1929, chosen by the Society of Arts and Sciences, New York.
Wintersmoon, by Hugh Walpole.

—S—
You have just one more chance to pledge for your Tower. Do it now!

Successful people visit their barber frequently
"It Pays To Look Well"
I. W. NESSER
The Barber

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP
NEW SPRING DRESSES
ARRIVING DAILY

STOUT SCHOOL SUPPLIES
at
LEE'S DRUG STORE

La Crosse Meets Stout In Conference Opener

(Continued from page one)

has been hard and furious in the past few days. The squad, as usual, came back to work before the rest of the students, and has been drilling on scoring plays and other niceties of the game. What's more, their execution is so much better than anything seen from last year's squad, that not even a setback tonight can change the conviction that Stout has a better-than-usual cage squad this season.

On Wednesday evening at the city armory, both the "A" and "B" teams were tearing into the play as tho they meant it. The first string were handing out a thorough beating consistently, but the frosh looked business-like, also. The Coach is still holding 12 men on the varsity. Lu Paulus having joined the squad again. Lu was used in several games last year and was a high point man on the frosh squad which won 16 games two seasons ago. The other two regular squad members who could not be taken are Cvengros and O'Connell.

Welch Returns From South American Trip

(Continued from page one)

or train.
From then on he spent his time in Balboa and Panama City, both of which are located on the Pacific coast. At Panama City he visited the Trade school which is one of the newest and best institutions there. From these points of vantage, Mr. Welch made several short trips into the interior to the banana and coffee growing districts of the Republic of Panama.

Sees Typical Industries
He also made a short trip to Port Limon in Costa Rica. From there he went to Puerto Barrios and Livingston Panama. He then sailed along the coast of Honduras. At Guatemala the ship took on a cargo of banana and coffee. The process of loading these products was very interesting. This country has a rigid system of defense and their army is perhaps the rarest of its kind. The distinguishing features of the men are that the corporals and sargents have shoes and the rest of the army does not. The regulars wear a cap, shirt and trousers, get paid now and then, but always have bananas to eat.
Mr. Welch reports that the Canal zone is a beautiful and healthful place to live. There are great educational opportunities there. The entire region has been cleared of the tropical diseases that at one time held such a terror for those who lived there.

—S—
DANCING CLASS
Dancing class Saturday at 1:30.
Let's be prompt.

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonie Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

Did You Know That-

A coed said the day after vacation, "They certainly have it cold enough in school today!"
Al Poelinger said, "We need it to keep us all awake."

Vikko Ahonen is back in our midst again.

They always come back for more. Students started returning Thursday and came dragging in all hours of the night Sunday. Many a peaceful citizens sleep was disturbed by arrivals.

Several students did some work in the library Monday.

It is too bad some of the lab experiments weren't on sleep, as many students took class time to woo Morpheus regardless of their good intentions.

School is a good place to rest up from vacation.

Many new dresses, scarfs, hats, coats, gloves, loud hose, and screaming ties are in evidence showing that Santa was good.

Ruth Hosman won the boobie prize at Margaret McMann's bunco party during vacation.

Harmon believes in ghosts. He thought that someone was encroaching on his trapping rights and followed his own tracks for six miles around a lake.

RIVER FALLS SPONSORS GRAIN SHOW

On December 12 and 13, the Agricultural Department of River Falls College, sponsored its Ninth Annual Poultry and Grain Show. Exhibits in the poultry division of the show numbered nearly 600. Addresses were given, grain judging contests were held, and entertainment programs were presented for the representatives from the many schools who were invited to attend.

—The Student Voice.
Bradley Tech is to include Wisconsin, Illinois and Notre Dame in their baseball schedule next year.
—The Bradley Tech.

—S—
Pledge for The Tower NOW!

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
EAT
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"THE HOME OF GOOD FOOD"

Menomonie Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

ORPHEUM
Tonight and Saturday
"BIG TIME"
With Lee Tracy and a good cast.
Also Talking Comedy
Sun., Mon., Tues.
"4 DEVILS"
With Ganet Gaynor
Matinee Sun. 2:30

Wed. Thurs., Fri.
Dolores Costello in
"HEARTS IN EXILE"
Watch for Show of Shows—unny Side Up, No No Nantte and other big ones.
GRAND
Sat. and Sun.
Monte Blue in
"NO DEFENSE"
Also comedy. Mat. Sun 3

Gymnasium Opened To Student Group

President Nelson has received many requests this fall to the effect that the students wish to be allowed to use the gym during the evening. He therefore has submitted the following schedule:

Men—Monday and Tuesday evenings; Women—Wednesday and Thursday evenings. The gym will be open on these nights for student use from four through to eight o'clock, except on Thursday evening when the gym is reserved for other purposes from five to six.

If it is not open evenings only those in gym classes can enjoy the use of the gym. Now the opening of the gym for evening use gives every one enrolled at Stout ample opportunity to keep trim.

The Junior and Senior women are especially pleased because it enables them to get in practice games before the regular scheduled season games.

The students are urged to take advantage of this privilege so that the schedule may be made permanent in the future.

Earl Burbidge Is Elected New Coach

(Continued from page one)

ball team ranked second in the district tournament last year, and the dopsters are banking on the squad leading the district this year.

Mr. Burbidge is a graduate of the professional physical education course of the University. He won his letter three years on the varsity baseball squad and was captain in his third year. He also won his "W" as a reserve quarterback on the varsity football squad, and was a member of the varsity basketball squad.

Exhibit Case Placed In Bowman's Office

"This case contains photographs of students, projects, shops, summer camp colony, and other interesting subjects connected with the work here at The Stout Institute. For your own interest and information you are invited to look through the exhibit. It is hoped that use will be made of this case when you are assisting visitors in becoming acquainted with The Stout Institute."

The above notice is posted on the exhibit case which is located immediately inside Dean Bowman's office in the Industrial Arts building. The photographs contained therein make a representative record of the range of work which is carried on in the various shops, laboratories, and drafting rooms about the institution. The exhibit is available for all interested and it is hoped that good use will be made of it in the near future. Anyone may feel free to bring a visitor in and show him this very interesting pictorial record.

—S—
A jolly young chemistry tough,
While mixing a compound of stuff;
Held a match to the vial
And after a while
They found his front teeth and one cuff.

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

The Shaker Studios are always glad to serve you. You always get the best in photography if your photographs are made at the
Shaker Studios.
Let us develop your Kodak films.
SHAKER STUDIOS
"Makers of real live photographs"

WHERE YOU GET THE BEST SHOES
at the
BEST PRICES
SWENSON and BERNDT
"THE SHOE MEN"

Let's Eat
HOMEMADE
Ice Cream -- -- Candie's
Cakes -- Pies -- Do-Nuts
at
THE CANDY SHOPPE

Service We Do Dry Cleaning Service
Monday, Wednesday, and Friday
Articles brought in by noon will be ready next day.
Suits Made to Measure
Menomonie Dye House
Running and Cole

Farewell-Welcome Banquet to be Held Thursday

Last Minute Spurt at La Crosse Beats Stout In Creditable Contest

Best Physical Ed. School Team
In Years Tops Trainers
24-14

After holding the lead in the early part of the game a stubborn Stout team went down to defeat before the Redmen at La Crosse, Friday evening, 24-14. According to the La Crosse papers Stout was to be only a scrimmage game but the veteran downstate team was sure of the contest only after the final whistle had blown.

Starting with a bang the Blue Devils were able to score the first basket. With a flurry of baskets in the closing minutes of the first half La Crosse forged ahead to make the score 9-6 as the first period ended.

Second Period Starts Even

As the second half started both teams appeared to be playing on even terms. With five minutes to go the score stood 18-14 in favor of the La Crosse team. Then shooting from all angles, the Keelermen were able to connect for three baskets to make the final total, 24-14.

The game was marked throughout with intentional roughness, too there were an unusually few fouls called, and proved rather uninteresting to the fans. One noticeable thing about the Stout offense was the inability to make the set-ups. It probably was a case of "buck fever" and in return game Stout should achieve a different result.

It is the opinion of those who saw the game that Stout played its best
(Continued on page four)

New Class Room In I. A. Building

When The Stout Institute reopened after the Christmas holidays, room 22, which was formerly the old print shop, was initiated into use by several classes and it is reported both by faculty members and students that the room, after being remodeled, has become a very good and serviceable class room.

New Practice Print Shop

Room 25A is now in the process of being equipped into a practice print shop. This shop will be used only for the instruction of public school students who are taught by Stout practice teachers.

The equipment needed for the new shop has been ordered and it is expected that it will be installed during the latter part of this week. The expense of equipping this shop will be borne jointly by The Stout Institute and the High School, as it is to be used solely for instruction of public school students. The work carried on in this shop will be that which has previously been carried on in the regular Stout shops under the direction of Stout students. This new shop for practice teaching in printing will make possible more efficient instruction because the practice teachers will be left alone with their classes and will have the full responsibility of the shop.

"BUCKY" HARRIS MARRIED

Everett Harris, better known as "Bucky", graduate of Stout in '29 and Miss Florence Rokenbrodt were married December 26, 1929. Mr. and Mrs. Harris are living in Jacksonville, Florida, where Mr. Harris is a teacher of printing in the city schools.

Marion Hotel Scene Of Senior Dinner

The entire Senior class were entertained at a dinner in their honor at the Hotel Marion Tuesday night at six-thirty o'clock. Other guests were Miss Burgoin, senior class advisor, and Mr. Roswell, Director of Vocational Schools in Menomonie.

The program consisted of talks by the outgoing seniors who gave their impressions of leaving school. Miss Burgoin, Mr. Boswell, and Victor Ahonen, who has completed a year's teaching in Florida also gave interesting talks. Some very inspiring thoughts were brought out by Kathryn Counsel, who asked each outgoing girl to assume the duty of sending back to Stout one new student each year, thereby increasing the enrollment 100 percent in the years to come.

Commission Fever Hits Stout Institute; Results Exposed

Light Is Given on Great Work of "School Terms" Commission Here

The commission on school terms has done some wonderful work in the last two weeks. They have submitted their findings for publication, with recommendations for improvement in several branches of the work which they investigated.

Only one week of this semester is left, they report. That in itself is worthy of note and shows the efficiency and unusual ability of this body. Students are showing a tendency to start burning the traditional midnight oil. (At this point they recommend the following changes with reasons: Students should not burn oil due to the hazards to eyes, and to roommates, in case of fire. Member from Pennsylvania objected, but objection overruled, in order to prove to the people that we are not ruled by big business.)

Worry Is Abolished

The students are showing a tendency to worry in many cases, it was reported, with the following recommendations: Worry is an evil, dangerous to the welfare of our colleges and should therefore be remedied by strict enforcement of the N. G. Common law, Sec. 10, Vol. 5, Chap. 16, Page 144.

This law was tried out in a worry case Winter vs. Summer, St. Edw., Minnesota, Year of our Lord 1927, and was upheld by the Supreme court as constitutional.

Professors are not giving due warning before they strike, the investigation also brought to light.
(Continued on page four)

Next Week's Calendar

Monday

Science Club—5 p. m.
Womens Glee Club—7 p. m.
Mens Glee Club—7 p. m.
Tower Staff—7 p. m.
Band—7 p. m.

Tuesday

Philos—7 p. m.

Wednesday

Metallurgy Club—7 p. m.
Lutheran Students—7 p. m.
Y. W. C. A.—5 p. m.

Thursday

Hyperian—5 p. m.
Arene—7:30 p. m.
Orchestra—7 p. m.

Friday

B. B.—River Falls here.

Trainers Invade Two Camps This Week End; At Concordia Tonight

Meet Usual Strong Superior Outfit Up North Tomorrow Night

Stout is taking its northern trip this week end, and then will be home for a week's intensive training for the first home conference game, with River Falls the victims. Superior will be invaded tomorrow, and the boys stop off to meet Concordia College at the Cities tonight.

Coach Paulus feels confident that he has seen a Stout team play the best game of basketball that he has seen here in three seasons, despite the fact that the great team of La-Crosse took a last minute spurt last Friday and gained a four-basket margin. It is hoped that this week will not change that opinion.

Superior Is Going Strong

Superior's camp gave forth blue notes a few weeks ago, but later results have belied their wails. They gave the usually strong St. Thomas five an awful drubbing last week, a fact which speaks for itself. Stout is fast this year, however, and the ten-acre floor at Superior will not be the handicap it usually is to a team used to a medium sized court.

Coach Paulus has taken nine men, again, and expects to send home creditable reports. Buros will be on familiar ground, and much is expected of his performance tomorrow. Hanson is reported to have played a strong defensive game at La Crosse until sickness caused him to leave the floor, and should be better tonight. Haase is another great hope as a developing offensive player, and the other six are coming along creditably, so THE STOUTONIA has hopes for this week end's results.

Many Students Receive Mid-Year Teaching Positions

Several Receive Appointments in Southern States; Three women Enter Hospitals as Dietitians

Twelve students are graduating at the end of this semester. All of these have received placements as well as a few who have not, as yet, completed the entire work for a degree.

From the school of Home Economics, The Stout Institute will again send a worthy representation to Detroit, Mildred Belina, Beulah Todd and Elizabeth Williams. Edith Brevig started teaching at Hixton, Wisconsin just after the holidays. Kathryn Counsell has accepted a position in the State Teachers College at Athens Georgia.

Several as Student Dietitians

Three students are entering hospitals as student dietitians, Janet Clark at the Columbus Hospital in Columbus, Ohio; Elva Page at St. Lukes Hospital in Minneapolis; Marjorie Robb at St. Luke's hospital in Chicago.

Several students will teach in Vocational Schools, Irma Nichols in Green Bay and Henrietta Sievert in West Allis, Wis.

From the school of Industrial Education only two are receiving degrees, Gordon Johnson and Herbert Ritzman, However, several other students are leaving for teaching positions.

Gordon Johnson is now in the Kenosha High School. Hector Hen-
(Continued on page four)

Society Formal To Be Held Next Week

Plans are well under way for the mid-semester formal which is to be given by the Hyperian, S. M. A. and Philomathean societies: Saturday night, Jan. 25th in the Stout gymnasium.

At a meeting of the inter-society council, the following girls were selected as chairmen of the various committees: General chairman, Henrietta Sievert; Assistant chairman Irma Nichols; Finance, Mildred Hagard; Decoration, Dorothy Williams; Programs, and Invitations, Anita Gundlach; Entertainment, Esther McKowen; Refreshments, Mercedes Cranston.

All members of the societies are expected to assume some responsibility assisting on the various committees, wherever additional help is necessary.

Marked Success of Dancing Class Seen In Unique Report

Reporter Notes Concrete Results Of Miss Balerud's Efforts For Society

The Stout dancing class has proved to be a great success in more than one way, statistics show. Not only has it brought together the backward dancers, but also made it possible for several to get bids to the mid-winter formal, to the envy of many a Romeo.

"Before I joined that class I could not dance a foot," says Brandt, "and now I dance all over them." He recommends the treatment for everything from bashfulness to getting a bid. It has cured him unconditionally in less than a year.

Athlete Reduced to This!

The august Fred Johnson of basketball fame, has made his debut into society as a result of the course, to the tune of a bid to the formal. He recommends the treatment emphatically, with the following words: "All that I am or hope to be in the social swim I owe to the Stout dancing class." The prospects are bright for a brilliant social career in this quarter.

Without a doubt the star of the class was Lovy Buros. It took him only one session to conquer the mysteries of the dance floor, and a bid to the much coveted tux affair. No words of praise are too elaborate to express his feelings toward the class.

Big Men Fall Hard

"The Moonlight Waltzer" from Eau Galle, has been reported as still open for a bid, but there is still another week for hope.

The stalworth wrestler, Harry Wills
(Continued on page four)

Last Issue

With this issue of The Stoutonia we finish one semester of publication. We have tried to cover all the news pertaining to Stout and present it to you in the most interesting form.

We take this opportunity of thanking the students and administration for the cooperating they have given us in making our weekly issue possible.

Several of the members of the staff will not be here next semester, but we hope that our successors will carry on the work in an even better manner.

There will be no issue next week due to examinations.

—The Editor.

Athletic Dinner to Feature Two Coaches And Visiting Speaker

Assembly Response Indicates Large Attendance; Get Tickets Early is Advice

A farewell to Coach Paulus, and a welcome to Coach Burbidge will be the features of the athletic banquet scheduled for the Stout Cafeteria Thursday evening at 6:30. Advance information also indicates that George Downer of Wisconsin University will also be a feature of the program, but this had not been verified last evening.

The S. S. A. officers are directing the function, and discovered by the pledges yesterday morning at assembly that a fine group of both men and women students, plus administration officers and faculty, will be on hand to bid good-speed to "Syl" and how-do-you-do to his successor. Tickets at $1.00 a plate will be sold in the coming days.

Fine Program Arranged

The event comes the night before the first home game, the great cage lively evening. But it is certain, also, that in itself is enough to insure a battle with the River Falls Redmen. That the banqueters will want a last word from Coach Paulus before he leaves the grind of the coaching profession for the field of business, and also that they will want to do him honor for his wonderful three years' service to Stout.

A fine first impression on Coach Burbidge should also be an incident of this gathering. He comes here, it is reported, with an encouraging idea
(Continued on page four)

Mr. Hague Speaks To S. T. S. Club

"Duties of a Printing Institute," was the title of the talk given the Stout Typographical Society by Mr. Hague, head of the printing department and advisor of the club, Wednesday evening of this week.

Mr. Hague divided his lecture into two parts, the professional duties which are: 1. Know what he is teaching and more:

2. Be able to skillfully do work himself.
3. Be able to take stock of pupils.
4. To select instructional material to suit purpose and requirements.
5. To have a definite purpose for each lesson.
6. Definite means of recording progress of pupils.

Duties other than teaching:
1. Keep continually informed on current trade and education movements, develop and encourage as far as possible.

2. To intelligently select and purchase equipment and supplies.
  3. Be able to lay out his shop so as to include light, safety, hygiene, and classification of work.
  4. To be responsible and care for all equipment and supplies.
  5. To keep cost record of supplies and production.
  6. To take an active interest in activities in the community.
- Other business of the club was transacted after which the meeting adjourned.

CORRECTION

The subject of Mr. Davison's address at Luck, Wis. on Monday evening, January 13, was "Living Torches" instead of "Living Tortures."

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute.
Entered as Second Class Mail Matter at the Post Office,
Menomonie, Wisconsin

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                                             |                        |
|---------------------------------------------|------------------------|
| Managing Editor .....                       | Lester L. Hawkes       |
| Associate Editor .....                      | Irma L. Nichols        |
| News Editor .....                           | Elizabeth A. Williams  |
| News Editor .....                           | Chester Mau            |
| Assistant .....                             | Bernard C. Hagen       |
| Assistant .....                             | Belinda I. Hendrickson |
| Sports Editor .....                         | William J. Micheels    |
| Sports Editor .....                         | Georgia Aber           |
| Feature Editor .....                        | Henriette L. Quilling  |
| Feature Editor .....                        | Vikko Ahonen           |
| Feature Editor .....                        | Bernice G. Bricker     |
| Exchange Editor .....                       | William J. Soucie      |
| Humor Editor .....                          | Carl Roll              |
| Assistant Humor Editor .....                | Al J. Poelinger        |
| Organization Editor (Womens) .....          | Anita Gundlach         |
| Organization Editor (Mens) .....            | Alfred M. Reinhold     |
| Cartoonist .....                            | Kathleen L. Lind       |
| Business Manager .....                      | Earl C. Halverson      |
| Circulation Manager .....                   | Robert G. Reick        |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....             | Carl Roll              |
| Asst. Circulation Manager .....             | Byron Canatsey         |
| Advertising Manager .....                   | Marlo McCullough       |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr. ....                 | Donald K. Lind         |
| Make-up Foreman and Pressman .....          | Kent Riggs             |
| Under Direction of.....C. W. Hague          |                        |
| Editorial Adviser.....Mr. John Faville, Jr. |                        |
| Associate Adviser.....Miss Helen Sarchet    |                        |

THE USE OF TEACHER TRAINING IN LIFE

In talking to a Menomonie business man recently on the value of attendance at teacher training institutions, the editor gained a new view on the importance of Stout as a chosen place to secure advanced education.

The remark made by the Menomonie man was something to the effect that "being able to address a group of people, and address them intelligently, is one of man's greatest assets." Stop and consider for a few moments the broadness of that statement, the large field which it covers and we believe anyone can realize the amount of truth that it contains.

No matter what line of work a man or woman might undertake, they will constantly come in contact with people to whom they must talk and talk intelligently. At almost any time during one's lifetime, he will be subject to delivering short talks before groups of his associates, and to be unable to stand before them and express his opinion might prove disastrous in many ways.

Is there any better place to learn to express yourself, explain your point of view so that all may grasp it, than the everyday contact as a school teacher?

In conducting class discussions, lecturing and giving demonstrations, the teacher not only is instructing students, but is also gaining confidence in himself, his ideas and ability to push across his objective. He is riding himself of that great hindrance common to most, "self-consciousness." Not only do teacher training schools train him along such lines, but enables him to use that new found ability with intelligence. They build up a foundation of specific facts and general knowledge so that when necessary he can do justice to himself and the years spent in preparation.

—S—

FINANCIAL OBLIGATIONS

Give to Ceasar what is Ceasar's and to God what is God's." This statement by the Carpenter of Nazareth is probably as famous and has probably been quoted as often as any statement made during the last nineteen hundred years. If the statement had been made today, it would likely have been worded slightly different. The modern version is: "Pay your bills."

There is probably no secrets in a person's life so well known as the fact that he can be depended on to fulfill financial obligations, or that he fails in the very important function. It is a sad fact that a few students of this splendid school leave the city to take positions in educational institutions, and after they have left, it is found that bills for goods obtained locally are unpaid. It is difficult to conceive that a teacher, who is so strongly under the public search light, can anything but lose by such a procedure. Carelessness and irresponsibility along this line can not be covered up, and if covered up temporarily, they will never stay so. Any person selecting a teaching career should be determined to not set a poor example for the young people in his charge. There are many questions concerning which we may differ, but it is universally agreed that it is dishonorable to neglect fulfilling one's financial obligations.

Let's Laugh

TOM JUNCK ENGAGED!

"Tom" Jungk surprised his friends by announcing his engagement to teach in the schools at Atlanta, Ga.

Perhaps one of the finest qualities an ambitious man can have is to be able truly to concentrate on his problem. Mr. Antrim is a splendid example of the type possessing this quality. The other day he was very busy explaining a matter to Miss McGowan and he turned to go, and walked straight into one of the library pillars. Do you suppose this interrupted his concentration?

The boys have many faults,
Girls have only two;
Everything they say,
And everything they do.
—Rocket.

One co-ed was wondering what Sid Cotton had in his shoes that made such a clatter.

Dehlinger woke up last Sunday morning and saw fifty feet of snow.

Beinert: "Did you watch stop when it hit the floor?"
Slim: "Sure, did you expect it to go through."

There are an awful lot of girls who don't want to get married."
How do you know?
I've asked them.

An Epitaph

In the Public ward,
You'll find Bill Fink,
He stopped in the middle
Of the street to think.

Christie found a pair of shoes on his desk in the Stoutonia office with this sign: "When my shoes are worn out, I'll be on my feet again."

He was so popular that his friends had to give him a club and had to cut the telephone wires.

"I drank from a fire extinguisher yesterday."
"And how do you feel."
"Oh, very much put out."

"When do the leaves begin to turn?"
"The night before the exams start"

When was the radio first operated in America?"
When Paul Revere broadcasted on one plug.

Some people say an apple a day keeps the doctor away. Doris Henry says, "A letter from him each day keeps lonesomeness away."

Didja take your girl home last night?"
Naw, I left 'er at her house.

New style for college men: Law-ernie Johnson appeared with a corn cob pipe. All smokers please adopt.

Three words freshmen say: I don't know.

Try this one—
Put down the number of your living brothers. Multiply that by two. Add three. Multiply the result by five. Add the number of living sisters. Multiply by ten. Add the numbers of dead brothers and sisters. Subtract 150 from the result. "Now the right hand figure will be the number of deaths, the middle figure the number of living sisters, and the left hand figure the number of living brothers.

A Scotchman told a popular magazine he would send them an original Scotch joke if they would pay the postage on it.

How long did you study your lesson?
Between forty and fifty minutes.
I see—ten minutes.

Ice Skating Rink Is Now Completed

The skating rink on the Stout lot has proven to be a great source of outdoor enjoyment to many Stout students during the past week end.

The rink almost covers the entire old Stout athletic field, and because of the levelness of this plot of ground, it is an ideal one for a skating rink. Due to the cooperation of a local club and city, a number of new pipe lines have been installed for flooding purposes, and the new method in flooding the rink has proven very successful. Several large electric lights are to be placed about the rink to allow those who wish to skate during the evening. Providing the old weatherman treats us fairly, every student should enjoy this invigorating outdoor sport.

—S—

Did You Know That-

Stout coed:—"It says here that girls are to be truly feminine this year."

Stout coed:—"Oh why can't they leave us alone and let us be natural?"

"Mother, can I keep a diary?"
"Certainly darling."
"But can I keep this perfectly dizzy one that I found downstairs in your desk?"

The Annex girls gave the four graduating Seniors a party Wednesday evening. The Senior guests were Kathryn conducted a foods class and Alma rendered upon the piano.

The guests had to furnish the entertainment, much to the merriment of the others. Henry was requested to sing nursery school songs without accompaniment. Mildred Belina gave a dance with a broom for a partner. Kathryn conducted a foods class and Alma rendered upon the piano.

The program was appreciated by the spectators and caused much amusement.

Jo Edinger:—"We only had one course this noon as my mother washed today."

B. Hoeser:—"Do you think this photo does me justice?"
Emma Hanson:—"Well, yes, justice tempered with mercy.

The Seniors also had a contest putting on the clothes which they found in bags which were given them. The contents of the bags were the funniest part of the contest. We know now that they are some old fashioned girls in the Annex.

"Do you and your wife agree on anything?"
"Yes, we agree that I don't make enough money."

"I'm sorry I married you", sobbed the bride.
"You ought to be. You cheated some other girl out of a mighty fine husband."

—S—

Miss Luella F. Norwood, Professor of English and Dean of Women at Beloit College for the past four and a half years, has resigned her position and will leave at the end of the present semester to continue the work for her doctor's degree at Yale University. The arrangement which Miss Norwood has made is in the form of a special sabbatical leave of absence granted by the administration.

—The Round Table.

If the bed is too short my fiddlestick out..
So I get up potato clock.
Sanctuary much for your attention.
But I don't Caribbean for it.

—The Styles.

Here'n There

The High School Dramatic Club at Missoula, Montana, is to put on "The Patsy" Stout's 1928 Homecoming play.

Bradley is one of the three colleges chosen to found the new Alpha Delta journalistic fraternity. Augustana college and Illinois Wesleyan are the other two.

—The Bradley Tech

Two hundred and fifty presidents of student bodies, heads of councils for student control, editors, class presidents, and other official delegates met at Stanford University January 1, 2, 3, 4, 1930, for the fifth annual congress of the national Student Federation of America, a national association of university and college student bodies. Delegates were officially representing the undergraduate students of America.

Their purpose was to make their offices and student organizations more effective.

Originating with the Intercollegiate World Court Congress at Princeton in 1925, successive annual congresses have met at the Universities of Michigan, Nebraska and Missouri.

The Congress was organized in plenary sessions, regional meetings, open discussion groups.

Speakers other than students, addressing plenary sessions, were men and women outstanding in international relations, social, political, or physical science, industrial statesmanship, education, literature, theology.

Tissues taken from a fowl seventeen years ago, still are kept alive by Dr. Alexis Carrel of the Rockefeller Institute of New York. The tissues taken from the heart of a chicken are kept in a vault maintained at about blood heat, and not only live but grow fast under rigid conditions affording proper heat, light, moisture and food that they must be trimmed frequently.

The Hamline Piper was approved as the name for the student literary publication of Hamline University at a meeting of the literary board Tuesday. The magazine is a successor to the Review, publication of which has been suspended during recent years.

The first issue of the Hamline Piper for the current school will appear about January 18, according to Mildred James, editor. All manuscript material for the number has been assembled.

In suggesting the change in title the literary board believed that the new name was more in keeping with the nature of the publication and would create interest among the students. The paper once had the name Maga, diminutive of magazine.

The letter goes with the postman,
The seashore goes with the sea,
A mover goes with a moving van,
Come on, gal, go with me.
INTERLUDE
During which 1911 Lizzy gets into action:

The andirons sit by the fire place,
A shadow by the tree,
So the side of the seat in this certain case
Where you sit, is next to me.

Very short interlude:
A wrapper goes round a tin can,
A tire goes round a wheel,
A breeze goes round an electric fan,
I've had no exercise for a week.
No Interlude:
It's warm when there's coal in the furnace,
Gasoline warms up a car.
Juice warms up an electric iron,
.....Turn on the heat.

Some time later!
When there's too much steam in a boiler,
When there's too much juice in the wire,
When there's too muc air in a tire,
Things happen....Yeh, the heat's on.
—The Steamship and the Screw.
—The Purple Passion.

Organizations

Y. M. C. A. Holds
Regular Meeting

The first meeting of the Y. M. C. A. club of the year was held in their club rooms Thursday evening.

The meeting was opened by its newly elected president, R. Bonsall Smith, with a short devotional period and followed by a few minutes for the transaction of business. We were next presented with the speaker of the evening, Coach Paulus, who gave a very inspirational speech, one that was well received by the members of the club. After a few musical numbers, the evening was concluded with refreshments and a social hour wherein members of the club further strengthened their acquaintances with each other.

Y. M. C. A. Club
Rooms to be Re-decorated

At a recent cabinet meeting of the Y. M. C. A. club many things of importance were discussed and acted upon. It was decided to completely re-organize and re-decorate the room. New furniture and tapestries will make their appearance and the entire room will be decidedly more restful and cozy than it now is. Other changes will also be made, with the assurance to its members that they will soon have one of the finest club rooms on the campus.

De Molays Hold
Interesting Meeting

The first meeting of the year of the Stout De Molay Club was held Wednesday evening in the Y. W. C. A. Clubroom.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mac Morrison. A good number of members were present. After the disposal of the regular business, the question of the De Molay Formal Dance, to be held on March 22nd, was brought up. Mr. Melvin Reese was unanimously elected as prom chair-fair, which, held annually, has a firm man. Various committees for the affair in the hearts of all Stoutonians, will be soon appointed, and work commenced at an early moment.

Discussion of a change in meeting night, so as not to conflict with that of other organizations on the campus was also taken up, the result being that a notice will soon be posted as to a change, which is quite probable.

Members who have not as yet turned in their individual pictures for the De Molay panel in The Tower are urgently requested to do so within the next few days.

LANTERN INSTALLED

Miss Carson, instructor in the Related Art Department, announces the installation of a new Keystone Daylight lantern for picture slides and also a screen on which to show them. This is to be used in the House Furnishing Department.

It will make it possible for the classes to obtain practical experience in judging good types of house fur-

Haircuts at any hour of the day
Three first class barbers
THE ELECTRIC SHOP

See us for haircuts; we satisfy
our customers
THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

Stationary and
School Supplies
Sheet Music - Records
A. R. OLSON

Mrs. Frances Boughton
Dies at City Hospital

Mrs. Frances Boughton, mother of Miss Clara Boughton, supervisor of practice teaching, died of embolism at 11:45 Thursday morning, January 16 at the city hospital.

On January 4, Mrs. Boughton fell down stairs at her home on Ninth avenue, fracturing a hip. She was taken to the city hospital, and apparently was recovering very nicely, until shortly before her death.

Mrs. Boughton was born May 27, 1850. For 37 years she was a teacher in the primary grades at Two Rivers and Manitowac, Wis. She has been a resident of Menomonie for a number of years, and has been closely associated with the activities of The Stout Institute.

Mrs. Boughton had as her hobby beautiful gardens. Faculty and townspeople will hold in remembrance the beautiful roses that they both admired and received from her gardens.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at her home at 901 8th Street, the Rev. George H. Waters of the Congregational Church officiating. Interment will be made at Manitowoc, Wis.

Schedule for Final
Exams is Announced

The group examinations will be given Thursday and Friday of the last week of this semester, January 23 and 24. These examinations are largely for courses in which there are two or more class sections. This is done as it has in the past to make the giving of the exams to the groups at one time and thereby simplify matters considerably. The hours, days, rooms and subjects are posted on the bulletin boards in both buildings.

The regular class schedules will operate until Wednesday evening of next week, Jan. 22. Other examinations that are not included on the lists will be given at the last class meeting or meetings.

Eighty Slides Secured

The picture slides are from the American Renaissance Series. Eighty slides have been secured on Historic, American, Domestic Architecture, Interiors and Furniture.

Other slides will be added as the class work progresses, many of which will be made from kodak pictures of fine architecture.

Attend the athletic banquet next Thursday evening.

Personals

LYNWOOD

Coffee was served in the recreation rooms Sunday afternoon by Helen Novak and Anne Westman. Dean Michaels was the guest of honor for the afternoon. Music was furnished by Vivian Florin, Marie Simonson and Myrtle Anderson.

Dr. Bachman entertained guests Sunday evening.

Miss Eva Jensen who has been driving back and forth to school, is now living at Lynwood.

Mary Fox and Jane Hambley, who have been spending the past six weeks at Homemakers, will return to Lynwood at the close of this semester.

Esther Mc Kowan and Beulah Todd will leave school at the end of the semester. Beulah has accepted a teaching position in Detroit.

TAINTER ANNEX

An unusually successful farewell party was given by the Annex girls to the four graduating seniors, who are leaving the Annex at the close of the semester.

The program was impromptu; each graduating member did her bit. Henrietta Sievert sang several nursery songs; Mildred Belina presented a clever dance, with a broom as a partner. Katherine Counsel conducted a foods class in an unusual manner; Alma Winzer entertained with two appropriate selections.

There were several other clever stunts, after which refreshments were served.

TAINTER HALL

Hazel Flaget, Milred Dingee, and Elva Page accompanied Miss Carson and the House Furnishings II class on a field trip to Minneapolis on Friday and Saturday.

Several of the Hall girls joined the skaters at the rink Saturday afternoon.

Found:—Two stray cats. At any rate a huge black cat, stranded on the roof of Tainter Hall proved to be a very ungracious as well as an unwelcome visitor on Friday night. How he reached such lofty heights, no one seems to know, but he made his appearance about ten-thirty P. M. and succeeded in providing plenty of entertainment, if such it might be called. Those who succeeded in getting to sleep before ten-thirty were lucky; the rest received the benefits of a poor

DAIRY OF AN ABSENT-MINDED ROFESSOR

Monday—Forgot to turn off water while bathing baby. Funeral tomorrow.

Tuesday—Slipped on ice and forgot to fall down.

Wednesday—Couldn't find my diary book; Couldn't write in it.

Thursday—Fell down stairs. Cussed and kicked my wife and asked the stairpost why we couldn't have dinner on time tonight.

Friday—Told Dr. Hamilton to raise my salary or I'd quit and then asked him how many sides had a square.

Saturday—Went to school to find all my students had cut. Put the car on my head and drove home in my new Stetson.

Sunday—Went to church and clapped my hands after the hymnal. Shook hands with the minister's baby and then kissed his wife.

That's all this week.

Figuratively speaking, we have figures that attract men and women. Those that attract men:

Clara Bow, Joan Crawford, Venus de Milo.

Those that attract women:

$1.98.

—The Round Table.

—S—

source of entertainment for the rest of the night.

A semi-formal dinner in honor of the seniors who are to receive degrees at the end of this semester, will be given Friday evening by the Foods III class. Miss Michaels will also be a guest. The dinner will be served at six o'clock in the dining room on the third floor of the Home Economics building.

Supt. Keller Speaks
At Regular Assembly

Supt. Keller, of Eau Claire, addressed the Stout student body at yesterday's assembly on the subject of Scientific Education. Supt. Keller is perhaps one of the firmest believers and admirers of education in its fullest degree, and much credit is due him for his highly educational and scientific talk. His talk centered around the thoroughness with which education must be carried on and that the old half hazard methods of education can no longer stand up beside the new and well founded principles which now support education. He stressed the inevitable fact that our modern educational set-up must be ever on the change and increase the same as all other factors which operate in our social environment. Education must be well founded and the facts must be made clear otherwise the purpose of our educational institutions will defeat themselves.

Mr. Faville Former Student

Mr. Keller gave as an example of what good and thorough schooling may do if correctly applied and maintained, one of his former students, namely Mr. Faville. He said if all education would get as firm a foothold and bring as good result as it had for Mr. Faville, our educational programs would undoubtedly be a great success. THE STOUTONIA and student body wish to extend a hearty thanks to Mr. Keller for his compliment and very interesting and educational talk.

Successful people visit their barber frequently
"It Pays To Look Well"
I. W. NESSER
The Barber

A SHOE BUYERS FESTIVAL
AT GRAVEN AND WILCOX
FOR 15 DAYS ONLY—BEGINNING JANUARY 17
Our entire stock of quality up-to-date stock of Footwear reduced 20 percent with the exception of Women's Ennagetic and Men's Friendly Five.
OXFORDS, ZIPPERS AND OVERSHOES INCLUDED

GRAVEN and WILCOX
"The Service Shoe Store"

COME IN AND SEE
OUR FINE ASSORTMENT
OF DIAMONDS
WE HAVE THE BEST

NELS ANSHUS

The Place "The Gang" goes when they are Hungry
THE OLYMPIA

Good Meals and Refreshments
SERVICE

Hotel Marion      Coffee Shop

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM      F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED      OPTOMETRISTS

STORE WIDE
Reductions
EVANS TOBINS CO.

Sport Coats      Sheep Lined Coats
Pullovers
at prices that will please you.

TEARE CLOTHING COMPANY

McMillan Talks on Phases Of Modern Vocational Guidance

Explains To Teachers Some Basic Principles For Advisers

(From The Dakota Scientist) Wahpeton, N. D.

"He chose the right thing and didn't do it blindly."

"Seven out of a hundred make a genuinely intelligent choice of vocation."

"At this time when eighty percent of our high school students are not going into strictly professional work, a good system of vocational guidance is quite necessary."

The above quotations represent the central thoughts which Prof. J. C. Mc Millan constructed a talk on vocational guidance, delivered at a meeting of Richland county teachers at Fairmount last Monday evening. The association in question is composed of city and town superintendents, principals and high school teachers. Other speakers were Mr. R. T. Tolo, Hankinson who spoke on "A Program for High School Music and Mrs. Donnahower of Lidgerwood who talked interestingly about the work of a girl's advisor in high school.

With a large subject and a comparatively brief allotment of time, Mr. McMillan selected a few major phases of vocational guidance work. "It is the business of the advisor" he said, to assist the student in studying the world of occupations and determining as early as possible his own interests and abilities. To take one simple example of the latter process. A boy tells you that he wants to be an engineer. You discover by the various means at your disposal that he has no aptitude for mathematics. Obviously then, your duty is to direct him away from engineering and towards something better suited to his ability."

"The advisor", he went on to say, "should know the nature of opportunities in occupations." In response to a question on the latter point, Mr. McMillan stated that advisors could get highly valuable information on this by writing to the Harvard Bureau of Vocational Guidance. He closed his address by a careful explanation of a personal record card which he had devised while doing grauate work in the field of vocational education. One side of the card was adapted to contain personal data relating to former activities of the student. On the reverse side two divided sections, one for convenient record of the student's performance while attending the high school, the other a record of employment after graduation. The various items on the card were specified after careful investigation and conference, not only with educators but with heads and department managers of sixteen great industrial firms. The industrial people, Mr. McMillan found, were more concerned with personal traits than they were with formal education. Out of a long list of such traits the speaker chose for his card the following ten: initiative, responsibility, industry, co-operation, leadership courtesy, accuracy, judgment or common sense, ambition and personal appearance.

In discussion following the speech Supt. Dominick of Wahpeton observed that employees probably knew, while asking about these traits that the student rating high in these was certain to have done good school

Last Minute Spurt at La Crosse Beats Stout

(Continued from page one)

game in years, guarded superbly, and is a coming outfit in general.

Box score:

| STOUT—               | FG | TF | PF |
|----------------------|----|----|----|
| Micheels, rf .....   | 1  | 0  | 3  |
| Peterson, rf .....   | 1  | 1  | 0  |
| Haase, lf .....      | 1  | 0  | 2  |
| Buros, c .....       | 0  | 1  | 2  |
| Hanson, rg .....     | 1  | 0  | 0  |
| Johnson rg .....     | 0  | 0  | 0  |
| Hoernamann, lg ..... | 2  | 0  | 2  |
| Schaude, f .....     | 0  | 0  | 0  |
| Totals .....         | 6  | 2  | 9  |

LA CROSSE—

|                     |    |   |   |
|---------------------|----|---|---|
| Cashman, rf .....   | 2  | 1 | 0 |
| Borgstrom, lf ..... | 2  | 0 | 0 |
| Kraft, lf .....     | 0  | 0 | 1 |
| Ansarge, c .....    | 1  | 0 | 1 |
| Juel, rg .....      | 3  | 2 | 0 |
| Baxter, lg .....    | 2  | 1 | 2 |
| Totals .....        | 10 | 4 | 4 |

Commission Fever Hits Stout Institute

(Continued from page one)

There is no reason why they can't publish their exam question in the local paper three days before the exam, in order that the students would be able to pass the same. This recommendation was killed, because it favored the Labor union insofar as it would give the printers more over-time work.

Cheating Is Disproved

The rumor that students cheat in examinations was proved false. The commission questioned several of them separately, and received the same reply from all thus establishing the fact beyond any question of doubt.

The report was closed with the following statement: "We, the commission on school terms, do hereby submit this report, which we believe to be a true and unbiased one, into the hands of the newspapers for publication as is required by law, Vol. 7, Sec. 5, page 234, of the laws of 1927." but was later taken out because of a technicality in the wording so we omit it.

work.

With regard to intelligence tests Mr. McMillan said, "What remains of prejudice against intelligence tests is due to the fact that many, in applying them, either place too much reliance on a single one or try to make the tests prove more than they were ever intended to prove. The worth of the intelligence test, as one of the chief means of estimating ability is now generally recognized both by educators and employers."

Hit the exams next week and hit 'em hard.

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonie Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

Marked Success of Dancing Class is Seen

(Continued from page one)

seems to have subdued the perils of the marathon arena and is now coming to the foreground as a dancer. No report has been given out by him as yet regarding bids.

It was reported that Rose blossomed out with a new girl last week. More proof to show the unfailing social advantages gained by strict attendance.

Other Results Begin to Show

Cushman has mastered the Fox Trot now, thanks to the class and Miss Balerud's patience, and has gone into training for the prom. Judging by the number of Ayes, everyone is wishing him luck.

As the paper goes to press a report has been given out that Prof. Faville had better look out or he may be looking around for a new house-keeper. Although she doesn't know it yet, a heart beats mercilessly in the bosom of fone of the male debutants whenever good fortune sends her his way. Another feather into the hat of the dancing class. Good luck, cupid.

Athletic Dinner to Feature Two Coaches

(Continued from page one)

of the student support given the coach and his teams at Stout, and it is hoped that the Thursday banquet will reassure him in this regard.

Sports Authority to Speak

It is expected that George Downer will be another speaker of the evening. Mr. Downer is a recognized sports authority by virtue of the fact that he was for several years sports editor for a leading Milwaukee newspaper. He is now connected with the state university in publicity work. Mr. Downer is a son-in-law of President Nelson. It is certain that he will have an inspiring message for Stout students if he is able to appear.

The Stout orchestra will furnish entertainment during the dinner. The dinner itself, it is promised, will leave nothing to be desired. It is to be a "bang-up" affair from every angle. Not every student can be accommodated, so it is advisable to seek the ticket sellers early next week to be sure of reservations.

Menomonie Baking Co.

Don't Forget Jaeger's Select Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

GRAND

Sat.—Sun.
Tom Tyler and his Pals in "Terror Mountain"
Mat. Sun. 3 o'clock

ORPHEUM

Dolores Costello in
"Hearts in Exile"
News and Screen Vodeville

SATURDAY

"Queen of the Night Club" with Texas Guinan
also Talking Comeddy

Sunday and Monday
Everett Horton in
"The Sap"

Sound News and Screen
Vodvil.
Mat. Sunday, 2:30

Tuesday and Wednesday
Richard Barthlemess in
"Young Nowheres"
Also Talking Comedy

Thursday and Friday
Colleen Moore in
"Footlights and Fools"
News and Comedy
"Sunny Side Up"—4 days
commencing Jan. 29.

Many Students Receive Positions

(Continued from page one)

derson has accepted a position for one semester at La Salle, Illinois and later expects to teach at St. Thomas College in St. Paul.

Lester Hawkes goes to the Madison Vocational School, John Notham to a Boys School in Omaha, Nebraska, and Thomas Junck to Atlanta, Ga.,

Several others have received appointments but are as yet undecided about accepting the positions.

ON QUITTING

How much grit do you think you've got.

Can you quit a thing that you like a lot?

You may talk of pluck; it's an easy word,

And wherever you go it is often heard.

But can you tell to a jot or guess, Just how much courage you now possess?

Don't boast of your grit till you've tried it out,

Nor prate to men of your courage stout,

For it's easy enough to retain a grin In the face of a fight there's a chance to win.

But the sort of grit that is good to own Is the stuff you need when you're all alone.

How much grit do you think you've got,

Can you turn from joys that you like a lot?

Have you ever tested yourself to know go? How far with yourself your will can

If you want to know whether or not you've grit

Just pick out a joy that you like—to quit.

Mike Kerkes Scores Technical Knockout

Mike Kerkes, better known as Biwabic today gave the boys of the campus the biggest surprise of the year.

With gasping breath he rushed around notifying everyone with no uncertain words, "I'm going to El Paso, Texas, got a teaching job down there."

It won't be long now before the natives of lower Texas will be well informed on the merits of the great "Iron Range" of Northern Minnesota and the greatest little town on the range, Biwabic.

With only two and a half years of training at Stout, he has been chosen to teach woodwork in the El Paso public schools. A Stout training pays.

REMEMBER—

Next Friday night—River Falls here for the annual cage battle! Let's everyone turn out and help win.

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
EAT

THE PEERLESS GRILL
"THE HOME OF GOOD FOOD"

FOUNTAIN PENS

Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor

Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice

Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

The Shaker Studios are always glad to serve you. You always get the best in photography if your photographs are made at the Shaker Studios.

Let us develop your Kodak films.

SHAKER STUDIOS

"Makers of real live photographs"

The Best In

OVERSHOES

SWENSON & BERNDT

"The Shoe Men"

Let's Eat

HOMEMADE

Ice Cream

Cakes

-- --

-- Pies --

at Candie's

Do-Nuts

THE CANDY SHOPPE

Service We Do Dry Cleaning Service

Every Day

Suits Made To Measure

Menomonie Dye House

Running & Cole

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP

NEW SPRING DRESSES
ARRIVING DAILY

STOUT SCHOOL SUPPLIES

at

LEE'S DRUG STORE

Farewell-Welcome Athletic Banquet is Big Success

Rev. Kingsley
Speaks on Negro
Problem, At Stout

Believes That the White and the Black Races Can Exist Together In the U.S.

One of the most inspiring and clarifying addresses that a Stout assembly has been privileged to hear was delivered yesterday morning by the Reverend Harold Kingsley, of Chicago, chairman of negro work for the Federal Council of Churches, and pastor of the largest negro church in the north.

For the students and faculty and the several townspeople who had this unusual opportunity, the speaker's success in clearing up many of the misconceptions with which the race problem is forced to struggle, was marked. The reception given Mr. Kingsley was evidence of the appreciation of a northern audience for first-hand information not readily available for them.

Other Meetings Held

The young people's discussion group, which meets Sunday evenings at the Congregational church, was responsible for this national leader's appearance in Menomonie. They met with him in the band box last evening for supper, and a more intimate discussion of some of the questions raised in his morning address.

The public meeting last night at the Congregational church was well attended, the eagerness of the audience proving the desire for information upon subjects Mr. Kingsley (Continued on page four)

Coeds Organize
Long-awaited-for Basketball Teams

Tie Between Freshmen and Junior Girls to be Played off

The long-awaited-for Basket Ball season for women is opening at last this coming week and we are all keenly waiting to see just who will be the winners.

In Flash ball the Freshmen girls tied the Junior girls. This tie was not played off; however, it will be played off if these two classes should tie for School Championship. The Juniors, having been school champions last year, are determined to hold the same title again this year. The Junior and Senior girls are working under a distinct disadvantage because they do not get the practice and good technique from their gym classes that the other two classes do.

The heads chosen for the different teams are as follows: Freshmen and Annex team, Miriam Moore; Sophomore and Lynwood team, Myrtle Anderson; Junior team, Marietta De Cramer; Senior team, Ruth Lindall-Town Team, Laura Andreassen. These girls are capable players and equally capable of choosing teams that will fight hard for their respective groups.

The schedule for the games is as follows:

- 1 Freshmen vs. Sophomore, Feb. 5 at 5 P. M.
- 2 Annex vs. Lynwood, Feb. 6, at 7 P. M.
- 3 Juniors vs. Seniors, Feb. 12, at 5 P. M.
- 4 Winner of 2 vs. Town, Feb. 13, at 7 P. M.

(Continued on page two)

Miss Mariel Hopkins
New Faculty Member

Miss Mariel Hopkins of Cleveland, Ohio, is now teaching Experimental Cookery, Foods III and History of Cookery.

Miss Hopkins comes with sixteen years of teaching experience. She has the Bachelor of Science degree from Iowa State College, the Masters' from the University of Chicago and is working for her Doctor's degree now.

Director at Kentucky "U"

At one time she was Director of Home Economics at the University of Kentucky. She was State Director of Vocational Home Economics for Oklahoma.

Stout Institute is fortunate in obtaining the services of an instructor with such broad experience.

—S—

Staff Members Given
Farewell Banquet;
Gold Pin Awards

Staff is Badly Crippled with the Loss of Hawkes, Nichols, and Williams

The Stoutonia held one of its highly informal banquets in the Y. W. C. A. club rooms just before the close of the semester. The Stoutonia staff is perhaps one of the most active organizations on the campus and when it comes to banqueting they are undoubtedly the most active.

The banquet had a two-fold purpose: it was a farewell banquet for those members who have accepted teaching positions for the second semester, and also a mid-year festival for the staff in general.

Awards Made

The staff regretted very much to see Lester Hawkes, Irma Nichola, and Elizabeth Williams leave. These three people have held the highest positions on the staff during the past semester, and the staff is badly handicapped by their leaving.

After a fine dinner had been enjoyed, Mr. Hague took charge of the meeting and in a very nice little talk he expressed his and the staff's appreciation for the work that these people had done. Miss Nichols and Mr. Hawkes were awarded gold pins for their services on the staff. Mr. Hague then appointed E. V. Ahonen to act as temporary editor of the paper until a definite selection is made. The matter of selecting new members for the staff was discussed, and although the staff is at the present time quite handicapped it is hoped that in a few weeks everything will be running smoothly.

| Monday            |       |              |
|-------------------|-------|--------------|
| Science Club      | - -   | 5 o'clock    |
| Stoutonia Staff   | - -   | 5 o'clock    |
| Tower Staff       | - -   | 7 o'clock    |
| Women's Glee Club | - -   | 7 o'clock    |
| Men's Glee Club   | - -   | 7 o'clock    |
| Tuesday           |       |              |
| Band              | - - - | 7 o'clock    |
| Philo             | - - - | 7 o'clock    |
| Wednesday         |       |              |
| Rifle Club        | - -   | 7 o'clock    |
| Metallurgy Club   | - -   | 7 o'clock    |
| Y. M. C. A.       | - -   | 5 o'clock    |
| Thursday          |       |              |
| Aremi             | - -   | 7:30 o'clock |
| Hyperion          | - -   | 5 o'clock    |
| W. A. A.          | - -   | 7 o'clock    |
| Orchestra         | - -   | 7 o'clock    |

Mid Winter Formal
Scene of Gay Colors
And Feature Dances

David Stori and Dorothy Madden Win Prizes as Best Lookers

An ice palace was the setting for the third annual winter ball given by the Hyperion, Pannomathean and S. M. A. societies in the gym last Saturday night.

To the strains of music by the Clearwater Collegians, the girls, attractively dressed in gowns of many colors and the men in their black and white danced a program of thirteen dances.

Feature Dance Given

Variety in the program was offered by Miss Frances Moulton who presented an intricate toe dance and by the introduction of a balloon dance and a cornetti dance. The final touches were furnished by two moonlight waltzes.

The guests of honor were President and Mrs. Nelson, Dean and Mrs. Bowman, and Dean Michaels. The advisers of the three societies present were: Miss Burgom, Miss Jeter, Miss Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Grannis.

Madden and Stori Win Prize

Miss Dorothy Madden and Mr. David Stori were presented with a bouquet of roses as a prize for being the best looking couple during a certain dance.

Miss Henrietta Sievert was general (Continued on page two)

—S—

- Extra -

Pointers Bow to Trainers For First Conference Victory

Burbidge's Men Take Victory From Stevens Pointers 31 to 26

True to the predictions found in another story in THE STOUTONIA, the Trainers journeyed to Stevens Point for their first conference victory this year.

THE STOUTONIA was held up this morning by a special telegram from the boys stating that they had won by the beautiful score of 31 to 26.

Stevens Point was Coach Burbidge's first foe as coach of the "Blue and White".

Everyone feels that the victory denotes the turning point of Stout's reverses, and that from now on the team is going to pile up win upon win.

Give the boys a hand when the team gets back. They deserve it. Get the old spirit again and show them that the school is behind them to a man.

Don't forget that La Crosse plays here next week. Talk it up and talk in terms of a victory.

—S—

MULLER ELECTED KING

The Junior class saw fit to elect Ernest Muller to act as Prom King.

Special Bus May Go To River Falls

There is talk on the campus of promoting a bus load to accompany Burbidge's Trainers on their return game at River Falls, February .22. Whether or not this project will win administrative and student approval, it is worth thinking about. The Falls brought a surprisingly great number of supporters to their game here, and it is suggested that Stout return the compliment, as well as give the team help on its attempt to gain revenge in the return game. Those who might be interested in supporting the bus trip are asked to make this interest known to President Schauder or Cheerleader Gardiner.

Students' Support Needed

Stout needs a few conference victories, so let's talk it up students, and show the team that we have the good old-fashioned never-die spirit. How about it?

—S—

Stout Graduate Is Still Winning In Novelty Contests

Man and Wife Make Feature Contest Winning a Business

Winning contest has proven a very profitable hobby for Harvard C. Smith and his wife, residents of Kenosha and former Stout students, who have won about $3000 as prizes in picture contests in the last nine months.

The Milwaukee Journal for January 26 carries the photographs of Mr. and Mrs. Smith with a full account of their recent successes.

Supplementary to his work as Manual Training teacher at Washington Junior High school in Kenosha, Mr. Smith has adopted the slogan that workmanship counts and has entered so many matching and picture contests that it has become a business with him.

Mrs. Smith, who was also a student at Stout, dabbles in contests herself and is of much practical assistance to her husband. Their skillfulness first won them the $1000 prize in the Milwaukee Journal "famous faces" contest about nine months ago when Mr. Smith spent a week during vacation matching the faces. The story goes on to state that he constructed a miniature hall of fame out of wood. When the roof of the little building was opened the famous faces appeared. This entry won the $1000.

The next attempt in a movie magazine contest. After he matched these pictures, Mr. Smith so constructed a movie camera that when the crank was turned the side opened up and (Continued on page two)

TRY OUT FOR THE
STOUTONIA STAFF

Several positions on the Stoutonia staff have been left vacant as a result of mid-year placements. Now is the time for those students who have ability, but who have not as yet tried out for a berth on the staff, to do so.

Show your spirit by doing your duty to your paper. If you can make the grade, a hearty welcome awaits you. Become one of the "Family" and enjoy the work and good times with us.

Downer Speaks
On Modern Trends
In College Athletics

Paulus Bids Stout Farewell and Burbidge Outlines New Athletic Plans

A farewell to Coach S. E. Paulus and a welcome to the new coach, Earl Burbidge, brought a fine crowd of students, faculty, and townspeople to the athletic banquet Monday evening in the Cafeteria. George Downer of Madison was the main speaker.

When everyone had crowded himself with a delightful chicken dinner, Ralph Schauder, president of the Stout Student Association, outlined the purpose of the banquet and introduced the speakers. The first speaker was the beloved entertainer, Mr. Davidson, who gave his interpretation of Axel Peterson's discussion on Basket Ball. He also told those present a few pointers on the newly organized Cod Liver Oil Bowling team. Those who were not familiar with the game before the speech were very well versed on the subject when Axel was through.

President Welcomes Burbidge

President Nelson was the next speaker. He extended an official welcome to Coach Burbidge. Mr. Nelson mentioned many interesting situations that had turned up while he was looking for a new coach. He stated that one of the decisive factors in the election of Mr. Burbidge was his perseverance shown the day he made a personal application.

Mr. Burbidge drove to Menomonie on one of the coldest days of the win- (Continued on page four)

—S—

Stout Rifle Club
Wins Shoot From
Menomonie Team

Two Months of Patient Training in Rifle Club Permeates in Victory

After two months of patient training in sighting, breathing, and trigger squeezing, the Stout Rifle Club settled a two months' old score against the Menomonie City Rifle Team by beating them in a shooting match on their own floor. The origin of this shooting contest can be traced to last November when the Stout Rifle Club full of confidence after a successful season of outdoor shooting, challenged the city team to a match. The result of that contest was not so pleasing to the members of the Stout team especially as the match had been shot on their own range. They were on the losing end of a contest which they had been confident of winning, but, as good riflemen, they admitted that the victors were superior in finding and puncturing the seemingly elusive bull's eye.

The Stout team practiced faithfully and waited for a return challenge, which came with the new year, inviting them to shoot on the city team's range situated in Company A's Armory. The school team gladly accepted the challenge and on Tuesday night, January 28, they succeeded in winning the match from the city team, the final score being 823 to 820. The closeness of the score indicates that the shooting done by both sides was excellent.

Ten men represented the Stout team and a like number the city team, but only the scores of the five best on (Continued on page four)

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                               |                       |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Managing Editor               | E. V. Ahonen          |
| Associate Editor              | Henrietta L. Quilling |
| News Editor                   | Chester Mau           |
| News Editor                   | Belinda Hendrickson   |
| Assistant News Editor         | Bernard Hagen         |
| Feature Editor                | William Soucie        |
| Feature Editor                | Al Poellinger         |
| Humor Editor                  | Carl Roll             |
| Sports Editor                 | Georgia Aber          |
| Sports Editor                 | William Michaels      |
| Exchange Editor               | Bernice Bricker       |
| Organization Editor           | Anita Gundlach        |
| Organization Editor           | Alfred M. Reinhold    |
| Cartoonist                    | Kathleen Lind         |
| Reporters                     | Vivian Hewitt         |
|                               | Grace Quarters        |
| Business Manager              | Earl C. Halverson     |
| Circulation Manager           | Robert G. Reick       |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Carl Roll             |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Byron Canatsey        |
| Advertising Manager           | Marlo McCullough      |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr.        | Donald K. Lind        |
| Foreman Mechanical Department | Kent Riggs            |
| Under Direction of            | Mr. C. W. Hague       |
| Editorial Adviser             | Mr. John Faville, Jr. |
| Associate Adviser             | Miss Helen Sarchet    |

“DON’T GO AWAY, WORLD”

The STOUTONIA staff has been hard hit this semester, by the loss of Lester Hawkes, the Mentor of the organization, Irma Nichols, the associate, and Elizabeth Williams, our News Editor.

Their work was always of such a caliber that it is going to be hard to find others to take their places. Therefore, if while reading the next few issues you find that the STOUTONIA is not up to par; please keep this in mind and cooperate with us rather than knock the paper, and we will do everything in our power to make the adjustments as soon as possible.

START IN RIGHT

If you didn’t do so well last semester; forget about it and buckle down to business now.

If you think that you didn’t get the grade you deserved in some subject, ask your prof. to justify it and forget about it with a new determination to do better this semester.

If you flunked, don’t go around blaming and condemning the faculty; think awhile and you will find the reason in yourself.

If you made a good record this last semester, don’t fall down in your work now and expect your old honor points to carry you through with a “C” average. You may wish you hadn’t later on.

Remember the scholarships. They are worth working for, so start now. Don’t wait until next spring.

Do your work from day to day and you will find that you enjoy it much more.

NEW YELLS

Isn’t it just about time that Stout got some new yells?

There are just about three yells that the cheer leaders can fall back on either at a game or in assembly. Such a condition is almost a disgrace to the College.

Come on you talented rhymsters, get hot, and develope a few new snappy yells to take place of our worn out wind breakers.

UPTON SINCLAIR

It is very seldom that we get a chance to hear about Mr. Sinclair and his works for several reasons. Two of them I shall give here.

First, he publishes his own books, and is therefore not brought to the foreground by the big publishing houses of the country.

Second, as a result of publishing “The Brass Check” he found a very strong enemy in the Associated Press, and therefore closed that channel of publicity.

Nevertheless, I feel that no student should graduate from any college without some knowledge regarding the works of this great economist, who dared to expose the “Meat Trust,” the Associated Press, the autocracy of some of our American colleges, and many other well-covered sore spots in our land. Read his “The Brass Check,” “The Jungle,” “Singing Jailbirds,” “The Cry for Justice,” “The Goose-step,” and “King Coal.” Don’t swallow them without salt, but weight their worth and draw your own conclusions.

You will find them interesting and strange in many ways; you will get a new slant on the economic conditions in this country; and you will find that you learned less than one-half of the real facts regarding many of the recent labor disturbances through the papers. Here is a man who has studied his problem and knows what he is talking about, for they have never found him guilty of libel. I take my hat off to him and feel that most of you will do the same if you just give him a chance.

—The Editor

Let’s Laugh

After last week
Tests, finals were everywhere
With drops and drops of ink,
But nver a teacher left the room.
To allow a guy to think.

Gay Roe, Stanley’s contribution to romance, went hiking Sunday. He took his hat off when he walked past Lynwood Hall so that the girls could see his curly hair.

Bill Gardiner has discovered a new part in an automobile engine; namely,
the galloping rod.

“What is the difference between a sailor and a college man?”
“A sailor has a girl at every port, and a college man has a girl at every davenport.”

We hear that Charleston is engaged.
Congratulations.

Kess invented a new style of offensive play in basket ball known as the Indian style.

Mayor Hooper is becoming very handy with his dukes (Fists).

Tiny: “That’s going in the Stoutonia.”
Stoney: “If it does, someone is going to die.”

Big surprise: Speed Kaiser brought a bar of soap to Auto Mechanics and allowed the class to wash their hands with his soap.

The other night, during an intramural basket ball game, Rose almost made a basket for the opposing team.

Bozie has become an educator, for he is a teacher away from home.

Irma: “Did you know that we study diseasts in economics?”
Helen: “Since when?”
Irma: “We just finished the study of consumption.”

Mann: “That should be one period instead of three on that card.”
Tiny: “Perhaps you’re here only that long.”

Bill Gardiner and Al. Poellinger do not prefer blondes. We wonder why?

Biwer says that he gets nice long letters from his grandma. We would like to see her.

Jeff Cronk has been tardy for his eight o’clock class. Some of his classmates told the instructor that Jeff had to milk twelve cows. We didn’t know that Jeff was a hayshaker.

Gillie was disappointed when he heard that the symphony orchestra was not to play for the formal.

I been wantin’ a wife,
I been wantin’ a wife, but she’s gotta be Mighty doggone pretty to see.
She’s gotta be happy, with allus a smile,
And maybe a tear once in a while.
She’s gotta be there with a kiss and a hug,
And the gift o’ makin’ a man feel snug.
She can scold me as if I was only her son,
And muss my hair when the dishes are done.
She’s gotta have brains and a clean noble heart,
And she’s gotta keep sayin’ I’m just plenty smart.
But no matter what else, she’s sure gotta be
A livin’ example of loyalty. ?
She can’t look at or love other men,
She’s gotta be mine, only mine,—but then
I been lookin’ fer that kind o’ gal until I’m just turned eighty-five, and a bachelor still.

—Shadows.

FAITH

Better trust all and be deceived,
And weep that trust and that deceiv-ing,
Than doubt one heart that, if believed,
Had blessed one’s life with true
believing.

Oh, in this mocking world, too fast
The doubting fiend o’ertakes our youth;
Better be cheated to the last
Than lose the blessed hope of truth.
—Frances A. Kemble
(1809-1893)

Heinie Writes
Maw

Dear Maw:

The guy whuts in charge of this weekly blotter was worried about some dead spase that he wuz gonna have so asked me for some live stuff to put into this dead spase. I haven’t written to you for a long time so I’ll take enuf time to tell you about the past events of this here institution.

Furst of all i want to tell you about the small pox epademick which almost started ragin thru the town.
It all started by one guy who was sick and then decided he wanted a vakation so he adopted a bad kase of this diseeze. The doktors of the town being low on cash decided to make some so they put out a proklamashun deklaring that no student could start skool Monday morning unless they were vaxinated (inockulayted is the ritzy name for it), this vaxinashun to cost one buck spot kash. Boy, maw, that’s a good buziness to be in —the vaxinashun buziness. Some of those doktors made 200 samolians in a day or two. It takes paw all spring and summer to raise a bunch a hogs that will bring in that much kash and here those doktors make that much in two days and less. I think I’ll change my vokation to a vaxinaytor and make some dough.

Last week we had to take our final eggzams. The lecktrick light bills at the different rooming houses were boosted sky high becuz of the guys burnin their lights so late in the morning. Boy, some of these eggzams wuz plentee tuff. Some of our instruktors uses the troo and false sistem of finding out whether their teechings had any effect on us. This troo and false sistem is nothing more than making a statement and you’re supposed to put down whether its troo or false, plus or mynuss, yes or no, or plus or zeero. It all depends on the guy whuts given the eggzam. Lots a guys just gess what the answer is and when you’re in doubt just flip a coin, heds for troo and tails for false and nine chansus out of ten you’ll be right. After flippin a penny till i had kalluses on my fingers i finished the week with flyin colors. When my report card comes home don’t pay any attenshun to the F’s on the card, they just mean that those kourses are free.

After it wuz all over with, the gurls decided to throw a danse and give the guys a break. The danse wuz given by the three wood-be srororitees of the institoot—the sma’s, the hybeer-ians and the fylomatheans. It wuz a swell affare, the kind where you politely shake hands with the shaparoans and drink punch and danse according to a program that your gurl has made out for you and bust balloons and throw konfettee. Its a big time alright and gives everybuddy a chance to either celebrate or to drown their sorrow. The jim was dekorated like a danse hall on the north pole.
I wuz keen that night but the day before it looked like a cotton factory or a laundree on a Monday morning.

We’ve launched on the last lap of this year. We’re all purty well settled and are all making resolutions to knock down A’s. (Try and do it.)

I’ll write more some other time when i kan’t think of enything else to do. Tell Amy that I’m off a her like a dirty shirt and that she should

Here’n There

SHALL ANNUAL GO?

Should the Echo Annual be done away with, to be supplanted by a monthly or quarterly magazine?

The Illinois State High School press Association held a convention at which the general trend of discussion showed a growing preference for school newspapers, supplemented by magazines, as the most successful coordination of school activity.

Milwaukee Teachers College has published some fine annuals. The books of the recent years have not contained professional art work, an obvious criticism of many high school annuals. Much student work is represented in our annuals. These two angles from which annuals were criticised at the Illinois meeting are not applicable to our college.

But annuals are clumsy and difficult to publish, necessitating more work from faculty advisors than should be expected in the production of a student publication. Furthermore, annuals in their present stereotyped form of organization, lack originality, and often are not truly representative of the school.

Suppose this college published a quarterly magazine and no annual.
This fall issue, appearing shortly after the football season, could contain some football material, perhaps somewhat like that which now is in the annual, but with that advantage of being timely.

It could contain a picture of the incoming freshmen class, every issue could have snapshots scattered through the reading matter.

There would be no lack of literary material. All the literary work now appearing in the Annual and in the Weekly would naturally find a more appropriate setting in a magazine.

Group pictures of social and other organizations could be printed at varying times in the first three issues, in order that the spring issue might not be clumsily large, containing as it would, individual senior pictures.

Every worthwhile feature of an annual could be used in a quarterly magazine to advantage, and in addition a quarterly has advantages in the way of timeliness and equalization of work throughout the year which an annual does not have.

We know what our annuals have been; the defects of the books as well as the outstanding excellencies. We cannot be certain of what a magazine might bring until we try it. It would take adventuresome spirit to make such a change, but if deliberate judgment and investigation declared in favor of the change, there would be no lack of enthusiasm for carrying the project through successfully.

—Echo Weekly, Jan. 14, ’30, Milwaukee State Teachers College.

—S—

Cut to the Quick

A lady, soliciting for a charity fund, approached a Scotchman and handed him a card with the inscription:
“Charity fund—Give until it hurts.”

The Scotchman read it, then, with tears of grief in his eyes, handed it back to the fair solicitor.

“Lady,” he said brokenly, “the verra idea hurts!”

Jane: “Oh! I am so happy today!
My husband bought a new car!”

Jawn: “What kind is it?”

Jane: “Oh! I don’t remember the name—but it starts with “J”.

Jawn: “Well it must be a cheap car—all the others start with gasoline.”

quit bothering me.

Your honorabull son,
HEINIE

P. S. The Curtis House held a popularity kontest and “Goober” won.
He’s so popular that he has to eat his meals on the tellafone table becuz the gurls keep kallin him while he’s eatin Its no kredit to Jacksonville, the one hors town where he comes
from.

Organizations

No-Shave Club To Organized in Near Future

In order to prove that they have a great deal of confidence in the Stout basketball team several men have been talking about organizing a "No Shave Club."

No members of this club, in case of is organized, will shave until the "Blue Devils" defeat some foe on the basketball floor.

They all seem to feel that the prospects for a shave real soon are bright even if the team has had a great deal of bad luck of late.

Science Club is Entertained At Lynwood Hall

In place of the regular business meeting of the Science Club this week, the members were entertained by Dr. Bachmann at a tea in Lynwood Hall. A short one act play, a tragedy entitled "In Germ Land", was read. The principal characters were: Mike Crobe, Helen Novak; Bessie Bacillus, Emma Anderson; Newmonia, Margaret Senty; Teddy Tubercle, Ellen Nelson.

The regular meeting during exam week was also conducive to relaxation in preparation for exams. The meeting was held in the tea room. Each member contributed something funny related to various fields of science and then all joined in the song of the club. Next week we return to work; a visitor present would never guess in what frivolity such serious club members could indulge.

"Why don't you type the letter as usual?"

"This is a letter of abuse and I want to use blue-black ink."

"How did you go in the quizz?"

"Knocked it cold."

"How's that?"

"Got Zero."

Floyd Larson: "Have you seen anything I couldn't do?"

Lind: "You couldn't pick flees off an elephant with boxing gloves."

Stout Graduate Is Still Winning Prizes

(Continued from page one)

revealed the pictures.

When identifying famous aviators, he put their pictures in a miniature model of the Spirit of St. Louis. This brought in another $500.

The remarkable thing is that on the day that the Smiths received the Milwaukee Journal check their daughter, Carolyn Ann, was born. Then when the baby became thirty days old the second $1000 check came. Since then another $500 in prizes has been won, and the Journal assures us that Carolyn Ann's college education is already provided for.

Hairecuts at any hour of the day
Three first class barbers
THE ELECTRIC SHOP

See us for haircuts; we satisfy our customers
THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

GET YOUR VALENTINES
AT
A.R.OLSONS

Letter Men Give Banquet for Coaches

With twenty-five "S" men seated around the round table, as Coach Burbidge stated, the Stout letter club enjoyed a farewell and welcome banquet at th Hotel Marion Wednesday night. The various problems confronting Stout athletics were discussed and threshed out by Paulus and Burbidge.

In saying goodbye to the "S" men, Coach Paulus stressed the fact that Burbidge was coming to Stout with a winning complex. He said it was up to all to help the new coach in getting the Blue Devils out of the psychological hole into which they have fallen.

"Am a Hard Loser"—Burbidge

Coach Burbidge stated his position by saying that he was a hard loser and that he was out to win games. He emphasized the necessity of the "S" men's cooperation in building next year's football team. The basketball season is advanced to such an extent that one can't predict wins in all of the remaining games, but the big issue is next year's football season.

The banquet was a success in the eyes of all and shows that the status of the "S" is improving the school spirit. It was the first affair of the kind that the "S" men have sponsored.

Stout Beats Concordia; Succumbs to Superior

Returning from the northern trip with a .500 percentage, the Trainers succeeded in defeating Concordia 44-24, and lost to Superior 38-21.

On Friday night at Concordia the boys were "on" and succeeded in tallying 44 points. This is the strongest offensive that has been shown by a Stout team in two years. It was a real game from Stout's point of view and showed the team just what they could do with their shooting eye."

Lose Basket Eye up North

On Saturday the boys journeyed to Superior only to meet a complete reversal of the previous night. Instead of making everything they missed the greater percentage and were defeated.

Suprior has another one of her big teams but the issue is liable to be different if the locals can rescue the basket making ability when they come here.

"What does a co-ed have around her neck that she likes to change about once a week?"

"Some boy's arm."

Famous last lines: "How ja like me?"

Personals

LYNWOOD

Miss Burgoin, Ardella Anderson, Anita Gundlach and Henrietta Sievert were guests of Henriette Quilling at dinner Friday night, Jan. 24th.

Mrs. Margaret B. Long has accepted a position as graduate dietitian in the hospital at Bay City, Michigan.

Ardella Anderson, Mary Green, Marjory Funk, Ruth Schultz, and Evelyn Boechert are assuming the duties at Homemakers this six weeks. Their guests at dinner Wednesday night were Miss Burgoin and Miss Jeler.

Edna Mathews visited her sister, Mrs. H. M. McIntire at Waseca, Minn., from Friday until Monday.

Esther Sichler was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. J. Maier, in Minneapolis, over the week end.

Carol Brick and Frances Schroeder spent Saturday in Eau Claire.

Graduation has again separated the Tainter Hall family. Marjorie Robb, after a three week's visit at her home in Conton, Wis., will enter St. Luke's Hospital in Chicago as a student dietition. Elva "Peter" Page will resume the same type of work at the University Hospital in Minneapolis.

Tainter Hall has witnessed several changes within the last week. Marion Cress and Ruth Oleson have now joined the ranks, and Ivernia Forsland of LaCrosse expects to return the latter part of the week. Louise Whitehurst and Edna Mathews are occupying single rooms, and Frances Schroeder has moved to third floor.

Kathleen Shannon, who has been spending the past six weeks at Homemakers, returned to the hall on Saturday.

Hazelle Flaget has re-arranged her extra curricular program for this semester. There's a reason.

Mrs. Dr. P. J. Cress of Ellsworth, Minn., spent Saturday night and Sunday with her daughter, Marion.

Dr. Bachman and Jessie Hansen served coffe to the Lynwood girls Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Burns was chairman of the affair. She was ably assisted by Miss Irma Nichols. The success of this party was due to the variou committees whose chairmen were: Decoration, Dorothy Williams; Program and Invitations, Anita Gundloch; Entertainment, Esther McKowen; Refreshments, Mercedes Cranston; Finance, Mildred Haggard.

Mid Winter Formal Scene of Gay Colors

(Continued from page one)

Unusual Lighting and Decorations

The decorations were unusual. In one end of the gym the Aurora Borealis was pictured and around the sides were icicles. The lighting was very effective.

Punch was served during the dance. As a result of the efforts of the girls of the three societies, the dance, in brief, may be described as: good music, good entertainment, good company and a good time.

the guest.

Geraldine Anderson, Evelyn Preston, Eleanor Nelson, Miss Bieri, Miss Murry, and Mrs. Wade have been added to the Lynwood family.

Vivian Florin, Minnie Chronquist, Jean Moe, Irene Meyer, Eleanor Vergin, and Lucille Hebl spent the week end at their homes.

The following house officers were elected at the regular house meeting of the Tainter Annex Hall this week; Proctors — Ellen Nelson and Emma Anderson; Treasurer—Lucille Hebl; Secretary—Charlotte McNab; House Inspector—Irene Meyer.

Coeds Organize Basketball Teams

(Continued from page one)

5 Winner of 1 vs. Winner of 3, Feb. 19, at 5 P. M.

6 Loser of 1 vs. Loser of 3, Feb. 20, at 7 P. M.

7 Winner of 4 vs. Winner of 5, Feb. 27, at 7 P. M.

These games are open to visitors. Notice when your class plays and come out to help them win.

Rifle Club Wins From Menomonie

(Continued from page one)

each team counted. The highest score for the evening was made by Mr. Paul Nelson who shot with the city team while Mr. Good, shooting for the Stout team, made the second highest score.

After the match both teams shot at the "dodo" birds, those bullet-proof pieces of steel which register a hit by disappearing from view.

Before the group broke up, the Stout Rifle Club had again challenged the city team to a match to be held February 27, and had extended an invitation to the women members of that team to shoot against the women members of the Stout Rifle Club when and wherever it would be convenient.

IF YOUR HAIR IS YOUR PRIDE
HAVE IT TRIMMED RIGHT
AT
I. W. NESSER
"THE BARBER"

YIP YIP Shirts and Ties

New Snappy Neckwear

TEARE CLOTHING STORE

A SHOE BUYERS FESTIVAL
AT GRAVEN AND WILCOX

FOR 15 DAYS ONLY—BEGINNING JANUARY 17

Our entire stock of quality up-to-date stock of Footwear reduced 20 percent with the exception of Women's Ennagetic and Men's Friendly Five.
OXFORDS, ZIPPERS AND OVERSHOES INCLUDED

GRAVEN and WILCOX
"The Service Shoe Store"

SPECIAL Prices on All Winter Merchandise

EVANS TOBIN CO.

Make this a BETTER SEMESTER
By getting a BETTER PEN

With a GOOD PEN you need GOOD INK

SHAEFFER'S SCRIP
in the
HANDY, NEW, UNBREAKABLE BOTTLE IS IDEAL FOR YOUR USE

NELS ANSHUS

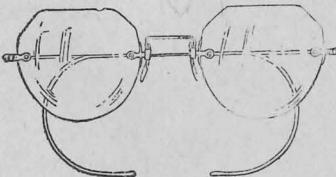

LIGHT LUNCHES SERVED
AT ANY TIME
THE OLYMPIA

Good Meals and Refreshments
SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Burbidge's Trainers Fight Hard, but Lose To Eau Claire Quintet

Trainers Make Surprise Showing and Nearly Save Enemy Beards

Falling to hold a one-point lead earned in the first half, Burbidge's Trainers gave way to Eau Claire's desire to shave, and were nosed out by a 27-24 score at Eau Claire last evening. The counting of only four free chances contributed to the Blue defeat.

Eau Claire was confident of a comfortable victory because of their near-win over River falls who beat Stout decisively last Friday, and had their razors all sharpened. The month's growth was duly removed, according to report by "special wire," but Stout dares them to let them grow until after their next victory over their Trainer rivals.

New Line-up Appears

A shuffled line-up started, consisting of Coengos at center, Fordham and Haase, forwards, and Buros and Johnson, guards. Hoernemann, Schaudé, and Paulus also saw action. Peterson missed the long-anticipated crack at his old mates because of the sprained ankle sustained in the Falls game. His presence in the fray might have easily changed the outcome.

Stout opened the scoring, and held the edge during the first period. Neither team could work in for set-ups, and Eau Claire's successful long shots featured their attack. Haase, however, began to shoot as he should, showed his long-distance eye, and sank four counters.

Johnson, Coengros also Score

Fred Johnson, playing a handsome game at guard, came down the long floor for three baskets, and added two free throws to his total. Cvangros total of two field goals would have been improved by his last season's eye from the free throw mark, an eye not yet recovered this season.

Paulus, Schaudé, and Hoernemann relieved the starting forward trio, but were unable to add to Stout's total, though playing strong basket ball. Buros counted a basket and free throw, and Fordham got a point to complete the loser's sum.

Victors' Drive Wins

The victors came back with a barrage in the second term, and gained a six-point lead. Stout was able to cut this in half, but the jinx held, as it did on the Eau Claire front last season. Eau Claire presented a much stronger team than theirs of last year, but showed no outstanding stars, and can be beaten in the return match.

This morning, the Stout squad left on the second drive of its double invasion. For use in the Stevens Point game tonight, Coach Burbidge selected Hanson, Johnson, Haase, Fordham, Schaudé, Buros, Paulus, Hoernemann, and Cvangros.

—S—

Teacher: "Why is the biggest part of an iceberg under the water?"

Bobby: "Because the sun melted away the part above the water."

—S—

S. M. A. CANDY SALE
Noer's Drug Store
SATURDAY, FEB. 1, 1930

Farewell-Welcome Banquet A Success

(Continued from page one)

ter and returned home in one of the most severe storms. President Nelson felt confident that this display of vigor and hardiness, and his excellent preparation and practical experience, proves Mr. Burbidge to be the man to make the Stout athletic department a success. In closing Mr. Nelson showed his appreciation at seeing so many girls at this athletic banquet and also of seeing so many of the 21-45 club there.

New Coach Outlines Program

Coach Burbidge then made his debut to the students in general. He thanked everyone for the splendid welcome that he was receiving and expressed his appreciation of being able to come here. He outlined what he hopes to do in athletics here.

He stated that he intended to run an intensive spring practice in football, and in other ways do all in his power to improve the athletic situation. Mr. Burbidge was received with a great hand, showing that everyone feels confident that he will be a worthy successor to Coach Paulus.

Downer Discusses Modern Sports

Mr. Schaudé then called upon President Nelson to introduce the speaker of the evening, Mr. George F. Downer. Mr. Downer is at the present time director of the Sports News Bureau of the University of Wisconsin. He related some of his experience in athletic lines which took place while he was director of athletics at the Milwaukee Teachers College.

He brought with him greetings from the Physical Education Department of the University of Wisconsin, and complimented us on having chosen Mr. Burbidge as our new coach. Mr. Downer explained modern trends in athletics and how the larger schools keep in touch with high schools about the country, always on the lookout for future football and basketball material, but said he believed the Carnegie Report to have been an exaggeration of professionalizing tendencies.

Syl Says Good-bye

S. E. Paulus was the last but by far not the least looked-forward-to speaker of the evening. Mr. Paulus expressed how hard it was to begin to leave the institution, because of all the wonderful contacts that he made while here.

He claimed that one of the worst things he does is to say good-bye, and that he hoped that this was not a lasting farewell for him. If he could stand the shock, he thought he would come back to Homecoming next fall and see Burbidge's team beat River Falls.

Mr. Paulus was given a wonderful ovation by those assembled, proving again the popularity which he has had in Stout and the city. THE STOUTONIA is the voice of the college when it says to Syl, "The greatest of luck to you—and hurry back!"

TAILORING

Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonee Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

Peterson Injured In Hard-Fought Game Against Falls Giants

Stout Expected to Upset
Dope Next Week
Against LaCrosse

The Trainers did their best — Art Peterson spraining his ankle in the attempt—to give Coach Paulus a win Friday evening over River Falls at the city armory as a parting gift, but the seven-foot Falls center couldn't see things that way, tipped in 14 points himself, and enabled his team to beat the blues, 29 - 21.

No one was disappointed in the action of the contest, and Paulus used his entire squad in his last shot at Coach Klandrud. Except for the first minutes, the visitors held a decided edge, but mainly because they all out-sized Stout's midgets so much as to make it a spectacle.

Peterson Goes Out

Art Peterson was playing one of the best games of his career, and was hot on the baskets, having already sunk three, when he was hurled into the bleachers shortly after the second period opened, and had to be helped to the dressing room. It is reported that he may be on the sidelines for a considerable time.

Lu Paulus made the other bid for outstanding honors when, sent in for the last few minutes of the game, he made two baskets to keep the score from being top-heavy. But there was no poor playing for Coach Paulus to remember, and he conquerors of LaCrosse went back to the Falls knowing they had been in a battle.

Big Center's Tip-ins Costly

Cvangros' size might have helped the Blues considerably in a situation where tip-ins after missed free throws, and like shots, were accounting for so many enemy points, but Stike was not eligible until this week. Buros, Hanson, Johnson, and O'Connell, guards, stopped all they could, but that wasn't enough.

Stout's forwards seemed to lack decision, and Peterson was the only Blue who took the many long-shot chances. Haase got into his old habit of dribbling away from the basket a few times, and Michaels was not in condition to put up his usual battle. Hoernemann, Fordham, and Buck Schaudé completed the group who valiently tried to honor their retiring coach with the much-desired victory.

Menomonee Baking Co.

Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

ORPHEUM

Tonight — Sat.

GANET GAYNOR and CHARLES FARRELL

—in—

"SUNNY SIDE UP"

A Gorgeous Glorious Screen
Musical Show.

Mat. — Sat. — 2:30

Sun. — Mon. — Tues.

Monte Blue and Lupe Velez in
"TIGER ROSE"

Also Talking Comedy

Mat. — Sun., 2:30

Wed. — Thurs.

Richard Bennett and Doris Kenyon
in "THE HOME TOWNERS"

Coming: SHOW OF SHOWS

GRAND

Sat. — Sun.

Conrad Nagel and May McAvoy
in "CAUGHT IN THE FOG"

Mat. — Sun., 3:00

Strong La Crosse Aggregation to be Here February 6

Stout Expected to Upset Dope
Next Week Against
LaCrosse Teachers

LaCrosse will appear here before the next issue of this paper appears, coming for their return game Thursday evening, February 6. Tonight, the Trainers are in Stevens Point, after last night's battle at Eau Claire.

LaCrosse took the locals in Stout's first conference game, the contest being at LaCrosse. The game was far from one-sided, and River Falls beat the Keelermen on the down-state floor. This all gives Stout an excellent chance for a victory next Thursday evening at the city armory.

Stevens Point is Doubtful

Not many guesses can be made about tonight's orgy at Stevens Point, and "orgy" is usually what a game there amounts to, unless they have graduated some way to a bigger floor than the one on which they have played in the past. It's the kind of a floor on which any size of score is possible, so local fans need not be surprised at almost any kind of a report from the invaders tonight.

Eau Claire Takes Toll

Last night's contest took plenty out of the new coach's young men, for the long floor at Eau Claire makes a team go to the limit of its strength. Six days of rest, and another week with the new mentor, should put the

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
E A T

THE PEERLESS GRILL
"THE HOME OF GOOD FOOD"

The Shaker Studios are always glad to serve you. You always get the best in photography if your photographs are made at the Shaker Studios.

Let us develop your Kodak films.

SHAKER STUDIOS

"Makers of real live photographs"

Shoes in smart, attractive models for all occasions.

SWENSON & BERNDT

"The Shoe Men"

TRY OUR

HEAVY MALTEDS - - HOMEMADE FUDGE

OR

SANDWICHES

"THEY'RE DELICIOUS"

"THE CANDY SHOPPE"

Service We Do Dry Cleaning Service

Every Day

Suits Made To Measure

Menomonee Dye House

Running & Cole

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP

NEW SPRING DRESSES

ARRIVING DAILY

STOUT SCHOOL SUPPLIES

at

LEE'S DRUG STORE

Speaker On Negro Problems, At Stout

(Continued from page one)

discussed.

Explains the Problem

In all of his talks, this student of the so-called negro problem left clearly made known his interpretations of the difficulties, especially those developed since the war. The forcefulness and general excellence of his presentation left doubt in no one's mind as to why he has risen to so prominent a place among those concerned with America's sociological problems.

For the student assembly, he outlined and explained away basic misconceptions such as the supposed inherent laziness of the negro. In the place of such misconceptions, he outlined the possible solutions of present day conditions. He believes it possible, as did Booker Washington before him, that these two great races in this country can exist together, in the sense of equality, yet remain distinct to develop, in each case, distinctive qualities without the irritations of the present inequalities of the caste system.

Trainers in just the right mood to upset the dope and send LaCrosse home beaten next week.

FOUNTAIN PENS

Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice

Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

Muller Elected to Head Junior-Senior Promenade

Week End Trip to Twin Cities Headed by Auto Mechanics Group

Northern States Power Company
And Ford Motor Plant to be Visited

Yesterday morning, at 5:30, thirty-seven I. A. students left for the cities on a two day educational tour. The tour consisted mostly of students from the Auto Mechanics and Electrical classes. In order to get a full load, several other students interested in this work, were allowed to go on the trip.

With some difficulty, a program was arranged so as to make the best possible use of the time while in the cities. The places to be visited are as follows: The Hibridge plant of the Northern States Power Company, the Ford Motor Company and Power Plant, two electrical repair shops, the Arrowhead Piston Works, the Auto Show and especially the exhibits of the Minneapolis Iron Stores at the auto show.

Through the cooperation of the Minneapolis Iron Stores and the initiative of the faculty members of this trip, the noonday meals are to be taken at the Minneapolis Iron Store's exhibit. This will help a great deal in reducing expenses.

Printers Away Today

Early this morning, three carloads of printers also journeyed to the cities on one of their annual trips. The printing establishments are located quite close together so a one day trip was considered sufficient. The printers are to visit McGill Warner's, Buckbee Mears Engraving Co., and the St. Paul Pioneer-Press-Dispatch office, and plant.

It would be impossible to include every detail so special emphasis is to be placed on the major operations in a commercial printshop.

Mr. Hanson is also taking some of his students to visit a few cabinet making shops in the cities.

Redecorating Work Nearly Completed

Redecorating work which has been going on in the gymnasium building for several weeks nears completion and reveals new color in the halls and stairways from the third floor down to the first. The Men's Club room seems to have profited from its share in recent improvements and will probably be opened for use within another week.

All the halls from the top floor down to the entrance gleam resplendent in new hues of light cream. The stairways have been scraped, sanded, and revarnished in the same tone of brown.

The bowling alleys have been shellaced and put in first class condition for use.

A new cement floor was put in the Men's Club Room and the walls were painted tan. Two new radiators insure ample warmth and six new pieces of leather covered furniture, four chairs, and two sofas, will add to the comfort of the occupants.

A new atmosphere pervades the whole building and makes it a much more pleasant place in which to carry on student activities.

Hyperian Cookie Sale next Friday, February 14, in the Corridor of H. E. Building.

Several Old Students Reappear on Campus

The new enrollment shows an increase of 16 in the Home Economics department and 15 in the Industrial Arts. Several students are returning for further work toward degrees.

Those registered in home economics are: Clara Bieri, Loretta Schmidt, Evelyn Anderson, Irene Stoltz, Cora Burck, Margaret Hartwell, Ruth Orego, Geraldine Anderson, Mrs. Mabel Shearer, Ellen Nelson, Laura Wade, Iverma Forslund, Esther Dock, and Helen Ennaru, as well as Claire Evelyn Preston and Mrs. Vanek, who are specials.

Those newly enrolled in industrial arts for this second semester are as follows: Earl Harmon, Eugene McLeod, Johnny Fior, Ivan Mittenbach, Frank Ruppe, Paul C. Noonan, Arnold Dietrick, E. V. Anonen, Charles Oniures, Reuben Hanson, Arthur George Johnson, Russel Lantis, Raymond Weidenreiter, Joe Matusewic, and Dr. Vanek, special.

Miss Smith is on Hoover Committee

Miss Smith, instructor in the nursery school, is assistant to Dr. John E. Anderson, director of the Institute of Child Welfare at the University of Minnesota, in promoting the plan organized by President Hoover on health and protection of children.

A series of committees have been appointed to carry on a research study of the pre-school child, and Miss Smith is working on one of these committees at present. A questionnaire has been sent to the parents in order to obtain information for this preliminary child study in care and protection. The object of this is to obtain facts about the pre-school child for a careful study to be submitted to the White House Conference which has been arranged for in the future by the President.

Prexy Rescues Miss McCalmont's Alcohol

Fifty-four gallons of alcohol addressed to Miss McCalmont, at the Stout Institute, came to the express office last Saturday.

Miss McCalmont asked for permission to keep it at the express office over the week end, but met with a refusal. At this point President Nelson stepped up and offered to get her out of her embarrassing condition. As a result the alcohol now rests peacefully in the vaults of the president, out of temptation's way, ready for instant use when the chemistry classes find need for it.

President Nelson Disturbed By Sinus Trouble

Due to a rather severe attack of sinus trouble, President Nelson has been forced to be absent from school. For a few days each week he has been under the care of a physician and President Nelson says that his condition has been improved to such an extent that he is now feeling better than he has for several years. The Stoutonia takes this opportunity to express their wishes for the President's speedy and complete recovery.

Health Conditions in the United States during the past Fiscal Year

During the calendar year 1928, 38,000 cases of smallpox were reported in the United States; in 1927, 35,000 cases were reported. It seems strange that year after year more cases of smallpox are reported in the United States than in any other country of the world except British India, yet this disease can be controlled by vaccination and revaccination and with the cooperation of the public could be stamped out in the course of a few years.

New Oratorical Contest Rules and Regulations Announced by Director

New Subjects, More in Keeping With the Maturity of College
Students Added

The Stoutonia has been authorized to make the first announcement on the Stout campus of the many changes in the regulations of the 1930 National Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest on the Constitution which have been announced by the director of this year's contest.

The ten minute limit has been abandoned and a word limit of 1500 words has been set. The total amount of the prizes remains $5000, the lowest prize being raised, however, to $400, but the first prize remains at $1500.

A new list of subjects, more in keeping with the maturity of college men and women, has been announced. The 1930 subjects are:

The Constitution of the United States.
Constitutional Ideals.
Constitutional Duties.
Constitutional Aspirations.
The Constitution and the Supreme Court.
The Place of Constitutional Law in American Life.
The Constitution and National Progress.
The Constitution and Contemporary Executive Practices.

(Continued on page three)

CONGRATULATIONS

The Stoutonia received word today that a baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Maerzke, of Bakersfield, California, on February 1.
Congratulations "Phil"!

| Monday                |              |
|-----------------------|--------------|
| Science Club          | 5 o'clock    |
| Stoutonia Staff       | 5 o'clock    |
| Tower Staff           | 7 o'clock    |
| Women's Glee Club     | 7 o'clock    |
| Men's Glee Club       | 7 o'clock    |
| Tuesday               |              |
| Band                  | 7 o'clock    |
| Marquette La Salle    | 7:30 o'clock |
| De Molay              | 7:15 o'clock |
| S. M. A.              | 7:50 o'clock |
| Wednesday             |              |
| S. T. S.              | 7:30 o'clock |
| Rifle Club            | 7:00 o'clock |
| Women's Club, Men and |              |
| Y. W. C. A.           | 7:00 P. M.   |
|                       | 5:00 o'clock |
| Thursday              |              |
| Inky Fingers          | 5:30 o'clock |
| M. P. A.              | 7:15 o'clock |
| Hyperian              | 8:00 o'clock |
| Orchestra             | 7:00 o'clock |
| Saturday              |              |
| Rifle Club, Men       | 9:00 A. M.   |
| Rifle Club, Women     | 10:30 A. M.  |

Dean Bowman Chosen To Head Association

Dean Bowman has been made chairman of the Wisconsin Teachers Association committee which is to study the problem of certification of teachers, according to a letter just received from Secretary B. E. McCormick, of the Wisconsin Teachers Association. The other members of this committee are: Superintendent Goodrich of Fond du Lac and County Superintendent Longbotham, of Rusk County, Janesville, Wisconsin.

This committee was appointed by President Tobey in carrying out the action of the representative assembly at the Milwaukee convention last fall. At that time it was voted to have a committee appointed for the purpose of studying this problem, and it is already felt that the president made a good choice of the members which he placed on this committee. This committee has planned to begin work at once, in order that it may be able to make a report at the next convention.

Deere Stock Split Would Affect Fund

A proposed split in the stocks of Deere and Company, if the measure goes through, will affect the loan fund of the Stout Institute.

An article in one of the recent papers reads as follows: "Directors of the Deere and Co., of Moline, Ill., have voted to submit to stockholders at the annual meeting in April a proposal to split the common and preferred stock five shares for one. The plan would reduce the present $100.00 par common stock to no par and the present $100.00 par preferred to $10.00 par value."

The Stout Institute has $18,000.00 worth of their stock, a bequest from the Eichelberger estate. From the returns on this investment, the student loan fund is made up. The split would lower the income, according to President Nelson.

Minnesota Graduate On Stoutonia Staff

Mr. Arthur G. Johnson, of Biwabik, Minn., is the Stoutonia's new Intertype operator.

After graduating from the University of Minnesota with a Bachelor of Science degree, Mr. Johnson spent the following three and one-half years as editor and publisher of the Holdingford (Minn.) Herald. His next position was Linotype operator and floor man of the Fisher Printing Company of Virginia, Minn. He spent about a year at this place, and left when he received a call from Mr. Hague for an Intertype operator to replace "Doc" Hawkes who has accepted a teaching position at Madison, Wisconsin.

Professor Faville Speaks At Shell Lake, Wisconsin

Mr. Faville was at Shell Lake last evening speaking before the Lions Club and the Parent-Teachers association of that town on the value of the community survey project which is being sponsored and conducted by the American Legion this spring. The survey machinery was put in operation at the local Legion post Tuesday evening, Dean Bowman being pointed head of the survey education.

Has Not Disclosed Name of Partner For Gala Affair

Wins Over a Field of Five Other Candidates; Asks For Student Co-operation

The Junior class, last Friday, elected Ernest Muller, better known as "Charleston," to be chairman of the 1930 Junior Prom.

A nominating committee consisting of Frances Schroeder, Harriet Koss, Henriette Quilling, Bernard Hagen, William Soucie, and Helmuth Bramstedt had been elected at the Junior class meeting on Thursday. This committee proposed six candidates, Ernest Muller, Willard Hansen, Lu Paulus, Peter Zimmerman, Russell Wallin, and William Soucie.

The election was held in the Harvey Memorial from 4:00 to 5:30 P. M., at which time the Juniors cast their votes.

There appeared to be no active campaigning for any of the candidates, but posters were put up announcing the names of those nominated.

Mr. Muller was class treasurer during his Freshman and Sophomore years. He played on the Freshman football team and was a member of the football squad the season of 1929. At present, Mr. Muller is manager of Intra-mural sports, President of the Lutheran students association, and Treasurer of M. A. P.

The cooperation of all the Juniors in making the prom a success is what Mr. Muller wants. He says that he desires this prom to be a credit to the school as well as to the Junior class and that he has already started plans for the affair. He has not as yet made his selection of his partner for the dance.

Several New Books In Stout Library

The following are the new books in the Stout Library. "Microbe Hunters," by De Kruif is a book of brief, dramatically written biographies of pioneer bacteriologists. Dr. Bode, speaking at the Northwest Wisconsin Teachers Association last October, called it one of the most interesting books he had ever read. "A Great Rich Man," by Mrs. Boas, is a new biography of Sir Walter Scott.

Literature and Rhetoric
English Sentence in Literature and in College Freshman Composition, by R. G. Lowrey.

Self-cultivation in English, by G. H. Palmer.

Psychology of Speech, by S. M. Stinchfield.

Complete Poems, by Emily Dickinson.

Psychology and Ethics
History of Psychology, by W. B. Pillsbury.

Process of Human Behavior, by Sherman.

Principles and Problems of Right Thinking, by E. A. Burt.

What is Wrong with Marriage, by Hamilton & Macgowan.

Leadership, by W. C. Rucker.

Civilization

Recent Gains in American Civilization, edited by Kirby Page.

Our changing Civilization, by J. H. Randall.

Biography

The Master, a Life of Jesus Christ, by W. R. Bowle.

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                               |                       |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Managing Editor               | E. V. Ahonen          |
| Associate Editor              | Henrietta L. Quilling |
| News Editor                   | Chester Mau           |
| Assistant News Editor         | Belinda Hendrickson   |
| Feature Editor                | Bernard Hagen         |
| Humor Editor                  | William Soucie        |
| Sports Editor                 | Al Poelinger          |
| Exchange Editor               | Carl Roll             |
| Organization Editor           | Georgia Aber          |
| Cartoonist                    | William Michaels      |
| Reporters                     | Bernice Bricker       |
|                               | Anita Gundlach        |
|                               | Alfred M. Reinhold    |
|                               | Kathleen Lind         |
|                               | Vivian Hewitt         |
|                               | Grace Quarters        |
| Business Manager              | Earl C. Halverson     |
| Circulation Manager           | Robert G. Reick       |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Carl Roll             |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Byron Canatsey        |
| Advertising Manager           | Marlo McCullough      |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr.        | Donald K. Lind        |
| Foreman Mechanical Department | Kent Riggs            |
| Under Direction of            | Mr. C. W. Hague       |
| Editorial Adviser             | Mr. John Faville, Jr. |
| Associate Adviser             | Miss Helen Sarchet    |

CONTRIBUTIONS

THE STOUTONIA is always glad to receive contributions. If you have done something, gone somewhere, or have seen something that would be of interest to the school, write it up, or give the material to someone on the staff to be written up, and we will publish it. Make this your paper.

DO YOUR BIT

Many people outside of Menomonie have the idea that Stout is some kind of a trade school instead of a college with an "A" ranking. How this started it is hard to say, but since it is the case, it is the duty of every Stout student to rectify this misconception whenever it comes up.

PEP MEETINGS

In the past the pep meetings have been almost without support. What is the reason for it? The cheer leaders are doing their best to promote the proper spirit, but without the support of the whole student body it is a physical impossibility to do much in that direction. Come on, folks, the team needs your support! Get your shoulder to the wheel and push as you have never pushed before. Stout has broken its streak of bad luck, and we are out to win. Talk win, sleep win, and expect to win, and we can't lose

PETTY PILFERING

It's a shame that a case like this must be brought before the public eye, but the stealing on the campus has become such a nuisance that something must be said about it.

How anyone of college age can stoop low enough to pick the pockets of his fellow students is beyond the comprehension of any normal person. Still a great many cases of it have been reported since Christmas.

If no other plan will stop it, why not try placing a box of small change in the corridors of the buildings so that when these petty thieves feel the urge, they can go to them for cigarette money, or money with which to buy some of the smaller articles that they have been taken from the students.

CRITICISM

Some people don't seem to be able to take any criticism at any time. The funny part of it is that they are just the ones who need it the most. Just trod on their petty little peculiarities and watch them flare up with hot reports.

A person never gets very far with that type of a make-up. He usually makes a fool of himself in the eyes of onlookers.

When a little suggestion is thrown your way, look it over with a broad mind and utilize what you can of it and discard the rest. Or, take the matter up with the one who originated it, talk it over quietly, and maybe you can make him see that you are right and therefore not in a position where you need any criticism. But the chances are that you will be made to see how you are wrong and therefore in the market for criticism without your knowing it.

THE HIGH HAT

Is the snobishness and the high-hatting on the campus a sign of inferiority complex with a superiority outlet, or is it just a plain case of "You go to the Devil; my father's a lawyer?"

If it is the former, then there is room for understanding and sympathy, but come out of it, Bud; we know no social casts on our campus; there is no reason why you should think of yourself as something less than the one next to you. The largest majority of the students here are all going into the same field of activity. What their fathers, grandfathers, or uncles are, doesn't make any difference. The student is the students.

If the latter is the case, then pardon while we laugh. The chances are about ten to one that you're from a small town, and haven't as yet found out that you are but one infinitesimal unit on an infinitesimal earth. The sooner you find out the truth, the better. It isn't necessary to "date" everyone you speak to, but a cheerful "Good morning" goes a long way toward making everybody happy. Try it out. —The Editor.

Let's Laugh

Jack: "So you went out to meet your girl's people and listen to the radio?"

Jim: "Yeh, but the reception was bad."

Origin of an Invention

Johnny came back from the circus much excited. "Oh mama," he exclaimed. "Katie spilled some peanuts on the ground, and what do you think happened? The elephant picked them up with his vacuum cleaner."

So We Hear

A miss in the motor is better than a Mrs. in the back seat.

A modern miracle: Two men, named Wood and Stone, walked down the street; a beautiful woman passed; Wood turned to Stone and Stone turned to Wood, then both turned to rubber.

"He's a man about town."

"Yes, and a fool about women."

What makes the tower of Pisa lean?"

"You have me—maybe it smokes a lot of cigarettes."

Farmer: "You've got a cold."

Tramp: "Yeah."

Farmer: "How did you get it?"

Tramp: "Slept in a field last night and someone left the gate open."

"Your daughter talks a great deal, doesn't she?"

Yes, I think she must have been vaccinated with a phonograph needle."

Some day I'm going to run this joint, Oh, boy, what I won't do.

I'll make these teachers all write themes

And punctuate them too.

—Neshotah News

A fellow was heard singing, "If I had a talking picture of you." We wonder if the poor fool knew what he was wishing for.

Reese was seen walking in the H. E. corridor looking for the tick of his watch.

Bill Gardiner said, "Let us sing In Honor Bound without music."

Eichorst: "What is T. I. A.?"

Hoeser: "Talking in assembly."

Bob Kess thinks that Bonsall Smith played on the all American foot ball team in Turkey.

Accidents will happen. Louie Palmer threw his hip out of joint at the dancing class.

Lucky break for you Charleston, that Goober was not a junior.

When you tell a man anything, it goes in one ear and out the other. If you tell a woman anything, it goes in both ears and out of her mouth.

Diek Smith is getting his education now that the Sandwich shop has had a fire.

The senior was born for great things, The junior was born for small; But no one has yet found the reason That the freshman was born at all.

—The Konah.

Arvid Lundeen is going to give up dancing because it is too hard on the shins.

Love is that which makes a man get up early and feel like heck.

We hear that A. H. Will, a local Sophomore, is going to enter a marathon dance at Altoona. This is by request of several Altoona and Eau Claire girls.

Vic opened the mail box in the H. E. corridor and found two letters and a news article dated 1925. If the box had been larger, perhaps, he would

ANVIL SPARKS

from Aries

Whether it be praise or blame that becomes popular, one gets an idea of what some people actually take an interest in.

Nobody is ever sufficient unto himself—and he who boasts that he is is really afraid that someone may discover that he isn't.

—S—

Filler

Edited by Editor Ahonen, Mechanical Forman Riggs, and Intertype Operator Johnson

Through outside means we have obtained the inside dope on a general examination to be given to all Stout freshmen in the near future. A word to the wise is sufficient. Here it is; "Get wised up frosh."

1. When was the war of 1812 fought?

2. How long did the hundred years war last?

3. Who were the main characters in the Lincoln Douglas debate?

4. (a) Who were the warring parties in the Spanish-American war?

(b) The French and Indian war?

5. In a garden we find (check the correct word.)

1. Berry bushes.

2. Rutabaga plants.

3. Apple Trees.

4. Horse flies.

5. Dust.

6. A spade.

7. Weeds.

6. After whom was the Washington monument named?

7. Where was the Boston tea party held? Was Peggy Joyce there?

If so, why not?

8. What is the rating of an "A" student?

9. Why isn't there a grade lower than flunk? Answer "Yes" or "no," and give your reasons.

10. What is the name of the unknown soldier?

11. In what state is Kalamazo, Michigan?

12. How high is up?

13. How short is a short circuit?

14. How many feet in a foot? (Give 10 valid reasons)

15. We hear over the radio (check the correct word.)

1. Music.

2. Speeches.

3. Sermons.

4. Static.

5. Interference.

6. Amos and Andy.

16. Who wrote Grey's "Elegy"?

17. Who is the main character in "Elmer Gantry"?

18. Have you heard of Mark Twain? Why didn't he write "Quo Vadis"?

19. Why is a crow?

20. Do you believe that truth is stranger than fiction? Then why don't you start writing novels?

have found a love letter that some absent minded love bird had placed there.

About ninety-nine out of every hundred students believe:

That Yale men spend their leisure time in drinking or leaning on the Yale fence.

That Stout coeds don't believe in diets.

That a student from the "U" of Florida doesn't speak to a student from California and vice versa.

That all of Hamline's grads. are preachers.

That Northwestern University is somewhere in the Northwest.

That there has never been a pronounceable name in the line-up of the students that have come from the Iron Range of Minnesota.

That the big Wall Street man who was formerly called "Midas" is now called "Minus."

Here'n There

The third annual summer school held by the American Association for Promotion of Education of the Deaf will be held this summer in connection with the regular session of Milwaukee State Teachers College. A great number of teachers from various parts of the United States are expected to take advantage of the excellent courses in speech, technique, and special subjects.

—Echo Weekly.

Harmon Ebeltoft from Dunn Center, North Dakota, tells of an interesting experience which he had when attending grade school. A vein of coal under the building caught fire from the furnace and three weeks of fighting were necessary before the fire was brought under control.

—The Dakota Scientist.

The dean of the Bradley College of Music says that there are two reasons for taking courses in music: first, to fit oneself for a professional career; and second, to increase one's ability to enjoy good music and to give pleasure to others through music.

—The Bradley Tech.

—S—

M.A.P.'s in District Dramatic Contest

The Manual Arts Players are again representing Stout by entering a play in the district dramatic contest to be held at the Stout Auditorium on Friday evening, February 21.

the Eau Claire Teachers College,

This is a preliminary contest with River Falls Teachers College and The Stout Institute entered. The plays to be given are all one-act plays. The college receiving first place will have the opportunity of participating in the state contest to be held at Madison on March the seventh.

After due consideration Miss Hassler has chosen for presentation by the Manual Arts Players a character comedy entitled "The Old Grouch," by Richard Willis.

The following cast has been chosen:

The Old Grouch.....Al Poelinger

The Policeman.....George Price

The Nursemaid.....Marian Cress

The Chauffeur.....Arnold Stori

—S—

"Buzz Box" Reveals Many Ancient Curios

The "Buzz Box," formerly used to receive Stoutonia contributions in I. E. building corridor, was forced open the other day for the first time in about five years. What it contained was enough for any humor column.

First of all, out rolled two letters, one to Mr. Fred Picka, a one time student at Stout; the other one was addressed to Mr. Louis Globokar. They will both be sent on their way now as soon as the present addresses of the parties in question can be discovered. It is believed that the transaction can be made with but little explanation, since neither one is addressed to a member of the fair sex. On the other hand it might have been possible for the mailman to have acted as cupid in patching up a love affair that might have broken up a few years ago as a result of the belated letter, had one been sent to the sweetheart of a former student.

A feature story on the now extinct Sneins Soup Sippers, and their dinner party, helped fill the box to such an extent that freshmen of later years have not been able to crowd their letters to mother or sweetheart into it.

The top layer consisted of a few jokes regarding such persons of history as Hutchinson, Albert Hensel, Mox Fegina, and Mr. J. E. Ray.

The box will be taken down in the near future to prevent another occurrence of the same kind, and another one with larger letters will take its place.

Personals

Miss Ruth Michaels entertained at a dinner, Wednesday evening in honor of Dr. Shirley of the University of Minnesota.

TAINTER ANNEX

Pat Kelly is suffering from Teditis, and Beth Murray says that she's going to die with Clairitis.

Famous last words, "You don't want to sleep anyway."

Louise Hobart has been doing so much work in the library the last two weeks. We wonder why?

Al Ostrom says she rather enjoyed her stay at the infirmary.

The Annex girls were left in total darkness Sunday night. Joe will have to learn how to use electric plates or else decide to marry an electrician.

It's awfully lonesome on third floor now that the "underworld gang" has been broken up.

The Annex girls wish they could rent out the rooms in their basement so that they would have support at the Lynwood-Annex basketball games.

We wonder why Claire Knutson was monkeying around the Annex switch board Sunday night. At least that isn't the place where the reception room lights are turned out.

LYNWOOD HALL

Eleanor Nelson and Grace Linder-son spent the week end at their homes.

Lisle Huson and Doris Henry donned boots and breeches and hiked across Lake Menomin Saturday morn-ing.

We wish it to be generally known that upstairs girls at Lynwood are to be commended upon their quietness after seven-thirty P. M.

The fact that Lisle Huson and Vi-vian Florin had birthdays and kind mothers who are good cooks was much appreciated by the Lynwood girls.

Violet Walstrom was taken to the Infirmary because of the after-effects of vaccination.

TAINTER HALL

Marian Cress and Anita Gundlach

New Oratorical Contest Regulations Announced

(Continued from page one)

The Constitution and American Economic Policies.

Constitutional Incentives to Individ-ual Initiative.

Constitutional Guarantees to All American Citizens.

The Constitution and International Affairs.

American Youth and the Constitu-tion.

The Constitution and its Founders.

This contest was inaugurated and its conducted by the Better American Federatio of California. Last year 542 colleges and universities entered the contest. Every college student in America is eligible to compete. The finals will be held June 19 at Los Angeles. The entries close March 25 and each college or university should have selected its orator by April 15. Information concerning the details of the contest may be obtained from P. Casper Harvey, Contest Director, Liberty, Mo.

spent Saturday in Eau Claire.

Tainter Hall welcomes several new girls this semester. Miss Esther Bock, a former student of Stout Institute who taught the past year in the school for subnormal children at Kenosha, is re-entering. Ivernia Forsland who has been attending school at La Crosse the past semester, enrolled on Monday. Tainter Hall family now numbers just eighteen.

"If wishes were horses, then beg-gars could ride." If circular stair-cases were elevators, then vaccinations wouldn't be bad.

Since "Sunnyside Up" appeared at the Orpheum, the following song hits have become very popular: "Oh, I want a Talking Picture of You," "I'm a Dreamer," and last but not least, "Turn on the Heat."

Miss Winifred Arnold, who is at-tending the University of Wisconsin, was the guest of Marian Cress on Wednesday.

GET YOUR VALENTINES
AT
A.R. OLSONS

IF YOUR HAIR IS YOUR PRIDE
HAVE IT TRIMMED RIGHT
AT
I. W. NESSER
"THE BARBER"

Organizations

Stout Glee Club
Makes Public Appearance

The Stout Glee Club made a public appearance at the Fiirst Congrega-tional Church of Menomonie, Sunday morning, at the regular services.

Many students heard them sing and wish to compliment them on their performance.

Luthern Student Association
Holds Social Meeting

The Stout Lutheran Association held its monthly meeting Wednesday evening in the Y. W. C. A. clubrooms.

The meeting was a purely social affair. The evening was spent in plying Bunco. Prizes were awarded and an enjoyable evening was con-cluded with delightful refreshments.

De Molay Club Makes Preparation For Formal

The Stout De Molay club held a business meeting Tuesday night in the Y. M. C. A. clubroom. The main business discussed was the coming De Molay Spring Formal. Chairman Reese has appointed all of his com-mitees and work is well under way. Indications show that this year's formal will surpass that of last year.

Members are requested to note the

Dr. Shirley Talks
On Child Welfare

Dr. Shirley, assistant Professor in the Institute of Child Welfare at the University of Miinnesota, gave an interesting, illustrative lecture in the auditorium, Wednesday evening.

Dr. Shirley presented an account of the mental, motor, and physical development of the child, from birth to two years of age. It was a result of her successful research in the study and understanding of children. She and Dr. Edith Boyd, also Assis-tant Professor at the Institute of Child Welfare at the University of Minnesota, gathered information, jointly, by continuous observations and contacts with twenty-five child-change of meeting night to Tuesday night, and are requested to change their plans accordingly.

See us for haircuts; we satisfy our customers

THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

Haircuts at any hour of the day

Three first class barbers

THE ELECTRIC SHOP

ren. This work was carried on in the homes. The entire results of this research is to be published some time during the summer.

Hyperian Candy Sale Friday

ORPHEUM

Tonight — Saturday
PATSY R. MILLER and JACK MULHALL in TWIN BEDS
Also SCREEN VODVIL

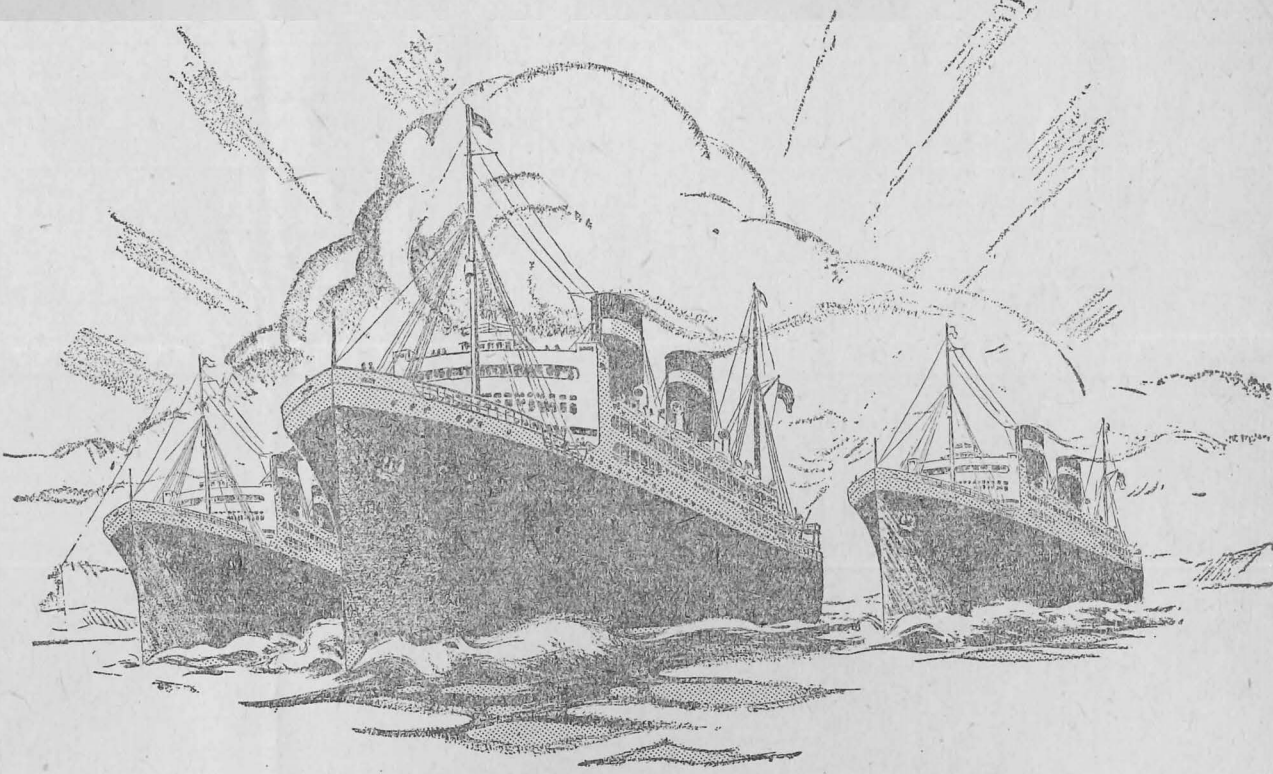

Sunday — Monday
ROMANCE OF RIO GRANDE
With WARNER BAXTER and MARY DUNCAN
News and Screen Vodvil
Mat. Sunday, 2:30.

Tuesday — Wednesday
FAST COMPANY
With JACK OAKIE and EVELYN BRENT
Also SHORT SUBJECTS

4 Days Starting Thursday
SHOW OF SHOWS
100 Shows in One — 100 Stars
100 Hollywood Beauties
The largest Revue ever produced
Mat. Sat. — Sun., 2:30

GRAND

KEN MAYNARD in
THE WAGON MASTER
Also Comedy
Mat. Sunday, 3:00

Over the Horizon

HERE they come—the nucleus of an all-electric merchant marine. Yesterday, they were a dream. To-day, they are well over the horizon, linking the ports of the east and west coasts with fortnightly service. The goal of the Panama Pacific Line is to build three more turbine-electric ships, thus enabling weekly New York-Frisco sailings.

Even now, the three liners, California, Virginia, and Pennsylvania, constitute the largest fleet of turbine-electric commercial ships in the world.

Besides propelling these ships, electricity hoists freight, raises anchors, mans pumps, turns rudders, drives winches, and warps the vessels into their berths. It lights lamps, spins fans, operates elevators, cools and cooks food. Its magic touch is apparent on every deck.

All electric equipment, above and below deck, is a prod-uct of General Electric.

The planning, production, and distribution of such equipment has been largely the responsibility of college-trained men who are working with General Electric and who have aided in bringing these ships over the horizon,

JOIN US IN THE GENERAL
ELECTRIC HOUR, BROADCAST
EVERY SATURDAY AT 9 P.M.,
E.S.T. ON A NATION-WIDE
N.B.C. NETWORK

GENERAL
ELECTRIC

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, SCHENECTADY, NEW YORK

!! HATS !!

1930 Styles and Colors.

EVANS TOBIN CO.

NEW SHOES
FROM OLD ONES

Come in and let us tell you what this means.
We do not cobble shoes,
we rebuild them.
We use the famous
Goodyear Welt System.

GOODYEAR QUICK SERVICE
SHOE REPAIR SERVICE
Satisfaction Guaranteed
GRAVEN & WILCOX

Pointers Bow to Trainers for First Conference Victory

Hasse, Cvengros, and Buros Star For Stout. Schroeder Shines For Pointers

The Stout Trainers defeated the Stevens Pointers 31 to 26 in an exhibition of fast basketball, last Friday evening, at Stevens Point. Both teams strived for a victory throughout the game, but Stout proved to be more than a match to the hosts. They took the lead early in the game and kept it.

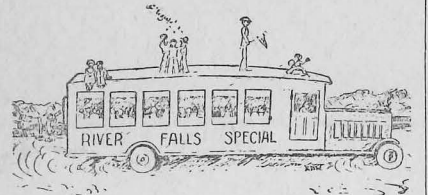

Hasse, Cvengros, and Buros starred for the blue and white, while Schroeder twenkled for the losers.

The line-ups and summary for the game follow:

| Stout—               | fg. | ft. | pf. |
|----------------------|-----|-----|-----|
| Hasse (R F) .....    | 6   | 2   | 2   |
| Paulus (Sub) .....   | 0   | 0   | 0   |
| Fordham (LF) .....   | 0   | 1   | 2   |
| Hanson (Sub) .....   | 0   | 0   | 0   |
| Cvengros (C) .....   | 3   | 1   | 2   |
| Hernaman (Sub) ..... | 0   | 0   | 0   |
| Buros (RG) .....     | 4   | 1   | 3   |
| Johnson LG) .....    | 0   | 0   | 2   |
| Schaude (Sub) .....  | 0   | 1   | 0   |
| Totals .....         | 13  | 6   | 11  |

| Stevens Point—          | fg. | ft. | pf. |
|-------------------------|-----|-----|-----|
| Baker (LG) .....        | 2   | 1   | 0   |
| Charlesworth (RG) ..... | 0   | 1   | 2   |
| Alberts (C) .....       | 0   | 0   | 1   |
| Marshall (Sub) .....    | 0   | 0   | 0   |
| Klapper (Sub) .....     | 0   | 0   | 0   |
| Cahvala (LF) .....      | 0   | 0   | 0   |
| Schroeder (Sub) .....   | 3   | 5   | 3   |
| Newberger (RF) .....    | 3   | 3   | 0   |
| Totals .....            | 8   | 10  | 6   |

RIVER FALLS BUS

Lets not forget about the special bus to River Falls. They came here; let's all go there. Start pushing for it now, and we'll get it.

Hyperian Cookie Sale next Friday, February 14, in the Corridor of H. E. Building.

The Annex and freshmen were the victors over Lynwood and the sophomores on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

FOUNTAIN PENS

Waterman-Moore-Conklin

Pens cleaned and repaired

OLE MADSEN

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor

Pressing, Repairing, and Dry

Cleaning done in short notice

Made-to-measure Suits $25 up

First Class Workmanship

Menomonie Baking Co.

Don't Forget Jaeger's Select

Doughnuts

Made The Electric Way

TAILORING

Dry Cleaning — Pressing

Prompt Service

A. E. HERREM

The Best Is None Too Good

Let GUS Clean Your Hats

and Shine Your Shoes

Menomonie Shoe Shining Parlor

Marion Hotel

Intramural Basketball Going Full Blast

Intramural basket-ball is going full blast. Two games are being played each week. One game is played every Monday night at five o'clock and another on Tuesday at five-fifteen. In order to complete the single round robin at the rate of two games a week, the intramural basket-ball season will continue until March first. At the present time the Cafeteria and Hometowners are tied for honors, as both teams have won all the games they have played.

Spectators are Invited

All are invited to attend these games which are being played in the Stout gym. It is requested that spectators use the track instead of the main floor. Manager "Charleston" Mueller wishes to give special thanks to those students who have helped him and especially those who have done the officiating.

The major sports are volley-ball, basket-ball, and kitten-ball. This is worked on the 60-10 point system. The minor sports are swimming and bowling. This is worked on the 30-5 point system. Whether or not bowling will be a minor sport this year will depend on the condition of the alleys.

Hyperians To Hold Candy Sale In H.E. Corridor, Friday

The Candy Sale takes place next Friday in the corridor of the H. E. building. Help the girls out, and enjoy yourself.

It used to be chivalry that prompted men to give women drivers the right of way; now it's common sense.

Everybody boost for the Special Bus to River Falls!!

Stout Fights Gamely; Loses to La Crosse In Fast Encounter

La Crosse Takes Early Lead and Keeps it for a 32-16 Victory

The Blue and White Tainters went down under the onslaught of the powerfl La Crosse aggregation last night to the tune of 32-16.

Nothing seemed to stop the fast, sure-eyed Cashman who rang up eleven points by himself. Stout pegged constantly at the basket, resorting to a great many long shots, but they either fell short or bounded off the hoop.

First Half Close

During the first half Stout showed promises of winning. The boys stayed within a couple of baskets from the visitors and at one time early in the game tied them. But the punch to forge ahead into the lead seemed to be lacking. The ended with a score of 18 - 10.

Second Half Runaway

When the teams re-entered for the second half, La Crosse seemed to have gained something. They played circles around Stout, scoring basket after basket. The Trainers fought gamely but to no avail, scoring only six points as compared with the opponent's fourteen. The game ended with Stout on the short end of the score string, 32 - 16.

There Is No Question About It

This Is The Place To

E A T

THE PEERLESS GRILL

"The Home of Good Food"

Quality Always

and the

SEASON'S SMARTEST STYLES

Swenson and Berndt

The Shoe Men

SERVICE

We do dry cleaning every day. If you need the use of your suit immediately, take advantage of our "ONE DAY SERVICE."

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE

Spring Suits $22.50 to $35.00

MENOMONIE DYE HOUSE

Running & Cole

QUALITY PLUS

$ 25.00 — $ 32.50

SUITS and OVERCOATS

Made To Your Measure

1. All Wool 2. Fit 3. Style 4. Wear

TEARE CLOTHING STORE

For the best in Fountain Pens

and Fountain Pen Clasps.

See the ANSHUS BOYS

River Falls Leads In Conference Race

With the halfway post now reached, the leadership of the conference rests solely on River Falls' shoulders. But with the home stretch just ahead, the race is sure to resolve itself into an interesting spectacle.

Suffering from a 20 - 16 defeat by the Falls, Superior is resting in third place with their protested athletic sitting on the bench. Milwaukee leads the south division, closely followed by Whitewater. La Crosse and Platteville, with two victories and two defeats, are sitting in the middle with a .500 percentage.

This Week-End Crucial

Stevens Point, Eau Claire, Oshkosh

and Stout are riding in the cellar having won only one game each.

With several strong teams opposing each other this week end the present standing will probably be changed. Below is the standing of the various teams.

| School—             | Won. | Lost. | Pct.  |
|---------------------|------|-------|-------|
| River Falls .....   | 4    | 0     | 1.000 |
| Milwaukee .....     | 4    | 1     | .800  |
| Superior .....      | 3    | 1     | .750  |
| Whitewater .....    | 2    | 1     | .667  |
| La Crosse .....     | 2    | 2     | .500  |
| Platteville .....   | 2    | 2     | .500  |
| Stevens Point ..... | 1    | 3     | .250  |
| Eau Claire .....    | 1    | 3     | .250  |
| Stout .....         | 1    | 4     | .200  |
| Oshkosh .....       | 1    | 4     | .200  |

Famous Last Lines: "Hullo there Archimeedies."

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP

NEW SPRING DRESSES

ARRIVING DAILY

Valentines 5c to $2.50

Whitman's Valentine Boxcandy

LEE'S DRUG STORE

GIVE "HER" CANDY

for

::: VALENTINE'S DAY :::

We have a very good assortment

THE OLYMPIA

Good Meals and Refreshments

SERVICE

Hotel Marion      Coffee Shop

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind

Our Own

Lenses

Broken

Lenses

Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY

C. H. INGRAHAM      F. A. TORREY

REGISTERED      OPTOMETRISTS

The Shaker Studios are always glad to serve you. You always get the best in photography if your photographs are made at the Shaker Studios.

Let us develope your Kodak films.

SHAKER STUDIOS

"Makers of real live photographs"

TRY OUR

HEAVY MALTEDS - - HOMEMADE FUDGE

OR

SANDWICHES

"THEY'RE DELICIOUS"

" THE CANDY SHOPPE "

Don't Forget About The
DE MOLAY DANCE

THE STOUTONIA

See You At The Tower
TACKY DRAG Saturday

Vol. XXIX — No. 1819

THE STOUT INSTITUTE, MENOMONIE, WISCONSIN

Friday, February 14, 1929

Fourth Annual Tacky Drag Promises Good Time

Miss Baker Now In France; Tells Story Of Wonderful Sights

Intensive Sight Seeing Campaign Nets Interesting Features To Tourist

The editor received the following letter from Miss Lillian Baker, former Stout instructor, now touring the world.

Lannemezan, France
Jan. 21, 1930.

My dear Stoutonia readers,—

Let's see! I promised one letter from each country in which I travel this year, didn't I? Well, I'm still in France, but all of France that is not Paris, is so distinctly different from Paris itself, that I shall include in this letter notes of southern France and of Spain.

For nearly three months Paris had been a fascinating world to us, and if it had not been for the fact that we still had enticing territory to explore in other lands, we would have been loathe to leave. However, we left Paris just a few days after New Year's, and since that time have been enraptured with the beauties of rural France and of Spain. We have had an intensive sight seeing campaign of which most interesting features are as follows:

1. Museum of ancient silks at Lyon.
2. Palace of the Popes—Avignon—this is a massive stone palace which was the Papal seat for over 100 years.
3. Bridge of St. Benizet — the remains of an ancient bridge built across the River Rhone at Avignon by the Romans in the 11th century.
4. Ancient fortifications at Avignon.
5. Roman theatre—Orange—a magnificent piece of work, representing an amazing amount of wealth, skill, and beauty of architecture. It had a seating capacity of 42,000, and is used today by dramatic troupes from the Odean and Comedie Francaise

(Continued on Page 7)

MA.P.'s In District Dramatic Contest

The district preliminary one-act play tournament, in which the Manual Arts Players are representing The Stout Institute, will be held in The Stout Auditorium Friday evening, February 21, at eight-fifteen o'clock.

The contestants in this tournament are as follows: River Falls State Teachers College, Eau Claire State Teachers College, and The Stout Institute. The play to be given by the Eau Claire College is to be chosen from three one-act plays which will be presented at a local play contest held there this week. The River Falls College is presenting "Just Neighborly" by Alexander Dean, and Stout is giving "The Old Grouch" by Richard Willis.

This state college dramatic contest idea was started in Wisconsin last year. This year the number of contestants increased until it was found necessary to divide the state into districts and hold preliminary contests in each district. The college receiving the first place in its district will participate in the state contest at Madison March seventh.

Let's all boost for Stout. The dramatic team needs student support just as does the athletic team. The price of admission will be fifty cents.

Colleges Join March To Great White Way

"The demand for higher education is increasingly being satisfied where the people ARE rather than where they ARE NOT," says President George F. Zook of the University of Akron in an article written in support of the municipal university.

President Zook sees two trends in student enrollment and educational development in higher education; the first is the rapidity with which public colleges and universities are excelling private institutions, the second the tendency of higher schools to locate in urban centers. There are now ten municipal colleges and universities in the United States besides many teacher training institutions and junior colleges, and President Zook believes that municipal higher education in one form or another will become as usual as public elementary and secondary education.

Among the advantages of the urban higher schools is the greater opportunity to train for occupations under practical conditions. The University of Akron trains many of its engineers, commercial students and teachers on the cooperative plan by which the student spends a substantial amount of time in actual contact with local industries. As a result of this experience, Students can choose their employment more wisely and after graduation meet the practical problems of employment more successfully.

Lynwood Hall Men's Dormitory Next Semester

All Freshmen Men Must Stay At Lynwood Hall Next Year Is Ruling

This supplement corrects certain statements incorporated in the catalog concerning dormitories. Whatever it differs from the catalog announcement, this statement stands. Lynwood Hall, beginning with the 1930 Fall Session, will become a Men's Dormitory. The women will be accommodated in the Tainter Hall and Annex, so far as the accommodations make that possible. Preference will be given Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors in the order named.

Dormitory for Men

Lynwood Hall is now designated as a men's dormitory. The facilities are ample to accommodate from 70 to 80 men. The rooms are well furnished. On two floors laboratories are provided in each room; bath and other toilet facilities are conveniently situated on each floor. Rooms which are not so equipped are convenient to adequate toilet facilities including tub and shower baths.

Each room is supplied with bookshelves, study tables, chairs, dressers and wardrobe facilities. Rugs are also furnished. Sheets and pillow cases are supplied and are laundered without charge to the students. Each student furnishes his counterpane, blankets, towels and personal furnishings. Further details concerning the dormitory are given in the catalog.

Regulations

All Freshmen who do not live with near relatives (parents, uncles or aunts) are required to live in the Dormitory. In case limited accommodations make it necessary to grant permission to any men to room off campus during the first semester, such permission is for the semester.

(Continued on Page 7)

PROGRAM TACKY DRAG

Some Dances.
Lecture on Mankind.
Some Dances.
Hot Sizzling Rusty.
Another Struggle.
Straw Dance.
More Dancing.
Canatsey's German Fog Horns.
Another Dance.
Chinderella by Vic & co.
Some Dances.
Another Hop Around.
Johnson Storie Trampers.
Tower Raffle and Struggle.
Lot more Dances.

Stout Gym Team Laying Plans For A New Program

Student Interest is Increasing Rapidly; Schedule Revised to Accommodate Old Members

The Stout Gym Team, under the direction of Messrs. P. C. Nelson and R. Kranzsch, are laying plans for a new program this semester which will include many new exercises and stunts as well as taking care of the new members that are being urged to join. Student interest has been increasing rapidly, and it has become necessary to revise the old schedule in order to accommodate the fast learning and advanced members.

A program committee consisting of Miss Schaeffer, P. C. Nelson, R. Kranzsch, E. Smith and Art Peterson has been selected to gather and select such material as will be representative of a college gym team. Each of the above mentioned has been affiliated with some type of athletic activity, and is well suited for the position. Miss Schaeffer is the gym instructor at the Menomonie high school, and such plans may be made as to consolidate some of her students with the Stout team.

To Give Exhibition Soon

The gym team is now practicing to give an exhibition at the Boy Scout Rally, which is to be held some time next month. Mr. Balentine, chairman of the committee for this rally, has asked the team to cooperate with him in making the rally a success.

All students who are interested in tumbling are urged to come out for practices. No previous experience is required, as Messrs. Nelson and Kranzsch are planning to conduct a class for beginners and one for advanced students. This of course will be done during the same period. Membership to the class will be open for two weeks so everyone will have a chance to come and try out their

(Continued on Page 7)

| Monday            |              |
|-------------------|--------------|
| Science Club      | 5:00 o'clock |
| Stoutonia Staff   | 5:00 o'clock |
| Tower Staff       | 7:00 o'clock |
| Women's Glee Club | 7:00 o'clock |
| Men's Glee Club   | 7:00 o'clock |
| Band              | 7:00 o'clock |
| Tuesday           |              |
| Philo             | 5:00 o'clock |
| Wednesday         |              |
| Rifle Club        | 7:00 o'clock |
| Metallurgy Club   | 7:00 o'clock |
| Lutheran Students | 7:00 o'clock |
| Y. W. C. A.       | 5:00 o'clock |
| Thursday          |              |
| Areme             | 7:30 o'clock |
| Hyperion          | 5:00 o'clock |
| Orchestra         | 7:00 o'clock |

Al Poellinger Is Now A Pedagogue

Wednesday afternoon Al Poellinger accepted a teaching position at Neenah, Wisconsin. This position has until a few days ago been held by Harold Taufman. Mr. Taufman accepted this position shortly after the Christmas holidays, but he has been so unfortunate as to have been taken sick and will be unable to go on the position. In view of this fact, Mr. Taufman has resigned and Al Poellinger has accepted the position as the regular instructor. The position is a drawing and printing combination and we are sure that "Heinie" will make a fine instructor.

Mr. Poellinger, famous for his letters to Maw and better known as Heinie, is a senior this year and has during the entire year been president of the senior class. He has also been president of the Manual Arts Players. Of course it is needless to say that he is a member of the Stoutonia staff. The readers of the Stoutonia will miss these letters to Maw, but the staff will do all in their power to get Heinie to write to Maw once in awhile and by chance write to his Alma Mater. In behalf of the Senior class, the M. A. P. and the Stoutonia staff the writer wishes Al all kinds of good luck in his teaching position.

Zimmerman Opens Club Rooms For Students' Benefit

Large Number of Students Take Advantage of Recreational Rooms in Gym

The Men's Club Rooms in the gymnasium opened Monday evening after school, under the able supervision of Peter Zimmerman. The club rooms were rather late in being opened this year due to the extensive redecorating that has been going on throughout the entire gym. Even though this has been true the men have not forgotten where the rooms are and they have already begun frequenting the rooms very freely.

The club rooms have been remodeled and redecorated to such an extent that it is hard to believe that it is the same place. It has become a very attractive and comfortable place for the men to spend a few hours of their leisure time. The walls and ceiling have been painted, and a new cement floor has been laid. The old steam pipes that ran around the walls have been replaced by several good looking steam radiators. The old stationery benches that lined the west and north wall have been removed and have been supplanted with two very nice davenport and four large chairs. These chairs and sofas were brought over from the president's office and make a wonderful improvement to the rooms.

New lights have been installed which do much for the appearance and comfort of the rooms. As yet the radio has not been operating but "Zim" has promised to have it going in a very short time. The clock seems to have gotten lazy from standing idle so long but we are sure that the manager will have it operating successfully before the week is over.

The Men's Club Rooms are open to all men, and Freshmen as well as

(Continued on Page 7)

Saturday Night Set Aside For Making Whoopie At Stout

Dusty, Barney, Rusty and Heinie to Give the Crowd Laughs Galore

The annual Tower Tacky Drag is to be Saturday night. Its purpose is to raise money to help defray expenses of The Tower, the Stout Institute year book, put out this year by the Junior class.

From past experiences one can be assured of a good time at the Tacky Drag as each year the affair is bigger and better. Some new and interesting features will be presented; all that is necessary is for you to go and see them.

Just a hint of the novelty program—there will be staged on act called "The Return of the Ages." The school's well-known humorists will entertain: Dusty and Barney; Rusty and Heinie.

If you are good at guessing, don't fail to try your luck and your ability. A Tower will be raffled off and you may be the lucky one. Refreshments will not be forgotten or omitted either.

Decorations to be Attraction

Perhaps the main point of attraction will be the decorations. Nothing even slightly similar to this has ever been seen before on land or sea, by man or beast. The decorations can best be explained by the word "tacky". If you miss your old comic sections of your Sunday newspaper, after Saturday night you will know where they are. The walls and floor will be "dressed up" for the occasion in a very realistic manner.

Kent Riggs is general chairman of the affair. Frances Schroeder and William Soucie have charge of the decorations. Ardella Anderson is in charge of the refreshments, and Bernard Hagen is managing the program.

The atmosphere will lend itself to the enjoyment of a rousing good time. The Tower needs your support. Show it by attending the Tacky Drag and have a bit of jolly entertainment.

Intra-Mural Games Still Going Strong

The intra-mural games at Stout have played an important role in school activities during the last few years. The participants have entered into the contests with much anticipation, interest and friendly rivalry, and general interest and cooperation have been manifest throughout the entire student body.

Last fall, the intra-mural sports program started with a series of volleyball games. The Home Towners led the series with 60 points to their credit, and were followed by the Cafeteria and Curtis groups who tied for second honors with 45 points each. The Eye-openers came next with 30 points, then the Greeleys with 20, and lastly, the Brakers who resigned themselves to 10 points.

Basketball then stepped into the spotlight, and at present is still on the stage although the finale is soon at hand. Again we find the fighting Home Towners at the forefront, with the Cafeteria and Eye-openers mutually holding down second place. Two wins are found on the Braker's scoreboard while Curtis and Greeley possess the goose-egg. The playing of the Curtis team emphatically reveals a slowing down of their basket-

(Continued on Page 7)

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                               |                       |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Managing Editor               | E. V. Ahonen          |
| Associate Editor              | Henrietta L. Quilling |
| News Editor                   | Chester Mau           |
| News Editor                   | Belinda Hendrickson   |
| Assistant News Editor         | Bernard Hagen         |
| Feature Editor                | William Soucie        |
| Feature Editor                | Kent Riggs            |
| Feature Editor                | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Humor Editor                  | Carl Roll             |
| Sports Editor                 | Georgia Aber          |
| Exchange Editor               | William Michaels      |
| Organization Editor           | Bernice Bricker       |
| Organization Editor           | Anita Gundlach        |
| Cartoonist                    | Alfred M. Reinhold    |
| Reporters                     | Kathleen Lind         |
|                               | Vivian Hewitt         |
|                               | Grace Quarters        |
| Business Manager              | Earl C. Halverson     |
| Circulation Manager           | Robert G. Reick       |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Carl Roll             |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Byron Canatsey        |
| Advertising Manager           | Marlo McCullough      |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr.        | Donald K. Lind        |
| Foreman Mechanical Department | Kent Riggs            |
| Under Direction of            | Mr. C. W. Hague       |
| Editorial Adviser             | Mr. John Faville, Jr. |
| Associate Adviser             | Miss Helen Sarchet    |

HOW ABOUT A STOUT SWIMMING TEAM?

Several students have been talking about organizing a Stout swimming team. As things now stand, the opportunities for winning a letter are very limited. Why not talk swimming and get a team organized. Most of the other colleges have them.

THE CHECK ROOM

The Y. M. C. A. conducts a check room for the safety of our clothes and for the purpose of making a few dollars during dance nights. Let's use it and help the boys out, and be assured that our clothing will be safe while we enjoy ourselves.

RIVER FALLS BUS

What a fine bunch of school-spirited hypocrits our student body turned out to be.

Before the paper got on the press it was called to the editor's attention that enough signers did not grace the dotted line with their signatures, in assembly, to make it possible for the cheer leaders to get the bus.

Are you going to allow River Falls to show you up? Are you going to fall down on the job now?

It's easy enough to cheer a team when they are near the top, but now is the time when they need support. Come on gang, push.

LINCOLN

Now that we have just celebrated another one of Lincoln's birthdays it is appropriate to think about him for a minute or two. What he was in private life does not matter. It is by his great work as a statesman and philosopher that we should remember him. If you have had your childish picture of the great president spoiled by late books, just draw a new picture of a man with democratic ideas, a man who was great despite the fact that he was living in a period when everything that a man did was held against him. If you can't think of him as the ideal American, remember him as the author of the saying, "Show me a man who makes no mistakes and I'll show you a man who doesn't do anything."

UNDERSTANDING HELP

Do you know that one understands with himself? I mean, that whatever capacity to understand one possesses is a product of his own experience. Only one who has lived can understand life in another. Only one whose own soul has been shredded can understand other souls that are being shredded, and what shreds them.

Let some piercing beauty that you can hold in your memory-place, come in—if not beauty in persons then beauty and tenderness in some altar-spot which Nature has made for you. All we need to do to make any place in Nature ours is to see it. That's all—'tis ours for the seeing. Not long ago I found a stately, old pine tree in a lonely place—untouched, unscarred by axes, unspoiled, and so far as I knew, unclaimed by anybody. I laid my cheek against its weather-beaten trunk and pressed it. Why, I even kissed its crude bark! Then it was Mine! Don't you see? Trees, and hills, and grass, and flowers, and sun, and moon, and stars, are all yours and mine, and they are faithful. They never offend, nor take for granted, nor break a trust.

It is only those who themselves have suffered who can ever truly help another who suffers, and whose ship has been so often near the whirlpool of lost souls.

—W. B. D.

Let's Laugh

"What became of the girl that was the cream in your coffee?"
"She soured on me."

"I knocked that quiz cold."
"I bet that's why its so stiff this morning."

Man working under a car: "Some nut is always taking the joy out of life."

—S—
Mau: "I suppose I can sit here until I starve."

Waiter: No, we close at midnight."

The saddest story
Ever told—
Her heart was warm
But her feet were cold.

World's Laziest Man
The wife, awakened by a fire siren, poked her hubby, and said, "Wake up, darling, I think the whole town is on fire."

The husband slowly arose, sleepily felt the four walls of his room, yawned and stretched and murmured, "The walls are still cool," and drifted back into slumber.

Nothing to Show Now
Elderly clerk: "I don't like this new fashion of young men going without hats."

Friend: "Why not?"
Clerk: "In the days of long ago, when the chief wanted somebody who was not in the office, one could say: 'He must be about—there is his hat.' But now there is nothing to show."

"Do you really think that college develops the mind?"
"I certainly do. Who but a college boy could think up so many different ways to ask for money!"

If you can't look interested when you're bored, you aren't invited to many parties. And sometimes you're supposed to look bored when you're interested.

Vital Statistics
Marriage is a finishing school from which thousands of bachelors are playing hookey.

Love Me?
I bow to you; I kiss you,
You make my life—that's all;
I wouldn't live without you,
Dearest fountain in the hall.

Large ears indicate musical talent.

An optimist is a man who knows a good story.

"What are those brown spots on your coat, gravy?"
"No, rust; they said this suit would wear like iron."

"Isn't that man wonderful? Why, he can actually make one feel hot or cold, happy or sad, at his slightest will."
"That's nothing at all. Our janitor can do that."

Hush, little seniors,
Don't be so bold.
You're only freshmen
Four years old.

—The Konah.

To see a man in love is both comical and beautiful.

Love between the ages of sixteen and twenty is puppy love, which is the beginning of a dog's life.

Elderly woman to aviator: "Will you please shut off that electric fan in front? It's cold enough as it is."

Notice in China Department
Good 'till the first drop."

The woman gave man an apple in the garden of Eden. Now the woman take man's superiority as a lot of apple sauce."

ANVIL SPARKS from Aries

Even dumb animals choose their friends, and they seldom make a mischoice. With people it is different.

One seldom, if ever, imputes any higher motive to another than that which in his own heart he secretly entertains. Thus do we reveal ourselves when we least intend to do so.

Filler

What's Wrong With These Sentences?

"Say, fellows, let me pay for the treats tonight."

"Got a flunk in Math. but deserved it."

"I like these 8 o'clock classes because I feel so fresh and vigorous in the mornings."

"I like to go to Stout dances because they are so well attended."

"I do my best studying Sunday morning."

"Do you know I was so interested in my psychology today that I forgot to eat my dinner."

"It won't be necessary for me to give dad the touch this month because I spent such a small amount of my allowance last month."

"I like to have fellows hit me on the arm as it relieves the itching of my vaccination."

"I didn't have my written assignment for History today but the professor was good natured about it."

"I never look for a check n my letters from home because I don't need he money anyway."

"We went to the Orpheum last night and the film didn't break once."
"I never whistle in my shop classes because it disturbs the other students."

"It's only fourteen weeks until we take the final exams so I have begun my reviewing."

"I never refuse any fellow a dance because I feel that it would injure my popularity."

"When I get several letters at a time, I always look at the girl's letter last."

"Some one stole my History book, but I don't care—I used to be poor myself, and I know just how they feel."

"I left my fountain pen in the library two days ago and I found it in the same place today untouched."

"Say Bill here's the five I borrowed from you yesterday."

"I never take my cuts because I feel that I don't get full benefit from my courses if I do."

"The Profs never have erasers on their pencils because they don't make mistakes."

"Lips that touch a cigarette will never touch mine."

"Necking is never done in public places, on the Stout campus, because the students feel that love is sacred."

Philosophy in Slang

"Show me a man who makes no mistakes and I'll show you a man who doesn't do anything."

Lincoln was the guy who was responsible for the above wise crack. Now that we have just celebrated his birthday it is appropriate that the boy from the backwoods be given a hand. No need in going through the story of the nickle he brought back to the old woman. We all know Abe.

"Do onto others as you would have others do onto you."

The author of that remark has forgotten to sign his name, but he isn't the bird that makes the Michigan laws.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you, weep and you weep alone."

The dodo who invented that bit of poetry wasn't so dumb as he might appear at first glance.

"All the world loves a fat man."

And for the first time today we disagree. It depends on the size of

Personals

Dean Bowman, of the Industrial Education department, left yesterday for Madison where he will attend the meeting of the committee which is working on the Certification of Teachers. This meeting will be held today, but it is impossible to get the details on the meeting until some time later. The report that this committee will make will be issued at the teachers' convention, which will be held in Milwaukee some time in the spring. Of course, the details of action taken at the convention will appear in the Stoutonia, providing they are released for publication. It is rather doubtful as to whether the work of the committee will be released until that time also.

Janet Kyle was taken sick at her home here Sunday and was operated for appendicitis early Monday morning. Dr. Bloomo, the attending physician, reports her condition as being very favorable.

Prexy Receives Invitation

Last Monday, President Nelson received a telegram inviting him to stop at Pittsburgh while enroute to Atlantic City and be the guest of honor at a Stout Alumni dinner. President Nelson's contemplated trip is planned for the first part of March. He is always glad to attend Stout Alumni gatherings, but as his trip is not certain he could give no definite answer.

Funk Spends Friday in Madison

B. M. Funk spent last Friday in Madison on business in conference with new bureaus established by the legislature of last year.

Edna Mathews proved to be very brilliant in Ed. Pro. on Monday. To Mr. Brown's question, "Should a man who intended to become a mechanic be required to make a tin cup," she replied, "Yes, he could always use it if he lost his job."

The Annex became Dormitory champions Wednesday night when they had a 23 to 4 victory over the town. Good teamwork was shown, but the town was at a disadvantage, having shorter girls on the team. Gutwaser was the most outstanding player on the Annex team; she made six baskets. Ness played a good game and scored ten points and one free throw.

There are still two games left to play off:—The juniors play the freshmen on Wednesday at five, the winners of Wednesday night's game play the Annex on Thursday. Who will be all school and clas champions? Be there and see the winning team get its victory.

the old boy's pocketbook and his ability to drag down cocktails.

"Never trouble trouble, till trouble troubles you."

Nice clean sentiment, the lad seemed to know a thing or two when he penned these words, it's a good idea to get wised up.

"A man is no older than he feels."

It wasn't our friend Bill Shakespeare who coined that line, but he claimed that it was so, so we'll be polite and believe him. Quite a boy that Bill.

"We live to learn."

Sometimes we also learn to live, but that's neither hear nor there. The point is that the wise guy is the one that makes errors.

Believe it or not, but if you put these end to end you'll have a pretty good code to live by.

—S—

"Mother," cried little Mary, as she rushed into the farmhouse they were visiting, "Johnny wants the Listerine. He's just caught the cutest little black and white animal, and he thinks it's got halitosis."

Twin Cities Call Auto Mechanics; Thirty-Five Go

Prof. Good Holds up Caravan
By Reluctance in Getting Out of Bed

On Thursday and Friday, February 6 and 7, a group of thirty-five Electrical and Auto Mechanics students under the direction of Mr. Good, went on a field trip through various Minneapolis factories and plants. These included the Minneapolis Iron Store, The Wills Motor Company, The Minneapolis Steel and Machinery Company, The Northern States Power Co. Company, The Northwest Auto Show High Bridge, and The Ford Motor was also visited.

Hours of Sleep Forsaken

'Twas a sleepy-looking group that congregated at the gym last Thursday morning. It's no wonder though, because six o'clock is terribly early, especially for college students. The incentive of a trip to the Twin Cities, however, was enough to cause thirty-five of our worthy Industrial Education students to abandon their blankets and sally forth into the cold, misty morning. Prof. Good must have been the most reluctant because he was the last one there. He knew that no one could leave without him, so he probably took advantage of this and grabbed off a few more winks. Louie Palmer was the first one there. He is night watchman of the buildings.

After a little fuss and argument over the placement of people in cars, the fleet eventually pulled anchor and set sail for the Vendome Hotel, somewhere in Minneapolis. The sleet was terrible, and it was necessary to stop and clean it off the windshield every four or five miles. Cotton has a new invention, by the way, for removing sleet from windshields. It seems to combine the actions of a hydraulic mining pump and a hot-water radiator. It seems that in the rush, Wallin and Soucie forgot to eat breakfast, so they beefed about it until they were finally fed at Hammond.

Journey Completed

As all good things must end so this voyage had to end. One by one the eight cars limped up to the Vendome, somewhere in Minneapolis.

The first tour was through the Minneapolis Iron Store, where all kinds of automobile repair equipment is on display. It was interesting to see how much some people will do to try to rejuvenate their old relics. A splendid lunch was served to the group in the company dining hall. Swarty says he had enough pickles and bread to last him until he got home again.

At the Will's Motor Company, the gang saw how motor busses are made. At present this company is completing a new model front-wheel drive bus that is costing $75,000.00 to construct. Oh, what a buggy!

The next shop was the Minneapolis Steel and Machinery Company, where Twin Cities tractors are built. Biwer was terribly disappointed there. He wanted to go through the office and give all the ladies the once over. Tough luck—for him.

Gang Seeks Entertainment

On the way back to the Vendome, somewhere in Minneapolis, Novascome was found sitting on the curb, counting the stories in the Foshay Tower.

After supper, the gang split up for the evening's entertainment. No one knows where everybody went and it really doesn't matter anyway. Biwer was in such a mess trying to decide which one of his many girls to call up, that he finally decided to forget it, both of them, and go to bed. Judging from the large number of droopy eyelids next morning, many of the boys must have had a very enjoyable evening.

The first visit, on Friday morning's program, (after the cafe) was the High Bridge Plant of the Northern States Power Company. Roll wanted

Did You Know That-

Al Poellinger got a job, and is leaving for Meenah, Wisconsin, to report for work Monday morning?

Pete has opened The Men's Club rooms? A large crowd meets there daily.

Rex Englesby is getting along very well? It won't be long now before we will see the boy on the campus again.

We play Luther College here tonight? Boost for another victory.

There are some real intra-mural basketball games being played every night?

There are 5,000,000 unemployed Men in U. S.? What are you going to do about it, huh?

to take home one of the dynamos for his erector set, but his pockets were too small.

Next came the Ford Assembly Plant. It was very interesting to see the propagation of Lizzie—starting with a handful of bolts and ending with a finished car, ready for the road. A car is finished every minute while the plant is running. No wonder there are so many Fords.

Rusty Displays Talent

While eating lunch at the Ford Bridge Cafe, Rusty ran off a few tunes on the Baldwin, much to the enjoyment of every one present. Request numbers began to come in so fast that even Barber could not keep track of the mall—until Gardiner began to sing—and then it was awful. Tables and chairs were upset, dishes were broken, and a terrible commotion was created by the people on their way out.

The grand climax of the tour was the Northwestern Auto Show, held at the Minnesota State Fair Grounds. Many of the boys still have sore eyes from looking at all the swell cars. Rowe sat in all the high priced jobs to see how it feels to be a big shot. About two-thirds of the fellows spent four bits for a funny little do-jigger that some blue-eyed blonde was selling. Arnie Stori bought four of them. Whether Mr. Milnes bought one or not has not been found out yet. He refuses to commit himself. Mr. Kranzsch tried to trade in his Essex on an outboard motor, but they wanted too much to boot.

Theatre Has Beautiful Lights

The ceiling of the show building was dotted with myriads of small electric lights that flickered on and off like stars. Very clever. Bronstad noticed them and remarked that those lights that are always going out should be fixed. The body arrived home Saturday. He looks quite natural.

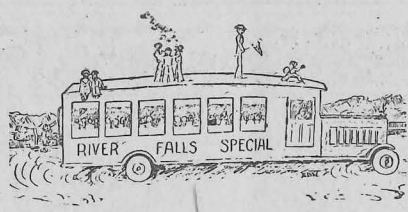

When supper time came four of the poor unsuspecting fellows went to the Show Cafeteria to feed up. After each buying seventy or eighty cents worth, they each bought a hamburger to keep from starving on the way home. Why, it even cost a quarter to rent a knife and fork.

Everyone Back to School

Due to the fact that Carl "Wah" Roll was giving the little girl a break that night, one of the cars had to leave early. The others left later, in fact, it was much later for some. Nevertheless, everyone was back in time for school Monday, and so far no ill effects of this trip have been noticed except for the addition of another derby to the campus, bringing the total to approximately—oh, you guess yourself!

We hear that Mr. Good received a very complimentary letter from the management of the Vendome Hotel, somewhere in Minneapolis. They evidently have not yet missed the towels and soap from Will's and Dehling's rooms.

RIVER FALLS SPECIAL

A great deal has been said about the special bus to River Falls in the past three weeks.

The game comes off next week so this is the last time that the Stoutonia will be able to plea to the student body for their whole-hearted support.

Come on folks, let's make this a success. Show Coach Burbidge and the team that we're behind them.

—S—

Freshmen Present Program In Honor Of Freshman Day

Banquet and Speeches Assure
Under-classmen of a Definite Place on Campus

The yearly recognition of the Freshmen came last week on Friday, Feb. 8, when a representative group from the class of 1933 presented the regular weekly assembly program. The annual Freshman banquet was held in the Bandbox Friday night.

The assembly program included a play, "The Fatal Tragedy", featuring Pauline Bonesho and George Bryant as the curtains; Nathaniel Ward as the King; Jane Foeller as the Queen; Edward Gilles as the Duke; Lucille Schultz, Princess; Karl Miller as Tragic Atmosphere and Gordon Ross, Bellringer.

Miss Hassler and Mr. Price, Freshman class advisers, gave their views on Freshmen, as did Al Poellinger, senior class president.

Frosh Band Furnishes Music

Music was furnished by a novelty Freshman band, directed by Eddie Canatsey. Other members of the band were: Rowe, Browe, Howe, Harmon, Goodrich, Nichols, Johnson, Griffith, Rosenfeldt, Miller, and Pierson.

An interesting program followed the banquet, speeches by the advisers, a reading by Jane Foeller and a solo by Oren Stamsted.

This annual event assures the Freshmen that they have a definite place on the campus, and with full recognition will come full responsibility.

—S—

Organizations

The Philomathean meeting on Tuesday night combined both business and social aspects. In order to relieve individual members of an undue amount of work and to equalize opportunities for chairmanship, it was decided to have a different program and refreshment chairman for each social meeting. The evening was spent playing bridge, after which refreshments were served.

Saturday was moving day at the Hall. Frances Schroeder is now occupying the single room on second floor, which was vacated by Edna Mathews. Edna is very prejudiced against the conveniences of her old room. Marian Cress and Ivernia Forsland have moved to third floor; their room is noted for its sound proof walls.

Marion Cress spent Sunday in Minneapolis.

Margaret Allen braved the strong Sunday wind and hiked out to Paradise Valley. We haven't heard whether she found it or not.

The M. A. P.'s will have to get a new character to take Heinie's part in the contest play.

Here'n There

In view of the keen competition for places on the 1930 edition of the Golden Avalanche and the proximity of the spring football practice, many of the boys seeking berths on the Marquette eleven are engaging in special conditioning exercises, the most popular of which is handball.

Since Coach Burbidge spoke of early spring training at our recent Stout campus, it might be well for some of our men to try handball also.

Dormitory Co-eds of Bethel college are betting that in this modern world where advertising and organization are everything, advertising is the more potent of the two, etc., etc., going on to explain how the residents of the dormitories started a high pressure advertising campaign as a competitive measure against the sororities. It seemed that the male element of the school was rather neglecting the dormitories in favor of the sorority houses, and of course that had to be stopped. We don't know whether the plan worked, or not, but we would suggest to the habitees of the women's residence halls, that if such a situation ever occurred on our own dear campus—"It pays to Advertise."

"Gottlieb" Schwartz, in an intra-mural game at the University of Texas, was high point man for both sides, making every point of the game. In the first half he tossed one in the wrong basket for his opponents' only two points. In the second half, he made a basket and free throw for his side to win the game, 3 to 2.

The Albert Russel Erskine Trophy, emblematic of the national football championship as determined by 250 sports writers, will be presented to Notre Dame, 1929 winner, at the Pittsburgh-Notre Dame basketball game on February 8th.

—The Bradley Tech.

Prof. Maynard W. Brown of the Marquette College of Journalism, will speak before a meeting of the Wisconsin Press Association Friday, Feb. 14. The convention opens at 2 p. m., Thursday, Feb. 13, and closes Saturday morning, Feb. 15.

—The Marquette Tribune

Late this month a book of poems by a Marquette senior will be published. The book is to be called "Etchings" and will contain two sections, one devoted to love and the other to miscellaneous poems.

—The Marquette Tribune.

Hamline University Women's Athletic Association journeyed to Macalester college and joined their sister athletes of the nine Minnesota colleges at an annual W. A. A. Play Day. There was no competition between colleges, but each school had participants in every sport which included basketball, volley ball, deck tennis, swimming, horseshoe and badminton (a new game).

The Hamline Oracle.

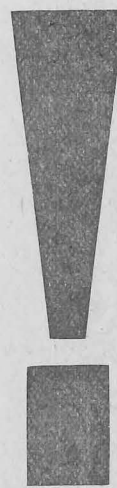

The S. T. S. did not meet as scheduled last Wednesday night.

The Stoutonia staff has just admitted four new members into its ranks, namely, Riggs, feature writer; Johnson, feature writer; Miss Hewitt, reporter, and Miss Quarters, reporter.

The "Tower" is nearer completion now than it was last year at this time. Thanks to a hard-working staff and a capable editor!

Due to Al Poellinger's receiving a job, the Manual Art Players will hold an election of officers at the next meeting. Al was president of the M. A. P. and had the lead in the contest play.

ROOT FOR A WIN

ST. PAUL LUTHER

VS.

STOUT

TONIGHT

8:15 P.M.

CO. "A" ARMORY

BACK

THE ## TEAM

PUT ON YOUR MOST

GET SET

Fourth A

TACKY

"THE GOOD TIME D

EVERYBODY Will Be At Th

8 P.M. SATURDAY,

T RAGGED OUTFIT AND

FOR THE

h Annual

D R A G

E DANCE SUPREME"

At The Stout GYMNASIUM

FEBRUARY 15, 1930

Better Homes Depend Upon School Guidance Says Professor Brewer

Criticizes the Schools for Offering "Pitifully Inadequate Work in Cooking."

"Good homes are not numerous enough for us to rest on our laurels and hope for the best," says John M. Brewer of Harvard University, appealing for educational guidance in home membership, in the November "Journal of the National Educational Association."

Professor Brewer criticizes the schools for offering the "pitifully inadequate work in cooking and sewing for girls" and for using the alibi that home membership guidance should be the task of parents. He points out that the situation is complicated by all sorts of false guidance and propaganda.

Girls Urged to Marry

"There is, for example, a hidden and insidious propaganda frequently directed at girls, that they should above all marry, that they can be neither happy nor normal without marriage, and that almost any marriage is better than none. In spite of the large number of happy, useful people who are single, this notion takes hold of the mind of young people, particularly girls, and its bad effect is not abated by the character of the novels, short stories, and motion pictures.

Another propaganda in regard to marriage is that it is chiefly concerned with sex. On the contrary it is a partnership of work, planning, compromise, recreation, financing, and living together."

Professor Brewer cites successful examples of good guidance by intelligent parents and friends of boys and girls in other activities, and outlines a plan for guiding students, first as children in the home, and second as parents who will some day carry the responsibility of the home. Among the requirements for such guidance he recommends a committee of teachers to study the problem, a teacher-sponsor to work in cooperation with the parents, classes for the study of the technical knowledge of home membership, and individual counseling growing out of the activities of the class and the school.

Remarkable Oak Bark In Bowman's Office

There is on display, at the present time, in Dean Bowman's office a very unusual and interesting piece of Black Oak Bark. This piece of bark was sent to Mr. H. M. Hansen by E. Schellschmidt, a recent graduate of Stout who is teaching in Indiana. The specimen of bark comes from the black oak which is native to northern Indiana, and is indicative of the enormous size to which the trees develop. As the bark is cut from the tree, it shows that the outer corrugation, or the outer rough surface of the tree is at least six inches thick. The piece on display is about twenty inches long, six inches thick, and about four inches wide. The four inches in width seem to be one vein, or one section in the irregularity in the bark of the tree. There seems to be a possibility of utilizing the bark of these trees in the making of various kinds of synthetic wood, or as a substitute for cork in many kinds of life preserving contrivances. Anyone interested in this very unusual piece of bark may feel free to go in the office and examine it.

The weeks theme song, with due respect to the registrar: "My Fate is in your Hands." Yes, you can get your grades now.

"I Don't Want Your Necking if I Can't Have Your Neck," theme song for many.

Parents Make Errors In Emotional Attitudes

"Motherhood is one of the few jobs still open to women where training is not required," points out Douglas A. Thom, director of health clinics, Boston, in the November "Journal of the National Education Association. "It is not surprising that most mothers are not trained to meet many of the problems that confront them when the first child is born."

Mr. Thom observes that the greatest stumbling block to the untrained mother in child care is not her ignorance. "The greatest stumbling block is the emotional attitude which she has toward the job. The very love and devotion which she has for her child is often the very factor which prevents her from meeting her responsibility wisely. Intellectual achievements are invariably rendered difficult, if not impossible, by emotional turmoil, and it is right here where parents make most mistakes."

The Boston Clinic Director discussed the very unreasonable attitude taken by some parents who appeal to their children frequently with tears and vain pleadings or else with commanding, autocratic stubbornness.

Annex And Freshmen Victors In Basketball

The Annex and Freshmen were the victors over Lynwood and the Sophomores on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of last week.

The Annex played Lynwood in a speedy game. Fast! the players fairly flew. The guards stuck tight and every point had to be fought for.

A. Nelson did some fast playing and piled up 12 points for the Annex; Ness made three nice shots, but as yet this season she has not come through in making the enviable points that she did last year. E. Anderson made eight points, while M. Anderson and Hebl each scored four points.

The first half of the game looked as though the Annex had the game, (the score was 10 - 4 in favor of the Annex); however, during the last half Lynwood got warmed up and then how she did go. She left the Annex behind aways, but the Annex was not to be outdone, climbed right over Lynwood and in the last four minutes, scored the six points that gave her a 20 to 17 victory.

The Freshman - Sophomore game was exciting but the playing was not comparable to that of the game Thursday night.

The Freshman may well have reason to be proud of Lucille Hebl who made 22 of the 34 points scored by the freshmen. Her unusual height proved to be a winning advantage and kindled a desire among our shorter Stout girls to grow in order that they might compete with her.

The girls of both teams fought hard, but the frosh carried off the 34 to 22 victory.

A Proverbial Story

February—"Guess I'll make a "B" average this year."

March—"548 please."

April—"Do you think you could really love me?"

May—"How about a canoe ride?"

June—"I'll get the one with the blue diamond."

Gum chewing girl
And cud-chewing cow
Are somewhat alike.
Yet different some how;
What's the difference?
Oh! I see now.
It's the intelligent look
On the face of the cow.

"Here's a guy so dumb he thinks a football coach has four wheels."
"Haw! Haw! That's a good one. By the way, how many has it got?"

Don't forget the Tacky Drag!!!!

ROLL'S HUMOR

Dustie said, "If we get a new yell, how many of you are capable of learning it?"

Novascone wants a yell that is in iambic pentameter.

"Love making is the same as it always was."

"How can you tell."

"I just read of a Greek maiden who sat up and listened to a lyre all night."

"Have you seen Stretch Murphy of the Freshman girl's basketball team. A tall person has some good advantages."

We wonder if Eddie Canatsey had to pay a tariff on his imported German band for Freshman Day.

At last the big day of the Tacky Drag is coming nearer. Don't forget to go. Perhaps Dusty has a big surprise for us.

"Why is the sky cleaner in the city than in the country."

"I dunno."

"The city has sky scrapers."

"Have you ever seen them work?"

Mother: "Tommy, why are you always at the tail end of your class?"

Tommy: "That's all right—they teach the same thing at both ends."

Epitaph: Here lies an atheist; all dressed up and no place to go."

To a Wife

First, see if your car is out of gear. How? By this gear shift lever here. How can you tell? Why, feel it. See? The thing is simple as can be. Now step upon that to make it start. Great Scott! You'll tear it all apart. If you don't take your foot off quick! The second that it gives a kick. Now throw the clutch. For goodness sake!

Your clutch! Your clutch! No, not your brakes! Why? 'Cause I tell you to, that's why. There you needn't start to cry. Now put this lever into low, Step upon the gas and start it slow. Look out! You almost hit the fence! Here, let me drive. You've got no sense.

—Connecting Rod

He (seriously): "What are the last three hairs in a dog's tail called?"

She (very seriously): "Well truthfully, Jack, I don't know. You tell me."

He (very very seriously): Why, dog hairs."

We understand that the difference between a professor and a student is that a professor is absent-minded and the the student's mind is absent.

The boy was flattered when he said to the teacher, "I think I can do my algebra."

"I'm glad that at least you can think," replied the teacher.

Dentist pulling tooth: "What song does this remind you of?"

"I can't guess."

Dentist: "The Yanks are coming."

An Irishman was once mounted on a mule which was kicking its legs rather freely. The mule finally caught its hoof in the stirrup when, in the excitement, the Irishman remarked: "Well, if you're goin' to get on, I'll git off."

My wife has horrible manners. The other evening at dinner she was drinking her coffee from a saucer. I was so shocked that all the peas rolled off my knife.

How's This?

The boy left the farm and went to the city, where he did well and eventually got in the swim to some extent.

400,000 Students In Summer Sessions

College and university summer schools enrolled 414,824 students in 1929, according to the November "Journal of the National Educational Association. This is the largest summer term attendance on record, and is indicative of the growing interest in adult education, as most of these students were mature men and women.

Of the total number, 270,237 were enrolled in education courses. This number is more than 29 percent of all the teachers in the United States, and shows the extent to which teachers "keep up with the times." New York led the other states in the procession to college last summer, with a total enrollment of 41,079. Texas ranked second with 32,857. Rhode Island, Nevada, and Delaware enrolled the smallest numbers with 224,132, and 332, respectively.

"In interpreting such figures," says the editor, "it should be kept in mind that some states offer fewer and less attractive opportunities for summer school work than others. Consequently many teachers attend summer school outside the states of their service."

Coeds Take Field Trip Through H.E. Building

The vogue for the past several weeks seemed to be class field trips of various kinds. The printers, woodworkers, and auto mechanics went to the Twin Cities. The Community Hygiene Class was not to be outdone, so they took an educational field trip through the Home Economics building from the basement to the attic.

The class has been studying the relative humidities of various places and ventilating systems of numerous types. Engineer Strozinsky offered to explain the system at The Stout Institute for the girls. The interesting thing about this plant at Stout's its apparent simplicity and yet its detail. That a small piece of maple wood controls the valve which in turn controls the switch for the amount of moisture in each room seems quite astonishing.

Fresh air is drawn in to one compartment, forced through steam, then through a fan which breaks up any droplets of moisture into small particles; the air is then circulated thru the rooms.

In the attic were many pipes which the girls tried, not very successfully, to trace to their beginnings. Many interesting and worthwhile field trips can be taken right here at home.

A brother stuck to the farm. One day the farm boy got a letter from the city brother, and among other things it said:

"Thursday we autoed out to the country club where we golfed till dark; then we autoed to the beach and Fridayed there."

The farm boy wrote back:

"Yesterday we flivvered to town and baseballed all afternoon; then we went to Mead's and pokered till morning. Today we muled out to the cornfield and geehawed until sundown. Then we suppered and piped for awhile, after which we staircased up to our room and bedstedded until the clock fived."

See us for haircuts; we satisfy our customers
THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

Haircuts at any hour of the day
Three first class barbers
THE ELECTRIC SHOP

Sociologist Calls Schools "Steering Gear Of Society"

Dr. Finney Passes Recommendation for Social Control By the School

"The school is the steering gear of a democratic society," says Ross L. Finney, professor of sociology at the University of Minnesota, discussing the educator as a statesman, in the November issue of the "Journal of the National Education Association." "Whatever is put into the school program of any generation will come out in the social program of the next generation."

Because of the directive nature of education, Dr. Finney urges that there be a shift of emphasis in teachers' colleges from study of the techniques of education to a study of the social sciences.

"With the expansion of the school the center of responsibility for social leadership has shifted to that institution, since it is so strategically conditioned for the making of public opinion. The soldiers, the statesmen, the diplomats, and the ecclesiasts have all had their day. The day of the educators has now arrived, if they have but the vision to discern their opportunity and the energy to seize upon it."

Urges Social Control

Dr. Finney bases his recommendation for greater social control by the school upon the belief that society can take its own problems deliberately in hand and solve them rationally, instead of merely "muddling through" from one bad situation to another. While he does not claim that the sociologist could reduce social change to complete control, he believes that much can be done to increase the sum total of human welfare.

The school's most important agency for changing society through creating new ideals and opinions is the curriculum, according to Dr. Finney. "Education is, therefore, the reproductive process of the social organism, and the curriculum is the social germlasm."

—S—

CENSORED

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
E A T

THE PEERLESS GRILL
"The Home of Good Food"

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonie Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

Menomonie Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

Miss Baker Now In France; Tells Story

(Continued from page one)

Theatres in Paris, every year during July.

6. Arc de Triumphe—at Orange—built by Romans in 1st century—a veritable monument to their building ability. As we stood in awe and admiration, a modern plane whirled over our heads, and we were reminded of the progress of our own age.

7. Pont du Gard—which is a mighty bridge over the Gard River near Remorsline built by Romans in the first century B. C. We basked in its wonder for about 3 hours, and dizzily made our way across the highest tier. There are 3 tiers of arches, superimposed on each other. The fact that the whole gigantic feat was accomplished by the builders without the use of mortar or cement is almost incredible.

8. Roman amphitheatre at Nimes—an enormous arena which was the scene of elaborate entertainments when Romans were in power.

9. Gardens and Temple of Diana and old Roma baths at Nimes.

All of these sights made us almost wish that America were not so new—for we were deeply impressed with this rare, ancient beauty—beauty that cannot be built in a day—it requires centuries and centuries. And surrounding all of this ancient handiwork is the picturesqueness of the French Alps and river valleys.

Last week we spent in Spain, chiefly in Barcelona. The International Exposition was truly beautiful. There were splendid buildings representative of each nation; there were attractive displays of modern mechanics and art. The most unforgettable part to me, however, was the artistic arrangement of beautiful gardens, fountains, terraces and cascades, against a mountain overlooking Barcelona and the sea. Every day from 4 o'clock until midnight this was all illuminated with a splendor that made us catch our breath in the presence of its beauty.

Spanish people, too, are fascinating to observe, whether they are buying their foods for the evening meal, or engaged in the Spanish tango.

I must take time to describe for you very briefly some of the scenes which are part of our regular travel on these foreign trains. If I were at Stout, I should attempt to dramatize some of them for you on your auditorium stage. The French and the Spanish people all eat an enormous quantity of bread, and their bread is in great long narrow loaves which they carry on the streets exposed to all the dirt, use it to spank the children, or as door-mats whatever they require to meet the needs of an occasion. And so for all lunch hours, we see these same loaves of bread pulled forth pocket or valices. To the accomplishment of ham, sausage, cheese, eggs, dressed meats, cold pancakes, all kinds of pastries, bananas, tangerines, oranges, raisins and nuts, the bread provides a substantial melody. There is also much wine and beer, and generosity to share supplies with us whose lunches look to them as if we would starve before mid-night. My picture is far from reality, however, for in order to complete the scene, you must be able to smell pungently the odors arising from these lap lunches.

For the last several days we have been visiting in the home of a French family living in a delightful old mountain home in the Pyrenees. Ten or twelve miles from us in every direction is the rugged hazy line of lovely snow-capped mountains, and over all, the glorious sunshine and warmth of Southern France. We feel very fortunate in having this opportunity, for it is introducing to us the manners and customs of rural home life in France. Tomorrow we leave, to move along the French Riviera, making stops at Toulouse, Carcassonne, Nice, Cannes, Marseilles and Monte Carlo, arriving in northern Italy on the first of February.

EXCHANGES

—Echo Weekly

Two contests and conventions of statewide interest and importance will be held on the Upper Iowa campus during the next month. On Feb. 21 will be held the women's state oratorical contest and women's state extemporaneous speaking contest between representatives of the college of Iowa.

On March 7 there will be held the men's state extemporaneous speaking contest among speakers representing eight colleges.

The women's contests will be held under the supervision of the Iowa collegiate Women's Forensic League, which will meet for its annual convention and business session in the morning of the day of the contest. For this contest the league has chosen the general subject "Racial Problems of the United States" and in this subject the judge of the contest has selected twenty sub-topics.

—The Collegian

Increase Your Knowledge About

Your Vacation Through Books

"May I plead with you to continue to enlarge your power," said Doctor John A. Lapp of Marquette University recently to a group of apprentices who had just completed their training.

"Let me urge you to read, to acquire a passion to know more about your vocation. Read trade books and papers, the biographies of leaders of labor and industry, the lives of men of achievement in politics, social welfare, and the church. Read novels and poetry.

"Keep abreast of politics. Every citizen has a duty here. With a ballot in his hand, every citizen has in his keeping the welfare of his city, state, or nation."

—Milwaukee Voc. School News.

Marquette debating team will make its annual tour next week. The team composed of Jack White and Robert Hanson, College of Liberal Arts, will debate Lawrence college Feb. 12, St. Thomas Feb. 13, Gustavus Adolphus Feb. 14, St. Olaf's Feb. 15, Creighton university Feb. 16, and Columbia college of Dubuque on Feb. 17.

On the night of Feb. 3, Marquette defeated Gustavus Adolphus, the final vote being 210 to 90 in favor of Marquette. The subject of the debate was Resolved: That the Nations of the World Should Disarm Except Such Forces as Are Necessary for Police Protection.

—Marquette Tribune.

Stout Gym Team To Give Exhibition Soon

(Continued from page one)

ability in tumbling. Don't let this opportunity slip by. Begin now with either the beginners or the advanced class. Classes meet every Wednesday from four to five, and Friday from five to six.

After about a month in Italy, I shall try to write you from there, before we sail for Athens. In the meantime, I want you to know that I have not forgotten you, my comrades of the last two years—and to all I send my sincere regards.

Your friend,
Lil'an M. Baker.

Intra-Mural Games Still Going Strong

(Continued from page one)

ball reputation as compared with their work of last year. Evidence of their skill and tact as ball tossers at that time is revealed by a loving cup which contains their name together with the Home Towners.

The local atmosphere is now vibrant with plans for the bowling program. Six teams will soon be organized, each consisting of five men. Added stimulus has been given to this sport in the recent complete remodeling and repair of the school bowling alleys.

Kittenball games will terminate the program of The Stout Intra-mural Club, and will be inaugurated the latter part of April. The series of games in this sport will be played according to the elimination process.

The intra-mural sports as represented by this club is an asset of great value to a school—an organization of which we can be proud. It is an extra-curricular activity which adds an invigorating atmosphere, an interesting diversion, and a fraternal feeling among the members of the entire college. Though the cup awarded at the end of each school year to the team with the highest number of points is an objective well worth striving for, it is the general spirit of the organization which is of the greatest importance.

—S—

Zimmerman Opens Stout Club Rooms

(Continued from page one)

Seniors may feel free to make use of the rooms to their hearts' content. In the club rooms the men may play pool, billiard, cards and checkers. It is reported that some very unusual talent in the line of checkers is being unearthed and there is a possibility of this becoming part of the intra-murals before long. There is also going to be a very good line of magazines at the men's disposal in a very short time. The main problem of the club rooms will probably be to keep some of the untrained davenport loungers from sleeping when they get parked comfortably therein. If this turns out to be the case Zim is going to put on a time limit to the sleepers who seem to frequent the place too long at the time. There is on sale in the club rooms a very nice line of candy and peanuts which add greatly to the comfort of the room.

The club room will be open daily from 4:30 to 6:00 o'clock and on dance nights during the dancing hours. They will also be open for a time on Saturday afternoons. Everyone is urged to visit the club rooms and the men are invited to come there to make new acquaintances and spend a few very pleasant hours in some activity which is participated in in there.

LATEST HITS
IN
VICTOR RECORDS
AT
A. R. OLSON'S

Patronize the Barber
Shops With Sign of
"It Pays to Look Well"
at
I. W. NESSER
"The Barber"

Come in and get the
BEST IN EATS
We have a complete line of
DELICIOUS CANDY
THE OLYMPIA

Lynwood Hall Turned Into Men's Dormitory

(Continued from page one)

only. Exceptions are made in cases where men work for their rooms in the community. Such arrangements may be made only through the Dean of Men.

Men may not remain in dormitories during the Christmas vacation without special permission and if permitted, an extra charge will be made.

Students in the men's dormitory are required to pay for one $5.00 coupon meal ticket in the Stout Cafeteria each week. These tickets will be distributed each third week and must be paid for immediately. An exception will be made in cases where students work for their board, but only after an investigation is made.

Any damage to the building or property will, of course, be charged to the student responsible for such damage and will stand as a debt of the same importance as tuition or fees.

Charges

Room rates range from $72 to $90 per year, payable each semester.

Maid service is supplied. This feature is not found in the dormitories for women. It is important that the halls and rooms shall be kept clean and in order and that the beds shall be properly made. This service accounts for a slight increase in the cost of rooms.

Student Management

Residents are subject to certain outstanding and particular requirements of administration, characteristic of similar groups in colleges, and are expected to comply willingly with the obligations imposed. To any extent deemed practical the government of the dormitory will be left with the students and their committees. In case dormitory dues are assessed by the students the college will consider them obligations. There must be definite regulations governing quiet hours, retirement hours, social functions and general conduct. The administration will be anxious to have these matters taken care of by the students but will stand ready to help when necessary.

—S—

Don't look in the Barrel!

De Molay Club To Sponsor Dance Soon

The Stout De Molay Club is sponsoring a dance to be held in the Stout gym on the night of the River Falls game.

Plans for a pre-formal dance to be given in the gym on Feb. 21, are now well on their way.

A large crowd is expected, and as a special inducement, the boys are going to keep in touch with the team. Results of the basketball game, between River Falls and Stout at the Falls will be announced during the dance.

The De Molay orchestra will furnish the music.

According to an early bulletin on the affair, only fifteen cents per person is going to be charged. Everyone is requested to keep their eyes open for further developments.

ORPHEUM

Tonight (Friday), Sat. & Sun.
Feb. 14 - 15 - 16

"SHOW OF SHOWS"
Matinee Saturday and Sunday
2:30 o'clock — 10 & 35c.

Mon., Tues., Wed., Feb. 17 - 18 - 19

CLARA BOW

in

"THE SATURDAY NIGHT KID"
James Halls, Jean Arthur and others in the all-talking comedy Romance Hit.
Fox Sound News, Screen Vaudeville and Song Cartoon.

Thurs., Fri., Sat., Feb. 20 - 21 - 22

CHARLOTTE GREENWOOD

in

"So Long Letty"
with Grant Withers and Patsy Ruth Miller
COME AND LAUGH!

GRAND

Sat. and Sun. — Feb. 15 - 16
CHILDREN OF THE RITZ
Dorothy MacKaill and Jack Mulhall in a comedy drama you'll like.
Matinee Sunday at 3:00.

Try one of our
Southern Fried Pies
and one of our
Famous Malted Milks
"They're Delicious"

F. E. Miller

!! HATS !!

1930 Styles and Colors.

EVENS TOBIN CO.

GOODYEAR QUICK SERVICE
SHOE REPAIR SERVICE
Satisfaction Guaranteed
GRAVEN & WILCOX

Luther College To Oppose Stout On Hard Wood Tonite

Stout Stands Wonderful Chance of Taking Another Victory To Its Credit

Stout plays St. Paul Luther in another conference game tonight. So far Stout has not been defeated in the Luther conference.

With the boys all in good shap and the advantage of playing at home, Stout stands a wonderful chance of winning the game tonight.

Stout Undefeated

So far Stout has nto been defeated by any of the Conference teams. Concordia College went down twice under the onslaught of the Blue and White. Both games were what we might consider run-aways.

Not much is known about Luther's strength this year. Almost anything might happen. The tide of opinion seems to be in Stout's favor due to past experiences.

Stout Doped to Win

Stout played them last year for a win, and it has been rumored that the present Luther team is of about the same calibre as it was then. Stout on the other hand has a far better five now then it has had for two years. If the rumor is true then there is no reason why the Burbidge men should not walk away with the bacon and thus keep the standing at one thousand percent.

On the other hand even though the visiting team has improved, so has Stout, in which case the spectators will be given the privilege of seeing a real game of basketball.

The Stout line-up for the game has not yet been given out, but the indications are that there will not be any great changes made.

What Has Dusty to Offer

Several students have been wondering if Dusty will blossom out with something new and foolish again. They claim that they are as curious to find out what he is wearing or what he is going to "pull off," as they are about the outcome of the game. Last week he started his annual campaign of displanying his new inventions, when he appeared on the basketball floor with his "halo holder" (or what have you). All eyes will be turned in his direction when he appears tonight.

Cheer Leaders Ask for Support

The cheering section has not been very loud this season. "Bill" Gardiner, master cheer leader, has sent out a plea for more support. "Th's is your team as well as mine," he says, "So please do your little bit toward winning the game."

Indications show that there is going to be a large crowd at the game again tonight, of both business men and Stout students.

—S—

Freshmen Coeds Beat Junior Team

For a year and a half the girl's athletic teams of the school have been unable to break the victorious record of the present junior class? however, last evening the freshman flash ball team beat this junior team with a score of 4 to 2.

The game was very close, in fact at the close of the fourth inning the score was still 2 to 2. The fifth and last inning brought the two runs which gave the freshmen their victory.

This victory for the frosh marks their first all-school championship. This means they need win but two more games to entitle them to have their class name engraved upon the silver loving cup of the W. A. A. The other three classes wish to extend their hearty congratulations to the frosh.

—S—

The youth bent closer,
Her warm breath made him dizzy,
For he was putting on a tin
Near the exhaust of his lizzy.

New Stout Catalog Now Ready For Mail

The new 1930-31 catalogue for The Stout Institute is just off the press of the Stout print shop. All the mechanical work on the catalogue has been done right in the Stout shop, and it is a fine example of what can be done here in our shops. The catalogue is ready for delivery at the present time, and anyone who desires one may address their communications to President Nelson.

The Summer Session bulletin is now under way in the print shop and it is hoped that this will be in the mail some time in March. It is rather hard to give the exact date, because many things in the line of arrangements for special features and courses during the summer have not been definitely decided upon. Watch the Stoutonia for further notices on the Sumer Sess'on bulletin.

—S—

Hyperian Cookie Sale Being Staged Today

The girls of the Hyperian society are holding their annual Cookie Sale in the main corridor of the Home Economics Building today.

The proceeds from the sales go into the treasury of the club and are used to help defer expenses.

Men who belong to different campus organizations are advised to support the sale so that they can, in turn, call upon the girls to help support their dances.

It is believed by many that if this proposition of raising money for different clubs were placed on the order of "log rolling," more would be accomplished.

Editor's note: De Molay's don't forget that you are putting on a dance next week, now is your chance to get the support of the Hyperians. Grab it, it may be worth your while. At any rate the cook'es are good.

—S—

"How were your marks?"
"Oh, nothing to be sent home about."

"Saved by the bell," sighed the heavyweight, as he walked out of class.

—S—

Don't look in the Barrel!

Ineligible Players Make 'Outlaws' Of Superior Athletes

Definite Action to be Taken at Spring Meeting of College Coaches

Already going under the name of the "Outlaws", Superior Normal has been ousted from the Wisconsin Teachers College conference. No definite action has as yet been taken but the matter will be settled at the spring meeting of the coaches held early in March.

The cause for this action was the playing of ineligible athletes on the various teams. One player transferred too few credits from Creighton "U", and is therefore ineligible to compete. Several others were listed as Wisconsin residents when their homes were in Minnesota. The cause of this action was the result of a protest by River Falls and Eau Claire Normals.

According to Mr. Keith, president of the Coaches Association, they will be ousted for one year starting next feited and the football championship which these men played will be for-September. All the football games in will be awarded to Milwaukee who had only a tie to blot their record. At present it is not known just what will be done about the basketball situation.

Superior has just gotten a new coach in place of Ira Tubbs recently resigned. The only statement he issued was that they would sit tight until the coaches' meeting this spring. Regardless of the Northerner's standing, the trouble has been an incentive to their crowds and since the announcement of their removal the attendance has been greatly increased.

Flash

The new conference standing is as follows:

|                     | W. | L. | Pct.  |
|---------------------|----|----|-------|
| River Falls .....   | 5  | 0  | 1.000 |
| Milwaukee .....     | 4  | 1  | .800  |
| Whitewater .....    | 4  | 1  | .800  |
| Eau Claire .....    | 3  | 2  | .600  |
| Platteville .....   | 2  | 2  | .500  |
| Stevens Point ..... | 2  | 3  | .400  |
| Stout .....         | 2  | 4  | .333  |
| Oshkosh .....       | 1  | 5  | .167  |
| Superior .....      | 0  | 5  | .000  |

—S—

Don't look in the Barrel!

Don't look in the Barrel!

SERVICE

We do dry cleaning every day. If you need the use of your suit immediately, take advantage of our "ONE DAY SERVICE."

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Spring Suits $22.50 to $35.00

MENOMONIE DYE HOUSE
Running & Cole

ANNOUNCEMENT

We are preparing for a
Smoke Damage Sale
Watch for our Opening Date!

Teare Clothing Store

For the best in Fountain Pens
and Fountain Pen Inks.

See the ANSHUS BOYS

College Inspectors Coming To Stout

The North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools has notified President Nelson that in all probability about March first Stout Institute will be given an inspection by that organization.

At the present time, Stout Institute holds a Teacher's College rank. Next year, the end of the third year of such classification, the North Central Association eliminates the Teacher's College division. The only schools to be carried on the new list will be those that can qualify as the old type college of Letters and Science.

Whether Stout, in its regular courses, requires enough language, mathematics, history, etc. will determine the decision of these inspectors in giving The Stout Institute college rank.

President Nelson is in no way alarmed at the thought of this inspection as he feels certain that Stout will easily pass the test.

—S—

Don't look in the Barrel!

Freshmen Give Views On Publicity Question

A special meeting of the freshmen class was held yesterday after assembly. This meeting was held for the purpose of finding out what publicity agencies are worth while in getting students to attend Stout. Considering the Frosh as an average of all freshmen it was thought that a fairly accurate census could be taken. At the same time the men were asked how many had trunks. The re-arranging of Lynwood Hall will be made easier by the knowledge of the approximate number of trunks to be stored there.

—S—

Hotsy: "Do you think that the radio is still in its infancy?"

Totsy: "Why, certainly I do. It keeps the world awake half the night."

"Who started the Lion's Club?"
"Daniel, I suppose."

Don't look in the Barrel!

Valentines 5c to $2.50
Whitman's Valentine Boxcandy
LEE'S DRUG STORE

Quality Always
and the
SEASON'S SMARTEST STYLES
Swenson and Berndt
The Shoe Men

Good Meals and Refreshments
SERVICE
Hotel Marion      Coffee Shop

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM      F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

The Shaker Studios are always glad to serve you. You always get the best in photography if your photographs are made at the Shaker Studios.

Let us develop your Kodak films.

SHAKER STUDIOS
"Makers of real live photographs"

TRY OUR
HEAVY MALTEDS - - HOMEMADE FUDGE
OR SANDWICHES
"THEY'RE DELICIOUS"
"THE CANDY SHOPPE"

Blue Devils Meet Stevens Point Tomorrow Eve

Intrim Committee Calls Our Prexy; Leaves Monday

Committee to Examine Stout; Full Time Educational Board May be Organized

Last Monday, President Nelson was notified to be present at a meeting of the Interim committee of the state legislature. This committee is to make a complete survey of the educational system of Wisconsin. They will convene in Madison on Friday, February 21, to make the same survey of The Stout Institute as has been made of the State Teachers Colleges and the state University.

This committee was appointed with very large powers and it is expected to report to the legislature on how each of the industrial institutions in this state is doing the job which it was created to do. It is also to determine whether any institutions or any department in them overlap or duplicate each other, thus indicating whether or not any unnecessary institutions exist. The committee is also considering the reorganization through consolidation of the various state boards and may adopt a new plan of administration in which a full time board of education will administer all state schools.

Committee to Examine Stout

While this meeting is called at Madison, President Nelson has the assurance of our own assemblyman, J. D. Millar of this city, that the committee will make a special trip to this city. The committee will make an inspection of the equipment and buildings of The Stout Institute and also of the city of Menomonie and its relationship to the school.

President Nelson will be in Madison Friday together with Earnest Schultz of Sheboygan, President of the board (Continued on page four)

Prof. Faville To Figure In Debate On Prohibition

Mrs. Shoemaker to Uphold Prohibition; Professor Faville Argues Against

A debate, characterized by its sponsors as "genuine", on the much-discussed prohibition matter, will be held at Tainter Memorial Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The contestants are Mrs. A. H. Shoemaker of Eau Claire, president of the Wisconsin Federation of Women's clubs, and Prof. Faville of the Stout faculty.

The question has been worded so as to produce a debate concerning methods of developing temperance: "Resolved, that the present laws for the enforcement of prohibition shall remain unchanged or be strengthened." Mrs. Shoemaker will uphold the affirmative, and Prof. Faville will argue negatively.

To be Decisive Debate

To enhance interest in the debate, the young people's discussion group sponsors of the project, have chosen judges to render a decision on the merits of the arguments presented.

District Attorney Farham A. Clark will preside. Local women's clubs and other interested organizations and individuals are acting as co-sponsors of the meeting, and indications are that a capacity house will hear the arguments on this vital question.

Dean Michaels On National Committee

Miss Ruth Michaels, Dean, School of Home Economics, has been appointed a member of the American Home Economics Committee on commercial standardization. This committee is working with the homemakers all over the country in assembling specifications for current recommendations which could be used advantageously in making purchases.

Life Is Called Best Teacher By Educator

"Education is not merely a matter of book learning. In fact, it is doubtful whether the most significant things are learned from books," asserts J. Mace Andress, discussing mental health in the home. "One learns by the responses which he makes to the world around him. We do not learn self control primarily by reading about it and committing to memory many facts about the nature of self control and its value, but by practicing self control. Similarly we learn honesty by being honest and courageous by being courageous.

"More and more," says Mr. Andress, "we tend to realize that education is a matter of behavior. Our best schools are accepting this educational psychology but even those that do must realize that the school is in control of children not more than five or six hours a day. Less than 15 percent of the child's entire year is in the schoolroom."

Stresses Home Influence

Mr. Andress believes the school can make no great progress in furthering the mental health of the child without the hearty support of the home, since so much of the child's life is spent in responding to influences outside the school.

The writer deplores the well nigh universal failure of teachers today to know the homes of their pupils. He points out that the kindergarten was the first division of the school to realize the value of home cooperation. One reason for this was the theory of Froebel, founder of the kindergarten, that there could be and ought to be (Continued on page four)

| Monday             |              |
|--------------------|--------------|
| Science Club       | 5:00 o'clock |
| Stoutonia Staff    | 5:00 o'clock |
| Tower Staff        | 7:00 o'clock |
| Women's Glee Club  | 7:00 o'clock |
| Men's Glee Club    | 7:00 o'clock |
| Tuesday            |              |
| De Molay           | 7:30 o'clock |
| Band               | 7:00 o'clock |
| Marquette La Salle | 7:30 o'clock |
| S. M. A.           | 7:15 o'clock |
| Wednesday          |              |
| S. T. S.           | 7:30 o'clock |
| Rifle Club         | 7:00 o'clock |
| Y. W. C. A.        | 5:00 o'clock |
| Rifle Club, men    | 7:00 o'clock |
| Tumbling           | 4:00 o'clock |
| Thursday           |              |
| Inky Fingers       | 5:30 o'clock |
| M. A. P.           | 7:15 o'clock |
| Hyperians          | 8:00 o'clock |
| W. A. A.           | 7:00 o'clock |
| Orchestra          | 7:00 o'clock |
| Friday             |              |
| Tumbling           | 5:00 o'clock |
| Saturday           |              |
| Rifle Club, men    | 9 A. M.      |
| Rifle Club, women  | 10:30 A. M.  |

Prexy Invited To Join Exclusive Mann League

Annual Meeting to be Held in Atlantic City on Sunday, February 23rd

The members of the executive committee of The Horace Mann League have recently informed President Nelson that he has been nominated for membership in the Horace Mann League.

The annual meeting is to be held in the Hotel Chelsea in Atlantic City on the evening of Sunday, February 23rd. Members and guests are to sit down to dinner at six-thirty o'clock. A program and business meeting will follow the dinner. The Horace Mann League holds one general meeting each year. The rest of the work is done by committees.

This league is an educational league and the membership is very exclusive. The members of the Stoutonia staff extend their congratulations to President Nelson upon his admittance into this organization.

De Moley Stag Dance After Game Saturday

The De Molay Pre-Formal dance will be staged in the Stout gym immediately following the Stevens Point basketball game Saturday night. It promises to be another popular dance as it will be informal and of the "stag" variety. Excellent music will be furnished and the admission charge will be only 15 cents.

Come one, come all, and give yourself a break.

Tacky Drag Proves A Howling Success

Last Saturday night was the time when all good people of Stout Institute had a chance to drop their respective cloaks of sanctity, assume their natural poise and attitudes, and be themselves for a change. The occasion was the Tacky Drag, the annual brawl, shindig, barn-dance, conflagration, big fling or what have you, thrown by the Tower Staff to help raise funds for the year book. And, Oh, what a blow-out this turned out to be!

Much big talk was spread about the campus for a week or so previous to the event, but the first signs of action were not seen until Saturday morning when a flood of straw, boxes, old newspapers, feed grinders, plows, cream separators, old posters, grain sacks, harness and all other forms and varieties of farm implements made its way toward the gym. Some people thought there was going to be an auction sale. Never-the-less, through the sorcery and creative abilities of Frances Schroeder and Bill Soucie, and the cooperation of the rest of the Tower Staff, the entire conglomeration was further conglomerated into the form of a setting suitable for the forthcoming mob scene.

Scene is Impressive

At precisely eight P. M., Central Standard Time, bed-time, Eastern Standard and supper time, Pacific Standard, the portals of the gym were thrown open, and in mobs one by one, the eager folk rushed in. The sights they did behold on entering were sights to remember. Vivid hues from (Continued on page three)

Stevens Point Will Try to Avenge Loss In Tomorrow's Game

Stout Line-up in Good Shape for A Hard Fight as Stevens Point Another Win

The Stoutonia sports department is indeed grateful that it can conscientiously predict something different for Saturday evening at the city armory than it did for the game here with Stevens Point a year ago. A sports writer should never remind a long-suffering public of his past errors, but the sad part was that we were right at that time, and we are going to be right—and much less lugubrious—this time.

Stevens Point arrives tomorrow to avenge itself of about the only defeat it has had on its own floor since we can remember. According to observers, Stout had a distinct edge on the Pointers at the latter's home camp. The visitors are not a losing team, as we have learned to use the term around here, and the fact that Stout beat them once proves, the Blues have something that the Pointers don't fathom. And that should mean another win.

Point in Better Shape

With a return of one or two of its stars to the line-up, Stevens Point feels confident that it can turn a surprise here as Burbidge's boys did in the first game between these two teams. Stout will have had a hard night, no matter what the outcome, before this home game, as tonight's jaunt to River Falls is a bad one.

But we are inclined to think that this helps the Trainers. For it will be recalled that they battled Eau Claire the evening before they won at the Point. The mental state with which they will return from the Falls should make it just too bad for the next opponent.

A brief let-up has been in order in (Continued on page three)

Dean Bowman And Prof Keith Give Views On Trend's

Stout Gen. Metal Shop Pictures Appear in "The Nation's School" Magazine

In The Nation's Schools for February, 1930, there appears an article on "The Trend in Industrial Education and Their Effect on School Shops." This article was written by Dean Bowman, and Prof. Floyd Keith. It is developed about the General Metal shop at Stout Institute, and goes into detail in telling about the various activities that are carried on in this shop.

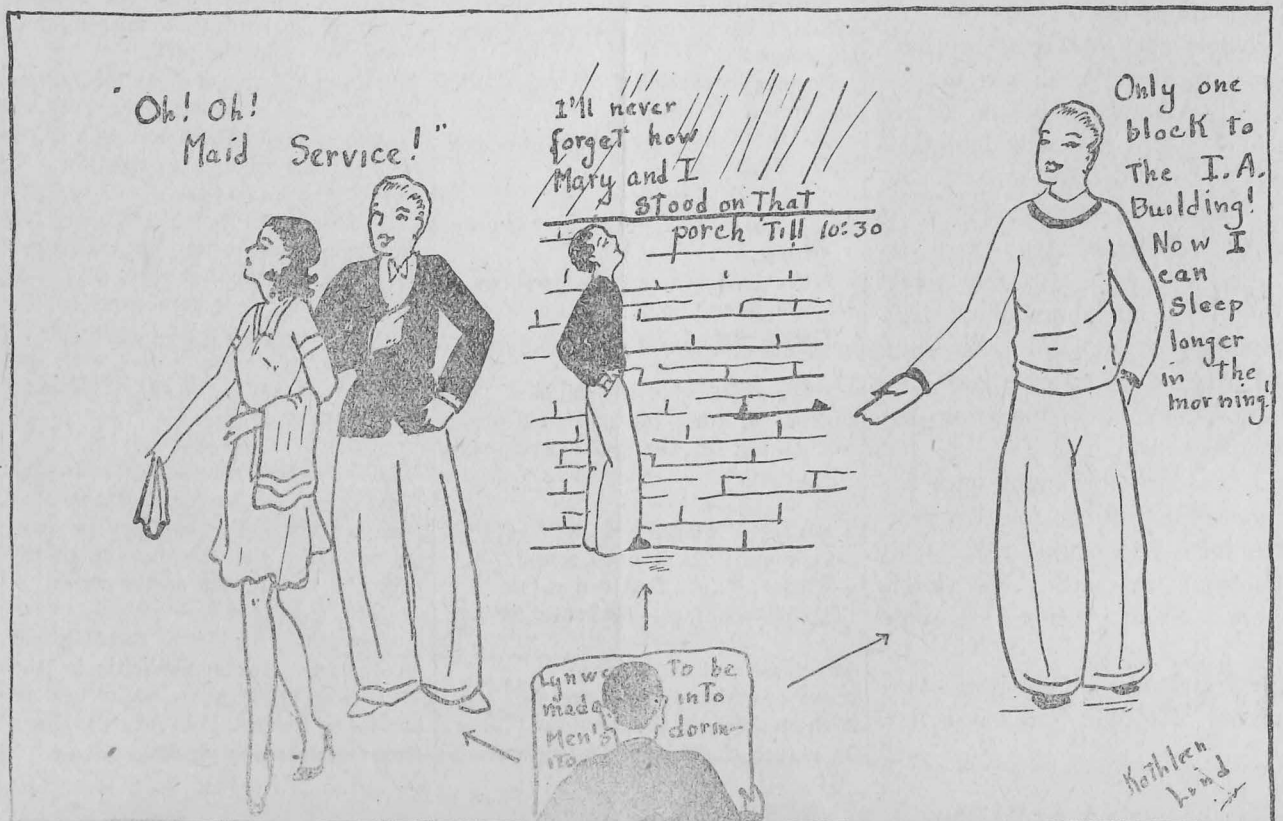

There are many illustrations that show exactly how the shop is organized and how the machines and equipment are located so as to use the floor space most economically.

Article Well Illustrated

There are in connection with the article, several charts that show the reader just how the various groups of students with different objectives are routed through the shop. This is a very important phase of the work, because in a general shop there must be coordination so as to make use of the machinery and equipment in the shop most effectively and prevent over crowding some machines for a short time and then letting them (Continued on page four)

CAMPUS CARTOONS

by Kathleen Lind

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                               |                       |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Managing Editor               | E. V. Ahonen          |
| Associate Editor              | Henrietta L. Quilling |
| News Editor                   | Chester Mau           |
| Assistant News Editor         | Belinda Hendrickson   |
| Assistant News Editor         | Bernard Hagen         |
| Assistant News Editor         | Vivian Hewitt         |
| Feature Editor                | William Soucie        |
| Feature Editor                | Kent Riggs            |
| Feature Editor                | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Humor Editor                  | Carl Roll             |
| Sports Editor                 | Georgia Aber          |
| Exchange Editor               | William Michaels      |
| Organization Editor           | Albert Gilles         |
| Organization Editor           | Anita Gundlach        |
| Cartoonist                    | Nicholas Marsilio     |
| Business Manager              | Kathleen Lind         |
| Circulation Manager           | Earl C. Halverson     |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Robert G. Reick       |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Carl Roll             |
| Advertising Manager           | Byron Canatsey        |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr.        | Marlo McCullough      |
| Intertype Operator            | Floyd C. Larson       |
| Foreman Mechanical Department | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Under Direction of            | Kent Riggs            |
| Editorial Adviser             | Mr. C. W. Hague       |
| Associate Adviser             | Mr. John Faville, Jr. |
|                               | Miss Helen Sarchet    |

Whether you like it or whether you don't, the radical of today is the conservative of tomorrow.

THEY CALL IT SPRING FEVER

With this liberal taste of spring, our thoughts invariably turn to the great out-of-doors. The very thought of a hot class room is enough to make one want to revolt and give up his educational pursuits, or at least to use up his cuts. It's hard to stay at work, but a little will power will do the trick. Save your cuts for a rainy day!

POOR SPORTSMANSHIP

When we are found out, it is often the hardest to lose an unfair game. At such a time the easiest thing to do, to smooth the guilty feelings, is to cast sluring remarks about others and hope that the remarks will find sympathy for the guilty one in the eyes of a third party. In other words, it is a case of trying to play the same game in another way. The same thing is true in the case of a crowd as in the case of an individual, with this difference; a crowd makes more noise and shows less judgment.

ACADEMICS

During the past few years, educators the world over have written "reams" regarding the cultural status of the United States. Our country is marked as one of unmeasurable advancement in material achievement, but it is even more strikingly marked in regard to it's lack of appreciation of cultural values. We are securing an education in a college of Industry, but not in a college of industry alone. The opportunity is here to secure knowledge in almost all phases of education, even those pertaining to cultural appreciation. Let's not forget that the educated person is not "one-sided" in his knowledge. We are showing a tendency to become over-educated on the material score, and under-educated on the cultural score. Think of that before you cower at the mention of Psychology, Sociology, Poetry, Literature, and the like, and before you laughingly condemn the student who takes an interest in his cultural education.

FRATERNITIES

Stout has expressed, in various way, a desire for fraternities. The college is strictly on a four year basis now, and day by day gives evidence of its growth. Its curriculum has been broadened extensively, and the enrollment too has increased. The social life of our school has not been able to keep pace with the advancement the other phases of college life has encountered. A fraternity is, according to Webster, a fellowship of brothers. They are united in a common bond, or at least should be. It should be for the betterment of each individual to belong to the organization; he should in turn be of value to the other members. It is a give and take proposition through and through. The men of Stout have two or three houses that will room nearly twenty fellows. Primarily the students stay there for lodging, which is entirely fitting. In the course of a few weeks nearly all of the inhabitants of this particular house will have formed a common bond. The following year will find that some of the men will be rooming somewhere else, mostly because they desire different friends. Then at this rooming house the group will be more homogeneous than the previous year. It would be a rather opportune time to experiment with fraternities. A group of men who by attending college for two years and rooming at the same house can form friendships that would give an excellent foundation for a local fraternity. We might possibly give the idea a thought or two. Stout by this time ought to be eligible for fraternities. Mistakes that were made by the fraternities of by-gone years should not be held against the students of today. This is a new group, with new ideals.

Let's Laugh

Will: "What is the secretary of labor?"
Rusty: "Work."
Haase wants to know how large a two by four is.

Lopp said: "My mother thinks I'm bright because I got an "A" in physical Ed."
Every king has a body guard. We wonder where Charleston has his body gaurd, he needs a official clubber.

Eddie Canatsey and Freddie Doetze have become ambitious; because they have decided to become tumblers. Do not think that the tumblers are water glasses.

Dehlinger: "Isn't this a good hat?"
Lawrence Johnson: "It should be."
Dehlinger: "Why?"
Lawrence: "Because it is always blocked."

Prof. Faville thinks that Jonah swallowed the whale.

We wonder what pretty girl, Sid Cotton had beside him when it was so impossible for him to keep his eye on the road, that his car became frightened and turned out to meet the ditch.

Sure sign of spring: Tony Langerfer was seen with a girl.

We wonder if Hooper is engaged?

Roll's Girl: "Where were you last night?"
Roll: "I don't know."

At the basketball game last Friday, Dusty appeared pulling a rope to which a small dog was attached. We failed to get the meaning of the act. It would have been complete if he had presented for our approval that favorit song entitled, "Dear Little Pup."

Apple: "Why can't flies see?"
Sauce: "Because they leave their specks on the wall."

Army Recruiting Officer: "What branch of the service do you prefer?"
Rastus: "Ah thinks Ah'd like ter fly."
A.R.O.: "Only officers can fly."
Rastus: "Dat's all right, boss; I has no objections ta bein' a officer."

If she seems cold at first, brace up. Chills are often followed by fever.
He worked in a marble quarry and he took a whole lot for granite.

Herbert: "You flappers don't know what needles are for."
Vivienne: "Well, I do—they're for the phonograph."
Visiting M. D.: "Farmer Brown, I'm afraid I can't come out to see you any more."
Farmer (worried): "Why, what's the matter, Doctor?"
M. D.: "Every time I come out your ducks insult me."

When ice cream grows on macaroni trees,
When Sahara's sands are muddy,
When cats and dogs wear overshoes,
That's when I like to study.
You can tell what she thinks of your dancing if, after you pardon yourself for steppin on her toes, she says, "Certainly."

Waiter: "Soup?"
Customer: "Is it good soup?"
Waiter: "Yeh, fourteen carrot."
"Quick, a notary—I want to swear."

Of all the sad surprises,
There's nothing to compare
With stepping in the darkness
On a tack that shouldn't be there.

ANVIL SPARKS
from Aries

"In all of our relationships and judgements, we should learn to separate conviction from justice."
—Pres. B. E. Nelson.

When someone asked Kingsley what was the secret of his strong and joyous life, he answered, "I had a friend."

Some people have greatness which puts them beyond hurt. It is related of Guizot, that once his adversaries, after violently assailing him, roared, "Now what have you got to say?" He replied, "That you have not yet climbed up to the level of my contempt."

Personals

TAINTER HALL

The attendance at the Hall over the week end was perfect. There was no news of general interest, but plenty of noise, several new resolutions, and the usual telephone calls.

Valentine greetings at the hall were quite numerous. Kathleen Shannon felt well remembered when she received her fourth box of candy on Friday.

All the girls agreed that Louise Whitehurst was quite the quaint, debonaire little lady in her costume for the Tacky Drag on Saturday night. Perhaps it was the derby feathered hat that created the interest. Edna Mathews proved to be quite her equal in a different way—her disguise as a negro was perfect.

Mildred Dingee is specializing in heavy laundry work. Only Hall girls may apply.

LYNWOOD HALL

Jean Moe, Doris Spears, and Eleanor Vergin spent the week end at their homes.

Several of the girls are becoming quite efficient at dancing the Virginia Reel and the square dance. There is a dancing class every night from ten to ten-thirty.

Lucille Schultz and Virginia Schlumpf spent the week end at Durand.

Lynwood Hall is all astir, for this week they are to have with us General Washington and his Lady, and possibly Mrs. Lincoln, Mrs. Cleveland, and Mrs. Hoover. Invitations have been issued to many people to come and meet these celebrities and to help entertain them. All provision including sufficient maid service, will be made for the comfort of the guests.

Students and faculty are invited to take advantage of the 35 cent luncheons that are served in the former Stout band box every Wednesday and Friday at twelve o'clock.

These attractive and well balanced luncheons are prepared and served by the Lunchroom Problems class and cater to the collegiate appetite.

Miss Helen C. Smith left today for the Twin Cities where she will visit the Nursery School at the University of Minnesota. She intends to confer with Dr. Shirley, who lectured here a short time ago, and also with Dr. Foster who is director of the Nursery School there.

Miss Ruth Michaels has been confined by the flu to her apartment for over a week. Her condition is improved now, and she expects to return the latter part of the week.

Miss Janet Kyle who recently had an operation for appendicitis in the City Hospital expects to return to her home Friday, February 21. Miss Kyle is improving nicely.

Here'n There

Campion's own theatre, the auditorium, is now graced with as fine a Movietone machine as will be found in any amateur theatre in the country. It was installed last week. After several successful trial tests, it was announced that Campion would enjoy her first "talkie" on Sunday, February second. The fine quality of the machine cannot be questioned. It's tone is loud and clear and can be clearly heard at any portion of the auditorium. The students are all well pleased, with this splendid new machine and we surely appreciate it to the utmost.

—The Marquette Tribune.

Plans are rapidly being completed for the sixth annual competitive vodvil, which will be presented in the Superior State Teachers College auditorium on Thursday and Friday, March 20 and 21. It is the hope of many that this year's program will be as successful as that of previous years.

The vodvil deserves recognition for there is no other school project which includes so many students and produces such an opportunity for talent, ability, creative work, and actual training. Each person and group working on this should receive credit from the student body, for work alone can make it possible.

The Marquette-La Salle Club entertained the Catholic Young People's Club of St. Joseph congregation with a social mixer at Lackner Hall on Taursday evening, February 13.

The party was well attended despite the poor weather conditions.

The evening was spent in playing cards and "Bunco", after which refreshments were served. Mr. Nicholas Marsilio received the highest score in "Bunco" and received first prize.

Father Weisher attended the mixer and was well pleased with the spirit of the club.

The cats have arrived! The Physiology classes are busy dissecting the poor "Flexies" or "Cocktailes" or whatever their names may be.

Some of the members stuck up their noses at the sight and smell of such specimens of the animal kingdom, but with each succeeding week their interest will overcome their dislikes.

This is the second year that the physiology classes have had cats to work on. Previous to this time rats were used. The advantag of the cats is their size.

Various expressions which may be heard around the laboratory are: "Gee, this darn cat is tough." "I didn't know a cat was so thick-skinned." "What is the name of your cat?" "Whew, the smell!"

Closing of the Nursery School on Monday became necessary when Burnham Caturra contracted a light case of Scarlet Fever last Saturday. The child is not seriously ill, but must be confined at his home.

During the recess, the girls taking the Child Development course have undertaken and completed the job of taking inventory. This consisted in listing all equipment, furniture, and toys in the schoolroom and on the playground. The invoice cards give the name of the article, the source, the price, the date purchased, and the present value. They will be very useful, for, as new equipment is needed, the same quality may be obtained by ordering from the same distributors.

Old toys have been painted, and the tooth brush rack has new paint and is labeled with newly shellaced name tags. Copies of the songs used during music period have been made so that student assistants and parents may become familiar with them.

If no more cases of the disease develop, the Nursery School will be opened again on Monday or Tuesday.

If we can't get what we want when we want it, we don't want what we get when we get it.

Organizations

S. M. A.'s Sponsored A Bridge Party Thursday

As one of its projected financial schemes the S. M. A. society sponsored a bridge tea, which was held in the Tainter Memorial Saturday afternoon at two-thirty. Approximately one hundred tickets were sold, and the attendance was good. Prizes were won by Mrs. Zimmerman, Mrs. Funk, and Florence Richardson. A dainty bridge luncheon consisting of fruit gelatin, parker house rolls, macaroons and coffee was served.

Printers' Club Elect New Officers Wednesday

At a special meeting of the Stout Typographical Society Wednesday night, the club elected its new officers for the second semester.

Kent Riggs and "Lefty" Hanson were re-elected to their positions as President and Vice-president. Peter Zimmermann was elected to replace Tom Jungck as Secretary and Treasurer, and Floyd Larson was elected to replace Leo Gardiner as reporter.

After the election of officers the club took up the discussion of new members and an initiation committee was appointed. Eddie Canatsey and Lefty Hanson were appointed as chairmen of the committee and both announced their intention of providing an excellent initiation for the new members.

Informal Program Featured by Hyperians

The Hyperian meeting on Thursday night took the form of an informal program to which each member contributed in some way. Variety proved to be the keynote of the contributions. A questionnaire on "Cake" was given by Ardella Anderson and Mary Green, who offered a prize for the best guesser. No one would mistake devil's food listed as the sinners cake, but few could guess sponge cake as the poor relation's cake or eggless cake as the lazy hen's cake. Some clever, comical readings were given by Helen Bunker, Irma Gilbertson, Mercedes-Cranston, Belinda Hendrickson, Charlotte McNab, and Esther Hendrickson. A novelty musical number was given by Emma Newby, who sang much in the same manner as Mrs. Jiggs in the "funny paper." Winifred Cooper was Emma's efficient accompanist. Alice Lynum presented a mathematical stunt; the answer in any case was seven. Lorraine Litchfield and Ruth Cooper presented a short one-act play. Josephine Edinger, for some known reason, chose to review an article entitled "Should the College Girl Marry?" At any rate Jo had her own opinions. Marion Cress, accompanied by Anita Gundlach, played a saxophone solo, "Old Man River."

M. A. P.'s Elect Barney Hagen President

Bernard Hagen was elected president to succeed Al Poellinger, who has accepted a teaching position at Neenah, Wisconsin, at the regular meeting of the Manual Arts Players last Thursday evening. Mr. Hagen, better known as Barney, has been a member of the Manual Arts Players for the past three years. He has always been an active member and has participated in several plays since he came here. Last year he acted in the capacity of business manager for the club.

Mr. Hagen hails from Decorah, Iowa. He is at the present time a junior and has made many friends while he has been here. Barney will have an excellent breaking in when he will act as toastmaster at the banquet Friday evening. The M. A. P. will be the hosts to the visiting dramatic teams from River Falls and Eau Claire.

Tacky Drag Proves A Howling Success

(Continued from page one)

a host of Hart, Schaffner and Marx style posters blended with the varicolored shades from modernistic streamers made from newspapers; breath-taking stocking advertisements; a display of the latest spring styles in feed sacks; new sport model corn shredders and walking plows; new, revolutionary improved harness; all these and many more wonders were revealed as one entered the ball room. The atmosphere was so cheery and homelike to some that they were overcome by homesickness and broke down in tears.

All tears were dried and forgotten, however, as soon as Rusty and his Syncopatin' Sons-o'-guns broke loose in profuse strains of unpremeditated —no not art, but jazz. And how! (With apologies to Shelley). After the second dance, two-thirds of the crowd had to stop and install water coolers on their shoes to keep them from burning. The other third had already burned theirs beyond repair.

Decorah Hero Speaks

While the above-mentioned installations were going on, Professor Finkelstein, recently returned from an exploration trip through the wilds of Decorah, Iowa, delivered a very entertaining and enlightening speech on "Mankind." He had imported, produced, discovered or otherwise secured a very good specimen of prehistoric man in the person of Dusty. (Everyone knows Dusty's last name so it is needless to use space, time and ink to include it here). It has been estimated that something like thirty-one pitches of shrieks were heard, when the cave man did his trapeze act. Very realistic, it was. It was thought for a minute that it would become necessary to subdue the animal with clubs when he showed signs of violence and tried to digest one of Canatsey's arms. Someone gave him a gum-drop, however, and saved the day—rather the arm.

The Curtis House is bound under oath to keep secret, the identity of the little la—er—person from whom Rusty borrowed the play suit which he wore in his rendition of "Tie Me to Your Apron Strings Again." It is known, however, that he bought the piano for $2.19. It is now for sale at a great reduction price. Call 613-W for terms and further information.

The final event of the evening was

Coed Classes Go On Another Field Trip

The Art History and Appreciation class, under the direction of Miss Mutz, had the opportunity of hearing a very educational and inspiring talk given by Mr. Van Doren from the Minneapolis Institute of Art, which was broadcast through station W. C. C. O. on Friday morning. The talk, "How to Enjoy Pictures", centered around the well known painting, "The Gleaners" by Millet, the point of emphasis being placed on the variety of appeals that the picture would have to different individuals. Disregarding individual appeal, Mr. Van Doren emphasized the fact that universal truth was the keynote of Millet's painting.

The class wishes to thank Mr. Olson for his kindness in permitting them to listen in on the talk, and for providing the comfortable surroundings.

the Tower raffle. After drawing a half dozen numbers it was decided that the third one drawn should win. It was number 201, which was later found to belong to Ed Radke.

So ended the Fourth Tacky Drag. Next year's Tower staff will have a job on it's hands to surpass it in furnishing a good time. It is hoped, however, that they have better success with their straw dance!

Neighbor: "So your boy, Edward, got his B. A.?"

Father: "Yes, but his P. A. still supports him!"

Wife: "Oh, George, the baby has swallowed the matches. What shall I do?"

Husband: "Use my cigarette lighter."

LATEST HITS
IN
VICTOR RECORDS
AT
A.R. OLSONS

Patronize the Barber
Shops With Sign of
"It Pays to Look Well"
at
I. W. NESSER
"The Barber"

Scheaffer Pens, Pencils, and Desk Sets at
Lee's Drug Store

THE SHAKER STUDIOS
ARE ALWAYS GLAD TO SERVE YOU
Let us Develop your Kodak Films

Come in and get the
BEST IN EATS
We have a complete line of
DELICIOUS CANDY
THE OLYMPIA

BUY 'EM HERE
EAT 'EM ANYWHERE
WHAT?
MILLER'S Southern Fried Pies
and
Delicious Malteds
F. E. Miller

Stevens Point Will Try To Avenge Loss

(Continued from page one)

Stout's training program this week after two weeks of grueling drill. The squad lost a great scrapper when doctor's orders eliminated Bud Michaels, but the rest of the outfit looks good, having eliminated the staleness apparent in last week's easy win over Luther.

As a starter, Coach Burbidge will probably choose Haase and Fordham at the posts, Cvengros at center, Peterson feeding up from in back, and Buros at the back gate. Hanson, Hoernemann, Paulus, Schauder, and Johnson will be on deck as usual.

The two games this week-end are in the nature of a semi-wind-up, with next week's meeting here with Superior, and the March 7 appearance here of Eau Claire, climaxing a season which won't be so bad when its all told. With the forfeit from Superior, Stout has two conference, and three non-conference victories, and four conference defeats. The next four starts should improve that percentage.

ORPHEUM

Tonight (Fri.) and Sat.
CHARLOTTE GREENWOOD
in
"SO LONG LETTY"
With Grant Withers,
Patsy Ruth Miller
and Bert Roach
— Also Screen Vodvil —

Sun. — Mon.
ALICE WHITE
in
"The Girl From Woolworths"
— Also Short Subjects —
Mat. Sun., 2:30

Tues. — Wed. — Thurs.
PAULINE FREDRICK
in
"THE SACRED FLAME"
With Conrad Nagel, Lila Lee,
William Courtenay and Alec B. Francis
—Also Short Subjects —

GRAND

TOM MIX
in
"SKY HIGH"
— Also Comedy —
Mat. Sunday at 3

Fire and Smoke Sale!

Come in and see our STUPENDOUS money saving VALUES!

TEARE CLOTHING CO.

ELAINE
$ 250.00

Headquarters for
New and Fine
DIAMONDS
Of Supreme Quality

We have a fine assortment of diamonds from $15 up.

Our spring jewelry is now
arriving daily

⌘ Nels Anshus ⌘

$5 FRIENDLY FIVES $5

— GENUINE CALF SKINS —
"They Hold the Shine"

GRAVEN and WILCOX

Grade Statistics For First Semester 1930 Given By Registrar

Percentages Based On Full Fifteen Hour Program; One "A" Average Only

The percentages given below are based on a full fifteen semester hour program. The "D" group includes all students who did not make an average of "C" and those who earned less than fifteen semester hours of credit.

| Industrial Ed.                                    |          | Home Ec. |          |
|---------------------------------------------------|----------|----------|----------|
| Freshmen                                          |          |          |          |
| Average                                           |          | Average  |          |
| Based on total semester hours:                    |          |          |          |
| A .....                                           | 0 pct.   | A .....  | 0 pct.   |
| B .....                                           | 10.66    | B .....  | 8        |
| C .....                                           | 34.66    | C .....  | 49       |
| D .....                                           | 54.66    | D .....  | 43       |
| Failures                                          | 4.6 pct. | Failure  | 6. pct.  |
| Incompl.                                          | 2.5 pct. | Incompl. | 1.4 pct. |
| Sophomores                                        |          |          |          |
| A .....                                           | 0 pct.   | A .....  | 0 pct.   |
| B .....                                           | 23 pct.  | B .....  | 12 pct.  |
| C .....                                           | 56 pct.  | C .....  | 44 pct.  |
| D .....                                           | 21 pct.  | D .....  | 44 pct.  |
| Juniors                                           |          |          |          |
| A .....                                           | 0 pct.   | A .....  | 0 pct.   |
| B .....                                           | 22 pct.  | B .....  | 11 pct.  |
| C .....                                           | 52 pct.  | C .....  | 67 pct.  |
| D .....                                           | 26 pct.  | D .....  | 22 pct.  |
| Seniors                                           |          |          |          |
| Home Economics and Industrial Education combined: |          |          |          |
| A .....                                           | 1.9 pct. |          |          |
| B .....                                           | 41. pct. |          |          |
| C .....                                           | 44. pct. |          |          |
| D .....                                           | 13. pct. |          |          |

Students whose names appear below received an average of "B" or above on a program of fifteen semester hours of credit.

| Freshmen           |                    | Sophomores |  |
|--------------------|--------------------|------------|--|
| Berg, Oswald M.    | Anderson, Albert   |            |  |
| Buss, Irvn O.      | Anderson, Ethel A. |            |  |
| Hendrickson, B.    | Anderson, Frode    |            |  |
| Jakoubeck, R. A.   | Bienert, Carl J.   |            |  |
| Langseth, Edna     | Biwer, George      |            |  |
| McNab, Charlotte   | Guelson, Stanley   |            |  |
| Nauta, Clifford J. | Galloway, Gail     |            |  |
| Newby, Emma M.     | Hagen, Reuben E.   |            |  |
| Rowe, Allard       | Henry, Doris J.    |            |  |
| Stamstad, Orin P.  | Hageness, Ervin O. |            |  |
| Will, Arthur H.    | Larson, Floyd C.   |            |  |
|                    | Nelson, Ellen F.   |            |  |
|                    | Palmer, Lewis P.   |            |  |
|                    | Penn, Keith        |            |  |
|                    | Reick, Robert S.   |            |  |
|                    | Roll, Carl L.      |            |  |
|                    | Rose, Homer C.     |            |  |
|                    | Verbrick, Florence |            |  |
|                    | Whiting, Francis   |            |  |
| Juniors            |                    | Seniors    |  |
| Anderson, Ardella  | Bailey, Nellie     |            |  |
| Christensen, E.    | Bel na, Mildred    |            |  |
| Colburn, Arthur L. | Brevig, Edith      |            |  |
| DeCramer, M.       | Clark, Janet       |            |  |
| Goodrich, Albert   | Counsell, Kathryn  |            |  |
| Hagen, Bernard     | Cooper, Winifred   |            |  |
| Jungek, Thomas     | Dodge, Ruth        |            |  |
| Kube, Walter H.    | Hansen, Gertrude   |            |  |
| Mathews, Edna C.   | Johnson Lawrence   |            |  |
| Mau, Chester A.    | Lockin, Earl       |            |  |
| Muller, Ernest     | Mckowen, Esther    |            |  |
| Novascone, Fr.     | Shepardson, Ken    |            |  |
| Peterson, Arthur   | Ray, Myrtle        |            |  |
| Schultz, Ruth      | Sievert, Henrietta |            |  |
| Smith, Richard     | Swant, George      |            |  |
| Soucie, William    | Whitehurst, Louise |            |  |
| Novak, Helen       | Winsor, Alma       |            |  |

GRADES—First Semester
For the first semester of this year, fifteen students made a two and one-half or more grade point average for a fifteen or more semester hour program. One student received a grade of "A" in all courses in a fifteen hour program.

| SENIORS       |  | Pct. | S. H. | Gr. Pt |
|---------------|--|------|-------|--------|
| Ray, Myrtle   |  | 3    | 15    | 45     |
| Smith, R. BB. |  | 2.88 | 18    | 52     |

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonie Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

Life Is Called Best Teacher By Educator

(Continued from page one)

to be a school without books. In the kindergarten the children continue their play life under the guidance of trained teachers who seek to correlate home experience with that of the school. Mr. Andress recalls that in Boston all kindergarten teachers are expected to visit the homes of their pupils as part of their work.

He urges the continuance of this home and school relationship into the higher grades of the school, and encourages parent-teacher cooperation in associations and through exchange of visits on the part of the parent and teacher. The visiting teacher Mr. Andress sees as a partial solution of the problem of bringing home and school closer together in educational purposes.

Intrim Committee Calls Our Prexy

(Continued from page one)

of trustees, and George P. Hambrecht, Secretary of the same board, to give what information the committee may require.

Prexy to go to Atlantic City

It was President Nelson's intention to leave Tuesday night for Atlantic City. The American Association of Teachers Colleges of which The Stout Institute is a member, is to convene there Thursday night, February 20. The meeting of the Interim committee of the state legislature will prevent President Nelson from attending that convention. He will, however, leave Madison on Friday night for Atlantic City by way of New York to attend the meeting of the Department of Superintendents of the National Educational Association. This meeting convenes on Monday, February 24, and continues throughout the week.

| JUNIORS            |      |    |    |
|--------------------|------|----|----|
| Lockin, Earl W.    | 2.80 | 17 | 46 |
| Belina, Mildred A. | 2.61 | 18 | 47 |
| McKowen, Esther    | 2.58 | 17 | 44 |
| Bailey, Nellie     | 2.56 | 18 | 41 |
| Seivert, Henrietta | 2.55 | 18 | 46 |
| Hansen, Gertrude   | 2.85 | 20 | 57 |
| SOPHOMORES         |      |    |    |
| Anderson, Frode    | 2.50 | 19 | 47 |
| Re'ck, Robert S.   | 2.66 | 18 | 48 |
| Verbrick, Florence | 2.50 | 15 | 38 |

| FRESHMEN                                         |      |    |    |
|--------------------------------------------------|------|----|----|
| The five highest averages in the Freshmen Class. |      |    |    |
| Hendrickson, B.                                  | 2.60 | 15 | 39 |
| Hendrickson, E. H.                               | 2.44 | 16 | 39 |
| Nauta, Clifford J.                               | 2.44 | 16 | 39 |
| Will, Arthur H.                                  | 2.35 | 17 | 40 |
| McNab, Charlotte                                 | 2.40 | 15 | 36 |

Good Meals and Refreshments SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

SERVICE

We do dry cleaning every day. If you need the use of your suit immediately, take advantage of our "ONE DAY SERVICE."

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Spring Suits $22.50 to $35.00

MENOMONIE DYE HOUSE
Running & Cole

Stout Trounces Luther College In Slow Game

Johnson Injured Before Game; Kept Out Until the Last Few Minutes

Stout took an easy victory from St. Paul Luther, last Friday evening, with a score of 30 to 14. Nothing sensational happened during the course of the game; Johnson, right guard, was injured just before the game.

Soon after the tip-off, Lovey Buros wormed his way to the foul line and shot the first basket for the Blue and White. From then on it was just a case of running down the floor, taking a shot, losing the ball and running back again. Stout shot time after time but netted only 11 points in the first half. The visitors were so badly out-shadowed that they rang up only four points.

Second Half Better
When the teams re-entered for the second half, they showed signs of added life. Soon after the starter's whistle had sounded, the game took on a different light. Stout scored, then Luther looped one, and so it kept on until the score of 30 to 14 had been reached and the game was over.

Johnson Injured Slightly

Before the game, as the teams were going through pre-game practice, Johnson, right guard, was injured. He took a shot and followed it in only to come in contact with "Lefty", who at the time was stooped over. The impact sent Johnson to the floor with a beautiful dive. Assistance was given at once, but he was in no condition to enter the game until it was nearly over.

The results of the game were as follows:

| Stout          | fg. | ft. | pf. |
|----------------|-----|-----|-----|
| Haase (rf)     | 1   | 1   | 0   |
| Michaels (sub) | 0   | 0   | 0   |
| Paulus (sub)   | 0   | 0   | 0   |
| Fordham (lf)   | 2   | 2   | 0   |
| Shaude (sub)   | 0   | 0   | 0   |
| Cvengros (c)   | 6   | 1   | 1   |
| O'Connel (sub) | 0   | 0   | 0   |
| Peterson (rg)  | 1   | 0   | 1   |
| Hanson (sub)   | 0   | 0   | 1   |
| Johnson (sub)  | 0   | 0   | 0   |
| Buros (lg)     | 3   | 0   | 3   |

See us for haircuts; we satisfy our customers
THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

Haircuts at any hour of the day
Three first class barbers
THE ELECTRIC SHOP

Stout Rifle Team To Meet Solon Springs

The Stout Rifle Club has accepted the challenge of the Solon Springs Rifle team to a match to be shot February 22. Ten men are to shoot for each team and all scores are to count. The executive officer has already selected the team that will represent the Stout Club.

On February 27, the Stout Team will meat the Menomonie City Team on the Stout range. It will be remembered that at the last meeting the Stout shooters came out victorious but only by three points. This time the school team is determined to leave their competitors far behind. There will be a very good reason for the excellent shooting that is expected that evening because at the last shoot it was suggested that after the match, lunch should be served and the losing team should pay for it. The Stout team has been considerably strengthened by the addition of several new members who are considered good shots.

Two weeks ago, the girls team shot a match with the Phoenix, Arizona, girls team. Seven members represented each team and the scores of the highest five counted. The results of that match have not been determined as yet but as usual the club hopes for the best and usually achieve it.

|                  |     |     |     |
|------------------|-----|-----|-----|
| Hoernemann (sub) | 0   | 0   | 1   |
| Total            | 13  | 4   | 7   |
| Luther           | fg. | ft. | pf. |
| Kapellusch (lg)  | 0   | 0   | 1   |
| Pankek (sub)     | 2   | 1   | 3   |
| Schicht (rg)     | 1   | 0   | T   |
| Koepsell (c)     | 0   | 0   | 0   |
| Kopellusch (sub) | 0   | 0   | 1   |
| Hertz (lf)       | 0   | 2   | 1   |
| Belk (rf)        | 2   | 1   | 4   |
| Smith (sub)      | 0   | 0   | 0   |
| Total            | 5   | 4   | 10  |

Bowman, Keith Give Views On Trends

(Continued from page one)

stand idle later in the course. The proved flexibility and completeness of this shop is remarkable. We suggest that every Industrial Education student read this article and find out just what is going on here at home. The article gives a list of the new demands placed on the industrial teacher as well as the changes in shop operation and teacher training.

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
E A T
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"The Home of Good Food"

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

Menomonie Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

Quality Always

and the

SEASON'S SMARTEST STYLES

Swenson and Berndt

The Shoe Men

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

New Colors in Polo Shirts

Jockey Red, Blue, and Tan

90c

EVENS and TOBIN CO.

The Candy Shoppe

D. CHASE F. WAGNER

I'll say they make the best "Malted",
and have the good things to eat.

Candy - Homemade - Ice Cream

M.A.P.'s Nosed Out Of Win In Drama Contest

Soucie Opens Stout Bowling Alleys For Men; Many Gather

Women May Get Opportunity to Develop Skill in Bowling in The Near Future

Last Monday the Stout bowling alleys were opened for the 1930 season, under the managership of Bill Soucie. The alleys were found to be in very good condition, having just been remodeled and repaired. The bounding boards and pits have all been re-padded and the alleys have been smoothed, cleaned and refinished. So far the bowlers have shown much enthusiasm and the alleys have run to capacity every night from 4:30 to 6:00. They will also be open Saturdays from 2:30 to 6:00.

Plans are now under way to open evenings for the girls and faculty. It is hoped that enough support will be given to permit this. It would even be possible to receive a good bowling instructor for those who would like to learn the game. In past years two evenings a week were devoted to bowling and there was always a large turnout.

In the past, the bowling alleys have been a source of much enjoyment for both students and faculty, especially the men. It was not until recent years that the women took part. For the past few seasons, however, the ladies have gradually become more and more interested, and this year gives promise of being still better. Since these alleys are maintained for the benefit of Stout Institute people, everyone should take advantage of the opportunity to use them. The small fee of ten cents per line is low enough to be within the means of all. Bill extends a cordial invitation to everyone at Stout. He says, "If you don't know how to bowl, come and try it. You will want to learn after that."

Prof. Faville Wins Prohibition Debate With 2-1 Margin

Prof. Faville's Statistics Prove That Prohibition Laws Need Modification

Statistics refuting claims that prohibition had increased the savings and the wealth of the nation and decreased the death rate Sunday night won a 2 to 1 decision in favor of the wets in a prohibition debate between Mrs. A. H. Shoemaker of Eau Claire and John Faville, Jr., of the faculty of Stout Institute.

Mrs. Shoemaker took the affirmative on the question of retaining the eighteenth amendment and retaining or strengthening the enforcement laws.

The debate was sponsored by the young peoples' Sunday evening discussion group. The theatre in which the meeting was held was packed.

Arguing against the present status of the prohibition laws, Mr. Faville won a two to one decision over Mrs. A. H. Shoemaker of Eau Claire before a crowded house at the Memorial theatre Sunday evening. The large, partisan audience, which reacted to the rebuttals with unusual vigor, coupled with the questions from the audience aimed at Mr. Faville while the judges' ballots were coming in, made this an event which has caused considerable stir in the city and on the campus this week.

Art Exhibit To Be Shown At Stout

An exhibition of paintings by Wisconsin artists will be held in the Harvey Memorial from March third to March fourteenth. Through cooperation with the Menomonie Woman's Club, this exhibition, which was assembled by the Madison Art Guild and is traveling throughout the state, is made accessible to the school. The doors will be open daily from two to 5:30 P. M.

Everyone is encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity to see the works of Wisconsin artists.

National Orators Signing Up Early

Although March 25 is the closing date for entries in the Sixth National Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest on the Constitution, already 81 colleges and universities from 29 states have written to P. Caspar Harvey, national director, Liberty, Mo. Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., national winner in 1925, was the first school to enter the 1930 contest.

April 15th Closing Date

Although April 15 is the closing date for each school to select its representative, the distinction of being the first orator to win his local contest goes to F. B. Farr, A. and M. College of South Carolina, Clemson.

The competition for the greatest forensic honor open to college students in America foreshadows bringing together this year the largest group of colleges and universities in any project of the kind in the history of American higher education, according to the announcement made this week at the national headquarters. A total of $5,000 in prizes will be awarded, and the winner, who will become the national intercollegiate champion orator for 1930, will be awarded a prize of $1500. Second place will give a prize of $1,000, scaling down to $400 for seventh place.

Over 900 Colleges Notified

The national director is sending this week to 902 colleges and universities an urgent request to make their entries early even if the schools may wait until April 15 to choose their contestants.

Junior Prom Plans Being Made Early

Arrangements for the Junior Prom, which will be held on April twenty-sixth, are well under way. The following members of the Junior class, under the direction of Ernest Muller, Prom Chairman, have been selected as chairman of the various committees:

The committees have already begun their work in order to insure a bigger and finer junior prom. They ask the support of the junior class.

If you expect out-of-town guests for the Prom, report them to Soucie or Paulus at once.

Entertainment — Helmuth Bramstedt
Decoration — Willard Hanson
Publicity — Anita Gunlach
Refreshment — Ardella Anderson
Programs — Lu Paulus
Finance — William Soucie
Reception — Francis Juilin

Coed Classes Go On Another Field Trip; Printers Also Going

Belated Printers Trip to Cities To Take Place This Week End For Sure

The Food Bacteriology and Community Hygiene classes obtained some practical information when they made a visit to one of the prominent dairies of this city last Monday afternoon.

After testing several kinds of milk the girls decided it would be interesting to see just how milk was produced and the sanitary or unsanitary conditions (whichever the case might be) under which the dairies operate. The students arrived at the farm in time to watch the process of milking and consequently obtained some samples of milk in sterile test tubes. This milk was then tested to find the number of bacteria in absolutely fresh milk.

The students confess that it is not such an easy matter as it might seem to find milk with a bacteria count as low as 20,000 per cubic centimeter.

If any students are interested in viewing the results of various milk experiments they are welcome to ask any of the Food Bacteriology or Community Hygiene students to show the plates.

Printers To Take Trip

When the other I. E. field trips were made to the Twin Cities, the Printers were also slated to go, but due to some reason or other it was impossible for them to leave.

A meeting of all printers interested in making the trip during the coming week end, was called last Tuesday. At this gathering the plans were hastily gone over. It will include a visit to the McGill Warner Co., Buckbee Mears Co., and the St. Paul Pioneer Press. The evening will be spent in the usual way.

Cars will be used for transportation. A flat rate of two dollars per person was decided upon by the owners as sufficient for meeting expenses.

New Code Of Ethics In Dean Bowman's Office

There is at the present time in Dean Bowman's office a bulletin named "A Code of Ethics for Counselors". It is a rather unusual piece of work and it is pleasant to be able to say that it was written by a former Stout student, Mr. John F. Reinel. The bulletin contains many interesting principles for the various persons affected, such as: the child, the Parent, the Community, the Profession, the School, and Self.

This was prepared for the personal (Continued on page three)

Boston Technician Checks Up On Stout

Mr. Jenks, a technician from Boston, was here on Thursday for the purpose of checking up on the new respiratory apparatus which was purchased at Christmas time. The machine, used previously only by students in advanced Nutrition classes, is now given wider applicability. Dr. Bloom uses the respiratory apparatus in his medical examinations. The class in Nutrition three has been doing some extensive study with the machine, not only to determine their own basal metabolism but to become more proficient in the handling of the apparatus.

Miss Galusha To Demonstrate Today

Miss Esther Galusha, a representative of the Washburn-Crosby Company of Minneapolis, is demonstrating here today before the children of the ninth grade public school classes and other people.

"Variety in Inexpensive Dinners," is the topic of her demonstrations and they are being given at 10:00 A. M., 1:30 and 3:00 P. M. in what is known as the Green Kitchen in Room 304.

The following student teachers are sponsoring Miss Galusha's demonstration and have assisted her in preparations for it: Ruth Lindall, Cecelia Cadigan, Violet Parsons, Mildred Dingee, and Mary Fox. Besides the children in the ninth grade public school classes, the mothers in the Home Economics department of the Woman's Club were invited, and members of Miss Buchanan's Food Demonstration class were observers.

Dishes on the demonstrator's menu list include Macaroni Mousse, Pastry with different fillings, inexpensive Sponge Cake, Apple Crisp and Apple Roll, variations of biscuits, and Cranberry Salad. She will make suggestions for dressing up a simple meal for special occasions and will set a table arranging each cover as an individual course contributing to a whole meal.

Miss Galusha is a Stout graduate, and has taught in the high schools of Waukesha, Wis., and Detroit, Michigan. Her work as demonstrator is now taking her through all parts of Wisconsin. She comes from the Betty Crocker kitchen in Minneapolis.

Miss Hamilton Talked At Stout Last Monday

Miss Julia Hamilton, National Student Secretary of the Central Geneva Region of the Y. W. C. A., was a guest of the Young Women's Christian Association of The Stout Institute on Monday and Tuesday, February 24th and 25th.

Any Home Economics women were privileged to have conferences with her. The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet and Advisory board members found that Miss Hamilton had many valuable and worthwhile ideas and suggestions to offer. Miss Hamilton gave several very interesting talks, one at the general meeting of the Y. W. C. A. on Monday and another at the supper for all Home Economics women on Tuesday in the Cafeteria.

Miss Hamilton feels that the Y. W. C. A. should be an increasingly effective (Continued on page three)

River Falls Wins Dramatic Contest; Stout Places Second

MAP's Entertain Visiting Players, Officials and Coaches At a Banquet

First place in the district dramatic tournament, last Friday night, was won by River Falls State Teachers College with "Just Neighborly," a one act play by Alexander Dean. Second place was won by The Stout Institute with "The Old Grouch" by Richard Willis. Eau Claire, the third contestant, was third place winner with "A Wedding" by John Kirkpatrick.

The judges were unanimous in their decisions, all three giving River Falls first, The Stout Institute second, and Eau Claire third.

"Just Neighborly" by Falls

"Just Neighborly" was an excellent opportunity for character portrayal and the players did full justice to their parts. Ezra Carr and his wife, Edna, both well along in years, listened to the gossip of their neighbor, Rhoda Webb, and consequently would not believe that the man who claimed to be Byron Carr was their son. The cast of characters for this play was as follows:

Ezra Carr — Bernard Morton
Edna Carr — Margaret Burkholder
Rhoda Webb — Florence Mueller
The Man — Lyle Lamphere
Scene: New England kitchen sitting room.

Time: September, 1901.

Directed by: Miss Jessie Flint.

"A Wedding" by Eau Claire

"A Wedding," presented by Eau Claire, was of the lighter type of play. The play itself was very entertaining and the acting good, but it did not have that subtle character stuff portrayed in the other two plays. The action hinged on the loss of the groom's collar button. The result was (Continued on page three)

Carnival And Dance To Be Sponsored By "S" Club Soon

Entire Gym To Be Used In Unique Revelry To Be Staged Next Month

With delightful memories of the Tacky Drag still lingering in the minds of all, the "S" Club comes forth with a Carnival and Dance of even bigger proportions. This event will be held next Saturday, March 8, and promises to be one of the big hits of the year.

Again the affair will be one of old clothes, masks, or any costume suitable for such an occasion. A prize will be awarded to the person appearing in the most impressive make-up.

Whole Gym To Be Used

In making the carnival a success the entire gym will be used. Something will be going on in all parts at all times so that all will be entertained. One of the big attractions will be the appearance of a roulette wheel, such as make Monte Carlo famous.

Talent from all sources will be available for this "Show of Shows". There will be strong men, wild men, and all the characteristics of a modern circus. There will be swimming exhibitions of unusual merit given during the course of the night. There will be stands to try your luck and surely there'll be something there to (Continued on page three)

CALENDAR

Monday

Science Club ..... 5:00 o'clock
Stoutonia Staff ..... 5:00 o'clock
Women's Glee Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Men's Glee Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Tower Staff ..... 7:00 o'clock

Tuesday

Band ..... 7:00 o'clock
Philos ..... 7:00 o'clock

Wednesday

Rifle Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Metallurgy Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Y. W. C. A. ..... 5:00 o'clock

Thursday

Aremi ..... 7:30 o'clock
Hyperions ..... 5:00 o'clock
Orchestra ..... 7:30 o'clock

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                               |                       |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Managing Editor               | E. V. Ahonen          |
| Associate Editor              | Henrietta L. Quilling |
| News Editor                   | Chester Mason         |
| Assistant News Editor         | Belinda Hendrickson   |
| Assistant News Editor         | Bernard Hagen         |
| Feature Editor                | Vivian Hewitt         |
| Feature Editor                | William Soucie        |
| Feature Editor                | Kent Riggs            |
| Humor Editor                  | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Sports Editor                 | Carl Roll             |
| Exchange Editor               | Georgia Aber          |
| Organization Editor           | William Michaels      |
| Organization Editor           | Albert Gilles         |
| Cartoonist                    | Anita Gundlach        |
| Business Manager              | Nicholas Marsilio     |
| Circulation Manager           | Kathleen Lind         |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Earl C. Halverson     |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Robert G. Reick       |
| Advertising Manager           | Byron Canatsey        |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr.        | Marlo McCullough      |
| Intertype Operator            | Floyd C. Larson       |
| Foreman Mechanical Department | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Under Direction of            | Kent Riggs            |
| Editorial Adviser             | Mr. C. W. Hague       |
| Associate Adviser             | Mr. John Faville, Jr. |
|                               | Miss Helen Sarchet    |

THE END

Before the River Falls game a great deal was written and said about a bus to take the students over. The plan fell through for want of support. What was the result? Stout lost the game by one point.

Peterson made this remark after the game, "If we had had support we would have won."—Just think, Stout would have defeated the invincible conference leaders if the students would have given up a few movies and gone to the game, but the dog would have caught the rabbit also if—. It's too late to cry over spilt milk but, let's allow this to soak in. Let's remember this when the mention of another special bus is made.

The student body lost the River Falls game. We'll say no more.

COED CLUB ROOMS

Why can't the girls of Stout Institute have a permanent club room as well as the men? Next year with Lynwood becoming a men's dormitory where will the women who live out in town have a common meeting place? Why the Harvey Memorial, of course. The Home Economics building is practically the women's building, yet they have no room for themselves.

There seems to be a little bit of injustice—the men have a very nicely furnished club room in the gym and the women have none.

Some might suggest the Y. W. C. A. club rooms—but that is available only to members of various societies at certain times. So that is not the answer.

The Harvey Memorial could be made into a very attractive room, and it is no more than fair that the women have such a room for themselves. Let's have some discussion and some action on this affair.

Editor's note: The idea of a girls' Club Room is certainly very fine. The STOUTONIA is behind you in this movement and will do anything in its power to help make it a success.

Several times in the past the STOUTONIA has offered to help furnish a coed club room; now we hope that the dream may at last be realized.

The choice of the Harvey Memorial may have a few difficulties connected with it, but they are problems that the girls will have to iron out for themselves.

Don't let the matter drop now until you have gained your point.

CRYDERMAN SPEAKS

We all talk to ourselves. "Each one of us is not one but two—'I' and 'Me'—and with endless persistence the two confer."

We all know how easy it is to drop into self-communication. A man who thinks he is "only talking to himself" is fairly murdering himself. "It will," says Mr. Henry Fosdick, "land him where it did a famous friend of Horace Walpole's who wrote: 'I fear nothing, I take interest in nothing, and from nothing to nothing I fare onward to the moment close at hand when I shall become nothing.'"

If you repeat: "I can get away with it," "It will get me by," you will be taking job after job when you leave Stout and soon you will be nothing because you were just getting by.

There is nothing that will help more to defeat your courage than "I cannot," "I am whipped." I do not mean to say that you can conquer all obstacles, but there are men who have become great, who have been greatly handicapped. They never could have accomplished the things they did if they had allowed themselves to talk in defeating words.

Don't let yourself be gloomy, no matter what people say; you have your own life to live, if the other fellow wants to ruin his life by being gloomy or by just getting by, that is his lookout, but don't let him ruin yours. If you have a job to do never say, I cannot. Say I'll try.

Let's Laugh

A balky mule has four wheel brakes,
A billy goat has bumpers.
The firefly is a bright spotlight,
Rabbits are puddle jumpers.
Camels have balloon-tired feet,
And carry spares of what they eat;
But still I think that nothing beats
The kangaroos with rumble seats.
—Orange Peel.

Freshie: "What is the faculty?"
Junior: "The faculty is a group of people paid to assist the seniors in running the school."

An optimist is one who hops out of bed on a cold morning saying: "Well, old bed, I'll be back to you in seventeen hours."

A pessimist is one who hops in bed saying, "Gee! up again in seven hours!"

The Lynwood girls watched the fire in Haase's Apparel Shop Sunday evening. We suppose they wanted to be the first ones to get fire sale bargains. The fire must have given its color to Edna Eichorst's hair. At least the color of her hair was changed Monday.

People are hard to satisfy. When there are no girls tagging at our dances, some of the fellows are dissatisfied. Last Friday evening there were a number of girl stags. If some of the fellows want girls to stag, why don't they dance with the girls when they do come.

To those instructors who still consider the habit of yawning a bit gauche, may we timorously suggest that it is only a sleepy hallow.

Love is like eating mushrooms. You don't know whether it's the real thing until it's too late.

Patron: "That's all right. I'll take a seat in the standing room."

Out in God's Country where it doesn't rain much, cows give evaporated milk.

Did you see Ted Lewis in person at the Tacky Drag? He was none other than Eddie Canatsey and his gang of German fog horns.

The freshmen in the Elements of Woodwork class are practicing the art of paddling, because it is difficult at times for one to walk from one end of the shop to the other.

The development of man from cave man to the college man with a beautiful blonde was demonstrated by Dusty at the Tacky Drag.

"Modern marriage is like a cafeteria."
"And how."
"A man grabs what looks nice and pays for it later."

"Had a puncture, my friend?"
"No, sir, I am just changing the air in these tires. The other lot is worn out."

"There is one word in the English language that's always pronounced wrong."
"What word is that?"
"Why, wrong, of course."

"When I hear a woman sing I clap my hands."
"So do I—over my ears."

"Is he of a nervous disposition?"
"I should say not; he's harder to rattle than a feather pillow."

The three R's of matrimony: Romance, Rice, Rocks.

"Hey, what's the red light for?"
"That's a fire exit, stupid."
"What do they use it for?"
"It's where they put the fire out of course."

ANVIL SPARKS
from Aries

In all of our relationships and judgments we should learn to separate conviction from prejudice.
—Pres. B. E. Nelson.

Many of us spend much time adroitly setting our words about the weather and other nothings by way of parrying the other fellow's efforts to get at the heart of us.

Woe unto him who at a banquet eateth his potatoes with his knife! And lo, his brother who attempteth to eat his peas in the same manner deserveth our pity and assistance. Selah.

Personals

Miss Hamilton, National Student Secretary of the Counsel of Y. W. C. A. of Chicago was at Stout Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 24-25.

She was here about a week ago doing the same kind of field work. At present she is working in this part of the state.

Professor W. E. Peik of the University of Minnesota will inspect The Stout Institute Tuesday, March 4. Mr. Peik is the inspector representing the North Central Association of colleges and secondary schools.

TAINTER HALL

Esther Sichler spent Saturday in Eau Claire.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wigglesworth of Madison called on Alice Cockerill Sunday morning.

Alice Haserud, Mary Hyrz, and Hazel Flaget have been staging cracker eating contests every night at ten o'clock. Anyone may be allowed to enter who can contribute a ring of bologna or its equal.

When Mrs. Dow appeared in the dining room Sunday noon with the usual slip of paper, everyone knew that a re-arrangement was soon to take place. The retiring hostesses were particularly glad for the change of tables, but others regret leaving their chummy little circles.

LYNWOOD HALL

Emma Anderson spent the week-end with Margaret Senty at Independence, Wis.

Miss Hamilton was the guest of the Lynwood girls on Monday night.

Two huge birthday cakes received last week by Anna Westman and Irma Gilbertson were much enjoyed while they lasted.

Grace Linderson, Vivian Florin, Eleanor Nelson, and Frances Hill spent the week end at their homes.

We wonder how many students know that the porch light at Lynwood was out last week—at any rate it is fixed now.

Some of the girls are trying to imagine Lynwood as a boy's dormitory, and are wondering what fellows will be occupying their rooms.

Many new garments have been added to the individual wardrobes as a result of the fire sale at Haases!

Just what one girl will do with ten dollars worth of handkerchiefs is a mystery to every one.

Helen Novak, Cecelia Cadigan, Violette Parsons, Lucille Hebl, and Violet Walstrom were busily engaged Saturday doing their spring cleaning.

On Thursday evening, February twentieth, Old Father Time rolled back his curtain and allowed a num-

Here'n There

Mr. A. Poellinger recently came to Neenah to take charge of the printing department. Mr. Poellinger comes directly from Stout Institute with high recommendations.

Mr. Poellinger believes that the Neenah high school has a very good system and he thinks we have a wonderful gym. He stated that he thought it is one of the finest gyms in the state, considering the size of the school.

Miss Peters won a point in her favor when she planned a good lunch in the cafeteria, the first noon Mr. Poellinger was here.

On the whole, Mr. Poellinger's first impressions of Neenah high school were very good.

The Cub—Neenah High School Mr. Al Poellinger slipped in a little note with the Neenah high school paper which read as follows: Hello Stout:

Take a glimpse at a real paper! I believe it is almost as good as the Stoutonia!

Yours trooly,
"Heinie"

We are with you "Heinie". Don't forget to write us one of your "Letters to Maw."

The third annual boxing class will soon be inaugurated at the Superior State Teachers' College.

An elimination contest is planned to last throughout the entire season. Champions will be selected from each of five divisions, with individual awards to be presented to each one.

This class will be open to any student in the college who might be interested in boxing.

The promoters of this sport are also formulating plans to hold a state-wide intercollegiate tournament, and to invite boxers from the various Teachers' colleges in the conference.

—The Peptomist.

Romance blooms anew on the Bradley campus when Farnum Oster presents Geraldine Iler with a 25-cent Valentine. Mr. Oster is one of the country's leading fuzzologists and has spent many happy afternoons at the Holt factory taking fuzz off of the Caterpillars.

—The Bradley Tech.

ber of the bravest men and fairest women in American history to pass through and join Uncle Sam, who conducted them to Lynwood Hall where they made merry with thoroughly modern lads and lassies.

Uncle Sam was typical in his jolliest mood. Patrick Henry was there with the spirit of his earliest youth; he was keen and energetic, and showed the dawning of that fire and energy that later swayed the colonists to indignation against oppression.

George Washington, as first president, was magnificent in powdered wig, brocade satin coat, velvet breeches, silk hose, and shoes with immense silver buckles. Martha Washington was no less regal than the president. They were accompanied by Mrs. Lincoln, who in spite of all her quaintness, showed a strong resemblance to Dr. Bachman. She presented an easy transition from the earliest to later periods of history, for not only famed colonists made their appearance, but also heroes and heroines of the Civil War times. Barbara Fritchie was there as lively as her "old grey head" would permit.

The Virginia Reel brought a gay, representative group from all past periods with a few modern dancers, who were sufficiently skilled to follow the various figures. But the square dances proved the Waterloo for all of a younger generation than Lincoln.

If you expect out-of-town guests, for the Prom, report them to Souci or Paulus at once.

—S—

Don't forget the DeMolay dance after the game.

Organizations

If you expect out-of-town guests for the Prom, report them to Souci or Paulus at once.

The World Fellowship Committee of the Y. W. C. A. sponsored a lecture by Mrs. John Muir of Evanston, Ill., on Tuesday, Feb. 25th.

Mrs. Muir has been a missionary in West China for several years, and she told of her many experiences in the field. She brought with her many interesting articles from China.

Albert Hansen, president of the men's Glee Club, announces that plans are underway for their annual Early Spring Concerts which will be given in the Stout auditorium and in the various churches in town. Numerous bids have been received from out of town organizations, and the club is contemplating accepting those invitations.

Mr. Good, director, plans to have the boys meet twice a week in order to learn the many new numbers which he has acquired. The club was fortunate in obtaining Mrs. Mitchell as accompanist to take the place of Harold Taufman who has been ill for some time.

The Manual Art Players as a dramatic club has devised a method by which they think each member will receive more experience and actual value from their regular club meetings than has formerly been the case.

Due to the fact that only a few members can be cast in the large plays given by the club each year, it was voted to have every second meeting, or one meeting a month at which programs would be given. These programs may be in the form of reports, musical numbers, or readings, and will be given and directed by the club members. Each member of the club will be allowed to bring a guest to these social meetings.

The meeting of the Manual Arts Players which will be held tonight will be the first of these program meetings. The program will consist of a one act play entitled "Never The Less" by Stewart Walker. A short talk on the life and work of the author will be given by Alice Haslerud. This play has been directed by Jane Foeller and it is reported that the play has all the earmarks of professional directing and acting. The cast is as follows:

Prologue—Carol McClurg
Bill Cleves ..... John Waniga
Louise Cleves ..... Emma Newby
The Burglar ..... Albert Hansen

At a meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last Thursday night, business relative to the decoration of the meeting rooms, the benefit show, and the Stunt Night was discussed.

President Nelson has given his permission to the Y. M. C. A. to redecorate and select additional pieces of furniture for the meeting rooms in the gym. The expenses incurred will be financed by the clubs using these rooms. In order to pay its share of the expenses, the Y. M. C. A. has arranged with the management of the Orpheum theatre to run a benefit show; namely, Seven Keys to Balpate. Tickets will not be available for a few weeks as the picture will not be shown until the first week of April.

A committee has been appointed to interview the various organizations of the school to present some form of entertainment for the Stunt Night which will be held in May. The Y. M. C. A. will present the club which furnishes the best talent with a silver loving cup. If proven successful this affair will become an annual event.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, the club resorted to a program which was much enjoyed. Mr. Early talked on the three aspects of the Y. M. C. A.; namely, the social, the physical, and the religious. He

Officials Visit Stout And Professor Welch

Messrs. E. K. Jenkins, educational director for the Wall Paper Manufacturers Association, and H. G. Noyes, coordinator for the trade extension work in Wisconsin, visited The Stout Institute last week. Before coming here, Mr. Jenkins had just finished a several day stay in the Twin Cities to participate in the International Painters and Decorators Convention.

Mr. Jenkins and his staff of field agents are aiding in the vocational schools of Wisconsin, in promoting the classes in painting and decorating. This is done by stimulating apprenticeship and trade extension work for men who are already in the trade. These two men are very close friends of Mr. Welch, and do considerable work with him throughout the state.

"S" Club To Sponser Carnival And Dance

(Continued from page one)

interest you all the time.

Program Includes Dancing

During the course of the evening, dancing will be carried on for those who care to indulge in such a pastime.

In all, this affair, although new at Stout, will carry entertainment and a good time for all. The prizes for all events will be five cents (5c.) with no variations in any case.

START YOUR PREPARATIONS NOW FOR THIS EVENT OF EVENTS.

New Code Of Ethics In Dean Bowman's Office

(Continued from page one)

side of counseling at Detroit Teachers' College under the direction of Mr. Layton, by John F. Reinell, instructor of printing, at the Nolan Intermediate School of Detroit, Michigan. Students may feel free to read this bulletin, and it will no doubt be of benefit to those who do so. It will be found on the table in Dean Bowman's outer office.

Miss Hamilton Talked At Stout Last Monday

(Continued from page one)

tive organization in order that girls may grow in a fuller kind of life. She suggests that religion should be re-interpreted as a part of life. It is what students and people are and not what they say that makes them religious or irreligious. It isn't always the externals that make a person religious but rather what he has within him.

analyzed the Lord's Prayer as a basis for presenting the religious aspect.

Miss Hamilton Gives Stout Coeds A Visit

Many members of the Y. W. C. A. attended the dinner given in the cafeteria Tuesday evening at 6:30. This social event brought to a close two days of great interest and enjoyment, in social welfare with the National Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., Miss Hamilton of Chicago.

During her brief visit here, on the campus, she did much to stimulate the interest in Y. W. C. A. work. She conducted special conferences during this time with the officers, cabinet members, and other members of the organization. On Monday evening, at 5:00 o'clock, the girls turned out in goodly numbers to hear Miss Hamilton speak to the organization, in the Harvey Memorial. Hymns were sung, and Charlotte Watchorn rendered a vocal number.

In her lecture, at this time, Miss Hamilton pointed out the worthwhile channels to follow in order to develop and obtain a more powerful security within one's self; to find power, radiance, and life in the Diety. She brought out the fact that within the organization there is great opportunity to develop fellowship which must first come from within; then there is the joy of knowing people and the opportunity to do something for the welfare of others. "It is what one is that counts, and one must set out to find a full and creative life."

Give Talk on Experiences

At the dinner, on Tuesday evening, Miss Hamilton, who was a guest of the Y. W. girls, gave a very interesting resume of her experiences in various European countries in connection with her work in the organization. At present, it seems that the trend of Y. W. C. A. work has an international atmosphere — many of the problems are of this nature. She related many interesting, yet touching characteristics of some of the Europeans, whom she had had the opportunity of observing and with whom she had talked.

At this large gathering, hymns were sung and Miss Burgoin gave two vocal numbers, accompanied by Winifred Cooper. Helga Rassmussen played for the hymn singing. A rising vote of thanks was given Miss Hamilton by those who attended the banquet. It was a privilege to have the National Secretary as a guest on the campus.

LATEST HITS
IN
VICTOR RECORDS
AT
A.R. OLSON'S

Your Barber is an expert in keeping you well groomed; Use his many services often.

I. W. NESSER
"The Barber"

Come in and get the
BEST IN EATS
We have a complete line of
DELICIOUS CANDY
THE OLYMPIA

BUY 'EM HERE
EAT 'EM ANYWHERE
WHAT?
MILLER'S Southern Fried Pies
and
Delicious Malteds
F. E. Miller

River Falls Wins Dramatic Contest

(Continued from page one)

nearly a disruption of the wedding, however, the action ended happily and successfully.

The cast of characters:

The Bridegroom ..... Cecil Hahn
The Best Man ..... Richard Albrecht
The Bride ..... Gwen Crane
A Groomsman ..... Harold Sosted
The Bridegroom's Mother ..... Mae Bark
The Bride's Father ..... Alton Nelson
The Bride's Aunt ..... Dorothy Hansen
Scene: A bedroom in a country house.

Time: An evening in June.

Directed by: Miss Phyllis Jackson.

"The Old Grouch" by Stout

"The Old Grouch" centered around a wealthy Englishman who had a daily habit of reading his paper in the park. As a result, he made the acquaintance of the policeman, the nursemaid, and the chauffeur. The character study was good. The Old Grouch appeared to have an interest in the love affair of the nursemaid and the chauffeur; yet he did not wish to admit it. The baby added a bit of comedy. The characters were: The Old Grouch ..... Eugene McLeod
The Policeman ..... George Price
The Nursemaid ..... Marion Cress
The Chauffeur ..... Arnold Stori
Scene: A London Park.
Time: Summer.

Directed by Miss Violet M. Hassler.

According to the rules of the State Dramatic Guild, the judges wrote down their decisions and sealed them in an envelope. The envelopes were then opened before the audience and the decisions read.

The judges of this contest were Mrs. Estelle Farrish of Wisconsin Rapids, Miss Eva Murley of La Crosse, and Mrs. J. A. Michaelson of Ladysmith, Wisconsin.

The winner of this tournament, River Falls, will compete in the State meet to be held March 8, 1930.

Music was furnished between plays by The Stout Institute Orchestra —

Don't forget the DeMolay dance after the game.

der the direction of Donald Moldenhaur.

The visiting dramatic teams of Eau Claire and River Falls, their directors; Miss Flint of Eau Claire and Miss Jackson of River Falls, and the contest judges, Miss E. Murley of La Crosse, Mrs. J. A. Michaelson of Ladysmith and Mrs. E. Farrish of Wisconsin Rapids were the guests of the Manual Arts Players at a five o'clock dinner in the Band Box, Friday evening, February 21.

The newly elected president of the Manual Arts Players, Bernard Hagen, acted as toastmaster. The program consisted of a reading by Jane Foeller, a musical number by Russell Wallin and a short talk by each of the directors from the visiting teams.

ORPHEUM

Tonight (Fri.) - Sat.
"WHY LEAVE HOME"
With Sue Carol, David Rollins and Nick Stuart.
A Musical Comedy Version of "Cradle Snatchers."
Also Short Subjects

Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
THE MARX BROTHERS
— in —
"THE COCOANUTS"
All Talking, All Singing
All Dancing, All Laughing
Musical Comedy
Vodvil and News
Mat. Sunday, 2:30

Wed. - Thurs.
Everette Horton and Patsy Ruth Miller in
"THE AVIATOR"
Also Short Subjects

GRAND

HOOT GIBSON
in
"COURTIN' WILDCATS"
Jam packed with laughs, thrills and mile-a-minute speed.
Also Comedy
Mat. Sunday at 3

THE SHAKER STUDIOS

ARE ALWAYS GLAD TO SERVE YOU

Let us Develop your Kodak Films

SPECIAL DOUBLE DIPPED
CHOCOLATE COVERED PEANUTS
Pound 39c.
LEE'S DRUG STORE

Fire and Smoke Sale!

Come in and see our STUPENDOUS money saving VALUES!

TEARE CLOTHING CO.

ELAINE
$ 250.00

Headquarters for
New and Fine
DIAMONDS
Of Supreme Quality

We have a fine assortment of diamonds from $15 up.

Our spring jewelry is now arriving daily

⊗ Nels Anshus ⊗

Outlaws Invade Blue Devils On Latters Floor

Northerners Bring Along New Coach But Same Players For Their Return Game

The Stout basketball team will have a good opportunity to demonstrate its improvement tonight when the Superior yellowjackets come south for their return game against the Blue at the city armory. Stout took a beating from Superior on their northern trip five weeks ago, the night after they had gone wild at Concordia and run up nearly 50 points.

The game at Superior, however, was reported as being far from one-sided, so Stout is conceded an excellent chance tonight. In fact, the winning fever is here, and there is no reason why Stout should not avenge itself for several years' torture by finishing the season with two victories—Superior, tonight, and Eau Claire, next week.

Regulars Are Still Playing
According to Professor Keith, president of the conference, there is nothing to prevent the Superior team from playing the men who were ruled ineligible a short time ago, as they have been rendered eligible since then, and no penalty against the college can go into effect until the beginning of a new season. One of the names on their list is LeRoy Borg, who suffered the severe injury here last fall.

The Northerners are working under a new coach, Mr. Whearatt, since the resignation of their much-admired Coach Tubbs. Whether or not this will make them better or worse for their remaining games, remains to be seen. Having their usual strong line-up, they will present the usually strong game, and a victory over them would be a feather in Stout's cap, no matter what the technical status of that victory may be. The Blues will probably start their usual line-up of Fordham and Haase, Cvengros, Peterson and Buros.

Embossing Lecture By Prof. Hague To S.T.S.

At the regular meeting of the Stout Typographical Society, Wednesday evening, Mr. Hague gave an excellent demonstrational talk on embossing.

The meeting opened with a short demonstration of how to prepare the press for embossing. The make-ready and die were made first and while the embossing compound was setting the club adjourned to the lecture room where the rest of the club's business was transacted.

The first thing taken up was the initiation of new members. The initiation committee gave their report but no definite plans were agreed upon. At the next meeting the committee will give their complete report and a definite plan for initiation will be made.

The club then turned to the discussion of the trip to the Twin Cities. There are nineteen men going on the trip and a little difficulty was encountered in getting cars for transportation, but they were finally arranged for. The printers made the Ryan Hotel their headquarters and met there at nine o'clock this morning to spend today visiting three printing establishments, McGill Warner, Buckbee Mears, and the St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Don't forget the DeMolay dance after the game.

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonie Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

Annex Wins Coed Basketball Title

The last Girls' Basketball game of the season was played off Wednesday at five in the Stout gym when the Annex beat the freshmen by five points. (The final score was 23-18.)

This makes the Annex all-school champions. The freshmen put up their usual superior fight; this fighting spirit prevailed to the end. They struck a snag, however, when Moe was put out on fouls. Moe is one of the best guards in school, and naturally her quick, clever playing was missed by the frosh.

The Annex team were strong fighters too; they were determined that the frosh would not win. Ness was in good shooting order; the Annex is happy to say that she made 16 of the 23 points scored by them. The girls played a fine game; the sides were quite equally matched except for height—(The Annex girls were taller in most cases).

The line-up of the all-school winning team includes, Galloway and Hobardt as forwards, Aber and Quarters as guards, Ness as center and Ostrom as side center.

Last Thursday night the frosh licked the Juniors. The Juniors went off the floor feeling crushed? they had tried to put up a good fight, and would have succeeded if they hadn't become winded so soon. The frosh became class champions with a score of 38 to 28. This you know, gives the freshmen their second Athletic victory for the year. One more victory, and the loving cup will have their name engraved upon it. Competition is getting keener; who will win in the end?

The line-up of these freshmen class champions includes, Gutwasser and Nelson as forwards, Moe and Foeler as guards, Hebl as center, and Lockhart as side center.

Frosh Coeds Trounce Junior Basketeers

The juniors were badly beaten Thursday in the Stout gym by the freshmen; the final score was 34 to 6.

The juniors played a good game, but were too easily winded to really give the freshmen much competition.

The freshmen have splendid little guards; they worked together beautifully. Hebl, Nelson, and Gutwasser, as usual, played a fine game and each helped to pile up her share of the points.

The freshmen now have their second class championship; the cup is almost theirs. Will they get it?

Next week after the Annex-freshman game, the girl's athletic editor and the associate editor are going to choose an "all-star team." Watch next week's Stoutonia for the line-up.

Don't forget the DeMolay dance after the game.

Good Meals and Refreshments SERVICE

Hotel Marion      Coffee Shop

SERVICE

We do dry cleaning every day. If you need the use of your suit immediately, take advantage of our "ONE DAY SERVICE."

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Spring Suits $22.50 to $35.00
MENOMONIE DYE HOUSE
Running & Cole

Trainers Beat Point; Hold League Leaders To One-Point Margin

Burbidge's Quint Scares Falls on Friday; Trounces Stevens Point Here Saturday

The Stout basketeers honored their college and themselves in a brilliant week-end showing by virtually beating the top-notchers, River Falls, at the Falls last Friday evening, and thoroly vanquishing Stevens Point at the local armory Saturday evening. The Falls Redmen, admitting their luck, eked out a 25 - 24 margin. The Point fell by a score of 38 to 25.

In both games, Stout showed ability and zip not seen here in five years. Beginning the season with a new combination, they have steadily evolved to the point where they can be reasonably considered among the conference leaders.

Falls Game a Toss-Up

On Friday evening, the Trainers gave River Falls the hardest game the redmen have had at home for several years, according to their own statements. Stout led a good share of the way, breaking the Falls defense consistently. Just an edge of luck would have accomplished what Stout fans dared not dream about—a defeat of the invincible Klandrudmen on their own little floor.

Fate decreed, however, that the supposed underdog should not quite accomplish the unexpected. But, as was predicted, Stout gained a spirit of confidence by their marvelous showing at River Falls which made it just too bad for Stevens Point here the next night.

Point Game Starts Slow

It took the Trainers several minutes to convince the Saturday night crowd here that they meant business. The visitors held a scoring edge for the first few minutes, but after that it was just a matter of how much. Dividing scoring honors, the Stout players gained a lead of 17 to 12 by the end of the first half, in spite of phenomenal long-distance shots by Stevens Point.

Toward the end of the first half, each team lost a valuable player on personal fouls, Peterson and Charlesworth going out. Charging and minor cases of roughing were frequent at first, and Stout was not

See us for haircuts; we satisfy our customers
THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

Haircuts at any hour of the day
Three first class barbers
THE ELECTRIC SHOP

breaking as clean as they might have.

Stout Walks Away
In the second period, Stout held a playing edge greater than that indicated by the score. Johnson, replacing Peterson, came thru for four beautiful side line shots, a kind which are going to make him famous. Fordham, playing better ball every time he gets into a suit, covered the floor nicely, and garnered a total of eleven points. Cvengros, with ten points, doubled his opponent, the famed Marshall. Haase fed the ball in nicely, and added five points, himself.

Buros won the crowd with his excellent close-in guarding. The Point failed to tally a single follow-up shot. Buros' fast breaks kept the ball out of dangerous territory. Paulus, Schaudé, and Hanson entered for the last few minutes of play and held the margin. The game was a most satisfying exhibition.

Yearlings Win Also

In the preliminary, Halverson's Frosh, after some horrible basket shooting, won from the fast Barron County Normal school team, 16 to 12. Roe, Hooser, Graf, McNaughton, Southern, and Pierson fought for Stout in this interesting contest.

The Normal's ability to come close was due to a long-shot success. The Yearlings missed everything, having at least three shots to their opponents' one. In spite of this, their floor game showed the results of a season's drill. All in all, the evening was a huge success.

| Stout        | fg. | ft. | pf.  |
|--------------|-----|-----|------|
| Haase, rf    | 2   | 1   | 1    |
| Paulus, rf   | 0   | 0   | 1    |
| Fordham, lf  | 4   | 3   | 2    |
| Schaude, lf  | 0   | 1   | 0    |
| Cvengros, c  | 4   | 2   | 1&T* |
| Peterson, rg | 1   | 1   | 4    |
| Johnson, rg  | 4   | 0   | 3    |
| Buros, lg    | 0   | 0   | 3    |
| Hanson, lg   | 0   | 0   | 0    |
| Totals       | 15  | 8   | 15   |

| Stevens Point (25) | fg. | ft. | pf. |
|--------------------|-----|-----|-----|
| Chavala, rf.       | 3   | 2   | 1   |
| Schroeder, lf.     | 2   | 4   | 1   |

|                  |   |    |        |
|------------------|---|----|--------|
| Rickman, lf      | 0 | 1  | 0      |
| Marshall, c.     | 2 | 2  | 2&3T |
| Baker, rg        | 0 | 0  | 1      |
| Charlesworth, lg | 0 | 2  | 4      |
| Johnson, lg.     | 0 | 0  | 1      |
| Alberts, rg      | 0 | 0  | 2      |
| Totals           | 7 | 11 | 12     |

Officials, Crosby and Jackson, Minnesota.

*Technical foul on Stout for 4 timeouts.

**Technical fouls (2) on Stevens Point coach and (1) for too much time on substitution.

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
E A T

THE PEERLESS GRILL
"The Home of Good Food"

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

Menomonie Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

Quality Always
and the
SEASON'S SMARTEST STYLES
Swenson and Berndt
The Shoe Men

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM      F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

1930 Spring Suits
$19.20 - $27.00
Evens Tobin Co.

The Candy Shoppe

D. CHASE      F. WAGNER
I'll say they make the best "Malted",
and have the good things to eat.

Candy - Homemade - Ice Cream

"S" Club Carnival Dance Supreme Tomorrow Night

Stout Meets Old Rival, Eau Claire, In Season's Last Conference Game

Trainers Are On Edge for the Decisive Final Victory Over
Near Neighbors

Tonight's battle with the Eau Claire Teachers at the city armory has a chance to ring down the curtain on what may be the best cage season for Stout since the 1926 championship—provided the Trainers do what all Menomonie confidently expects them to do—administer a decisive walloping to Coach Zorn's battlers.

Coach Burbidge and his squad have been pointing for this game, as has every coach and every team at Stout for several years. Both colleges have been on the up-grade in sports this year, and each had a chance, with a victory tonight, to conclude a most creditable season.

Is "Revenge" Contest

Coach Burbidge's first leadership of a Stout team was at Eau Claire a few weeks ago, when the neighbors looped enough in the last few minutes of play to nose out the Blues. Therefore, tonight's game is an opportunity for revenge. Eau Claire has beaten Stevens Point and Stout once each, and also the same Minnesota teams that the Trainers beat. The teams are evenly matched.

The visitors will be amply backed by rooters. Stout missed such backing at Eau Claire, for the first time in several years. The armory will be sorely taxed by the predicted crowd, and the program will have all the atmosphere of a championship
(Continued on page four)

—S—

Education Must Locate The Ultimate Values Of Human Life

Psychologists Have Looked For Original Nature In What Man
Is By Heredity

"What education needs in the present bewildering transition is to locate the ultimate values of human life," says Professor Ross L. Finney. Education objectives aplenty are in sight, but they are all relative to the signs of the times; and it is the times that we are lost in."

"Psychology has gone bankrupt attempting to define human nature," says Professor Finney, insisting that a proper definition of human nature is the first step in determining the ultimate values of life. "Upon the door-step of the sociologists the psychologists have abandoned their problem, for the problem can be solved only by approaching it from the standpoint of social evolution."

Psychologists have looked for original nature in what man is by heredity; the sociologists look for it in what the inborn drives of heredity have forced man to become—in the social institutions.

These institutions are the family, the local community, the state, the industries, the church, the school, the press, the standard of living, the customary recreations, and the health preserving activities. These are the human values, the ends of human life, and the object of education is to equip youth for balanced participation in these changing institutions.

Stout Is Victorious In Rifle Club Match

The Stout Rifle team emerged victorious in their match with the Menomonie city team. Nine men shot for each team but only the scores of the five highest shooters on each team were recorded. The match was closely contested and it was the last shooter on the Stout team who decided the winning team. Altho the final count of the scores showed that the school team was the victor by only thirteen points it proved that the greater experience of the students in rifle handling was too much for the city team members.

Several women members of the city rifle team attended the match and during intermission took the opportunity to try the Stout range. They showed an intense interest in rifle shooting and were slightly disappointed to see their team go down to defeat. Some of the women of the school team shot a match among themselves but the last reports of said match showed that it was a draw.

After the Stout-City shoot the members of both teams were treated to a feed by the losers. It was reported that the men of the city team attempted to match pennies with the
(Continued on page three)

—S—

Stationary Population Fear Of U.S. In 1970

The continuation of the present tendency of a rapid decline in the birthrate will in all probability result in bringing about a virtually stationary population in the United States by the year 1970. This means that at that time the country will be entirely dependent upon immigration to add to the numbers of its population. And, at that time, under present immigration restrictions, the population of the United States will be approximately one hundred and fifty millions. These are the main conclusions in a paper presented by Mrs. Dublin and Mrs. Lotka of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company before the American Statistical Association and the American Sociological Society at the recent meeting held in Washington.

Monday
Stoutonia Staff .....5:00 o'clock
Science Club .....5:00 o'clock
Tower Staff .....7:00 o'clock
Women's Glee Club 7:00 o'clock
Men's Glee Club .....7:00 o'clock

Tuesday
Band .....7:00 o'clock
S. M. A. ....7:15 o'clock
De Molay .....7:30 o'clock
Marquette La Salle 7:30 o'clock

Wednesday
Y. W. C. A. ....5:00 o'clock
Rifle Club .....7:00 o'clock
S. T. S. ....7:30 o'clock

Thursday
Inky Fingers .....5:30 o'clock
M. A. P. ....7:15 o'clock
Hyperians .....8:00 o'clock
Orchestra .....7:00 o'clock

Printers Make Long Wait For Trip To Twin Cities Enmasse

"Hold Eddie!" Command, as Mob Goes Thru Women's Dept's
At Buckbee Mears

Four car loads of future pedagogues journeyed to St. Paul on Friday morning for their annual tour of the Buckbee Mears Co., McGill Warner Co., and the St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Getting up at 6:30 in the morning may be comedy for some folks but it meant a cold breakfast to the travelers. Professors Hague and Brown both went through the old experience, for married men, of making their own breakfast. The rest of the crowd decided to wait until the city limits of St. Paul surrounded them and vitamins could be purchased from a city lunch counter.

The trip to St. Paul was about as eventful as the call of a traveling salesman. No accidents were reported, and every one found his way through the struggling metropolis of Hudson.

What! No Band?

Professor Brown was at the wheel of his mighty eight. At the sight of St. Paul his chin went up just a little. The action was followed by the rest of the crowd, but even with this mark
(Continued on page four)

Leisure A Factor In Building Homes

"The backyard devoted to children will bear much finer fruit than that planted to shrubs or apricots. The game of dominoes in front of the fire will bring finer results than the big hotel party downtown," says Mrs. Ivah E. Deering.

Under the poetic title "The Home That Laughs in the Gale," Mrs. Deering appeals for a balanced life of leisure and toil even for childhood in order that the developing character may strengthen itself by a renewal of the "tissues of both body and soul."

"This renewal cannot be gained wholly in groups, for it requires time, space, aloneness, definite program. If work has lost its thrill, it remains for leisure to bring it back. "Leisure time is a positive factor in the growth of our children and in the life and happiness of adults. The manner of our use of leisure time determines what manner of person we are."

Mrs. Deering warns against the expenditure of leisure time in day dreaming, for "to dream alone is to be a misfit—unhappy, thwarted, and rebellious. To learn the courage to translate our dreams into construction
(Continued on page three)

—S—

Stout Again Gets A-1 College Rating

While President Nelson was unable to be present when the report of the Committee on College standards was made before the American Association of Teachers Colleges, he was able to learn upon his arrival at Atlantic City, that The Stout Institute was given a new classification as an A-1 college without qualification.

Official notice of his finding will be received as soon as the report of the proceedings of that meeting is completed.

This news is of large significance to the administration and should be a source of gratification to the Stout students.

Regulation Sweater To Be Raffled Off As Part Of Program

Five Cent Dances, Games, and Shows Will Feature
Athletic Affair

Tomorrow night is to be another gala night for Stout. So promises "Red" Frazer, chairman of all committees for the "S" Club carnival. You all remember the big time everyone had at the Tacky Drag. That was one big time for this year. The "S" Club carnival has every promise of being even bigger and better. "Red" has had his committee members working for some time in preparation for this event. We have been informed that this is something you cannot afford to miss.

Don't forget that, besides being a carnival, this is also to be a costume party. Any costume will do, just so it be something to add to the atmosphere of the occasion. While it is not compulsory to wear a costume, you may be sure that it will help to make this carnival a success. The admission at the door will be the purchase of fifty cents worth of five cent tickets. After that you can buy as many as you want.

Law and Order Enforced

The entire gym will be turned over to the "S" Club on carnival night. From top to bottom there will be something doing every minute. The doors will be open at eight o'clock and if you want to see everything you better be there early.

"Stike" Cvengros and his capable police force are to maintain law and order. There is to be a courtroom and persistent offenders of the law will be taken care of by fines or imprisonment
(Continued on page three)

—S—

Prexy Appears Before The Legislative Interim Committee At Madison

Claims American Association of "U" Women Are Overbearing
And Conceited

The American Association of University Women are "overbearing and conceited" in their discrimination against Stout Institute graduates, President Burton E. Nelson of the institute is credited with saying Friday in his appearance before the legislative interim committee on education at Madison. Mr. Nelson left Madison Friday night for Atlantic City for the convention of the National Education association.

The Milwaukee branch of the association, he told the committee, barred a graduate of Stout who had completed the degree course and had admitted a girl from Milwaukee-Downer school with only two years to her credit. This was unfair, he felt, in view of the admittance of some normal school graduates to the association.

Stout has asked a committee from the North Central Association of Colleges to inspect the school March 4, Mr. Nelson said, to determine if it will qualify as a fully accredited college, partly to alleviate the situation and partly because its graduates have a hard time getting positions as teachers in Wisconsin with the high schools demanding graduates of schools affiliated with the association.

CAMPUS CARTOONS

by Kathleen Lind

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                               |                       |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Managing Editor               | E. V. Ahonen          |
| Associate Editor              | Henrietta L. Quilling |
| News Editor                   | Chester Mau           |
| News Editor                   | Belinda Hendrickson   |
| Assistant News Editor         | Bernard Hagen         |
| Assistant News Editor         | Vivian Hewitt         |
| Feature Editor                | William Soucie        |
| Feature Editor                | Kent Riggs            |
| Feature Editor                | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Humor Editor                  | Carl Roll             |
| Sports Editor                 | Georgia Aber          |
| Sports Editor                 | William Michaels      |
| Exchange Editor               | Albert Gilles         |
| Organization Editor           | Anita Gundlach        |
| Organization Editor           | Nicholas Marsilio     |
| Cartoonist                    | Kathleen Lind         |
| Business Manager              | Earl C. Halverson     |
| Circulation Manager           | Robert G. Reick       |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Carl Roll             |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Byron Canatsey        |
| Advertising Manager           | Marlo McCullough      |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr.        | Floyd C. Larson       |
| Intertype Operator            | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Foreman Mechanical Department | Kent Riggs            |
| Under Direction of            | Mr. C. W. Hague       |
| Editorial Adviser             | Mr. John Faville, Jr. |
| Associate Adviser             | Miss Helen Sarchet    |

THE "S" CLUB CARNIVAL

The "S" Club is an organization made up of Stout letter men. They have fought for the glory of our school and are now helping the athletic department by raising funds with which to buy necessities.

Let's all help the boys out tomorrow eve. In so doing we'll be enjoying ourselves also. Everybody to the Carnival.

THANK YOU, NORTHWESTERN

The editor of the STOUTONIA wishes to thank Northwestern College for the mention made in their school paper in regard to "High Hatting," an editorial which appeared in a recent issue of the STOUTONIA.

We hope that you will continue to like our editorials, and school paper.

"STAND FOR OUR TEAM"

With tonight's game we leave basketball again for another year. Eau Claire has a strong team but not an invincible one.

Let's all get out and back that team tonight as it has never been backed before.

Stout is out to win; to win means to fight; to fight, they need support and we're the ones who are going to give it. Isn't that so?

ACTION!!

The Home Economics students are anxiously awaiting the decision on the Harvey Memorial as a girls' club room. Enthusiastic remarks and spirited discussions heard on the campus on this subject has led to a keen renewed interest on the part of the girls.

The club room facilities that the Home Economics students have open to them at the present time; namely, the Y. W. Club Rooms, are inadequate in many respects and in an "out of the way" location. A Harvey Memorial club room is the only solution! Besides being a fine idea it is an urgent need.

—A Home Ec. Student.

FROM FLINT AND STEEL TO DITTO

Primitive man was very modernistic in at least one way, and that was in the use he made of flint and steel. On a windy day he crouched over his tinder as he frantically struck sparks with his steel in hopes of making a fire.

As time went on man became civilized, the chemist invented the match and a big problem was solved.

Now, along comes the mechanical age and the invention of the cigarette lighter. A man is nobody now unless he owns one.

On a windy day we crouch over our tinder as we frantically strike sparks with flint and steel with hopes of getting a light. We call it civilization, and advancement! Can you beat it?

HAIL TO THEE

Do you realize just how great a school our dear old alma mater is? Have you ever stopped to think that we are "Pioneers of Industrial Education"? Let's just look over the curriculum and see what we have added in the last few years.

First, new academic courses to give us a background for our work. Second, extended shop courses to give us our specialties, for instance, freehand drawing, general metal, new printing work, and a nursery school. Third, educational field trips have been incorporated to enable the students to see what is being done in the trades. Such trips, without a doubt, have more educational value than a week's work in a Stout shop, because here a student sees the tradesman working under trade conditions with out-put as his aim.

A week ago the printers took just such a trip. They visited the large printing houses of St. Paul and took away with them a world of knowledge.

This type of work is something new in the educational field, so Stout is again one of the leaders.

Let's Laugh

NOTICE BEEFERS—STO? BEEF-ING.

Andrew Larson has a car with four wheels and no brakes.

Extra: Extra: Floyd Larson gave a girl a break in the cities.

"Do you like to dance?"

"Of course."

"Well, then why don't you start?"

The eighth wonder of the world has been discovered by Squeaks Anderson. He wonders why he is living.

Mr. Faville: "Who is chief justice of the Supreme Court?"
Class: "Hughs."

Mr. Faville: "He won by a narrow margin."

Guelson: "Who was running against him?"

Mr. Tustison: "What is the use of oil in a transformer?"

Marsilio: "To lubricate lines of force."

Red Frazer went to Eau Claire on business. He bought a whistle.

Printer's caution when on a field trip: "Hold Eddie!"

Lopp: "Have you some thumb tacks?"

Mau: "No, but I have some finger nails."

Speed Kaiser uses the P. H. E. system in typewriting. (P. H. E. means Poke, Hunt, Erase).

Everett Smith says that the wires are so hot at Lynwood that the insulation is frying all of the time.

Mr. Brown: "What if some one would ask you why you were teaching that subject?"

Beinert: "I would pass out."

The quickness of the hand deceives the eye. That is why Biwer and Hoyer received black eyes.

Coach Burbidge said, "Persons with over-developed muscles cannot swim."

No wonder so many of us cannot swim.

Goober could not attend his classes last Friday afternoon because he had to rest up to play in the orchestra for the tournament play.

Butenhoff: "Why don't you wear duck pants?"

Guelson: "I'm not studying to be a quack doctor."

Barney: "How's life as a freshman?"

Olson: "I've only a hazy idea."

Some Consolation

Don't worry if your job is small,
And your rewards are few.
Remember that the mighty oak
Was once a nut like you."

He who laughs last usually creates a disturbance.

Prof: "How many sides has a circle?"

Student: "Two."

Prof: "Explain."

Student: "Inside and outside."

"Hey, kid you musn't fasten your pup to my car."

"Aw what's eatin' you. Someone tied the bloomin' can to my dog's tail."

Student: "I have stopped drinking coffee."

Second Stude: "Why?"

Student: "I can't sleep in class any more."

When there is nothing more to be said, some boob always says it.

ANVIL SPARKS from Aries

We never really can say anything but what we ourselves are at heart.

There is often nothing more gratifying than to know that the order of things is sincere.

One can't keep his pride of soul and be lied to either directly or in that other more hateful way of covering-up that cowardly men and women often use.

Filler

"Ladies and gentlemen, we are on an international hook-up tonight; please stand by. Your announcer is Static.

"For the next number on the program we wish to introduce to you the world's famous financier, Dr. Midus, now known as Mr. Minus. Yes, he was in the market crash. Give the lad a hand, people; take a bow, prof."

"Ladies and other cigarette smokers, it is a great pleasure to address such an intelligent looking audience"—"Drag him off, Joe. People of radio land, this is Static speaking again. We are very sorry if we made a mistake in our choice of a speaker but please forgive us and be with us again next Friday night at the same time. Please stand by for your station announcements."

"This is station FILR, with Vic at the mike. Hello, folks. No more of that guy's lip; the nerve of that bird's insinuations, but let's get down to more interesting matters.

"Last night a group of Stout fellows got together and settled the affairs of the world at one, this morning. On account of certain technicalities, it will have to be done all over again, but such is life. That isn't all.

"There have been some hot arguments in the sophomore sociology class. As a result, the race question has been paramount in the minds of many. The consensus of opinion seems to be that the 440 is more strenuous than the mile, the half-mile also has its adherents.

"The classical record at the Le Palais Des Etudiants, was accidentally broken some time ago when "Zim" went after it with a chair. His only excuse was that he was tired of hearing it played every time we had company.

"Talk about your instinctive traits tending toward self preservation! Our architect friend, Goober, refuses to s't in the drawing room of one of his girl friend's homes on the grounds that he calls for pleasure, not work.

"Now friends, I turn the mike over to our friend Riggs. Good night. Do go away world!"

"Good evening, friends and enemies of Radioland. Stay with us a few minutes and we promise not to knock the chain stores or tell any bedtime stories. We will, however, give rise to a few local and long distance news items for your pleasure, amusement, and disgust, starting with a little extract from the 'Lynwood Hall Daily Mirror'.

"Major Hooper has withdrawn his name from the long list of eligible bachelors and has started out on a campaign to have his name regularly applied to one of the 5 by 8 cards in the Lynwood Hall reception room. Mre power to you, Major.

"Another item from another of the local daily papers states that, 'Sid Katchel has registered a protest against the throwing of snowballs, on the grounds that such action is contrary to what may logically be expected of college men and women, and not only that, it doesn't feel so 'nifty' to get hit between the lower part of the head and the upper part of the shoulders (namely, the neck) by a hunk of hard, cold, germ in-

Here'n There

Eau Claire students are making plans to attend the Eau Claire-Stout game this week-end. This will be the last game for both teams. The game in the eyes of the Eau Claire students, will be one of the grandest struggles of the year.

—The Spectator.

About 200 Eau Claire Teachers' college students attended the matinee performance presented by the Ben Greet players Monday, Feb. 24, in the city auditorium.

The comedy, "Twelfth Night," was delightfully presented, and proved a revelation of Shakesperian drama to the uninitiated.

—The Spectator.

The Bradley Tech., a student newspaper, feels compelled to print signed articles that are handed in and which supposedly voice student opinion. For that purpose the school paper has a "Kicks and Comments" column. In this column are articles concerning the library, comments on the band, criticisms on the professors' attitudes, complaints about first semester pledging, etc.

—The Bradley Tech.

Hamline track aspirants are still continuing their daily workouts at the Piper indoor oval in preparation for the spring meets. There are very good prospects for a successful track season.

—The Hamline Oracle.

Realizing that but few students know anything whatsoever about the shops in Lathrop Trade school, the Craftsman is inaugurating in its paper a series of articles dealing with the history of the various school shops, their development, and their purpose.

—The Junior Craftsman

Milwaukee State Teachers college have made plans for their fifth college Night, which is sponsored annually by the Echo Weekly, and which is one of the most outstanding events of the school year. This is the night when societies, fraternities, organizations, and individuals will partake in a rollicking, merry-making fete. The date for this fete is to be Wednesday, March 26.

Declarations for stunts have appeared in the Echo. Ten dollars to defray expenses will be given to each organization producing a sketch in the finals.

The awards as usual will be the loving cup to the organization and five dollars as the individual prize.

—Echo Weekly.

This event is similar to the one being sponsored by our Stout Y. M. C. A. organization.

Start promoting for this day of fun and make it the feature attraction of our school year.

fected snow.

"That completes the broadcast of news items and personal philosophy for this evening and we now turn the microphone over to Mr. Artie Johnson who will bring this wonderful program to a fitting close.

"And now, ladies and gentlemen of the ether, we will terminate this "Education Hour," after listening to two of the most brilliant orators of this present day and age. To have them speak to us is a rare privilege seldom offered gratis. Their unpremeditated reflections and reminiscences are flawless and beyond intelligent dispute. It is my sincere hope and promise that much pressure will be brought to bear in order to bring these worthy gentlemen again before the radio audience. Letters and communications with favorable comment will be gladly received. Unfavorable comment not tolerated. Address all letters and telegrams in care of Station F-I-L-R.

-----And so we come to the end of another half hour of column. When the press starts it will be exactly 3 o'clock Davenport time. Here it is; and now we wish you all good night.

Organizations

Thirty-Five Cent Luncheons Served Wednesdays and Fridays

The 35 cent luncheons served in the Stout Tea Room every Wednesday and Friday by the Lunchroom Problems Class are growing in popularity. The class is glad to report a slight increase in the number of regular patrons. All students and faculty are welcome. Anyone interested in coming any Wednesday or Friday please sign on the Tearoom Bulletin.

Miss Miller Speaks To Stout Science Club

Miss Miller gave a very interesting, educational report in a recent meeting of the Science Club on prehistoric man and recent discoveries of fossil forms. The discussion of this paper was carried over into a later meeting. Other reports of readings which have been presented were as follows. "The Use of Insulin in Diabetes," by Gertrude Aber; "The Care and Treatment of Lepers," by Evelyn Giese; "The Transmission of Ultra Violet Light," by Mary Hryz.

Despite the use of insulin as a means of controlling diabetes, the disease is very much on the increase. This increase, it has been suggested, is due at least partly to our large consumption of carbohydrates. Leprosy is not the fatal disease which early observations indicate. At the National Leprosarium in Carville, La., many cases have been arrested and the patients have been returned to their homes.

That ordinary window glass filters out the small amount of ultra violet light which is available out-of-doors in the winter months was one of the important ideas in Miss Hryz's report.

Stout Is Victorious In Rifle Club Match

(Continued from page one)

Stout team in the hopes that the school team would lose and have to pay for the feed but the report could not be verified. Anyway, both teams had a fine time and hope that they may meet again in the near future.

The Stout rifle team has two matches scheduled for March. The first is March 5, with the Racine Vocational School and the second is March 8, when the Great Lakes match is shot. Starting March 12, there will be pistol shooting for both the men and women, which shooting will last for one month.

ALAS, POOR YORICK

About this time of year
When the marks return
And Dad and Mother
Can't understand those "cuts"
Nor what the "E" is for;
And you tell 'em that
There's just one paper out
And anyhow it wasn't fair—
Besides the "E" means excellent.
And Dad gets his glasses
So you find a place to go
Before Dad finds out
There's three more to pay.
And you slam the gate
And you feel abused
And you wish you were through
So you could work every day
And get paid for it.
That's the curse of an aching heart!
—Marquette Tribune.

Tim: "My girl is like the horizon."
Jim: "Howzat?"
Tim: "Never comes nearer."

Any considerate motorist will give a woman half of the road if, he knows which half she wants. She usually wants her half in the middle.

"S" Club Carnival Saturday Night

(Continued from page one)

prisonment or both. Don't try beef-in' or one of Stike's men will be sure to get you. Yes, there is to be a dance also. This will be somewhat different as it is to be a jitney dance and there will be a small charge of five cents a dance. Keith Penn has charge of the dance and Lefty Hansor is to be floor manager.

Side Shows Promised

The Y. M. C. A. rooms will be in charge of Maerzke. He has some side shows which will be worth much more than the price of admission which is only five cents. Wrestling matches, boxing matches and other indoor sports will keep you amused for some time. Jeff Cronk, who has charge of the Y. W. rooms, also has something of interest to offer to those who seek more entertainment. If you feel lucky, go and try your luck at the gaming room which is the club room in charge of "Mac" Morrison. Here you'll find roulette wheels, paddle wheels and fortune telling. The "S" Club has a billiard player who challenges anyone to a game of billiards.

But Michaels has provided for those who care to play Bingo and other familiar carnival games. All prizes to be given at the carnival are sure to get your money's worth. These stands are to be located in various places in the gym. Bill Gardiner has his swimming team coached to perfection. There will be both girls and boys exhibitions and if possible a log rolling contest is to be staged.

Sweater to be Given Away

Last but not least. The "S" Club is raffling another regulation sweater. This is to be raffled between two of the dances and all will be notified when the raffle is to take place. It is not necessary to be there at the time of the raffle in order to win the sweater. Tickets on this sweater are being sold by "S" Club members at ten cents each.

It would be impossible in so short a space to tell you all about this fun carnival. We have tried to give you some idea of the good time that is in store for you if you come to THE "S" CLUB CARNIVAL.

Leisure A Factor In Building Homes

(Continued from page one)

tive action for the joy of it, in our spare moments, may be a greater satisfaction and a greater builder of mental and physical health than the full realization of our dreams in a profession would have been.

Training in the wise use of leisure time is largely a responsibility of the home, thinks Mrs. Deering. She urges that this training be largely in creative activities, where the child makes or builds and does not function passively as a mere receptive agent, as he is when he is being merely amused or entertained.

Mrs. Deering's program calls for the development of creative skills for employment in leisure time. Among these are skills used in games, in drawing, music, and carpentry.

It has been said that the girls' junior and town basketball teams were going to be chosen as first and second ALL STAR TEAMS.

Personals

Vernon Olson has been spending the last two days in the infirmary, suffering from a bad cold.

TAINTER HALL

Theodore Petrick of Rochester, Minn., was the guest of Margaret Hartwell on Sunday.

Helen Novak has made a new acquisition—namely, curly hair.

Marie Simonson, Eldris Wike, Doris Spears, Irene Meyer, Frances Hill, and Eleanor Nelson spent the week end at their homes.

Mary Fox, Jessie Hanson, Helen Novak, Grace Linderson, and Margaret Senty were Eau Claire shoppers Saturday afternoon.

Miss Marjory Overlin of Eau Claire was the guest of Irma Gilbertson Sunday afternoon.

TAINTER ANNEX

Bernice Briker was an Eau Claire visitor Saturday night and Sunday.

Alice Ostrom spent the week end at her home in Reeds, Minn.

Mrs. Evans of Oshkosh was the guest of her daughter Janet on Saturday and Sunday.

Lorraine Litchfield and Winifred Cooper accompanied Ruth Lindall to her ohem in St. Paul for a week end visit.

Alice Lynum was a week end visitor at her home in Baldwin, Wis.

Miss O'Brien was preceptress at the Hall over the week end during Mrs. Dow's absence.

Edna Mathews visited her aunt, Miss Anna B. Morris, and her uncle, Mr. John Austen Morris, in Chippewa Falls on Saturday and Sunday.

Esther Sichler spent the week end at her home in Alma Center, Wis.

Louise Whitehurst braved the stormy gale on Saturday and hiked out to Picnic Point—not alone, however.

Leota Hanson, who is teaching in Webster, Wis., visited Menomonie friends over the week end.

Kathleen Shannon's great desire was satisfied last week when she received as a gift a new portable victrola.

Due to failing appetites, the ring

ST. PATRICKS PARTY GOODS AT A. R. OLSON

Your Barber is an expert in keeping you well groomed; Use his many services often.

I. W. NESSER
"The Barber"

HAVE YOU TRIED OUR Toasted Chicken Sandwiches WITH LETTUCE AND SALAD DRESSING THEY ARE DELICIOUS!

THE OLYMPIA

of bologna reserved for ten-thirty lunches now has a nice coating of green. Mary Hryz thinks something strong enough could be substituted to keep the mold away.

Marion Cress and Ivernia Forsland have purchased a new rolling pin to use, not for settling disputes, but as a new means of reducing.

Frances Schraeder, due to ill health, left Monday night for her home in Two Rivers, Wis., where she will remain for a week or two.

LYNWOOD HALL

The Annex is mourning over the fact that they will be losing, for six weeks, two faithful and peppy Annexites, Georgia Aber and Josephine Edinger, who are leaving the Annex for Dicky and Home makers.

We are glad that Ardella Anderson will be back again after six weeks at the Home Management cottage.

Alice Lynum spent the week-end at her home in Baldwin.

Lorraine Litchfield and Winifred Cooper were week-end guests at the home of Ruth Lindall of St. Paul, Minnesota. They came back Sunday night flashing!!! Flashing What???

Common phrases about the dorm—"Going to the library tonight?" "Let me answer; it's for me."

ORPHEUM

Tonight (Fri.) and Sat.
LOIS MORAN and JOE WAGSTAFF

in
"A SONG OF KENTUCKY"
Also Talking Comedy

Sunday

ROD LA ROCQUE and RITA LA ROY in
"The Delightful Rogue"
Fox News
Matinee 2:30

Mon. - Tues.
CHARLES (BUDDY) ROGERS and NANCY CARROLL in
"ILLUSION"
Pathe News and other topics

Wednesday
"THE FORWARD PASS"
with DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS Jr. and LORETTA YOUNG
Also Short Topics

Thurs. - Fri. - Sat.
JOHN BARRYMORE in
"GENERAL CRACK"

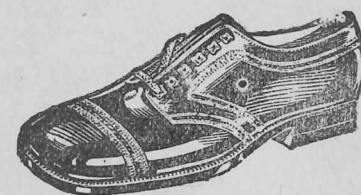

GRAND

Sat. - Sun.
REGINALD DENNY in
"Embarrassing Moments"
Also Comedy and Cartoon
Matinee Sunday at 3

THE SHAKER STUDIOS ARE ALWAYS GLAD TO SERVE YOU Let us Develop your Kodak Films

Everything In Fine Stationery at LEE'S DRUG STORE

LADIES' CUSTOM JEWELRY FOR SPRING In All Colors NELS ANSHUS

Pay $5 and save the Difference
The "FRIENDLY FIVE" SHOE

Has the STYLE and SERVICE you desire

Popular Shades and Models. The price is kept low because of volume, production, rapid sales and SMALL PROFITS.

Genuine Calfskin, Oak Soles, Leather Counters at

$5.00

Means a whole lot to the man who appreciates good shoe values. Next time pay $5, save the difference.

GRAVEN & WILCOX

Superior Breaks Thru Strong Stout Defense For A 27 To 19 Win

Trainers Worn Down by Sharp Attack; "B" Squad Edges Out Cafeteria Team

Superior, playing its usual lineup, managed to show just enough power to hold a margin over Stout last Friday at the city armory, the final score showing 27 - 19. In the opener, the "B" squad had a tough time holding its reputation against the intramural Cafeteria squad, but won, 16 - 14 in the final minute.

The Northerners, whether inel gible or not, went at the process of winning another ball game in most business-like fashion, and after Stout's initial spurt, kept a comfortable lead most of the time.

Trainers Begin Strong

Local fans had hopes for several minutes, as Haase dropped two baskets for a margin that was held up for a time. The visitors, however, were getting too many shots for comfort, and the outcome was rather inevitable. Heavy and large, they wore down the Trainers until the locals' exhaustion was marked.

Buros, after a good — tho over-anxious — guarding game, was released on fouls. Johnson and Peterson worked at guard alsos, but neither was successful in feeding the ball thru the Superior defense in the second half, tho defending well against a powerful visiting attack. Fordham and Cvengros completed the lineup which fought the up-hill battle against the best team in the conference.

—S—

Stout Meets Old Rival In Season's Last Game

(Continued from page one)

battle. The usual Stout lineup is expected to start.

Conference Standings

|                     | W. | L. | Pct.  |
|---------------------|----|----|-------|
| River Falls .....   | 7  | 0  | 1.000 |
| Platteville .....   | 5  | 3  | .625  |
| Whitewater .....    | 5  | 3  | .625  |
| Eau Claire .....    | 4  | 3  | .571  |
| La Crosse .....     | 5  | 4  | .555  |
| Milwaukee .....     | 4  | 4  | .500  |
| STOUT .....         | 4  | 5  | .445  |
| Stevens Point ..... | 4  | 5  | .445  |
| Oshkosh .....       | 2  | 6  | .250  |
| Superior .....      | 0  | 7  | .000  |

From the above, copied from the Associated Press, it will be noted that Superior's games are ruled out, or Superior would have a chance to win the conference from River Falls tonight.

For this reason, Stout has a chance tonight to land a .500 percentage, which would be the best record since the 1926 championship. Without the forfeited games, Stout has now a chance, taking her entire schedule into consideration, of nearly a .500 percentage.

Stout has lost two games each to Superior, River Falls, and La Crosse. and one game to Eau Claire. She has won two from Concordia, two from Stevens Point, one from Luther, and in a few hours will have added another from Eau Claire, it is expected.

—S—

"Yes, Jeremiah, Alice said that last night she dreamed she was dancing with you—"

"You thrill me all to pieces, Hezekiah."

—"and then she woke up find her kind brother pounding her feet with a flat iron."

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonie Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

Intra Mural Sports Moved To Tank Now

With basketball off the stage after tonight, there is still much interest being shown in the intramural games. Bowling will start Monday with two teams competing each afternoon at 5:00.

The Home Towners, by reason of winning both volleyball and basketball, are leading the league to date. They have 120 points to their credit and are followed by the Cafeteria with 85 points. The Cafeteria tied for secons place in both events.

Still Chances to Win

The leaders are followed by the Eye Openers and the Curtis House with Brakers and Greeleys occupying the bottom rung. Swimming and kittenball are the other sports on the program and will count much in the final standing of the teams. The standing of the various teams now are as follows:

|                    |     |
|--------------------|-----|
| Home Towners ..... | 120 |
| Cafeteria .....    | 85  |
| Eye Openers .....  | 70  |
| Curtis House ..... | 65  |
| Braker House ..... | 50  |
| Greeleys .....     | 30  |

—S—

Lockin Begins Senior Talks At Rotary Club

Last Monday noon Mr. Earl Lockin spoke before the Rotary Club of Menomonie. Mr. Lockin is a senior at Stout this year and is attending the institution on a year's leave of absence from Berea College, in Kentucky. He has had quite an unusual opportunity to study the educational set-ups in several states, and, of course, is very familiar with the Kentucky state plans of education.

The situation in which he has been teaching is quite interesting, due to the fact that about 93 percent of the enrollment of Berea College is from the mountain districts. Mr. Lockin portrayed the educational opportunities and problems of this district, giving information which was both educational and interesting.

Seniors To Give Series

Mr. Lockin's talk was one of a series of talks which will be given by Stout seniors at the Monday luncheons of the Rotary. This plan of having talks by the Stout seniors is a very novel and beneficial plan, and its originators are to be complimented thereon.

No doubt the juniors of Stout will begin working on the talks that they will give when their senior days arrive. Of course this may be a warning, but rather let us suppose that it is an opportunity for coming speakers of international fame to begin early upon their careers by making a good beginning right here at home.

Printers Make Trip To The Twin Cities

(Continued from page one)

was called to the visitors. The mayor and the city band did not appear.

With disappointment written all over their faces, the would be printers went into the Ryan Hotel to wait for Otto Anderson and his belated crew. After three games of golf, at twenty-five cents on the side, or one hour in American money, the last of the Stoutonians was safely harbored, and the show was on.

"Hold Eddie!"

Professor Hague split the crew in two; one went to McGill Warner's, and the other to Buckbee Mears.

The greatest problem of group one was to keep Eddie Canatsey from going astray. As the mob went from department to department in the Buckbee Mears shop, the problem grew inversely with the number of women working in each department. At first he was attracted by a beautiful blond in the main office. With effort he was drawn away and led into the mysterious depths of the engraving plant. Here it was almost impossible to control him as new faces appeared contiually. He, however, could not understand the well meant "Hold Eddie!" and kept raving "Beefing again", as his plans for making a date were smashed by his bosom friends. Ulysses never fought a harder battle then the printers did on that memorial day.

Eyes Opened by Processes

After learning the art of making cuts and holding Eddie, group one took its departure from Buckbee Mears and turned its attentions to the McGill Warner Company. There the subtle art of off-set lithography was revealed before wondering eyes. Then came the job printing and binding. Eddie had been conquered by this time so the minds of the group were free to take in everything that was to be seen.

The next stop was for vitamins, proteins, and calories. The gang could not agree on any certain hash house so for the time being they broke up.

After lunch the last trip was made. This time to the home of the St. Paul Pioneer Press. The sights there were of interest to printers and newspaper

See us for haircuts; we satisfy our customers

THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

Haircuts at any hour of the day

Three first class barbers

THE ELECTRIC SHOP

Coach Paulus Sends Regards To Stoutites

Letters from ex-Coach S. E. Paulus to friends her indicate that he is enjoying immensely his new position with the School Assembly Association of Chicago. He has just returned from the superintendents' convention at Atlantic City where he met President Nelson and Superintendent Ballyntyne.

Mr. Paulus expressed pleasure in his letters over the news of Stout's good showing in the past several basketball games, and stated his confidence in the work that Coach Burbidge will be able to do.

Mr. Paulus sends greetings to all friends at Stout and in the city.

men alone. When the last of the news departments had been visited, the first of the printers left for Menomonie. The rest located in various parts of Minneapolis, and St. Paul for the night.

Home, Sweet Home

The Sigma Phi Alpha fraternity house, of Hamline University kindly extended a welcome to "Vic" Ahonen and "Art" Johnson. They spent the evening at the Palace Orpheum and later in a discussion on religion and other topics. After this a fraternity bed was welcome.

"Kid" Riggs and "Christy" spent the night in the Ryan Hotel. What they did for enjoyment has not been released.

Profs. Hague and Brown went to Minneapolis "on business."

The trip was concluded on Saturday afternoon after a two hour drive in a snow storm, with everyone too tired to "beef" but still well satisfied with the world.

ISN'T IT THE TRUTH

They find fault with the editor—
The stuff we print is rot,
The paper's about as peppy as a cemetery lot,
The ads show poor arrangement.
The jokes, they say, are stale—
The upper classmen holler—
The lower classmen rail.
But when the paper's printed and each issue is on file,
If someone missed a copy
You'd hear him yell a mile!
Copper Chronicle.

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
E A T

THE PEERLESS GRILL
"The Home of Good Food"

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

Menomonie Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

Quality Always

and the

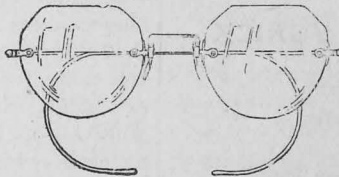

SEASON'S SMARTEST STYLES

Swenson and Berndt

The Shoe Men

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Good Meals and Refreshments

SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

SERVICE

We do dry cleaning every day. If you need the use of your suit immediately, take advantage of our "ONE DAY SERVICE."

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Spring Suits $22.50 to $35.00

MENOMONIE DYE HOUSE
Running & Cole

1930 Spring Suits

$19.20 - $27.00

Evens Tobin Co.

The Candy Shoppe

D. CHASE

F. WAGNER

I'll say they make the best "Malteds",
and have the good things to eat.

Candy - Homemade - Ice Cream

STOUT WINS LAST GAME

Stout All Star Coed Team Picked

Athletic Editor And Associate Editor Place Athletic Coeds

Jean Moe Selected As Captain Of First Team; Haggard Of Second

After much sifting it was decided that the faithful, quick, little guard, Jean Moe, should be captain. Jean always plays to win; she fought hard for her team and her good spirit rallied the other players to the winning goal.

As a jumping center, the choice Lucile Hebl and Clarysse Hebl in almost every case. This season, outjumped Ness, Hebl placed as center and Ness forward. Hebl was built to be a basketball player. The ball would come through the air, Hebl would catch it, in a twinkling of an eye the ball would be safely through the basket and another two points to the credit of the team.

Clarysse Ness is slightly shorter than Hebl, but is quick in action. Ness always leads her guards a "merry chase"; in fact she rather enjoys having the best guard on the opposing team for she likes to be able to get away from her guard a minute and score.

Alice Nelson was chosen as the other forward; she always seems to be inspired by some unknown force to do her best. She scored many points in the last season; her biggest difficulty lies in the fact that she is not very big.

Alice Ostrom is a splendid side center; she is always on the job to get the tip off and throw the ball to the forwardss who are in free position to make a basket.

Grace Quarters, is a quick, sure guard; her height is a winning advantage and helps much to hold up the honor of her team. The first team line-up of the ALL STAR TEAM therefore is as follows:

Captain and guard—Jean Moe
Side center—Alice Ostrom
Guard—Grace Quarters
Forwards—Clarysse Ness and Alice Nelson

Jumping center—LLucile Hebl
Since there were at least six other girls who deserved considerable credit we decided to put them on a second team. The line-up for this second team is as follows:

Captain and guard—Mildred Haggard
Guard—Frances Innenfelt
Side center—June Lockhart
Forwards—Henrietta Quilling and Ethel Anderson Jumping center—Velma Gutwasser.

—S—
It was at first feared that the girls' senior and town basketball teams were going to be chosen as first and second ALL STAR TEAMS.

1930 STOUT BASKETBALL TEAM

HERE IS THE FIRST PICTURE OF THIS YEAR'S BASKETBALL TEAM AND COACH BURBIDGE. From left to right: (standing) Coach Burbidge, Johnson, Burros, Paulus, O'Connell, Michaels. (seated) Hanson, Peterson, Shaude, Fordham, Haase.

"General Crack" Is Tower Benefit Movie

Hear ye! Hear ye! To all good people who enjoy a good show, here is a wonderful opportunity. "General Crack" is coming! The very fact that he is coming is sufficient reason for everyone to be anxious to see him, but the additional fact that he is to star in the Tower Benefit Movie should cause everyone in The Stout Institute to make it a point to do so. Sure enough, John Barrymore as "General Crack" will be at the Orpheum on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 13, 14, and 15. He will be supported by a very able cast among whose members are Lowell Sherman, Marian Nixon, Armida, Hobart Bosworth, Jacqueline Logan, and many others.

"General Crack" is historical fiction of some novelty dealing with a condition of former centuries when independent and unaffiliated armies sold their services to the highest bidder. General Crack sells his military tactics and following to the Emperor of Austria who has wars on his hands and wishes to possess the crown of the Holy Roman Empire.

While he is away at war, the emperor pays too much attention to Crack's bride, and he hears about it from a dishonored officer who spies. Revenge thereafter sets the motivation and—come see for yourself.

Tickets may be purchased for fifty cents each from any member of the Tower Staff.

Stoutonian Asks Aid In Attempt To Hold His River Falls Sis

Friendly Rivalry Caused by Stout Losses Brought to Light In Unique Letter

I am now in a position where I need the help of some person with more ability to answer sarcastic letters than myself. I would like to have some good Stout student answer a letter for me that I received from my sister at River Falls. The answer to this letter must be one that will razz both her and River Falls as they like to razz Stout.

The razzing that is given to my sister I will take the responsibility of because we do it in fun, but now she has gotten the better of me and help is needed at once. The razzing that River Falls gets will start a victorious feeling for us for the fall of 1930 when Stout is going to beat River Falls.

River Falls, Wisconsin Dear "defeated Menomonite,"

It's too bad, brother. I knew it would happen all the time, but I tried to keep it from you as long as I could. Don't feel quite so badly about it. Can't you just try to share some of our joy. I knew all the time that we would carry off both victories that night. Shakespeare says, "'Tis 'Deeds' must win the prize;" and how true it is. Bunyan says in his Pilgrimage that give you a bit of comfort.

(Continued on reverse side)

"S" Club Claims To Be Youngest Society

Although it is the youngest organization on the campus, the local "S" Club already shows signs of being one of the most influential factors in school spirit at Stout. The history of the letter club is rather short but interesting.

With the introduction of athletics at Stout a sort of honorary organization was formed but no active part was taken in school life. All men who won letters were eligible to the club and now form a part of the national alumni "S" club.

Mr. Paulus, former coach, was instrumental in organizing the alumni lettermen into a group. He saw the need of such a group and for the past two years there has been an annual meeting at Homecoming. The one big function of the national group was to help sponsor an annual athletic banquet at which high school athletes would be feted and shown around the school. Last fall several moves were made pertaining to the condition of athletics at Stout and certain committees were appointed to make a survey but as yet no definite program has been formulated. Willard Hanson is campus chairman of this organization.

Immediately following Homecoming last fall several students saw the need of a local club and organized the now active "S" Club. With the help of Coach Paulus this group at

(Continued on reverse side)

Stout Evens Old Score With Close Neighbor Rival

LARGE MOB SEE THE GAME

Eau Claire Starts Scoring But Is Soon Followed By The Stout Squad

Eight hundred rabid fans, including a lively delegation of 150 from Eau Claire, packed the Co. A armory tonight in what might have been a championship game from the enthusiasm shown.

Starting lineups:
Eau Claire: Scott, Carlson, Merrill, Neau, Sands. Stout: Haase, Fordham, Cvengros, Peterson, Buros.

Officials: Crosby and Nagel.

The Game
Eau Claire, starting without two of her regulars, Finn and Eggleston, opened the first minute of play for a two-point lead on a close-in shot by Scott, and missed two set-ups that Trainer guards allowed. Stout began slowly, but speeded up and missed several shots in the next two minutes.

The visitors increased their lead to four on a long shot by Merrill, and Stout called for a rest. The crowd was wild and Blue plays began to work. Haase rang one a moment later. After some real battling, Leon sank another for a 4-4 tie, each team having missed a free chance.

Stout's Plays Begin to Count
After five minutes, the Blues had proven a superiority in floor play, but several shots missed the mark. The visitors took a temporary lead on Lovey's foul, but Pete tied it up again after he was fouled on a fast come-in shot. Eau Claire needed the next rest, and substituted Glenz for Carlson.

Fordham missed a free chance, but Stike tipped one in. Pete fouled, but Stout kept a 7-6 lead and swelled two points when Leon dropped in a follow shot. Pete drove down the sideline for several tries, but couldn't connect. Stout was clearly superior, but over-anxious under the basket.

Fouls Get Serious
Eau Claire got two points on Buros' double foul, but Stike added a point and the locals held a 10-8 margin as the half ended. Only lack of basket luck kept Stout from securing a real lead in that period. The band was "playing a good game" too.

The second half opened with extremely cautious guarding by both teams. Lovey got two shots but missed. Swede fouled and Merrill made the point. Haase fouled but Glenz failed to make the point which would have tied the score.

Stout Gets Hot
Sands slipped in a side line shot, taking a lead for Eau Claire momentarily, but then Stout got mad, and with two valiant drives, Haase was fed the ball twice and dropped it in twice, making the score 14-11 for the home gang with 14 minutes left to fight in. Eau Claire took another time out at this point.

Pete missed one as the Blues ganged up under the hoop, so Scott traveled the side line and dropped one in. Sands added a point on Pete's foul and the score was locked again. The Trainers again missed three of four which should have landed, as the time dragged on.

Stout Takes Lead Again
Carlson went back in to replace Neau while Lovey made his third foul. The point was not made, however. Lovey made a free throw to break several minutes' tie.

(Continued on reverse side)

Eau Claire Game Ends Basketball Season

(Continued from other side)

On a beautiful play, Swede dropped in a set-up to give Stout a lead of 17-14. Sands fouled Swede and the latter sank another point, with five minutes left to play.

Pete Adds to Lead

Pete stole the ball, dribbled in and sank a perfect shot, making his mates feel comfortable with a score of 20 to 14, and only four minutes to go. Eau Claire again called for a rest as the game was as fast at this point as it could have been.

The Blues stalled for a minute, but Merrill broke it up and sank a close shot. Then Merrill fouled, but Buros couldn't land the free chance. Stout's stall was again broken up. Carlson fouled Pete and the point made the score 21 - 16. Pete was charging and Sands made the point. Then Swede fouled Scott and the free opportunity brot the score close, 21 19. But the whistle ended the finest game of the season at this point, and Stout ended a good exhibition of basketball.

S

We have evidence that Speed Kaiser talks in his sleep. The other day, while all was quiet in American Government class, Speed yelled, "Gerrymandering."

Sweet Young Thing: "Why are you running that steam roller thing over the field?"

Farmer: "I'm going to raise mashed potatoes this year."

This man was killed by a Boston bull. His name is Sammy Paint. The Boston dog was justified, Because poor Sam said "Ain't."

—Pitt Panther.

Black: "Fool! What am you hittin' yoh head with that hammer for?"

Blue: "'Cause mebbe it will swell up and keep this hat from falling down over my eyes."

"Are you the trained nurse mamma said was coming?"

"Yes, dear, I am the trained nurse."

"All right. Let's see you do some tricks."

Mother: "Why, Willie you shouldn't be afraid of the dark."

Willie: "Aw, Ma, I can't help it. It gets in my eyes and I can't see anything."

Kaiser: "Ida, give me about a foot more rope."

Ida: "I will give you more than that if you will hang yourself."

Stoutonian Asks Aid In Squelching Sister

(Continued from other side)

solat on? It was your own that deceived you. Still "Hope springs eternal in the human breast." You probably were justified in having hope that your school would bring home at least one victory. "Thus far our fortunes keep an upward course, and we are graced with wreaths of victory."

"Weep no more, weep no more, Thy sorrow is in vain; For violets plucked the sweetest showers

Will ne'er make grow again."

You probably wished that you could beat us, because "Wishes, at least are the pleasures of the poor." Remember, however, that "Pleasures are like poppies spread, You seize the flower, its bloom is shed;

Or like the snow fall in the river; A moment white, then melts forever."

—Burns.

You probably can find excuses for not carrying off those two victories but, "oftentimes excusing a fault grims Progress, "He that is Down needs fear no fall," and Butler says, "He that is down can fall no lower." doth make the fault worse by the excuse."

Then "Ring out wild Bells to the wild sky" (Tennyson) and tell of our victories.

Pope says, "A gentle dullness ever loves a joke," so I thought I would see if this quotation was true.

"Wit is the most rascally, contemptible, beggarly thing on the face of the earth; but if now and then it is struck smartly, it shows a spark." Have I struck it smartly? I hope there is a flame instead of a spark.

This is all for this time but my room-mate wants to add a few words.

So long,

Gladys.

Keep coming back and though R. F. should romp across your spine let each game's end find you still upon the battling line. And when the one Great Scare Day comes to mark against Stout's name will count not that you won or lost..... But how you played that game.

With sympathy,
Grace

ButBlt HOW you PLAYED THAT GAME. Please don't forget that the R. F. student body held their breath

"S" Club Claims To Be Youngest Society

(Continued from other side)

once began to get going. The first big undertaking was the raising of money to buy sweaters for all the lettermen in school, and with the help of the students this was entirely successful. With the coming of Coach Burbidge the club is assuming even bigger proportions. The CARNIVAL which is being put on this week is for the purpose of raising money to pay off debts ocured from the athletic banquets. It is planned to help running off of the high school meet which is to be held this spring.

until the final whistle that is just how afraid the that Stout was going to be vic

Here's a chance for the Fingers" to get a word at River Falls. Cheer up, Stout. Let's give them a reply through the Stoutonia in the next issue.

Signed
Sidney Eng '30.

EVERY BODY'S GOING TO THE CARNIVAL

*Jitney Dances, Games of Chance,
Side Shows, A Swimming
Meet and A Jazzy Band*

ALL FOR A NICKEL

SATURDAY, MARCH 8, 1930

Doors Open at 8:00

De Molay's Book Jack Wright's Band For Formal

Summer Session Plans Are Made; New Courses Given

Nine Week Session To Be Given
Again This Summer
Expenses Moderate

The Stout Summer Session Bulletin, which have recently been printed in the Stout Print Shop, are ready for distribution among the prospective summer school students. Information relative to enrollment, fees, living conditions, recreational facilities, etc. is contained in the bulletin.

The following are notations taken from the bulletin: The Twenty-fifth Annual Summer Session of The Stout Institute opens June 16, 1930, and closes August 14, 1930. During the summer session, which is a nine week term, classes are held five days a week, the week-ends affording opportunity to make use of the recreational facilities of Lake Menomonie, the Red Cedar River, and the vicinity of Menomonie.

To Be Nine Weeks Again
The nine week session with its opportunity for the completion of the equivalent of one-quarter of a year's work can be handled for a relatively slight increase in expense. The dates of the nine week session make possible enrollment without loss of time on the part of teachers in vocational schools where the school year runs late. The session closes early enough to allow a return for the earliest fall openings of the school year.

The nine week session was inaugurated primarily to meet the needs of teachers in the field. The rapid development of the requirement of degrees in teaching qualifications and the development of the certification plan of the Wisconsin State Board of Vocational Education, make the nine week session a very convenient means of increasing professional qualifications. (Continued on page three)

Spring Football Soon To Be Started; Golf Incorporated

Athletic Field Has Opened A Broader Scope To
Stout Students

With this spurge of warm weather and with that inevitable spring fever dominating the air, the call of spring football will soon echo over the campus. A formal call will be issued by Coach Burbidge soon.

Because of the condition of the Stout field, after being used as a skating rink, it will probably be two or three weeks before it is ready for action. There is a possibility, however, of having workouts in the gym before that time.

Golf To Be Started

Although no definite dates have been set, Coach Burbidge has announced that River Falls and Eau Claire have agreed to a golf match to be held this spring.

There are several good golfers on the campus so this should be a successful year for Stout.

Swimming May Start

There is also a possibility of swimming matches with Eau Claire and the Falls. It is up to these schools to accept the invitation which Stout has offered and more information will be forthcoming on this very soon. All men who are interested in competing in a swimming match should begin preparations now as the announcement may come at an early date.

With this program of sport being initiated, it begins to look as if the athletic program at Stout is to be extended. Interest is the vital factor which will decide the life of any new idea and the success will depend on the attitude of the students.

ART EXHIBIT BIG SUCCESS

The art exhibit in the Harvey Memorial has been very well attended both by students and people from town. Several groups have been taken there by Professors or club leaders.

Inspector Leaves Stout Well Pleased

Dr. W. E. Peik, assistant Professor of Elementary Education, University of Minnesota, who inspected Stout Institute for The North Central Association last Thursday, left here apparently well pleased with the situation as he found it. To President Nelson and Dean Bowman he indicated a very definite satisfaction.

When President Nelson put him aboard his train he had the feeling that if a decision as to the status of The Stout Institute in the North Central Association were left to Mr. Peik, the administration here would have nothing to worry about. That statement, however encouraging, must not be interpreted as an indication of favorable action by the North Central Association. There are many difficulties in the way of unqualified acceptance of the Stout Institute into full membership in The North Central Association of Colleges.

Rates High on Main Objects

On many matters the institution takes unusually high rank. No question is raised concerning the complete preparation of the product of the college for the work for which Stout graduates are training. The (Continued on page four)

"S" Club Carnival Enjoyed By Crowd Of Gay Revelers

Side Shows, Boxing Match, and Jitney Dances, Prove Popular;
Reese Wins Sweater

What an organization this "S" Club is turning out to be! Not satisfied with the glory of the field and court, they took to the stage and presented a follies show that was enough to stamp indelibly the name of the club as one of the most active on the campus. Then, on top of that they swing this Carnival last Saturday night in the gym. There was everything from pie-eating contests to canoe tilting, not to mention the dance and several other wrestling matches.

Side Shows and How!

Upon entering the gym, the individual was very obligingly relieved of four bits in return for which he received a string of tickets that reminded one of a railroad ticket to China. These tickets gave entry to all the side shows and activities.

In the canoe-tilting contest, the Childress-Bryant team proved superior to the Dietze-Cotton combination. This was due to the fact that Childress' big feet furnished better ballast for his canoe.

"Wop" Bielecki and "Now-You're" (Continued on page four)

Dusty Starts Season With Skating Trip

"Dusty" started spring season by skating twenty miles in two hours and fifty-five minutes.

Again the ever-adventurous "Dusty" has added to his ever-increasing number of achievements in the realm of the unusual. This time he accomplished the unprecedented feat of traveling from Menomonie to Eau Claire, a distance of twenty-four miles, a la roller skates. For quite some time he had contemplated this trip, but something had always barred him from trying it. However, the beautiful spring weather last Sunday served as sufficient inducement to cause him to set out. Jackie Curtis, the Curtis-House errand boy accompanied him. Jack's stated after the trip that he attributed his ability to keep up his endurance to the training he gets, running errands for the Curtis House fellows.

"Dusty" states that aside from a few worn bearings and flat wheels, his skates are in good condition. A good overhauling will make them as good as new.

Staff Repeats Feat Of Last Fall With Friday Game Extra

Has Special Edition on Street
Fourteen Minutes After Final Whistle

(By an Adviser)

The Stoutonia staff is patting itself on the back again this week for duplicating its Homecoming feat in publishing a sports extra which greeted the Stout-Eau Claire game almost before they had settled down for the after-game lunch at the city's several refreshment centers. To be exact, the full story of the victory over Stout's rivals was on the street 14 minutes after the final whistle of the game.

The extra contained two pages, one and one-half of which were solid reading matter, and the rest was an advertisement for the "S" club carnival. A running account of the game was relayed to the print shop by willing practice class students, so that the extra's forms were on the press within ten minutes of game time.

Staff Leaders Deserve Praise
This feat was mainly due to the organizing ability of Editor Ahonen, the rapid Linotype operating of Johnson, and the efficient press work of Cryderman. They were aided by Mr. Faville, who wrote the story at the game.

These new staff leaders believe that they bettered the Homecoming special's time a bit, as they ran two pages, involving a press turn and a cutting, and ran into an unforeseen handicap when the Industrial Education building's door was locked on the runner carrying the account of the last minutes of the game. They admit, however, that the closeness of the scene of the contest was an advantage, and the adviser believes that the two issues came out about as a tit, bringing great credit to both the first and second semester editors and their efficient aides.

Assembly Speaker Gives Philosophy

There are four essentials necessary for the realization of a complete life, according to Rev. A. E. Leonard, pastor of the First Congregational church of Eau Claire, Wisconsin, who was the speaker for the assembly program Thursday.

These essentials are: Vision, Courage, Concentration, and Perseverance. He says that there are many potential men in every man; which is to emerge he chooses for himself.

In his discussion of Vision, Rev. Leonard brought out the increasing prominence of womankind. His example of this was the discovery of a kind of sheep in the Himalaya mountains, with longer and stronger legs and that could travel at a speed of 40 miles an hour. "Takes that kind of lamb to keep up with Mary nowadays." In further discussing Vision he believes that unless you do have Vision, stagnation is inevitable for you.

The second great essential, Courage, (Continued on page four)

CALENDAR

Monday

Scientific Club ..... 5:00 o'clock
Stoutonia Staff ..... 5:00 o'clock
Women's Glee Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Men's Glee Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Tower Staff ..... 7:00 o'clock

Tuesday

Band ..... 7:00 o'clock
Philos ..... 5:00 o'clock

Wednesday

Rifle Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Metallurgy Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Lutheran Students ..... 7:00 o'clock
Y. W. C. A. ..... 5:00 o'clock

Thursday

Orchestra ..... 7:00 o'clock
Arene ..... 7:30 o'clock
Faculty-Y. M. C. A. ..... 7:30 o'clock
Hyperions ..... 5:00 o'clock

Prexy On Diplomat Training Committee

In a recent issue of the Stoutonia it was announced that President Burton E. Nelson was nominated as a candidate for membership to the Horace Mann League. During the convention at Atlantic City recently, President Nelson was accepted as a member of this exclusive organization.

At the present time, there is a new movement which is being sponsored by the Horace Mann League. The nation trains military and naval leaders but up to the present time no effort has been made to train men who are to take care of our commercial and official interests abroad. President Nelson has been notified that he has been appointed to act on a committee which is to submit a plan for training these young men. These young men would be given four, five or six years to live in some foreign country in which they are interested. This would give them a chance to study the life of the people, learn the language, history, and achievements and anything of the life of the people among which they are to go. The committee's plans are to be presented at the next annual meeting of the Horace Mann League.

Misses Walsh, Price, And Ganz, attended Regional Convention

Several Stout Institute Co-eds
Are Also Present At
The Meeting

Last week, Miss Walsh, Miss Price, and Miss Ganz attended the Regional Conference sponsored by the Federal Board of Vocational Education, which was held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago.

The meetings were conducted by Miss Adelaide Baylor, Chief of Home Economics of the Federal Board who lectured here last summer, and by Miss Florence Falgatter, Regional Supervisor for the middle west.

Experiences Are Shared

The purpose of this meeting was to share experiences and set up standards for the work in vocational Home Economics. On Monday, March 3, time was spent in committee work. The remainder of the week was devoted to talks and lectures as well as to discussion groups.

Those who attended the conference were resident Home Economics Education staffs, state supervisors and itinerant teacher trainers. Three Stout graduate who are in this type of work in Wisconsin attended the conference. There were Miss Reka Lemke of West Allis, Miss Elizabeth (Continued on page three)

South Sea Cruise Topic of Lyceum

Monday evening's Lyceum course was well attended in spite of the fact that it was poorly advertised. The booking office with which the lecturer was affiliated has changed hands recently and during the rush was unable to send advertising literature.

Those who attended the lecture were entertained by Mr. Howard H. Cleaves, noted naturalist and photographer. For many years he has been engaged in wild life photography. Recently he returned from a seven months scientific cruise to the South Sea Islands with the Pinchot expedition.

The first part of the program consisted of slides, many of which were colored. The last half was given to moving pictures taken by Mr. Cleaves himself. During the showing of both the slides and the movies Mr. Cleaves gave a descriptive talk which of course, included many details not shown in the pictures. The audience was given a chance to ask questions. Under cover of darkness some were brave enough to give the lecturer a chance to enlighten them.

Judging by the responses of the audience, this was one of the most appreciated numbers of the Lyceum course.

Plans For Formal Now Complete; Boys Wait For End Of Next Week

RADIO ARTIST TO SOLO

Invitation Sent To All Male
Students Of Stout; Good
Time Assured

The famous Jack Wright Band has been secured for the De Molay Formal to be given next week. Preparations for the biggest affair of the year are now complete and waiting for the latter part of next week so that the boys can put them into execution.

Doors Open at 8:15

"In the spring of the year a young man's fancy lightly (?) turns to thoughts of.....", and the De Molay Formal. Papa time has decreed that spring officially opens on March 21; Fater Stout has announced that the De Molay Formal opens at 8:15 P. M. on March 22. They are allied closely. By this time you should have a hazy idea that the long-looked for De Molay Formal is just beyond last night's horizon," say De Molays.

Music, the universal language, will be taught by Jack Wright and His Ohioans, who have just returned from Denver, Colorado. This ten piece band is made up purely of Ohio Musicians, featuring "Skinny Ryan", the Song-bird of Joyland, who is considered as one of the best in the Eastern States. Jack Wright is known from coast to coast as one of the greatest drummers, leaders, and entertainers in the dance game. He has been heard over the radio by many dance fans, and his name has become popular with the lovers of good dance music. This orchestra is the only one which has succeeded in developing the brass quintette, backed up with a harmonious quintette of voices. The ensemble of this orchestra has remained intact for over five years.

(Continued on page three)

Blue Devils To Meet Red Birds Tonight In City Title Mix

Post-Season Contest to be Real Fight For Supremacy;
Is Scout Benefit

The Stout basketballers haven't enough yet. Therefore, going under the name of "The Blue Devils", they have consented to a post-season game to be played at the city armory tonight against the Menomonie Red Birds, official basketball representatives of the city.

That this will be a real contest is guaranteed by the closeness of similar extra-curricular matches in the past. The two teams have always maintained a friendly rivalry, which is enhanced this year because of the presence of several Stout students on the city team. Both squads have had a moderately successful season.

Blues About as Usual

Altho there is nothing formal about Stout's participation in this contest, the fact remains that the regular varsity players will try to add the city championship to their recent laurels, even tho they are not representing the college officially.

On the Red Birds are such well known players as Schwartz, Rude, Kube, Rassbach, Eich, Taylor, and Schabecker. Townspeople are keenly interested in seeing how their representatives are going to stack up against what they admit to be an unusually good Stout team. Students should find this game of equal interest to many of the league contests. A full house at this exhibition is assured, and it is in a good cause, for the proceeds go to the Boy Scouts, who will stage a preliminary at 7:15.

A PRE-FORMAL DANCE

The De Molay Club is giving a pre-formal dance tonight. The student body is invited. The small admission of twenty-five cents per couple will be asked.

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                               |                       |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Managing Editor               | E. V. Ahonen          |
| Associate Editor              | Henrietta L. Quilling |
| News Editor                   | Chester Mau           |
| Assistant News Editor         | Belinda Hendrickson   |
| Feature Editor                | Bernard Hagitt        |
| Assistant Feature Editor      | Vivian Henshaw        |
| Feature Editor                | William Soucie        |
| Feature Editor                | Kent Riggs            |
| Humor Editor                  | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Sports Editor                 | Carl Roll             |
| Exchange Editor               | Georgia Aber          |
| Organization Editor           | William Micheels      |
| Organization Editor           | Albert Gilles         |
| Cartoonist                    | Anita Gundlach        |
| Staff Photographer            | Nicholas Marsilio     |
| Business Manager              | Kathleen Lind         |
| Circulation Manager           | R. A. Jakoubek        |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Earl C. Halverson     |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Robert G. Reick       |
| Advertising Manager           | Byron Canatsey        |
| Advertising Manager           | Marlo McCullough      |
| Intertype Operator            | Floyd C. Larson       |
| Foreman Mechanical Department | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Under Direction of            | Kent Riggs            |
| Editorial Adviser             | Mr. C. W. Hague       |
| Associate Adviser             | Mr. John Faville, Jr. |
|                               | Miss Helen Sarchet    |

ACTION! ACTION!

"Why can't we have Girls' Club Rooms?" That is the question in the mind and on the tongue of every girl in school. Until a decision is made in their favor, the lack of such rooms will be the excuse for many things. The library is not a place to congregate for pleasure, so where else is there for them to go but out on the street or over to some restaurant? If there were a suitable and appealing place close at hand, every girl would be more than satisfied to use it. There is no doubt that if the project were once sanctioned, the girls would lose no time in taking advantage of their opportunity.

—A Home Ec. Student.

ORATORICAL CLUB

In the last few weeks P. Casper Harvey has written several letters to the STOUTONIA in regard to the Sixth National Inter-collegiate Oratorical Contest. These letters have been, for the most part, invitations to enter the contest.

Stout has not taken an active part in oratorical work for a number of years, mainly because there has been no organization to sponsor it. The publicity value to the school of a debate team is great. The personal value of this type of work is unlimited, so why not organize one?

It is too late now to think of entering the contest, but it is not too early to start plans for next year's work.

Dean Price and Professor Faville are willing to help organize and coach an oratorical or debate team. Why not organize a club, students? With such talent to help out, we can't afford to let the opportunity slip.

FORMALS

When the word Formal is mentioned it often brings a word of dissention from some students. They are of no value they claim. Fortunately that group is small, but a few words in an attempt to bring out the value of these affairs may not be amiss at this time.

We are all going into a field of activity where formality at times, at least, dominates. We will be expected to take part in the social functions of the community where we will be doing our work. These social functions will often take the form of formal dances or dinners.

What could be more embarrassing than to go to one of these affairs with little or no knowledge on how to act. Our lives are controlled by conventions and customs, and our worth is oftentimes weighed by our actions.

Now is the time for us to get accustomed and habituated to the ways in which these functions are carried on. We should take advantage of the opportunities offered by the De Molays and the junior class.

PRESS AND SCHOOL

The educational value of the daily newspaper is beyond calculation. The newspaper is built into the daily lives of millions of people. It supplies the raw materials of thought and action with clocklike regularity and with a speed of manufacture that is one of the marvels of modern times. It makes the whole world one and helps to raise the standard of living by encouraging people to dress well, to live in better homes, to eat a more wholesome variety of food, to let their interests go out to a wider range of affairs. Newspapers have been made possible by universal education and as the schools improve, the press will likewise grow better. Newspapers have made a most significant gain by refusing to play up scandals as extensively as formerly. Press associations and newspaper syndicates are giving more attention to education, health, science, politics, and geography. What eyes are to the individual, the newspaper is to society. They also teach who follow the reporter's beat, who write against time in editorial offices, who know not sleep, nor distance, nor fear, nor fatigue in their heroic search for news. To this faithful army of newswriting men and women the great English author Bury might well have dedicated his "History of the Freedom of Thought", for the American newspaper with its annual distribution of twenty billion copies makes thought more clearly free than ever before.—Editorial by Joy Elmer Morgan, Editor, Journal of NEA. March, 1930.

Let's Laugh

Now that we have had a Tacky Drag and a Carnival, we should have a Collegiate Dance. To such a dance the girls would wear sport clothes, and the boys would wear knickers or sweaters with bright colored shirts and ties.

Lind would like to have some one write an instruction sheet on "how to call for a girl at a dormitory."

The Argument

The Lady: "Count yourself again, big boy, you ain't so many."
The Gent: "Stick a thermometer in your lips, baby, you ain't so hot."

The Electrical II class tasted a day's work by wiring the practice woodwork shop in the I. A. building Saturday. Jim Doyle had a good time, and Roswell became so hungry that he took a bite of his thumb.

Dates for Daters

You: "Are you going to the prom?"
Her: "Why—of course."
You: "I always said you'd get to the prom some day."

Here's Another Type

You: "Would you like to go to the prom?"
Her: "I am going—"
You: "I didn't ask you that!"

Try This

You: "Will you go to the prom with me?"
Her: "Sorry, I'm going with Bill."
You: "Goody! Now I can ask Mary."

Just

Frosh: "My girl just lost her job."
Soph: "Where did she work?"
Frosh: "Five and ten store."
Soph: "How'd she lose her job?"
Frosh: "She couldn't remember the prices of the articles."

Famous Personal of the Freshman Class

The old Soldier—Harrison.
The Last of the Mohicans—Branshaw.

Jack Harmon (after a book had fallen on the floor): "You dropped your watch."
Poky Gilbertson: "Did the crystal break?"

Mr. Brown: "Could women be dentists?"
Speed Kaiser: "No, they are not rough enough."

When better mustaches are grown, Guelson will raise them.

Statement: Swelled cans are the sign of spoiled goods.
Mr. Nelson: "I'll have to remember that; isn't that true also of men?"

Have you seen Marsh Millar's hot Kar? The white painted body and black fenders remind one of a milk wagon.

Here's a Snappy Comeback
Saleman: "Yes, sir. That's the smartest hat we've got."
Quick wit: "It doesn't have to be smart. I'll put the brains in it myself."

Most of the girls have impromptu complexions. They make them up as they go along.

"After college, what?" thundered the chapel speaker.
"Vacation," chorused the collegiates.

Just because the girls laugh at your remarks is no sign you are witty. Perhaps they have pretty teeth.

A wedding is a funeral where you smell your own flowers.

Good looking girls will be popular again this spring.

He: "May I have the pleasure of this dance?"
She: "Sure sit down."

A common saying: "I've lived, I've loved, I'm satisfied."
College version: "I've lived, I've loved."

"How come the umbrella, Brainless, when there's not a sign of rain?"
"Because, Knothead, I'm under a weeping willow tree!"

One thing nice about short skirts is that they don't get baggy at the knees.

ANVIL SPARKS

from Aries

Some people are tone-deaf in music, and others are tone-deaf in delicate social relationships.

Among repressed and unhappy people, it pays to look at least twice at the person who comes saying, "Now don't mention me, but for your own good I'm telling you....."

To quote a part of a statement, or a statement removed from its true background, is like carrying a steeple far from its church and then saying to the new audience, "Behold the church I have carried to you!"

Alumni

Notice to Stout Alumni

It is the custom of the majority of school papers to have an "Alumni Column" in which the students of the school may learn the experiences of its former students who are out in their professional field.

To accomplish this, the Stoutonia staff is asking the cooperation of the former students to make the "Alumni Column" one of the feature attractions of our school paper.

We are all anxious to know of the whereabouts of our former classmates with whom we have spent our years of college life together. If you still have a warm spot in your heart for your "Alma Mater", show it, by writing to this column.

Let us make this column a medium by which the alumni of our school will look forward to each week with interest and the feeling of "wanting to know" what their former fellow students are doing.

To start this column in the right spirit we wish to acknowledge a letter from Elizabeth Williams, a member of the Stoutonia staff during the first semester of this year, and who is now teaching at Detroit, Michigan.

Mildred Belinda, Alma Winzer and Beulah Todd, who are mid-semester graduates, are living in the same apartment with Elizabeth Williams, which makes it very easy for them to "get together" as a Stout group.

P. S. "Lefty" Hanson is getting along fine.

From the "Sunny South" of Georgia, we received glad tidings from Thomas Jungck and Horace Heiden, who are both instructors of printing at Atlanta, Georgia.

Both are very well pleased with their positions and show very creditable work in their school paper. Horace Heiden has just completed the publication of the Hoke Junior High School Handbook, which was very attractively done.

Thomas Jungck accepted his teaching position during the mid-semester, while Horace Heiden is a graduate of 1923.

Mr. Hague, our printing instructor, received a letter from Al. Poellinger, who has accepted a teaching position at Neenah High School, Neenah, Wis., during the mid-semester.

He is very well pleased with his position which includes classes in drafting, elementary and advanced printing and show card writing.

Mr. Poellinger is also co-advisor on the school paper and the school annual, which is to be a one hundred page book. Good luck to you, Mr. Poellinger!

To the students still attending Stout, Mr. Poellinger will be remembered as "Heinie"—that reminds me that he promised to write one of his famous "Heinie's Letters to Maw" soon. We will be waiting for it.

Carl F. Gernetzky, a graduate of the class of 1925, is now teaching printing in the Thomas Jefferson high school of Council Bluffs, Iowa. The school paper, "The Signal", of which he is in charge, shows a good piece of work and would be a credit to any high school.

Perhaps most of the students will remember him as a cheerleader during the years that he attended Stout.

Students of the class of 1929 will remember "Tom" Olson, our lanky center of the basketball team, who is now teaching printing at the Chippewa Falls high school. Mr. Olson is also in charge of the school paper, in which he takes much pride.

"The Arrow", the school publication of the Eastern Junior High School, Pontiac, Michigan, is under the supervision of Gilbert Schoenoff, a graduate of Stout Institute.

The paper is edited by the Arrow Editors Club every month, while the

Here'n There

The second annual "R" club formal was held at River Falls State Teachers college Saturday evening, March 8th. The gymnasium was decorated in athletic style and a high class orchestra was secured from Red Wing. All letter men were invited, and all men that have been on the athletic squads were invited.

—The Student Voice.

River Falls set aside Monday afternoon as Victory Day, in celebration of the basketball championship won by the River Falls State Teachers College.

In the afternoon a mass meeting was held which was followed by a parade to help show the town that the students are happy. In the evening a big victory dance was held to put a grand finale to the celebration.

—The Student Voice.

Superior State Teachers College debate team has won its ninth victory in debate during this season. Prof. Vitz said that of the eleven debates scheduled for this year, Superior has won nine so far, but must complete a total of 13 before the college will be in a position to lay claim to the state championship.

—The Peptomist.

The seniors of the Superior State Teachers college presented their annual class play on Thursday, Feb. 27, in the college auditorium. The selection this year was a comedy by J. Hartley Manners, entitled "Peg O' My Heart". The seniors gave a very excellent performance of this famous melodrama.

—The Peptomist.

Twenty-seven Marquette university students have come from foreign countries to seek their education, and an organization of the foreign students is under consideration.

The lands represented are Canada, China, India, Palestine, Philippine Islands and Poland. Canada leads with 20 students enrolled at Marquette.

Domestic students registered at Marquette come from 32 states and a district.

—Marquette Tribune.

That the student body of Hamline University is in favor of a progressive program of disarmament as a means of maintaining world peace is shown by a petition sent to Herbert Hoover, president of the United States. A copy of the letter was mailed to Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state, at London, where he is a delegate to the Naval Conference.

—The Hamline Oracle.

For the first time in the history of Saint Mary's College, checkers has been introduced into the intramural program. That checkers is a very popular sport is evidenced by the large entry list and by the co-operation the players showed in playing off their matches on schedule.

—The Nexus.

Our Private Vodvil

Listen, my students, and you shall hear,
Of the De Molay Formal that is soon to appear.
On March twenty-second, at the Stout Gym,
There's going to be fun for you and your "Bim."

This night is to be the night of all night;
Ten men will be playing—the band is Jack Wright's.
This band has a man who's the best in the land,
He's played with George Olson; his name's "Skinny" Ryan.

Now that you're ready, and all set to go,
We'll all be merry as we go to and fro,
But all those who haven't planned to go
Will miss the time of times—"AIN'T SO?"

composition and printing is done under the supervision of Gilbert Schoenoff, by the printing classes of the Junior High School.

publication that was sent to the Stoutonia during the last week, is the monthly magazine published each month of the school year by and for the students of the Ottawa Hills High School of Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Mr. Harry Buboltz, who is the faculty advisor for this wonderful magazine, is a graduate of Stout Institute. Publications of this kind are a credit to Stout and especially to Mr. Harry Buboltz, who is in charge of this school paper, the "Ottawanian."

Organizations

HEAR YE! HEAR YE!

Spring is here, and we would like to get spring sports started so we hereby do send a challenge to any organization or pick-up kittenball team on the campus, to a game of said ball in the near future. Time and place will be left to the one accepting.

If interested, notify me at once. Your's for a bigger and better season, Gilles.

A donation amounting to $6.00 has been given by the Y. M. C. A. to Miss Wangen for use at the Infirmary. This money is to be used to buy books, magazines, games or other entertainment for patients while they are ill. So hereafter, the idea of being committed to the Infirmary may be very pleasurable to all of the invalids.

With the beginning of the six weeks period, Gertrude Hanson, Mercedes Cranston, Josephine Edinger, Helen Costello, and Georgia Aber are assuming the duties at the Practice House. The girls who have just completed their practice at the cottage are Ruth Schultz, Marjory Funk, Mary Green, Ardella Anderson, and Evelyn Borchert.

—S—

New Books Available In Stout Library

New books received by the Stout Institute Library include the following:

Psychology and Sociology

Why Men Fail, edited by Fishbein and White.
American Marriage and Family relationships, by Groves and Ogburn.
Problems of Social Well-being, by J. H. S. Bossard.
Outlines of Introductory Sociology, by C. M. Case.
Theory of the Labor Movement, by Selig Perlman.
Human Nature and Management, by Ordway Tead.
Readings in American Government, by F. G. Crawford.
Biennial Report of the Wisconsin State Board of Control, 1928.
Annals of the American Academy
Anti-trust Laws of the United States.
Police and the Crime Problem.
Law and Social Welfare.
India.

Education

Proceedings of the American Vocational Association, 1928.
Development of Primary and Secondary Public Education in Michigan, by Daniel Putnam.
The Auditorium as a Center for Character Education, compiled by M. I. Rasey.
Development of Character through Community Problem Solving, prepared by Rasey and Schaal.
Annual Report of the Society for the Scientific Study of Character.

Art

Old World Decorative Designs, by P. J. Lemos.
Oriental Decorative Designs, by P. J. Lemos.
Interior Decoration, by Ross Crane.
The Making of Soft Toys, by C. E. Edlmann.
Art for Amateurs and Students, by G. J. Cox.
Old Parish Churches of Virginia, by F. M. Wigmore.

Home Economics

Food Purchasing for the Home, by Blinks and Moore.
Dressmaking Made Easy, by L. I. Baldt.
Textile Fibers, Yarns, and Fabrics, by H. A. Bray.
Agriculture and Building
Architecture, Carpentry, and Building. 5 volumes, published by American Technical Society.
Standard Construction Methods, by G. Underwood.
Concrete Work, by International Correspondence Schools.
Carpentry and Joinery, by W. S. Lowndes.

Miscellaneous

101 Metal-Working Projects, by L. C. Petersen.
Economics of Retiling, by P. H. Nyström. 3rd edition, revised and enlarged.

Science

Electron Physics, by J. B. Hoag.
Story of Evolution, by B. C. Grunberg.
Microbiology, by B. F. Lutman.
Diseases Transmitted from Animals to Man, by T. G. Hull.
Selected Readings in Pathology, by E. R. Long.
Textbook of General Botany, by Smith and others.

Nutrition and Health

Mechanics of the Digestive Tract, by W. C. Alvarez.
Growth, by Robbins and others.
Work of the Digestive Glands, by I. P. Pavlov.
Health Habits, by Newmayer and

New Courses Given In Summer Session

(Continued from page one)

tions at a faster rate than would otherwise be possible.

Recreation Features Are Many

Menomone is a very comfortable and attractive location in the summer, being surrounded by several bodies of water which provide ample boating and bathing facilities. Boats and canoes are for rent at reasonable rates, and students may make very enjoyable trips during their stay in the city. Week-end outings are frequently made up the Red Cedar River to Cedar Falls. An excellent golf course is made available to summer students upon payment of the usual green fees, or there is a special summer session membership.

Membership in the Stout Rifle Club will also be open to all students during the summer session. Mr. Earl Burbidge, director of physical education for men, and Miss Hilde Balerude, director of physical education for women, will make definite instructional assistance available in the recreational plans. The Stout swimming pool will be available during the 1930 session for use in connection with definite instruction in swimming and diving, and also at certain periods for recreational use.

Camping Facilities Completed

The Stout Institute authorities have arrangements with owners of cottages and lake shore camp sites to accommodate students with rooming places for the summer. The cottages will accommodate from two to eight people. A number of these cottages are furnished and have electric lights.

In addition to the foregoing arrangements, The Stout Institute has acquired the control of an attractive summer camp colony site which is conveniently located within walking distance of the school. A large well lighted study porch has been built for studying purposes.

Courses Adapted to Variety of Needs

Summer session classes are designed to meet the needs of various groups of people. There are courses in the several divisions of Home Economics meeting the requirements of the various groups in Home Economics work. There are courses in Industrial Education for the groups in that field, and there are courses in the divisions of English, Science, Social Studies, and Education which are in many cases open to students in either the Home Economics or Industrial Education groups or to summer session students in special groups.

The summer session at The Stout Institute offers an excellent breadth of choice. Modern instructional interpretations, current educational trends, and the newer definitions of teacher requirements are recognized in the selection and arrangement of the summer session opportunities.

Fees and Expenses Moderate

Non-residents of Wisconsin are required to pay a tuition of $31.00, one-fourth of the annual non-resident tuition for the regular session. Lynwood Hall will be reserved for the summer session for married men and their wives at $21.00 per person for nine weeks. Two persons in each room. A library fee of $2.00 and a college activity fee of $2.00 will be charged to all members of the summer session.

New Courses Are Offered

To meet the growing requirements upon Industrial Arts teachers for instruction in the various phases of Aeronautics, arrangements have been completed with Mr. O. I. Rhein to offer a course in Aeronautics during the 1930 summer session. A first course is designed to assist industrial teachers in meeting the initial responsibilities assigned to them in connection with the opening of work in aeronautics.

The units of work will be offered in model building, involving construction and related studies appropriate for junior high school pupils. Units of work will be offered with emphasis appropriate for senior high school work in airplane mechanics. The emphasis in the course will be the furnishing and assistance to industrial teachers in the introduction of aeronautics work.

Broome.

Ultraviolet Light and Vitamin D in Nutrition, by Blunt and Cowan.
Eat and Be Happy, by Josiah Oldfield.

Personals

LYNWOOD HALL

Vivian Florin visited in Eau Claire Saturday and Sunday.

The Lynwood girls enjoyed their serenade on Friday night. However, Irma Gilbertson thought that the group wasn't large enough to afford someone to carry their tune for them.

Edna Eichorst, Lucille Schultz, and Virginia Schlumpf spent the week end at Virginia's home in Durand.

The plant purchased by Minnie Chronquist and Anna Westman disappeared Saturday evening and was later found in Dr. Bachman's room. It was believed that the excess carbon dioxide given off would be too much for the girls.

Mrs. Alfred Smitke visited her sister, Marie Simonson, over the week end.

Alta Hanson, who attends Eau Claire Normal, was the guest of Irene Meyer.

Eleanor Vergin spent the week end at home.

TAINTER ANNEX

Miss Winifred Cooper spent the week end at her home in Colfax.

Miss Elaine Christensen was the guest of Miss Pauline Bonesha Saturday and Sunday.

Wednesday evening the Annex entertained Mr. Dog. He seemed to enjoy the living room until the pre-emptress put him out.

Miss Lorraine Litchfield had as her guest for the week end Miss Margaret Struck, of Eau Claire.

A sure sign of Spring: Sunday night was a big date night at the old homestead.

Things have been pretty quiet since Miss Georgia Aber and Josephine Edinger left for Homemakers.

Miss Edith Riter's sister from Madison spent the week end here.

Various parts of the cat have been used for decoration lately.

Miss Levermine Graslie, a sister of Miss Katherine Graslie, spent Wednesday in the city.

Another sign of Spring: The Annex was serenaded Friday evening. Come again!

TAINTER HALL

Mrs. Lloyd Mandlert and her son Joseph of Chippewa Falls were guests of Edna Mathews on Friday.

Frances Schroeder returned to the Hall on Friday night, after spending the past week at her home in Two Rivers, Wis.

Margaret Casey was called to her home in Bloomington, Wis., on Saturday.

ST. PATRICKS PARTY GOODS AT A. R. OLSON

Look for the Sign
"It Pays To Look Well"
For SERVICE and SANITATION
It is worth your time
I. W. NESSER, the Barber

HAVE YOU TRIED OUR

Toasted Chicken Sandwiches WITH LETTUCE AND SALAD DRESSING

THEY ARE DELICIOUS!

THE OLYMPIA

De Molay Formal Plans Completed

(Continued from page one)

"Skippy" Ryan To Sing

During the intermission the orchestra will put on a novelty number. It is an opportunity that comes but very seldom.

The decorations which will form the background for the Formal are going to be well planned, an carried out by the school artist, Jakoubek. They will be of colonial design.

A large crowd is expected, because invitations have been sent to nearly every man on the campus. If it so happens that you have been missed, and would like to attend, see "Red" Fraser, "Mel" Reese, or "Mac" Morrison.

The school rule is that all outside guests to Stout social functions be furnished with a guest slip. The club asks that everyone expecting such guests please take care of this little matter at once so that difficulties may be avoided later on. They sincerely hope that the student body will turn out en masse for the occasion.

urday, but she expects to return the latter part of this week.

Gertrude Hanson left with bag and baggage on Saturday for Homemakers cottage, where she will spend the next six weeks.

The Novel course is having quite an effect on Mary Hryz, for after reading the murder scene in Cooper's "Deer Slayer" she was afraid to go to bed alone.

"Barney" Hagen, who visited his parents in Decorah, Iowa, over the week-end became very ill on his way back to Menomone. He was taken to the Stout Infirmary due to the overcrowded condition in the city hospital.

"Your hair needs cutting badly sir," said the barber.

"No, it doesn't," reported the student; "it needs to be cut nicely. You cut it badly last time."

ORPHEUM

Tonight (Fri.) and Sat.
John Barrymore in
"GENERAL CRACK"
Benefit Stout Tower

Sun., Mon., Tues.
MORAN and MACK in
"WHY BRING THAT UP"
Also News. Mat. Sun. 2:30

Wednesday
NIGHT PARADE
with Hugh Trevor, Alleen Pringle, and Dorothy Gulliver
Also Short Subjects
— Merchants' Night —

Thurs., Fri., Sat.
WINNIE LIGHTNER and Chester Morris in
"SHE COULDN'T SAY NO"
Also Short Subjects

GRAND

"MISSISSIPPI GAMBLER"
With a Good Cast
Also Comedy and News
Mat. Sun. 3:00

THE SHAKER STUDIOS

ARE ALWAYS GLAD TO SERVE YOU

Let us Develop your Kodak Films

SEE OUR SELECTION

— of —
MILE STONES'
"A FIVE YEAR DIARY"
LEE'S DRUG STORE

LADIES'
CUSTOM JEWELRY
FOR SPRING
In All Colors
NELS ANSHUS

Stepping out with a new pair of
Nunn-Bush
Ankle-Fashioned Oxfords

New suit, new hat, new collar, new neck-tie, new shirt, and — a new pair of good looking Nunn-Bush ankle-fashioned oxfords — all in complete harmony — that's the way the well dressed man steps out when seasons change.

Come, look over the new styles.

GRAVEN
and
WILCOX

Conference Season Over; Stout Finishes In Upper Bracket

Ends Year with Creditable Rank; Varsity and "B" Squad Players Praised

The Stout Institute basketball team completed, with its victory over Eau Claire last Friday evening, a season which shows eight victories, including all college games and two forfeits from Superior, and five defeats. In the state conference, this record puts Stout in the upper bracket for the first time in four years.

Conference Standings

|               | W. | L. | Pct.  |
|---------------|----|----|-------|
| River Falls   | 8  | 0  | 1.000 |
| Platteville   | 5  | 3  | .625  |
| Whitewater    | 5  | 3  | .625  |
| La Crosse     | 5  | 4  | .555  |
| STOUT         | 5  | 5  | .500  |
| Eau Claire    | 4  | 4  | .500  |
| Milwaukee     | 4  | 4  | .500  |
| Stevens Point | 4  | 5  | .445  |
| Oshkosh       | 2  | 6  | .250  |
| Superior      | 0  | 8  | .000  |

Acknowledging the supremacy of the squad which represented Superior, Stout still has a creditable record of six victories and seven defeats in a hard season in which Stout played more conference games than any other conference college. River Falls gained undisputed title by virtue of her final victory over Superior, but Stout gave the Falls her hardest game—and that on the Falls court, when the Blues lost by a single point after clearly demonstrating a supremacy in play.

Season Finish is Great
The Trainers began to look like a ball team, and The Stoutonia predicted a creditable season, before the season opened. In one of the first starts, former Coach Paulus remarked, "That's the best game I have seen a Stout team play." The fact that only one of last season's regulars was in the starting lineup regularly this year, shows how beautifully the team developed from its early promise. That only one of this year's regulars will not be available next year indicates the future possibilities of this squad.

Buck Schaudé, Art Peterson, and possibly Lefty Hanson and Lu Paulus, will not be available next season, by reason either of graduation, the three-year rule, or the demand for Stout students in the teaching profession. But Stike Cvengros has another season, and Burros, Haase, Johnson, Fordham, and Hoernamann of the squad which finished the season, each has two more years. Three of the last named, it will be noted, came to the varsity from last year's "B" squad: Swede, Leon, and Fred.

New Psychology Helped
As was the case when Coach Paulus came three years ago, and as was probably the case way back when Coach Miller replaced his predecessor, the new spirit brought to the local camp by Coach Earl Burbridge instilled a new psychological attitude in the Trainer squad which was noticeable to all observers—and especially to the former coaches themselves. Coach Burbridge concentrated on a few fast plays and a stabilized lineup, and showed results which have already won for him the confidence of Stout, and the fear of the rest of the conference.

The team has Eau Claire to thank for Art Peterson, who proved himself a most valuable asset all season. He looked good at the start, and the slowed up for a time by a sprained ankle, looked still better at the end of the season. To his former schoolmates, he showed his heels plenty, showing a beautiful consistent and efficient fight all the way in the victory over Eau Claire.

Forwards Are Surprise Pair
The most startling of the season's features was the development shown by the forwards, Fordham and Haase. Both showed possibilities last season with the yearling crew (called "crew" ever since that Mississippi crossing) but no one was prepared for the remarkable improvement which began as the season opened, and which is still continuing. Leon caught his basket eye, and dropped points into the Stout score book regularly, and Swede proved himself to be a first class floor man and feeder for Leon, while netting his share of points also. Another man who trained with the "B's" last winter was Fred Johnson. He was always next in line to the five regulars, stalwart on defense, and a

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonee Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

Coed Mermaids Outline Program For Season

Having bidden basketball farewell, Stout is greeted with the annual girls' swimming meet which is to be held March 20 at 7:30 in the natatorium.

The heads of the teams have been selected, and the swimmers have been busy perfecting their strokes, improving their dives, and developing their wind. The head of the freshman team is Dorothy Madden; of the sophomores, Alice Ostram; of the junior, Frances Inenfeldt; and of the senior, Adele Lancton.

Four girls constitute a team. Besides class events there will be a relay race between the Town, Lynwood, and the Annex.

Coeds Get Break; Bowling Alleys Open

Permission has been granted to open the bowling alleys for women two night a week, from 7:30 to 9 provided they show enough interest to justify the pin-setters and the manager for putting in their time.

sure basket shot from the sidelines. Stike Cvengros was not eligible, because of being out of school, until the second semester. That he was a big addition to the team is proved by the two River Falls games. His work under the basket was consistent, and his defensive work an addition to Stout's efficiency in every encounter.

Freshman Member a Comer
Lovey Burros, the one squad member who registers as a frosh, has a brilliant athletic future ahead of him. His defensive work prevented many an enemy tip-in, and his ability to get the ball into safe territory was the despair of the attackers.

Stout was fortunate in having four other regular squad members who were experienced players—all lettermen from last year. It is the Stoutonia's hope that each has won another well-deserved emblem for his work this season. Buck Schaudé, as ever the diminutive, flashy forward. Lefty Hanson, fast defensive man and point-getter too, Carl Hoernamann, rangy and good for any position, and Lu Paulus who got a late start but played his usual fast ball when called on—these are the types of reserves who make a coach feel comfortable no matter what happens. Stuffy O'Connell was also with the squad until recent weeks and did his full share in its development.

"B" Squad Deserves Praise
Under the guardianship of Clay Halverson, the "B" squad went thru a hard season of drill, furnishing several spirited curtain raisers for the varsity games, and showing several players of future promise. Any second team is eclipsed by a varsity, but these boys worked almost as hard as their elder brothers, and came thru their season with only one defeat in five normal games.

On this team, Hooser, a veteran of last season, lead the floor plays, and was aided, as the season ended, by Graf, Schlumpf, Southern, Pierson, McNaughton, Roe, Harmon, and Aune. Others dropped by the wayside, but on the whole, this squad did its full share for the college, and deserves full praise for its loyalty.

De Molay dance tonight.

Good Meals and Refreshments

SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

SERVICE

We do dry cleaning every day. If you need the use of your suit immediately, take advantage of our "ONE DAY SERVICE."
SPECIAL SALE on made to measure suits up to March 17
Save from $ 5.00 to $ 7.50 on each suit.
MENOMONIE DYE HOUSE
Running & Cole

Inspector Leaves Stout Well Pleased

(Continued from page one)

curriculum is satisfactory, the sequences in the courses of instruction were complimented. The instruction was given a satisfactory rating. The completeness of the equipment, the adaptability of the laboratories were praised. On these counts Stout would be given a high rating.

But the North Central Association of Colleges is a standardizing organization of colleges of letters and science. In these colleges the dead and the modern languages play an important part in the college curriculum. Music and art are considered of vital importance in the complete training of the student. A little more history, literature and science are outlined in the courses of study in those colleges, where Home Economics and Industrial Education are required here. The fact that Stout does a specific piece of work, no matter how well it does it, leaves the committee of North Central Association a little in doubt as to our proper place in the field of general education.

Still Short on Details
The most difficult standard for this institution to meet has to do with the degree qualifications of our teachers. In order to meet North Central Association standards completely, it would mean that at The Stout Institute the heads of the eight departments would have to have doctor's degree. All other teachers should have at least a master's. Stout does not measure up to these requirements. It is not at all likely that so long as Stout continues to do the particular work it is now doing, as long as it is preparing teachers of home economics and industrial arts with emphasis placed upon industrial subjects, that the Stout Institute will be able to find competent, capable, experienced teachers having the degrees set up by this standardizing association.

It may be years before we shall, for example, be able to find an experienced, competent teacher of auto mechanics, electrical construction, sheet metal or carpentry who has thoroughly learned his trade and who has in addition given seven years beyond the high school to the earning of a doctor's degree who then would be willing to come to the Stout Institute and accept the salaries now paid to the teachers in this institution.

Main Job Not Affected
The students and the faculty are hopeful that Stout may be judged almost entirely by its work and the product of the institution in its special field. So judged, we shall have no uneasiness. We will not, however, be too optimistic and we shall not be greatly concerned. Stout must continue to do the work as Stout has been doing for many years if it is to survive as an educational institution of merit.

The North Central Association convenes in Chicago Tuesday, March 18, and continues through the week.

See us for haircuts; we satisfy our customers
THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

Haircuts at any hour of the day
Three first class barbers
THE ELECTRIC SHOP

"S" Club Carnival Enjoyed by Crowd

(Continued from page one)

Beefing" Cvengros represented the law and kept the riotous mob well under control most of the time. It was a difficult job, however, and many arrests had to be made.

Prof. Faville Takes Part
For the first time in history, jitney dances were introduced, imposed, presented or what have you at a Stout party. They were apparently quite well received, especially by the men at such times as when the women had to pay for the tickets.

Reese Wins Sweater
The event which probably was most anxiously awaited was the sweater raffle. After much consideration and re-consideration, Gilly finally decided upon a girl to draw the numbers (her name has been withheld) and the raffle was on. Harry Wolfram's number was the lucky one, but since he is an "S" club member, he allowed the sweater to be raffled over. The second time "Mel" Reese was the lucky one.

The affair was a great success, and although the second was not extremely large, those who missed it have something to regret.

President Nelson has been instructed to appear before the "commission on institutions on higher education" at the Stevens Hotel at 9 o'clock when the commission will pass upon the application of some twenty colleges for unqualified membership in that organization.

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
EAT
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"The Home of Good Food"

Assembly Speaker Gives Philosophy

(Continued from page one)

is necessary for action. You cannot have vision without action. Thus the great importance of courage.

Concentration, according to Rev. Leonard, is the one prudence in life. It is necessary to give the whole man to the task in hand.

Enthusiasm gets things done but it must be sustained enthusiasm, or in other words Perseverance. Some failures are due to the inability to deliver the last blow.

—S—
De Molay dance tonight.

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

Menomonie Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

The place to get SHOES of
LONG WEAR and DAY LONG
COMFORT
Swenson and Berndt
The Shoe Men

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses
Broken
Lenses
Replaced
INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

LET'S EAT
Tasty Sandwiches — Kistwiches
HOME MADE
PIES — CAKES — DONUTS
OPEN AFTER THE DANCES
THE CANDY SHOP

SRPING HATS
$2.98 — $3.90

1930
SPRING SUITS
In The Going Colors
$17.90 — $22.50

TOP COATS
$9.90 — $14.90 — $19.90
EVENS TOBIN CO.

Announces Choice Of Junior Prom Queen

Senior Class Gets Organized For Last Lap Of College Days

Plan New Departures for 1930 Commencement; Shepardson Elected President

The senior class has completed the organization with which it will prepare for the several major activities preceding and constituting its commencement. Class meetings and committee meetings have followed rapidly in the past few days, officers have been elected, and plans laid for some new departures in this year's program.

The first function is to be a dinner at the Hotel Marion on March 28, at which time plans for a special senior assembly will be discussed. The enthusiasm with which this year's class has entered its final lap indicates that it appreciates the dignity of the approaching season of events.

Shepardson Elected President

To head the seniors in their remaining functions, Kenneth Shepardson was elected at a recent general meeting. He has had several years' teaching experience, as have many of the present group, and is considered well qualified for this position of honor.

One of the students who is of the regular four-year group, Lawrence Johnson, is vice-president. Ruth Dodge was elected secretary, and Arthur Freeburg continued as treasurer.

Important Committees Named

Miss Lois Bunker was chosen to head a committee which is to have charge of the special commencement functions this year. Her committee consists of Miss Bok, Miss Erhard, Mr. Smith, and Mr. Swant.

On a committee to study the problem of a gift from the seniors to the college, Mr. Freeburg was named as chairman, with Miss Lanckton and Mr. Eng as helpers. For the dinner on March 28, the following were given the responsibility: Misses Lindall, Bok, Cadigan, and Mr. Johnson.

Ballentine Speaks On Personality And The Adolescent Age

"Nice" Boys Not The Only Ones who Succeed in this World, He Claims

"Not on the report card" was the basis of the much appreciated discussion by W. G. Ballentine, Superintendent of Public Schools of the city, for the assembly program, Thursday. He made reference to an article which appeared in the Wisconsin Journal of Education. A well-received appearance by the Men's Glee Club preceded his talk.

"One cannot judge or label a child, especially in the adolescence age, as to success or to failure in the future," he said. In relation to this fact, he gave several interesting experiences that he had had with boys in the secondary school. These incidents were given to suggest the fact that even though a zero might appear on the report card for lack of good conduct, courtesy or self control, these boys might turn out to be the best of all around citizens. He made it clear, however, that he didn't believe that all bad behaving children make great successes, for there are some, also, who have good control of subject matter and have good personality, too, who accomplish great things.

Cites Interesting Cases

During his experience in working in secondary schools, there was a very "brainy" boy who always tried to get ahead of the instructors, who had no self-control, no courtesy, no conduct, and who was always looking for a chance to fight or rage with the principal. This boy, in other words, was doomed to failure according to the theory of success to which reference was made, but he turned out to be one of the great economists of the United States. The speaker referred to him as "not something to fight with, but a problem to solve."

On the other hand, mention was

(Continued to page four)

"Barney" Hagen Is On The Road To Recovery

"Barney" Hagen who has been seriously ill at the city hospital, is on his way to recovery. While enroute to Menomonie from Decorah, Iowa, he contracted a severe cold, which later developed into pneumonia. He was taken to the Stout Infirmary, but it was later necessary to remove him to the city hospital where he could be under constant care of a doctor and private nurse. Due to the seriousness of his illness, his parents were summoned to his bedside. They state their son has on three other occasions been ill with the same sickness.

The critical time has now been passed. So the fears that the students had for him are banished. In the last few days he has been resting well. It is predicted that visitors will soon be admitted to his bedside.

In behalf of the student body, the Stoutonia staff members take this opportunity to express their sympathy to "Barney" and the hope for his rapid recovery.

—S—

High Schools Are Growing In Number

More than 50 per cent of the students of high school age in the United States today are actually attending high schools, according to a statement made public, Mar. 12, by the Department of the Interior. Twenty-five years ago such attendance was about 10 per cent, and 10 years ago, 30 per cent.

The statement points out that there were in the United States in 1927-28, a total of 4,217,313 high school pupils reported from 18,116 public high schools.

The statement follows in full text: More than 50 per cent of the students of high school age in the United States today are actually attending those schools.

These figures acquire an additional interest when compared with those of 10 years ago, when such attendance was but 30 per cent, and with those of 25 years ago when it was only about 10 per cent.

These facts are set out by the United States Office of Education in a statement issued, Mar. 12, in which it traces the remarkable growth of high school attendance during recent years.

The first public high school, it says was organized in 1821, but this type of school enrolled only about 10 per cent of the children of high-school age until 1905 or 1906. Within the next 10 years another 10 per cent were enrolled; and when a century had passed—1921—the 30 per cent mark was reached.

Although no general census has

(Continued to page four)

—S—

DeMolay Formal To Be Given Saturday

The second annual DeMolay Formal Ball, sponsored by The Stout DeMolay Club, will be held in the Stout gymnasium tomorrow evening, opening promptly at 8:15 and continuing until 11:45.

The main feature of the evening will be Jack Wright's Ohioans, a crack dance band. The plans have all been completed and a good time is promised for all those who attend. Refreshments will be served during the evening. The decorations promise to be very unusual.

The chaperones for this event are Miss Sarchet, Miss Hassler, Mr. and Mrs. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Good. The guests of honor are President and Mrs. Nelson, Dean and Mrs. Bowman, Dean Michaels, Dean Price, and Mr. T. H. Moore. The DeMolay chapter of Eau Claire has been invited also.

"Mel" Reese, president of the organization, has promised the guests a wonderful time.

The decorating is about all finished. The beautiful blue sky and the elaborate finishing touches speak well.

All alumni who attend the formal are asked to leave their names and address with the alumni editor.

Men's Glee Club To Give Concert In Stout Auditorium Tonight

Mrs. Wallace R. Mitchell And Prof. W. B. Davison To Give Feature Numbers

The men's Glee Club, assisted by Mrs. Wallace R. Mitchell, and Prof. W. B. Davison, will give its annual concert in the Stout Auditorium tonight.

To Give Varied Program

Under the direction of Prof. Good, the Men's Glee Club has at last been whipped into shape. For a time it was feared that colds and some throats would hinder the songsters a great deal. This fear, however, has been almost entirely banished. A good program is assured.

The Glee Club has been very fortunate in securing the cooperation of Mrs. Wallace Mitchell, a prominent pianist of Menomonie. She will accompany the songsters and will also render a piano solo. Her selection, Finlandia, by Sibelius, is one of the greatest of Finnish piano selections.

Prof. W. B. Davison will also appear as Axel Peterson again. Axel Peterson has gained a great reputation on the campus, in Menomonie, and in other cities near here. Everyone looks forward to his appearances.

The program for the evening is as follows:

Glory of the Dawn ..... O'Hare
Kashmiri Song ..... Woodforde-Finden
What's the Use ..... Huntley
Glee Club

(Continued to page three)

—S—

Camp Colony To Be Opened Again During The Summer Session

Colony To Be Self Ruling; Mayor To Be Elected By Members

The Stout Institute Camp Colony, which proved to be a very convenient and inexpensive method of living as well as being a recreational site, will again be occupied by summer session students. The camp colony, which is located on high ground on the eastern edge of Menomonie, is one mile from The Stout Institute buildings, and a five minute automobile ride from an excellent bathing beach.

There are 24 camp sites definitely laid out besides a number of sites available for camping. The grounds are clean, well kept and very attractive, and a driveway into the grounds makes easy access to all of the camp sites. The large areas available for play-ground use are secluded from highways.

Permanent Building There

The refectory, being located on the high ground overlooking the Red Cedar valley, is a commodious building with facilities for cooking and heating in inclement weather. At

(Continued to page three)

CALENDAR

Monday

Scenic Club ..... 5:00 o'clock
Stoutonia Staff ..... 5:00 o'clock
Women's Glee Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Men's Glee Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Tower Staff ..... 7:00 o'clock

Tuesday

S. M. A. .... 7:15 o'clock
De Molay ..... 7:30 o'clock
Band ..... 7:00 o'clock

Wednesday

S. T. S. .... 7:30 o'clock
R. C. Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Y. W. C. A. .... 5:00 o'clock

Thursday

Inky Fingers ..... 5:30 o'clock
M. A. P. .... 7:15 o'clock
Hyperians ..... 8:00 o'clock
W. A. A. .... 7:00 o'clock
Orchestra ..... 7:00 o'clock

"Doc" Hawkes, Former Editor, Lauds Paper

Lester "Doc" Hawkes, first semester editor of the Stoutonia, has made a most satisfactory beginning in his work in teaching printing at Madison where he replaced R. H. Landis who is here finishing his work for the B. S. degree. This conclusion on Hawkes is gleaned from a letter from him which Mr. Hague received this week.

"Doc" said that it was tough sledding at first, but the fine equipment he has, and the variety of work involved, have made the position a pleasurable one. One of his most interesting duties, according to his letter, has been the reorganizing of the school paper into newspaper style, a process for which he had excellent training at Stout.

He compliments the present Stoutonia and its staff extravagantly, saying that he reads his former paper from beginning to end, every week. The Staff herewith thanks "Doc" for his words of praise. He also mentioned seeing "Pash" Paciotti, another of the recent, outstanding products of the Stout course in printing.

—S—

Y.M.C.A. To Sponsor Stuntnite In April

Now comes "Stuntnite". It is a new form of entertainment, different from anything by an individual club. This form of entertainment will be a competitive affair and only through the cooperation of the various clubs in the school, can it function successfully, say the promoters.

The Stuntnite, which is sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. is to take place in the Stout gym, April 4, at 8. All the clubs in the college have been invited and are urged to participate in the affair, but in order to become eligible, they must exhibit an original stunt or form of entertainment. Each stunt is limited to thirteen minutes, and must be original and specially written or prepared for this occasion. In order that the nature of the program may be varied, no two similar stunts will be given. As the time allotted will permit only eight clubs to perform, a process of elimination will be necessary if a greater number of clubs wish to entertain.

Loving Cup to be Prize

To initiate the Stuntnite, the Y. M. C. A. will present a silver loving cup to the winning club and each year the name of the winning club will be engraved on the cup. If the Stuntnite proves successful in the nature of competitive entertainment, the Y. M. C. A. will make it an annual affair.

The "dead line" for entering has been set for March 21. A brief summary of the stunts must be recorded with the president of the Y. M. C. A. no later than March 26.

—S—

H.E. Practice Classes Exhibit Handicraft

"I saw some of the cutest little dresses for little girls! Come and see!" This remark was made by a little nursery school boy when he saw the eighth grade clothing unit and the tenth grade handcraft exhibit. This display has been shown during the past week on second floor of the H. E. Building.

The dresses shown are the best examples of each of the eighth grade classes. The student teachers for these groups are Adele Lanckton, Esther Sickler, and Helga Rasmussen.

In connection with this display, several articles made by the tenth grade classes, under the direction of Hazelle Flagot and Ruth Dodge, were also shown. This consisted mainly of crayon wall hangings made on unbleached muslin; lamp shades and silhouette pictures which have been made for one of the apartments; block print stationary; pictures that have been shelled over cheesecloth to give the effect of oil paintings and framed oil vase partout.

A great deal of interest has been shown in this type of work by the students, the teachers and the people living in town.

Henrietta L. Quilling Is Named By Muller For High Social Role

ALSO ASSOCIATE EDITOR

April Function Assured of Prominent and Popular Leadership

Miss Henrietta L. Quilling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Quilling, 710 - 9th avenue, Menomonie, has been chosen by Ernest Muller, Prom King, to lead the Junior Promenade, April 26, according to the announcement made by Mr. Muller to The Stoutonia yesterday.

According to tradition, the male leader of the Prom has had the opportunity and responsibility of choosing his queen, custom also having decreed, however, that the honor be bestowed on a junior girl worthy of the position. In this instance, Mr. Muller has more than kept the spirit of the tradition in choosing Miss Quilling, for she has had an enviable record on the campus.

Both Are Active and Popular

Miss Quilling's name has found frequent place in these pages because of the variety of college activities with which she has identified herself in her three college years. Among these honors is her present position of associate editor of this paper, the highest award available to a Home Economics student on the publication staff, an award based entirely on the merits of the candidate's work.

She has also been elected president of the Y. W. C. A. at a recent meeting of the club.

As an athlete, her abilities are without question. Since entering Stout she has partaken in almost every coed athletic activity.

Even with her heavy extra-curricular program, Miss Quilling has established herself as a student above the average.

"Charleston" Muller, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. W. Muller of Charleston, South Carolina, has also been found

(Continued to page four)

—S—

Sophomore Coeds Win First Place In W.A.A. Aquatic Tournament

Alice Ostrum Wins Girls' Letter; Miss Schaeffer, Of Menomonie High, Judge

First place, in the Girls' Swimming Meet held in the pool Thursday evening, in which representatives of all classes participated, was awarded to the sophomore team.

Every year the contest is held and sponsored by the W. A. A. That organization keeps a silver loving cup on which the name of the victor is printed. This year it will be engraved with the Class of '32. Their team stood highest with a total of 111.5 points. The freshmen were next with 69 points; the juniors third with 47; and the seniors fourth with 34.5.

To the girl having the highest number of points is awarded the diving girl "S". Alice Ostrum was the winner of the letter this year. The three next highest in line were Janet Evans, Adele Lanckton, and Laura Andreasen.

The class teams were scored on strokes, dives, free style, single race, and underwater swim. Individuals were judged on strokes, dives, and specials.

Team lineups included: Freshmen—Dorothy Madden, head, Jean Moe, Velma Gutwasser, and Alice Nelson; Sophomore—Alice Ostrum, head, Janet Evans, Grayce Quarters, and Laura Andreasen; Juniors—Frances Inenfeldt, head, Georgia Aber, Henrietta Quilling, and Edna Matthews; Seniors—Adele Lanckton.

Miss Schaeffer, Instructor of Physical Education at Menomonie High School, acted as judge.

Girls athletics have been coming to the foreground in leaps and bounds on the Stout campus in the last few years. It is hoped that in a short time coed inter-collegiate athletics will be started.

THE STOUTUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                               |                       |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Managing Editor               | E. V. Ahonen          |
| Associate Editor              | Henrietta L. Quilling |
| News Editor                   | Chester Mau           |
| News Editor                   | Belinda Hendrickson   |
| Assistant News Editor         | Bernard Hagen         |
| Assistant News Editor         | Vivian Hewitt         |
| Feature Editor                | William Soucie        |
| Feature Editor                | Kent Riggs            |
| Humor Editor                  | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Sports Editor                 | Carl Roll             |
| Sports Editor                 | Georgia Aber          |
| Exchange Editor               | William Micheels      |
| Organization Editor           | Albert Gilles         |
| Organization Editor           | Anita Gundlach        |
| Cartoonist                    | Nicholas Marsilio     |
| Staff Photographer            | Kathleen Lind         |
| Business Manager              | R. A. Jakoubek        |
| Circulation Manager           | Earl C. Halverson     |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Robert G. Reick       |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Carl Roll             |
| Advertising Manager           | Byron Canatsey        |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr.        | Marlo McCullough      |
| Intertype Operator            | Floyd C. Larson       |
| Foreman Mechanical Department | Arthur G. Johnson     |
|                               | Kent Riggs            |
| Under Direction of            | Mr. C. W. Hague       |
| Editorial Adviser             | Mr. John Faville, Jr. |
| Associate Adviser             | Miss Helen Sarchet    |

SPRING SPORTS

Spring is here at last. The Stout lot is just about dry. Now is the time to get the tennis court into shape. Let's get out and fix the courts. Gilles has started the ball rolling in Kittenball. Now for tennis and golf.

RESPONSIBILITY, THE BIG WORD

It matters little what wake of life we go into, we will always come into contact with something that we are responsible for. It may range from the arranging of a garden to the managing of an army.

How we do the work and how we shoulder the responsibility will be the key to our success or failure.

The greater our power the greater our responsibility.

ARCHITECTURE

Stout Institute offers courses in architectural drafting. For the time available these courses are very elementary. The history of architecture and its various applications throughout our historical period can be touched upon only very remotely. Its present day scope as an art and science, to say nothing of it as a philosophy, can be mentioned only superficially. Our time is spent in learning something of drafting-room procedure and something of the drafting-room technique of drawing board geometry, a study of a few of the present day forms of small building design, together with the use and application of a limited assortment of our great variety of present day building materials. We can study architecture only as a trade, if you please, or at best, limitedly, as a profession.

We might, however, take a toad's eye view of architecture. Architecture is one of the oldest of the arts. It had its inception away back in the early dawn of civilization when mankind began to venture forth from the caves in which he dwelt, to build himself a habitation in the big outside. It might be said that his selection of an adequate cave was his earlier architecture. His building materials are not known, nor for our consideration does it now matter.

Progress in the design and construction can be traced with some accuracy only during the past five or six thousand years, if a thousand years makes a difference. We think of Egypt as the cradle of architecture. We gage its progress in civilization by the ruins of its temples and tombs, many of which are yet a puzzle to those proficient in the science of architecture today. Egypt used stone, Mesopotamia and Western India, built of brick, each in its own way telling a different side of the story. Generally speaking the ancient builders gave more attention to substantiality than to beauty of form in design. Their walls were thick and durable.

Architecture as a philosophy and a fine art had its birth in Egypt. The freedom of its youth and adolescence we see in the accomplishment of the Greeks. Its sturdy manhood and militant aspect is of Roman development largely a copy of the Greek, and therefore lacking in vision and originality. After these come the Gothic, Renaissance, Romanesque, etc. Our present day forms follow in large measure the developments of these pioneers of centuries ago. Our present day contributions being the sky-scraper, with its preponderant use of steel, iron and other metals.

Residence architecture is registered in hundreds rather than in thousands of years. Most of the more popular styles in home-building today are adaptations of types originated in the Old World centuries ago. But for all that, homes, provided they have been designed and supervised in construction, by persons trained in the art and science were never better built than they are today. Never have those so designed and built been more beautiful or attractive.

Unfortunately, not all of them, and examples are myriad, have had the guiding hand of the architect. Thousands of the "jerry-built" houses go up annually. A house is a house, a home should be a thing of beauty, a joyful possession, a protected investment. To make your life's saving meet these conditions the architect,—the competent architectural draftsman,—is an economic necessity.

Spare the architect and you spoil the home.

By J. M. Early.

Let's Laugh

"What kind of a car have you?"
"I got a wreck."
"A wreck?"
"Yeah. Every time I park it a dozen people come up and ask me if I've reported the accident yet."

"What's the man feeding the elephant moth balls for?"
"To keep the moths out of his trunk, silly."

He was having difficulty in fitting himself with a pair of shoes. Then he noticed on the inside of the shoes he had been trying on "Made Expressly for Oscar Walkover."

"Well, I'll be durned," he grumbled; "No wonder they don't fit me."

"What's the trouble with that young Scotch student?"
"Oh, he just got a shine and then remembered they were his roommate's shoes."

It's great to be a man who can smile in any sort of weather,
Or one who can smile when his friend and his girl
Leave the dance floor together.

"You remind me of Abraham Lincoln."
"Oh, thanks for the compliment."
"Yeh, you don't shave either."

She was only a street cleaner's daughter, but she'll never have white wings.

Many girls are getting men's wages nowadays — but then, they always have.

"He comes from an ancient line."
"I guess that must be the one he always tells."

She (as they danced): "I believe a girl should have a mind of her own. I for one, am not easily led."
He (struggling): "So I perceive."

"I see a sign in your store, 'We aim to please,'" remarked the irritated customer.

"Certainly, that is our motto," replied the proprietor.
"Well," retorted the customer, "you ought to take some time off for target practice."

Did you ever notice that a hard boiled egg is yellow inside?

Dusty was reminded of his birthday last Saturday at the Curtis house by a paddling from his fellow chow grabbers.

Signs of Spring

Pierson writing poetry.
Hooper falling in love.
Doetse wearing a spring suit.
Peterson, Murray and Riggs riding man-killers (bicycles).
Lockwood wearing white knickers.

Some of our fair co-eds got a notion to go auto riding. They secured a dilapidated car and between the time they spent in cranking and being towed in they had a wonderful trip.

The "B" squad played Barron County Normal as a preliminary for the Stevens Point game. The "B" Squad was victorious. This item was placed in this column by the request of several members of the squad.

The 69th Chapter of Mathew "Folks," said the colored minister, "the subject of my sermon this evening is 'Liars.' How many in the congregation has done read the 69th Chapter of Mathews?"

Nearly every hand in the audience was raised immediately.
"Dat's right," said his reverence; "you is just de folks I want to preach to. Dere is no 69th Chapter of Mathew."

Mose and Sandy each had $2,500 to spend on a car. Mose spent his on a Packard; Sandy, his on a Ford! One day when Mose had a breakdown, Sandy came rolling by in his Ford. They met the next day and a dialogue proceeded as follows:

Mose: "Sandy, what was the rattling noise I heard when you drove by yesterday?"
Sandy: "That was the $1995 I had in my pocket!"

"Where do you work?"
"I'm pilot in a soap factory."
"A pilot in a soap factory?"
"Sure, two of us work together. The other guy wraps the soap and I pile it!"

Mr. Price: "How was your lunch today?"
Pierson: "Oh, fair and warmer."

Spring, sweet spring, a young man's thoughts turn to thoughts of free verse. Ta, ta, ta.

ANVIL SPARKS from Aries

It is better to have bobbed hair than it is to have bobbed brains.

How can anyone who has not live a manifold life have authority for life? How can anyone live and ignore the facts of life?

"If the doors of perception were cleansed, everything would appear to man as it is—infinite."
(Whitman)

Alumni

This week-end many of our students will again have the opportunity to meet our famous "promter" of activities during the last few years at Stout. The person is none other than Mr. Julian N. Johnson, who is now teaching at Three Oaks, Mich.

Mr. Johnson is head coach of both the football and basketball teams at the Three Oaks high school, and has set up a wonderful record during the past year in the school athletic department.

Last fall the football team, under his supervision, placed second in class "C" competition of the state of Michigan.

With the opening of the basketball season, Mr. Johnson again showed his ability to develop a victorious team by winning the county tournament and second place in the Regional tournament.

While attending Stout Institute, Mr. Johnson was president of the Stout Student Association. It was during this time that he promoted the "Trip to Eau Claire" by train to back our basketball team against our old rivals.

With only a few more weeks before the Junior Prom which will be the center of attraction at our school, we are already hearing from a few of our alumni who plan on attending this social affair.

A letter received from Mr. Robert Theiler seems to indicate that a large group of teachers from Detroit, Michigan, will be all set to attend our Junior Prom. Some of the alumni from Detroit who have intentions to return to their "Alma Mater" are Mr. Harold Reppe, Mr. Ward Smith, Mr. Roland Decker, Mr. Robert Theiler, Miss Elizabeth Williams, Miss Mildred Belinda, and Miss Alma Winger. The Junior Prom happens to fall during the Spring vacation at Detroit which will give most of our alumni of Detroit an opportunity to attend our annual Junior Prom.

Students who have attended Stout during the last few years will remember Noel "Hooky" Winn, who has entertained many of our students at our school dances with his "hot" saxophone.

During the mid-semester "Hooky" set his saxophone on the side and accepted a teaching position at Jackson, Michigan.

In accepting this position, Mr. Winn was confronted with the problem of reorganizing the drawing course of which he is in charge. He has a very fine start with his classes, which consists of mechanical drawing and gym.

"Doc" Hawkes, who is now instructor of printing at the Madison Vocational School will return to Menomonie this week to attend the DeMolay Formal.

Mr. Lester Hawkes accepted his position during the mid-semester and since that time has shown very creditable work as an instructor of printing.

I'd

If I were a man so kind and true,
There are lot's a things I'd always do,
I'd walk down the halls in a certain way
And be at my classes, on time,—every day.

I'd come to school with my lessons all learned,
In order to get a good mark in return,
I'd speak to all of the people I meet,
Not always be seen in a booth at Pete's.

I'd correct all my faults in a cheerful way,
And not get angry at what teacher's say.
I'd be interested in all that I did
And to the teacher I'd tip my lid.

I'd hold the door open for the girls at noon,
For the bright spring days will be here very soon.
I'd help any girl on her way home
Cuz she might tell me her number—or where I could phone.
—Ted Pierson.

Here'n There

The fourth annual Minnesota all-state college swimming tourney was staged on Saturday, March 15th, in the Mac pool. The Mac mermen defended their state championship title against the other entries which include Hamline, Gustavus Adolphus, and St. Olaf.

—The Mac Weekly.

A few of the school papers, that were received during the last week, were printed in green colors to show their spirit of St. Patrick's day. There were also many parties and dances in the various schools to celebrate the Irish holiday.

Several members of the Strut and Fret attended the tournament of the state Dramatic guild which was held at Madison on Friday and Saturday, March 7 - 8.

—The Spectator.

The Milwaukee State teachers college has a radio set installed in their auditorium with loud speaker units located in various rooms throughout the building. In order to take advantage of the educational, musical, and political programs being broadcast daily, assemblies will be arranged for opportune days, and classes may be shifted accordingly. The training school has already taken advantage of the radio to listen to Walter Damrosch's "lessons" on the various instruments of the orchestra, given each Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

The radio "correspondence school" is becoming more and more popular, and many of the larger stations are presenting well-known professors of equally well-known colleges and universities in lessons in French, Spanish, History, Philosophy, and Psychology.

—Milwaukee Echo.

With a record breaking crowd of over 1,010 couples in attendance, Marquette's Junior Formal promenade of 1930 was written gloriously in the annals of the school at the Eagle's ballroom Friday, Feb. 28. As an elaborate panorama of gay color, beautiful girls, stately men and gentle music, the prom passes into history as the largest ever sponsored by the University.

—The Marquette Tribune.

Coach Jaggard of Beloit has issued a call for Spring football which will begin immediately after Spring vacation and will last for about three weeks. He hopes to overcome the effects of the long winter months and to get the men back to thinking in terms of football.

—The Round Table.

Most universities in the United States have at least some printing apparatus, but few are equipped with presses that can print everything that the students set forth for publication. Marquette is one of the few. From early morning until night the continuous thud and roar of the press is proof of the fact that Marquettters are not idle.

Many colleges print their weekly papers and magazines, while the annual is done elsewhere. This, however, is not so at Marquette, for in the basement of Johnson hall the Hilltop of 1930 is slowly but accurately being put into its finished form. The color scenes, engravings made from oil paintings by Clifford Benton, portraying the growth of the University through the explorations, discoveries, and teachings of the early missionaries to the present day have just been completed by the Marquette press. These sections in color form the introduction of the yearbook.

The engraving is done at Chicago, but all the printing is done at Marquette.
—The Marquette Tribune.

Forty men have been chosen to make the annual tour of the Lawrence men's glee club, which will leave Appleton on March 23, on a two week's trip which will take them through southern Wisconsin and eastern Minnesota. The men have been rehearsing for five months, under the direction of Dean Carl J. Waterman.

They appear in Menomonie on March 30.

The La Crosse State Teachers College has changed the name of their annual from the "Racquet" to "Lally." The new title is especially appropriate as the game "La Crosse" is played with a Lally.

River Falls State College won first place in the state in the Dramatic Contest at Madison. The play which they presented was "Just Neighborly" by Alexander Dean.

A few weeks ago, at the District Contest held at Stout, River Falls also won first place and Stout second.

Friday, March 21, 1930.

Organizations

The Home Economics met Wednesday evening. Plans were made for the program for the Spring meeting of the Chippewa Valley Home Economics Association. This meeting is to be held here at Stoct sometime during the latter part of April.

The Science Club is again anticipating the pleasure of a special speaker. Dr. R. E. Vaughan, a professor of plant pathology at the University of Wisconsin, is expected to be the guest of the club in the very near future.

At the regular meeting on Monday evening of last week, Mildred Haggard reviewed two interesting papers on "The Present Status of Serum Therapy" and the "Use of Serum in the Prevention of Scarlet Fever."

The meetings of the club are held in the Harvey Memorial Room at 5 P. M. on Monday, and are always open to visitors.

Let those who enjoy honey coffee cake, braided coffee rings, pecan rolls, butter horns, clover leaf rolls, butterfly buns, raisin bread, apple rolls, coffee pretzels, streussel coffee cake and other delicious varieties of breads, patronize the Hyperion Hot bread sale at the Red Owl store on Saturday afternoon at one o'clock.

Who? Hyperion Society.
What? Hot Bread Sale.
Where? Red Owl Store.
When? Saturday, one P. M.

The meeting of the Hyperion Society in the Club Rooms on Thursday night of last week was devoted to the election of officers for the ensuing year. The result of the election was as follows: President, Helen Bunker; vice-president, Marian Cress; secretary, Florence Verbrick; Treasurer, Esther Hendrickson.

At a recent meeting of the Y. W. C. A. the following officers were elected: President, Henriette Quilling; vice-president, Belinda Hendrickson; secretary, Alice Lynum; treasurer, Charlotte McNab.

The Cabinet has been reduced to include only four committees with the following people as chairmen: Hospitality committee—Alice Haslerud, Social Service committee—Georgia Aber, Membership committee—Lorraine Litchfield, Program committee—Ardella Anderson.

Formal initiation services for new members of the Hyperion and S. M. A. societies were held Friday night, March seventh. After the formal ceremony in Miss Michaels' outer office, the Hyperians were served a four course dinner in the Band Box. The new members of the society are Emma Newby, Florence Verbrick, Alice Lynum, Marian Cress, Lorraine Litchfield, Esther Hendrickson, Charlotte McNab, Mary Jane Dodson, and Belinda Hendrickson.

The S. M. A. society held its formal initiation services at the Hotel Marion following the ceremony. Dinner was served in the hotel dining room at seven o'clock. Between courses Myrtle Anderson sang two vocal solos, and Jane Hambley gave a reading. The party disbanded at eight o'clock and with the Hyperian society attended the Menomonic-Eau Claire Game. The ten new members of the society are Ethel Anderson, Lucille Schultz, Patsy Ruth Kelly, Gail Galloway, Ruth Hossman, Doris Spiers, Dorothy Madden, Elizabeth Curran, Lisle May Huson, and Doris Henry.

The Philomathean initiation dinner was a formal banquet given at the Hotel Marion on Saturday night of last week. Following the dinner the president took charge of the initiation ceremonies after which the new members presented a short informal program. Mrs. Paul Wilson, associate adviser, responded with a welcome to the new members as did Edith Brevig, ex-president of the society. The new members are Pauline Bonesho, Jane Foeller, Mariorinda Osgood, Grace Quarters, Marie Schroeder, Alice Ostrom, Kathryn Grashie, Louise Hobart, Edna Langseth, and Janet Robertson.

At the Aremi party Thursday night of last week, the members of the club entertained their guests in the Band Box. Bunco furnished the entertainment for the evening. At nine-thirty the scores were tallied and the honors awarded, after which dainty refreshments were served.

The regular social meeting of the Philomathean society was held Tuesday night of last week in the club rooms. After a short preliminary business meeting, the entertainment

Men's Glee Club To Give Concert Tonight

(Continued from page one)

Vocal Solos—Homing .....Del Riego
—Noon and Night .....Hawley
John Barber
Trombone Solo—Gypsy Love
Song .....Victor Herbert
Claire Knutson
Lillies of Lorraine .....Connor
Heidelberg Stein Song
.....Pixley and Luders
Dawn .....Protheroe
Glee Club
Little Cotton Dolly .....Geibel
Winsome Women .....Fearis
Freshmen Quartette
INTERMISSION
Vocal Solos—Trees .....Rosbach
—Invictus .....Huhn
Albert Hanson
Rolling Down to Rio .....German
Bells of the Sea .....Solman
Tommy the Cat .....Conrad
Glee Club
Piano Solo—Finlandia .....Sebilus
Mrs. Wallace R. Mitchell
Reading .....Selected
Axel Peterson—Prof. Davison
Song of the Marching Men .....Hadley
From "The New Earth"
The Long Day Closes .....Sullivan
Good Night

The Men's Glee Club feels greatly indebted to Mrs. Mitchell who has given a great deal of her time to help them out, and to Prof. Davison who is always so willing to help in a worthy cause.

This will be the club's first appearance on the campus this year. Everyone is urged to attend.

committee divided the group into four and played Bridge, Hearts, Animal, and Pig for fifteen minutes at a time interchangeably. As a climax to the social hour, Ruth Bassuener and her able assistants served lunch at nine-thirty.

Professor Price and a number of De Molay members attended the meeting of the Eau Claire Chapter Order of the De Molay Monday evening. The men witnessed new members of the Eau Claire Chapter receive their second degree initiations. After the meeting adjourned the members representing both cities enjoyed a chicken dinner which was specially prepared for the occasion.

Spring and St. Patrick's dinners were given last week by the ninth grade practice classes for their parents. About thirty guests were present at each dinner.

Monday evening at 6:00, members of Ruth Lindall's class gave their party in the college dining room. Card tables were used so as to accommodate a greater number of guests. Violet Parson's class gave a dinner at 5:30 this same evening in the "Green Kitchen". Screens were set up here, to form a dining room apart from the kitchen. Cecelia Cadigan's group gave its dinner Wednesday evening at 5:30. On Friday at 1:00 the rural school classes served. Mildred Dingie and Mary Fox are the student teachers for this group.

The classes made their own little rhymic invitations, place cards, and nut cups, all in keeping with a St. Patrick or Spring party. The decorations on these were made by the use of stick prints, and pen and ink drawings. Besides the parents, other guests were Mr. W. G. Ballentine, Superintendent of public schools, Menomonie, Mrs. W. G. Ballentine, and Miss Schneider, Principal of Menomonie High School. Mary Green and Mercedes Cranston, former practice teachers, were also guests.

Personals

Prof. Davison leaves tomorrow for Durand, Wis., where he will address the Teachers' Institute on the subject of "Social Studies in the Elementary Schools."

Miss Froggert, Miss Smith, Miss Van Ness, Miss Cruise, and Miss Carlson of the Home Economics faculty spent the week end in the Twin Cities. On Saturday night they attended the Pulitzer Prize play, "Street Scene", in Minneapolis.

TAINTER HALL

Kathleen Shannon spent the week end at her home in Crosby, Minn.

Marian Cress and Ivernia Forslund played a few holes of golf at the Country Club Sunday afternoon.

Esther Sichler visited at her home in Alma Center over the week end.

Ivernia Forslund spent Saturday in Eau Claire.

Margaret Allen wishes to announce to those whom it might concern, that she will do no more darning for less than fifteen cents.

LYNWOOD HALL

Vivian Florin, Eleanor Vergin, Minnie Chronquist, Grace Linderson, and Eleanor Nelson spent the week end at their homes.

Wednesday night Doctor Bachmann entertained the girls with a radio program, the chief attractions being Louise Homer, John Philip Sousa's Band, and Will Rogers.

Fannie Pratch and Evelyn Preston spent Saturday and Sunday at Evelyn's home.

Emma Anderson and Margaret Senty spent the week end at the Senty home in Independence, Wis.

Ellen Nelson who is manager of the lights at Lynwood, sets a good example by having her lights out at ten-thirty each night. On entering her darkened room one night after making her usual round of the rooms, she was suddenly grabbed by two stealthy figures. Ellen felt, however, that she was big enough to handle the situation alone. Dr. Bachmann settled the matter by sending the aggressors to their rooms.

TAINTER ANNEX

The Annex welcomes Miss Adele Lanckton who is making her home

SCHOOL SUPPLIES AND FINE STATIONARY

A. R. OLSON

Look for the Sign
"It Pays To Look Well"
For SERVICE and SANITATION
It is worth your time
I. W. NESSER, the Barber

Plans Being Made For Summer Camp Colony

(Continued from page one)

tached to the refectory is a large screened study porch, well equipped with large study tables.

Each camp site is furnished with a table with built-on seats, and a tent floor. The floors are in sections 4 ft. - 10 ft. and 6 ft. - 10 ft. which makes possible the laying of tent floors of several dimensions. In connection with the use of the camp, a fee of nine dollars per camp site is charged for the summer session. The fee is the same whether one person uses it or if a group of persons use there for the remainder of the semester.

Miss Lorraine Litchfield and Miss Pauline Bonesho spent the week end at their homes in Eau Claire.

The girls have gone into Spring training. They are jumping rope and running around the block every evening after dinner to reduce.

Miss Patsy Ruth Kelly visited her home in Mankato, Minnesota.

Miss Beth Murray spent an enjoyable week end in the Cities.

The Annex's first bride of the year, Mrs. W. W. Lozier, spent Wednesday visiting Miss Jane Foeller.

Miss Josephine Edinger visited the Annex Monday evening; she merely ran away from Homemakers for awhile.

Miss Edna Langseth and Miss Janet Evans were in the Cities Saturday and Sunday.

A record crowd attended breakfast Sunday morning; the spring like weather has its effects.

Miss Ruth Bassuener had an enjoyable week end at her home in Sheboygan.

Miss June Lockhart, who has been confined to the infirmary, is expected to return to the Annex Friday.

ORPHEUM

Tonight (Fri.) & Sat.
Winnie Lightner in
"SHE COULDN'T SAY NO"
Also Short Topics

Sun. — Mon. — Tues.
Billy Dove in
"THE PAINTED ANGEL"
Also Paramount Sound News
Mat. Sun. 2:30

Wed. — Thurs.
Dolores Costello in
"SECOND CHOICE"
Also News and Vodvil
NOTE: Wednesday is the last night that radio tickets can be used.

Coming Mar. 30-31, Apr. 1
Harold Lloyd in
"WELCOME DANGER"

GRAND

Mary Nolan in
"SHANGHI LADY"
Also Comedy and News
Mat. Sun. 3:00

the site. If an additional tent floor is desired, a fee of three dollars will be charged.

Camp Is Self-Governing

The members of the summer camp colony group organize in a self-governing organization immediately upon the opening of the summer session. Although the operating plan of the government conforms with certain regulations set up by the administration of The Stout Institute, the colony group elects a mayor and certain other officers and assigns a rotating schedule of responsibilities in the operating and control of the camp. A faculty committee is the agency through which the representatives of the camp colony transact the business relationships with the college.

The camp colony was operated for the first time in the summer of 1929, and the unusual success in this first summer of operation caused the administration immediately to take steps for further development. Camp site reservations will be made upon request. The living facilities in the summer camp are ideal. Local dealers deliver groceries, meat, milk and ice direct to the camp grounds. The location of the camp is an unusual combination of seclusion and close proximity to the city and to the college buildings.

Put Your Foot
In it

Slip on one of these new Friendly Fives—feel how well they fit and how good they feel. Comfortable right at the start. And style!
Lots of it...peppy, up-to-the-minute smartness. You'll say it's the greatest five dollar shoe you ever wore. Try on a pair today.

FRIENDLY FIVES

$5

GRAVEN
and
WILCOX

HAVE YOU TRIED OUR
Toasted Chicken Sandwiches
WITH LETTUCE AND SALAD DRESSING
THEY ARE DELICIOUS!

THE OLYMPIA

For Sale:- Ford Coupe
1926 MODEL
GOOD CONDITION
INSURED FOR ONE YEAR
$150 CASH
T. L. ROSWELL

THE SHAKER STUDIOS
ARE ALWAYS GLAD TO SERVE YOU
Let us Develop your Kodak Films

Combination Packages of Fancy Nuts
PEACONS — ALMONDS — WALNUTS
at
LEE'S DRUG STORE

We are now showing
the newest creations
in Diamond Rings.

See Anshus if you need something for your Sweetheart, Girl, or Boy Friend
in the line of jewelry.

✂ Nels Anshus ✂

Stout Reserves Are Too Fast For Red Birds ; Win 21-15

Varsity Subs Prove Superiority Of Collegiate Basketball For 1930 Season

The reserve members of the Stout varsity basketball team continued the honors for the squad last Friday evening by neatly trimming the Menomonee Red Birds, 21 to 15. At times playing a brand of ball which looked like the variety displayed by their teammates in the Eau Claire game, these reserves had little trouble in convincing the crowd that college ball is, this year, at least, superior to what the town has to offer.

It was a good, friendly game, however, and the reserves had some trouble in demonstrating this superiority in the first half. Toward the end of the game, varsity plays worked to perfection, and Stout was getting three shots to the Birds' one.

Stout Men Take Turns

The Blues took turns at the basket, each of the five registering in the score book. Schauder not only played a sweet floor game, but made six points. Paulus was next with five, Hoernamann got four, Hanson got four, and Johnson, two. It was the first full game that any of these men had played for several weeks, but their fast work in the final minutes of play proved their training.

For the Red Birds, Rude easily starred, and netted four baskets to lead the field. Setter added two points, Taylor got two, Kube got two, while Eich, who was removed by referee Cvengros on fouls, guarded well and made no baskets, and Emmert was also scoreless. Whatever else this game did, it gave these varsity subs a chance to prove that they are ball players as well as their squad mates.

The Congo Scouts, some fast little players, so badly trounced the big Weston city team that the score was lost. They proved that the future material in the city is abundant.

Tower Well Under Way, Says Editor

The Tower for 1930 is rounding into shape. The opening and scenic sections have gone to the printer. The art staff is at present at work mounting class and organization panels. The art and theme work is to be of the style indicative of unified simplicity in keeping with the theme and dedication.

It is reported by the staff that the snapshots are coming in very slowly. The snapshot section is an essential part of every annual and without a doubt helps put the book over. It is requested that more snapshots be handed in to make this section complete.

The Staff promises a great surprise for the students and faculty as a result of the faculty baby picture section.

The Athletic section promises action. Speaking of action, there is still time to pledge for a Tower. You may not think you're interested, but when they come out in May all the other students have their Towers, then, if you haven't one you'll realize what a great mistake you made when you didn't pledge for a Tower.

Bill's Car

Bill Hooser went south last week end, but not to the South Seas nor to give the cannibals someone's regards, but to secure a little dinger of a car down in Fond du Lac. On the way back one tire went flat because all of the air sneaked out. Having heard that women drivers are considerate and good tire changers he decided to sit down and wait. Finally a girl came along and stopped.

She said, "Have you a flat tire?" "No," said Bill, "I'm just changing the air; the old lot is worn out." This girl wasn't the one of a hundred that know anything about a car; therefore Bill was obliged to perform that difficult operation. He did not place much air in the tires because a little air in a tire will not make such a loud noise when the tire goes broke. Anyway the car and the driver reached Menomonee.

This Kampus Kar is foreign in design and "Beener" by name. Before one can enter this contraption one must put his feet into his pockets and abandon all hope. Also it is advisable to read the directions on the outside of the car.

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonee Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

High Schools Are Growing In Number

(Continued from page one)

been taken in this country since 1920, a careful estimate indicates that 40 per cent of the children of ages 15, 16, 17 and 18 were enrolled in public high schools about 1923, and 50 per cent in 1928.

The rapid growth which was experienced between 1915 and 1925 seems to be followed by a period of growth that is decidedly slower; so much so, that it is difficult to forecast how soon an additional 10 per cent of the children of high-school age will be enrolled in public high schools.

According to the Office of Education, in 1927-28, there were 18,116 public high schools, white and colored, reporting, in response to a questionnaire, an enrollment of 4,217,313 pupils—2,028,722 boys and 2,188,591 girls.

Enrollment by subject in public high schools has been collected by the Office of Education at intervals since 1890. During that year, data were collected showing enrollments in nine subjects: Latin, Greek, French, German, algebra, geometry, physics, chemistry, and general history. The expansion of the high school program enables high schools now to report enrollments in about 250 different subjects.

The average number of pupils per school enrolled in 18,116 public high schools in 1928 was 233. In junior high schools the average was 598; in junior-senior schools, 305; in senior schools, 770; and in regular high schools, 164. Schools with an enrollment of fewer than 50 pupils comprise 30.4 per cent of the total number of schools reporting, and they enrolled less than 4 per cent of the pupils in public high schools.

In 1928 the public high schools graduated 474,736 pupils—210,916 boys and 263,820 girls.

In regular high schools, 30.2 per cent of the graduates went to college and 13.3 per cent to some other institution after graduation. In reorganizing high schools 31.2 per cent went to college and 10.3 per cent to some other institution after graduation.

In every group a higher percentage of boys than of girls went to college, and a higher percentage of girls than of boys went to some other institutions, such as normal schools and commercial schools.

In the 18,116 public high schools reporting, 182,637 teachers are employed, or 1 teacher for each 23.1 pupils enrolled.

A hot bread sale will be sponsored by the Hyperians, Saturday, March 22, at the Red Owl Store. The sale begins at 2:30 in the afternoon. Come and get those good hot rolls like mother used to make!

A blotter is something you look for while the ink is drying.

Dean Bowman To Meet Group In Milwaukee

Dean Bowman will leave Menomonee to attend a luncheon Saturday noon at the Schroeder Hotel in Milwaukee. There he will meet with the Executive Committee of the Wisconsin Vocational Association to discuss plans for meeting with the president and secretary of the American Vocational Association in Milwaukee in December. Dean Bowman will also meet with a committee Saturday afternoon to study and discuss the problem of the teachers' certification in Wisconsin.

Purdue Inspectors Pleased With Stout

Inspectors H. B. McComb and J. D. Hoffman, who are affiliated with the department of Industrial Education from Purdue University in Lafayette, Indiana, last week-end visited The Stout Institute as one of four institutions representing the various phases of Industrial Education. The inspectors commented very favorably on the type and scope of work being done in this institution. They were well pleased with the care and attention they received while inspecting. Dean Bowman is the recipient of a letter of acknowledgement which states that the inspectors gained much valuable information and that they are indebted to this institution.

Ballentine Speaks At Regular Assembly

(Continued from page one)

made of a boy who had good conduct, courtesy, personality, ability, who was a booster and a leader in his class, and who also made a great success in the world. "Success is the result of development of personality but to label a child as a success or failure during the adolescence age never works," he concluded.

See us for haircuts; we satisfy our customers

THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

Haircuts at any hour of the day

Three first class barbers

THE ELECTRIC SHOR

LADIES!!

All Kinds and Colors of
HEELS RE-COVERED

Service Shoe Shop

Next to Hosford's Electric Shop

Good Meals and Refreshments

SERVICE

Hotel Marion

Coffee Shop

SERVICE

We do dry cleaning every day. If you need the use of your suit immediately, take advantage of our "ONE DAY SERVICE."

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE

Spring Suits $22.50 to $35.00

MENOMONIE DYE HOUSE

Running & Cole

Curtis House Leads In Intra Mural Bowling

With an increasing interest being shown on the bowling alleys, the intra-mural bowling tournament is coming to a close. Three games have been rolled by each team with the exception of the Home Towners who have rolled only two.

There have been several high scores with the results that the teams are placed as follows:

Curtis ..... 2308 Pins
Cafeteria ..... 2114 Pins
Greeleys ..... 1905 Pins
Eye Openers ..... 1868 Pins
Home Towners ..... 1345 Pins

Schedule for the last week is as follows:
Monday—Curtis - Home Towners.
Tuesday—Home Towners-Greeleys.
Wednesday—Braker - Curtis.
Thursday—Home Towners - Cafeteria.

Friday—Braker - Eye Openers.
This will complete the bowling schedule with the final standing of the teams appearing in next week's paper. Swimming and Kittenball are the two remaining sports on the intra-mural program.

—S—

ATTENTION
Stout Tea Room
Attraction-Lunch
Served Wed. and Fri.
Please Try Us

Stoutonia Readers
Why not lunch at the Stout Tea Room on Wed. and Fri. Noon, $35.

Why don't the Stout Students eat at the Tea Room?

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
EAT

THE PEERLESS GRILL
"The Home of Good Food"

Henrietta Quilling Chosen Prom Queen

(Continued from page one)

in a position of leadership in campus activities thruout his three years' residence here. "Charleston" has been treasurer of his class for the part of two years, has been elected to office in several of the clubs that he belongs to, and for the past season has been in charge of the students in every sense, gracious to associates, deserving of the Prom honors, and should make happily-accepted leaders for the peak function of the social year.

TAILORING

Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service

A. E. HERREM

Menomonee Baking Co.

Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor

Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

FOUNTAIN PENS

Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

The place to get SHOES of
LONG WEAR and DAY LONG
COMFORT

Swenson and Berndt
The Shoe Men

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS
F. A. TORREY

LET'S EAT

Tasty Sandwiches — Kistwiches

HOME MADE

PIES — CAKES — DONUTS

OPEN AFTER THE DANCES

THE CANDY SHOP

SPRING HATS

$2.98 — $3.90

1930

SPRING SUITS

In The Going Colors

$17.90 — $22.50

TOP COATS

$9.90 — $14.90 — $19.90

EVENS TOBIN CO.

Stout Is Re-rated By American Association Of Teacher's Colleges

North Central Association Give Same Rating As It Did
Two Years Ago

Last week, President Nelson received official notice from the secretary of the American Association of Teachers Colleges advising him that this institution had been accorded a new favorable rating by that association.

Two years ago, when this institution was inspected by representatives of that association it was given a class "A" college rating but with three minor reservations. (1) The library lacked the required number of volumes; (2) the association felt that the number and type of degrees were not satisfactory; (3) the committee was not convinced of the merit of our provisions made for practice teaching. In this report satisfaction is expressed with the progress in all three, therefore this institution is given an unqualified "A" rating. This should be a source of keen satisfaction to the faculty and students.

That report, however, was not sufficient to influence the North Central Association of Colleges to induce them to give The Stout Institute a higher rating than that accorded two years ago. A month ago Dr. W. E. Peik of the University of Minnesota, was instructed to make a survey of this institution by the North Central Association following an application made by President Nelson for a new rating. Dr. Peik's report was very favorable. The conclusion of his report is condensed into a paragraph of a letter received by President Nelson this week which reads as follows: "I recommended your admission to the North Central Association providing that the committee has precedent to overlap the fact that the training of the faculty does not meet standard size." This means that the North Central Association (Continued to page three)

Special Committee Of Trustee Board Investigates Stout

Governor Of Opinion That Legislature Has Been Too Liberal With Stout

Mr. E. J. Kaerney, Milwaukee, Mr. R. H. Loecher, Eau Claire, and Mr. A. W. MacTaggart, Superior, a special committee to investigate the financial needs of The Stout Institute, appointed by President E. W. Schultz at the last quarterly meeting of the board of trustees, visited The Stout Institute on Saturday, March 16.

As an explanation of the creation of the committee it is necessary to state that when the bill passed the legislature making provision for the support of Stout for the present biennium, the governor had dealt too liberally with this institution. He called to his office certain members of the board and gave them to understand that he would veto the appropriation unless they gave some assurance that part of the money appropriated would remain in the treasury unspent.

Bill Too Liberal

No one member of the board appears to know what assurance was given the governor or whether any assurance was given. Members of the board, however, seem to feel that some effort should be made to curtail expenditures and respect the governor's wish. That accounts for the appointment of the committee and its visit.

President Nelson Prepares Report
Following the inspection and conference, President Nelson prepared a report summarizing what seemed to be the conclusions of the committee and forwarded the same this week to the chairman. This report if verified by the Committee will withdraw from the amount made available to this institution by the state an amount equal to approximately $7,000 which amount will remain in the treasury at the end of this year.

President Nelson declined to discuss the matter and gave no comment upon the improvements which would of necessity have to be deferred to another year.

CAMPUS CARTOONS

Dr. Bachman To Lead Sunday Group Meeting

Dr. Freda Bachmann will be the leader of the discussion at the last meeting for this year at the Young People's Discussion group which convenes at the Congregational church parlors Sunday evening, March 30 at 7:45 p. m. Her subject will concern the relationship of science and religion, a topic with unusual modern appeal.

College-age girls as well as young men are especially invited to this last one of the many interesting meetings of this group. Dr. Bachmann promises a discussion which will be of great interest to anyone who is concerned with modern trends of thought.

Group Experiment a Success

Under the chairmanship of Bonsall Smith, this group has sponsored many worthwhile discussions this winter, opening several of them to the general public. Outstanding among these were the series of talks about vital problems facing every young person in the field of human relationships.

The group was also the sponsor of the preparedness debate between Prof. Paville and Major MacCauley, the series of lectures by the Reverend Harold Kingsley, noted negro sociologist, the prohibition debate between Mrs. A. H. Shoemaker, past president of the state federation of women's clubs, and Prof. Paville, a recent valuable talk by Miss Helen Smith, and several other important meetings.

Jack Notabaart Still Active In Athletics

Mr. Nootabart is still taking a great interest in sports and is not leaving them lag behind in his own school.

During the basketball season, "Jack" has acted as official in some of the high school games near Appleton. While at Stout Mr. Nootabart played with both the basketball and football teams.

THANK YOU

I, as chairman of the DeMolay Formal, wish to extend my appreciation for the cooperation given us by the student body, the Stout faculty, and the local merchants, to make the DeMolay Formal a success.

I feel that these groups have proved without a question that they are behind our organization.

To the group from Eau Claire I wish to extend my thanks for coming and hopes that they had a good time.

Sincerely,
Melvin L. Reese.

De Molays Stage A Record Breaker With 1930 Spring Formal

Reporter Gives Unique Account
Of The Season's Great
Formal Affair

Last Saturday night was the second of a series of three times in the school year, when the boys take their tuxes and hard boiled shirts out of the moth-balls and the girls cut the sleeves off their dresses, and the Stout Institute has a semi-formal, this time sponsored by the DeMolay Club. What a party this was! Never before has the gym looked so beautiful. The band, the decorations, the people, the dresses, Oh, where to begin, where to begin! The low ceiling with the colored lights casting their soft reflections on the swaying couples, rapturous music by Jack Wright's Ohioans, the beautiful dignity characteristic of any formal dance, all these created a scene which no one could ever forget.

There have been several times when Stout Institute was privileged to hear good jazz bands, but Jack Wright's Ohioans top them all. Were they not? This is no time for foolish questions. And those waltzes! They were enough to make anyone want to dance forever. Picture it follows—soft lights, the little girl in your arms, and that orchestra! Who wants ever to think of school again? Smiles hasn't got over the effects yet and Gilley and Laurine are still kicking themselves for not going. (They should).

It would be impossible to tell about everyone who attended, so only a few will be mentioned here. Several members of the faculty joined in on the good time. Guests of honor were President and Mrs. Nelson, Dean and Mrs. Bowman, Dean Michaels, Mr. and Mrs. Good, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Miss Hassler, Miss Miller and Dean Price.

The School of Industrial Education was very well represented by Mr. Price, Dean of Men.

Dusty once more gave the folks a treat by inviting the lady friend over. Nice going Dusty!

Many members of the Eau Claire Chapter drove over also. It is hoped that they enjoyed themselves as much as the local students did.

(Continued to page three)

S.S.A. Sponsoring Friday Night Dance

The Friday night dance this week is to be sponsored by the Stout Student Association and presentation of the S. S. A. ticket insures admittance. Music will be furnished by Wallin's Band.

This is the first dance to be put on by the S. S. A. this year. This fact should be an incentive for everyone to come.

Earl L. Baddel Interviews Students

Earl L. Baddel who is connected with the Detroit Public School System was here Wednesday to interview the Industrial Education and Home Economics students for teaching positions in that city. The students seeking positions were called together in a group for preliminary discussion of the general characteristics of the Detroit School System. They were informed of the types of teaching positions available and the possibilities for promotion. The beginning teacher will receive a salary of $170.00 per month and a $10.00 per month raise after each year of teaching. A higher salary will be paid to teachers who have had previous teaching experience. The school day will consist of five clock hours and the class attendance will range from 30 to 40 pupils. Teachers will be required to teach courses which have already been organized by the school administration.

After the prospective teachers were individually interviewed, Mr. Baddel expressed satisfaction with the candidates. Indications seem to point to an early placement of several men and women in Detroit next year.

"Barney" Hagen To Be Brought Home Sun.

"Barney" Hagen, Assistant News Editor of the Stoutonia, is to be taken to his room soon. His condition is greatly improved.

"Barney" has for the last three weeks been confined in the city hospital, suffering with pneumonia. His condition has been so greatly improved that he is expected back by tomorrow.

He will, however, be forced to stay in his room for a couple of weeks in order that he may recuperate before returning to his class work.

CALENDAR

Monday

Scienic Club ..... 5:00 o'clock
Stoutonia Staff ..... 5:00 o'clock
Women's Glee Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Men's Glee Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Tower Staff ..... 7:00 o'clock

Tuesday

Philos ..... 7:00 o'clock
Marquette La Salle ..... 7:00 o'clock
Band ..... 7:00 o'clock

Wednesday

Metallurgy ..... 7:00 o'clock
Rifle Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Y. W. C. A. ..... 5:00 o'clock

Thursday

Aremi ..... 7:30 o'clock
Hyperians ..... 8:00 o'clock
Orchestra ..... 7:00 o'clock

Mr. George Rector And Chauveau Give Demonstration Here

Chauveau Likes America; Thinks
Girls Are Just Fine;
Autographs Books

Mr. George Rector, world famous restaurateur, accompanied by his instructing chef, M. Rene Chauveau, gave two very interesting and unusual demonstrations at The Stout Institute Wednesday, March 26th. These demonstrations consisted of the preparation of various foods which are served on the diners of the Milwaukee road. One demonstration was presented in the morning at 10 o'clock and the other at 3:00 P. M. Both were very well attended.

The demonstrations consisted of preparation of real foods, not extravagant but within the budget of the average home. The first dish prepared was Canape of Crabmeat; "The Pioneer". Mr. Rector explained the meaning of canape as appetizer, or anything that goes on a piece of toast.

The second dish prepared was Onion Soup Au Gratin which proved to be an unusual and delightful treatment of a common and lowly vegetable.

Veal Cutlet a la Vichy proved to be a veal cutlet with carrots, all dressed up. Other dishes consisted of Petit Pois a L'Etuvee, Combination Salad Chiffonade Dressing, Pioneer Salad, with Cream Mayonnaise, and Eggs Au Beurre Noir.

The chef proved to be very adept at handling food and his many knives, sharp and vari-sized, were a constant source of interest to the audience. Mr. Rector, in the course of his explanations, stressed the use and value of three Wisconsin products, butter, cream, and eggs.

Mr. Rector at present is officially Director of Cuisine of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad, while Mr. Chauveau is instructor.

(Continued to page three)

Dr. R. E. Vaughn, of Wisconsin, Speaks On Disease In Plants

Illustrations And Pictures Show Causes And Cures For Plant Diseases

An illustrated lecture by Dr. R. E. Vaughn, Professor of Plant Pathology at the University of Wisconsin, was the feature of the special assembly program on Wednesday morning of this week. Dr. Vaughn was introduced by Miss Ruth Dodge, President of the Science Club, as the guest of that organization.

The topic of his lecture was disease in plants. As the speaker explained, recent research has shed much light on old problems concerning plant diseases. The lantern slides which he showed were very instructive on the subject of causes, preventions, and cures for plant diseases.

Dr. Vaughn began by describing the different causes and conditions in plant ailments. He showed that the growth of organisms coupled with environmental conditions of moisture, temperature, and food were responsible for many of the blights, mildews, and rusts found on trees and plants.

The slides showed illustrations and actual pictures of potato scab and apple scab which are world-wide in occurrence and which are the result of growth of fungi. Shot hole or leaf spot in cherry trees, resulting from the same cause, was also shown, as were pictures of trees which had been sprayed and attended properly to insure prevention of any fungus growth.

Changing from orchard to field, the slides revealed grains with and without smut, and demonstrated how smut may be prevented by proper disinfecting.

Several times during the year the Science Club succeeds in getting scientists of note to come here and lecture. A dinner in honor of Dr. Vaughn was given Wednesday night in the Stout Tea Room. Faculty members as well as the Science Club and members of science classes were invited. A short program of two musical numbers was supplemented by a few words from the honor guest, Dr. Vaughn.

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                               |                       |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Managing Editor               | E. V. Ahonen          |
| Associate Editor              | Henrietta L. Quilling |
| News Editor                   | Chester Mau           |
| News Editor                   | Belinda Hendrickson   |
| Assistant News Editor         | Bernard Hagen         |
| Assistant News Editor         | Vivian Hewitt         |
| Feature Editor                | William Soucie        |
| Feature Editor                | Kent Riggs            |
| Feature Editor                | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Humor Editor                  | Carl Roll             |
| Sports Editor                 | Georgia Aber          |
| Sports Editor                 | William Micheels      |
| Exchange Editor               | Albert Gilles         |
| Organization Editor           | Anita Gundlach        |
| Organization Editor           | Nicholas Marsilio     |
| Cartoonist                    | Kathleen Lind         |
| Staff Photographer            | R. A. Jakoubek        |
| Business Manager              | Earl C. Halverson     |
| Circulation Manager           | Robert G. Reick       |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Carl Roll             |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Byron Canatsey        |
| Advertising Manager           | Marlo McCullough      |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr.        | Floyd C. Larson       |
| Intertype Operator            | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Foreman Mechanical Department | Kent Riggs            |
| Under Direction of            | Mr. C. W. Hague       |
| Editorial Adviser             | Mr. John Faville, Jr. |
| Associate Adviser             | Miss Helen Sarchet    |

WHY NOT EAT IN THE TEA ROOM?

The girls are serving lunches in the Stout tea rooms. Up to date they have not been well attended by the men.

According to those who have eaten there, the meals served are excellent and well prepared. The nominal sum of thirty-five cents is being charged.

Come on fellows, let's break the ice and try the place.

PROHIBITION VOTE

The question of prohibition and prohibition enforcement has, in the past few years, taken an increasingly strong hold on the minds of the American people. The newspapers have been full of accounts on this question, the Literary Digest has run a straw vote, and the question of modification or repeal has been brought to the foreground time after time.

Many colleges have followed the Digest by running a similar vote. How does Stout stand on this important economic question? The STOUTONIA is going to hold a straw vote for the purpose of finding out. Ballots will be passed out in assembly next Thursday so that every professor, student, and office employee, may register his conclusion.

The results of the vote will be published in the STOUTONIA. If you haven't given prohibition much thought in the past, now is the time to do a bit of studying on it so that your vote will be your true conviction.

ARE STUDENT ACTIVITIES WORTH WHILE?

So many criticisms are made of student extra-curricular activities (and many of these adverse comments may be justified) that it seems well occasionally to come to their defense.

College training is primarily planned to make the students more capable, efficient, and happy members of the world in which they live. A distinctly professional or technical school recognizes this purpose and attempts to turn out thoroughly qualified members of the professions or industries. In fact so completely have we become indoctrinated with the idea of developing highly specialized units of the industrial structure that it sometimes appears that our concept of the educative process has become narrow and wholly materialistic.

The individual in society today is more than the embodiment of an economic machine. He is a member of the community in which he lives, and the life of that community is dependant upon him and his comparably educated and occupied fellows. We have felt that the great need was to train leaders; may it not be that we must also train a large number of cooperators?

The college student activity, if it is wisely directed and definitely interested in some phase of community living, is an asset to the individual and to the institution which fosters it. Dramatics afford opportunities for the acquiring of a general and broad understanding of the business of writing, staging, and directing of plays. Forensics give participants a chance to develop logical arrangement of thoughts and to present ideas forcefully. Athletics, particularly intra-mural athletics, offer an unusually fine program of physical upbuilding. Publications proffer a laboratory for the engagement in and understanding of one of the great contemporary molders of public opinion. And so we might go on through the list of student organizations. They are all potential outlets for personal desires and interests which may well eventuate in a body of trained co-operators.

Further than this, the students engaging in such extra-curricular activities develop a sense of self-responsibility. The student activities represent various factors which comprise community life. The more actively acquainted the student becomes with these civic forces, the more able is he as a leader and cooperator. In our organizations the students take the initiative; they are directly responsible for the success or failure of projected programs. This means student self-responsibility.

Participation in the experiments of these student laboratories is certain to give students a valuable training for responsible community living.

—M. M. Price.

Let's Laugh

Antique Campus Car

Distinct in design and appearance, this gold-shelled-radiator flivver can go eighty miles an hour down a steep grade providing some other car is pulling it.

This speed demon, owned jointly by Peterson, Riggs, and Murray, and bearing green license plates did not suit the cop, who cannot understand these kollitch boys; therefore he asked them to go with him to the important place of the town.

On the way, Murray, the witty Irishman, said to the cop, "Don't get the big head just because you are riding with us."

The boys were released after the misunderstanding had been settled, and they were asked to display the new plates and not hide them in the back seat.

New Invention

One of our ambitious tinkers has invented a muffler for barking shoes.

Freshman (entering crowded barber shop): "How long will I have to wait for a shave?"

Barber (eyeing him critically): "Oh, I should judge about two years."

"How can you chew your gum so long?"

"Oh, I soak it in gasoline to get more mileage."

If you watch some women shop you would think they were taking inventory of the store.

"So the judge fined you fifty dollars for hitting your wife with a golf club?"

"Oh, he said it wasn't so much for hitting her as it was for using the wrong club!"

He: "I'm going to buy myself a harem."

It: "What do you mean? You can't buy a harem, can you?"

He: "Sure. I saw a sign at a gas station that said 'Eight Gals for a Dollar.'"

"Boy, what kinda segar is dat you is smoking?"

"Nigger, dat's a quarter seegar."

"Quarter nothing. You never pay no two bits for a seegar."

"I didn't say nothing about dat. The boss he smokes three-quarters and I smoke a quarter."

Too Late

"Well, little boy, are you going to be president when you grow up?"

"No, they have one already."

In case of an auto wreck, who should speak first? And should one man precede the lady through the windshield?

Porter: "Does you-all wish to sleep head first or feet first?"

Co-ed: "That's very sweet of you, but I'd prefer to take all of my sleep at once."

Girl (falling for the tenth time as the boy friend attempts to teach her to skate): "Let's sit this one out!"

Norman Peterson hopes that it will get warm so that he can get his outside reading done.

Bryant: "Prepare thyself fair damsel for I will take thy head off."

Doris Henry: "I'm not ticklish."

Variety

We have many forms of entertainment. Last Thursday evening the three ring circus was presented which was none other than the girls swimming meet.

Was it a Dream?

The scene of the DeMolay formal was a night in June with the blue sky and pale moon supplemented by the splendid music that cheered the struggling mass of girls who wore dresses in which the sleeves had fallen near the bottom, forming a funny do-rigger, and boys, who wore flying collars with bullet proof shirts.

Rose: "I'm going to be an aviator."

Ida: "You should."

Rose: "Why?"

Ida: "You're no good on earth."

(In Freehand Drawing) Goober: "I wonder what I could do with my drawing. It isn't right."

Berg: "Take it about a mile east of town."

Ashes to ashes,
Dust to dust,
I love you so much
I nearly bust.

We All Do

I love its gentle murmur,
I love its gentle flow,
I love to wind my mouth up,
And listen to it go.

ANVIL SPARKS

from Aries

"The price is worth paying if you keep what you have bought."
—Kipling

The trouble with many of us is that we do not know the difference between poise and pose.

The worth of people is not measured in pounds.

Alumni

Charles H. Kruger, of the class of '29, now teaching in Atlanta, Ga., is teaching radio work. Recently his station has been assigned the call letters W4YC and WTHS. He expects to be on the air soon and requests that any Stout students who get his station please write and tell him so. His new address is 768 Spring Street, Atlanta, Ga.

This week our Editor received another copy of a school publication from one of our Stout alumni.

The publication this time was from Mr. Earl Myers, who is the printing instructor at the Chisholm High School. This book, called "The Promoter", is very well organized and shows a great deal of work. The book consists of nearly a hundred pages, which is a great undertaking for a high school. Many interesting articles are in this quarterly publication which are a credit to the senior class of that school who published it. The mechanical staff also showed much talent in the organization, composition and printing of such a large school paper.

"Dodo" Johnson arrived in Menomonie last Sunday and remained with us during the rest of the week. He still has his spirit set along the line of "promoting" things. This time he brought a member of his basketball team along and tried to interest him in choosing Stout Institute for his college career. This is the spirit that we need among our alumni if we expect to put our school on the "map."

One way in which we can boost our school is by encouraging others to enroll at our school. Let us all help.

In Columbus, Ohio, Stout is represented by Miss Janet Clark who is broadening her knowledge in the work of dietetics at the Ohio State University of that city.

Miss Clark left our school during the mid-semester and will complete her course in dietetics during the month of August. She has enjoyed her work at this hospital a great deal and is acquiring some first hand information in regard to her work in dietetics.

During the mid-semester, when Mr. Lester Hawkes accepted his position with the Madison Vocational School he filled the vacancy left by one of our alumni who is now attending Stout. This person is Mr. Russel Landis.

Mr. Russel Landis was the printing teacher at the Madison Vocational School for the past several years. During the mid-semester he resigned his position at Madison in order that he might return to Stout to resume his studies and secure the Bachelor's degree. Mr. Landis has been a very significant factor in the success of the Madison Vocational News and has lent an ever ready help to making the paper mean something in the life of the school. Of his long standing cooperation, the editor and the staff of the Madison Vocational School are very appreciative. They also wish him luck and success in his work at Stout.

In accepting this position, Mr. Hawkes has taken over the complete responsibility of the school paper. The paper is very well planned and is a good piece of work.

The DeMolay Formal, which was held last Saturday, attracted a few of our alumni back to our school for a short visit.

The alumni that attended the DeMolay Formal were Mr. Lester Hawkes, Mr. Al Poellinger and Miss Leota Hanson.

Al Poellinger came all the way from Neenah, Wis., to attend the Formal and returned last Sunday in order to be back at his teaching position on Monday.

Along with Al Poellinger came Mr. John Nootabart, better known as "Jack", who is teaching in the Vocational School at Appleton, Wisconsin. During his short stay in Menomonie, "Jack" met many of his friends and class-mates.

Here'n There

The River Falls State Teachers College debaters earned the right to represent their school in the state championship debate when they came through with victories over Platteville and Stevens Point.

The question which both teams either proved or disproved was: Resolved: The United States shall adopt a policy of National Disarmament.

These two victories make it possible for River Falls to move into the final triangle against Whitewater and Oshkosh.

—The Student Voice.

With the advent of warm weather, tennis men of Macalester College are beginning to unlimber rackets again, although they are still forced to remain inside and take their workouts in the gym.

The prospects for developing another title-winning team is bright.

—The Mac Weekly.

The Fairer Sex demonstrated its scholastic superiority over the men Journalism students of Marquette by winning the three keys for Scholarship offered by the national chapter of Sigma Delta Chi to the highest ten per cent of the senior class.

—The Marquette Tribune.

Sixty students comprising the Hamline University Choir and the director left the Hamline campus on March 26, for the annual tour of that organization. The group will travel by bus and will appear for concerts in Aitkin, Hibbing, Chisholm, Duluth, and Eveleth. During this trip seven concerts will be given including a broadcasting program over station W. E. B. C.

—The Hamline Oracle.

Captain George Simmons in his lecture at Beloit college told of his adventures while searching for zoological specimens in the islands of the South Atlantic. He illustrated his story with moving pictures and colored stereotyped slides taken on the 20,000 mile cruise.

The Round Table.

The annual high school basketball tournament was won for the second consecutive year by the Menomonie school. This victory gave the Menomonie basketball team a chance for the state title which is being fought over this week.

That Menomonie high school has a good team is shown in the selection of G. Braker and G. Decker on the first team of the tournament.

Platteville Teachers College will again have baseball. The sport was not offered last year for collegiate competition but was kept alive through intramural play.

New equipment has been purchased, and the movement is in full swing to present a crack varsity nine this year. Interest is high, and keen competition for places is expected. The school is also expecting to make a trip to Iowa after the teams are developed.

—The Exponent.

Perhaps most of the students at Stout remember the time when our school took an active interest in baseball. Why is it impossible for us to resurrect our baseball interest and put baseball again on the map as one of the school's athletic activities?

For the first time in three years, Marquette debaters won the triangular meet between Purdue, Michigan State and Marquette.

In 1926 when the triangular conference was organized, Marquette won. In their victory over Purdue, Marquette debaters argued the negative of the disarmament question.

The biggest debate of the entire season will be held April 5, when the Marquette university debaters will oppose the Chinese debaters from Harvard University.

—The Marquette Tribune.

Morningside College is sponsoring an "Omnibus College" trip which will leave Sioux City, Iowa, on March 29, to join the main expedition at its home in Winfield, Kansas. The second trip will start on July 15, when two busses will leave.

The "college" consist of a fleet of large busses, each capable of carrying 33 passengers. Roll tops are provided on every bus. A special dining car is with the fleet, and a well trained chef is employed. The students will sleep in tents that they take along.

Dr. Goldsmith is director of the trip at present and will be assisted by a staff of instructors, trained to give a course in biology. College credit, accepted in most schools in the country, is given for this course.

—The Collegiate Reporter.

Don't forget the S. S. A. Dance tonight.

Organizations

At the regular meeting of the club on Monday evening, the nominating committee presented two lists of candidates for office to be voted upon at the meeting next week.

A special dinner meeting was held on Wednesday evening. At this time the club members and their guests enjoyed hearing Dr. R. E. Vaughan, professor of plant pathology at the University of Wisconsin. Dr. Vaughan spoke on the personnel and the researches of the department. It was especially interesting to hear of interstate and international problems which must be solved by the plant pathologist.

The Nutrition Three class, through the thoughtfulness of Miss Cruise, were pleasantly surprised on Monday afternoon. Following the five o'clock class, the girls were invited to Miss Cruise's laboratory where they were served tea and cake, which was a fitting climax to the day's work. If a well prepared lesson warranted this little surprise, the girls are going to work very hard in the future.

The apartment off room 320 on third floor of the Home Economics Building will be open to visitors on Friday, April 4. The Tenth Grade Home Economics classes have had the furnishing of this apartment as their project. Details of their work will be explained at an early date.

The Hyperian Society of The Stout Institute is conducting a story hour at the Memorial Library each Saturday morning from ten to eleven o'clock through the months of March and April.

The kindergarten and first grade comprise one group, and the second and third grades the other. Should older children be interested, a third group will be arranged for them.

The selection of stories is directed by Mrs. Nickerson of the public library. It is the aim of the girls to provide stories that are both pleasing and educational.

The story hour has been conducted successfully for the past two years.

The Philomathean Basketball team proved to be the inter-society champions when they came out victors over the S. M. A. Society in a game last Tuesday.

After challenging the Hyperians to a battle, the Philos gained an easy victory in a very slow game March 2 which resulted in a 26 to 2 score.

The second and final game of the series was played Tuesday, March 18, against the S. M. A. Society. Although it was a faster game, the Philos came out on top with twelve points ahead. The score was 28 to 16.

Members of the champion team included: Clarysse Ness, center; Louise Hobart and Janet Robertson, forwards; Alice Ostrum, Mildred Haggard, and Gracey Quarters, guards. On the Hyperian team were: Henrietta Quilling, center; Alice Lynum and Winifred Cooper, forwards; Emma Hanson, Frances Inenfeldt, and Florence Verbrick, guards. Lucille Schultz headed the S. M. A. team and was assisted by Ethel Anderson and Myrtle Anderson, forwards, and Gail Galloway, Jane Hambley, and Laura Andreaasen, guards.

Chauveau And Rector Demonstrate Here

(Continued from page one)

ing chef of the same road.

These two men conduct a school in Chicago for the crews of the 70 or 80 diners on the Milwaukee road. This school generally is conducted 3 days of the week and the rest of the week is spent by Mr. Rector and M. Chauveau in traveling and inspecting the work of the various chefs of the several diners of the Milwaukee road. They also supervise an experimental kitchen conducted in Chicago.

Mr. Rector has appeared in demonstrations at the University of Wisconsin and at the University of Chicago. He has conducted food shows in several western cities, Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, and Spokane, as well as in those of the middle west.

Mr. Rector attended Shattuck Military academy at Fairbault, Minnesota. He is a member of the class of 1900 of Cornell University. He spent one year in Paris, France, studying and learning the hows and whys of French cookery in several famous restaurants and hotels. It is interesting to note that the Rector family has been in the restaurant business for a century. Twenty-five years of this time George Rector spent in business with his father in New York city. His grandfather started with a hotel in Lockport, New York.

A short time ago a series of articles written by Mr. Rector appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. The first series of eight was entitled, "The Girl from Rector's"; the second series of thirteen was "A Cook's Tour". In preparing for these Mr. Rector spent five months in Europe under the auspices of the Saturday Evening Post.

When asked what most people liked to eat when traveling, Mr. Rector replied that roast beef, filet mignon, steaks and chicken were the general favorites. One of his chief duties is to plan the menus for the dining cars of the Milwaukee road. Mr. Rector was of the opinion that white and colored chefs are of equal ability. On diners all of the waiters are colored; the chefs on the coast trains are entirely white. The overnight trains usually have colored cooks. The colored chefs are especially talented in preparing hot breads and pie crusts to say nothing of fried chicken.

Mr. Rector has this to say for the American woman: "The American woman is a good cook. She is trying to improve her cooking—this is the reason for her interest in the culinary art."

The instructing chef, Mr. Chauveau, was a characteristic Frenchman, slender, deft of movement, dark complexioned, with sparkling eyes and the usual French chef's attire—cap, kerchief, apron, blouse, and blue and white checkered trousers.

Mr. Chauveau has been in the United States two and one-half years, coming from London where he had been for five years. Three generations of the Chauveau family have been cooks. Rene Chauveau was born in the Burgundy country and at the age of fourteen began his apprenticeship as a chef, which lasted for three years. After finishing his apprenticeship he went to Paris to the several famous restaurants and studied the famous and special French dishes. From Paris he went to Spain, spending time in Madrid, San Sebastian, and Cadiz. Then he returned to France to the Revieria. From here he traveled to Genoa, Italy, and San Ramos, a famous seaside restaurant. His travels were not as yet complete, for he spent six months in Germany. In 1914 he crossed over to England. At the outbreak of the World War Rene Chauveau returned to France and served in the French army, being wounded three times. After the war he returned to England going also to Ireland and Scotland to study the special dishes of those countries.

Mr. Chauveau is well pleased with America and thinks the American girls are just fine.

"The majority of the girls are more willing to learn to cook now than before—so all young men who are going to be bridegrooms today or in the future will be lucky", says Mr. Chauveau.

At the close of the demonstration both Mr. Rector and Mr. Chauveau autographed the many Rector cookbooks which were for sale at that time.

—S—

Courtship makes life brigher without increasing the light bills.

"Is that the cemetery over there?"
"Yes, that's the last hole."

Have Your Sunday Night Supper Here

CHICKEN SANDWICHES

HOT or COLD

THE OLYMPIA

"Pete" Jeatran

Spring Millinery

A visit to our millinery department will convince you of the smart hats at popular prices we specialize in.

New, rich, smart looking models in the newer materials and shapes for spring.

COATS-DRESSES-HOSIERY
AND UNDERGARMENTS

Summerfield's, On Broadway

Personals

On Monday evening, Mar. 31, W. B. Davison will be the main speaker of the evening at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club of New Richmond.

—S—

"Barney" Hagen, who has been ill at the city hospital for the past three weeks, will return to his room today. It will be necessary for him to remain indoors a few days, but he is expected to be able to return to school within a week or so.

—S—

LYNWOOD HALL

Ellen Nelson and Cecelia Cadigan spent Saturday in the Cities.

Theodore Petrick was the guest of Margaret Hartwell Saturday and Sunday.

Doctor Bachman spent Saturday with Miss Callahan in the Cities.

Frances Hill and Eleanor Nelson enjoyed the week end at their homes.

Lucille Hebl and Eleanor Vergin are the strong girls at Lynwood Hall. They practice each night by lifting Ellen Nelson.

—S—

TAINTER HALL

Alice Haslerud visited her brother in the Cities on Saturday and Sunday. While in Minneapolis, she had the opportunity of attending the Pulitzer Prize play "Street Scene", and also the opera, "Madame Butterfly".

Carol Brick, Ivernia Forsland, and Marian Cress were Eau Claire shoppers on Saturday.

Esther Bock reports an enjoyable week end spent at her home in Appleton, Wis.

Lucille Schultz from Lynwood was Carol Brick's dinner guest on Sunday.

—S—

TAINTER ANNEX

Miss Jeter was preceptress at the Annex during Miss Balerude's absence.

Marie Schraeder spent the week end at her home in Grabton, Wis.

Because of the chilly weather, there

SCHOOL SUPPLIES
AND FINE STATIONARY
A. R. OLSON

Your Hair Requires
Professional Care
I. W. NESSER
"The Barber"

Stout Is Re-rated By American Association

(Continued from page one)

ciation in their standards require that a Ph. D. must head each of the eight departments in The Stout Institute.

President Nelson appeared before the North Central Association last week. He was in attendance upon the committee from nine in the morning until twelve-thirty that night. Twenty-three colleges were under consideration. Three of them are in Wisconsin.

No notice of the action of the committee has been received, but the fact that no press notices have carried the information or that earlier notice has not been received the opinion maintains that Stout's rating in the association will remain unchanged for one more year. It will continue to be a member. When the report of the "commission on higher institutions of learning" is received, this paper will carry further information concerning the findings of the commission.

has been a delay in the spring training class headed by the house president, Winifred Cooper.

Lorraine Litchfield spent Sunday at her home in Eau Claire.

Winifred Cooper visited at her home in Colfax, Wis., over the week end.

Ruth Lindall's parents surprised her and visited her Monday. They were returning from the Hot Springs.

House meeting was short and sweet with its little bit of instruction and advising.

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonic Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

De Molays Stage Record Breaking Prom

(Continued from page one)

Punch was served throughout the evening by a group of white-jacketed attendants, who apparently did a very good job of it.

Columns and columns could be written about this party, but such a record is hardly necessary for those fortunate people who attended and those who were not there would probably not believe it. So in conclusion, suffice it to say that the De-Molay dance was a great success in every way and that those who were not there missed plenty.

—S—

Girls are much like salads; a great deal depends upon the dressing.

Sand paper will remove freckles.

ORPHEUM

Tonight (Fri.) — Sat.
"Mysterious Dr. Fu Manchu" with Jean Arthur, Neil Hamilton and Warner Orland.
Also Pathe News and Vodvil

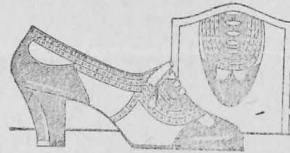

Sun.—Mon.—Tues.
Harold Lloyd in
"WELCOME DANGER"
Also Paramount Sound News
Mat. Sun. 2:30

Wednesday
Alice White in
"PLAYING AROUND"
Note: Radio given away on this night. Regular adm. 25-50c.

3 Days Starting Thurs., Apr. 4
"NO NO NANETTE"

GRAND

Sat.—Sun.
Glenn Tryon in
"SKINNER STEPS OUT"
Also Comedy and News

The Campus Tie
Sun Tan Calf Trimmed With Tan Calf
They Are Stunning
GRAVEN AND WILCOX

ANOUNCEMENT

"Bye" Olson will open a new your man's store featuring the last word hats, caps, and young men's wear.

"Bye" Olson
"Good Clothes"

THE SHAKER STUDIOS

ARE ALWAYS GLAD TO SERVE YOU

Let us Develop your Kodak Films

See Us For Your
Easter Candy Order
LEE'S DRUG STORE

We are now showing
the newest creations
in Diamond Rings.

See Anshus if you need something for y
Sweetheart, Girl, or Boy Friend
in the line of jewelry.

⌘ Nels Anshus ⌘

Y.M.C.A. Group Holds Unusual Meeting Plan Convention

Mr. Ted Jenson and Dean Bowman Speak; Carl Roll Gives Dialect Talk

One of the most unusual programs of the year was given at the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Thursday night. The program consisted of regular business, talks by Dean Bowman and Mr. Ted Jenson, entertainment, and refreshments. The program, which was well attended by faculty members as well as students, was enjoyed by all.

In the course of the regular business, the nominating committee selected and recommended the following members to become candidates for office during the 1930-31 regular session: president, Ernest Christenson; vice-president, Earl Halverson; secretary, Nicholas Marsilio; treasurer, Chester Larson. At the next regular meeting the club members will vote upon the election of the above mentioned.

Convention Plans Made
Mr. Ted Jenson, secretary of student work for the state Y. M. C. A., was the first speaker of the night. He discussed plans for a Stout representative at the Y. M. C. A. Convention to be held in St. Croix, Minnesota, during the week-end of April 25th. The convention is an annual affair whereby members of the various Y. M. C. A. organizations of several states attend. The program consists of a number of educational talks as well as recreational and athletic participations. He states that the possibilities for obtaining a breadth of experience and contact made with the various individuals is equivalent to a year of experience at college. He undoubtedly influenced a number of the members to attend this very unusual affair.

The program was then taken over by Tom Nelson and Frank Kassel who entertained their listeners with a number of vocal and musical selections. If you never heard this pair, "grab" at your first opportunity. When they render their old time popular selections, you will discover that your mind will be drifting to the days when you ran up and down the streets barefooted.

Bowman is Main Speaker
Dean Bowman converted the group to a more serious frame of mind when he presented his twenty-minute talk on "Fellowship." He classified Fellowship under six types, all ranging from the highest type which makes greatest leaders and the most desirable type of friends to the very lowest type which fills our penitentiaries and insane asylums and makes the most undesirable type of friends.

In a Jewish dialect, Carl Roll presented a humorous reading, "Benefits Derived in Striking". It brought again the note of levity into the gathering, which continued thru the serving of refreshments and private conversations as the meeting adjourned.

Keith And Burbidge Attend Conference Business Assembly

Fate Of Superior Lies In The Hands Of The Officials; May Be Suspended

Professor Keith and Coach Burbidge left Wednesday night for Madison to attend the meetings of the State Teachers Athletic Conference for officials and coaches. Professor Keith, president of the conference, will meet with the officials to discuss business relative to the functions of the conference. They will also determine the fate of the Superior Teachers who played ineligible men during the last basket-bal season. Predictions are that Superior will be suspended from the conference, although the decision is entirely in the hands of the officials.

Coach Burbidge will meet with the coaches to select and schedule games for the 1930-31 basket-ball season. He is planning to arrange for games with the teams which Stout has played in the past, but if Superior is ousted from the conference, it will be necessary to seek a new opponent on the gridiron as well as on the court.

"I think I'll open up an office when I graduate."
"I'll probably turn out to be a janitor, myself."

"Consider the tea kettle: though up to its neck in hot water, it continues to sing."

The school girl complexion can be had for nothing.

Curtis House Wins In Intra Mural Bowling

With the final game being called tonight at 5:00, the intra-mural bowling tournament comes to a close for this year. The Curtiss House is leading the league and will probably be the winners. They are followed closely by the other teams and the final standings will be determined tonight.

In the "home stretch" games this week there has been an increased amount of interst shown around the alleys. Quite a galley of spectators has been present each night to help their side win.

Although no records have been broken, several high scores have been rolled throughout the tournament. Bill Miller heads the list with a 220 score. This score has been followed by several others within the "200" mark. The 10 high men for the season are as follows:

- Bill Miller—220
- Rusty Wallin—214
- Ernest Zick—214
- Leon Haase—212
- Brandt—209
- L. Johnson—200
- A. Gilles—191
- Art Peterson—191
- Kent Riggs—190
- J. Waniga—189

With kittenball just ahead of us on the intra-mural program we are in for some real battles. If history repeats itself there'll be some real competition waged about the Stout lot in a week or two.

In his off season when no varsity games are played let's back our teams and get some rivalry into the intra-mural program. Plan right now to come down to the lot and see your kittenball teams in action. Let's put these last events over with a bang and insure their success for next year.

S. E. Paulus Visits Here Last Week-End

Friends in Stout and Menomonie of former Coach S. E. Paulus were surprised and pleased by a visit from him last week-end. He has been meeting school officials in Wisconsin concerning the offerings of the School Assembly Association in which Mr. Paulus is now Associate Director.

He told friends here that his new connection has proved to be a most pleasant and profitable one, and it was noted that he has been unusually successful in his work. Arriving Friday evening, he was able to remain until Sunday, leaving with the promise that he would make every effort to return not later than next fall when he hopes to see the football team take one of its favorite rivals into camp for a long-deferred beating.

Tuition Accounts For One-Fourth Of College Receipts

Total Revenues Amounted To Half Billion During Fiscal Year of 1927-28

By Walter J. Greenleaf
One-half a billion dollars found its way to the college tills in 1927-28 to be expended on higher education. This represents the income and receipts, excluding additions to endowment, of all colleges and universities in the United States, 1,071 institutions reporting.

One-fourth of this amount came from tuitions and educational fees paid by 919,381 students; 23 per cent was appropriated by State and city governments; 13 per cent—over $66,000,000—was given through private benefactions; 12 per cent was income from endowments; 10 per cent was gross income from board and room charges; and 12 per cent was obtained from miscellaneous sources. The United States Government contributed over $17,000,000, or 3.4 per cent of the total funds. In addition, $50,144,917 was added to permanent endowment funds through private gifts.

Fifty-nine per cent of the total receipts went to 848 institutions under private control—$290,775,330. One-third of this amount, $98,691,369, was collected in tuitions and fees from 571,844 students enrolled. In addition, 21 per cent was received from private gifts; 18 per cent from income on endowments; 13 per cent from board and room charges; and 11 per cent from miscellaneous sources. The State, city, and Federal governments contributed only 1.7 per cent, or $4,867,323 to the revenue of these institutions.

State Fees Low
Obviously tuition rates are highest in the privately controlled colleges, running as much as $450 (Princeton) annually per student. In the State universities and colleges educational fees are extremely low to State residents, while those living outside of the State pay higher rates; the average charge is $81 for residents, and $140 for nonresidents.

The land-grant colleges aim to charge a minimum for their educational services, since they receive two-thirds of their support from local and Federal governments.

Twenty-three per cent of the total college revenue was provided by State and city governments—over $115,000,000. Of this money, the private institutions were allotted $4,460,309, or 1.6 per cent of their total income, and the publicly supported institutions received $100,664,845, or 54 per cent of their income from local governments. The land-grant colleges alone received $77,199,923, or 55.5 per cent of their income from State funds.

Land-grant colleges alone received 9.7 per cent of their income from Federal sources by virtue of the following acts of Congress: The land-grant acts of 1862 establishing these institutions; the Morrill-Nelson acts of 1890 and 1907 granting further support; the Hatch-Adams Acts of 1887 and 1906 with the Purnell Act of 1925 for agricultural experiment stations; the Smith-Lever Act of 1914 with the Capper-Ketcham Act of 1928 for cooperative extension work; and the Smith-Hughes Act of 1918 for vocational training.

Private Contributions Large
Thirteen per cent of the total income of colleges in 1927-28 was received through private benefactions—$66,288,660—two-thirds for increase of educational plants, and one-third for current expenses. Over 20 per cent of the receipts of private institutions was derived from this source, while the public institutions received only 3 per cent of their income, or $5,630,064 from private donors.

There Is No Question About It This Is The Place To EAT
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"The Home of Good Food"

Twenty Maroon gridders have reported in the spring football practices conducted by the Morningside college. These practices were devoted chiefly to conditioning the men and getting them accustomed to handling the pigskin before the more strenuous work starts.

—The Collegian Reporter.

Charles Jagow represented La-Crosse State Teachers College in the oratorical contest held at Platteville on March 21. Last year his oration, "The Black Invasion", won second place for him in the state oratorical contest.

—The Racquet.

Don't forget the S. S. A. Dance tonight.

TAILORING
Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

Menomonie Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

SMART ATTRACTIVE SHOES
for
EVERY OCCASION
Swenson and Berndt
The Shoe Men

Have Your Eyes Examined Today
We Grind Our Own Lenses
Broken Lenses Replaced
INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

LET'S EAT
Tasty Sandwiches — Kistwiches
HOME MADE
PIES — CAKES — DONUTS
OPEN AFTER THE DANCES
THE CANDY SHOP

SPRING HATS
$2.98 — $3.90
1930
SPRING SUITS
In The Going Colors
$17.90 — $22.50
TOP COATS
$9.90 — $14.90 — $19.90
EVENS TOBIN CO.

LADIES!!
All Kinds and Colors of
HEELS RE-COVERED
Service Shoe Shop
Next to Hosford's Electric Shop

Good Meals and Refreshments
SERVICE
Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

SERVICE
We do dry cleaning every day. If you need the use of your suit immediately, take advantage of our "ONE DAY SERVICE."
SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Spring Suits $22.50 to $35.00
MENOMONIE DYE HOUSE
Running & Cole

Superior Suspended From Conference For Year; Loses Games

Stout Athletic Schedule For 1931
Completed; Only Eight Conference Games

Superior was given a year's suspension, Stout was given two most acceptable schedules and other problems were settled at the meeting of the Wisconsin Athletic Conference of Teachers Colleges held at Madison last week-end.

Professor Keith, who is president of the conference, and Coach Burbidge were the representatives of Stout. While at Madison they saw several games of the State tournament which was held there at that time.

Superior Admits Charges

Superior was suspended for one year from March 1, 1930 to March 1, 1931. This will mean that no games will be played between Superior and Stout next year. If during that time they conform to the rules they will again be admitted to the conference. All of the charges made were admitted by Superior's representatives and the punishment was thus reduced.

The football schedule for next year is arranged in an ideal manner with seven games on the list. The list includes four conference and three non-conference games with Winona Teachers opening the program of four home games. The schedule for the season is as follows:

1930 Football Schedule
Sept. 20. Winona Teachers here
Sept. 27 Macalester there
Oct. 4 Stevens Point here
Oct. 11 Fort Snelling there
Oct. 18 River Falls here
Oct. 25 Open
Nov. 1 Eau Claire there
Nov. 8 La Crosse here

Because of the fact that Superior is suspended there will be only eight conference basketball games instead (Continued to page three)

—S—

Stuntnite Plans Are Changed; Wednesday Picked For New Date

Eight Clubs Entered; Variety Of Acts Promised; Admission
Twenty Cents

Fire in the switch box of the Home Economics building caused the sudden change of plans in regard to stuntnite. The damage was of such an extent that it will be impossible to use the lights of the building for several hours to come.

At eight fifteen Wednesday of next week the Y. M. C. A. is sponsoring a most unusual and varied program in the Stout auditorium. This program will consist of the best talent that the eight participating clubs can produce. The winning club will be honored by having the privilege of engraving its name on a silver loving cup which will be donated by the Y. M. C. A. Each year the most talented club will be honored by having its name engraved below the preceding winner of the cup. As this year's winner will head the list, the competition is expected to be very keen and the club selected will undoubtedly have done some good work.

In order to defray the expenses incurred, the Y. M. C. A. is charging a small fee of twenty cents for admission. This amount is small and will not break anyone, at least for a very long period of time. If you have not been approached by those selling tickets, you can gain admittance at the door after having diminished yourself by twenty cents, or twice that amount if accompanied by one of the opposite sex.

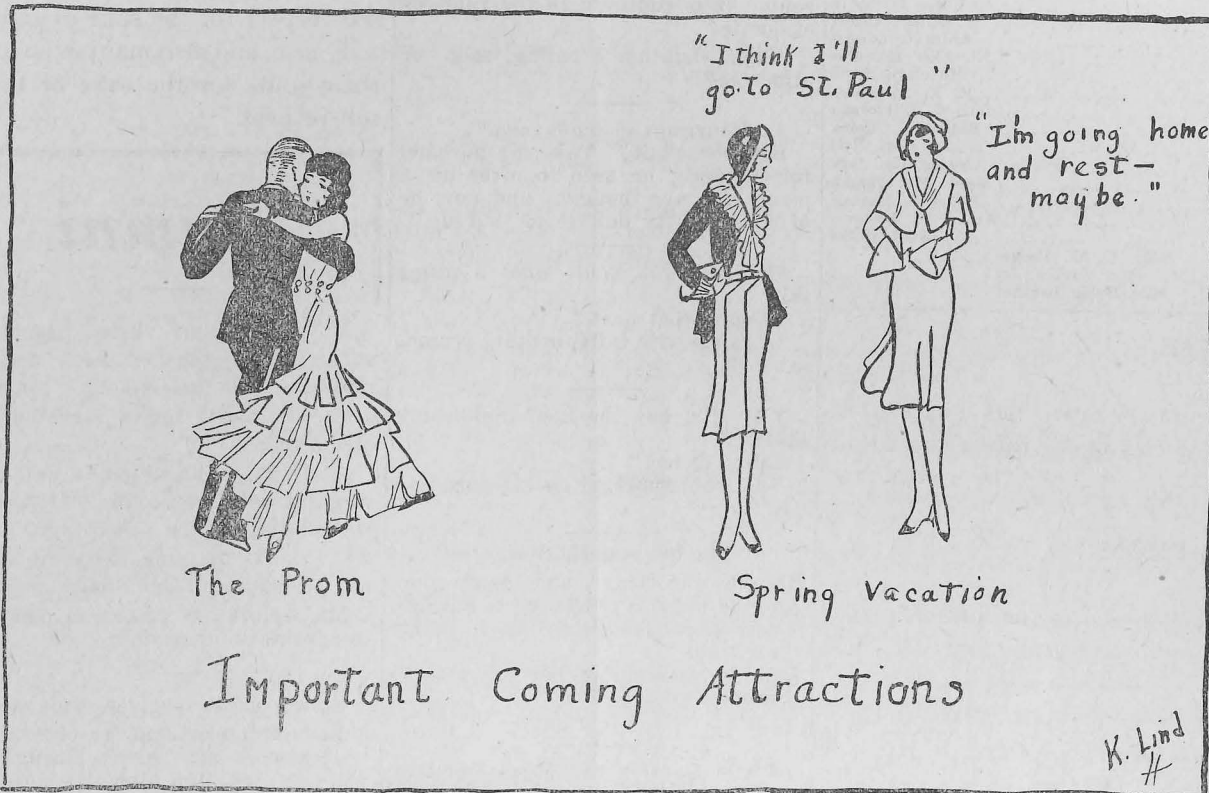

(Continued to page four)

SPRING FOOTBALL ANNOUNCEMENT

Spring football starts next Wednesday. Let's get a turnout for Coach Burbidge and show him we're behind him. Remember Wednesday.

CAMPUS CARTOONS

by Kathleen Lind

Important Coming Attractions

K. Lind
#

Home Towners First In Swimming Meet

Coming home from the conference meeting at Madison, Coach Burbidge announces that there will be two triangular swimming meets to be held between River Falls, Eau Claire and Stout. The first meet will be held at Stout Monday night, April 7, and a week from then the three teams will again battle at River Falls. The school intra-mural meet was held Thursday and resulted as follows: Hometowners 25, Curtis 13, Cafeteria 6. The Stori House was represented and gained 12 points. Independent swimmers also won 8 points.

The team will probably be picked from the following, Bronstadt, Rowe, Brvant, Johnson, Matusweik, Jakobek, Haase, Hoernemann, Hooser, Murray and Doetze.

The time made in the different events didn't appear to be record breaking but they showed that there are great possibilities. With no preliminary training at all, several of the swimmers showed the effects of the long grinds and thus added to the success of the meet.

The success of this new undertaking depends on the interest of the students. Stout should be able to promote an extended sport's program. The athletic department expects the students to back this project to the limit. The campus is reminded that here is a chance to partially atone for the one point defeat at the Falls.

The men who were point getters in this meet will compose the Stout team that will swim next week.

—S—

Senior Class Enjoys Second Dinner Meeting

The senior class of 1930 met at the Hotel Marion Friday evening and enjoyed the second dinner meeting since Christmas vacation. President Shepardson called on the chairman of several committees to give their reports.

The chairman of the gift committee brought a list of proposed gifts. The class brought up the question of a senior day; a vote was taken and the class chose to have one again this year. Plans are now underway.

Miss Burgoin sang two very beautiful numbers. The members of the class next introduced themselves by giving their names, home towns, some bits of interesting news regarding themselves, and lastly their plans for next year. At this point the ice cream was melting so the class turned its attention to it.

Jane Hambley pleased the class with two popular song hits. The choice of senior speaker was left for a future meeting. Professor Faville praised the seniors for the wonderful work that they were doing and had done in the past. The meeting was brought to a fitting close by singing the Alma Mater.

Heinie Writes To The Stout Students And Alumni; Likes Work

"Kneena A Swell Dump," He Says; Teaching Show Card
Writing and Printing

4 fifteen 9 Komersul S.
Kneena, Wizkonsin

Dear Folks at Stout:

I haven't anything els to do and can't think of anything els so i might just as well rite to youse. I've ben reading the Stoutonia for the past 15 minnits and it kinda made me feel homesick for the old Alma Mater. I'm beginning to feel better awready. Kneena sure is a keen dump. The only thing wrong with it is the weather and that's terribull. All the mill-yunairs live here so i feel right at home. When i see all the shoafurs drivin people around in kadilacks and pierse arrows it makes me feel like i was one of em. There are some plente ritzee houses, too what i mean. When you go riding down around the lake you'd think you were in New York or someplace like that.

Almost everywhere you look you can see paper mills and now i can see how sears Roebuck and Montgomery wards kin put out such big katalogs. Kimberly-Clark is the biggest mill around here and they own half the town besides. I'm not gonna tell you what kinda paper they make—you kin find that out from the Curtis House gang. It seems that every other guy and his brother or sister works for this outfit.

On the other side of the fox River is Menasha, our twin-sister (or brother, I dunno). We're closer together than North menomonie is to Menomonie propurr. There's more rivalree between these two towns then there is between River falls and Stout. When they play basketball against each other it's worse then when Stout plays oklaire. Outa 24 tries Menasha only beat Kneena once at basketball and still they holer. Kneena is the keenest of the two cities—by all ways (Continued to page three)

Secretary Of State Board Speaks Here

Mr. E. G. Doudna, Secretary of the State Board of Regents for Wisconsin Teachers' Colleges, and Director of Teacher Training, was the assembly speaker Thursday morning.

The subject of his address was "The Art of Thinking". He explained that modern education began in 1894. Two of the visible characteristics of modern education are the standardized test and the intelligence tests used so often in present day teaching, both of which were introduced in that year.

"Education today is extremely scientific," says Mr. Doudna. Along with the general development is the noticeable change in psychology. There seems to be nothing left of the old psychology of will power, perception, and memory. Psychology has made some advances which are very helpful to the teacher.

Another noticeable development is the change in curriculum. As evidences of this change, Mr. Doudna recalled incidents of his school career and compared the difference in the attitude towards health, and toward subject matter in such courses as mathematics and English.

In the school, itself, there have been alterations in administration—as evidenced by the present supervisory system. According to Mr. Doudna, we have an involved and intricate educational system.

The students in teacher training institutions today have the advantage of a background of experience of the (Continued to page three)

—S—

Grade Point System Is Clarified Again

In the catalogue and student handbook will be found an explanation of the grade point system. Those students who are familiar with the grade point system are already aware that in 1927 the Credit Committee put Stout Institute in line with all first-class colleges regarding credits and grade points requirements. Since that date students of Stout Institute have been working under the grade point system.

In order to make the grade point system more effective, the Committee on Credits has adopted the policy that is used in other colleges: namely, a student must secure at least 95 grade points as well as 95 semester hours of credit in order to be classed a senior. In other words, a student who has less than 95 grade points, even though he may have 95 or more semester hours of credit, remains a junior until the deficient grade points are made up. Furthermore, during the senior year a student must maintain an average of C, that is, earned as many grade points as credits during the last year even though he may have earned an excess of 95 grade points during the first three years.

Homemaking Unit Now Completed; Ready For Use By Public Schools

Work Carried On By Advanced Home Economics Class;
H. S. Elective

The Homemaking unit on the third floor of the Home Economics building is now complete and ready for use by the public schools of Menomonie. Plans started during the summer of 1929 by the class in Teaching Methods of Related Art under the direction of Miss Walsh have been carried out by the Advanced Home Economics class of the Menomonie public schools. This course is elective for high school seniors. Student teachers in charge during the two units, Art In The Home and Handicrafts, were Henrietta Sievert, Gertrude Hansen, Ruth Dodge, and Hazel Flaget with Miss Ganz as supervisor.

The Homemaking unit has three rooms—kitchen, bedroom, and living room. Although the rooms have many modern built-in conveniences, the cost of the furnishings was cut to a minimum by using all available materials on hand. Much of the work, such as painting the furniture and making the curtains, couch cover, slip cover for the arm chair, cushions, bed spread, dresser scarf, kitchen holders, luncheon set, and lamp shades, was done by the girls themselves. The color schemes of the rooms are very attractive, the kitchen being done in green, greyed orange, and ivory, the living room in blue, rose, and ivory, and the bedroom in blue and ivory.

During the next two units of work, Hospitality in the Home and Economics of the Family, practical training will be carried out in the new Homemaking unit.

The Apartment will be open to visitors on Friday, April fourth, from twelve to five P. M. The relative costs of the finishing and furnishings will be posted in the different rooms.

—S—

Prohibition Poll Is Headed Yesterday By Modificationists

Repeal Gets Heavy Vote, While Present Enforcement Is Lightest Total

A plurality of Stout students and faculty evidently think that the problems which have come in the wake of the 18th amendment can be solved by a modification of the enforcing laws, as evidenced by the poll taken by The Stoutonia in the assembly yesterday noon. The results were as follows:

|                                          |     |
|------------------------------------------|-----|
| Strict enforcement of present laws ..... | 72  |
| Modification of present laws .....       | 133 |
| Repeal of present laws .....             | 122 |

The results show Stout to be in accord with a large majority of the colleges in the country who have taken similar straw votes, altho colleges in the larger cities have shown clear majorities, in most cases, for positive repeal.

Modification Not Clear

The wording of the ballots, as indicated above, leaves some doubt as to the interpretation of the beliefs of the modificationists. A personal canvass this morning seemed to indicate that most of those who voted for the second choice are convinced that present laws are unenforceable and should, therefore, be modified to enforceable terms.

If that interpretation is correct, then Stout stands 255 to 75 against "Volsteadism", although only 122 are ready to see it repealed, only 22 percent are willing to see it continue in present form.

ATTENTION STUDENTS!

The order for Towers goes to the printer Monday. Your last chance to pledge is Monday morning between ten and twelve o'clock, at the Tower room in the H. E. basement.

CALENDAR

Monday

|                         |              |
|-------------------------|--------------|
| Science Club .....      | 5:00 o'clock |
| Stoutonia Staff .....   | 5:00 o'clock |
| Women's Glee Club ..... | 7:00 o'clock |
| Men's Glee Club .....   | 7:00 o'clock |
| Tower Staff .....       | 7:00 o'clock |

Tuesday

|                |              |
|----------------|--------------|
| DeMolay .....  | 7:00 o'clock |
| Band .....     | 7:00 o'clock |
| S. M. A. ..... | 7:15 o'clock |

Wednesday

|                   |              |
|-------------------|--------------|
| S. T. S. .....    | 7:30 o'clock |
| Rifle Club .....  | 7:00 o'clock |
| Y. W. C. A. ..... | 5:00 o'clock |

Thursday

|                    |              |
|--------------------|--------------|
| Inky Fingers ..... | 5:30 o'clock |
| M. A. P. .....     | 7:15 o'clock |
| Hyperians .....    | 8:00 o'clock |
| Orchestra .....    | 7:00 o'clock |

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                               |                       |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Managing Editor               | E. V. Ahonen          |
| Associate Editor              | Henrietta L. Quilling |
| News Editor                   | Chester Mau           |
| Assistant News Editor         | Belinda Hendrickson   |
| Assistant Editor              | Bernard Hagen         |
| Feature Editor                | Vivian Hewitt         |
| Humor Editor                  | William Soucie        |
| Sports Editor                 | Kent Riggs            |
| Exchange Editor               | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Organization Editor           | Carl Roll             |
| Cartoonist                    | Georgia Aber          |
| Staff Photographer            | William Micheels      |
| Business Manager              | Albert Gilles         |
| Circulation Manager           | Anita Gundlach        |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Nicholas Marsilio     |
| Advertising Manager           | Kathleen Lind         |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr.        | R. A. Jakoubek        |
| Intertype Operator            | Earl C. Halverson     |
| Foreman Mechanical Department | Robert G. Reick       |
| Under Direction of            | Mr. C. W. Hague       |
| Editorial Adviser             | Mr. John Faville, Jr. |
| Associate Adviser             | Miss Helen Sarchet    |

STUNTNITE

At last the date for Stuntnite draws near. Its success or failure now rests with the students. Let's make this a big affair by turning out en mass.

THE JUNIOR PROM

It's nearly time to start making plans for the junior prom. Don't let your date go to the last minute, and remember the little matter of guests slips.

MORE SPORTS

Now that spring is here in earnest, it is just about time to get the courts into shape and to get that tennis team started.

The Menomonie Country Club is open now so the golfer's have an opportunity to get limbered up before the matches.

THE TEA ROOMS ARE OPEN

"Opportunity knocks but once" is the old saying, but here at Stout we have the opportunity of eating a very palatable luncheon which is served every Wednesday and Friday in the Stout Tea Room for the sum of 35 cents. Let's show the girls who are making this opportunity possible that we appreciate their efforts by increasing their patronage a hundred percent.

LET'S GET YOUR VOTE ALUMNI

With this issue of the STOUTONIA we are sending out ballots to the alumni so that they too may cast their vote in the STOUTONIA straw vote on prohibition. The votes will be counted a week from today and the results will be published. We are interested in this important economic question and would like to get your reaction. Please send your vote.

ARE YOU INTERESTED?

Several students on the campus decided to get together and buy a number of Upton Sinclair's books. The present plan is to pass the books around. After they have been read by everyone in the group they will be donated to the Stout Library. The library is sadly in need of them.

If you are interested in joining the group, there is always room for one more.

THE HOME STRETCH

To the seniors the following weeks are the home stretch. Only eight weeks of regular college life remain—and then? The open road of life. Success or failure, pain and pleasure, everything to look forward to, and a world of experiences to look back upon.

Time is short; now is the time to start in on the "Grand and glorious finish", in class work, extra curricular activities, and the social whirl, make everything worthwhile.

HAVE WE FORGOTTEN?

A year ago the STOUTONIA started agitation for a fund to help those athletes who were injured on the Stout athletic fields, and Emil Rahja in particular. This year nothing has been done about it. Have we forgotten so soon?

For the benefit of the freshmen and the new members of the campus it may be well to review the case of Emil Rahja. In 1925 he was playing on the Stout football team. As an end he was the star of the gridiron. Then came the fatal day when a well aimed tackle spilled him and ended his athletic, and incidently his college, career. Since that time he has been confined to his bed for the greater part of the time. Last year the STOUTONIA resolved to help him. By means of stories and editorials the alumni became interested in the case and sent money with which to help him out.

This year nothing has been done. Let's not forget our athletes. Build up the fund.

Let's Laugh

Boy (trying to muster enough courage to get a date): "She'll murder me when I ask her."

Friend: "She doesn't look like a murderess."

Boy: "No, but I look like a victim."

"Don't crumble your crackers in the soup. It is contrary to the rules of etiquette."

"Say, what am I eating, soup or etiquette?"

A: "Marriage changes men."

B: "Doesn't it? Take my husband for instance; he used to offer me a penny for my thoughts and now he offers me fifty dollars to shut up."

"Say, do you know what a prune is?"

"Nope, what is it."

"A raisin with inflammatory rheumatism."

"My girl has the hoof and mouth disease."

"How come?"

"All she wants to do is dance and eat."

Revised Edition

Between the classes and the freedom And the night is beginning to advance Comes a pause of the day's happy meetings And the meeting of boy friends—by chance.

Little George, the garage mascot, was visiting his aunt. He found the cat in a sunny window purring cheerfully.

"Oh, Auntie, come quick," said little George, "the cat has gone asleep and left his motor running."

"What's a roof garden?"

"That's where they raise the roof."

Inquisitive Old Lady: "Whare did these large rocks come from?"

Tired Guide: "The glaciers brought them down."

I. O. L.: "But where are the glaciers?"

Guide: "They have gone back after more rocks."

"How'd you sleep last night?"

"Oh, lying down as usual."

He's so lazy, child, that he even eats loaf sugar.

A sudden call to the Annex, A sudden raid for the hall, By one door left unguarded They clutter the Annex hall.

A whisper, then a giggle; Yet I know by their secret plan They are plotting and planning to fool me, Or throw me out—if they can.

Do you think my beautiful maidens Because you stay at the hall Such a god crew as the bachelor's club Is not a match for you all?

We have you all placed in our memories, Your scheming that never will end, Because when we're single we're merry, Toward other men—you can bend.

"A Bit 'O Math"

To prove: That a good looking girl can not be trusted.

1. A good looking girl is a "chicken."

2. A chicken is a fowl.

3. Fowl means "not fair."

4. What is not fair cannot be trusted.

—Bradley Tech.

What of It?

My old alarm clock Oft caused me to weep; I fooled it this morning, I wasn't asleep.

—Bab.

Heard on the Dance Floor

She: "Isn't the floor slippery this evening, Fred?"

He: "No, I polished my shoes to-night."

Teacher: "I will use my hat to represent the moon. Are there any questions before I go on?"

Student: "Yes, is the moon inhabited?"

The inventor of the mirror made it possible for us to see the one perfect man.

ANVIL SPARKS

from Aries

One who really cares can always explain.

Shame comes when we confess in ourselves what we despise in another.

There are many who lose their self-respect for the sake of somebody else, and also many who lose their souls for the sake of their self-respect.

Alumni

Mr. Carl Galoff visited Stout Institute during the last week and is returning to Indianapolis, Indiana, after his short spring vacation in Menomonie.

At Indianapolis, Stout is well represented with instructors. Mr. Galoff stated that in the school system in which he is teaching there are fourteen graduates from Stout Institute.

Mr. Galoff has classes in printing, woodwork and drawing.

Spring vacation gives many of our alumni an opportunity to visit Stout. This week Mr. Adrian Burmeister, who is now teaching at Algona, Iowa, spent a short time of his spring vacation at Stout visiting his friends and former class-mates.

Mr. Burmeister accepted his position as instructor during the fall of 1929. His classes consist of woodwork and drawing and he has the responsibility of being assistant athletic coach in the public schools of Algona. He enjoys his position as instructor and especially his work as assistant athletic coach of the public schools.

Mr. Burmeister also added that he has received the Stoutonia every week and greatly appreciates reading it because it keeps him in touch with the activities of his Alma Mater.

Regularly every week, we receive a small but interesting school paper from the Beaver Dam, Wisconsin, school. This paper is under the supervision of Mr. Orlando Paciotti, instructor of printing at both the vocational and high school of Beaver Dam. His program of teaching consists of three classes of printing in the high school and one class in vocational school. He is also in charge of the school paper.

Mr. Paciotti has taken an active part in athletics while at Stout, especially in football, and is still taking an occasional try at professional football. Last fall "Pash" played professional football with the Oshkosh Badgers. In his experience with this team, "Pash" played against such men as Laabs, formerly of the Stevens Point Normal and Mike Ward, who played with the La Crosse Teachers College. Both of these men played against Stout during the last few years.

We have just received a letter from Miss Irma Nichols, who is now teaching at Green Bay, Wisconsin. Her letter to the Stoutonia staff, of which she was a former members, writes us the following interesting news:

Dear Staff:

I have just finished reading "The Stoutonia" from beginning to end, and I surely have a lot of praise for it. You folks on the staff may not think the paper contain much news from week to week, but it surely tells us Alumni a lot of interesting things. I am pleased to find that "Vic" has started the Alumni column as it has a lot of possibilities. I surely do not practice what I preach. Remember at the last Stoutonia dinner which I attended, I mentioned that it might be a good idea to publish parts of letters from alumni relative to their work, but as you see I've "slipped up" on writing even one letter to the Stoutonia. It has not been because I have been too busy either,—but rather because I have neglected it.

I am still pleased with my position at Green Bay, which consist of teaching both Foods and Clothing, and everything is becoming so much easier to manage. I like the girls I have a lot,—they treat me wonderfully well.

Hoping that the good work of the Stoutonia staff will continue in the future.

Sincerely yours,
Irma Nichols

Here'n There

The return of bicycles for two and other vehicles of the gay nineties, may be the result of the ban on cars at Yale. Having been forbidden cars, Yale men are taking to Bicycles. The new vehicles are fast replacing collegiate flivvers as the undergraduate style. Wire baskets for books are seen, and it is expected that signs, rumble seats and other fixtures will soon be added.

According to the latest report of the Inter-Normal Forensic League of Wisconsin, River Falls Teachers' College which has won so many contests this year, must share the honors of debate with Oshkosh. Both schools won all of their debates. On a percentage basis, the standings of the state teachers' colleges show Oshkosh and River Falls tied for first place with 100 percent each, while La Crosse is third with 98.5 percent.

—The Spectator.

The Purdue Exponent is now sponsoring a Prohibition Poll for Purdue University. The students are asked whether they ever drink, whether they ever get drunk, and whether the reason for not drinking is personal taste, legal restriction, or family. Also preference must be shown for either the present prohibition situation, strict enforcement, modification of the present laws, or total repeal.

In connection with the prohibition question the Exponent is sponsoring a pol on exemption from final examinations, whether in all departments or at the option of the departments.

—Purdue Exponent.

The Round Table poll of the Volstead law and the 18th amendment revealed the fact that the men of the college are "wets", while the women voted "dry" by approximately 2 to 1. The poll as a whole was a success and many revealing facts were forthcoming, some of which were to be expected while others proved to be enlightening. The vote was encouragingly participated in both by men and women who expressed a high interest in the progression of balloters who, after voting, stood around the polling table to discuss the problem in true political fashion.

The results showed that 86 men drank compared to 69 who did not, while the women showed that 22 of the 63 who voted were imbibers. Neither men nor women favored the Volstead act as it now stands, the men declaring themselves against it more strongly. There was a general tendency for modification as against repeal.

Sixty percent of the student body of Beloit College participated in this poll, which proves that this question is of interest to the majority of the students attending school.

—The Round Table.
—The Round Table.

Students interested in oratorical and extempore speaking contest will be interested in the account in The Spectator, Eau Claire Teachers College paper, of the results of the State contest which was held at Platteville, Wisconsin.

In both the thirty-fifth annual oratorical contest and the seventh annual extempore speaking contest of the Wisconsin state teachers' colleges, held at Platteville, March 21, Eau Claire placed eighth. In the stunt contest, however, Eau Claire as represented by the A Cappella choir, won third place.

Orville Deuel, Eau Claire representative in oratory, delivered an oration entitled "Security". First place in the contest was taken by Denis McGenty, who represented Superior, with his finely presented oration, "Where Peace Abides". Second place to Charles Jagow of La Crosse, who gave "Our Barometer of Business", and third place to Leroy Lueberg of River Falls, who presented "The Peril of Power".

In the extempore contest first place also went to a Superior speaker, Ernest Fiedler, who spoke on "United States Control in Latin American". Second place was won by Robert Fulton of Platteville with his speech, "Parity and Reduction of Armaments". Third place went to Melvin Batz of Oshkosh, who talked on "England's Problem of Self Control of India".

The A Cappella choir took third place in the stunt contest by virtue of its unique and original "black face" stunt, which was presented before an effective background representing a huge watermelon. First and second places were won by Milwaukee and Oshkosh respectively, Oshkosh having a band and Milwaukee a clever musical stunt, in which selections were played on bottles and jugs in an effective manner.

Organizations

The S. M. A. society met in the club rooms on Tuesday night for its regular meeting. There was a general discussion of plans for a rummage sale, which has grown to be an annual event of much interest to the society. It has decided to hold the sale Saturday, April fifth, at Lockner's Hall. Plans for the S. M. A. stunt night were completed. As a most fitting climax, three of the new members served refreshments; a short social meeting followed.

The regular meeting of the Manual Arts Players was held in the auditorium Thursday evening, March 27. After a short business meeting the following program was given:

A short talk on the life and works of Alice Gerstenberg by Frances Schroeder.

A one-act play, "Overtones", by Alice Gerstenberg. The characters were as follows:

Harriet ..... Myrtle Anderson
Hettie ..... Marie Simonson
Margret ..... Patsy Ruth Kelly
Maggie ..... Mildred Haggard
The play was directed by Emma Newby and Emma Hanson.

Last Saturday evening, March 29, the Hotel Marion dining room was the scene of a semi-formal dinner dance, given by the Manual Arts players in honor of their new members who were formally taken into the club on March 9th.

The evening proved a very pleasant one for all those present. Entertainment between dances was furnished by "Rusty" Wallin and the music for dancing was furnished by a four piece orchestra.

The guests of honor were Miss Hassler, Miss Sarchet, and Mr. and Mrs. Faville.

Hienie Writes Letter To Stout Students

(Continued from page one)

and means.

The skool i teech in is brand new—they're still inishiating it. The only thing wrong with it is they bilt it out n the countree. I'm savin my monee to buy some kattle and then I'm gona move out by it—I'll feel right at home then.

I teech drawing (mekanical) to the freshmen and try to teech show-card writing to the vokashunal school yaps and make a good stab at teeching printing one to sofomores and advanced (gee, that almost had me skared out at furst) printing to the senyurs. This teeching is a grate game and I'm tellin you that when you get your month's pay you feel like as if you cud go to Stout for another ten years (like so much!)

I'm supposed to be an adviser on the skool's twice-a-month paper, too. It's called the "Cub" but it oughta be called the Platen Press Wonder cuz we run it out on a platen press. Four pages means four runs and that means 4 times 600 or two thousand 400 papers every two weeks. If you think that don't keep me busy try to run the stoutonia out on one of your hand feed platen presses! Not only that we're printin our own anyual, too—ya, on the platen press. It's gona be a one hundred page job and by the time we get that run out I'll be seein' anyuals in my sleep. It's lotsa fun tho' and I'm enjoyin myself to my greatest extent.

When i leave the building at 4 bells i don't have to go home and worry about eny novul report that's to be written or any organizashun chart to be drawn for the next day. My kourses are all planned for me so all I have to do is be there and tell the kids to get to work and stay there. For my drawing class i got a set of blue prints and thanx to Kopey Hague's job sheets I'm jake on printing, too. My show card writing class had me stumped for awhile but then i thought I'd do like some instruktors

TAILORING

Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service

A. E. HERREM

Menomonie Baking Co.

Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

Tea Room Makes Bid For Popularity

"Opportunity knocks but once" is the old saying, but here at Stout we have the opportunity of eating a very palatable luncheon which is served every Wednesday and Friday in the Stout Tea Room for the sum of 35 cents. Let's show the girls who are making this opportunity possible that we appreciate their efforts by increasing their patronage a hundred percent.

i had at stout so now i just go there. As you all know by this time, Kneena won the state championship in basketball. The town and school are raisin hell propurr. It's the furst time they won it and thy're makin the most of it. I wish Gilly was here so he cud help me secelebrate.

Six miles from here is Appleton and that's where Jack Notebaart, rol Norris, Bill Krooger and Pearl Lindall are. They all got good jobs too and are all puttin Appleton's skool system on it's feet again. I believe that all the keen bims in the kountree are raised in Appleton becuz the town sure is full of 'em. No sir, they don't mean a thing to dis guy! The power kumpany runs busses evry half hour between here and Appleton and since I've been here this kompany has ben put on a payin basis.

The furst day i wuz here the souperintendent took me around and showed me the skool. Right here i want to warn you guys and give you some advise—don't go out on a teaching job wearing shoes that have leather heels with heel plates! Put on some good old goodyeers and save your consheens. While i was walking around the skool with the souperintendent my footsteps sounded like canon shots. Half an hour later i wuz up town in a shoe hospital getting some silencers put on my shoes!

I think the stoutonia is better then ever since i left and i want to kompliment the staff on their good work and espeshully Vic, the chief cook and bottle washer. Keep up the good work becuz you guys will appreshiate it some day—like i am now.

Well, folks, i guess I've given you all the dope on Kneena so i think I'll check loose. If i left out anything let me know and I'll send ft.

I remain as per usua the same old
Yours trooly,
Henie

P. S. Since this paper gets to all parts of the kountree i want to take th's opportunittee of sayin "hullo" to all the old stout grads espeshully the ones down in Honolulu, my predeessor Reppe (thanx, Rep, for checkin outa here) and to "Ma" Belina and Lib Williams in Detroit not overlookin Punk Guyott and Duff Hanke in Iowa and Tom Junck in Florida.

P. S., the second. I see that the stoutonia is holdin a straw vote on the prohibishun question—no, we haven't eny proheebishun either!

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonie Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

Your Hair Requires Professional Care

I. W. NESSER
"The Barber"

ORPHEUM

Tonight (Fri.) - Sat.
"NO. NO. NANETTE"
with Alexander Gray
—Also Pathe News—
Special Mat. Sat. 2:30—10 & 35c

Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
"SONG OF THE WEST"
with John Boles
This is a 100 percent Natural Color Picture
Also Sound News and Vodvil
Mat. Sun. 2:30

Wed. - Thurs.
Edward Everett Horton in
"WIDE OPEN"
Special Added Attraction:
Walter Hagen and Leo Diegel in
"MATCH PLAY"
Note: Two admitted on one paid adult ticket with one guest ticket on Wednesday.

GRAND

KEN MAYNARD in
"SENIOR AMERICANO"
Mat. Sun. 3:00

Personals

LYNWOOD HALL

Virginia Schlumph and Lucille Schultz spent the week end in Eau Claire.

Grace Linderson visited at her home at Clear Lake, Wis., on Saturday and Sunday.

Myrtle Anderson and Geraldine Anderson were in Eau Claire on Saturday.

Charlotte McNab spent a pleasant week end at her home at Taylor, Wis.

The upper classmen hope that the Freshmen will have no more Saturday morning exams that necessitate early rising.

Lynwood Hall was very much disturbed and excited Sunday afternoon when Edna Eichorst was found missing. A careful search soon revealed the lost one.

TAINTER ANNEX

Ruth Lindall spent a busy week end at her home in St. Paul.

Permanents are the topic of conversation and the reason for some empty purses.

Lorraine Litchfield visited at her home in Eau Claire over the week end.

Eileen Ross entertained during the week end her mother who had just returned from Florida.

The girls at the Dorm had an extra course served for breakfast Saturday morning. It consisted of equations, preparations, and tests with no dessert.

Time comes around so silently that perhaps an alarm clock would be the proper article for the front porch.

TAINTER HALL

Two big boxes of eats from home and an eager audience from third floor helped Mildred Dingee celebrate her birthday last Wednesday night. Such delicacies as roast chicken, angels food cake and all the trimmings soon disappeared during the course of the evening. The girls left wishing "Dingie" many happy returns of the day.

The chief source of excitement on Saturday night was the M. A. P. Dinner Dance. Those that didn't attend helped get the lucky ones ready for the occasion.

Sunday afternoon was ideal for hiking—ask Frances Schroeder and Ruth Oleson. Car riding was also very popular—no names are being mentioned.

Most of the girls are busy making

Coeds Organize Class Volley Ball Teams

The recent trend in girl's sports is toward volley ball. After due consideration, the heads of various class teams have been chosen. Class games will be played off first for the championship, and possibly dormitory teams will vie for honors.

The first game to be played off will be on Wednesday of next week, April 9, at 5 o'clock, between the freshmen and sophomores. A complete schedule will be announced after that.

Heads of the teams are as follows: freshmen—Evelyn Peterson; sophomore—Ruth Olson; junior—Carol McClurg; senior—Mary Fox.

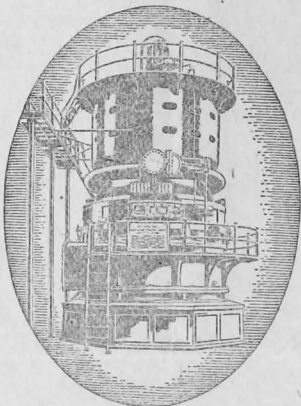

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

See Our Specials
in
Pound Package Stationary
A. R. OLSON

THE SHAKER STUDIOS

ARE ALWAYS GLAD TO SERVE YOU

Let us Develop your Kodak Films

5000-kilowatt turbine-generator installed in 1903 at the Fish Street station of the Commonwealth
Edison Company, Chicago

When Small Machines Were Big

MORE than a quarter century ago, the Commonwealth Edison Company, prophetically alive to the immense possibilities of the future, ordered from General Electric a 5000-kilowatt steam turbine—in those days a giant of electric power.

To-day, a General Electric turbine-generator of 208,000-kilowatt capacity sends out its vast energy to the Chicago Metropolitan District.

College-trained men played a responsible part in the engineering and manufacture of both machines—just as they serve in important capacities in the engineering, production, and distribution of all General Electric equipment, large or small.

208,000-kilowatt turbine-generator installed at the State Line generating station

JOIN US IN THE GENERAL ELECTRIC HOUR, BROADCAST EVERY SATURDAY EVENING ON A NATION-WIDE N.B.C. NETWORK

95-766D

GENERAL ELECTRIC

SALES AND ENGINEERING SERVICE IN PRINCIPAL CITIES

New Units Added To Carpentry Courses

Construction of wood forms for concrete buildings, including footings, walls, steps, chimneys, beams, etc., is only one of the several important units recently added to the Carpentry courses. The importance of Carpentry and the necessity for extensive training for teachers in carpentry prompted the curriculum committee to recommend the greater breadth of training indicated in the revised carpentry courses.

Following The Stout Institute's policy of keeping abreast of trends and modern developments in industry, a thorough study has been made of up-to-date practices in the fields of house carpentry and of present trends in that trade. As a result the carpentry courses have been completely revised and enlarged. One new course has been added and new types of modern constructions and methods have been selected and fitted into the courses.

The selection and organization of this material—old and new—was based on the following factors:

1. Learning difficulties
2. Production difficulties
3. Construction and Instruction sequences.
4. Frequency of occurrence in the carpentry trade
5. Comparative efficiency of class instruction and "job" training
6. Availability of suitable projects.

In Carpentry I the students gain a working knowledge of concrete form work and of typical wood frame construction. The course is designed to furnish information which will assist the student in his study and progress in the architectural drawing courses. The breadth of content in the Carpentry I course is such as to give the student all information and training needed to properly construct a garage or a similar small building.

An intensive course in roof framing is given in Carpentry II. In addition, studies are made of the various phases of exterior finishing and of scaffold construction.

Advanced roof framing problems are studied in Carpentry III. These problems include unequal pitch roofs, polygonal and curved roofs, and intersecting vaulted ceilings. Interior finishing, including stair building, are taken up in the latter part of this course.

Carpentry IV is designated as co-operative carpentry. Nine weeks of actual trade practice, on a half-time basis, is required in this course. The trade work must include specified units of construction. It must be under the supervision of an approved journeyman or foreman carpenter and of the teacher in Carpentry at The Stout Institute.

In the final course in Carpentry the student's training and experiences are checked. Corrective work is assigned to remedy apparent weaknesses in training.

The course includes mechanics and design in carpentry and economics of carpentry.

A rather complete analysis is made of the entire carpentry trade. House carpentry is singled out for special consideration and material is organized for complete courses and for instruction units in this latter phase of carpentry.

In line with the policy of constantly improving the facilities for teaching and in order to properly handle the work outlined in the Carpentry courses, a number of major changes and improvements have been started in the Carpentry department. A detailed description of these changes will appear next week.

Don't forget the DeMolay dance. Admission—15 cents.

See us for haircuts; we satisfy our customers

THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

Haircuts at any hour of the day

Three first class barbers

THE ELECTRIC SHOP

Easter Cards
and Greetings
A. R. OLSON

Stuntnite Program To Be Postponed

(Continued from page one)

Lutheran Students—Broadcasting Tumbling team—Stumblers Hyperian—A Dream of Life Home Ec. Club—H. E. Philomathean Wedding of the Painted Dolls

Manual Arts Players—A Talking Picture

S. M. A.—Synthetic Life Selections by the Stout Orchestra Decision of the judges.

Music will be furnished by the Stout orchestra under the able and efficient direction of Don Moldenhauer.

The judges for the contest will be: Miss Ada Hasford, Mr. Paul Gregg, and Harold Hansen.

The program will run as follows: Selections—Stout Orchestra Meltaury—Sparks

Summer Session Room Inspection Being Made

The Stout Institute is beginning to make its inventory of the residences which will be made available to Stout students during the Summer Session and the regular session next fall.

Citizens who are interested will do well to notify the Stout Office so that the necessary inspection can be made by Miss Wangen, college nurse, and a final check-up be reported before

Dean Bowman Chosen Head Of Committee

Dean Bowman has been recently notified that he has been appointed to the chairmanship of the committee which will arrange the Industrial Arts program for the December meeting of the American Vocational Association which will be held in Milwaukee. This appointment was made by Mr. P. G. Chapman, president of the association.

Dean Bowman has served on the committee on two other occasions and his activity in such work has resulted in his being appointed as chairman of the committee.

The Industrial Arts section of the association will have three meetings. These meetings will be held one each day of the convention. The attendance of the American Vocational Association is more representative of the entire country than any other meetings or conventions that are being held.

Don't forget the DeMolay dance. Admission—15 cents.

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP
NOW DOING BUSINESS IN THE TEARE BUILDING
With Complete Line of Ladies Wearing Apparel
EVERYTHING NEW

DROP IN AND LOOK US OVER EVERYTHING NEW!

HATS, CAPS, TIES
Made to Measure Clothes

"BYE" OLSONS
"Good Clothes"
Next to Lee's Drug Store

WHITMAN'S CANDY
IS ALWAYS FRESH
We Are Now Displaying EASTER CANDIES
LEE'S DRUG STORE

EASTER SUITS
Top Coats - Shirts
Ties and Hose
NEW LOW PRICES
EVENS-TOBIN CO.

Good Meals and Refreshments
SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

SERVICE

We do dry cleaning every day. If you need the use of your suit immediately, take advantage of our "ONE DAY SERVICE."

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Spring Suits $22.50 to $35.00
MENOMONIE DYE HOUSE
Running & Cole

Several School Heads Here For Interviews

Several officials representing various public and vocational schools in the state have been visitors on our campus during the past week. Their chief interests here are in interviewing Home Economics and Industrial Arts candidates for teaching positions.

Mr. S. B. Toby, Superintendent of the Wausau Public Schools, was here on Friday, March 27, to interview Home Economics candidates.

On Tuesday, April 1, Mr. Walter Rasche, Principal of the Milwaukee Vocational School, interviewed prospective Home Economics teachers.

City Superintendent Balliet and Mr. O. E. Olsen, Director of the Vocational School of Antigo, interviewed candidates for rural Home Economics positions and one candidate for an Industrial Arts position on Wednesday this week.

Superior Suspended From Conference

(Continued from page one)

of the customary ten. The list below does not include the practice games which will be scheduled next fall.

Conference Cage Schedule
Jan. 9 La Crosse there
Jan. 16 Stevens Point here
Jan. 23 River Falls there
Jan. 30 Eau Claire here
Feb. 6 La Crosse here
Feb. 12 Eau Claire there
Feb. 20 River Falls here
Feb. 27 Stevens Point there

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
EAT

THE PEERLESS GRILL
"The Home of Good Food"

Have Your Sunday Night Supper Here
CHICKEN SANDWICHES

HOT or COLD

THE OLYMPIA

"Pete" Jeatran

EASTER JEWELRY

Neck Ornaments and Bracelets For Girls

at
NELS ANSHUS

EASTER
and
"MOTHER'S DAY" SPECIALS

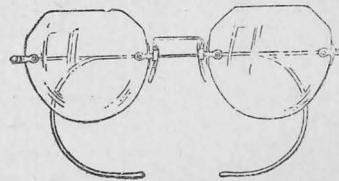

Watch For Them
at
THE CANDY SHOP

SMART ATTRACTIVE SHOES
for
EVERY OCCASION

Swenson and Berndt
The Shoe Men

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Spring Millinery

A visit to our millinery department will convince you of the smart hats at popular prices we specialize in.

New, rich, smart looking models in the newer materials and shapes for spring.

COATS-DRESSES-HOSIERY
AND UNDERGARMENTS

Summerfield's, On Broadway

Remember The Dance This Saturday

THE STOUTONIA

Boost For The Junior
Promenade

Vol. XXIX — No. 27

THE STOUT INSTITUTE, MENOMONIE, WISCONSIN

Friday, April 11, 1930

Stuntnite Is Success; Coed Organization Wins First Honors

All Numbers Are Good; Large Crowd Greeted The Performers

The first annual Stuntnite, sponsored by the Y. M. C. A., resulted in the winning of the silver loving cup by the Philomathean club which presented "The Wedding of the Painted Dolls". The wedding was portrayed with the skill of professionals and the unusual costuming gave a very romantic, picturesque representation of a colorful comedy drama. The wedding ended in the usual way as a number of old shoes and a large quantity of rice was showered upon the newlyweds. The Philomatheans appeared in the opening number of the evening's program.

In their usual professional style the Manual Arts Players presented a unique production which merited their winning second honors and closely following the winners. Their number, "Talking Picture", appeared last on the program and was something original in the perfection of the Vitaphone productions. Besides listening to the modern Vitaphone the audience was fortunate in having the actors appear in person.

All Numbers Were Good

The remaining acts, although winning no honors, were by no means not worthy of seeing, and it was clearly visible that there is an unusual amount of acting ability among the students. Excluding the mentioned clubs, the acts appeared as follows:

Stunt 2. Broadcasting—Lutheran Students.

Upon requests made for favorite selections by students from the various parts of the country, the band rendered the selections, and accompanied them with a number of wise sayings.

Stunt 3. Synthetic Life—Society of Music and Art.

It is queer and wonderful that many of the things in this scientific world are produced synthetically, but we are still wondering how this class of girls created life, in the form of (Continued on page five)

Experimental Cookery Introduced Into Coe. Classes For First Time

Offered To Junior And Senior Girls Who Have Completed
Required Courses

When is red cabbage green? How many strokes does it take to mix sugar into Angel Food? If you hear these questions along the corridors or in the elevator, you are in the presence of the Experimental Cookery people.

In Home Economics at Stout the course in Experimental Cookery is being introduced this year. It is offered to junior and senior girls who have completed all required courses in Foods and Nutrition. The purpose of the course is to acquaint students with the scientific facts which have developed through recent research in food preparation. It follows the present day accepted standards in Home Economics food work for Grade A colleges and universities throughout the United States.

While the method of approach is a scientific one, yet the students get a great deal of practical work with foods which develops good technique in handling food materials and makes for quick and efficient workmanship.

Throughout the course experimental series are conducted in Sugar Cookery, Egg Cookery, Emulsions, Fats and Oils, Jelly, Vegetables, Meats, Freezing, and Batters and Doughs, with the object in view of finding the way to prepare things to produce optimum results and to know the reason why so that a standard product may be produced in the future.

At the close of a lab period it is not unusual to see a series of fifty custards all prepared in different ways in order to determine the best way. Beginning with the candy series, the students have since experimented with fondants, caramels, taffy, custards, omelets, whipped cream, mayonnaise, cream puffs, doughnuts, pie paste, puff paste, (Continued on page five)

CAMPUS CARTOONS

by Kathleen Lind

M. A. P.'s Announce "Quality Street" As Their Coming Feature

Mary Jane Dodson And Albert
Hanson Will Take The Cast Leads

The Manual Arts Players wish to announce that their spring play has been selected and that the cast is hard at work every night whipping it into shape for production on May 2, 1930, in The Stout Auditorium.

The play selected is "Quality Street", a comedy in four acts. The author is none other than the delightful James M. Barrie, one of the most popular of the contemporary Scotch dramatists and novelists. Barrie started writing when he was but twenty-two years of age, and by the time he was twenty-eight years old, his success was assured. He has always been very popular, for he is possessed with a natural wit and a spontaneous humor. He writes in a very informal, delightful style, and his plays run in the sphere of the comedy of manners and the imaginative fantasy. Certainly James Barrie has a very engaging personality, and enough of his own personality is instilled into his characters in his books to make them very charming.

The cast which has been chosen to portray the characters in Barrie's "Quality Street" are as follows:
Susan Throssel ..... Jane Foeller
Phoebe Throssel ..... Mary Jane Dodson
Mary Willoughby ..... Alice Haselrud
Fanny Willoughby ..... Marion Cress
Henrietta Turnbull ..... Florence Verbrick
Patty ..... Alice Cockerill
Recruiting Sergeant ..... George Price
Valentine Brown ..... Albert Hansen
Georgy ..... George Bryant
Miss Beveridge ..... Mildred Haggard
Isabella ..... Doris Henry
Edith ..... Emma Newby
Arthur Wellesley Tomson

William Smith ..... Carl Roll
John Waniga ..... John Waniga
Charlotte Parratt ..... Carol McClurg
Ensign Blades ..... Nathaniel Ward
Harriet ..... Emma Hansen
Spicer ..... Karl Miller
Old Soldier ..... Ralph Shaude
Mary Jane Dodson, as Phoebe Throssel, is taking the leading women's role. Albert Hanson, as Valentine Brown, is masterfully carrying the male lead.

Woodworkers Go On Another Field Trip To Neighboring City

Spend Interesting Day Visiting Five Different Shops In
Eau Claire

Saturday morning, April 5, twenty-five woodworkers and Organization students went to Eau Claire on another of the educational field trips of The Stout Institute. Even though the distance was short the trip was begun at an early hour because five places were to be visited during the day.

The first place to be visited was the Gillette Rubber Company. This factory has won for itself a wide reputation and uses all modern machinery. Some of those who had visited the plant before commented on the improvements which had taken place since their previous visit.

The second place of interest was the Phoenix Furniture Company. This factory specializes in bank fixtures and all made to order equipment. They turn out an extremely high grade of work and make use of much expensive American and imported wood.

The Dunphy Boat Works was next in line. Dunphy boats are nationally known. Their regular production is limited to boats which cost approximately $2800 or less. However many special orders of boats costing much more are taken care of at this plant. The Dunphy people use only mahogany wood in the construction of their boats.

The following is a comment of one of the members of the trip upon his visit to the refrigerating plant. "Our visit to the Refrigerating Plant proved equally instructive and interesting. The plant is undergoing a very decided change in the product from the wood to the sheet metal construction. Evidences of this were noticed first in the relatively small supply of lumber, part of the mill (Continued on page five)

Stout Enrollment Is Misquoted In Article

A rather unfortunate item appeared this month in the Industrial Arts Magazine in which reference is made to the enrollment in the School of Home Economics of The Stout Institute. This quotation from the article is the cause of some uneasiness on the part of the Dean and members of the faculty of the School of Home Economics: "Since 1925 the enrollment of women has decreased while that of the men has increased, making increased housing facilities for men students in attendance at the institution."

That statement is unfortunate because it doesn't state the facts.

Twenty Percent Increase Here

In 1926 all short courses were eliminated from the curriculum of The Stout Institute. In September of that year the enrollment showed a total loss of 159 students, of which 89 was chargeable to the School of Home Economics and 70 to the School of Industrial Education. That year the Home Economics Department registered 177 students, the next year they registered 191, then 185 and this year there are 210 students registered in the Home Economics School. During these years there has been an increase of 20 percent enrollment in the School of Home Economics Department.

The Industrial Arts Magazine will make this correction in the May issue, and the Stoutonia is glad to give this statement further publicity.

Five H. E. Graduates In West Allis School

The West Allis Vocational school has five Home Economics graduates on its faculty. Reka Lembke of the class of '28 and Dorothy Leonard are heads of the department. Henrietta Sievert, who received her degree in January, went to the same department in February, and Margaret Blair of the class of '28 and Winifred Cooper, who graduates in June, will enter in September.

CALENDAR

Monday

Science Club ..... 5:00 o'clock
Stoutonia Staff ..... 5:00 o'clock
Women's Glee Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Men's Glee Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Tower Staff ..... 7:00 o'clock

Tuesday

Band ..... 7:00 o'clock
Philos ..... 5:00 o'clock
Marquette La Salle ..... 7:30 o'clock

Wednesday

Rifle Club ..... 7:00 o'clock
Metallurgy ..... 7:00 o'clock
Lutheran Students ..... 7:30 o'clock
Y. W. C. A. ..... 5:00 o'clock

Thursday

Aremi ..... 7:30 o'clock
Hyperians ..... 5:00 o'clock
Orchestra ..... 7:00 o'clock

Junior Prom Plans Complete; Music By The Commodore Club

Unusual Decorations Have Been Promised; Invitations
Are Sent

The fourth annual Junior Promenade of The Stout Institute will be Saturday night, April 26th.

The Prom King, Ernest Muller, announces that plans have been completed for the entire dance.

Chuck Garber and his Commodore Club orchestra will furnish the music for this brilliant social event of the year. Dancing will be from 9 to 12. Unusual decorations are promised, entirely in keeping with the occasion. Invitations have been sent to the alumni. It has been reported that many have already signified their intention of returning for this annual affair.

The price of the tickets is $2.00. Those having outside guests are (Continued on page five)

Mr. Doudna Impressed With Home Ec Course

As our guest and assembly speaker of last week, Mr. E. G. Doudna, Director of Teachers Training for the Teachers Colleges of Wisconsin, reported very favorably on his observations around Stout.

Upon visiting the Nursery School he was particularly impressed with the value of our Child Development course. After watching the children at their different activities, Mr. Doudna pronounced the Nursery School set-up, including the organization and work, splendid, and as even surpassing those at Madison and Milwaukee. He especially stressed the benefits which the girls are receiving in the training of the children and by their contact with them.

Last Lyceum Number Coming Here April 16

Wednesday evening, April 16, marks the date of the last number of the lyceum course. By many this number is considered the feature attraction of the entire season. The Berger, Steindel, Astor Trio, accompanied by Gloria Randolph as dancer, comprise the last offering.

Miss Randolph comes to the concert field with a reputation covering every branch of her art. Besides being well known in America, her reputation has been established in many of the foreign countries.

Each of the members of the Berger, Steindel, Astor Trio began his career by showing remarkable talent at an early age. They have received the best instruction both in America and abroad. Besides their studies abroad they are well known for their abilities as concert artists and instructors in music.

"The Charm School" Senior Play Choice

The senior class play this year is "The Charm School", written by Alice Duer Miller and Robert Milton. It is a comedy in three acts, and is a Samuel French publication. It will be presented May 28, 1930.

John Barber is taking the lead as Austin Bevans. Miss Jane Hambley is playing opposite as Elise Benedotte.

The cast of characters is as follows:

Austin Bevans ..... John Barber
David MacKenzie ..... Edwin Bier
George Boyd ..... Sidney Eng
Jim Simpkins ..... Albert Gilles
Tim Simpkins ..... E. V. Ahonen
Homer Johns ..... Bonnell Smith
Elsie Benedotti ..... Jane Hambley
Miss Hays ..... Cecilia Cadigan
Miss Curtis ..... Ruth Lindall
Sally Boyd ..... Violet Parsons
Muriel Doughty ..... Winifred Cooper
Ethel Spelvin ..... Mildred Dingee
Alix Mercier ..... Lois Ina Bunker
Lillian Stafford ..... Florence Richardson
Madge Kent ..... Mary Green
Dotsie ..... Ruth Dodge

Active play practice has begun last Monday evening and has been continued every night since then.

From reports given, most of the characters have been members of the Manual Arts Players at some time or other during their college career. For this reason a super-production is looked for from the ruling class by the rest of the school.

Early Alumni Vote Returns Want Change

Last week the Stoutonia sent out ballots to the alumni, and asked them to vote in the Stoutonia straw vote on prohibition.

To date three votes have been sent back for modification of the present laws, and one for strict enforcement.

By next week we should have most of them returned. It should be interesting to see how the alumni vote on the question.

HAVE WE FORGOTTEN?

A year ago the Stoutonia started agitation for getting aid for Emil Rahja, who was injured while playing football for Stout, in 1926.

The alumni at that time started a fund for aiding such needy persons. Nothing has been done this year.

Last week we published an editorial bringing the matter to light again; evidently the students on the campus don't read the editorials or else they don't care. We would hate to think that the latter is the case.

Alumni, you showed wonderful spirit last year when the matter was brought to your attention. May we ask for your aid again? Let's not forget our athletes.

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

Managing Editor ..... E. V. Ahonen
Associate Editor ..... Henrietta L. Quilling
News Editor ..... Chester Mau
News Editor ..... Anita Gundlach
Assistant News Editor ..... Bernard Hagen
Assistant News Editor ..... Vivian Hewitt
Feature Editor ..... William Soucie
Feature Editor ..... Kent Riggs
Feature Editor ..... Arthur G. Johnson
Humor Editor ..... Carl Roll
Sports Editor ..... Georgia Aber
Sports Editor ..... William Micheels
Exchange Editor ..... Albert Gilles
Organization Editor ..... Janet Kyle
Organization Editor ..... Nicholas Marsilio
Cartoonist ..... Kathleen Lind
Staff Photographer ..... R. A. Jakoubek
Business Manager ..... Earl C. Halverson
Circulation Manager ..... Robert G. Reick
Asst. Circulation Manager ..... Carl Roll
Asst. Circulation Manager ..... Byron Canatsey
Advertising Manager ..... Marlo McCullough
Asst. Advertising Mgr. ..... Floyd C. Larson
Intertype Operator ..... Arthur G. Johnson
Foreman Mechanical Department ..... Kent Riggs
Under Direction of ..... Mr. C. W. Hague
Editorial Adviser ..... Mr. John Faville, Jr.
Associate Adviser ..... Miss Helen Sarchet

THE JUNIOR PROM

The date for the Junior Prom is almost here at last. Have you stopped to think that you have only three weeks in which to get ready?

Some of the coeds will be getting new formals. Play fair with them by getting your date early enough to enable them to make preparations.

In order to make the price of admission as small as possible, the Prom committee is giving a college dance tomorrow eve. They have promised everyone a good time. Are you going?

THE BALL IS ROLLING

Last week the STOUTONIA published an editorial on the forming of an Upton Sinclair club on the Stout campus. Since that time the membership of the club has grown a great deal. Last Thursday they sent for the first bunch of books.

The purpose of the club is to get the truth about some of the greatest problems that are confronting the people of the United States today. Mr. Sinclair has treated these problems in a masterful way so the students feel that they can rely on him for the facts. That he does know his subject is proved by the fact that he has never had a libel suit brought against him.

After the members of the club have read the books, they will be donated to the Stout library. Some of them will be used in connection with Social Science classes, for this reason Professors Faville and Davison have been asked to act as advisors in the selection of books.

If you are interested in joining our group you still have the opportunity open to you.

WOULD YOU BE A LEADER? PAY THE PRICE!

As one grows older in working with others, the more confirmed becomes the conviction that what are called the homely virtues are the traits which count the most in the long run. No matter how clever an individual may be, no matter how quickly he or she may perform an assigned task, if there is not possessed a clear-cut idea as to the necessity of observance of the right and wrong of the current mores the sum total of achievement will be small.

Without seeking to detract from the value of intelligence tests in selecting applicants for positions in business and industry, it may be asserted with reasonable certainty that one of their inherent weaknesses is that they do not (possibly can not) take character into consideration. Yet in business, as in all other phases of life, character needs be taken into account most of all. For when plain honesty comes into conflict with clever superficiality, the honest individual averages high. The so-called "Smart Alecs" seldom arrive, and if by chance one of them does, the stay is never permanent and seldom very long.

All of this may sound like damned old rot! It is old, of course, but one save a moron or a superficial "Smart Alec" will call it "damned rot!" Get this straight: If anyone gets into his or her head that this "old stuff" is of any less value than it was in any of the countless generations gone before, then he or she is fooling no one other than himself or herself. For today, more than ever, industry is searching for men and women who can grow big in personality and ability and not simply grow big in the head.

Men and women who can stand praise and advancement without deterioration to themselves are hard to find. Most of us begin to worry, as soon as recognition is given us, because we delude ourselves into believing that we are doing too much. Not so the thoroughbred who gives everything, not knowing or caring whether the other man or woman gives more or less.

Make up your mind to it that working with others means the giving of all that one possesses in the way of energy, the spirit of fair play, and the desire to "gowith." who can do all this? Not many, it is true, but that is why the leaders of men are few.

—"The Kalends."

Let's Laugh

Inventors We Have Met
Brown and Smith passing an insane asylum where inmate is being taken in:

Brown: "What's wrong with that guy?"

Smith: "That's the guy that invented a static eliminator. You put a buzzer on the circuit and it makes a noise so loud that you can't hear the static."

"How do you work the pedals on this piano?"

"Haven't you ever driven a ford?"

"Why do the Scandinavians call skis 'shes'?"

"Because you never know what they're going to do the next minute."

He Meant It

"A penny for your thoughts."

"What do you think I am? A slot machine?"

Hill: "So tomorrow is your wedding anniversary. What do you expect to get your wife?"

Gill: "I don't know. I haven't any offers."

"I'll be as true and constant, dear, as the spreading tree above—if you will be my love."

It was a slippery elm they gazed at.

F—ine people are they,
R—ight in all they say,
E—xcellent in their doings, all the time,
S—atisfactory, to their teacher, sub-lime,
H—ard workers in all they do,
M—erry people as they go about school.
E—very thing they can do, for our school;
N—ever will they fail in things they start to do.

HUMOR

Bill Murray says, "Verbs are opposite from nouns and their plurals."

Mr. Kranzsch: "Are there any other questions? If not, Goodrich, you may go to sleep now."

While the girls were playing ball, Miss Huson said, "Don't throw it so heavy."

Some Stout students are not very anxious to eat. A large number missed dinner to see a fire.

Spring must be here; so many of the men have turned their minds to love. How about it, Pete and Chile?

Sunday evening we found Major Hooper on the bridge looking at the water. We wonder what he was looking for. Of course, he was with a girl.

Canatsey and Pierson have a clever way of announcing events. Some advertising company should sign the boys up.

Did you know that Dusty is a prize fighter? The other day he was seen running up and down the street moving his arms in all directions and ending the performance by attaining a fighter's position and landing terrific blows on the trunk of a heavy tree. The exhibition was interrupted when Rusty caused Dusty to get that contagious laughing fit. Canatsey is Dusty's trainer and entertains between rounds.

Beinert has a Rolls-Rough from which the motor knocks can be heard for blocks. He calls it a he instead of a she, because it is a touring car and not a run about.

Prof: "Red, what is the opposite of misery?"

Red: "Happiness."

Prof: "And what is the opposite of sadness?"

Red: "Gladness."

Prof: "Fine; now give me the opposite of woe."

Red: "Giddap."

"Gee, this is an old chicken."

"How can you tell?"

"By the teeth."

"But chickens don't have teeth."

"No, but I have."

The Thing's Impossible

"Why the sad expression?"

"I bought one of those books called 'How to Make Love' and now I don't know what to do."

"Well, can't you read?"

"Sure. It says to take the lady's hand, look in her eyes, and say, 'I love you Beatrice.'"

"Well?"

"My girl's name is Lizzie."

If men were interested in what other men wore, there would be perhaps more men in church.

ANVIL SPARKS

from Aries

Much of our disgust is not rational, and should be swept away by the purifying breath of science.

"To find scape-goats for one's moralistic viciousness is the most interesting of human pastimes."

"We cannot think graciously of a beast from which we are debarred." —Schmalhausen.

Alumni

The response to our request for letters and information regarding our alumni seems to be rather slack. What seems to be the difficulty? Is it a lack of interest on the part of the alumni toward our school or is it just a matter of being neglectful?

Again, I ask the cooperation of our alumni to make this column a medium thru which our alumni will become better acquainted with each other.

That interest still exists among some of our older alumni is revealed in the following letter to our Tower Editor, Mr. Christensen.

Gentlemen:

Will you kindly send me a copy of the "Stout Annual" for this year. I am a graduate of the class of 1909 and I am still interested. You may send the book C. O. D. or enclose a bill, whichever you prefer.

Yours truly,

Mrs. Allen G. McBride
(nee Mildred Devereux
Elko, Nevada.

Mr. Emerald Caierelli, the famous concertina player at Stout last year, will again be with us during this week end.

Many of the students, who attended Stout last year, will remember Mr. Caierelli's wonderful selections on the "squeeze box" which he played at our assemblies and on other appropriate occasions. He intends to bring his better half, the "squeeze box", along, and play a few of his favorite pieces.

Mr. Caierelli has been teaching during the last year in the Vocational School of Kenosha, Wisconsin. He has machine shop classes in both the day and evening school.

Olberg Hagen, who is teaching in the public schools of Detroit, writes that he is very well pleased with the teaching situation in which he is working. He is the only male instructor in the Keating Public School, but of course this is no serious drawback.

The Manual Training courses which he teaches are all in the elementary grades. The attendance fluctuates considerably in this school because of the vast number of children who come and go as the employment situations in the factories affect their parents. When some great factory shuts down, the laborers pack up and go to some other town; consequently the enrollment in the elementary school drops down.

Mr. Hagen says that he has during the past two years watched with interest the development of the commercial airlines in Detroit. The city has just recently dedicated one of the largest and up-to-date airplane hangers in the world. It is estimated that it cost in the neighborhood of one million dollars. He says that it is very interesting to watch a lighted cabin plane come gliding through the sky at night and roll practically silent up to the new hangar.

It might interest some to know that Olberg Hagen is Barney Hagen's big brother.

Miss Marjorie Rossler of the class of '28 has accepted a two thousand dollar Home Economics position in the Kimberly High School for next year. The department is to be partially financed by money from the George Reed Bill.

Miss Margaret Hartwell, who is on leave of absence from the Kenosha Vocational School, will resume her position in September. Miss Hartwell receives her degree from The Stout Institute in June.

A letter was recently received by the editor from one of his former co-workers in Tampa, Florida, namely, James Relahan. Jim says that there has been an addition to his family; two months ago a bouncing baby arrived at his home.

He also states that conditions in Florida are improving.

—S—

"She always butts in on my talk."

"Yes, she listens faster than you talk."

Here'n There

Students of the River Falls Teachers College are to have a six day Easter vacation this year.

The special recess is intended to give faculty members an opportunity to attend the convention of the Wisconsin Normal School Teachers Association at Madison.

—The Student Voice.

President Schofield, of the Eau Claire State Teachers College presented sweaters to sixteen football men of the 1929 squad. This honor was bestowed upon the men during the regular school assembly.

—The Spectator.

Going to school always has been a matter of miles to John Chee, a freshman pre-medic at the Marquette University. This is his fourth year in the United States and he is now more than 8,000 miles from his home in Tsingtau, Shantung, China. Even in China his studying was done far from his native village.

It will be six years or more before Chee will be ready to return home. However, time does not matter to him. He is looking forward to a useful and successful career at the end of his college career.

—The Marquette Tribune.

Construction work on the new $25,000 shop building at the River Falls State Teachers College will be under way within three weeks, thinks Mr. Spriggs, if present plans prove satisfactory to the state architect.

The necessary funds are available; the site for the building has been chosen; and detailed plans of construction are in readiness for submission to the state architect at Madison for his final approval.

—The Student Voice.

George D. Strayer, prominent American educator and professor at Columbia Teachers College, has been secured by the assembly program committee to address the students of River Falls Teachers College in general assembly Thursday, April 17th, and to give another talk before members of the faculty the same day.

This noted authority is scheduled to appear on the program of Schoolmen's Week which will be held April 14th to 18th at the University of Minnesota in conjunction with the celebration of the founding of their College of Education.

Mr. Strayer has been professor of Educational Administration at the Columbia Teachers College since 1910. He has been director of the division of field studies in that college Institute of Research since 1921.

—The Student Voice.

The Literary Digest gives the latest returns on the prohibition poll as 527,388 for the repeal and 333,978 for strict enforcement, while 383,117 favor moderation. With the south yet to answer, the poll shows the wets outweighing the dries hand over foot.

The brother of Howard Taft, the late supreme court judge, held that straw votes did not count. Perhaps they do not to those elect few who are capable of judging for themselves but on the whole the indoor pastime of the American public is being fooled. A straw vote is not to be trusted. There are several facts which back up this statement. People are controlled by moods, and to say that an actual vote would bring the identical result of this poll would be to tempt fate. Asking a man for mere information will not bring the same action as if he were faced with an actual problem. Many, knowing that vote meant changing the national law, would alter their vote from a moderation to strict enforcement and more than a few would bolt the wet position they now hold.

—The Hamline Oracle.

At the recent meeting in Atlantic City the American Association of the Teachers Colleges voted to Milwaukee State Teachers College an "A" classification as a Senior Teachers College with no deficiencies noted. This means that the college has complied with all standards required of a Senior Teacher College. There were just thirty-six teachers colleges in the United States to receive an "A" rating, and many of these were deficient in one or more standards.

—Echo Weekly.

Coach Carl Stockdale of Stevens Point aims to have every man in college engaging in some kind of athletic sports within the next few weeks. He hopes to have as many as possible take advantage of the various sports that are to be offered. The program he has prepared includes spring football, intermural baseball, boxing, wrestling and tumbling and mat work.

—The Pointer.

Friday, April 11, 1930

Menomonie Country Club Plans Special Membership For Stout

Club Now Open Though Greens Are Still Protected; Old Pro. Back

Golf is already being played at the Country Club. The greens are still protected, as they will be in all probability for some weeks, but the fairways are in condition for playing and the most enthusiastic golfers have been taking advantage of them.

The monthly meeting of the Board of Directors was held last Friday evening in the office of President Nelson. Certain important matters were under discussion, including the Club's financial situation. As a result of that discussion came certain changes affecting the organization and administration of the Club.

Gerald Maloney will return this year as the Club's professional. This arrangement meets with universal approval.

Membership classifications remain the same except that a social membership has been added, which becomes available to women who are not interested in golf and who wish only to attend the social functions of the Club. One other modification is made in membership classification.

The Student Summer Session membership has been re-established. It was discontinued last year, but has been re-incorporated this year. Students coming here for the summer session will be accorded all of the advantages of the Club for the period of the summer session at a materially reduced rate.

Stout students will be particularly interested in a recent action taken by the Directors of the Menomonie Country Club.

Two years ago a special membership was provided for Summer Session students at Stout. The regular membership for the season in the Menomonie Country Club is $50, a non-resident membership is $25; this special membership for Stout students for the duration of the Summer Session has been fixed at $15. That makes very cheap golf for anyone interested. Tickets of introduction and admission will be secured from President Nelson, who in signing the card of admission assumes responsibility for the conduct and accounts of Stout students, who take advantage of this membership.

Students now attending Stout will be interested too to know that both in the regular season and in the Summer School students may play repeatedly by paying the regular greens fee. Such a privilege is not, of course, accorded except to non-resident students—that is, students whose homes are more than five miles from Menomonie.

These same students will be interested too to know that an experiment is being tried this year, whereby such non-resident students may play one round of nine holes for 50 cents, and that the maximum charge for the day's play remains $1.00.

Wishing To Please Is The Secret Of Charm

Courtesy and personality study in the ninth grade has proven very interesting. Miss Mildred Dingee, practice teacher, gives us the following report on: "Charm or What Have You?"

"Who goes down the aisle of a theatre first? How can you travel skillfully? How will you introduce you father? How can you reflect upon your school? Why should you go out of your way to be agreeable? What will you talk about? Can you accept a box of candy and make the donor glad he brought it? Must you choose between being a style plate or a book-worm?"

The girls in the Ninth Grade Home Economics classes know the answers to these questions! All of these "I Want-to-be-Popular" girls have discovered that charm does not depend upon looks, money, or social position. It is the result of wishing to please and of directing one's efforts intelligently. For the past two weeks each girl has been attempting to develop a "Charm Technique" of her own and they have found that it's a great game to try to "beat your own record" in friendliness and courtesy.

Clifford Carlson is bringing his band to Menomonie again this year. From reports received he is doing excellent work both with his classes and as director of the Clear Lake school band.

Don't forget the dance tonight.

Did You Know That-

Four out of five haven't got IT?

Stout won the swimming meet last Monday evening?

There was a fire in the H. E. building a week ago?

Pete Zimmerman didn't see his girl one night last week?

There are only seven weeks of school left?

Dan Green boxed Gillis last Sunday evening?

There ain't no school April 18?

We have a spring vacation?

Spring football has started?

The coeds are conducting a lunch room and ask your support?

The lake is open?

Life is an up-hill grind; some days you can't lay away a cent?

The senior play cast is hard at work?

Some Stout fellows lost their home last week because of a fire on Broadway?

Some coeds are still waiting for a date to the prom?

The five million unemployed are still looking for work?

It is possible to make boiling ice?

Most college men wear garters now?

The Tower has gone to the printers at last?

The size of the family is a labor problem?

Golf pants will be worn again?

Stout is the only school of its kind in the world?

Janet Kyle is on the Stoutonia staff?

The prom committee is giving a dance tonight?

Oysters don't get sunburned?

Bonsel Smith has been teaching in Turkey?

There will be a Lyceum number soon?

The following simplified spellings are in use: cach, cusin, botl, scool, altho, fonograf, thru, breth?

Trotzky is an exile in Turkey?

Art Johnson is a graduate of the U of M?

The modern breast stroke makes a swimmer round shouldered?

The lead atom has been cracked, gold will some day be made from lead?

One reason for religion is to keep a friend in need is a rare animal? people under control?

Stout is more liberal academically than most other colleges?

Bye Olson has opened a new shop?

Stout has a yearly enrollment of about 1,000.

Some men on the campus have formed an Upton Sinclair club?

You can't hold a good man down—sometimes?

The tennis courts are still waiting to be repaired?

A boy in school is worth three in the apple orchard?

A flapper is no stronger than her weakest wink?

Synthetic diamonds are being made?

Stout is giving a course in aviation next summer?

Camp Colony will again be started during summer session?

It's almost time to go to press?

College is the place where one spends several thousand dollars for an education and then prays for a holiday to come on a school day.

If you don't know this you're an average college student.

Stout Receives N.C.A. Report On Standing; Keeps Previous Rank

Matter To Go Before Faculty And Trustee Board For Discussion

The report of the North Central Association of Colleges on the new rating petitioned for by Stout has been received. The report is in keeping with the prediction made by President Nelson in these columns last week.

Stout maintains its previous rank and is asked to petition for a survey during the year in order that special standards may be established to make it possible for this institution to enter the Association without meeting absolutely all of the requirements established for colleges of letters and science. This matter will next go before the faculty for further consideration and later to the Board of Trustees for their action.

Stout H. E. Faculty Attend Lecture Fri.

Dean Michaels and Professors Buchanan, Smith, Carson, and Hopkins of the Home Economics faculty attended a lecture Friday afternoon at Eau Claire given by Ruth Atwater, Director of Home Economics for the National Canner's Association, Washington, D. C. The association is an organization of all producers, and is not a merchandising concern. Miss Atwater said the fact that attempts to handle difficulties of canned goods occurring between producers and consumers are handled by the Research Bureau which is stationed at Madison.

News Editor Forced To Leave Staff

Miss Belinda Hendrickson, who has been News editor on the Stoutonia staff for the past semester has been forced to discontinue her work with the staff because of ill health. Miss Hendrickson is actively engaged in several extra-curricular activities, and these along with her school work has been too strenuous.

The Stoutonia regrets the loss of Miss Hendrickson as she was a very capable news editor. Miss Hendrickson feels that she wants to do her best work in all that she undertakes and feels that by continuing on the staff she would not be doing justice to her various obligations.

Colburn Completes Cooperative Work

Arthur Colburn, who has been teaching at the Dunwoody Institute during the third quarter, has returned to The Stout Institute to resume his studies here. The officials of the Dunwoody Institute, during the busy months, hire Stout students as relief teachers. This plan, known as the "Cooperative Plan", has been adopted by Stout for the past three years. This plan gives the students an excellent opportunity to gain teaching experience prior to going out into the field.

Students desiring to gain experience in the industries, under the cooperative plan, will receive placement through The Stout Institute. Besides gaining a wealth of experience the students will in addition receive a small salary.

Practice House Gives April Fools Party

The girls at the Practice House staged a very clever April Fool's party on Monday night. The guests, Miss Cruise, Miss Smith, Miss Miller, Miss Jeter, Miss Hopkins, Miss Ruth Bassuener, Helen Bunker, Myrtle Ray, and Alice Cockerill, who attempted to enter the front door found the sign, "Door out of Order—use the back door". Once inside, the guests were allowed to hang their wraps in the laundry room. Every one was dressed in costume. Bunco and crazy bridge furnished the entertainment for the evening. Refreshments were served. The girls at Homemakers who were hostesses were Josephine Edinger, Georgia Aber, Helen Costello, Mercedes Cranstons, and Gertrude Hansen.

ROLL'S HUMOR

Wife: "Did you take a bath?"

Husband: "No, is there one missing?"

Teacher: "What do you know about nitrates?"

Student: "They're cheaper than day"

The farmers coops his ducks and hens, Feeds them with corn and wheat; The means must justify the ends, For thus he makes them meat.

—Anonymous.

If you can't laugh at our jokes, laugh at the effort.

Whenever you cry over spilt milk, try to make it condensed.

Making Both Ends Meet

The baby rolls upon the floor, Kicks up his tiny feet, And pokes his toes into his mouth— Thus making both ends meet.

The dog, attached to a tin pail, Goes howling down the street, And, as he madly bites his tail, He maketh both ends meet.

The butcher slays the pensive pig, Cuts off his ears and feet, And grinds them into sausage big— Thus making both ends meet.

"Wh ydid you strike your husband with a rolling pin?" "Well, you see, Judge, I wanted to try to make him level-headed."

One of our fair co-eds thinks that "bacteria" must be the rear entrance of "cafeteria."

Beauty at any Cost He: "Where'd you get those sweet little dimples?" She: "By sleeping on collar buttons all night."

"Why do you sit there and scratch your head?" "I'm the only one who knows that it itches."

The Same Old Tom Tom, Tom, the piper's son, Stole a car that wouldn't run. The engine's knocks Were heard for blocks, So now Tom's making little rocks.

—Wet Hen.

Have you heard about the absent-minded professor who drove his car to the garage and asked to have it dry cleaned and pressed?

Has it Come to This? Laurie and Gillie carried guns while making a call to the Annex.

Have you heard about the Scotchman who always swallowed his food without chewing it so he wouldn't wear out his teeth?

"Say, Joe, why do they always put straw on fresh concrete?" "That's to keep the concrete from blowing away."

"Son, where have you been?" quiered the anxious mother as her boy slouched into the house at one A. M. "I've been out on a date," was the answer.

"With that dirty shirt?"

"Naw, with a girl."

Dot Williams: "I heard that you do not like girls." Keith Penn: "Its a case of necessity."

Charleston said, "Next quarter I will buckle down to work and stop fooling around and stop drinking red pop."

Riggs took some kollitch students for a ride in his Kampus Kar. After a splendid ride of a few blocks, the boys were compelled to push the car back. Now that the flivver won't run, it is a standing joke.

Knows Nothing About It "When I hit a man he remembers it." "Thats nothing, when I hit a man he doesn't."

I sit alone in the moonlight Forsaken by women and men And murmur over and over "I'll never eat onions again."

Love—the feeling that makes a woman make a man make a fool out of himself.

Bonsel Smith Tells Stoutonians About Life With The Turks

"Turkey Is Changing" Says Mr. Smith; "Reform Moves Quickly"

Bonsel Smith, who has been teaching in Turkey, tells the Stout students about past, present and future Turkey. Mr. Smith intends to go back to his old job after graduation this spring.

Few people thoroly understand the events of the past few years in Turkey. Even the Turks themselves cannot fully appreciate them. What we do know is that there have been great changes. What they signify, where they will lead is another thing. One November morning in 1925, I put into the Golden Horn from the Sea of Marmora on board the Fabre S. S. Sinaia, 21 dafs from Providence, R. I. Constantinople at last! The City of a Thousand Minarets! Out of the calm of the mists of the Marmora into the hub-hub of a Turkish port! A swarm of boatmen in their kaiyaks, each trying to outdo his neighbor in striking a bargain with some unwary traveler! Constantinople lacks anything like adequate docking facilities. You and your baggage are put ashore in the costoms house in a small boat. You make a bargain with your boatman. When you pay him he is sure to want some "bakshish" (tips). Learn to be hard hearted if you will prosper while traveling in the Orient.

I was met, fortunately, by a port agent employed by the Mission Headquarters. He put me thru the Customs House (literally). There was some discussion between him and the customs agent about a typewriter that I was carrying. On the bill for his services there was an item which I could not understand. Upon inquiry I found that it was "bakshish" again. A little private agreement between the port agent and the customs agent. "Bakshish covers a multitude of sins."

Constantinople, or, more properly Istanbul, which, incidentally, is no longer the capital of Turkey, would take a lifetime to learn. I have spent days in the Grand Bazaar alone, wandering about, looking but not buying, and I have never yet come out of the bazaar where I wanted to. There is always something in Istanbul that is new and interesting. Stand on the great Galata Bridge, where millions of people pass on foot every day. There are hamals carrying loads of trunks or boxes that you would think were more fitting for camels. There are the fishermen bringing in to the markets the swordfish which they have just caught from the Bosphorus. Women dressed in all the styles from the most modern to the traditional cape and veil of the woman who still observes the institution of "Harem". (Accent on the last syllable, please) A beggar or two perhaps tho they have been practically driven from the streets by the government.

Visit Ayia Sophia, a Christian church now used for a mosque. There you will see, fifteen feet up on one of the columns, the imprint of the

(Continued on page four)

Progressive Dinner Held By Coed Club

The Hyperian Society held its progressive dinner party on Wednesday night. The first course, fruit cocktail, was served at six o'clock by Winifred Cooper, Ruth Lindall, and Lorraine Litchfield at Tainter Annex. Then the group went to Henrietta Quilling's where they were served the main course. To make things more interesting each girl was given a turn at washing dishes. The next course, served at The Homemakers cottage, was a fruit and meat gelatin salad prepared by Josephine Edinger and Mercedes Cranstons. Miss Burgoon concluded the dinner the Tea Room by serving the dessert which was delicious engels food cake and whipped cream. The color scheme effectively carried out, was green and white. The girls then went to the Auditorium where they practiced stunts.

At the meeting of the North Central Association of Colleges, the resolution to drop schools sponsoring athletic carnivals and invitational high school sports events was referred to a committee and action deferred until year later.

If this action is made next year there are several small colleges well as the universities who would have to give up this practice. The reason given for this action by the association was that the large schools were holding these meets to recruit athletes.

—Teachers College News

Smith Tells About His Life With The Turks

(Continued from page three)

hand of Mohamed, the Conqueror. The story goes that he, when he captured Constantinople in 1453, rode into the then church over the bodies of the slain and, sitting in his saddle, placed his hand on the pillar. The mark of the hand is undoubtedly there for I have seen it. I will not guarantee the story. There are hundreds of other mosques. There is the War Tower, now prosaically used to watch for fires, once used as a lookout to spy the hostile fleet as it crept up the Marmora.

But Istanbul, with all its mystery of the past, was not my destination. I was bound for Tarsus, of Cilicia, the birthplace of St. Paul and spoken of by him as "no mean city." So one morning I ferried over to Asia, accompanied by a native employed by Mission Headquarters to take care of just such inexperienced people as I. I was put aboard a train at Haidar Pasha, the Asiatic terminal of the famous Bagdad Railway. I was told to stay on the train until I reached Yenidje. I did.

I had command at that time of one word of Turkish: "evvet", meaning "yes", when correctly pronounced. Two days of travel, alone, in a strange country! An absolutely unfamiliar language! A rather thrilling prospect for a timid boy! Just exactly that! I should not have missed it for anything.

I could not obtain a reservation in the only pullman car on the train so the first night I sat up or lay down on the seats, (more comfortable than in an American train) whichever happened to be more comfortable at the moment.

I received during this trip my first impression of the Turkish character. We all carried our food for the trip—no diners. I must have presented a lonely aspect. Two men sitting opposite me in the coach, invited me to share their lunch, which I did. One must not refuse their hospitality. Another young man about my own mother young man about my own age, came to me late in the evening when there were only a few of us remaining in the coach. "Sprechen Sie Deutsch". "Nein". "Parlez-vous francais?". "Oui". And then innumerable questions. Where do you come from? Where are you going?

Nationality? Age? How do you like Turkey? etc. Hospitality and curiosity—two outstanding characteristics.

The outstanding feature in all life of Turkey is Mustafa Kemal Pasha, president of the republic. From nothing he created the republican army which made the republic a possibility. From discouragement and lethargy he created the nation's soul. He is a stern, hard man; a man of few words. Tho he is the power that makes the government possible he does not often break out into print. Reticient and reserved, he speaks only when the progress of the nation needs a strong hand. Kemal would be classed as a great man because of the things that he has been able to do in Turkey. But the greatest thing about him to me is the place he holds in the hearts of his countrymen. His name is as a fetish to them. Affectionately they call him Gazimiz, our hero. When I stand among a group of young Turks the thrills run up and down my spine as I feel the response that they make at the mention of his name.

Reform moves rapidly in Turkey to-day. With the establishment of the republic in 1922 a new day arrived for Turkey. Deprived of all the non-Turkish provinces Turkey turned to the development of her own resources. Many of the reforms are outward. They are more striking to a newcomer than to one who knows the feeling of the country. With one day's notice the fez, the headwear for centuries of this people, was outlawed, and effectively. The hats of all the men in Istanbul, a city of nearly a million, were literally changed in a day. The rest of the country moved more slowly—but they moved. The school system where boys and girls have always studied separately was remodeled so that they now attend the same schools. New schools were built. Teachers attend training conferences.

The Turks had always used the Arabic alphabet for their writing until about two years ago. The Arabic was not suited for Turkish. Turkish is too freely flowing a language to be bound by the Arabic alphabet which was designed for a very guttural language. The Arabic alphabet has only one vowel. Turkish has eight vowel sounds. The one letter hardly filled the requirements. Starting about two years ago and culminating January 1, 1929 the government developed a movement which did away with the old alphabet and established a new one, similar to the Latin in appearance. However an English speaking person still needs some training to pronounce Turkish correctly. The country was literally re-educated. School books were rewritten. Newspapers changed their type. Legal documents and official records are now all written in the new letters. And further, every person of less than forty years was required to go to special night schools until he could produce a certificate that he knew the alphabet. Many of these people had never learned any other letters. Thousands of them, old and young, flocked to these schools to take advantage of this opportunity to get the rudiments of learning.

Turkey has always been an agricultural country. She has exported largely grain and cotton. Now she is turning to the development of her natural resources and to the building of industries. All railroads are government owned. Of recent years they have built hundreds of miles of new railroads. Every year sees a new section opened. Mines are being opened and developed. These movements need trained leaders and there is one of Turkey's great handicaps. They greatly lack mechanically and industrially trained men. In the days of the empire the artisans were of the subject races. Now they are gone and Turkey must fill the gap with her own people. Vocational and Industrial Education they need and know that they need it. But where are they to make a start?

In the city of Talas, near Kayseri (Caesarea), the American Mission has opened a school for boys with the express purpose of developing the type of Vocational Education that they need there. This project has the full approval and cooperation of the heads of the Department of Education. Government sympathy and support! Practically a free hand in developing a system that fits the needs of that community! Here, it seems to me, is a unique opportunity for American education to make a contribution of value to the development of new Turkey. Talas should grow with three aims. First to provide a secondary school education for boys who follow the regular school program, giving them special work in trades. There are thousands in every Turkish city who need adult and continuation education. This is another possibility for the school at Talas. The third development at Talas should be in the line of short summer courses for native teachers of Industrial Arts. As the situation stands now, the one who takes over the Talas school will have to build from the ground up.

Missionary work in Turkey is much the same as it would be in any country. There are compensations and disadvantages. There is no opportunity for financial advancement. Any missionary receives the same allowance the tenth year that he received the first, always, of course, in ratio to his family responsibilities. Mission funds are always short. Equipment is bound to be rather poor. Appropriations for more are hard to obtain. One cannot expect the advantages in art, music and such things as in a more highly developed country. The society may not always be what you want. But, the teacher in Turkey stands somewhat apart as a person of importance. You are one of the elite of Turkish society. The eagerness of the mind of the Turkish student is almost phenomenal. The entire country is filled with young people eager and ambitious to develop, to make a mark, to get the best tools that they can for their life work. There is a breaking away from their fatalistic lethargy. They see now the chance for every man to be somebody.

no matter what or who his father was.

How dull the world would be Without thy presence, dear barbarian,
And happy lord of high futurity.
—Van Dyke.

Turkey, both government and people, welcomes the missionary that comes to serve Turkey.

This account has necessarily been rather cursory. It is only a fragment of the whole picture; the fascination of the past, present and future there.

During the latter part of the Wednesday afternoon Related Art Seminar class, Miss Mutz took the girls to her apartment to observe some work relative to the unit just completed by the class. Before leaving, Miss Mutz very graciously served tea. The members of the class are Ardella Anderson, Aagot Moe, Anita Gundlach, Mary Green, and Miss Burdick.

An exhibit of toys made by the 8th grade practice class will be held next week in the corridor on second floor of the H. E. building. These toys, which were made most inexpensively, illustrate very clever ideas, many of which are ntirely original.

See Our Specials
in
Pound Package Stationary
A. R. OLSON

Haircuts at any hour of the day
Three first class barbers
THE ELECTRIC SHOP

SERVICE
We do dry cleaning every day. If you need the use of your suit immediately, take advantage of our "ONE DAY SERVICE."
SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Spring Suits $22.50 to $35.00
MENOMONIE DYE HOUSE
Running & Cole

PUT on your SPORT CLOTHES and HOP
AT THE JUNIOR PROM
BENEFIT DANCE
SATURDAY NIGHT 8:00 P.M.
Stag dances, Dating bureaus and PRIZES
JAZZ BY "RUSTY'S RED HOT'S"
War Tax - - - - - 25c

Friday, April 11, 1930

Organizations

The Girl's Glee Club again made a public appearance on Sunday morning when the girls sang at the Norwegian Lutheran Church. Next Sunday, April thirteenth, the girls have been requested to sing at the Congregational Church, where they will take the place of the regular choir. Plans are now in readiness for the annual concert, and the tentative date set for the concert is April twenty-third.

Miss Merna Miller and Mrs. Paul Wilson entertained the Philomathean Society at a 1:00 o'clock Bridge Luncheon at the Wilson residence on Saturday, April 5. The high prize was won by Miss Katherine Graslitz, the low prize by Miss Mildred Haggard, and the consolation prize by Miss Alice Ostrom.

The girls report a pleasant time—even Alice was really consoled.

The following men were elected for office at a recent meeting of the Y. M. C. A.:

President.....Earl Halverson
Vice President.....Ernest Christenson
Secretary.....Nicholas Marsilio
Treasurer.....Chester Larson

These men will take office at the first regular meeting in May and will continue until the first of May next year.

The class in Food Demonstration, which has been conducting some practice demonstrations in food preparation, is now preparing final demonstrations which will be open to the public. Various subjects have been chosen, the first being "New and Old Fashioned Rolls" which will be given by Alice Haselrud on Wednesday, April 16th, at ten o'clock. All demonstrations will be held in room 325 of the Home Economics building.

Watch the paper and bulletin board for announcements concerning the demonstrations to follow.

Residents of the first and third floors at Tainter Annex were entertained at a party by their second floor neighbors last Tuesday night. The hostesses, under the able chairmanship of Mabel Neergard, conducted a half hour of contests and featured an impromptu debate with Gail Galloway of third floor representing the affirmative and Velma Gutwasser of first floor on the negative side to determine which floor should give the next party. The question for debate was: If the captain of a ship is fifty-six years old and the smokestack is painted white, what should be the nationality of the cook? Patsy Ruth Kelly, Beth Murray, and Charlotte Watchorn, acting as judges, rendered the decision in favor of the negative; so third floor as the loser was delegated to give the next party. Prizes for favorite sayings and popular song contests were won by Edith Riter and June Lockhart.

Ice cream and cookies were served as a conclusion to the party.

S. T. S.

At the regular meeting of the Stout Typographical Society held Wednesday night, Mr. Hague gave a demonstrational talk on the cylinder press and its operation.

Mr. Hague said that although there are several types of cylinder presses, they are all basically the same and one who knows one type of cylinder press well will not find any trouble in operating other types. He first talked about the parts of the press, their adjustments and functions. He concluded by giving a demonstration on the preparation of the press and its operation.

After Mr. Hague's demonstration, announcement was made of the date for the journeyman's exam for Wednesday, April 16.

The meeting was well attended and this semester's incoming membership was represented by: David Bitters, Charles Childress, Carl Hoernamann, Phillip Haass, Clarence Nelson, and Art Peterson.

Junior Prom Plans Have Been Completed

(Continued from page one)

urged to attend to the matter of guest slips.

The guests for this Junior Prom are Pres. and Mrs. Nelson, Dean and Mrs. Bowman, Dean Michaels, Dean Price, Miss Strayer, and Mr. Johnston.

Chaperones for the event are Mr. and Mrs. Davison, Mr. Welsh, Miss Jeter and Miss Hassler.

The Junior class is sponsoring a collegiate dance this Saturday night to help finance the Junior Prom. Let's support the juniors.

High School Orchestra Plays Before Assembly

Exhibiting a fine technique, the Menomonee High School orchestra presented the assembly program, Thursday, April 10.

Under the direction of Mr. Paul E. Gregg, the orchestra played a varied and delightful program. It included the following:

Bouree (in G minor).....Bach
The Poet and Peasant and Light Cavalryman (march).....Fillmore
Gavotte Celebre in F Major.....Martini
Turkish March.....Beethoven
Les Adieux.....Sarasate
Wedding march from Midsummer Nights Dream.....Mendelssohn
La Paloma.....Yradier
Bouree—repeated, playing without Conductor.

Continued applause from the student audience indicated the pleasure with which the Stout's younger neighbors were received. Mr. Gregg is to be complimented on a fine season's training.

Experimental Cookery Is New H. E. Course

(Continued from page one)

fruit pies, jelly, and vegetables.

Experimental Cookery is an activity with which Home Economics people nationally are actively engaged. Work is being directed by the Bureau of Home Economics at Washington and is being done as part of the agricultural extension work in all land grant colleges. Research is carried on in graduate colleges in the country and is supplementing the field of Colloid Chemistry. The results of experimentation represent a practical knowledge pertinent to food material in order that it shall be pleasingly and nutritiously prepared.

As evidenced by the enthusiasm with which the girls are meeting this course, it is proving a very valuable addition to our curriculum. As a result of their work the girls will be better able as teachers to cope with food problems.

Stuntnite Is Success; All Numbers Good

(Continued from page one)

a man, with nothing but a lock of hair, a pair of socks, shoes, necktie, and a few other such articles.

Stunt 4. Stumblers—Tumbling Team.

We must give credit where credit is due. This band of men are earnestly engaged in becoming real gymnasts, so that they can organize and instruct a class of tumbling in the schools in which they teach.

Stunt 5. A Dream of Life—Hyperians Society.

In this act the actors portrayed the life of a child from her cradle days until the time of matrimony. As the mother sat dreaming she could see the child grow to maturity.

Stunt 6. "H. E."—Home Economics Club.

All the phases of Home Economics which are connected with the school were represented in play form by this club.

Stunt 7. Sparks—Metallurgy Club. Our inevitable "Dusty" demonstrated that he inherits something of a genius make-up when he produced a flowage of electricity across a thirteen inch gap, and then taking the entire load through his body.

The Stuntnite as predicted met with success and is highly commended by all who were in attendance. This unusually good start should be an incentive for the students to look forward to the annual event with eager anticipation. Next year the acts, of course, will be even better because of the experience gained through these productions, and of course the competition will be stepped up so that next year's program will be something that no one will want to miss.

Remember the dance Saturday!

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonee Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

Go to your Barber for Good Service
and rest by relaxing in his barber chair
I. W. NESSER
The Barber

Personals

TAINTER HALL

Margaret Casey and Esther Bock were shoppers in Eau Claire Saturday afternoon.

Edna Mathews visited her aunt in Chippewa Falls last week.

Esther Sichler spent several days at her home in Alma Center.

Kathleen Shannon entertained her father, Dr. Shannon of Crosby, Minnesota, here on Saturday and Sunday.

TAINTER ANNEX

Miss Marie Schroeder and Miss Bernice Bricker had an enjoyable visit in the Cities.

Beth, Pat, Gail, and Al found great attraction in the Annex on Sunday.

Edith Riter spent Saturday and Sunday at Fall Creek.

Lorraine Litchfield spent the week-end at her home in Eau Claire.

The girls are waiting for the lake to get warmer for swimming. The last test wasn't so promising!

LYNWOOD HALL

Lisle May Huson reported an enjoyable trip to the Cities Sunday.

Vivian Florin spent the week-end at her home in Corbrane.

Irma Gilbertson drove to her home in Black River Falls Saturday.

Mvrtle Anderson drove to Colfax on Saturday afternoon where she attended an operetta, given by the local high school, that evening.

Friday night Lynwood resorted to candle-light. Strange as it may seem, not many of the girls were found to be at home—we wonder why!

Grace Linderson, Jean Moe, Frances Hill, Eleanor Nelson, Irene Meyer, and Margaret Senty reported enjoyable week-ends at home.

Evelyn Preston and Fannie Pratch visited at the former's home at Jole, Wisconsin, over the week-end.

Now that spring has come, many of the girls are developing an interest in playing ball. They may be seen practicing every night with the fellows from across the street.

Several of the Home Economics faculty motored to Eau Claire for dinner and to see the "Vagabond King" last Thursday, April 3. A

TAILORING

Dry Cleaning — Pressing
Prompt Service
A. E. HERREM

Menomonee Baking Co.

Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

ORPHEUM

Tonight (Fri.)—Sat.
"SWEETIE"
with Nancy Carroll and Jack Oakie
Also Pathe News

Sun. - Mon.
"LET'S GO PLACES"
With Joseph Wagstaff
Also Paramount Sound News and Screen Vodvil. Mat. Sun. 2:30

Tues. - Wed. - Thurs.
"BROADWAY"
With an All Star Cast
Note: Guest tickets not good on this engagement.

Coming—Apr. 24, 25, 26
Marylyn Miller in
"SALLY"

GRAND

Sat. - Sun.
"THE LAST WARNING"
With Laura La Plante
Mat. Sun. 2:00

Pre Summer Session Enrollment Is Large

More than a hundred men and women have already enrolled in The Stout Institute to attend the summer session, and from five to ten enrollment blanks are being received every day. It is interesting to note that many of those who have already enrolled are teachers who have gone out into the teaching field with a three year diploma, and are returning in quest of a degree.

Students in attendance now who are contemplating on attending summer school are urged to make out their enrollment blanks at once. As the enrollment approaches the two hundred mark there are possibilities that some of the subjects listed in the program schedule will not be available due to congestion in certain divisions. There may be some slight alterations in the schedule if the selection of classes are not apportionately selected.

Indications seem to point that the summer session attendance will surpass that of the regular session.

special section was reserved at The State Theater. Those who attended enjoyed the picture very much.

Those who went were the Misses Bell, McFadden, Strayer, Mutz, Wangen, Balerud, Michaels, Burgoin, McCalmont, Walsh, Smith, Miller, Bachman, Froggatt, Van Ness, Hopkins, Carson, and Leedom.

The Misses Adele Lanckton, Ruth Schultz, and Nellie Bailey, seniors in the School of Home Economics, are having the opportunity this week of going with Miss Price to visit the vocational schools at Milwaukee, West Allis, and Cudahy.

He: "I'm crazy about you."
She: "Well, run along, this is no insane asylum."

Woodworkers Go On Eau Claire Field Trip

(Continued from page one)

machines being idle, and the glue department not running at all. On the other hand, the sheet metal machines were operating at full capacity along with many newly installed laquering units. The new metal ice box with its laquer finish to match the color of the kitchen is a more efficient, substantial, and cheaper product than the old type ice boxes.

The Dells Paper and Pulp Co. was the last place to be visited before returning to Menomonee. From all reports the plant was visited from top to bottom and a very thorough inspection was made.

Mr. Bowman and Mr. Hanson wish to thank the managers of the business establishments that were visited for the courtesy shown to the students who made the trip.

The woodworkers who went on this trip went to study types of furniture, general construction principles, methods used, and industries in general. The organization class looked for definitions of occupations in modern plants, studied changes in construction, routing of distribution, and management in general. Everyone agreed that the day was profitably spent.

An Old Myth

It was said that Hercules was the strongest man in the world. He could lift himself up by the back of his neck and hold himself out at arms length for hours at a time.

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

THE SHAKER STUDIOS

ARE ALWAYS GLAD TO SERVE YOU

Let us Develop your Kodak Films

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP
NOW DOING BUSINESS IN THE TEARE BUILDING
With Complete Line of Ladies Wearing Apparel
EVERYTHING NEW

For your EASTER selection
WHITMAN'S CANDY
and
EASTER CARDS
LEE'S DRUG STORE

"BYE" OLSON'S
GOOD CLOTHES

"NEW"

EVERY THING FOR COLLEGE MEN

WE HAVE

QUALITY SHOES

DINELY LOW PRICES

and Berndt
Men

Box Candy

our boxes mailing

OLYMPIA
tran

Stout Wins The Three Cornered Tank Meet; Eau Claire Is Second

Harell Of Eau Claire Is High Point Man; Bronstadt Of Stout Second

Watched by an interested crowd, the Stout tank team swam to a one sided victory over River Falls and Eau Claire last Monday. The swimmers started out with a bang, won the 160 yard relay, and from then on were never headed. The final check-up showed Stout to have 34, Eau Claire 14, and River Falls 9.

Harell of Eau Claire was the high point man of the meet. He won first in the 40 yard dash and in the 100 yard free style to bring his total to ten. Bronstadt was the high point man for Stout with a first in diving and a second in the 40 yard dash.

Matched Next Week

Next Monday these three teams will again battle it out at the Falls with the same lineup of events listed. In all probabilities this meet will be much closer because of the addition of several new men by all teams.

The large crowd that turned out Monday night showed that there is considerable interest in this sport at Stout. It was an entire success in the eyes of all those who participated and looked on.

Summary of Events

The complete summary of the events is as follows:

160 yd. relay—Stout (Hoerneman, Hoerer, Micheels, Johnson).

40 yd. breast—first, Bartosh, R. F.; second, Bryant, S.; third Killen, E. C. Time: 48.

40 yd. dash—first, Horrell, E. C.; second, Bronstadt, S.; third Bartosh, R. F. Time: 31 4-5.

40 yd. dash—first, Matusiwick, S.; second, Hammer, R. F.; third, Hibbard, E. C. Time: 41 4-5.

100 yd. swim—first Horrell, E. C.; second, Rowe, S.; third Jakoubek, S. Time: 21 2-5.

120 yd. medley — Stout (Bryant, Matusiwick, Johnson).

Fancy diving—first Bronstadt, S.; second, Murray, S. and Gum, E. C. tied.

—S—

Two Boxing Matches Sponsored By The Curtis House Gang

Danny Green Awarded Decision In Six-Round Bout Last Saturday Night

Much excitement prevailed at the Curtis House last Saturday night. The occasion was the staging of a boxing match between "Dangerous Danny" Green and "Galloping Gilly" Gilles. This was in the nature of a grudge fight, the seed of which germinated some three weeks ago when these two bantams had a round about in which Gilly seemed to take the edge. A return engagement was arranged at that time and Danny forthwith went into training with the heartfelt intuition of getting revenge.

Before entering into a round-by-round account of the main event, a word must be said about the four-round preliminary between "Hot Shot" Sauter of Hopkins, Minnesota, and "One-Round" Wallin of Willmar, Minnesota. (He managed to hold up for four rounds this time). This fight also had the grudge element in it. Dusty was consistently taking honors in the competition for grub consuming, and Rusty's jealousy has been climbing to a higher pitch all the time. In th's fight, he saw a chance to even up the scores.

As the two men entered the ring, a great cheer nearly raised the roof off the building. Dusty entered first very appropriately attired in running pants, and followed by Roe, his second. Rusty followed, also appropriately att red in pajamas, and escorted by Canatsey, his second. After the customary instructions from referee Paulus, to the fighters, timekeeper Soucie rang the bell, and the war was on. A detailed account of the fight will be omitted here, because it would never pass the censors. Suffice it to say that after Wallin had tied the first and taken the second and third rounds, Sauter, in the fourth round, made a face and nearly won the fight.

Now for the main event. Both men entered the ring at the same time, and had to be held down to keep them from jumping at each other's throats. After referee Paulus had once more made the necessary rules and induced the two roosters to shake hands without biting, timekeeper Soucie once more rang the bell. Oh, what a mistake!

Round One

"Galloping Gilly" rushes from his

"Captain Applejack" Is Neighbor's Play

A few years ago the Manual Arts Players of Stout presented "Captain Applejack" as one of their plays. It is interesting to note that the Eau Claire Teachers College is now giving the production.

The following article is taken from "The Spectator", their college paper.

The seniors of the Eau Claire Teachers College are said to be making rapid progress in the preparation of the class play, "Captain Applejack", which is to be played Thursday and Friday, April 10-11. A cast of experienced dramatic players will present this comedy, with the added attraction that the second night's performance will be given by a different cast of women.

"Captain Applejack" is said to have been a tremendous hit on the professional stage recently with Wallace Eddinger in the title role and Mary Nash opposite. Containing the best elements of comedy, mystery and fantasy, it is packed with thrills, laughter, and suspense.

corner, and before "Dangerous Danny" has a chance to get his guard up, he delivers a right, a left and another right to Dan's face, bites his right ear and then floors him with a left to the nose which starts a gush of blood. He takes a count of eight, but the bell saves him. Gilles round.

Round Two

Time out; Dan's nose still bleeding. Medical aid being tendered by Dr. L. Johnson and trainer Childress. Gilles fumes through the round, in his corner. The bell ends the massacre. Dan's round.

Round Three

Dan's nose still running wild. Dr. Johnson doing all he can. Marsilio, Dan's second, getting nervous. (He's afraid he'll have to fight in his place) The bell ends the round. Danny's round.

Round Four

Dan's nose easing up. Gilly smokes a cigaret to curb his impatience. The bell rings and Gilly is nearly broken-hearted to throw away most of his cigaret. Danny's round.

Round Five

The bulls rush to the center of the ring and lock horns. A confused spectacle of flying lefts and rights, a flying foot, an occasional flash of teeth; these are all that one can see. The bell rings just as Danny begins to wind up for a right to Gilly's body which would have stopped the fight right then and there. Even round.

Round Six

This is merely a duplication of round five so there is no need to repeat. Danny was beginning to wear down from chasing Gilly around the room. The bell rings in time to save him from knocking himself out. Even round.

Due to his superior ability as displayed in the second, third and fourth rounds, Danny was awarded the decision.

—S—

Again!!

If Adam came back to earth the only thing he'd recognize would be the jokes.

Experience

Kind Old Gentleman: "What do you call those two kittens, Johnny?"

Small Boy: "I call 'em Tom and Harry."

K. O. G.: "Why don't you name them Cook and Peary after the great explorers?"

S. B.: "Aw, gwan, mister; these ain't polecats."

NO SCHOOL ON GOOD FRIDAY

Easter Sunday comes this year on the 20th of April. On Good Friday, the 18th of April, the college will be closed. This is the practice which maintained last year and the year before. It is now an established custom, and will be continued this year.

Collegi-8 Dance To Be Given Tomorrow

Saturday night, April 13, is to be the first chance for a long time that Stout people will have to witness and participate in something entirely new to this campus, namely, the pre-Prom Sport Dance.

The first outstandingly different feature of this party is that sport clothes will be the appropriate attire for every one; knickers, sport shirts, sweaters, white ducks, anything sporty and collegiate.

There has been considerable talk about school relative to a dance of this nature, and the result is that the juniors are staging this one as a preliminary to the Prom, two weeks away, and to help raise funds for the Prom.

The admission price of twenty-five cents, 25c, or two bits, not only gives the individual a chance to enjoy an evening's dancing to the sizzling syncopation of Rusty's Red-Hots (all five of them this time) but also gives that individual a chance to register with the Junior Prom Dating Bureau, a newly founded organization whose chief objective is to promote and arrange Prom dates for those unfortunate individuals who are having difficulty in so doing. All those interested please see Ernest Muller, Bill Soucie, Hickey Julin, or Anita Gundloch at the dance. This is not a blind date bureau, and all conferences are to be kept strictly confidential, so don't be bashful about inquiring!

Although this is not primarily a stag affair, it is hoped that stags will be plentiful. Stag it, and let the dating bureau arrange a date for you after you get there. They aim to please, and they have put in a good deal of target practice too. Wear your sport clothes and be prepared for a hot time. The gang will be there!

—S—

"You remind me of the sea."
"Wild, romantic, relentless?"
"No, you just make me sick."

Easter Cards
and Greetings
A. R. OLSON

See us for haircuts; we satisfy our customers

THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

EASTER SUITS

Top Coats - Shirts

Ties and Hose

NEW LOW PRICES

EVENS-TOBIN CO.

Good Meals and Refreshments

SERVICE

Hotel Marion

Coffee Shop

Coed Volley Ball Started Wednesday

The first girls' volley ball games were played off this week on Wednesday and Thursday nights. The first, between the frosh and sophs, resulted in an easy victory for the freshmen. Scores for the two games played were 15 to 1, and 15 to 2. Evelyn Peterson as head of the frosh team, ran up the most number of points for her side. Her team-mates were: Alice Nelson, June Lockhart, Velma Gutwasser, Rhoda Rossler, Mary Jane Dodson, and Jane Foeller, with Lucile Hebl, Eleanor Vergin, and Lisle Huson as subs. The sophomore team was headed by Ruth Olson and included: Alice Ostrum, Mildred Haggard, Emma Hanson, Grayce Quarters, Lois Larson, and Alva Ades with Clarysse Ness and Gail Galloway as subs.

The junior and senior games on Thursday were won by the juniors, 15 to 0 and 15 to 9. Members on the teams were: Juniors — Carol McClurg, Henrietta Quilling, Frances Inenfeldt, Frances Hill, Mary Hryz, Marietta DeCramer, and Harrie Koss; Seniors—Mary Fox, Helga Rasmussen, Jane Hambley, Jessie Hanson, Aagot Moe, and Violet Parsons.

—S—
"I'm saving up for a rainy day."
"Going to buy a sedan this time, eh?"

Clerk in Five and Ten: "You can have anything in here for a dime."

Customer: "I'll take the little blonde behind the candy counter."

A venerable old Scot purchased a little radio set. A few days later his friends asked him how he liked his set.

"Well, it's aw richt to listen to," he replied, "but those bulbs are not so guid to read by."

Minor Sports Program Well Under Way; 'S' Club Beats Freshmen

Golf And Kittenball Follow Swimming On Stout Schedule

Getting off to a good start the Stout Minor Sports program was well initiated with a win in the swimming meet. Now comes an announcement from Coach Burbidge that a golf match will be played with these schools together with kitten-ball games.

With the coming of warm weather it is a common sight to see several Stout students hitting for the open spots with their golf clubs. There is a wealth of material around school and the Institute is assured of a good golf team and should repeat the swimming victory.

Kitten Ball Begins

Starting the kitten ball season last Saturday, the "S" club succeeded in downing the freshmen to the tune of 7 to 5. This is the first real score that has been published but with warm weather just around the corner the Stout lot will be a common place after school.

—S—

Remains To Be Seen

"Is my face dirty, or is it my imagination?"
"Your face isn't dirty; I don't know about your imagination."

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
EAT

THE PEERLESS GRILL
"The Home of Good Food"

EASTER and "MOTHER'S DAY" SPECIALS

Watch For Them at

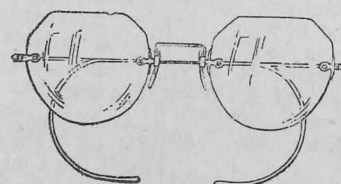

THE CANDY SHOP

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind

Our Own

Lenses

Broken

Lenses

Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

DIAMOND,
the Birthstone of April.

Make her happy at Easter with a nice gift of JEWELRY.

NELS ANSHUS

New Easter Styles !!

Our New Spring Hats, Coats, and Dresses

Have the Smart Styles and Richness at

POPULAR PRICES

DUXDALE HOSE — Silk Sealed

The New Shades - Full Fashioned - All Sizes.

Sub. Standards at $1.00 Regs. at $1.35 to $1.95

Summerfields

On Broadway

Miss Baker Writes Again; Now Going To Venice, Italy

Asks Students To Write; Describes Evening On The Southern Waters

My dear Stoutonia friends,—

Since writing to you last I have spent two months in Italy. At present, however, I am aboard ship sailing from Athens to Venice. After the next week in Venice, I shall write to you of Italy, but for now I shall simply write a few of my impressions gathered during these last two weeks in Greece.

Our visit in Athens has been perfectly delightful. I shall begin my summary with our departure from Naples. The beauty of our first night at sea cannot be described. As we left the harbor, we gazed at Vesuvius for several hours, under the magic spell of a full moon. The next dawn brought the luscious warmth of southern waters—a day in which we moved along the north-east coast-line of Sicily—past Messina, past Taormina—and finally we were in sight of the glorious Mt. Etna. At the foot of Mt. Etna is the city of Catania, where we went ashore for the afternoon hours. We were at last in a tropical climate, and its attractiveness was most welcome. On St. Patrick's Day, we greeted the morn by entering the canal to the gulf of Corinth. What a sight it was! For almost 4 miles our boat slowly wedged along between steep rock walls. The building of the canal was a French project of about 25 years ago, and is an unusual feat of workmanship. After leaving these old cliffs, we sailed along past many beautiful islands and reached Athens at noon.

We lived out in one of the suburbs, in a large open resort hotel facing the sea. It was such a pleasure to us who have always been plodding.

(Continued to page three)

Woodworkers Form New Club For The Furthering Of Aims

Club To Cooperate With Alumni; Eligibility List To Be Posted In Fall

A number of woodworking students who are interested in the development of better teaching have approached Mr. Hansen, head of the Woodworking department, and asked for his cooperation in the organization of a Woodworkers Club. Their basis for organizing the club came after a study of the prevailing situation which will confront them after they enter the teaching profession.

They state that there are a large number of students going out to teach woodwork who have had little contact with conditions in industry, and little knowledge in selecting and teaching the proper material. As a result new plans are under way for the drawing up of a constitution.

Draw Up Club's Aims

As all clubs are organized with certain aims in view, the Woodworker's Club plans to set out the following as a basis for aims to attain: A complete analysis of the woodworking industry and the careful selection and distribution of appropriate content for the needs of the pupils in the various classes of schools.

The following aims may or may not have bearing on the above aim but their importance warrants much consideration.

1. To promote a better knowledge and higher standards of design, construction, and workmanship in wood.
2. To correlate aesthetic and structural everyday art with woodwork.
3. To encourage a good teaching of woodwork.
4. To study and discuss practical wood working problems.
5. To encourage the correlation of more technical and scientific data with woodwork.
6. To collect, organize, and file useful data pertaining to the subject matter of woodwork and its teachings.
7. To establish a service bureau for Stout alumni who keep in good standing in the club.
8. To have the Stout alumni keep the headquarters group posted with such experiences as may be interesting.

(Continued to page four)

Miss Henrietta Quilling

Mr. Muller's choice for Junior Prom Queen—a popular young lady from the junior class.

Y.W.C.A. Convention Held At River Falls

The Y. W. C. A. convention for training councils from various colleges in this part of the state was held Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, April 11 to 13, in River Falls. Representatives from Stout were: Alice Lynum, Lorraine Litchfield, Charlotte McNab, and Belinda Hendrickson.

Miss Julia Mae Hamilton, National student secretary of the Y. W. C. A., who visited Stout a short time ago was in charge of all the meetings held throughout all three days.

Mr. Glenn Clarke, professor at Macalaster, was the speaker at the Saturday morning session. He is well known by Y. W. C. A. workers and has written several interesting and worthwhile books on full and creative life.

Various members of the councils met for general discussions until noon and for a short period after lunch on Saturday. Besides Miss Hamilton, those conducting discussions were: Miss Sadler, Y. W. C. A. secretary for the southern states, a negress, and enthusiastic worker; and Miss Beach from the University of Minnesota. Each leader took different phases of Y. W. work for discussion and opportunity for asking questions was given.

At a tea in the afternoon a Bulgarian girl of St. Theresa talked and entertained with native songs and folk dances. She told of the hardships in her own country and of the great struggle for life among the university students. She was a graduate of a Bulgarian university.

Saturday evening was devoted to a banquet in the Masonic hall. The program included an interesting talk by Miss Julia Hamilton, a toast by the little Bulgarian girl, accounts of her native people given by Edna Mu, a Chinese student from Macalaster,

(Continued to page three)

Jr's. Get Garber's For Prom

Musicians To Play In Balcony; Other Plans Also Complete

Ask For Assistance In Decorating Gymnasium; Will Begin Friday Week

The fourth annual Junior Promenade will be held Saturday evening, April 26th. A program of music fully equal to that of the DeMolay formal will be presented by Chuck Garber and His Commodore Club orchestra. Moonlight waltzes will add variety to an interesting array of fox tunes. The orchestra will be placed upstairs. This is somewhat of an experiment but the committee thinks a successful experiment.

Committee Heads Meet

The committee chairmen, consisting of the following, have met every Tuesday night for the past two months planning and preparing for this social occasion.

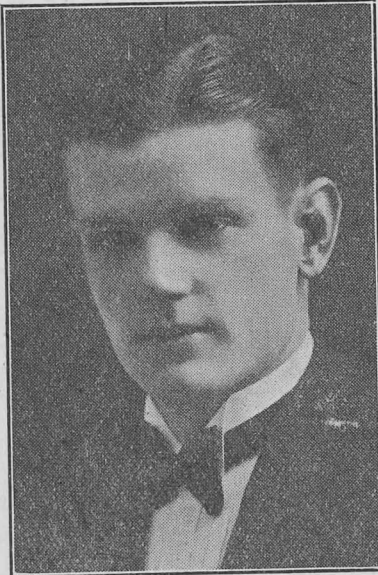

Entertainment .....Helmuth Bramstedt
Decoration .....Willard Hansen
Finance .....William Soucie
Program .....Lucian Paulus
Reception .....Francis Julin
Refreshments .....Ardella Anderson
Publicity .....Anita Gundlach

A great deal of assistance will be required when the decorating is started a week from today. All juniors especially should come out at this time and give their assistance.

Tickets Released Monday

Tickets and programs may be secured next week Monday from one to two o'clock and Wednesday from one to two o'clock at the S. S. A. office. Lu Paulus and Bill Soucie will have them at other times.

Prom King Ernest Muller and his partner, Miss Henrietta Quilling will be the gracious leaders of the Grand march. Dancing will start at 9:00 and continue until 12:00. It is hoped that the prom will prove to be the most brilliant and successful social affair of the entire school year. The junior class encourages everyone to take advantage of this wonderful opportunity to enjoy themselves.

Mr. Earnest Muller

The King of the 1930 Junior Promenade, who will lead the Grand March.

Last Lyceum Number Greeted With Favor

The last number of the Stout Institute Lyceum course for this year proved to be everything that was expected and promised. The Berger, Steindel, Astor Trio with Miss Gloria Randolph as dancer offered a variety of entertainment which was greatly appreciated by the large audience which attended the concert.

The following program was given by the trio and assisted by Miss Randolph:

Trio in A Minor .....Tchaikowsky
Elegie, Theme and Variations, Finale
Gavotte (Old French)
.....Composer Unknown
Miss Randolph
St. Cecile .....St. Saens
Rondo .....Bocherino
Mr. Steindel
Album Leaf .....Debussy
Miss Randolph
Rhapsodie in Blue .....Gershwin
Mr. Aster
Galliwogs Cake Walk .....Debussy
Miss Randolph
Song of the Siren .....Isador Berger
Forest Murmurs .....Isador Berger
La Carmania .....Isador Berger
Mr. Berger

A Spanish Dance
Miss Randolph
Mefistofle Trio .....Boito
Part 1—Romance et Tema Religioso
Part 2—Fuga Infernale

Our Lyceum numbers have been well attended this year and we have been fortunate in securing such a variety of high class entertainment.

This number concludes the nineteen thirty Lyceum course. This course was considered by all one of the best courses that has ever been presented by The Stout Lyceum committee. The committee is now looking for material for next year's course.

Junior Sport Dance Makes Hit; 'Rusty's' Band Scores Again

Bill Soucie And Margaret Wahl Win Prizes As Best Dressers

Well, folks, it's over, and what's more, it worked. What? Why the Junior Sport Dance of course! Enough of the boys and girls took their knickers and sport dresses (respectively) out of the moth balls to make the affair have a semblance of what it was intended to be.

In fact, never before have there been so many knickers in evidence on the Stout campus. There were at least fifteen pairs of them, not to mention several pairs of white trousers which helped grace the scene. Believe it or not, no one wore a tux. Among all the sport outfits, however, Bill Soucie's was selected as the best, which entitled him to his choice of a hot tie donated by "Bye" Olson's new haberdashery.

Margaret Wahl Wins

Among the women there were various and sundry styles of sportswear displayed, most of them very fetching and vivacious. In this field, Margaret Wahl was selected as the pace-setter and received the prize box of chocolates.

Rusty's Red-Hots once more "served the punch" in the form of many sizzling tunes. If those boys get much hotter, they will have to play in a fire-proof hall. "The punch" was also spiked with three very effective moonlight waltzes. Through the use of colored bulbs in all except the center ceiling light a soft glow was cast over the entire gym, and when this center light was turned off one was reminded of the time just before the moon rises over the opposite side of the garden—very charming and soothing. It all added very much to the party.

All in all, the affair was a very successful experiment. Congratulations, Juniors. May you repeat soon!

Aims Of Nursery School Made Clear; Cooperation Asked

Seek To Bring Out Finest Characteristics In The Child; Study Reactions

Initiative, individual development, self help and respect for the rights of others work hand in hand in the procedure of the Nursery school.

In the Stout Nursery School bulletin, the following aims were proposed: (1) To contribute to the welfare of each child enrolled by giving him every opportunity to develop the finest characteristics of his personality and to provide an environment suited to his needs and conducive to good health physically and mentally. (2) To set up a laboratory for the study of child development by the junior and senior women in Home Economics in order to further the study of parent-child relationships. (3) To collect information that may be used in parent education concerning the education of the child. (4) To supplement the home, but in no sense to replace it. (5) To offer to college students and parents, in a limited way, an opportunity for directed observation of children.

Needs Entire College's Aid

To develop along these lines, the Nursery School must have the cooperation not only of the students enrolled in the Child Development course and of the Nursery School assistants, but of every one on the college campus. Due to the location of the Nursery School, which necessitates much adult contact, there is a slight tendency towards an adult controlled situation rather than an or in going to and from school, the environment considered from the child's viewpoint.

In going to and from the playground children are apt to excite admiration of a nature not altogether constructive. Nursery school assistants observe the practice of talking with the children rather than about them, and laughing with the children rather than at them. Through the cooperation of everyone with the Nursery School, the purpose of training the child in correct habits and the determination of what constitutes correct habits, will be accomplished.

CAMPUS CARTOONS

by Kathleen Lind

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                               |                       |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Managing Editor               | E. V. Ahonen          |
| Associate Editor              | Henrietta L. Quilling |
| News Editor                   | Chester Mau           |
| Assistant News Editor         | Anita Gundlach        |
| Assistant News Editor         | Bernard Hagen         |
| Feature Editor                | Vivian Hewitt         |
| Feature Editor                | William Soucie        |
| Feature Editor                | Kent Riggs            |
| Humor Editor                  | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Sports Editor                 | Carl Roll             |
| Sports Editor                 | Georgia Aber          |
| Exchange Editor               | William Michels       |
| Organization Editor           | Albert Gilles         |
| Organization Editor           | Janet Kyle            |
| Cartoonist                    | Nicholas Marsilio     |
| Staff Photographer            | Kathleen Lind         |
| Business Manager              | R. A. Jakoubek        |
| Circulation Manager           | Earl C. Halverson     |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Robert G. Reick       |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Carl Roll             |
| Advertising Manager           | Byron Canatsey        |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr.        | Marlo McCullough      |
| Intertype Operator            | Floyd C. Larson       |
| Foreman Mechanical Department | Arthur G. Johnson     |
|                               | Kent Riggs            |
| Under Direction of            | Mr. C. W. Hague       |
| Editorial Adviser             | Mr. John Faville, Jr. |
| Associate Adviser             | Miss Helen Sarchet    |

PLEASE REFRAIN

The Stout nursery school is attempting to give the little children, that attend it, a pre-school education, based on scientific discoveries, in regard to child psychology.

Talking foolishly to them in the elevator, or making such remarks as, "Isn't he cute," etc., tends to upset the aim of the school. Please refrain from doing that. Save your remarks until they get off. If you must speak to them, say something sensible.

PATIENCE, PATIENCE

About this time of the year a great many students get nervous and restless. Jobs are coming in, and they're coming in fast, but don't be alarmed if you haven't been called in on one yet. It may be that the calls for positions for which you are fitted haven't as yet started to come in. Early jobs aren't necessarily the best ones. Quite often the best positions don't open until late in the year.

The tendency on the Stout campus seems to be in the direction of the best initial salary. Instead of looking into the future and studying the possibilities for advancement that a locality offers, most students consider only the beginning salary.

There is something else to think about: Supposing you are called in on a job that pays eighteen hundred the first year. You accept and teach the first year; then you awaken to the realization that the system with which you are connected has no salary schedule, and that you are elected to return at the same figure. Then there is another system, let us say, that pays only sixteen hundred the first, but it also promises to give you a hundred dollar raise every year. Wouldn't it be wiser to take the latter job?

Study the position before you accept, and don't accept one without advice and consideration. The season is young and the indications are that it is going to be a good one.

THE TEACHERS COLLEGES AT ATLANTIC CITY

No group in American education today is working on its problems more earnestly and effectively than the American Association of Teachers Colleges, a department of the National Education Association. The Atlantic City meetings of this department were held on Friday and Saturday before the convention of the department of Superintendents of the National Education Association. Its discussions went to the very roots of the problems of these great institutions. Its committees were doing things—developing ideas, discussing concrete situations with officers of colleges which are seeking to reach higher standards. Everywhere one found the spirit of goodwill, of achievement, of determination to make the state teachers colleges the best colleges on earth.

It is truly remarkable that within less than a decade the normal schools with two years of work have developed into colleges with four years of work. They will undoubtedly continue their upward march until they are excellent graduate schools. The contribution of the normal schools to the excellence of present day education is beyond calculation. Call the roll of the leaders in your state and note the number of them who had their beginnings in a normal school, whose ideals were formed and whose inspiration had its roots there.

The early normal schools grew up out of the soil of education need. Like the elementary schools they are democratic in concept. They have always emphasized character, realizing that no one can teach more than he is. Through this character contribution the normal schools have had a profound effect upon American ideals. We believe it to be of the utmost importance that the emphasis continue to be on character. The state teachers colleges are the West Points of our educational army. As they are democratic our life will be democratic. We believe it important to train elementary school teachers, secondary school teachers, and school librarians together in these institutions in order that they may know one another and live in mutual friendship the foundation for professional cooperation in the development of the educational program of the state.—Joy Elmer Morgan, Editor of the Journal of the National Education Association. Editorial from the April issue

Let's Laugh

Did You Ever See—

A sword fish or a stone fence?
A horse fiddle or a pig iron?
A bottle fly or a bed spring?
A tomato row or a pot roast?
A star fish or an ink stand?
A fire fly or a rat-tail file?
A clock spring or a cow slip?
A band box or a cat nip?
A barn dance or a chimney sweep?

And Did You Ever Hear—

The shoe blow its horn?
A hare bell ring or
A cough drop?
A pillow tick, or a
Treetop hum?
And Did You Ever, Ever See—
A board walk or a mill race?
Butter fly and the dish mop?
A hill farm and a hill mop its brow?

A tree spin its top or a bee chew its gum?
Corn prick up its ears or a potato wipe its eyes?

A clock wring its hands or a table
cross its legs?
A man pull up the lake or a cat
take up a tree?

A girl drop her eyes, or the night fall?
An apple turn over or a clock wash its face?

Did you ever eat any door jam
when the door was a jar?

Or see a peanut stand or a stone
step?

—Ottawa Campus.

Even a pin is useful, if it has a head.

"It's for a five day week. How about you, Sam?"

"Man! I's for a five day week-end."

"Mother, I think I have chicken pox."

"I doubt it."

"I just found a feather in my bed."

An Irishman offered sixpence for the boy who could tell him who the greatest man in history was.

"Christopher Columbus?" answered one boy.

"George Washington," answered
another boy.

"St. Patrick," shouted a bright Jewish lad.

"The sixpence is yours," said the man, "but why did you say Saint Patrick?"

"Right down in my heart I knew it was Moses," said the Jewish boy, "but business is business."

Deep Digging

Son: "Father, who dug the Grand Canyon?"

Father: "I understand a Scotchman lost a nickel somewhere in the vicinity."

"Papa, what is a grasshopper?"

"That danged dull lawnmower of ours."

A large number of warblers demonstrated their talent by serenading the dormitory girls last Wednesday evening. At least the fellows did not receive tin cans and tomatoes as reward; hence their singing must have been good.

Ruth Zimmerman: "Can you draw trees?"

Bill Soucie: "No, but I can draw flies."

We welcome Carrilli with his giraffe colored Ford and his come-to-me and go-from-me. We hope that he will enjoy his visit.

Mr. Krangusch: "Where on a car do we find a series wiring system?"

Randecker: "On christmas trees."

The stunt entitled: "The Dream of Life" caused the audience to shed tears. The mice need water; especially since we haven't had rain for such a long time.

The collegiate dance was a big success. Margaret Wahl and Bill Soucie respectively portrayed what the collegiate girl and boy wear.

A colored man walked into a drug store and said, "Ah want one ob them plasters to stick on yoah back."

"I see. You mean one of our porous plasters."

"No. I don't mean no porous plaster. Ah mean the best yoah got."

That guy is so lazy he can't decide whether to stay in bed all morning or to get up early so that he'll have a longer day to loaf.

Optimistic

The sad-looking man stopped at the lunch-counter and said: "Five ham sandwiches, please."

"Will you eat them here or take them away?" asked the counter man.
"I hope to do both," was the reply.

ANVIL SPARKS

from Aries

"We cannot think graciously of a feast from which we are debarred." (Schmallhausen)

"The blue sky is bigger than the clouds in it, and it lasts longer. (Jean Paul)

Deserved praise fires the soul with zeal; continual fault finding and magnifying of peccadillos kills enthusiasm anywhere.

Alumni

During this last week, Stout was visited by several alumni who have accepted teaching positions during the last few years.

One of the early arrivals was Emeraldo Caierelli who is teaching in the Vocational School of Kenosha, Wisconsin. Caierelli still has his little old Ford truck to haul himself and his co-partner, the concertina, around.
The old "zip" with the "squeeze box" is still with Mr. Caierelli. He is planning to buy a new concertina, which will be more elaborate than the one he now has. Work on his new concertina has been progressing rapidly and the finished "squeeze box" will cost him about $600. Why not buy a Baby Grand? We ought to be hearing plenty of sweet music when he gets his new instrument percolating!

From Madison, Wisconsin, we had
Mr. Stephen Oellerich as one of our visitors. "Steve" is teaching in the Industrial Arts department of the Emerson Junior High School at Madison.

His program of teaching is very wide, including classes of Home Mechanics, Bench Metal, Electrical and Drawing. In addition to these courses,
Mr. Oellerich plans to add Foundry as another of his shop courses for next year.

While on his short visit to Menomonie, "Steve" was a busy man looking around for an apartment for himself and his prospective June bride.
Good going, "Steve", and lots of luck.

The spring vacation at the University of Wisconsin gave two of our former students an opportunity to visit their former classmates at Stout.

Mr. John K. Lanckton, now a student of Journalism at the University of Wisconsin paid a short visit to his home in Menomonie during the week.
While at Stout during the year 1928,
Mr. Lanckton took an active part as Feature Editor of the Stoutonia. His interest along the field of Journalism tempted him to take up a more specialized course at the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Edna Lotwin is the other former Stout student who is now attending the University of Wisconsin.
She is taking up a course in Commerce. Miss Lotwin intends to again attend Stout during the coming summer session.

Mr. Gordon Johnson, who is now teaching in the Kenosha Central Junior High School, visited the school during the week.

The courses that Mr. Johnson is teaching are Woodwork, Cabinet Making to the senior class and a class in Drawing. He is very well pleased with his position and takes a great interest in his classes.

Miss Elizabeth Williams, Miss
Mildred Belinda, and Mr. Walter Nyland, all former students of the Stout Institute, will be in Menomonie on Friday of his week. Mr. Nyland will stop here on his way to his home in Gilbert, Minnesota. All three of these former Stout students are at the present time teaching in the Detroit
Public schools.

Miss Pearl Lindal, who graduated from Stout Institute last August, was here on Tuesday, April 15, to pay a short visit to her friends at Stout Institute.

The city of Detroit harbors what one might call a colony of Stout alumni. Words from that city informed us that some of Stout's most recent graduates have established themselves in one apartment. Miss Mildred Belina, Miss Elizabeth Williams,
Miss Henriette Braker, Miss Beulah Todd, and Miss Alma Winzer are thus located, although they teach in widely diversed parts of the city.

Miss Josephine Edinger, who is now attending Stout, and Mr. Harold Sylvius, who is also teaching in Detroit, will be their attendants.

Miss Mildred Klieler who attended Stout during her Freshman and sophomore years will receive her B.

Did You Know That-

The Girls Glee Club sang two selections at the Congregational church last Sunday morning?

Many of the girls are eating breadcrusts? (Haven't you noticed their curls?)

The Aremi girls' candy sale was a huge success?

"Dusty" has forsaken his roller-skates in favor of a bicycle?

The football boys are simply "aching" for that sport?

Hickey Julian is trying to make people believe that he has a mustache?

Pearl Lindall is visiting her sister,
Ruth?

White sandals seem to be amazingly popular?

The Junior Prom is just nine days away?

Laurnie Johnson inherited his tap-dancing abilities?

There were inspectors in school last
Tuesday?

Coca-Colas are in grave danger of being displaced by eskimo-pies?

Louise Whitehurst doesn't think it is fun at all to travel about 3600 miles all in one week?

Jeff Cronk is considering buying a slot-machine to play with?

Canoeing is a very popular pastime on these beautiful spring days?

"Lefty" has a position in Detroit reserved for him for next fall? But what we wonder is this—why does he choose Detroit?

Bill Gardner has a ritzy new spring top-coat?

Many of the girls attended a Y. W.
C. A. Convention at River Falls over the week-end?

Al Poellinger is gradually acquiring the "ear marks" of a regular professor?

The Stout Swimming team got second place at the tournament at River Falls?

Jack Notebaart thinks that teaching is the one and only profession?

There are just forty-three (43)
days of school left?

Mike has opened the boat house, and many students took advantage of the canoe renting facilities and splendid weather. One canoe capsized and the occupants received an unexpected bath.

S

The Skirmish

Down in one of the southern states recently, a colored man and his wife were haled into court on a charge of disturbing the peace.

"Rastus," said the magistrate, addressing the husband, "you are accused of disturbing your entire neighborhood on Tuesday night. What have you to say for yourself?"

"It was this way, Jedge," explained
Rastus, glancing first at the magistrate and then at his wife. "Me and Lucy got into an argument obah de coin she got fo' a week's wash. She called me a lazy lofah, an' I clap her down flat. Up she hop, an' den she flang a skillet on my haid, an' den she flang a tea kettle at me, which scald quite consid'able."

"I see," commented the magistrate to Rastus. "And then what happened?"

"An then, Jedge," answered Rastus with great deliberation, "an' den we begun to fight."

S. degree at Milwaukee Downer this June.

The "gang" from Appleton and Neenah, Wisconsin, consisting of "Jack" Notebaart, Al Poellinger and William Krueger were again visitors of Stout during the week. They all received their spring vacation during this week and found it an opportune time to visit their school friends.

Mr. Poellinger is in charge of the Neenah High school paper. He commented on the good work that is being done by "Vic" Ahonen and the Stoutonian staff.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Damrow announce the marriage of their daughter Nelda to Estelle Curry on the twenty-first day of April at Fond du Lac, Wisconsin.

Mr. Curry is at present teaching in the Detroit schools. They plan to make their home in Detroit shortly after he Easter vacation.

Miss Baker Writes To Stout Students

(Continued from page one)

through snow drifts until April or May, to go motor-boating and swimming in March. The climate was perfectly ideal, though we are told that summers in Greece are uncomfortably hot.

You can imagine, perhaps, our dazed helplessness as a result of exposure to the Greek language. We have learned in verity the significance of the old saying—"It's Greek to me." As we first tried to make our way about on the streets, our reactions to signs must have been a cause for amusement among the native Greeks.

Now I must tell you first just a little about the Greek people. They are at present in a very distressing condition. There is fearful poverty, an alarming prevalence of tuberculosis, utter lack of sanitation, and until the last few years, almost no modern industrial features such as automobiles, telephones, works of civil engineering, etc. Among the refugees the Near East Relief is doing a most gratifying and commendable piece of work, and prospects for a better standard of living conditions are rather encouraging.

The most treasured part of our time in Athens, however, was the saturation of the underlying beauty which lies in the ancient ruins. Acropolis Hill is an imposing elevation in the midst of modern Athens, and in the site of the Parthenon, Caryatides, the Erechtheon, and other temple ruins. We spent almost three whole days in the midst of these glorious specimens of architecture. It seems to me that no one could possibly wonder about in these exquisite old scenes without experiencing an exalted, lofty emotionalism.

Several other days we visited the Acropolis Museum and the National Archaeological Museum, Hadrian's Arch, the Theatre of Dianipos, and the gardens of the Royal Palace. The flat expanse of the Arcopagi on Mars Hill was also a favorite picnic scene of ours. In fact there was illimitable beauty to be found in Athens, and we were so glad we were not pressed for time.

We are so sorry to miss the dramatic festivals at Delhi, but they are held at the same time for which we have booked for the Passion Play at Oberammergau. That occasion, of course, will be one of the pinnacles of our year, and we can't manage to include absolutely everything.

Since leaving Athens, we are really turning toward home again. We can scarcely realize we are really so far away, but the fact which we do realize is that we are anticipating the remainder of our trip with just as much enthusiasm as we have relished the first half. It is all so perfectly wonderful, and you must all plan to do it sometime yourselves. It is worth no end of effort, for your investment will pay unlimited returns in many ways.

Now I shall leave you for a week, and then write of Italy before we launch into the northern countries. I have no way of knowing whether you are receiving any of my letters. Suppose some of you write me in care of the American Express, Vienna, Austria. I shall be there until the early part of May, at least, and perhaps you could prevail upon Miss Sarchet

DIAMOND
The Birthstone of April
See ANSHUS
if you need something for your Sweetheart,
Girl, or Boy Friend
in the line of Jewelry
NELS ANSHUS

MONDAY NO CUT DAY
We have been asked to remind the students that Monday following Easter Sunday is a no cut day.
Everyone is aware of the fact that a cut on "no cut days" means a reduction of three per cent in grades.
Govern your short vacation accordingly.

Home Ec. Association To Meet Here Soon

Conference in Dean Michael's Office
A conference under the direction of Dr. Harry Kolb and Dr. Kilpatrick of the University of Wisconsin will be held in Dean Michael's office on April twenty-sixth. During the summer of 1929, the research division of the Home Economics Department at the University of Wisconsin, under the direction of Dr. Kolb, made a thorough survey of five rural sections in Dunn County. The aim of the survey was particularly to observe the actual conditions of home management, home relationships, and general farm organization. The data collected has been compiled and definite conclusions are reached. At the April twenty-sixth meeting, Dr. Kolb will discuss the findings of his survey with the people who are interested. Mr. Hughes, State Director of the Home Economics Department, will sit in on the conference.
—S—

Y.W.C.A Convention Held At River Falls

(Continued from page one)

and a talk on racial problems by Miss Sadler. The meeting was concluded by music contributed by River Falls students.

On Sunday morning part of the time was used for general discussion concluded by a talk and prayer by Miss Sadler.

The girls who attended the meeting felt very fortunate in having the opportunity to learn more about Y. W. C. A. work and to hear from foreign girls.

River Falls, Macalaster, St. Theresa, Superior, Stevens Point, Eau Claire, and Stout were represented.
—S—

ANNOUNCEMENT

A demonstration on Chicken Dishes will be given by Marietta DeCramer in Room 325 at 10:00, April 23, 1930.

to accept it as a theme assignment. My regards to all.

Most sincerely,
Lillian M. Baker.

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

Haircuts at any hour of the day
Three first class barbers

THE ELECTRIC SHOP

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonic Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

Go to your Barber for Good Service
and rest by relaxing in
his barber chair
I. W. NESSER
The Barber

SERVICE

We do dry cleaning every day. If you need the use of your suit immediately, take advantage of our
"ONE DAY SERVICE"
SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Spring Suits $22.50 to $35.00
MENOMONIE DYE HOUSE
RUNNING and COLE

Personals

TAINTER HALL

Alice Cockerill motored to Madison, Wisconsin, Saturday and returned Sunday evening.

Hazelle Flaget was a visitor in Minneapolis Saturday.
Louise Whitehurst, who was called home due to the illness of her father, returned Sunday.

The alumni are the talk of the school, not forgetting Tainter Hall.
—S—

TAINTER ANNEX

Anna Westman, Minnie Chronquist, Cecilia Cadigan, Lucille Hebl, Grace Linderson, and Margaret Senty enjoyed a weiner roast at Galloway Creek on Saturday afternoon.

Nellie Geiger went to Eau Claire Saturday afternoon.

Virginia Schlumpf visited her parents at Durand over the week-end.

Dr. Bachman, accompanied by several of the girls, enjoyed a picnic lunch by the lake, Sunday evening.
Lynwood appreciated and enjoyed the serenade last week. Come again boys, and perhaps we'll have eats!

—S—

LYNWOOD HALL

Janet Robertson motored to Winnebago, Minnesota, Saturday afternoon, returning Sunday.

Doris Speirs spent Saturday in Eau Claire.

Eleanor Vergin and Vivian Florin spent enjoyable week-ends at their respective homes.

Helen Novak, Emma Anderson, Betty Malcolm, Violet Parsons, and Violet Walstrom did their Easter shopping in the Cities over the week-end.

Charlotte McNab attended the Y. W. C. A. Convention at River Falls on Saturday and Sunday.

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
$25 to $32.50
A. E. HERREM

Menomonie Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

ORPHEUM

Tonight (Fri.) - Sat.
NANCY CARROLL
and HAL SKELLY in
"DANCE OF LIFE"
Also Short Subjects

Sun. - Mon.
"LOOSE ANKLES" With LORETTA YOUNG
Also Sound News. Mat. Sun. 2:30

Tues. - Wed.
"LADY LIES"
With CLAUDETTE COLBERT
Also Short Subjects

Thurs. - Fri. - Sat.
MARILYN MILLER
in "SALLY"

GRAND

Sat. - Sun.
HOOT GIBSON in
"LONG LONG TRAIL"
Comedy and News. Mat. Sun. 3:00

Margaret Hartwell spent the week-end with Eleanor Nelson at the latter's home in Chippewa Falls.

Lucille Schultz spent Saturday and Sunday in Eau Claire.

Ellen Nelson went to Minneapolis Wednesday for medical attention. She was joined there by her mother from Crystal Falls, Michigan, who returned with her for a visit.

$4. The Mode $4.

THE MODE
A Weyenberg Shoe

EXCEPTIONAL VALUES
BLACK OR BROWN CALF
BLACK OR BROWN VICI KID
Two Tone Sport Models

GRAVEN AND WILCOX
The Service Shoe Store

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP
NEW COATS NEW DRESSES
PHOENIX HOSIERY and HOLEPROOF HOSIERY
COMPLETE NEW LINE PAJAMAS and LINGERIE

THE SHAKER STUDIOS
ARE ALWAYS GLAD TO SERVE YOU
Let us Develop your Kodak Films

EASTER BOX CANDY
Wrapped For Mailing
EASTER CARDS
LEE'S DRUG STORE

"BYE" OLSON'S
GOOD CLOTHES

"NEW"

EVERY THING FOR COLLEGE MEN

WE HAVE
QUALITY SHOES
AT EXCEEDINGLY LOW PRICES
Swenson and Berndt
The Shoe Men

Special Easter Box Candy
We wrap our boxes
for mailing
THE OLYMPIA
Pete Jeatran

Spring Football Is Started; Real Games Promised Spectators

Thirty Five Men Report For Early Spring Training At Stout

Yes sir, folks, you'll see some football if you'll just drift down to the Stout Lot between four and six every night. Thirty-five fellows have reported to Coach Burbidge for the spring session and most of them are out to stay.

Aching arms and sore muscles were the results of the first couple of days, but with a week gone by, the squad members begin to look like they're rounding into shape.

Tackling Work Leads
A team that can block and tackle is going to make itself known whether it uses flashy plays or simple plays, and, boy, how the fellows are learning to do this. Stout has always been weak in these departments of the game and according to Coach Burbidge there isn't a finished tackler in the bunch at present.

This shows the job that there is before making a football team here at Stout but with 35 fellows such as are out now, the coach says he has every reason to be optimistic. Just come down to the field some night and you'll see why Stout's going to have a football team next fall.

Spring Session Is Vital
Fundamentals is the big thing in Spring football and it gives a coach some chance for instruction in this department before the season starts. Many coaches claim that the Spring practice is really more important than in the fall. Usually with a game two or three weeks after school starts, it's pretty hard to drill very much on fundamentals.

Scrimmage Every Friday
But this practice isn't going to be one of drudgery with only tackling and blocking as the objectives. Every Friday around 5 o'clock there's going to be a stiff scrimmage game between the "Army" and "Navy" teams, each of which will contain half the squad. Come on down to these games each Friday and see for yourself what's going on. When these two teams get together it's going to be a football game and no kidding about it.

Placement Season Opens With Many Calls In Two Schools

Several Accept Positions In Public Schools Of Detroit, Mich.

The placement bureau of The Stout Institute is having a very brisk season this year according to Miss O'Brien. The calls for teachers, for both the Industrial Education and Home Economics fields, has been unusually large for this season of the year, and indications are that the demand will far exceed the supply as has been the condition at Stout in times past.

A large number of Stout candidates for teaching positions have been interviewed and are being interviewed by superintendents and heads of vocational departments from various schools. Many students have already received appointments and many others are now being considered for appointments in the near future.

Five More Go To Detroit
Five Industrial Education students have received and accepted appointments to teach in the Detroit Public Schools beginning next fall. They are Roland Frazer, Marlo McCoullough, Edwin Kartak, Chares Strong, and Willard Hanson.

Arthur Peterson has accepted a position as teacher of printing in the Senior High School at Waterloo, Iowa, and Chester Mau will teach printing in the Junior High School at Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Advanced cabinet work will be taught by Olav Enli at Rhinelander, Wis. Frank Novascone and Ralph Schaudt will teach at at Wichita, Kansas. Sidney Eng will instruct the students of Antigo, Wisconsin, in auto mechanics.

Three H. E. Placements in State
In the Home Economics department there are also many students who have been located for the following school year. Florence Richardson will register at the University of Minnesota next fall as a part-time instructor and post-graduate student. Violette Parsons will teach Home Economics at the Milwaukee Vocational School; Margaret Hartwell at the Vocational School at Kenosha, Wisconsin. Mildred Dingee has accepted a Clothing position at the Appleton Vocational School.

Within the last week several superintendents and directors of vocational education interviewed students at

Swimming Season Has Been Opened Early

The boys from La Palais Des Etudiants opened the swimming season for this section of the country last Sunday, both voluntarily and otherwise.

A sudden mad idea struck the future pedagogues as they nonchalantly paddled toward picnic point, on Lake Menomin. They decided to go in swimming. The three canoes headed up the river to a point where the protecting branches of the half green shrubs made such a venture possible. No pictures were taken of the entry into the icy deep, but two of them actually dove.

Unhappy Venture Ends
As this part of the show ended, and the half frozen heroes made their appearance on the bank again, Brandt decided to show his skill in the art of handling a canoe. Down the stream he went with beautifully executed strokes. After leaving a few yards behind he decided to end his performance with a graceful return. An artistic turn, against the current, ended with an artistic turn up of the canoe's bottom and the dislodging of the unfortunate into the arms of Neptune. A few fast strokes, however, brought him to shore.

At sight of the catastrophe, Ahonen's heart softened. In a leap and a half a dozen strokes, with the paddle, he was to the rescue of his housemate, with another canoe. Brandt crawled into it, shaking with fear but determined to save his own unlucky craft. They pushed off with, "Now don't spill me," from the editor, but they entered the current. How it all happened no one can say, but the two found themselves swimming for dear life almost before they got started.

Proves Costly Opening
The rest of the afternoon was spent in a vain attempt to dry clothes and keep hidden from adventuring coeds.

In an interview, the "Michigan Kid" notified the press that opening of this year's swimming season was an expensive undertaking for him. It cost him, he went on, a shoe to the right foot, a cigar lighter, a green tie, a new press, and about five pounds of weight, but the season is opened, and to the victor go the spoils.

Alumni Prohibition Votes Still Coming

Since the last issue of the Stoutonia several more votes have been received from the alumni in the Stoutonia straw vote on prohibition.

Up to date the returns off campus stands as follows:

Strict Enforcement .....2

Modification of present laws ....5

Repeal of present laws .....4

Stout. On Friday of last week John B. Coleman of La Crosse, Herb Heilig of Appleton, and Walter Sprise of Wisconsin Rapids, all directors of vocational education, interviewed prospective teachers from both the Industrial Education and Home Economics Schools. Superintendent Antholz of Spooner interviewed several Home Economics girls on Monday, and on Thursday Mr. W. Kruschke of Rhinelander, Wisconsin, was here for interviews.

| CALENDAR          |              |
|-------------------|--------------|
| Monday            |              |
| Science Club      | 5:00 o'clock |
| Stoutonia Staff   | 5:00 o'clock |
| Women's Glee Club | 7:00 o'clock |
| Men's Glee Club   | 7:00 o'clock |
| Tower Staff       | 7:00 o'clock |
| Tuesday           |              |
| Band              | 7:00 o'clock |
| S. M. A.          | 7:15 o'clock |
| De Molay          | 7:30 o'clock |
| Wednesday         |              |
| Rifle Club        | 7:00 o'clock |
| S. T. S.          | 7:30 o'clock |
| Thursday          |              |
| Inky Fingers      | 5:30 o'clock |
| W. A. A.          | 7:00 o'clock |
| M. A. P.          | 7:15 o'clock |
| Hyperian          | 8:00 o'clock |
| Orchestra         | 7:00 o'clock |

Swimming Team Meets Defeat At Falls; Eau Claire Takes Honors

Several New Men On Eau Claire Team Give Valuable Aid To Neighbors

Showing a complete reversal of form from last week the Stout tankers were defeated in the meet at River Falls Monday. Eau Claire, with several new men, succeeded in getting 30 points for first. Stout was second with 15 and River Falls third with 12.

Because of the close competition the meet proved much more interesting than that of a week before. Several races were won by the length of the arm and in the 40 yard breast stroke it was necessary to swim it over to decide the winner.

Stout Gets Many Places
Bronstad was the high point man for Stout. He succeeded in getting a tie for second in the dives and a third in the 40 yard dash. Matusiewicz was able to finish second in the back stroke after he had bumped his head on the tank in turning around. Rowe and Jacobek finished second and third in the 100 yard swim. Murray tied for second in the dives and Johnson was a close second in the 40 yard dash.

This ended the competitive meets for the year but in the eyes of those who swam they were an entire success. According to Coach Burbidge, indications point to swimming as a regular sport on next year's program. With Student support this will prove a big asset to Stout's athletics.

Howard L. Johnson, Madison Central high school coach, will be the new coach at La Crosse Teachers' College next year. He has an admirable record. In seven years at Madison Central high school his basketball teams have won 76 of 101 games played and have won the Big Six Conference championship four successive years. His football squad has won 49, lost eight, and tied six games.

He: "You must take me for a fool."
She: "Well, I would if I wanted one."

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

Stout Y.M.C.A. Forms Deputation Series

Under the chairmanship of Earl Lockin, the Deputation Committee of the Y. M. C. A. is organizing a series of Deputations. During the past two weeks three such groups have visited some of the smaller communities near Menomonie. It is planned to have several more during the remaining weeks of school.

So far the groups have gone out only on Sunday and have conducted or helped to conduct the regular Sunday services of the churches. It is hoped that some of the groups may be able to make week end trips, thus having a better opportunity to become acquainted with the younger people of the communities which they visit.

The object of these groups is to interest the young people in the ideals for which the Y. M. C. A. and the church stand. Social meetings as well as religious meetings are planned.

The Y. M. C. A. would like the cooperation of any man who is interested and who will and can help in the programs, especially in the musical part of the programs.

Woodworkers Form New Club At Last

(Continued from page one)

ing and beneficial to prospective teachers.

9. To create a service commission at headquarters.

10. To provide social entertainment, and to promote better fellowship among the woodworkers.

To Cooperate With Alumni
It has been suggested that cooperation between the alumni and the club will undoubtedly prove worth while. All information gathered will be sent to the alumni members, and information relative to teaching problems will be referred to the club.

A complete organization will be made so that the club will start out in full swing next year when an eligibility list for membership will be posted.

Education Week To Be Observed

The tenth annual American Education Week will be observed November 10-16. The program is sponsored by the American Legion, the United States Office of Education, and the National Education Association. Committees in the various states and localities are now beginning to plan programs for its celebration. The purpose of this week is to acquaint the public with the activities, ideals, achievements, and needs of the schools.

See us for haircuts; we satisfy our customers
THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

Easter Cards
and
Greetings
A. R. OLSON

Freshmen Coeds Win School Championship In Volley Ball Thurs.

Awarded Silver Loving Cup Of Women's Athletic Association

The freshmen became school champions again Thursday night when they beat the juniors in two out three volley ball games. In order to win the evening's game a class must win two of the three games. The frosh won the first game with a score of 15 to 3. The game was a dead walk away for the frosh. The second game livened up a bit and the juniors had seven of the fifteen points. With two victories it was not necessary to play the third game.

The freshmen are very proud to have earned the silver loving cup of the Women's Athletic Association; they are planning on trying to win the indoor baseball season, which is to be played off soon. Come on juniors, seniors and sophomores—give these frosh some opposition.

The Chippewa Valley Home Economics Association will meet at Menomonie on April 25th. Mrs. Mildred G. Olson of the Dunn County Normal is the association chairman. One of the speakers during the meeting, Miss Elizabeth Forest, will discuss the relative values of the contact of teaching. Due to the growing tendency toward method of teaching and its use in various school set ups, Miss Forest's view points on the subject will be of interest to many Home Economics people. Another speaker on the program is Mr. Roshelly, Industrial Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. at Racine, Wis. Mr. Roshelly has charge of all girls club activities in that city. The fact that no other community of its size has such an active young peoples' organization, goes to show how outstanding Racine is in that type of work. The opportunity to hear Mr. Roshelly will be welcomed by many instructors.

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
EAT
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"The Home of Good Food"

Come over, come over,
Come one, come all,
Come over and see
Our suits before fall.

Now we've got this,
And we've got that,
But you should see
Our new line of hats.

And now for our ties,
They're new every week,
We've got all kinds
And Boy!—They're neat.

We're across the street
Right next to Lee's,
And Bye's Good Cloth-
Will always please —Ted

EASTER SUITS
Top Coats - Shirts
Ties and Hose
NEW LOW PRICES
EVENS - TOBIN CO.

Good Meals and Refreshments
SERVICE
Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

EASTER
and
"MOTHER'S DAY" SPECIALS
Watch For Them
at
THE CANDY SHOP

Have Your Eyes Examined Today
We Grind
Our Own
Lenses
Broken
Lenses
Replaced
INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM
REGISTERED
F. A. TORREY
OPTOMETRISTS

Coed Glee Club To Give Annual Spring Concert Here Tonight

Program Will Include Chorus Singing, Readings, And Solo Work

The Annual Spring Concert of the Women's Glee Club will be held in the Stout auditorium on Friday night, April 25th. The girls, under the leadership of Miss Balerud have been diligently practicing, and are in tune for the occasion.

In former years, the Glee Club has drawn on outside talent for specialty numbers for the concert. This year, the talent is confined to the personnel of the Glee Club, itself.

The program includes chorus singing, readings, and solo work in the following order:

1. May The Maiden .....Leemis
Paraphrased from the Ballet Music in Faust by G. Gounod.
a. Spring that could not wait.
b. Laughing came the Sweet God Pan.
c. When Fires of Morn.
d. When Spring is Sleeping.
e. Royal Summer Comes Apace.
Women's Glee Club
2. Bird Songs at Eventide .....Coates
I Love to Hear You Singing, Wood
Miss Jane Hambley
Accompanist.....Irma Gilbertson
3. Bridal Party on The Hardanger
.....Kjerulf-Luvaas
Roses After Rain .....Fearis
Women's Glee Club

New Improvements Make Big Difference In Carpentry Shop

Model Floor Being Built As Extension To Present Lecture Platform

To complete the program of improvement in the Stout Institute shop classes, and to extend the facilities for instruction in modern carpentry, a number of changes have been approved for the carpentry shop in the Trade Building.

A model floor is being built as an extension to the present lecture platform in the carpentry shop. This floor will be suspended from the ceiling above, it will be well guarded with an iron guard rail, and will be separated from the present floor by a neat porch balustrade. When the floor is finished, it will accommodate a number of valuable models which may then be used to better advantage in teaching.

Numerous changes will be made in the lumber storage spaces connected with the mill room and the carpentry shop. The scrap wood bin will be moved under the mill room floor, a stairway will be built from the first floor to the basement lumber storage to give direct access from the mill room, and the present wire partition of the lumber storage will be replaced by a substantial and neat appearing trellise partition.

To shut out objectionable noises from the fan and motors in the basement, a sliding door will be fitted and hung on track before the large opening between the carpentry shop and the basement. Here, as in other places, consideration is given to the matter of economy. When the sliding door was removed from the Auto shop entrance, it was appropriated by the carpentry department, and it will be changed to fit into the basement opening.

The largest and most difficult project in this program of improvement is the reconstruction of the removable door and sash section in the South end of the carpentry shop. This entire section, 27 ft. wide by 22 ft. high, can be removed to permit moving a building through the opening. The woodwork, especially in the heavy frame pieces, has deteriorated to such an extent that rebuilding has become advisable.

Plans for this reconstruction, which have been sanctioned by the administration, include an improved system of frame work, track, trolley, and tackle, which will simplify to a great extent the work of taking out, and of replacing the entire section.

To further the instruction and interest in the subject of building, plans have been prepared and approved.

(Continued to page three)

Glee Clubs Figure In Assembly Program

The Men's Glee Club assisted by the Girl's Glee Club, furnished the regular assembly program this week.

After four introductory numbers by the Men's Glee Club the girls sang two preliminary numbers to call attention to their annual concert Friday night.

A freshman quartette composed of William Rowe, Theodore Pierson, Oren Stamstad and Leonard Browe sang "Little Cotton Dolly" and "Mosquito".

John Barber sang two solos, "Hills of Home" and "Just Sittin' Thinkin'." Mr. Good sang "If I Had a Thousand Lives to Live."

Three more numbers by the entire Men's Glee Club closed the concert.

The student body is looking forward to more of this type of assembly programs.

Stout To Observe Better Homes Week

The National Better Homes week is April 27th to May 3rd. Miss Carson, local chairman, reports that the School of Home Economics of Stout Institute will put on its Better Homes program two or three weeks later.

Their exhibit this year is to include two Home Making Units that are being furnished on the third floor of the Home Economics building. The north unit is completed. It consists of three small rooms converted into a living room, kitchen-dining room and a bed room. The tenth grade Home Economics classes, under the supervision of their practice teachers, made the curtains, slip covers, lamp shades and painted the furniture for the north unit.

The south homemaking unit will consist of hall, a living-dining room, a bed room, bath and kitchen. Students in the College House Furnishing department are making curtains for it. The date of these exhibits will be published later.

Manual Arts Players Present Spring Play

Once again the Manual Arts Players will present an evening's performance that you cannot afford to miss. Remember that your S. S. A. Master Ticket or fifty cents will admit you. "Quality Street" is a four act romantic comedy that takes us back to the period of the Napoleonic wars. You will meet lovely old-fashioned ladies, demure maidens, and gallant gentlemen. You will have an opportunity to see beautiful costumes and attractive stage - settings in this charming play by James Barrie.

The cast is hard at work and hopes to present for you a play next Friday evening that you will not soon forget.

CALENDAR

| Monday             |              |
|--------------------|--------------|
| Science Club       | 5:00 o'clock |
| Stoutonia Staff    | 5:00 o'clock |
| Women's Glee Club  | 7:00 o'clock |
| Men's Glee Club    | 7:00 o'clock |
| Tower Staff        | 7:00 o'clock |
| Tuesday            |              |
| Band               | 7:00 o'clock |
| Philos             | 7:00 o'clock |
| Marquette-La Salle | 7:00 o'clock |
| Wednesday          |              |
| Rifle Club         | 7:00 o'clock |
| Metallurgy         | 7:00 o'clock |
| Thursday           |              |
| Aremi              | 7:30 o'clock |
| Hyperians          | 7:30 o'clock |
| Orchestra          | 7:00 o'clock |

Advanced Design Class To Visit Twin Cities Convention

Convention Meets Each Year To Help Raise Standards And Ideals In Art

"Adjusting the Arts to Modern Education" is the general theme of the thirty-sixth annual convention of the Western Arts Association which will be held in Minneapolis from May sixth to ninth inclusive. The Western Arts Association is an outgrowth of an organization started in May, 1893. At the time of the Columbia World's Fair in Chicago in 1893, a group of teachers with Art Educators from all over the world held a meeting in the Chicago Manual Training School. The organization of the "Western Drawing Teacher's Association" resulted. Due to the interest of Manual Training teachers in the work of the association, the name in 1904 was changed to "The Western Drawing and Manual Training Association". With the expansion of Industrial Art work and Vocational Education, a more inclusive name was given to the Association in 1919. Since that time the organization has been known as "The Western Arts Association".

The convention which meets each year strives to lead people toward higher ideals and accomplishments, and through the school exhibits and addresses delivered at the meetings, thousands of teachers have been inspired toward greater efficiency in the teaching of art. The phase of the 1930 convention is "Adjusting the Arts to Modern Education".

The program to be presented this year is varied and will include addresses by many experienced people in the field of Art. A synopsis of the convention program is as follows: An address on "Problems and Standards in Modern Art Teaching" will be given by Evelyn Metzger, Head of Applied Art, Kansas State Teachers College, and "Education and The New World" by Dr. M. E. Haggerty, Dean of Education at the University of

(Continued to page three)

Prom Date Set For Tomorrow Eve

Tomorrow night is the date for the fourth annual Junior Promenade. The decorations, in black and white, will soon be completed.

The plan of decoration is a diamond effect. The ceiling will be arched. To facilitate the large attendance, more floor space will be made available by placing the orchestra in the balcony. Programs will follow the same color scheme of black and white as the general decorations. Punch will be served.

Many alumni and guests are expected for this gala event of the season.

If you are having a guest do not forget about a guest slip. The dance is from 9:00 to 12:00 P. M. Women in the dormitories are required to be in by 12:30.

Again you are urged to lend your assistance in completing the decorations. You are welcome at the gym during your extra time.

Dean Micheals To Speak At Meeting

"Something different is what we want", cry the students. Very well, just read this:

The first in a series of meetings, sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., will be presented Sunday morning, April 27. The time is 9:30 to 10:15. The place is Miss Michael's outer office.

Francis Bacon and his philosophy will be presented by Miss Michaels. Perhaps you have already been introduced to this gentleman through his essays, but a very human side of him will be discovered in his philosophy.

If this first meeting proves to be useful and successful and is fully appreciated by the students, others will follow. The interest of the students is the keynote of its success.

Philosophy is necessary in a complete education. Here is your opportunity to taste a bit of this most interesting phase of life.

Red Cross Examiner To Be At Stout Soon

The Dunn County Chapter of the American Red Cross has procured a Life Saving Field Representative to be at Stout Institute on the fifth and sixth of May. At this time, all those students who have been instructed in life saving work are planning to take the life saver's tests. Anyone else interested in taking these tests, should see either Mr. Burbidge or Miss Balerud at once.

Miss Balerud is giving instruction in these tests every Tuesday night in the pool at 7:30 and those who are interested are invited to come.

The public is invited to observe the tests.

Interim Committee Visits Stout; Senior Coed Class Entertains

Come On Friendly Visit To Familiarize Themselves With Work Done At Stout

The Interim Committee on Education, appointed by the last Legislature, visited The Stout Institute on Tuesday, April 15th.

This Committee did not come here to make a survey or to give the institution a rating in comparison with any other of the State institutions. It came on a friendly visit, on the invitation of Assemblyman J. D. Millar, to familiarize the members with the work that The Stout Institute is doing, so that they may, in the future, judge more intelligibly the needs of the institution.

Several members of the Interim Committee were not able to be present. The following members of the Legislature were in the party: Mr. E. J. Roethe, of Fennimore; Mr. Walter J. Rush of Neillville; Mr. E. G. Smith of Beloit; and Mr. J. D. Millar of Menomonie. Mr. John Callahan, State Superintendent of Education, Mr. Henderson, Efficiency expert, represented the Governor, and Mr. Ringler, representing the Milwaukee Journal, were also in the party.

The committee arrived from Eau Claire about nine o'clock and kept busy inspecting the Home Economics Departments, the Industrial Education

(Continued to page three)

Americans Consider Laziness and Leisure As Relative Terms

Dr. Suzzallo Outlines Plan For Wise Employment of the Extra Hours

"Every American who is not yet a social rebel is afraid to be a man of leisure. It sounds too much like being an idler. It is associated with laziness and economic parasitism," says Henry Suzzallo as he characterizes the modern man's fear of being criticized for play as obedience to the code of some dead ancestor.

"We need a code of our own for a life of our own," says Dr. Suzzallo, speaking sharply of the traditional attitudes toward leisure which have trickled down to the present day through many generations. The Middle age ascetic looked disdainfully on his body as though it were not worthy of as serious attention as the mind and soul. The mid-Victorian convention placed the pleasures of the parlor above those of the playground in respectability.

Attitudes Have Changed
The Puritan undervalued the recreational side of life and disdained it. Many merely playful activities were thought to be harmful. Later they were considered harmless. Now they are known to be positively helpful.

The Pioneer, by the unconscious pressure of frontier necessity overvalued work and responsibility and gave too exclusive attention to them. The agricultural labor, following later, was diversified from season to season. Many skills, judgments, and emotional reactions were called for in infinite variety.

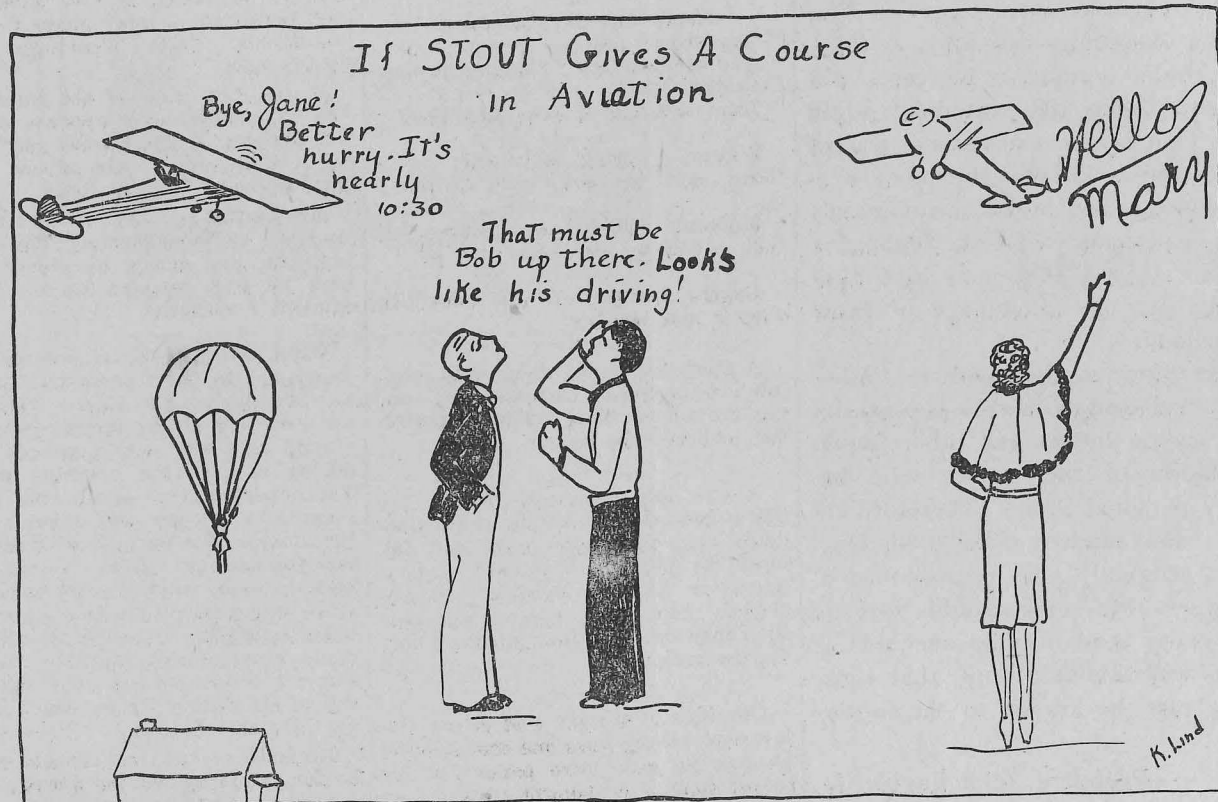

The machine age has reduced much labor to monotonous routine. However, its efficiency has gained for man more time to play. "Here is the problem of modern leisure! With normal, harmless and even helpful expression repressed; without interest, capacity or training in the finer, stabler, joyous activities of life, man plays with the only feelingful things he has to play with—with instincts, appetites, passions. Commercialized sensuality, sensuousness, or sensationalism beckon him."

"For society to grant a man leisure is not to confer a personal favor on the individual; it is to give safety, hopefulness, and progressive power to society," says Dr. Suzzallo. He urges that leisure be given as respectable a place in our scheme of life valuation as is given to work.

Each way of change, rest, play or recreation has its place in Dr. Suzzallo's plan for wise employment of leisure—walking, dancing, games of skill, the sports of the countryside, workmanship in the shop, lectures, sociability, drama, music, the movies and talkies, books, etc.

CAMPUS CARTOONS

by Kathleen Lind

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                               |                       |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Managing Editor               | E. V. Ahonen          |
| Associate Editor              | Henrietta L. Quilling |
| News Editor                   | Chesler Mau           |
| Assistant News Editor         | Anita Gundlach        |
| Assistant News Editor         | Bernard Hagen         |
| Feature Editor                | Vivian Hewitt         |
| Feature Editor                | William Soucie        |
| Feature Editor                | Kent Riggs            |
| Humor Editor                  | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Sports Editor                 | Carl Roll             |
| Exchange Editor               | Georgia Aber          |
| Organization Editor           | William Micheels      |
| Organization Editor           | Albert Gilles         |
| Cartoonist                    | Janet Kyle            |
| Staff Photographer            | Nicholas Marsilio     |
| Business Manager              | Kathleen Lind         |
| Circulation Manager           | R. A. Jakoubek        |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Earl C. Halverson     |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Robert G. Reick       |
| Advertising Manager           | Byron Canatsey        |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr.        | Marlo McCullough      |
| Inter-type Operator           | Floyd C. Larson       |
| Foreman Mechanical Department | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Under Direction of            | Mr. C. W. Hague       |
| Editorial Adviser             | Mr. John Faville, Jr. |
| Associate Adviser             | Miss Helen Sarchet    |

GOODBYE, BARNEY

The STOUTONIA is losing another hard worker this week. Barney has been advised by his doctor to leave school for a time and to go home for a rest. We are sorry to see him go, but the doctor knows best.

Hagen started his work on the staff in his freshman year and has since then been one of the dependable main stays of the organization. His loss will be felt.

The staff takes this method of wishing Barney a speedy recovery and return to the old fold.

THE STUDENT ADVISORY BOARD WAITS

The student advisory board has had very little to do this year. This may mean one of two things; either everything is going along very smoothly or else we have forgotten that we have such a board.

They are waiting to be of service to you. If you have any troubles that you would like to have ironed out present them to one of the members of the board and your part of the work is done.

The members of the group are the S. S. A. officers and one member from each class. Any one of them will be glad to help you out. In case your complaint is a written one, it is not necessary to sign your name to it.

NOW IT IS GOLF

Stout has a wonderful chance to take conference honors in golf this spring. Several of our students have made good records in amateur tournaments throughout the country.

Tryouts for the team are being held next Saturday afternoon at the Menomonie Golf Club.

This year's interest will determine the action to be taken next year along these lines. Will it become an incorporated sport on our campus? The answer rests with the students.

WORK FOR YOUR COLLEGE THIS SUMMER

It is a rather well known fact on the Stout campus that this college could find teaching positions for quite a few more men and women than it now graduates. Few colleges have this trouble. The fact that Stout is not able to supply its demand for material is complimentary to the material produced here, but it is a situation which causes some trouble also.

At this time of year, every college is, in various ways, seeking the kind of "raw material" which it particularly needs. This college is not one of those which sees fit to use many of the high-powered selling methods which are used, we believe, by too many colleges today. It is true that financial considerations have so far prevented our administration from giving as much publicity to the type of work done at Stout, as it would have liked to give. This is a handicap, however, that can be overcome—partially, at least.

It has been often said that Stout's reputation increases the farther one gets from here. At first glance, this statement might seem to mean something adverse. That it is not adverse is proved by the fact that the better the college is known, the more it is praised. For some reason, this knowledge and praise seems mainly to come from outside Wisconsin. Experiences with the legislative inspection committee the other day suggest that it is high time that something was being done to get the knowledge of Stout extended right in its own neighborhood.

And it is on this thought that Stout students enter. When all is said and done, one good, personal contact with a prospective student is better "publicity" than several letters and other impersonal pleas. And the recommendation of the person who has attended a college is the best of all personal pleas. Therefore the STOUTONIA suggests that every Stout student make it his business in the coming months to be a personal "sales representative" of his college. And we further suggest that some suitable form of recognition be given next fall to every student who succeeds in bringing one or more new recruits with him to Stout, that those who are thus proving their loyalty may be known to the faculty and to the other students.

—Professor John Faville, Jr.

Let's Laugh

Ida: "Where can we use this?"
Bierer: "Wait till final examinations."

Hoeser says, "Open the cut out and you can hear the difference in speed of a car."

How dou you like my new outfit?
—Guelson.

Did you know that Will lost 29 pounds the first night of football practice?

We wonder what causes some fellows to get twelve cent letters during vacations.

We wonder if all of the prom trotters have been in training?

Gillis: "Do you know how to get a book from the library?"
Marsilio: "Sure, multiply the area of the base by the altitude, and you will get the volume."

Week end picnics have become popular. They must be preparing for vacation.

John Lakso was here last week end. He said, "The trick isn't to get married; the trick is to stay single."

It was so quiet in town last week end that one could hear the grass growing.

"Do you see this diamond ring? Well it belongs to a millionaire."
"Why, who?"
"Mr. Woolworth."

Did you hear of the absent-minded professor who went canoeing and sank twice before he remembered he could swim?

Sorry About This One
Her handwriting was terrible, but she certainly could make eyes.

"Is she generous?"
"Boy, I'll say! She gave me the powder off her face the last time I was with her."

"Is he polite?"
"Is he polite? Why, he apologizes to himself when he cuts himself with a razor."

"Did you tip the waiter?"
"I certainly did, and he hasn't got up yet."

"Harry is a pure and wholesome fellow."
"What makes you think so?"
"He drives a straight-eight and plays an upright piano."

"Why does a Schotchman wear kilts?"
"He doesn't have them pressed I suppose."

Cop (to women driver): "Hey, you, why don't you look where yer goin'?"
Woman: "Well, you see, officer, this is the first time I've ever driven from the front seat."

Bore: "I don't know how it is, but I feel all wound up tonight."
Hostess: "That's funny. And still you don't seem to go."

Visitor (at insane asylum to trusty): "I say, old man, is that clock right?"
Trusty: "Well, it wouldn't be right or it wouldn't be here."

About This Time of Year
If you should ask two things of me, And of these one I had to choose, I'd rather die for you my friend, Than to break in your new shoes.

Waiter: "That gentleman over there says his soup isn't fit for a pig."

Manager: "Then take it away, you fool, and bring him some that is."

Femine version: If the shoe fits, wear a size smaller.

A good way to kill fleas is to swallow a teaspoon of carboic acid, and run around the block. Then perspiration will kill the fleas.

It was deep darkness. Silence lay like a contortionist on the river. Suddenly a shrill scream rang out, followed by peal upon peal of raucous laughter. The air trembled, it was slightly cool. The reason was that the canoe sprung a leak and they both had to walk home.

Our idea of a tight wad is the fellow that always buys one cent stamps because he gets more paper for his money than if he bought twos.

ANVIL SPARKS from Aries

"A woman learns to hurt as she forgets how to charm."
—Nietzsche.

Chicanery consists in using mean or paltry artifices to gain one's ends. It has a show of honesty in it, but is shot through with petty evasions, shifts, and subterfuges.

Flowers, trees, quiet pools, mauve sun-sets, and bursts of bird-song never lied to anybody, never substituted a snub for a greeting, and never assumed a virtue that they lacked. More than that, they never broke a trust.

Alumni

Speaking to Miss Elizabeth Williams, who is visiting Stout during this week, we find that the Detroit alumni are very active in their organization.

Two weeks ago, the Detroit Alumni Association held a meeting of all the old and new members of that organization. The gathering was very well attended. Election of new officers was held, which resulted in the election of Mr. Karlstrom as president, and Mr. Anderson as vice-president. Speeches were made by both the old and new members of the organization. Representing the new members was Mr. Harold Sylvius, who began teaching in Detroit last fall. Mr. Sylvius told of the opportunities available to the Stout students and also mentioned the fact that Stout Institute has been rated as an "A" grade college. At the meeting a telegram was received from our Dean of Industrial Arts, Mr. Clyde A. Bowman, who sent his best regards to the organization.

"Eric" Keller gave a Norwegian dialect at the meeting as part of the entertainment. To put a Grand Finale to the meeting, Mr. Reppe, our former cheer leader, led the group in singing Stout songs and yells. The oldest representative at the meeting was Miss Casteno, who is teaching in the Detroit system. There were also a few representatives at this meeting from Flint, Michigan.

The Detroit Chapter of the Stout Alumni met in the private dining room of the La Salle Hotel, Friday, April eleventh. The fact that sixty-six members, including four from Flint, were present clearly indicates that Detroit is heavily populated with active Stout Alumni.

The following members were selected to hold the offices of the chapter: Carl Karlstrom, President; Arthur Anderson, Vice-president; Brightie Considine, Secretary-Treasurer.

The business discussed included special consideration to the constitution, and a meeting has been called with the organizing committee. They also discussed plans relative to a spring picnic. The program for the rest of the evening consisted in dinner dancing and cards.

Mr. George Decker, head of the Industrial Arts Department at the Fairview High School in Dayton, Ohio, has again added laurels to his successes by writing "Bows and Arrows for Boys". The book which has been recently published, is very good and well arranged and has many fine illustrations, both drawings and photographs.

In the May issue of the Industrial Arts Magazine there appears an article written by Mr. Decker on "Making a Bowstring". The article contains excerpts from his book.

Mr. Decker has been a very active student while attending The Stout Institute, and during his senior year here he was president of the Stout Student Association.

While the majority of our students journeyed to their respective homes to visit during the Easter vacation, we were host to the largest group of alumni that had ever appeared here during any of the previous weeks. The opportunity to again visit Stout seemed to be very well taken up by the alumni. The purpose of returning was for various reasons. Some came here to enjoy their Easter vacation, while others made the trip more of a business affair. A few of the visitors made arrangements for the coming summer school session and also to attend the Junior Prom, which is being held this Saturday.

No matter what their reasons might be for returning, we are always happy to have their company.

Here'n There

Monday, April 21, will be just another day of vacation to meet Marquette students, but to members of the University Glee club it means the beginning of a big week and a day of intense work.

Beginning with a two-hour rehearsal on Monday morning under the direction of Graydon R. Clark, the group will devote its time to a final perfection of the concert program to be sung on the itinerary appearances of the club. At noon the Hilltop singers will make their first public appearance at a luncheon of the Milwaukee Optimists club at the Athletic club. Following the luncheon the singers will present a concert at Mercy High School of Milwaukee.

Tuesday morning the club will leave for Sheboygan where it will present the first concert of the week's tour.

The Lawrence College Men's Glee club has just returned from their two weeks' concert tour. That they return successful, is evidenced by the audience of 1250 people who heard them in their Madison concert on March 23, and by reports of proportionately large audiences which they have had in the smaller cities visited.
—The Lawrentian.

Arrangements have been made by college officials of the Morningside College for the appearance in the Sioux City auditorium of the Ben Gret players, who will present three Shakespearean plays, "Hamlet", "Much Ado About Nothing", and "Twelfth Night".

This is the first American tour of Ben Gret since 1914.
—The Collegian Reporter.

Many of our students will remember the fine record of seventeen consecutive victories that was hung up by our freshman basketball team during the 1928 season. The person who coached this team was none other than Mr. Richard O. Radke, a graduate of 1928.

Mr. Radke, better known as "Rox", visited his friends in Menomonie during the Easter vacation.

"Rox" is now teaching at Lake Bluff school of Chicago. Previous to Mr. Radke's entrance into this school system, there were no activities along the line of basketball or football and it remained for "Rox" to introduce these sports in the school athletic activities. That Mr. Radke's success was accomplished can be best explained by the records his team have made during his first year as coach.

In football, "Rox" went through the entire season without a set-back in any of his seven games scheduled. His basketball team was also in the lime-light, winning thirteen games out of the fifteen games played. During the year, "Rox" also developed for the school a tumbling team which won second place at the tumbling exhibition held in the North Shore District meet.

Besides being athletic director and instructor of gym work, Mr. Radke has a class in Woodwork and Drawing.

This is a wonderful record to set up during any person's first year as instructor, and therefore we wish to congratulate Mr. Radke on his fine work.

Fern Went, better known as "Sunny", of the class of '29, spent several days in Menomonie visiting friends in the city and also at school.

She said that she misses the Institute, but also likes her work as assistant Home Economics teacher in the Whitewater State Teachers College. She is teaching classes in Foods and Clothing.

Being able to work with Mrs. Fricker, another Stout graduate, makes Miss Went's work much more interesting.

A few of the Stout alumni at Detroit made short visits during their Easter vacation.

Henrietta Breaker journeyed to Oxford, Ohio, to visit "Kokomo" Harris, who is teaching at the Miami University of that city.

Beula Todd visited relatives in Dayton, Ohio.

Miss Alma Winger spent her Easter vacation visiting relatives in New York city.

We did not see much of "Big Pete" Peterson and Mr. Ritzman, but it is said that they drove through Menomonie on their way to their home in Superior, Wisconsin. Next time stop a little longer in Menomonie, so more of us can see you.

"Charlie" Pozzini is also in the Detroit system. He is teaching Elementary Woodwork, Drawing and Home Mechanics in the Harms school of Detroit.

History Of Public Schools Should Be Taught, Says Prof

Let The Schools Teach Needs Of The Schools Says Professor Finney

"Is it not an anomaly that the school teaches its pupils, formally, almost nothing about itself?" asks Ross L. Finney. "We teach the history of the Roman Senate, the French-Indian war and the Republican tariff, but almost nothing about the history of the American public school. "We acquaint our children with the heroes of Greek mythology, of English literature, and of modern inventions; but not with the heroes of American education. We tell them how the Revolutionary war debt was funded and explain taxes but we tell them nothing about the problems of financing their own schools. "No wonder that later, as adults, they confound us with strange, ignorant and obstructive attitudes toward current problems of educational policy. We have not made the schools as an institution an objective of education."

Dr. Finney urges that curriculum makers prepare courses of study to instruct students in their future responsibilities as adult participants in the school as a social institution.

Do Not Know Horace Mann

"It is somewhat safer than a mere guess to assert that not ten percent of high school graduates know who Horace Mann was. More than any other one person in history does he typify the American public school and what it stands for and yet the American public school leaves its product in ignorance of him. It is as if the Lutheran church kept its young people ignorant of Martin Luther? or as if the Democratic party maintained a conspiracy of silence relative to Andrew Jackson and Thomas Jefferson. And this neglect of Horace Mann is only typical of the school's almost complete failure to teach its pupils about itself."

"Children do not realize that free public schools, such as they are attending, were undreamed of in Washington's day. They have no notion whatever of the struggle and effort it took to establish our system of public education. They would be amazed to learn of the legislature of Horace Mann's time who orated in the General Assembly of his state that when he died he wanted it engraved upon his tombstone: 'Here lies an enemy of the free public school.' A study of the life and times of Horace Mann could readily be made a vehicle for imparting this kind of information. And young people brought up on such a diet should be much stronger supporters, later on, of progressive school policies."

Advanced Designers To Visit Twin Cities

(Continued from page one)

Minnesota. Both of these addresses will be given in the Ball room of the Leamington Hotel. On Wednesday, Many seventh, Esther Wasest, Director of Art at Portland, Oregon, will speak on the subject, "Art as a Factor in the Modern Curriculum". This meeting will be held in the Curtis Hotel. A bus trip to St. Paul, and a visit to Dunwoody Institute and the Walker Gallery will be included in the Wednesday afternoon program. The Thursday program includes a trip around the Minneapolis lakes and boulevards, and a lecture by the noted Herr Hoffman of Munich, Germany. Most of the Friday program will be held in the Ball Room of the Leamington Hotel. One of the speakers of the day will be Dr. John Shapley, Head of the Department of Art at the University of Chicago, who will discuss "The Special Teacher and The Academic Tradition".

Some of the members of the Art Appreciation class and the Advanced Design class will have the opportunity of attending some of the meetings of the convention. Both of these classes under the direction of Professor Mutz will visit the Minneapolis Art Institute and several other art galleries, where they will have the chance to see some of the works of art studied in their respective classes at Stout.

Permission will be granted by Dean Michaels to any one who wishes to attend the Western Arts Association meeting. A student membership fee of one dollar gives any student the privileges of convention attendance and all association bulletins. Membership blanks may be obtained from Professor Mutz.

The Berger, Steindal, Astor Trio with Miss Gloria Randolph as dancer appeared at the Stevens Point Teachers College during the last week.

Professor Carson To Speak In Chippewa

An inspiring talk on the subject, "Better Homes", was given by Professor Carson of the Home Economics Faculty at the meeting of the Women's club in Chippewa Falls on Monday afternoon. The meeting was held in the dining room of the Rutledge home. The Eau Claire Women's club were the special guests of the Chippewa Falls women at the occasion.

Glee Club To Give Concert Here Tonite

(Continued from page one)

- Within A Dreaming Harbor .....Cook
- The Old Refrain .....Kreiser
- Sextette from Glee Club
- I Know A Lovely Garden .....D'Hardelot
- Nursery Rhymes .....Curran
- Wash Day .....Milligan
- Women's Glee Club
- Reading .....Selected
- Emma Newby
- I Love a Little Cottage .....O'Hara
- Evening Shadows .....R'cci
- Homen's Glee Club

The concert will be held in the Stout Auditorium on Friday night at 8:15. The price of admission is your master ticket or thirty-five cents.

After the concert the girls will be entertained in the dining room at the Hotel Marion. At this time the Glee Club keys, which are given for two years of membership in the Glee Club, will be awarded.

Coed Class Entertains Interim Committee

(Continued from page one)

Departments, the Gymnasium and the various dormitories. In each of these buildings suggestions of important needs were placed before the committee, but the big and interesting thing that appealed to the Administration was the interest which these friends observed the equipment and the activities in the institution.

Mr. Henderson, the Governor's representative, was constantly on the alert and several times asked what, in the opinion of the Administration, was the great need of the institution. Considerable discussion came out of the suggestion that the needs might be enumerated in this order:

- College Commons.
- Athletic field and field house, made to meet the needs of winter sports.
- Repairs and improvements on all of the dormitories, and Home Management Cottage, and the infirmary.

It was not the mission of these men to pass upon these matters. But they will be influenced in their decisions as to the amount to be appropriated in the next Budget, by their familiarity with the institution, coming out of Tuesday's visit.

They were entertained at luncheon by the Senior Class group, under the direction of Miss Buchanan and Miss Hopkins. It was felt that these representatives of the Legislature were pleased with their visit and that they profited from what they saw.

Personals

Dean Ruth E. Michaels and Professors Burgoon, Jeter, Walsh, and Buchanan of the Home Economics faculty were entertained at the St. Paul Athletic Club in St. Paul on Saturday. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lindall and daughters, Ruth and Pearl.

TAINTER HALL

Frances Schroeder bids the Hall girls good-bye because she is going to live at Homemakers for five weeks. The following girls visited at their homes this week-end: Mildred Dingee—Kilbourn, Wis. Esther Sichler—Alma Center, Wis. Mary Hryz—Melrose, Wis. Kathleen Shannon—Crosby, Minn. Ivernia Forslund—LaCrosse, Wis. Carol Brick—Manitowoc, Wis.

Alice Cockerill spent the week-end at Rice Lake visiting friends.

Hazelle Flaget was a shopper in St. Paul on Saturday.

Edna Mathews visited her aunt in Chippewa on Saturday and Sunday.

Esther Bock went to Minneapolis where she visited with friends on Saturday and Sunday.

Gertrude Hansen returned from Homemakers Thursday evening.

Alice Haslerud visited her brother in Minneapolis Saturday and Sunday.

TAINTER ANNEX

Most of the Annex girls spent their Easter vacations at their homes. All seemed to have a pleasant and profitable time—especially "Jo".

ORPHEUM

Tonight (Fri.) - Sat.
MARILYN MILLER in
"SALLY"
This picture is in natural color
Mat. Sat. 2:30

Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
"THE VIRGINIAN"
with Gary Cooper, Richard Arlen
And Others
Also Paramount Sound News
Mat. Sun. 2:30

Wed. - Thurs.
RICHARD DIX in
"Seven Keys To Baldpate"
Also Talking Comedy
Note: Guest tickets are good on
Wed. night. Use them.

Coming—May 2 & 3
"Cohen and Kellys in Scotland"
Also Special Stage Show
Sharlots Chinese Kiddie Revue

GRAND

Sat. - Sun.
Glenn Tryon in
"DAMES AHOY"
Also Comedy & News
Mat. Sun. 3:00

Miss Nelda Damrow was married to Mr. Estelle Curry on last Monday. They are making their home at Detroit, Michigan.

Miss Ruth Bassuener and Miss Josephine Edinger attended the wedding of Miss Damrow — now, Mrs. Curry.

Miss Alice Lynam entertained her mother and sister on Wednesday.

Miss Adele Lanckton is living at home for the remainder of the school year. The Annex regretted to lose her.

LYNWOOD HALL

Jeanette Jackson, Anna de Young, and Luella Anderson visited at Lynwood during their Easter vacations. Mrs. Huson from Mundelein, Illinois, and Mrs. Henry from Waukegan, Illinois, spent Easter with Lisle May Huson and Doris Henry.

The Lynwood girls report that the week-end was an unusually quiet one.

Doris Speirs and Marie Simonson spent the Easter vacation at their homes in Cameron, Wisconsin.

Go to your Barber for Good Service and rest by relaxing in his barber chair
I. W. NESSER
The Barber

New Improvements Make Big Difference

(Continued from page one)

ed for the building of a complete wall section. The section will be accessible from the main floor and from the model floor. It will be built to standard dimensions from footing to roof, and it will show in full size sections the constructions of foundations, sills, cornices, windows, and doors. This model will probably be started in the very near future and be available for studies in building construction.

These improvements and changes are well under way at this time. However, as nearly all the carpentry work will be done by the Stout carpentry classes, and as the various types of construction will be assigned only where they fit into the current courses in carpentry, the improvements and changes will be worked out over a period of time.

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonic Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
$25 to $32.50
A. E. HERREM

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP
NEW COATS NEW DRESSES
PHOENIX HOSIERY and HOLEPROOF HOSIERY
COMPLETE NEW LINE PAJAMAS and LINGERIE

THE SHAKER STUDIOS
ARE ALWAYS GLAD TO SERVE YOU
Let us Develop your Kodak Films

Don't forget our "Famous Malted Milks"
Billiards, Soft Drinks, and Ice Cream
Pipe Repairing a Specialty

F. E. MILLER

FORMAL WEAR
TUXEDO SUITS, SHIRTS,
COLLARS, and TIES
EVENS TOBIN CO.

The place the gang goes to get good light lunches, ice-cream, and candy

THE OLYMPIA
"Pete" Jeatran

WE HAVE
QUALITY SHOES
AT EXCEEDINGLY LOW PRICES
Swenson and Berndt
The Shoe Men

GRAVEN and WILCOX
"The Service Shoe Store"

SERVICE

We do dry cleaning every day. If you need the use of your suit immediately, take advantage of our "ONE DAY SERVICE"

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE

Spring Suits $22.50 to $35.00

MENOMONIE DYE HOUSE
RUNNING and COLE

1930-'31 Captains Chosen At Banquet; "S" Awards given

John Rude Elected Captain Of Football Team, Leon Haase
Of Basketball Team

With the Bandbox as the scene of the annual football-basketball banquet, John Rude (Menomonie) was elected captain of the 1930 football team, and Leon Haase (Wausau) is to lead next year's basketball team. The banquet was attended by the football and basketball teams, together with Coach Burbidge, Mr. Keith, and Mr. Bowman.

The "feed" was very characteristic in that the ordinary run of speeches was eliminated. With the exception of the election and of the presentation of the basketball, eating was the only thing on the program.

Basketball Letters Awarded
Captain elect Haase, Ralph Schaudé, Willard Hanson, Adolph Fordham, Carl Hoernemann, Artie Peterson, Lovey Burros, Steve Cvangros, Lu Paulus and Fred Johnson were awarded their basketball letters for this year. Of these, at least five are to be back next year to insure a nucleus for the 1931 combination.

John Rude has been a member and letter winner on the football team for the last year. His services were valuable because of the ability to play either in the line or back-field. Before coming to Stout Rude was Captain of his high school basketball team. His experience should prove a big factor in the success of Stout on the gridiron next fall.

This was Haase' first year of varsity competition but his outstanding play made him the popular choice for the position. Leon was captain of the 1932 Frosh team which went through its season with an enviable record. Before coming to Stout Haase was a member of the Wausau High School team which is famed for its basketball.

Professor Buchanan Takes Forty Six Coeds On Foods Trip

Spent The Day Visiting Various Important Concerns In The Cities

Forty-six members of the Foods Marketing classes, accompanied by Miss Buchanan and Miss Jeter, boarded two chartered buses at 6:30 Thursday morning and were speedily transported to St. Paul for the annual field trip which the class makes to visit wholesale groceries, packing plants, fruit houses, and bakeries.

Their itinerary included first the Armour Plant in South St. Paul where they were shown carcasses of beef illustrating several different grades of meat and wholesale cuts. Next, the Griggs Cooper Wholesale Grocery company in St. Paul was visited. The girls were shown the grading and packing of spices, tea, and coffee, olives packed by hand, frozen strawberries, and a baking department where crackers and cookies were made.

As guests of Dayton's the girls enjoyed their lunch in the Dayton Tea Room.

Witt's large grocery store in Minneapolis was the first place visited after lunch. The sights the girls saw as they journeyed up one aisle and down another were quite a revelation to many of them, as so many little-known products are displayed in the show-cases and on the shelves.

At the Gamble Robinson Company the wholesale handling of fruits and vegetables as well as means of grading and transporting the products was observed.

Zinsmasters' Bakery, a very up-to-date plant, was the last place to be visited. Here the miracles of the modern baking industry were very interestingly portrayed.

Dinner at the Nicolle Hotel brought to a close a very interesting and worthwhile day, and it was a weary but satisfied group who piled into the buses and journeyed back to Menomonie.

The All-school Carnival, held in the Eau Claire school auditorium and gymnasium April 2, was a great success, according to all who attended. The main show, which was presented by the sponsors of the carnival, The Y. M. C. A. and the M. A. A., began in the auditorium at eight o'clock. This consisted of several songs and a dancing skit, followed by a movie. At nine thirty the jitney dance and the side shows began.

—The Spectator—

Annex Wins Fast Tilt From Towners

The Annex won a fast volley ball victory over the Town team last Wednesday night. The resultant scores for the two games were 15 to 8 and 15 to 5 in favor of the Annex in both cases.

The girls entered into the games with a desire to have a good time, and they had it. Lois Lamon has decided that it doesn't pay to let the other side get you to laughing because it weakens you to the extent that you cannot make the ball go over the net.

Evelyn Peterson seemed to be the outstanding point maker of the game. She made 13 of the 30 points scored. Peterson is captain of the Annex volley ball team. Rhoda Rossler ranks next with five points and Al Ostrom and Gail Galloway with four.

These games have not been well attended.

Many husky gridmen donned mole-skins and jerseys in answer to Coach Zorn's call for spring football practice at Eau Claire. The old gridiron took on the atmosphere of a day in fall instead of a balmy spring afternoon. Coach Zorn has decided to stress fundamentals this spring, and to wind up the season with a grand battle between two teams, led by Captain Shea and Switzerberg.

Fourteen colleges conducted a prohibition poll in conjunction with the Harvard Crimson, to determine the feelings of college men on the prohibition situation. Only one institution returned a majority in favor of the present scheme.

Out of a total of 24,000 votes cast, 15,000 admitted drinking to some extent. Over 16,000 were polled for repeal or modification, while but 4,517 favored strict enforcement. Only 838 voters were satisfied with the present prohibition situation.

The poll possibly has exaggerated the real situation in the colleges. Nevertheless, the large majority in favor of modification or repeal shows conclusively that the present generation of collegians is dissatisfied with the current situation, and greatly favors a system of modification.

An interesting card was received by Charles Pozinni, who was this week in Menomonie, from the "Four Philosophers" who have journeyed to Asheville, North Carolina during the last week.

The members of this organization are "Rol" Decker, "Jack" Reinel, "Rol" Reppe and Ward Smith.

Ward Smith has just purchased a new Ford so the "gang" thought that this would be a good chance to try it out.

Another person who will be with us during this week-end, will be "Toby" Tyler, who plans on attending our Junior Prom.

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
EAT
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"The Home of Good Food"

Menomonie Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

"BYE" OLSONS
GOOD CLOTHES
Featuring Style and Quality
For College Men

Good Meals and Refreshments
SERVICE
Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

HARK YE!
There will be a demonstration on "Filling the Cookie Jar" in the Unit Kitchen in Room 305 of the Home Economics building on April 30, 1930, at 10 o'clock.

Traits of Character Not To Be Taught By Didactic Method

Character Traits Taught By Enthusiastic Teachers In Real Life Situations

Traits of character are not to be taught by the didactic method, according to J. Mace Andress. Professor Andress quotes research studies that show that honesty is not necessarily an accompaniment of biblical knowledge.

Psychologists have found that children who regularly attend Sunday School cheat in day school about the same as those who rarely or never attend. Professor Andress does not conclude from this that the Bible and Sunday Schools are not valuable for character education. He does point out, however, the disappointing results of mere verbal instruction.

"To get self-reliance one must practice it under conditions that are satisfactory. Perhaps day schools and Sunday Schools need to recognize the situations in which traits of character may be encouraged. While devices may help to inculcate traits, the character and personality of the teacher are contagious."

The teaching of mental health requires an activity program, according to Professor Andress. It requires the enthusiasm and effort of the best teachers. In the classes of such teachers boys and girls learn to be more honest and self-reliant. The individual teacher and the school as a whole are having an influence. If it is a school guided by mental health aims, it will encourage self-reliance, self-control, initiative, courage in facing the disagreeable attention of the present situation, orderly thinking and wholesome interests.

Everyone come out and help decorate the gym for the Prom.

Women will never be satisfied until they can be bald headed and squirt tobacco.

Haircuts at any hour of the day
Three first class barbers
THE ELECTRIC SHOP

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

Students Asked To Read Wisconsin Laws

Now that summer is coming and the weather is getting warmer and the lure of nature and its sports call forth many who are eagerly waiting for an opportunity to go out into the open spaces to enjoy the beauties and gifts of nature, the Stoutonia takes this opportunity to enlighten the students on some of the practices which the state prohibits. The first article pertaining to wild flowers is as follows:

Subsection 343-442. Any person who shall wilfully root up, injure, destroy, remove or carry away, without the permission of the owner or person entitled to possession, any trailing arbutus or any species of lady's slipper or any members of the orchid family, trillium of any species, or who shall wilfully sell, expose for sale or purchase any flowers, roots, seed pods, bulbs or whole plants of any trailing arbutus, lady's slipper or trillium so gathered or taken shall, upon conviction, be punished by a fine of not to exceed one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed thirty days.

Non-resident students will be required to procure non-resident fishing license if they desire to fish. The students are advised to obtain the "Wisconsin Game Laws" and become well informed on the laws governing fishing. The pamphlet can be obtained at any sporting goods store.

The Geneva Conference of the Young Women's Christian Association was held at the River Falls State Teachers College from Friday evening, April 11, until Sunday noon, April 13. The Conference is held annually for the purpose of helping the new cabinets of the various colleges plan their work for the coming year. Delegates from Stout Institute and the Teachers Colleges at Eau Claire, Stevens Point, and Superior, and the members of the Y. M. C. A. organization of River Falls attended the conference.

Girls come to college to see if they can get a husband, and men come to see if they can fool them at the last minute.

See us for haircuts; we satisfy
our customers
THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

"MOTHER'S DAY"
MOTTOS - GREETINGS
REMEMBER MOTHER
ON
MOTHER'S DAY
A.R. OLSON

Mother's Day Cards and Box Candies
Remember we pack them for mailing
LEE'S DRUG STORE

Have you tried our
Toasted Sandwiches
and Malted's?
Open After Dance
The Candy Shop

Have Your Eyes Examined Today
We Grind
Our Own
Lenses
Broken
Lenses
Replaced
INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

"Education Is Not A Cold Austere Duty", Says Detroit Head

Superintendent Cody Urges The Schools To Educate In The Spirit Of Life

"Education is not a cold, austere duty, but a journey down a friendly road," says Superintendent Frank Cody of the Detroit Schools. "The teacher is not a severe taskmaster in a dreary round of discipline, but a kind, companionable leader in a congenial and inspiring place."

Education in the Spirit of Life is Superintendent Cody's theme, as he urges the schools to meet the needs of living. Since life is friendly, education should reflect the spirit of friendliness. "Such education has no traffic with race prejudices or dogmatic differences in creed. It strives always to maintain a proper balance between individual freedom and the welfare of the group."

No attempt to make education more practical should remove the emphasis from the idealistic, thinks Mr. Cody. Maintaining that life itself is idealistic, he says, "The ultimate ideal of true education is to develop character, to keep before young people the loftiest, most challenging conceptions of human worth. Education that has failed to do this has lost its own soul."

Moore's
WITH THE FAMOUS MANIFLEX POINT

GET A GOOD PEN
FOR YOUR FIRST JOB

We have all the Standard Makes of Pens; Swan,
Shaeffer, Parker
Conklin, Moore

Nels Anshus

Chippewa Valley H.E. Group Hold Annual Conference At Stout

Contrast Method Of Teaching
Spot Discussed By Elizabeth
Forrest Of Falls

The annual spring meeting of the Chippewa Valley Home Economics Association was held in the Home Economics building Friday afternoon, April 25th. Mrs. Mildred Gibson of the Dunn County Rural Normal was in charge of the meeting.

The contract method in Home Economics Teaching was ably discussed by Miss Elizabeth Forrest of the River Falls High School who has used the device successfully for several years. The units to be taught may vary in length, but each one is planned so that the work to be completed is included in one contract. The contract or study contracts several assignments or levels of work to be accomplished, which Miss Forrest referred to as "blocks" of work varied in degree of difficulty. The minimum essentials or requirements for all students are given in the first block which provides the background for the work. A student must pass a mastery test with a ninety per cent grade on the lower block.

On the next block, frequently a self checking test is included in the contract and the student uses this to ascertain her readiness for the mastery test. The upper blocks are divided to meet the needs of individual differences. The highest level or 95 block very often is some piece of creative work which develops originality, and is sometimes entirely suggested by the students. Miss Forrest recommends the use of contracts, which she found advantageous by providing a broader background, increasing ability along certain lines, directing individual study and the use of reference material, taking care of individual differences and afford-

(Continued to page three)

Feature Editor Is Well Pleased With Junior Class Prom

Soft Lights Plus Black And White Decorations Add
Color To Scene

"A feature story," commands the Editor, "and write it quick!"

With that, the door slams and once again a poor feature writer is left alone, racking his brain for an idea with which to produce something worthy of publication. What to write? What to write? Oh, an idea. Why, the Prom, of course! But, where to begin? To do justice on paper to an affair such as this Prom is no small task. The decorations, the orchestra, the beautiful gowns, the grand march, the dancers, all were so impressive that it is difficult to know where to jump first, but here the guest entered, soft lights led to him a view of great bands of black and white. The guests, descending from the center of the ceiling to the walls under the cones and continuing straight down to the floor. Three great black monads on white backgrounds broke monotony of each wall in very artistic fashion. "Dignified" is the adjective which best describes the scene.

The guests were welcome at the door by the reception committee composed of the Prom King, Mr. Ernest Muller, and his queen, Miss Henrietta Quilling, Mr. Francis Jolin, President of the Junior Class, and his guest, Miss Lucille Miler, and Mr. William Souci, Financial Manager of the Prom, and his guest, Miss Esther Sickler.

As yet nothing had been seen of the orchestra. Where was it? Ah, there it was. As one stepped through the archway from the reception room onto the dance floor, his attention was drawn to the balcony on the south end of the gym where Chuck Garber's Commodore Club Orchestra was to be seen amid an array of soft lights reflected from a multitude of glittering instruments. Set off against a dark background the affect was very striking. It was even more striking, however, when the boys began to play. What music they made! Decorations, people, worries, even hard-boiled

(Continued to page three)

Coeds Thrill Crowd With Annual Concert

The annual concert given by the Girls Glee Club met with highest approval by all those who were present to hear it in the auditorium last Friday night.

As their first presentation, "May the Maiden", showed evidences of much work and long hours of practice. The girls began work on these songs last fall and as a result carried the harmony through beautifully.

The sextette composed of Alice Haselrud, Myrtle Anderson, Charlotte Watchorn, Irma Gilbertson, Helga Rasmussen, and Jane Hambley, sang two selections.

Emma Newby's reading of "King For a Day" met with much applause and she returned to give "Look What You've Done To Me".

The entire club closed the program with two more numbers.

In appreciation of her work, Miss Balerud was presented with a bouquet of roses.

Following the concert all the girls went down to the Marion Hotel where they feasted. As a part of the program there, five girls, Berniece Bricker, Irma Gilbertson, Alice Haselrud, Anita Gundlock and Eleanor Nelson, received their Glee Club keys denoting two years of faithful service.

—S—

Recognition Day To Be Observed Tuesday

Most colleges have for years set aside at least one day in the year during which the senior class rules.

Stout is going to observe Senior Recognition Day on May sixth, for the first time in the history of the college.

On this day the Seniors will appear in their caps and gowns, for the first time this year. A special assembly will be held at which President Nelson, the senior and junior class presidents, and the senior speaker will give talks as a part of the program.

Stout has never celebrated a day, before this time, when the senior class has been formally recognized by the school.

It is hoped that the whole college will turn up for this new innovation, thus making it so popular that it will become a traditional affair.

Stout has very few traditional days so a great deal of credit goes to the class of nineteen hundred and thirty.

—S—

Two Elections Held On Campus Thursday

The new S. S. A. officers for the school year 1930-1931 were elected Thursday, May 1. The result of the election was as follows:

President:
Ernest Christensen .....177
Russell Wallin .....113
Vice-President
Clarysse Ness .....275
Secretary:
Emma Newby .....160
Doris Henry .....68
Helen Chamberlin .....56
Treasurer:
Carl Roll .....124
Theodore Pierson .....108
Helmuth Branstedt .....52

The candidates for the various offices were represented in Assembly, Thursday. The election was held from 12:30 to 5:30 P. M. It is interesting to note that there was only one candidate for vice-president, Miss Clarysse Ness who gained a good deal of experience as S. S. A. Secretary this past year.

Mr. Christensen has proven himself a capable executive by his splendid work on the Tower staff this year.

Miss Newby will be a Sophomore in the fall and Mr. Roll a junior. The cooperation of the student body is what these newly elected officers need for a successful 1930-1931 school year.

Miss Sichler Elected

Miss Esther Sichler was chosen by the student body to be crowned Queen of May at the annual May Fete which will be held the last week of school on Tainter Annex lawn.

At the election which was held Thursday in assembly an exceptionally large number of candidate, namely, Adele Lanckton, Esther Sichler, Mary Fox, Hazel Flaget, and Louise Whitehurst were introduced by the S. S. A. Secretary, Clarysse Ness. A ballot

(Continued to page three)

CALENDAR

|                   |              |
|-------------------|--------------|
| Monday            |              |
| Science Club      | 5:00 o'clock |
| Stoutonia Staff   | 5:00 o'clock |
| Women's Glee Club | 7:00 o'clock |
| Men's Glee Club   | 7:00 o'clock |
| Tuesday           |              |
| Band              | 7:00 o'clock |
| Philos            | 7:00 o'clock |
| Wednesday         |              |
| Rifle Club        | 7:00 o'clock |
| Metallurgy        | 7:00 o'clock |
| Thursday          |              |
| Aremi             | 7:30 o'clock |
| Hyperians         | 7:30 o'clock |
| Orchestra         | 7:00 o'clock |

Child Development Class Aids National Committee In Work

Wording Of Questionnaires Makes Task An Easy One
For Coeds

As a result of the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection held in Washington in the early part of the year, the committee on the infant and preschool child was impressed with the fact that little material was available on the status of young children in their homes. Though it was possible to secure data on young children in nursery schools, day nurseries, and other institutions it is desirable to reach other groups representing a larger proportion of the population.

Child Development Class Helps

Because no funds were available for securing this data, a plan was formulated to enlist the cooperation of two groups which are in a position to interview mothers. The first group consists of organizations such as social agencies and nurseries. The second is composed of a group of certain professors in the child field. Acting in the latter capacity, Miss Helen C. Smith has been asked to cooperate with the work on this project. Questionnaires for the investigation were mailed to her.

Most of the actual work of interviewing and recording of data is being done by the eighteen members of the Child Development 424 course as part of their regular class work. In the first work done, several of the girls have made contacts here in Menomonie and those living in nearby districts who go home over week ends have made a few studies in rural sections. The questionnaires are so well worked out as to take a minimum amount of time for both the student and the mother who is being interviewed. About an hour is required to secure information concerning two children in a family.

—S—

The Stout Printing Bulletin Is First In Series; Now Ready

Justifies Teaching Of Printing
At Stout; Shop
Views Shown

The printing bulletin, the first of a series of bulletins dealing with the teacher training opportunities in the various divisions of Industrial Education, has recently been published and printed in the Stout Institute print shop.

This bulletin justifies the teaching of printing in the Stout Institute, in that the printing departments in the United States and Canada have increased from less than fifty in 1910 to between four and five thousand at the present time. As a main contributor to the demand for teachers to fill these departments, The Stout Institute has been increasing its placement of teachers into the teaching field yearly. The Stout Institute also offers an unusual opportunity to those who are desirous of expanding their present knowledge of printing for professional advancement.

Among other valuable information contained in the bulletin are a brief overview of the development of the print shop, shop equipment, and the various types of printing courses offered in this department, both during the regular session and during the summer session.

The bulletin is very well written and arranged.

Stout Band Plays At Eau Claire Thursday

Last night the Stout Band journeyed to the Eau Claire Teachers College where they presented a number of very fine musical selections. Judging from the applause received, the audience was well pleased with the selections which were played in the following order.

Americans We (March) .....Band
Selections from Prince Charming .....Band
In a Moonlight Garden .....Band
Charming Annabelle (Clarinet Solo) .....Gerald Trader
Noole Men (March) .....Band
The Parade of the Wooden Soldiers .....Band

I'm Just a Vagabond Lover .....Band
Twilight in the Mountains .....Band
Crosely (March) .....Band

Under the direction of Mr. Charles Ingraham, the band has been developing technique of a well seasoned group of musicians. They are now reaping the fruits of the winter months of long practices, and we, as students, should feel proud to have this type of band represent our school.

Many of the students in the band will find that their time spent in band practices will prove valuable as the responsibility of directing a band in the schools in which they teach may fall under their direction.

—S—

Three Students Are Placed In Appleton

The placement season is gradually rising to its Zenith. Calls are coming in and being filled daily.

Mr. Ben J. Rohan, Superintendent of the Appleton Public Schools, was here yesterday interviewing students for teaching jobs in the Appleton Junior High School. From the list of candidates he chose Leo Gardiner, Sidney Cotton and Ruth Lindall.

Ruth Lindall's sister Pearl is now teaching in the Appleton Senior High School.

Other Placements

Several other students have also been placed since the Stoutonia last published a report.

Adele Lanckton has accepted a position in the Cudahy Vocational School; Hazel Flaget will teach in the Sheboygan Vocational School, and Arthur Johnson will go to the Vocational School in Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin as an instructor of printing.

Other positions are pending. Many students will know where they are to be located in a very few days.

—S—

Pre-Summer Session Enrollment Is Large

Two hundred men and women have already enrolled to attend The Stout Institute summer session of 1930. This record to date surpasses all advanced enrollment records of previous years, and a number of enrollments are being received every day. Indications seem to point that there will be a greater number of students in attendance this summer than there were in the record breaking session of last year.

It is quite evident that many of the teachers in the various parts of the country find Stout a convenient and well qualified institution to obtain their degrees as well as a broader scope of experiences. The fact that a larger number of teachers in the field attend The Stout Institute summer session each year assures us that the reputation of this school is continually growing.

Nine Week Term Favorite

All students in attendance now who have decided to attend the summer session are urged to enroll without further delay, as some of the departments listed in the schedule have been filled to capacity and are unable to accommodate any more.

When the question of term length was brought up, the students seemed to feel that a term of nine weeks was more beneficial than one of six weeks like those of most colleges. Stout will therefore continue to give the nine weeks course.

Camp Colony will be well filled this year, indications show. Living in the open is not only healthful but it also cuts the housing cost to a mere fraction. The Colony will be self ruling as it has been in the past, this adds another interesting feature to the camp life.

Manual Arts Players Present Large Cast In "Quality Street"

Play To Be Given Tonight At 8:30; S. S. A. Tickets
Will Admit

The Manual Arts Players' Spring Play, "Quality Street", will be given in the Stout Auditorium tonight at 8:15 o'clock. The price of admission for Stout students will be their S. S. A. ticket, and the price for outsiders will be 50 cents.

This play portrays life in England at the time of the Napoleonic Wars, and the cast will be costumed in accordance with the period. The costumes have been rented from the Cities at an expense of about $100.00. The play is a charming fantasy, and the periodic costumes will go far toward making it a delightfully colorful and picturesque attraction. The characters are very naive and are altogether very interesting.

War Times Portrayed

In this play the lives of a small group of people living on Quality Street are intimately pictured. As the play opens, Miss Phoebe Throssel, a bewitchingly lovely maiden, and her older sister, Susan, are living quietly and happily in their home on Quality Street with all of their friends around them. Before the first act is over, however, an element of unrest, in the form of enlistments for the Napoleonic Wars, enters and the horizon is somewhat clouded by dim forebodings.

Miss Phoebe is very fond of the dashing, handsome Valentine Brown, and he now enlists and goes off to the wars, leaving her heartbroken and lonely. At this same time, the girls' fortune which Brown had invested for them, is cruelly lost, and the two women are forced to open a school in order to earn their living.

Complications Set In

In Act II we see the Misses Throssel (Continued to page four)

—S—

Home Ec. Experts To Assist In Improving Farm Conditions

Conference Held In Room 205,
Stout Home Economics Building

The Rural Life Conference in which Dr. Kirkpatrick, Dr. McCall, Dr. Cowles, and Miss Nichols of the University of Wisconsin took part, was held in room 205 of the Home Economics building on Saturday, April 26th. Dr. Kirkpatrick and Miss Nichols were in charge of the meeting.

The purpose of the conference was to discuss the findings of home life and farm organization which resulted from a survey made in five rural communities in Dunn County. From these findings, the committee's aim was to determine the relation between the relative family incomes and farm standards of living. The results of the investigation were varied. While the gross income of some families in rural communities is relatively high, the income of many families is limited and provides for only minimum subsistence. In the Swiss Cheese Area of Southern Wisconsin, investigations showed that many families had incomes ranging as high as five to seven thousand dollars a year. As a result of the study, Wisconsin has been divided into five areas which are the potato growing, tobacco growing, productive American cheese and fluid milk, general farming, and settler's area. Dunn County is representative of the general farming division. The situation in the various countries was very interesting especially in Grant County which has loam, silt, and sand soil areas. Naturally rural production depends on soil production, which makes all these factors important.

The findings discussed Saturday morning were used in comparison with many other families in United States. As the study develops, the results will be taken back to the communities where the information was secured, and attempts will be made to improve rural conditions. Experts in the field of Home Economics will go into these communities and create interest through general meetings. The comparative ratings will be discussed. The individual conferences on housing, social conditions, and distributions for food, clothing, and advancement will be of most interest to the Home Economics faculty.

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                               |                       |
|-------------------------------|-----------------------|
| Managing Editor               | E. V. Ahonen          |
| Associate Editor              | Henrietta L. Quilling |
| News Editor                   | Chester Mau           |
| Assistant News Editor         | Anita Gundlach        |
| Assistant News Editor         | Nicholas Marsilio     |
| Feature Editor                | Vivian Hewitt         |
| Feature Editor                | William Soucie        |
| Feature Editor                | Kent Riggs            |
| Humor Editor                  | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Sports Editor                 | Carl Roll             |
| Sports Editor                 | Georgia Aber          |
| Exchange Editor               | William Michels       |
| Organization Editor           | Albert Gilles         |
| Organization Editor           | Janet Kyle            |
| Cartoonist                    | Reuben Hanson         |
| Staff Photographer            | Kathleen Lind         |
| Business Manager              | R. A. Jakoubek        |
| Circulation Manager           | Earl C. Halverson     |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Robert G. Reick       |
| Asst. Circulation Manager     | Carl Roll             |
| Advertising Manager           | Byron Canatsey        |
| Asst. Advertising Mgr.        | Marlo McCullough      |
| Intertype Operator            | Floyd G. Larson       |
| Foreman Mechanical Department | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Under Direction of            | Mr. C. W. Hague       |
| Editorial Adviser             | Mr. John Faville, Jr. |
| Associate Adviser             | Miss Helen Sarchet    |

At 2:30 this afternoon the Stout golf team met River Falls and Eau Claire Normals at the Menomonie Country Club. Following the tryouts last Saturday, Fordham, Wallin, Zick, and Riggs were picked to represent Stout.

WHO COMES FIRST?

It is sometimes hard to determine just how far the demands of a child, upon the parents, have a right to go in securing an education.

No one will deny that a child should be given an education to the limit of a parent's possibilities of giving one. The term, however, is ambiguous. What determines the limit?

There is a child, let us say, who's father owes several hundred dollars in grocery and other bills. He sends his child away to college, and is thus unable to meet the obligations to his debtors. Has this man the right to use the money that is rightfully the grocer's on his child?

Yes, unless the business man brings suit against him. Up to that time the money is his. It is being used in a way that will, most always, bring ample returns for the investment. An education is never lost. If the business men wait, they will have won life long friends in the father and child. The child will have a firm foundation on which to build his life's work and will thus be able to prevent not only himself but also his parents from becoming public charges.

Do you agree? Think it over, you may run into a situation like this when you get out into the field.

SOCIETY NOTES

S. M. A. SOCIETY

The S. M. A. Society held its regular meeting in the Girls' Club Rooms on Tuesday evening, April 22, at 7:15 o'clock. After the regular business, a short social meeting was held, and lunch was served by several of the members. The Misses Elizabeth Williams and Mildred Belina, S. M. A. alumnae who are now located in Detroit, attended the meeting, and a typical "old times discussion" was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

THE STOUTONIA

Members of the Stoutonia Staff are looking forward eagerly to their semi-formal dinner which is to be given at the Hotel Marion on Saturday evening, May 3, at 6:30 o'clock. Bill Soucie promises that the program will be a real one—peppy, entertaining, and worthwhile—and Carl Roll assures us that the food will likewise be very satisfactory. Remember, the fellows may bring their "best girls", and the girls are in this case also permitted to invite a guest provided that—well, we guess that we all know the "guest provisions".

Dinner will be served at 6:30 sharp, and that doesn't mean anything but just what it says, so let us all be there with bells on, as it were!

S. M. A. SOCIETY

The S. M. A. Society held an informal luncheon in the Band Box on Saturday at 12:00 o'clock. The luncheon was given in honor of several of the former members who were visiting in Menomonie over the week-end or who had been visitors for the past week. Those entertained were Elizabeth Williams, Mildred Belina, Frances Verkerke, Emma Sogge, Helen Carleton, and Lucille Miler. Several of the girls had outside guests also, and the luncheon proved to be a very enjoyable affair. Miss Carol McClurg, the S. M. A. president, welcomed the former members back, and then the girls all united in singing the S. M. A. song. At the close of the singing the girls departed for their various appointments, for Saturday was a busy, busy day!

Y. M. C. A.

The joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. which was held in the Y. W. C. A. meeting room Thursday night was well attended by both students and faculty members.

The speaker of the evening was Rev. F. B. Randall who presented "The Circle of Life". He classified a person's life under four heads, namely: moral, mental, spiritual, and physical. In his discussion he pointed out the necessity of developing all phases of one's life to the same extent. He stated that there is great danger of placing too much emphasis on one phase, and in doing so a person is likely to become narrow minded.

Other entertainments and refreshments followed.

HOMEMAKERS

The girls at the Homemaker's Cottage entertained the Misses Louise Whitehurst, Mariorinda Osgood, and Evelyn Borchert at dinner on Thursday evening, at 6:45 o'clock. The dinner was prepared and served entirely by Lois Ina Bunker, Edna Dinnies, Ruth Crego, and Eleanor Nelson. Miss Crego performed the duties of host very ably, and Miss Bunker proved herself to be a very charming hostess. The dinner was followed by Bridge.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. held their first Sunday Morning Service in Miss Michael's outer office on Sunday morning, April 27, at 9:30 o'clock. Miss Michael spoke on "The Philosophy of Francis Bacon", after which the subject was opened for the group discussion at which time questions were asked and the members discussed the subject fully. The organization plans to make these Sunday Morning Services a weekly feature of their program for the rest of the school year. On Sunday, May 4, Miss Burgoon will speak on "Herbert Spencer".

The Platteville Teachers College is the oldest normal in the state. It was founded in 1866 and because of that fact is known as the pioneer Teachers' College.

Alumni

A little surprise came to this alumni column in the form of a letter from Mr. Kenneth E. Patterson, who is teaching at Trenton, New Jersey. So you may all read what "Ken" has to say, I will publish his letter.

Dear Editor—

Just a few lines to let the student body know there are Stouties out here on the East Coast.

Victor Glen and myself have just completed our Easter outing covering seven hundred miles. We stopped at Wilmington, Delaware, Baltimore, Maryland, Washington, D. C. and Richmond, Virginia.

At Maryland we visited our old pal, "Jerry" Lund. He is getting along great with his job as Vocational Printing instructor. Not only that, but he is also an excellent "Daddy".

Washington opened our eyes a bit, especially the sight of the Smithsonian Institute and the Washington Monument. Richmond, "the historic city of the South", furnished us many hours of interesting sight-seeing.

The trip was something of an "endurance run" in an old Flint sedan. Strange to say, we had only one flat tire and no serious engine trouble. A record of seven hundred miles on fifty gallons of gas, fourteen quarts of oil and seventy gallons of water in five days, twenty-three hours and fifty-five minutes.

Anyone within fifty miles of Trenton wishing transportation De Luxe back to the Alma Mater June 23, please communicate with Mr. K. E. Patterson, 488 Greenwood Ave., Trenton, N. J.

Yours very truly,
K. E. Patterson.

Mr. Martin Opem, a graduate of last year, returned to our campus two weeks ago. "Marty" is head coach for both basketball and football in the Benton Harbor High School. The success of his short career as coach in this high school is shown by the victories that his teams hung up during the past year. In football his greatest honor lies in winning the championship of class "A" division in the State of Michigan. His basketball team was also above the average, taking third place at the Regional tournament.

Besides being coach, Marty has classes in Mechanical and Architectural drawing.

While at Stout, Mr. Opem was one of our shining lights in both football and basketball. His ability is shown by the manner in which he developed his high school teams in the first year.

As most of the students know, Benton Harbor is the home of the "House of David". "Marty" visited the place a few times and figures that he might be able to fill the place as King Ben's successor. Another project which Marty thinks would be very worthwhile would be to operate a barber shop for the members of the House of David!

Miss Mildred Belina arrived in Menomonie last Saturday and stayed for a few days. She left during the week for her home in Owatonna, Minnesota, where she planned on spending her Easter vacation.

"Rol" Norris and "Jack" Notebaart motored from Appleton, Wisconsin, to Menomonie during the week for a short stay. Both of these men are instructors of printing in the schools of Appleton; "Rol" teaching in the Junior high school, while "Jack" is teaching in the Vocational school.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Peterson were visitors at Stout during last week.

Mr. Peterson is now teaching at Sioux City, Iowa. He has a new shop for both his Printing and Drawing classes.

Mrs. Peterson, who was formerly Miss Julia Tilleson, worked in the Stout office last year. She said that married life was alright and is having good luck, as a newly-wed, with her baking. "Cliff" seemed to be in pretty good condition when he visited in Menomonie, so her cookies and cakes must be plenty good.

The Junior Prom this year had many alumni as their guests at this annual social function. Detroit was well represented by the appearance of five representatives. The persons making this long trip from Detroit to attend The Junior Prom are Miss Elizabeth Williams, Miss Mildred Belina, Mr. Walter Nyland, Mr. Charles Pozzini, and Mr. Robert Tyler.

From other parts of the country we had "Rol" Norris represent the crew at Appleton; Mr. Kenneth E. Dike from Winnetka, Illinois; Miss Emma Sogge from Beloit, Wisconsin, and Miss Lucille Miler returned from her home at Develan, Wisconsin.

This is a very good representation for this year and it is the hope of the students that this practice will keep up in the years to come.

ANVIL SPARKS

from Aries

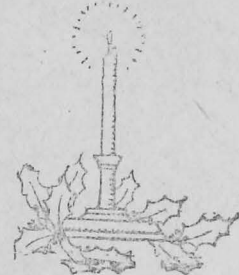

What a sensitive light a smile is!

Many of us act first and understand afterward. Hence we do not know what is happening until after—sometimes long after—it has happened.

If education does not enable me to adjust myself to the fundamental facts of life then it fails in its greatest function.

Let's Laugh

First of all, I wish to call your attention to my little bow in assembly—the bow that won.

Due to the fact that I may not be on the staff next Christmas time and since this cut may get lost, I'll run it now.

Not Sun Spots

Teacher: "Where else is iron found?"

James: "Well, I know where is some iron in our bodies."

Willie (out loud): "Now I know what some of those things are on Johnny's face. He must have forgotten to wipe his face dry and the iron rusted."

Long Count

Housewife: "What makes you so late with the milk these mornings?"

Milkman: "Well, you see, the pure law don't allow us more than twenty million bacteria to the gallon, and you wouldn't believe how long it takes to count the little shrimps."

Real estate transfers, our Weary Willy takes a bath.

News Item

"Goober" made a big hit and received a big hand in Eau Claire as he walked onto the stage after the band had started to play.

She Was Right

A woman called up her grocer by telephone and after she had scolded the man, she added: "And what's more, the next order will be the last." "It probably will, madam," said the voice at the other end of the wire. "You are talking to an undertaker."

Freshmen don't go up into the air because exams are coming around.

Life Situations

The curious coeds have been wondering who the serenaders are. Look for yourself. Reading from right to left, Stout boys.

This group intends to visit Antrim with "Happy Days".

They giggled when I sat down to the piano, but when I began to play the lessons I learned from the sure fire Correspondence School, they laughed right out loud.

How Terrible

Old Lady (to Irishman for about the 20th time): "And how were you wounded?"

Irishman: "By a shell."

Old Lady: "Did it explode?"

Irishman: "It crept up close and bit me."

Here'n The

In All-American rating, the highest rating given by the National Scholastic Press, was received by the Stylus the Sioux Falls College school paper in the tenth All-American Critical Service conducted by the association according to the notice received at the Stylus office. This rating is the highest ever received by the Stylus the paper having received a First Class Honor rating in the last contests.

There were 664 papers in the very this year as compared with only in last year's survey. This increase means stiffer competition in every class.

—The Stylus

If present plans materialize, the state collegiate track meet which was to held at Marquette University the 10th of May, will be held the night of May ninth at the Marquette Stadium. This track meet will probably be the first ever held at night. Football games at night proved to be popular last fall, and a track meet should attract a large crowd because of the novelty of the meet being run off under floodlights.

The participants of this meet are the University of Wisconsin, Marquette University, Lawrence, Ripon, Carroll, and Beloit Colleges. Several of the Teachers' Colleges also will compete in this meet.

—The Round Table.

Coach Fred Schildhauer's Beloit track team will make their initial bows before the public Saturday afternoon when they vie with the strong Milwaukee Teacher's College squad of thinclads at Hancock Field. The Beloit team are the heavy favorites to cop this meet because of their quality and quantity of performers.

The Beloit team is fairly strong in the field events but their entries are not numerous enough to cause much trouble to any of the opposing teams.

—The Round Table.

An article in "The Academy Star" of Erie, Pa., this week speaks well of The Stoutonia.

The aim of the "Star" is to have at least one exchange from every state. This is a good idea to follow and offered a word-while suggestion for our column.

The "Academy Star" listed some of the best papers that they received. In this list was mentioned the "Stoutonia" of Menomonie, Wis.—Thanks for the compliment.

River Falls State Teachers College debates entitled their school to the third state championship of the year when they won an impressive victory from Oshkosh Teachers College in the River Falls auditorium, by a decision of 96 to 100 as given by A. T. Weaver, Head of the Department of Speech at Wisconsin.

This debate was the climax of one of River Falls' most successful seasons.

—The Student Voice

At the State Teachers College of Milwaukee, the twenty-three students of the one-year Rural Curriculum will go out for two weeks of practice teaching. They will be placed in twelve counties, and in most cases, each student will be located in his home county.

—Echo Weekly.

Between 850 and 1000 high school students were the guests of River Falls during the two days of the annual Northwestern Wisconsin Music Contest, held in the college auditorium on April 24 and 25.

—The Student Voice

The Macalester College of St. Paul has organized a kittenball league. Eight teams were formed by the school with each team playing one game with every other team.

—The Mac Weekly.

River Falls Teachers College staged a carnival on March 21. The purpose of the carnival was to raise funds for the purchase of gold basketballs and varsity sweaters for their championship basketball team.

A "collegiate" student would feel that his alma mater has been dishonored if it voted "dry." Such a situation would be almost as bad as if antique flivvers were barred from the campus, in his opinion.

—The Washington Hatchet.

"This wonderful speaker we hear in assembly could not speak a word of English when he came to this country."

"Where did he come from?"

"He was born here."

—The Reason

Long skirts hide knees that shake.

Feature Editor Well Dressed With Prom

Slippers were forgotten! Such seldom to be heard.
That made the bal-
and nearly caused the mean vocal choruses
one want to stop everysten, and then those moon-es! Oh, baby, were they Don't ask! A dull glow the ball room, sweet sweetener by an occasional long sweeping shadows
the colored beams from the spot light, and in your arms, the one and only. Boys, if you missed it, for heaven's sake, don't ever make that mistake again. It's worth a week's board and room anytime.

The climax probably came during the ninth dance, when a carload of confetti, so it seemed, was distributed among the dancers. What little uneasiness had heretofore been noticeable, vanished immediately and an uproar of merriment arose from the crowd as everyone proceeded to pour his or her sack of confetti down someone else's neck or over someone's head. It is not hard to imagine that some people are still picking the little bits of paper out of their clothes.

In his enthusiasm over the dance,
the writer has neglected to mention the guests of honor and the chaperones. The guests of honor were President aid Mrs. B. E. Nelson, Dean and Mrs. C. A. Bowman, Dean Ruth
E. Michaels, Dean Mearle W. Price,
Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Johnston and Miss E. Faith Strayer. Those who acted as chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Davison, Miss Violet Hasson Jeter, and Mr. Robert

The Fourth Annual Junior made was doubtless in a class by among the semi-formal dances at The Stout Institute in pre-years. The Class of 1931 cerretained its reputation for sing originality, or better say, willingness to try things new.
were the first individual class undertake the publication of the they introduced the Sport at Stout, and carried out their of trying new things by pres-several new features at the Among these can be mentioned the orchestra stand in the bal-the reception committee made simplicity of the decorative eme. In fact the beauty of the ter lay in the simple charm of ck and white arranged in a very pretentious manner.

A word should also be said concerning the guests. No attempt will be made, however, to describe the exquisite display of gowns which was be seen. Never before have they been so numerous and so fetching as at this party. Mention should be made, however, of the lack of unbusiness which was apparent. The usual stiffness and superficial dignity of those who know not exactly what to do with their hands, or where to go or how to act in a tux seemed to be absent and everyone seemed to enjoy himself from the very first.
This is in itself a compliment to those who managed the Prom. It shows that their chief objective was attained, namely, that of furnishing a good time

See us for haircuts; we satisfy
our customers

THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
EAT

THE PEERLESS GRILL
"The Home of Good Food"

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
$25 to $32.50
A. E. HERREM

Chippewa Valley H. E. Conference At Stout

(Continued from page one)

ing opportunity for originality in creative work.

Miss Medora Roskilly, Industrial
Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., at Racine, Wisconsin, who was the second speaker on the program, gave a very interesting report on Girls' Club Activities. Miss Roskilly has charge of the recreational and industrial girl's clubs in Racine and has obtained a state wide reputation as a club leader. Some of the desirable qualities for club leadership ably expressed and illustrated by Miss Roskilly were:
A club leader should guide rather than dominate, be a good follower as well as a leader, be intensely human, and whole heartedly join the girls in their activities. All clubs vary in representative make up, and the club leader should make use of abilities of the individuals which are unusual. Miss Roskilly suggested that girl's club activities were a source of developing school spirit, unifying understandings of each other, and solidifying loyalty to each other. These essentials were well illustrated by actual experiences with girl's clubs. The need for better social understanding of each other, and more cooperation in the classroom and the extra curricular program was much stressed.

At the business meeting which followed the program, Miss Elizabeth Forrest was elected president of the association, and Miss Alma May Ganz was elected Secretary-Treasurer for the ensuing year.

Several of the visiting teachers responded to the invitation to visit the college and student teaching classes during the forenoon. A delicious buffet luncheon was served to the guests and the Stout Home Economics Faculty at 12 o'clock by the Foods three class under the supervision of Miss Hopkins.

NOTICE

There will be a demonstration on
"Deep Fat Frying" next Wednesday, on the third floor of the Home Economics building, given by Miss Cecilia Cadigan of the Food Demonstrations class.

for their guests. They certainly set a mark for future classes and organizations to strive for.

Menomonie Baking Co.

Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

Haircuts at any hour of the day

Three first class barbers

THE ELECTRIC SHOP

ORPHEUM

Tonight (Fri.) - Sat.
"THE COHEN'S AND KELLY'S
IN SCOTLAND"
Also Special on the Stage,
"Sharlot's Chinese Kiddie Revue"
Mat. Sat.—2:30

Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
"HAPPY DAYS"
An All Star - All Talking Musical
Romance with 100 Entertainers
Also Paramount Sound News
Mat. Sun.—2:30

Wed. - Thurs.
George Arliss in
"THE GREEN GODDESS"
Also Short Subjects
Note: Guest tickets good on Wed.

GRAND

Sat. - Sun.
JACK HOXIE in
"THE WHITE OUTLAW"
Also Comedy and News
Mat. Sun. 3:00

Personals

Miss Sarchet, instructor in English, was called home because of the death of her brother.

LYNWOOD HALL

Jean Moe has returned from Chetek,
Wisconsin, where she has been in a hospital recovering from an operation for the removal of her tonsils.

Margaret Hartwell, who was called home to Viola, Wisconsin, because of the serious illness of her father, returned Sunday afternoon.

Ellen Nelson went to Minneapolis on Friday to the Miller Hospital where she had her tonsils removed.

Doctor Bachmann was out of town on Saturday and Sunday. She visited Ellen Nelson at the Miller Hospital.
Miss Nellie Bailey was left in charge of the Hall.

Jane Hambley went to the Cities on Saturday to visit Ellen Nelson.

TAINTER ANNEX

Considering that it is Spring, things have been running along quite smoothly at the Annex, but remember to tell where you are going!

Mardella Anderson spent the weekend visiting Miss Eleanor Overby in Minneapolis.

The Annex was a very quiet place all day Thursday—all the "noise-makers" were in the Cities on a Foods trip.

Winnifred Cooper was the guest of Lorraine Litchfield at the latter's home in Eau Claire on Saturday and Sunday.

Alice Nelson, Gail Galloway, and Grace Quarters were in Eau Caire on Saturday morning.

The girls wish to announce that they are all anxiously awaiting another serenade!

TAINTER HALL

Kathleen Shannon entertained her practice class at a picnic on Saturday afternoon.

Practice classes were not the only picnickers, however, for there was a steak fry for three couples and a weiner roast for two girls on Saturday also.

Sunday evening was the scene of two picnic suppers, one in the dormitory and one on the lake bank just back of the dorm; they even had ICE CREAM!

"What is the past participle of bride?"
"Widow."

Two Elections Held On Campus Thursday

(Continued from page one)

was taken immediately and the results as announced gave the honor of being May Queen to Esther Sichler. The next highest was Mary Fox who will be Maid of Honor. Adele Lanckton and Louise Whitehurst will act as attendants.

Spring conferences for the purpose of making selections for Industrial Education courses for next year began with the meeting of the Freshmen Thursday at 4 o'clock. The men are given information relative to the selection of the various shops which make up good combinations.

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonie Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

THE SHAKER STUDIOS

ARE ALWAYS GLAD TO SERVE YOU

Let us Develop your Kodak Films

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP

NEW COATS NEW DRESSES

PHOENIX HOSIERY and HOLEPROOF HOSIERY
COMPLETE NEW LINE PAJAMAS and LINGERIE

Light is the first of painters.
—EMERSON

BUILDINGS in Which You Take Pride

ON THE CAMPUS, where class buildings and memorial structures are so often distinguished by their noble form, flood-lighting equipment serves to prolong the enjoyment of their beauty and to enhance pride in the institution. » » Such an application is made for the new 165-foot campanile at South Dakota State—magnificent gift of an alumnus. Electrically operated chimes sound the hours and are heard in concerts. At night, shafts of light from General Electric floodlighting projectors effect a picture of superb beauty done in the school colors and white. From the air, the tower is identified by the beam from a G-E airway beacon surmounting the floodlighted dome. » » Thus, G-E equipment plays its part in promoting progress and fine appreciation. Back of every G-E product is an organization in which college-trained men are largely responsible for the planning, production, and distribution.

Drawing of the Coughlin Campanile at South Dakota State College, Brookings, S. D. Perkins and McWayne, architects

95-767DH

GENERAL ELECTRIC

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, SCHENECTADY, NEW YORK

Select your Graduation Gifts
for your friends
here

NELS ANSHUS

Army Downs Navy In Easy Game On Stout Gridiron

Intercepted Army Pass Gives Navy Only Touchdown; Score 21-7

After giving the Navy a touchdown in the early minutes of play, the Army opened up and won the first struggle of the season, 21 to 7. This was the first of a series of spring games which are being held every Friday night at 5:00.

The scrimmage was interesting to watch and the rather large number of fans were well pleased with the exhibit put on for them.

Pass Intercepted

Receiving he kickoff, the Army immediately started a drive down the field only to have Hoernemann intercept one of their passes and run for a touchdown. From this point on the Army began to function.

Gains made by Braker and Neudecker and two completed passes put Brownsey in position for a 25 yard sprint for a touchdown. Shortly after the next kickoff, Hoernemann got outside of his end on a punt formation and almost broke away but was tackled after 30 yards. It was at this time that Browe was inserted into the Navy lineup. Plunging through center on the first down, he was able to burrow 10 yards through the opponents.

Army Adds Two More

Once the Army received the ball they were able to score two more touchdowns, making the final score 21-7.

Brownsey and Braker were the big ground gainers for the Army with Hoernemann and Paulus carrying the brunt of the attack for the Navy. Because of the dust it was almost impossible to see the actions of the lines but some good blocking was done at times. The lineups for the two teams were as follows:

|          |       |        |
|----------|-------|--------|
| Army     |       | Navy   |
| Storl    | L. E. | Ross   |
| Jakoubek | L. T. | Harmon |
| Johnson  | L. G. | Palmer |

Acknowledgement

The decorating committee of the Fourth Annual Junior Prom wishes to acknowledge its indebtedness and appreciation, and to express its sincere thanks to the Montgomery Ward Store and the Goodrich Furniture Company for the use of lamps and furniture during the recent Prom.

ABOVE ALL

Take great pride in your appearance. You can have it by having your barber work done at

I. W. NESSER, The Barber

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

ANNOUNCING

The Opening of a New—

MODERN BARBER
SHOP

For MEN and WOMEN

Opposite Orpheum Theatre

Saturday, May 3

Lee's Barber Shop

L. C. HARSHMAN, Prop.

"Where Quality Comes First"

Fabian Schrank To Help Coach Burbidge

Stout will have an assistant coach again next year.

Fabian Schrank, who has been instructor of manual training for the past five years in the Antigo, Wisconsin high school, will assist Earl Burbidge with the football team next fall.

With a new supply of athletes and two coaches, the outlook for next year's football season is a bright one.

Mr. Schrank has worked with Coach Burbidge before so full hearted cooperation can be looked for between the two athletic heads.

Clif. Carlson's Band Entertains Assembly

Mr. Clifford Carlson, a graduate of The Stout Institute, brought his band from Clear Lake, Wisconsin, to furnish the program for assembly Thursday.

The band was nattily attired in blue and white uniforms, caps to match. Mr. Carlson can justly be proud of his efforts for the band presented a varied and interesting program. The program consisted of several well known marches and closed with this school song.

The band members, consisting of two girls as well as boys, was entertained at lunch in the tea room after their concert. The Stoutonia extends its congratulations to Mr. Carlson on his fine little band.

|           |       |                  |
|-----------|-------|------------------|
| R. Miller | C.    | O'Connor         |
| Bower     | R. G. | Murell           |
| Will      | R. T. | Bitters          |
| O'Connell | R. E. | Ruppe            |
| Braker    | Q. B. | Paulus           |
| Brownsey  | L. H. | Gilberston-Browe |
| Jensen    | F. B. | McNaughton       |
| Neudecker | F. B. | Hoernemann       |

Eligibility Rules Are Classified; Lax Policy Will Be Abolished

Great Care To Be Taken In Future Regulation Enforcements

The big subject of the recent Conference Convention at Madison was that of athletes transferring from other schools. In the minutes of the meeting as received by Mr. Keith, several new policies have been adopted.

The presidents of the various schools unanimously agreed to the proposal of having individual records of every athlete in the conference. There will be a neutral man to secure and present the facts in case any person is suspended.

Great Care To Be Taken

All forms concerning the status of the individual athletes are to be filed with the Secretary of the Normal Board of Regents. In every inter-collegiate contest the proper official has to keep a complete list of all those participating and this list is filed in Madison.

Anyone who takes part in athletics will be required to register for participation in conference athletics. In case of falsified statements, the person will be declared ineligible for further competition.

Transfer Rule Clarified

No person can transfer from another school and compete in athletics unless he was eligible in the school from whence he transferred. No student shall participate in any inter-collegiate contest whose eligibility has not been certified by the faculty representative or president of the institution.

These rules put this conference another step forward and shows the discontinuance of the policy which many claimed was too lax.

M. A. P.'s To Present 'Quality Srteet' Tonight

(Continued from page one)

sel and their school as it is ten years later, and the ensuing years have not been kind to these two very dear women. Valentine, Brown returns from the wars slightly older but more dashing and admirable than ever. He appears to be somewhat disappointed in the change which has occurred in Phoebe, and Phoebe, sensing his disappointment, vows that she will show him that she is not so old as he thinks she is, and she sets out to fascinate him. She disguises herself as a Miss Livvy, an imaginary neice, and herein the complications set in.

In order for you to appreciate the many subtleties which the vivacious Miss Phoebe practices so artfully, and in order to observe Captain Brown's reactions, you must come and see them at the Ball. It is a gala affair indeed, and it is attended by many young people who are all dressed in gorgeous apparel. I'm sure you all want to see how Captain Brown reacts to Miss Livvy, how Miss Livvy succeeds, and especially how Miss Phoebe triumphs—in rather a surprising way, to be sure—and the only way you can really enjoy the full pleasures of this play is by coming to the Stout Auditorium on Friday night and thus seeing the production with your own eyes!

Present Large Cast

The cast, which has been very carefully selected, is as follows:
Phoebe Throssel, a delightfully quaint and lovely maiden
Mary Jane Dodson

FOUNTAIN PENS

Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired

OLE MADSEN

MOTHER'S DAY
CANDY and CARDS
LEE'S DRUG STORE

MOTHER'S DAY
MAY 11th.

We have a complete supply of
SPECIAL MOTHER'S DAY BOX CANDY

THE OLYMPIA

Pete Jeatran

LET'S NOT FORGET
MOTHER'S DAY
May — 11 th.

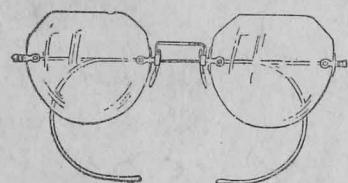

Sweeten up the day for her with a box of
OUR FRESH CHOCOLATES

THE CANDY SHOPPE

WE HAVE
QUALITY SHOES
AT EXCEEDINGLY LOW PRICES
Swenson and Berndt
The Shoe Men

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Susan Trossel, Phoebe's charming older sister; a spinster

Fanny Willoughby, a spinster lady

Mary Willoughby, Fanny's sister and a confirmed

Henrietta Turnbull, a National Scholastic; very dear friend of the Stylus

Edith, a student in the Stylus school

Isabella, another student, a little girl

Miss Beveridge, another student, Mildred

Arthur Wellesley Thomson, who is always getting

George, another little boy student

William Smith, a very unruly student

Ensign Blades, a student who enlists

Recruiting Sergeant George Price

Miss Livvy Karl Miller

An Old Soldier Ralph Shaud

Harriet, a sad-eyed, large girl, who we hope finds romance at her next

Ball Emma Hansen

Charlotte Parratt, a very pretty minx

Carol McClurg

Patty, the buxom young maid

Alice Cockerill

Valentine Brown, a dashing, handsome fellow

Albert Hansen

Bonsall Smith Gets Teaching Position From American Board

Going Back To Turkey As Instructor Of Manual Traing Next Year

Richard Bonsall Smith, son of Mrs. Lucia Dewey Smith of Middlebury, Vermont, has just been appointed as an industrial training teacher under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions in Talas, Turkey. Mr. Smith was born in Weybridge, Vermont, and lived for four years at Bakersfield, where his father was a pastor.

Smith is a graduate of the University of Vermont, B. A., 1924, and studied also at Pennsylvania State University and Stout Institute, Menomonie, Wisconsin, and will receive from the latter institution his B. S. in I. E. this year. During his work at the University of Vermont, Smith became a student volunteer, and in 1925 served a three-year engagement in missionary work in Turkey. Coming back to America he has been taking an industrial course with a view to returning for vocational education work, which is in line with the desire of the Turkish Government.

American Board schools and hospitals in Turkey are receiving increasing tokens of friendliness and hearty cooperation from the Turkish Government, which is especially interested in the teaching of practical arts, agriculture and home economics. At Talas where Mr. Smith will teach, there is a high school for boys which was closed by Turks in 1916, but reopened with permission from the government in 1928, and is becoming a great influence for good in that vicinity among Turkish youth.

Red Cross Life Saver Examines Stoutites; Several Pass Tests

Burbidge And Janet Evans Receive Appointments As Examiners

Mr. A. T. McCue, of the St. Louis branch office of the American National Red Cross, spent Monday and Tuesday of this week examining students and faculty in Red Cross Life Saving work.

Mr. McCue was very much disappointed that more students have not taken advantage of the Stout natorium and prepared themselves to be able to take this Senior Life Saving test.

Among those who took the test and passed are: Louis Hobart, Alice Ostrom, Catherine Graslise, Frances Inenfelt, Robert Jakoubek, William Hosier, and Blair Bronsted. Anyone who observed these people while they were taking their tests will assure you that the test was most difficult, and so it should be if these people are to be qualified to rescue drowning individuals.

Earl Burbidge and Janet Evans received their appointments as examiners and Hilda Balerud, local chairman of Life Saving in the Dunn county chapter, was reappointed as examiner. Any student now or in the future who has received instruction in Red Cross Life Saving methods, may take these tests from any of the three persons above named.

Many Stout students were addressed by Mr. McCue Tuesday afternoon on the subject of Life Saving and Resuscitation. At this time Mr. McCue told the students tha he passing of these tests was not so much a matter of strength as a matter of good technique.

You need not be a splendid swimmer to be a life saver, but you must be able to think. The four methods of the life saver are, Go, Row, Throw, or Tow. If a boat is available, row to the drowning individual; otherwise go yourself. Never under any condition resort to a canoe; a canoe is suicidal to say the least.

Resuscitation, or artificial respiration, is a practice that everyone should be familiar with. It can be used in cases of drowning, electrical shocks and smoke asphyxiation; in fact in some cases it is the only means of bringing a lifeless person to life.

The directions for artificial respiration were generally as follows. Put the patient into position flat upon his stomach, with face turned sideways, and head lower than the feet.

(Continued to page three)

COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS TO BE GIVEN BY DR. LARD

Dr. Livingston C. Lard, President of the Eastern Illinois State Teachers College of Charleston, Ill., has been engaged to deliver the Commencement address to be given in the Stout auditorium Thursday, May 29th, at eleven o'clock.

Home Furnishing Class Goes To Minneapolis

The members of the House Furnishings III class, who have been studying historic designs in furniture and interiors, motored to Minneapolis on Saturday to carry on some extensive study relative to their class work. Miss Carson was the instructor in charge.

Places of most interest that were visited were the Minneapolis Art Museum, French's, Dayton's and Donaldson's. The party lunched at Young Quinlin's. Members of the class included Mary Fox, Myrtle Johnson, Mrs. John Carter, Violette Parsons, Frances Hill, and Clayton Halverson. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson and Doctor Bachman were guests of the party.

On Wednesday, May 7th, the House Furnishings I class, under Miss Carson's direction, spent the day in Chipewau Falls. Most of the time was spent at the Mason Furniure Company, where the class studied different types and designs in furniture.

"Quality Street" Is Well Received Here

"Quality Street", presented by the Manual Arts Players, Friday night, May 2, proved to be a startling success: Miss Mary Jane Dodson as the sweet and demure Miss Phoebe was the leading factor in the plot. Albert Hanson as the debonair and gentlemanly Valentine Brown was the other half of the love affair.

The leading players were very ably supported by a capable group of actors. It is hard to tell what Miss Phoebe would have done had she not had her watchful sister Susan about, to say nothing of Fanny and Mary Willoughby and Henrietta Turnbull.

Costuming is Striking

One of the most distinct features of the play was the costuming. Each costume was typical of the age in which the action ocured and certainly helped the audience to gain a more complete picture of the time and events.

The school of the Misses Throssel proved to be an interesting variation from the love affair of Miss Phoebe and Valentine Brown. The audience could not but feel the suspense when Miss Phoebe was posing as Miss Livvy. One could not fail to admire Mr. Brown for his part in the deception, for he was aiding them only to relieve Miss Phoebe of a good deal of embarrassment.

Nothing except praise has been heard for this most entertaining presentation of the M. A. P. It is the opinion of all those who saw this play that it is one of the best ever presented by the Manual Arts Players. Miss Hassler is to be especially congratulated upon the success of the event.

Manual Arts Players Give Dance Tonight

Many of the students have been waiting patiently for another Stout dance. The M. A. P. organization are giving just this thing tonight in the form of a collegiate dance. With the fine cool evenings we have been having, the dance should be one that will be enjoyed by all. Sport clothes will again be in order for this collegiate dance. If you have not taken your outfit out of moth-balls yet—the time is now and how.

To make this danre a little above the ordinary, the committee in charge have secured an imported band from Eau Claire to play the syncopated music at the Stout gym. A little surprise will also be waiting the dancers when they find the gym decorated, so they may enjoy the dreamy waltzes and hot fox trots of this band.

The price of admission will be 35 cents and your S. S. A. ticket. The time will be 8:30. Be there early

(Continued to page four)

Formal Recognition Of Seniors Staged For First Time Here

Senior Speaker, Mr. Roswell, Emphasizes Points For Students To Remember

The first formal recognition of the seniors at Stout took place in the form of the Senior Swing Out on Tuesday, May 6, when a special assembly program was given over to the students of senior rank. For the first time this year all seniors appeared in caps and gowns and a special center section of seats was reserved for them.

The following program was given:

Processional
Duet .....Jane Hambley and John Barber
Recognition of Seniors Pres. Nelson
Senior Response .....Mr. Shepardson
A Word from the Juniors .....Mr. Julin
Vocal Solo .....Jane Hambley
Senior Class Speaker .....Mr. Roswell Alma Mater .....Assembly
Recessional

Muse for the processional and recessional was furnished by The Stout Orchestra. The vocal numbers were received with much applause. Responses to President Nelson's recognition of the seniors were given very fittingly by the senior and junior class presidents, namely, Mr. Shepardson and Mr. Julin, in the passing on of duties from the present senior class to the next one.

As senior class speaker, Mr. Roswell emphasized the opportunities which all students receive and the importance of the teaching profession. He warned his classmates that learning must continue long after the college course is completed.

On Tuesday evening the entire class dined in the Stout Tea Room as a fitting close to their day of recognition.

Several Professors Attend Minneapolis Convention Thursday

Adjusting Arts To Modern Education Is Purpose Of Association

Dean Bowman, Professors Price, Tustison, Hague, Brown, and Milnes left Thursday morning for Minneapolis to attend the annual convention of the Western Arts Association. The Western Arts Association is a mid-west association of teachers and others interested in Art, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, and Vocational Education. The general theme of the convention is: "Adjusting the Arts to Modern Education". President of the association, Mr. J. H. McCloskey, is director of the Technical Public School in Lakewood, Ohio, and is a former member of the Stout Institute faculty.

Besides the general session, there are special section meetings in Art, Home Economics, Vocational Education, Manual Arts, and Printing. There are also a number of joint sessions, such as Art and Manual Arts, Home Economics and Art, and Manual Arts and Vocational Education. A number of trips visiting the schools and other institutions in the Twin Cities are planned.

At the joint session of the Manual Arts and Vocational Education, Dean Bowman will give an address entitled: "Interpreting Modern Demands to the Industrial Arts Teacher Training".

Prof. Good also left the Institute, however, to a different destination. On Thursday, Friday, and Saturday he will be attending an Aeronautics conference in Ames, Iowa.

CALENDAR

Monday

Science Club .....5:00 o'clock
Stoutonia Staff .....5:00 o'clock
Girls' Glee Club .....7:00 o'clock
Men's Glee Club .....7:00 o'clock
Tower Staff .....7:00 o'clock

Tuesday

Band .....7:00 o'clock
Philos .....5:00 o'clock

Wednesday

Rifle Club .....7:00 o'clock
Metallurgy .....7:00 o'clock
Lutheran Students .....7:30 o'clock

Thursday

Aremi .....7:30 o'clock
Hyperians .....5:00 o'clock
Orchestra .....7:00 o'clock

MAY DAY SPIRIT GETS MALES OF STOUT CAMPUS

It is rumored that there are plans on foot to stage a coronation of May King as well as Queen. This coronation is perhaps to be celebrated after sundown on the day that the Queen takes office.

H. E. Professors Go To W. A. A. Meeting

Field trips seem to be the order of the day for a large number of people from both departments in school. The meeting of the Western Arts Association which is taking place in the Twin Cities has been a great drawing card for both students and faculty for the past two days.

Home Economics faculty members who attended on either Thursday or Friday are: Dean Michaels, Miss Mutz, Miss Carson, Miss Jeter, and Miss Walsh. The Art History and Appreciation class under the instruction of Miss Mutz made a field trip to the Cities on Thursday, while the Advanced Design group also under the direction of Miss Mutz, will spend Saturday on a similar trip.

Industrial Arts instructors who left for the meeting on Thursday were: Dean Bowman, Professors Brown, Curran, Good, Hanson, Johnson, Price and Tustison. About ten students specializing in Woodwork left Thursday on a week-end field trip to the Twin Cities.

Moving Pictures On Welding To Be Shown

In the Stout auditorium on Monday afternoon at 3:00 p. m., the Linde Air Products Company will present a motion picture on the cutting and welding of metals, using oxy-acetylene. The five reel film which will be shown in approximately one and one-half hours will show modern methods in cutting and welding metals, and also the methods of using the Linde products. There will be numerous scenes showing various types of welding jobs, as well as scenes showing the cutting qualities of the oxy-acetylene.

Company is Said to be Largest

The Linde Air Products Company is located in New York City; however, there are branches in many of the leading cities throughout the country. This company is said to be one of the largest manufacturers of air products in the world. Their methods of liberating oxygen, nitrogen, and nitrogen, and other such elements from certain compounds are unique, as only the most modern methods are used.

Showing of Film to be Free to All
The company is furnishing a motion picture machine, the film, and an expert operator free of charge. That, of course, will eliminate the financial worries of those wishing to see it. Just imagine, a five reel film is to be shown free of charge. The show is educational and is worth everyone's time.

The Stout Institute extends an invitation to the townspeople. Those wishing to see the film are urged to attend.

Prexy Speaks Before Stoughton Stoutites

President Nelson attended and spoke before an audience of Stout alumni in Stoughton, Wisconsin. The following unique circular letter was sent to all those who attended.

Dear "Stoutite"—

The good ship "Stout", queen of the Madison Line fleet, will set sail from the Port of Vocational School, Latitude 211 deg. North Carroll, Longitude 30 deg. W. Johnson, Friday May 2, 1930, sailing due S. E. 18 miles to the largest tobacco port in the World—Stoughton, Wisconsin.

The first stop ashore for the purpose of refueling, will embrace a dinner dance at the famous old Chateau, Hotel de Kegonsa at 6:30 P. M. where the service and cuisine are of the best and where even the huskiest of the crew may find plenty to eat.

Dancing between courses. The main dining saloon will be cleared after the dinner for the endurance tests in dancing, horse racing, boxing bout, etc. (Note—None but non-

(Continued to page three)

Athletic Feed Plans Being Made By Club; 100 Invitations Sent

Purpose to Get High School Athletes Interested In Stout Institute

Arrangements are being rapidly completed for the Annual Athletic Banquet sponsored by the "S" Club organization. The date for this banquet is set for Saturday, May 17.

The purpose for promoting this get-together is to attract athletes from the neighboring high schools to choose Stout as their school of higher education.

The committee in charge of this banquet has sent nearly one hundred letters to "S" Club members, who are now teaching, to bring with them some of the outstanding athletes from their schools.

This gala affair will begin in the Stout cafeteria where a definite program will be had. Mr. Ralph Schaudé is in charge of the program and promises it to be one of interest to all who attend. The admission charge will be $1.00 per plate.

Some of the speakers of the evening will be President Nelson, Dean Bowman, and our newly elected captains for next year's football and basketball teams, John Rude and Leon Haase. Negotiations are also being made for an outside speaker, who will deliver the main address of the evening.

After the banquet our visitors will be invited to the S. S. A. dance, which will be held in the school gym.

During the day our prospective Stoutites will be shown the opportunities that we have in our school, by visiting the various shops in the trade building.

Journalism Forgotten As Stoutonia Staff Invades Hotel Marion

Bill Soucie Gives Account Of Proceedings At The Spring Feed

Last Saturday evening, the members of the Stoutonia staff took time out from their duties and invaded the Marion Hotel dining room to tie on the nose-bag and demonstrate their powers of food consumption. The occasion was the first Annual Stoutonia Spring Banquet. It was made quite apparent that in nearly all cases, the individual's knife and fork technique was directly proportional to his journalistic ability. Of course you all know that Vic Ahonen is editor-in-chief, and Art Johnson is chief Linotype operator. Kid Riggs, head make-up man, was not there to enter the competition. (There would have been no competition had he been there.)

After everyone had finished gnawing, and while coffee was being served, a short program was presented by various members of the staff.

First on this program came Buddy Micheels who gave a cornet solo. He toots a wicked horn, but he is very tight with his encores.

Following Buddy's solo, a series of short introductory talks were made by each of the new members. This is the method used by the Stoutonia to keep from being swamped by requests for membership on the staff.

The first one called upon was Al Gilles, the new Exchange Editor and organizer of the new Alumni column. Among other things Mr. Gilles stated that he wished he could be back on the staff next year. The crowd believed the other things he had said, but that was too much. He failed to mention, however, that this particular feed cost him three dollars. Gilly, you should know better than to bet that you can quit smoking. If you must bet, stick to cokes, but lay off suppers.

The next speaker—er—rather writer to be called upon, was Nick Marsilio. Nick recently took the job of news editor which was vacated when Barney Hagen's ill health forced him to leave school. After a short review of his career on the Staff, the boy from Pennsylvania expressed his pleasure in being a member, and returned to his cigarette.

After Nick, Art Johnson, feature writer and Intertype operator, was heard from. He too likes his work on the staff—at least he says he does.

(Continued to page three)

Staff Makes Merry At Hotel Marion Saturday

(Continued from page one)

This part of the program was closed by the head of the newest department on the Stoutonia, the photographic department. Well done, Mr. Jakoubek. If you will produce some pictures now, your record will be O. K.

Then the new make-up man, "Chile" Childress, was heard from. Someone once told him, so he says, that if ever he should be called upon to make an impromptu speech, he should stand and let everyone see him; say what he had to say; and then sit down. Chile obeyed very well.

At the conclusion of the introductory talks, Carl Roll was called upon to give a selection. Carl, you know, is not only the man of the distinctive bow, but also the conductor of the humor column in this paper. His last week's copy was not run; so he let the staff know that he had prepared it just the same by telling them the jokes. Many of the jokes were good; several were very good and the other two or three were — well use your imagination.

After Carl had finished, Mr. Faville arose and gave the staff several compliments regarding its cooperative spirit. The dinner was too much for him, however; he couldn't talk very long.

At this time, the need was felt for more music to add spice to the program. Consequently, Art Johnson rendered a short piano solo. In spite of all the applause which followed his selection, Art, because the time was more or less limited, could not be induced to give an encore. Incidentally Canatsey would like to know if Art develops his proficiency through the practice he gets in Intertype operation.

Mr. Hague, chief advisor to the paper, staged the wind-up to the program.

Altogether, it was a good banquet, and the members went away feeling well rewarded for the effort they have put forth in producing the paper each week.

Life Saver Gives Demonstration Here

(Continued from page one)

Hold the patient tight with your knees on either side of his thighs, and sit on your heels. Feel for the soft spot next to the lowest rib, then have your thumb and fingers parallel and while bringing the body forward press in and say, "Out goes the bad air." Release sharply, and say, "In comes the good." Repeat this for three or four hours or until the patient breathes again.

Other organizations addressed by Mr. McCue were: the Fire Department, on "Transportation of the Wounded"; Camp Fire girls and Boy Scouts, on "First Aid", and with the assistance of Miss Evans, a demonstration of Life Saving methods; and the Rotarians, on the "Person in Life Saving Service", and the possibilities of establishing a local Life Saving Institution in Menomonie. Mr. McCue also mentioned tentative plans for a National Institute in Still Water or somewhere in this locality.

Mr. McCue has spent much time in Racine and he tells us that "Many great men have come from this fine town; you know President Nelson is from Racine." Mr. McCue is especially qualified as an examiner for as he says, "He is hard boiled", and is as hard a subject to manage as any drowning person would be.

Stout is grateful to the Dunn County Chapter of the American Red Cross and is very glad to have had the opportunity of having this man here at this time. His visit has proved very educational.

Prexy Speaks Before Stoughton Stoutites

(Continued from page one)

slobberless horses will be admitted to the races).

A prize will be awarded the couple holding the longest non-stop record in dancing.

The next event of interest will be a trip to the Royal House of the Keenan's, 204 E. Prospect Boulevard. The Duke and Duchess de Keenan and the Prince and Princess of Netherland who are widely known for their charming hospitality, will stage a pretentious bridge-fight for your entertainment. The world's high and consolation championships will be decided at this meet and prizes awarded accordingly. The hostesses will serve refreshments on the upper deck for the passengers and crew before the return trip.

Fare for the complete round trip tour, 75 c. per person, (first class only), including all meals.

Reservations for the tour should be

Prof. Davison Called To Judge Debates

Last Friday, three high schools, Menomonie, Eau Claire and Chippewa Falls, participated in a league contest at which Prof. Davison of Stout Institute was one of the three judges. The other two judges were Prof. Donaldson of the Eau Claire State Teachers College and Prof. Junkman of the River Falls State Teachers College.

Each school had three representatives in declamation, three in oratory, three in extempore speaking and two in extempore reading, making thirty-three contestants. It was necessary to hold an afternoon and evening session in order to complete the program.

Wisconsin Publishers Coming To Menomonie

Publishers and printers of western Wisconsin will gather at Menomonie on May 24 for a group business meeting, which will be held during the afternoon. President B. E. Nelson of The Stout Institute has generously offered a meeting place in the administration building for the visitors. A six o'clock dinner will be served.

At a recent meeting of the group at New Richmond it was decided to hold a session May 24 at Menomonie, as the most central point in the district.

The gathering is expected to bring about 30, including officers of the National Editorial association and others active in press association work.

mailed Monday, April 28, to the Ship's Secretary, Mathilda E. Monteith. Passports must be presented at the Port of Vocational School where Captain Gordon and Skipper Martin and his crew will see you safely aboard at 5:15 P. M.

Life boats and life savers easily available in case of storm at sea and first aid administered at all times by the Ship Doctors to all those feeling the effects of the trip. All bootleg must be concealed until the 10 mile limit is passed.

Don't forget to bring along your passports which must include besides your silhouette, your most embarrassing moment while attending Stout Institute together with your signature and your annual dues, should they still be unpaid. Your bursar, Mrs. Lovell, may require you to produce them in crossing the lines.

Remember, the boat leaves the dock promptly at 5:15 P. M. Let's go!

Hosts and Hostesses:

Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Keenan.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Netherblad.
Transportation Chairman
Mr. Winfield Martin,
Telephone Badger 2351

See us for haircuts; we satisfy our customers

THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
$25 to $32.50
A. E. HERREM

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
EAT

THE PEERLESS GRILL
"The Home of Good Food"

THE SHAKER STUDIOS

ARE ALWAYS GLAD TO SERVE YOU

Let us Develop your Kodak Films

GOOD PROPOSITION - WRITE!

Students with cars can make good money taking orders for Clothes—Complete line for entire family—lowest price line on road.

COLUMBIA WOOLEN CO.

407 Cedar Ave.
Minneapolis, Minnesota

Alumni

Mr. Van Duzee, head of the Industrial Arts Department at the West Allis High School, took a trip to Minneapolis, Minn., this past week. Mr. Van Duzee attended the Western Arts Association Convention there.

Mr. Van Duzee is chairman of the Manual Training section of the convention for the purpose of getting new ideas for the department and to gain knowledge to help the students.

During the summer session at Stout, Mr. Duzee will be one of our faculty members, having classes in Educational Measurements, and Home Mechanics.

In the "Who's Who And What's What" column of the West Allis school paper, The Wamago, we find this additional news of the life of Mr. Van Duzee:

"One member of the West Allis high school faculty well known to many students is Mr. Roy Van Duzee, head of the Industrial Arts department.

"Mr. Van Duzee was born in Menomonie, Wisconsin, and graduated from the Menomonie high school. He then went to Stout Institute where he completed the normal course in Industrial Arts.

"Mr. Van Duzee taught in Bismark, North Dakota, for one or two years. In May, 1917, he joined the Machine gun squadron and served his years in the army, one year overseas as a lieutenant in company A-339 Machine Gun Battalion.

"He returned to Minot, where he taught for two years. During this time he was supervisor of Industrial Arts and director of Athletics. He then returned to Stout Institute where he received his Bachelor degree in Industrial Arts.

"In 1923 Mr. Van Duzee came to West Allis where he has been chairman of the faculty committee on publications and head of the Industrial Arts department.

"Mr. Van Duzee has two hobbies, one for each season. In the winter his hobby is writing Industrial Arts tests. As co-author with Mr. H. B. Nash, he has composed four standardized Industrial Arts tests. In the summer his hobby is camping and fishing. He has made frequent contributions to the journals in the field

Menomonie Baking Co.

Don't Forget Jaeger's Select Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

ORPHEUM

Tonight (Fri.) - Sat.
RUDY VALEE in
"THE VAGABOND LOVER"
Also Pathe News

Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
FRANK FAY in
"UNDER A TEXAS MOON"
Also Sound News
Mat. Sun. 2:30

Wed. - Thurs.
"THE FOUR FEATHER" with Richard Arlen, Fay Wray and Noah Beery
Also Short Topics
Guest Tickets Good Wed.

GRAND

Sat. - Sun.
KEN MAYNARD in
"PARADE OF THE WEST"
Also Comedy and News
Mat. Sun. 3:00

of Industrial Arts and vocational education. He was head of the Stout Alumni for two years.

"Mr. Van Duzee says, 'I have enjoyed working in the school because of the interest that there is in industrial arts in this school on the part of students and the cooperation of school administration and faculty.'"

Three original plays by Madison women were presented by amateur cast Wednesday night at the Woman's building. The players are "The Party Line", by Mrs. Katherine Garland Vilas; "Rest in Peace", by Mrs. Arthur Vinje; and "Cherry Pie" by Mrs. J. B. Arnold.

In the "Party Line" cast is a former Stout student. This person is Mr. Stephan Oellerich, a graduate during the last year. While at Stout, Mr. Oellerich took an active part in the school dramatic organization, the Manual Arts Players, and participated in several of the productions that were presented at our school. His interest along this line is shown by his participation in this play.

A short description of these plays was published in the Wisconsin State Journal.

"Steve" also is the author of the main feature in the first issue of a new Madison publication captioned "The Madison Teacher". The title of Mr. Oellerich's article is "Vocational Guidance", in which he pleads convincingly for a cooperation on the part of all school officials and teachers in guidance activities in order to perfect this modern educational aim.

Reading through the "Signal", the school paper of the Thomas Jefferson high school of Council Bluffs, Iowa, we see that it is under the supervision of Mr. Carl Gernetzky, a graduate of Stout.

Mr. Gernetzky is progressing rapidly with his printing classes and at the present time his classes are printing progress charts for headlines, and setting up composition.

Outside of school hours, Mr. Gernetzky is developing his Printers into

Haircuts at any hour of the day

Three first class barbers

THE ELECTRIC SHOP

A Loving Tribute To My Dear Mother
WHITMAN'S CANDY In Fancy Boxes
LEE'S DRUG STORE

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP
NEW COATS NEW DRESSES
PHOENIX HOSIERY and HOLEPROOF HOSIERY
COMPLETE NEW LINE PAJAMAS and LINGERIE

Swiss Red and Rayon
SHIRTS and SHORTS

$.45 — $.90

SPRING TIES

$.45 — $.90 — $1.35

EVENS TOBIN CO.

SERVICE

We do dry cleaning every day. If you need the use of your suit immediately, take advantage of our

"ONE DAY SERVICE"

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE

Spring Suits $22.50 to $35.00

MENOMONIE DYE HOUSE
RUNNING and COLE

Select your Graduation Gifts
for your friends
here

NELS ANSHUS

an indoor baseball team. The team, with Mr. Carl Gernetzky acting as coach, has everything planned to extinguish the other teams in their annual indoor baseball event.

Prof. Milnes and a number of the Y. M. C. A. members attended a convention at the Y. M. C. A. camp in St. Croix, Wis., during the week-end. The convention which was held for the purpose of discussing religion problems and the attitude toward religion on the college campus was represented by twelve colleges from both Wisconsin and Minnesota. Besides listening to talks given by the faculty representatives from each college the group was fortunate in hearing a number of well known speakers.

Many athletic games were played and to show how athletically inclined they were, the Stout representatives took a dip in the St. Croix river and then preformed a tumbling exhibition on the beach while in their bathing togs.

The stay proved to be very enjoyable as well as educational. Plans have already been made to hold another convention next year.

The Men's Glee Club and the Freshman Quartet sang at the Methodist Church on Sunday morning, May 4, and the Glee Club is booked to sing at the Evangelical Church on May 11. The Quartet also sang at the Tainter Memorial, during the production of "The Governor's Daughter". Oh, the Freshman Quartet is certainly making a name for Gilly smoked a cigarette that cost him three dollars. No foolin! he lost a non-smoking bet.

If you want to give others the correct impression of your real, true self,—LOOK WELL.
By visiting your barber
I. W. NESSER

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonie Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

Stout Golfers Win From Eau Claire And Falls At Menomonie

Fordham, Zick, Wallin, And Riggs, Too Much For Visitors

Initiating Stout's newest minor sport, the golf team romped over River Falls and Eau Claire Friday afternoon on the Menomonie Country Club links. The Institute team, composed of Fordham, Zick, Wallin, and Riggs, succeeded in gaining 19 points while River Falls and Eau Claire were getting 10 and 5 respectively.

While only a small crowd was out at the Country Club, considerable interest was seen about the campus. With the sport assured of a definite place on the spring program, more enthusiasm will be seen next year.

Fordham Leads the Field
Fordham had an 83 for the low score of the day and was closely followed by Wallin. Meets are planned at both Eau Claire and River Falls in the near future with the same schools taking part.

In a letter from Lawrence College, received early this week, an announcement is made of the State Intercollegiate Golf Tournament to be held May 25 at Appleton, Wisconsin. The meet is sponsored by the Lawrence College Golf Club. Individual and team trophies will be awarded to the winners.

U. S. Body Urged To O. K. Worthy School Measure

American Vocational Ass'n Asks For Additional Funds To Expand Their Program

The Capper-Reed Vocational bill, prepared and endorsed by the American Vocational Association is now pending in Congress. This bill calls for an additional appropriation of one million dollars by the federal government for vocational education purposes, beginning June 3rd, 1931, and increased by a like sum for a three year period. This bill, if enacted into law, would help promote in every state such worthwhile activities as industrial safety, foremanship training, itinerant instruction, co-ordination, apprenticeship, commercial training, and practically all forms of adult education as well as other forms of vocational school work. The field of vocational education has developed so rapidly during the past few years that additional funds are necessary and this appropriation would mean more efficient service and a further extension of our program.

Some of the reasons for the Capper Reed Vocational Education bill are as follows:

1. The present federal cooperation with the States in aid of trade and industrial education, under the Smith Hughes Act, is used to within 3.3 per cent of the total annual grant to the States. This financial margin of safety is necessary to avoid deficits.
2. The last year's enrollment in federal-aided trade and industrial classes represented training in 225 occupations and included:

|         |                                                                       |       |
|---------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|-------|
| 65,000  | youths over 14 preparing to enter a skilled trade.                    | 11.6% |
| 367,000 | working youths over 14 learning while they earn a living              | 62.2  |
| 131,000 | working adults receiving training to improve themselves in their jobs | 23.2  |

563,000 100.0%
Yet, there are approximately 500 trades and occupations for which training of less than college grade is needed, and each year the United States has about 4,000,000 such young wage earners and approximately 45,000,000 adult wage earners. Many of these occupations and millions of these wage earners could be reached and served by the vocational education program if funds were available.

3. That the present federal cooperation with the States under the Smith-Hughes Act of 1917 stimulated the States to promote trade and industrial education and training is shown by the fact that the States now spend approximately $4.00 to every $1.00 of federal aid.

4. Further federal cooperation with the States in trade and industrial and commercial education is needed to further stimulate and aid the States in solving the pressing and momentous training problems incident to:

a. The continuous vocational retraining of wage earners, out of employment because of increasing mechanization, progress in business and industrial efficiency and changing economic demands, into operators of the newer processes or into new and expanding occupations, somewhat simi-

Manual Arts Players Give Dance Tonight

(Continued from page one)

and avoid the rush! The line forms to the right!
The M. A. P. organization have made it a point to make all of their undertakings a success and this affair will not be slighted. So give your feet a treat and join the dancers to the gym.
Remember the price is 35 cents and the time is set for 8:30.

STOUT RECEIVES INVITATION TO GOLF TOURNEY

A state intercollegiate golf tournament, the first of its kind in Wisconsin, will be held this spring under the auspices of the newly organized Lawrence College golf club. Invitations to participate in the tourney, which will be held on the Butte des Morts course outside of Appleton, have been sent to fifteen of the state liberal arts colleges, the teachers' colleges, and Marquette University. The University of Wisconsin is also being asked to send representatives. These invitations have been extended with Coach A. C. Denney's personal endorsement.

According to the president of the organization, the tournament will be held the third week in May. A team trophy will be awarded as well as individual medals for low honors. The trophy committee for the tourney is composed of four members of Lawrence College.

Stout is one of the schools that received an invitation to this tournament. With the results that was shown at the meet against River Falls and Eau Claire, Stout should not be backward in entering this tournament. We have a few good players whose scores would look good against any kind of competition.

lar to the occupations in which they are experienced.

b. The vocational improvement of wage earners unemployed, or unsteadily employed, because of their lack of the hand and technical efficiency increasingly demanded of the occupations in which they are attempting to earn a livelihood.

Miss Hassler promises that "The Charm School" will be the hit of the year.

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

FOR SALE!
Eighteen foot "Old Town" CANOE
Bargain, fifteen dollars
Call, Faith Jimerson 144

HEADQUARTERS FOR BASEBALL RETURNS
GOOD PIPES and PIPE REPAIRING
SOFT DRINKS and ICE CREAM
F. E. MILLER

"BYE" OLSONS
GOOD CLOTHES
Featuring Style and Quality
For College Men

Good Meals and Refreshments
SERVICE
Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

River Falls Wins Second Golf Meet; Stout Takes Second

Fordham Leads The Field With Wallin And Hanson Not Far Behind

Teeing off from the River Falls course yesterday afternoon, the Stout golf team was defeated by the Falls 16 to 15 with Eau Claire trailing with 5 points. This was the second meet between the three schools and gives Stout and River Falls a match apiece.

"Lefty" Hanson took the place of Riggs and made a creditable showing. Zick, unaccustomed to the sand greens, didn't put up his usual good game and fell below his average.

Fordham again was the individual star of the meet, making a 77 for the low score of the day. The sand greens didn't seem to affect Swede as he made a better score than the week before at home. He was followed by Rusty who succeeded in making an 80 for another low score.

In the meet at Eau Claire there'll certainly be a fight between the Blue and the Red for supremacy in this newly organized sport. This match will probably take place next week and should be interesting from all points of view.

Following is the scores as made by the three teams:

|         | Stout | R. F. | E. C. |
|---------|-------|-------|-------|
| Rusty   | 6     | 2     | 1     |
| Fordham | 6     | 2     | 1     |
| Zick    | 0     | 6     | 3     |
| Hanson  | 3     | 6     | 0     |
|         | 15    | 6     | 5     |

LOST!
A small brown leather key case containing five very important keys! Will the finder please turn them in at the lost and found desk.

It's cold cash because we don't keep it long enough to get it warm.

ALL KINDS OF TAILOR WORK
Pressing, Repairing and Dry Cleaning
A. GOLDBERG
Next door to Crescent Creamery.

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

Seniors' Invitations Printed At Stout

The senior commencement invitations, for the first time, have been printed in the Stout Institute print shop. The lettering is very attractive and the Stout emblem is embossed and artistically touched in gold.

This type of work adds to the numbers of accomplishments attained in the printing department.

At a recent meeting of the "S" Club held in the Stout gym, it was decided to sponsor an Athletic Banquet to be held May 17 in the Stout cafeteria. A committee is working on a program which will probably include talks by the two captains-elect of the 1931 athletic teams, President Nelson, and Dean Bowman. The program plans are not yet completed. Admission price will be $1.00.

The S. S. A. is sponsoring a dance which will be given immediately after the S. Club Banquet on May 17. The visiting H. S. athletes will be guests and S. S. A. tickets will admit Stout students.

The senior class play cast has been hard at work, every night for the past three weeks, rehearsing their three act comedy, "The Charm School". The play will be given on Wednesday, May 28.

Frances Inenfeldt will give a demonstration on "Summer Deserts", Friday, May 16, from 10:00 to 11:30. Those wishing to attend are invited to do so.

If you enjoy a comedy you will want to see "The Charm School".

"MOTHER'S DAY"
MOTTOS - GREETINGS
REMEMBER MOTHER
ON MOTHER'S DAY
A.R. OLSON

MOTHER'S DAY
MAY 11th.
We have a complete supply of
SPECIAL MOTHER'S DAY BOX CANDY
THE OLYMPIA
Pete Jeatran

LET'S NOT FORGET
MOTHER'S DAY
May — 11th.
Sweeten up the day for her with a box of
OUR FRESH CHOCOLATES
THE CANDY SHOPPE

WE HAVE
QUALITY SHOES
AT EXCEEDINGLY LOW PRICES
Swenson and Berndt
The Shoe Men

Have Your Eyes Examined Today
We Grind
Our Own
Lenses
Broken
Lenses
Replaced
INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

"Bud" Miller's Men Taking Athletic Honors

"Bud" Miller, a former Stout coach, is at present coaching at the Kirksville College of Osteopathy and Surgery at Kirksville, Missouri. Word has been received that he has a very strong baseball team this spring, having defeated Westminster College 5 to 4 and Central College 7 to 6. Both these teams were very strong competition, especially Central College which had a perfect record in thirteen games last year and three victories this year.

You will be introduced to Jim and Tim Simpkins, Elise Benedotti, Geo. Boyd, and others at "The Charm School".

ANNOUNCING
The Opening of a New—
MODERN BARBER
SHOP
For MEN and WOMEN
Opposite Orpheum Theatre
Saturday, May 3
Lee's Barber Shop
L. C. HARSHMAN, Prop.
"Where Quality Comes First"

New Field House To Be Built On Stout Lot; Plans Drawn Up

Building To Be Miniature Reproduction Of The Industrial Arts Building

Construction of a new field house to be placed on the Stout lot for the convenience of the skaters and others, is furnishing a project of unusual interest and merit for the classes in carpentry. The building which will be a miniature reproduction of the Industrial Arts building, will be furnished with good seating arrangements and a stove so that skaters during the winter months will have a convenient and comfortable place for changing footwear, skates, and for rest.

The outside dimensions for this building will be eleven feet by twenty feet, the tower will be approximately twenty five feet high. According to dimensions, the building will be constructed to a scale of approximately one sixth that of the Industrial Arts building.

To Duplicate I. A. Building
Prof. Nelson states that every detail of the Industrial Arts building will be reproduced to miniature size. There are no shapes of building material available for reproducing the Industrial Arts building on a reduced scale. This makes problems much more complex, but at the same time infinitely more valuable and interesting. All the materials, bricks, stone, terra-cotta, etc., will be imitated in wood in accurate reproductions.

In this newest addition of the I. A. building, you will never need to tire your legs by walking upstairs, as this (Continued to page three)

Retirement Law To Raise Professional Level Of Teachers

Educational Standards Improved
By Greater Experience Of Instructors, Says Educator

The public supports a teachers' retirement law for the purpose of raising the level of the teaching profession as a whole rather than protecting the teacher as an individual.

Authorities regard three of the fundamental requisites among the principles of a teachers' retirement law as: First, a clear definition of the amount of deposits required by teachers and the State respectively; second, the keeping of separate accounts in the name of each teacher; and third, a provision for the withdrawal of all accumulations with interest in case of death or discontinuance of service.

The embodying of these principles in sound State retirement systems has served to remove the objection of the teachers, for the most part, of a fourth necessary principle, which is that of compulsory membership.

Teachers now realize that even though they are required to deposit the necessary percentage, such accumulations may be withdrawn by them when separating from service if they do not continue to the time of retirement. In the case of those who do qualify for retirement, the options then available meet the requirements of the individuals in a most satisfactory manner.

No Longer A Charity
A retirement system for teachers based upon sound principles is no longer looked upon as a charity. The State compels teachers to participate in a retirement system from a selfish motive, so that the losses incident through the release of employees incapacitated through old age or disability.

A teacher therefore realizes that one of the conditions of his employment in accepting a position is the acceptance of the statutory provisions and of the rules and regulations of the teachers' retirement system.

When individual statements of total deposits and interest earned are rendered of members of the retirement association, it is not uncommon to hear many of the teachers freely admit that, had not the sums been deducted from their salaries, they never would have saved them. Saving is something in which many procrastinate, with the feeling that there is something more immediately important to take its place; the idea (Continued to page three)

MORE STUDENTS PLACED

Reports from the registrar's office indicate that several more upper class students have received positions for the coming year.

Thomas Nelson will be located at Downers Grove, Ill.; James Doyle has a position at Janesville, Minn.; Marjorie Funk will be at Rosendale, Wis.; and Mary Fox has a position at Middleton, Wis.

Class Day Exercises To Feature May Fete

Plans for the Class Day exercises featuring the May Fete are being completed at a rapid speed. The committee headed by Miss Balerud and Miss Miller and consisting of John Rude, Dave Fierer, Alice Haselrud, and Vivian Hewitt is making arrangements for the crowning of the May Queen, May pole dances by the members of the freshman and sophomore girls gym classes, and a solo dance.

The Procession of Arts and Tributes which has become traditional with Stout will again be a part of the May Fete. Each organization and department in school will be represented in the Procession and will pay tribute to the queen by offering a token from their groups.

The event will take place on the lawn near Tainter Annex and will be followed by an all-school picnic at Tainter Hall.

Demonstration Given Here By Miss Dahnke

Miss Mary Dahnke of the Kraft-Phenix Cheese Company presented interesting demonstrations Wednesday, May 14. One demonstration was at 10:00 A. M. and the second at 3:00 P. M.

Miss Dahnke first told something of the history and consumption of cheese. The Kraft Cheese Company maintains a Model kitchen in Chicago where all the recipes are tested. The Home Economics department works very closely with production. The purpose, of course, is to increase the consumption of cheese.

There is a strong tie up between advertising and consumption. Miss Dahnke told of the different kinds of cheese — there being over 300 kinds known to man. The Americans consume four and one half pounds of cheese per person per year while the Swiss consume thirty-two pounds per person per year.

Four points which Miss Dahnke emphasized about cheese were: food value, flavor, economy and variety.

Cheese is merely solidified milk. It is made from the curd or the solid part of the milk. A great improvement in present day production is the packaging of cheese.

Some of the various kinds of cheese put out by the Kraft-Phenix Cheese Company are: Philadelphia Cream, Kay, American, Pimento, Grated, Velveeta, Swiss, Limberger, Roquefort (Continued to page four)

Former Stout Grad Going Abroad Soon

A recent letter received from Miss Ruby Starr, who is teaching in the Fairview High School at Dayton, Ohio, will be of much interest to many Stout students. Miss Starr had the experience of starting in a new high school with all new equipment. In her Home Economics department is a model house, containing a living room, dining room and bed room, which the girls have furnished at a minimum cost with money earned themselves at banquets and food sales.

Another interesting phase of the curriculum last winter was a series of classes in adult education, which met every Monday afternoon. Miss Starr taught the class in Interior Decoration, with an average attendance of sixty-five women, and she states that many interesting contacts were made in this connection.

Miss Starr is planning a very interesting summer vacation, as she will sail the eighteenth of June from Montreal with a group of friends to travel abroad until the first of September. She will return to Fairview in the fall to resume her teaching position.

Y. M. C. A. Society To Hold Convention At Lake Geneva Wis

Influential Speakers on Program;
500 Delegates Are Expected
At Meeting

The 1930 Lake Geneva Conference will meet at College Camp, Wis. on June 13, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Approximately 500 delegates from 350 colleges are expected to attend this year. The theme for this year's Conference is to be "Facing Life's Realities".

Influential persons from almost every phase of life will be present to explain their views on how to meet the different problems in life and how to make use of opportunities to the best advantage. After each assembly of the main body there will be various group discussions under the leadership of one of the speakers. Every day problems which arise on the college campus will be solved in these groups, and the solutions will be analyzed.

Some of the main speakers are Prof. Theodore Soares, who will open the conference by a speech on the strains of reality found in religion, Kirby Page, who will discuss the economic and religious conditions and the many personages he met on his world tour, and Dr. E. F. Tittle, who will close the conference June 20th with his prophetic view on the trend religion is taking.

Besides the discussions there will be a varied program for entertainment consisting of music, athletics, and trips to various points of interest. Many concessions are being made to induce more delegates to attend. If eight or more delegates come from one college they will be given a reduction in rates. Special reductions and inducements are also offered to foreigners.

The Geneva Conference has met once a year for many years, and its value can be seen by the increase in members. No one who has attended the Conference can say that they have not benefited by the experience. Beside the benefit derived from the discussions, the Conference Committee tries to make it an enjoyable and restful vacation for all who attend.

Frosh Have Gay Time At Annual Picnic; So Does Dean Price

Games And Dances Prove To Be Very Popular At Frosh
Entertainment

The frosh were all set for a good time at Picnic Point Wednesday evening, but due to adverse weather conditions the plans had to be changed at the last minute, and the picnic was held in the Stout gym. Most of the frosh were disappointed with the necessary change in plans but they swallowed their disappointment and presented themselves at the gym with the determination to make the best of it. Several faculty members also were present to take part in the festivities.

The entertainment consisted of games and dancing. "Rusty" Wallin was present to tickle the ivories for those who wished to dance between the games.

Miss Miller and Mr. Price were seemingly not satisfied with the refreshments, as each took one end of a long string and started to eat it. Mr. Price got the lions share due to his (Continued to page three)

WEST POINT APPOINTMENT

Nathaniel P. Ward, freshman at Stout, received word the other day that he has successfully passed the examinations for his appointment to West Point, the United States Military Academy. Mr. Ward took the exams this winter at Fort Snelling, and will leave for the Point the latter part of June. The Stoutonia on behalf of the student body extends to Mr. Ward best wishes for his success.

Two Stout Graduates Pay Visit To Campus

Myron Crandall and Hugo Pessola, two Stout graduates, paid a short visit to the Alma Mater enroute to their homes in Cable, Wisconsin, and Mt. Iron, Minnesota, from Tampa, Florida.

First impressions always seem to dissolve the rosy memories of bygone years. The fellows missed the old spirit of Stout that prevailed in the "good old days".

"What's the matter? Is Stout having a vacation?" asked Crandall. "Where are the good-looking coeds?" The questions were answered to the best of loyal Stoutite's abilities, but still seemed to leave some doubt in the minds of the vagabond pedagogues.

Nothing could induce them to stay a day longer in order to become better acquainted with the college and its present inmates, but they have decided to attend summer session, and promise to try to change their opinions.

Mammoth "S" Club Banquet Tomorrow Eve

Tomorrow night, Saturday, May 17, is another big night for the "S" club as they are putting on their annual spring athletic banquet. The "S" club has been unusually active this year. This is the third banquet sponsored by the club and it has been active in other school activities. The athletic banquet tomorrow night is going to be the largest of them all.

Over ninety letters have been sent to "S" club alumni urging them to bring prospective Stoutites to attend the banquet. Emphasis is being given to the invitation of high school athletes who will graduate this year. Those who arrive early enough on Saturday will have an opportunity to inspect Stout Institute before sitting down to one of the biggest feeds of the season.

All men students of Stout are urged to attend this banquet. Buck Schaudé says that you can be sure that you will get plenty to eat and there is going to be a good program too.

The program is as follows:
Toastmaster ..... Ralph Schaudé
Welcome to Visitors ..... Pres. Nelson
Talk, Basketball Captain, Leon Haase
To Our Next Year's Teams

..... Coach Burbidge
Selection ..... Frosh Quartette
Talk, Football Captain, John Rude
Address ..... Mr. C. A. Bowman

Alma Mater
Music by
The Stout Institute Orchestra

Commencement Day Is Set For May 29

The commencement committee had a meeting Wednesday, May 7, relative to plans for commencement week. Commencement day is definitely set for May 29. The rest of the program is planned, but is subject to change. However, any changes made will no doubt be minor ones. Committees of faculty and students have been appointed to take care of all the school functions which crowd the last few days of school. The following program has been outlined by the commencement committee:

May 24, Saturday—Senior Dinner
May 24, Saturday—S. S. A. Dance
May 25, Sunday — Baccalaureate
Breakfast honoring senior women
Breakfast honoring senior men
May 26, Monday—President's reception
May 27, Tuesday—Field Day, 3 p. m.
May 28, Wednesday—Class Day
All School picnic
Faculty Reception
Alumni-faculty-senior dinner
Class Play
May 29, Thursday—Commencement.

Advanced Art Coeds Go To Minneapolis For Week End Trip

Attend Important Meetings And Visit Art Museums While In The Cities

Art, artists, artistry, and more arts were the subjects of most concern to the members of the Advanced Design, Art History, and House Furnishing's classes who spent the week end in Minneapolis. Members of the Art History class who took membership in the Western Arts Association, which met in Minneapolis from May sixth to eighth, had the opportunity of hearing some well known speakers, whose general theme was "Adjusting the Arts to Modern Education". Both the Leamington and the Curtis Hotels were headquarters of the convention. Perhaps the most outstanding speaker was Herr Hoffman of Munich, Germany, who came through the courtesy of the University of Minnesota. Herr Hoffman has been brought to this country by the University of California, where he is to instruct during the 1930 summer school. The lecture was given in his native language and translated paragraph by paragraph by one of his students.

The trip around the Minneapolis lakes and boulevards provided one thrill after another. Cars were furnished by the Minneapolis Parent Teacher's Association.

The awarding of prizes which were given by the different Art Companies was the closing feature of the convention. Anita Gundlach, one of the lucky winners, received a ten dollar original block print landscape picture, given by the Practical Drawing Company of Chicago.

Friday and Saturday were spent (Continued to page three)

Upper Class Has Society Formed By I. A. Professors

Organize Into Five Groups For Study in Industrial Arts
Subjects

During the second semester of this year the first steps in the organization of the Industrial Education Forum at The Stout Institute have been completed. A committee of five faculty members from the School of Industrial Education selected the initial members from the total group of upper classmen who had scholarship eligibility. Selections were restricted to seniors and juniors. The maximum membership will be restricted to 21 members. New members may be selected by ballot by the present members. These selections are made from those on the scholarship eligibility list.

Rapid strides are being made in the direction of the organization of a national honorary industrial education fraternity. The Industrial Education Forum has in its purpose plans for professional work which will eventually qualify it for membership in the national honorary industrial education fraternity. Such affiliation will not be planned until the organization has sufficient strength and has been in active operation a long enough time to maintain the high standards necessary.

Has Efficient Organization
During the current semester the group has consisted of fifteen men. These have been organized in five study groups—three students to the group. Meetings have been held on alternate Thursdays. Each study group is assigned one faculty member as an advisor. Reports on industrial education topics are made at each meeting by the study group assigned to that meeting. These reports are outlined and prepared in duplicate several days in advance of the meeting to enable sharp discussions at the meeting.

It is planned in the future to have some open meetings. Beginning steps have already been made toward the publication of certain reports on studies carried on by the Forum. These reports will be through magazine publicity, through convention reports and other channels.

The Forum is essentially a working group. Each year a census will be taken of current industrial education topics. It will seek working problems from a wide range of sources. It will endeavor to secure a distribution (Continued to page three)

CALENDAR

| Monday           |              |
|------------------|--------------|
| Science Club     | 5:00 o'clock |
| Stoutonia Staff  | 5:00 o'clock |
| Girls' Glee Club | 7:00 o'clock |
| Men's Glee Club  | 7:00 o'clock |
| Tower Staff      | 7:00 o'clock |
| Tuesday          |              |
| Band             | 7:00 o'clock |
| S. M. A.         | 7:15 o'clock |
| De Molay         | 7:30 o'clock |
| Wednesday        |              |
| Rifle Club       | 7:00 o'clock |
| S. T. S.         | 7:30 o'clock |
| Thursday         |              |
| Aremi            | 7:30 o'clock |
| Inky Fingers     | 5:30 o'clock |
| M. A. P.         | 7:15 o'clock |
| Hyperians        | 8:00 o'clock |
| W. A. A.         | 7:00 o'clock |
| Orchestra        | 7:00 o'clock |

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

|                          |                       |
|--------------------------|-----------------------|
| Managing Editor          | E. V. Ahonen          |
| Associate Editor         | Henrietta L. Quilling |
| News Editor              | Chester Mau           |
| News Editor              | Anita Gundlach        |
| Assistant News Editor    | Nicholas Marsilio     |
| Assistant News Editor    | Vivian Hewitt         |
| Feature Editor           | William Soucie        |
| Feature Editor           | Kent Riggs            |
| Feature Editor           | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Humor Editor             | Carl Roll             |
| Sports Editor            | Georgia Aber          |
| Sports Editor            | William Micheels      |
| Exchange Editor          | Albert Gilles         |
| Organization Editor      | Janet Kyle            |
| Organization Editor      | Reuben Hanson         |
| Cartoonist               | Kathleen Lind         |
| Staff Photographer       | R. A. Jakoubek        |
| Business Manager         | Earl C. Halverson     |
| Circulation Manager      | Robert G. Reick       |
| Ast. Circulation Manager | Carl Roll             |
| Ast. Circulation Manager | Byron Canatsey        |
| Advertising Manager      | Mario McCullough      |
| Ast. Advertising Mgr.    | Floyd C. Larson       |
| Intertype Operator       | Arthur G. Johnson     |
| Under Direction of       | Mr. C. W. Hague       |
| Editorial Adviser        | Mr. John Faville, Jr. |
| Associate Adviser        | Miss Helen Sarchet    |

KING INDUSTRIAL ART TO BE CROWNED

For the first time in the history of Stout, there will be a coronation of May King.

This will take place on the evening of field day. The day before the Queen is crowned.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK

The school year is just about over with now. All that remains is the exams and the shouting. Don't worry about your exams. Review, but don't cram.

Relieve the tension by entering full heartedly into the activities of Commencement week.

Make every affair one that you will remember in years to come.

SOCIETY NOTES

The Home Economics faculty is entertaining the members of the senior class at a 1:00 o'clock bridge luncheon Saturday, May 17th. The luncheon will be served in the corridor on third floor. This is an unusual event, and is one of the means of recognition of the seniors.

THE SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club was forced to hold its annual spring picnic in the biology laboratory on Tuesday night on account of rain. At first every one feared that the picnic was going to be a failure, but drinking out of beakers ranging from 200 cc to 500 cc in size and toasting wieners on stirring rods in the flame of a bunsen-burner proved great fun, and the members all report that a very pleasant time was had by all. In fact, each member vouches that this picnic was the best they ever attended, and they say that the laboratory is the one and only place for a picnic for their group anyway.

THE HYPERION SOCIETY

The Hyperion Society held its regular social meeting on Thursday evening, May 8. Miss Belinda Hendrickson spoke on "The Outstanding Women in Home Economics", and Miss Irma Gilbertson read some selections and talked on "Mothers' Day". After the program a social hour was held, and a delightful lunch was served by several of the members.

BAND'S PUBLIC CONCERT

To finish its season of many entertainments, the Stout band, under the direction of Mr. Charles Ingraham, will show itself to the public of Menomonie and the surrounding country when it gives a public concert in the city park next Wednesday evening, weather permitting.

The band will play in the concert shell erected some time ago for the Ludington Guard band of Menomonie which has been directed in the past by Mr. Ingraham, and which is now under the direction of Mr. Paul Gregg. The Stout concert opens the band season in the park for Menomonie audiences, the city band being scheduled to open its season the following week.

THE Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. met in the Stout Tea Room Monday evening for the purpose of installing the new officers. Quite a number of the faculty members and several local ministers were present.

The new officers are as follows: Earl Halvorson .....President Ernest Christianson .....Vice-President Nicholas Marsilio .....Secretary Chester Larson .....Treasurer

A banquet followed the installation of officers. During the banquet the guests were entertained by several selections from the Freshman Quartette, and R. B. Smith, the retiring president of the Y. M. C. A. gave his farewell address.

After adjournment Ted Jensen, the State Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., met with the cabinet members and discussed plans for the Y. M. C. A. campaign next year.

FRESHMEN

"Goover, where did you get a license to get two helpings of salad?"

"Prexy, the coffee is cold." A whole gross of varied expressions filled the gym. Why? The freshman picnic, of course. It was held in the gym Wednesday evening because the committee in charge had forgotten to order a mess of nice summer weather. Little of anything else, however, was forgotten. There were plenty of good things to eat, and "Rusty" Wallin was on hand to furnish the music. The English and chemistry departments had it out in a string eating contest. The English department represented by Dean Price won from Miss Miller, the chemistry department's star. Games and dancing rounded out the evening, and as the home town paper would state it, "A good time was had by all."

THE PHILOMATHEANS

Due to the disagreeable weather on Tuesday, the annual Philomathean picnic was held in the Club rooms. After the wonderful lunch, the last business meeting for the year was held. The officers elected for the coming year are as follows:

President .....Clarysse Ness Vice-President .....Grace Quarters Secretary .....Pauline Bonesho Treasurer .....Janet Robertson

After the business meeting the Entertainment Committee came in for its share of the fun. Some very interesting secrets were revealed through a clever method of fortune telling. Also some very unusual performances were given by some of the girls — they show great possibilities toward professional acrobatics in the future!

THE MANUAL ART PLAYERS

The Manual Arts Players are planning to have their annual group breakfast at Point Comfort on Sunday morning, May 18, at 6:30 o'clock. Arrangements are being made for the canoes and also for the food, and now all that is needed is a 100 percent attendance. Each member is to pay twenty-five cents whether he goes or not — the girls yapping theirs to Mary Jane Dodson and the fellows to John Waniga. Oh! Boy, don't you remember the wonderful time that was had last year — why, it was a joy just to see Laurine Johnson work! Remember how awfully good the bacon and eggs tasted too? Well, the eats are going to be bigger and better than ever this year, and the ball game — well, that is predicted to be a "corker" all right, so come on you M. A. P. members — let's go.

Here'n There

About this time of the year the seniors of the various high schools look forward to the choice of some college for their higher education. The school paper of South Division High School, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, is giving to their students who are interested in certain specialized lines of school work, information regarding the opportunities that exist in the various colleges of the state. This information is given in the school paper, "The Cardinal", under the heading "Going to College?"

The article regarding the Shop and Household Arts program in the Stout Institute is as follows:

Industrial education and home economics courses are offered at Stout Institute in Menomonie, Wisconsin. Stout is a teachers' training school, administered by the State Board of Vocational Education.

A bachelor of science degree and a professional diploma are conferred upon the graduates. By teaching in grades five to twelve in the city or by working in the shops, one obtains actual experience.

Expenses are estimated to be from $365 to $412.50. Because the school is located in a small city, expenses are comparatively low.

The eighteenth Amendment should be retained, according to the Lawrentian poll conducted last week. Although there is a higher total of votes for repeal of the amendment and modification than for retention of the amendment, the vote shows more students in favor of retention than for either repeal or modification.

The total results from a poll of 347 votes is:
In favor of the amendment .....154
In favor of repeal .....133
For modification .....60
—The Lawrentian.

Three members of the newly-organized Lawrence Golf Club came out on top in the tournament at Waupaca with the County Club. The winners were Oliver Stratton with a score of 74, and Paul Hackbert and Donald McMahon tied for second place with 78 strokes each. The tournament was a medal play match and each player was allotted a handicap according to his lowest score.

—The Lawrentian.

Students of Stevens Point Teachers College were entertained during their last week's assembly program by the Honorable Mr. Solomon Levitan, treasurer of the state of Wisconsin. In his own delightful way, Mr. Levitan told the assembly something of his life and the value of education.

—The Pointer.

The French and Spanish students of Eveleth Junior College have begun to correspond with students of France and of Mexico, Porto Rico, Central America, South America, and the Dominican Republic.

Twenty-three names and addresses of Spanish and eighteen of French correspondents have been distributed among Mr. Miller's students, who are to write the first letter.

A few students who have corresponded with foreigners for several years already, have assured that such communication proves to be very interesting.

—Jaycee Exponent.

The River Falls all-star cast have begun work on "Smilin' Through", which they will present on May 14th.

The cast which Miss Flint has selected for this play have all appeared in previous plays.

—The Student Voice.

The Echo Weekly will retain the name it has had since it was first published in 1907, according to the vote cast at the all-school election, April 23. The result showed 350 votes for "No" and 240 votes for "yes". The "Echo Weekly" has become known as the name of the publication of Milwaukee State Teachers College.

—Echo Weekly.

The "Echo Weekly" has the following interesting news regarding the originality of the various school songs.

Where did the traditional college songs come from? Everyone who has ever attended college is familiar with his own, and always recognizes the air and words in later years. All the older Alma Mater songs have used popular melodies of the time they were written and wrote suitable words to go with them. For instance, "Fair Harvard" is sung to the tune of "Believe Me All Those Endearing Young Charms". Michigan's famous "Yellow and Blue" was taken from the opera by Balfe. Our Wisconsin U's marching song, is made up of original words sung to original music, composed for that purpose.

—S—

An echo is the only thing that can cheat a woman out of the last word.

ANVIL SPARKS

from Aries

Do not whine if your fair-weather friends quit you. Rather condemn yourself for having accepted them without testing them before the clouds came.

After all each of us is much alone, and none of us can escape living with himself and his choices.

It is the incurable idealist who suffers most.

Flying straws may indicate the direction of the wind but that does not tell us what makes the wind blow nor where the seeds that made the straw were sown.

Personals

Mrs. Grace Dow entertained President and Mrs. Nelson, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carter at dinner on Sunday.

TAINTER HALL

Miss Field Sterling, teacher of clothing in Oshkosh, Wisconsin, was the guest of Miss Esther Bock this week-end.

Miss Anita Gundlach attended the convention of the Western Arts Association in Minneapolis. While there she was a guest of Miss Eleanor Overby, a former student of Stout and now a student at the University of Minnesota.

Miss Esther Sichler was a visitor and shopper in Minneapolis on Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Caroline Brick went on a field trip to Minneapolis on Friday and Saturday with the House Furnishings II class.

Miss Catherine Cress and Miss Phoebe Allen visited with Miss Marian Cress this week-end.

In spite of the fact that third floor did not enjoy the serenade, the second floor wishes for the return of the serenaders, and very soon.

LYNWOOD HALL

Edna Eichorst spent the week-end with Lorraine Steinbring at Fall Creek, Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Senty of Independence, Wisconsin, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nelson of Minneapolis, Minnesota, visited Margaret Senty on Sunday afternoon.

Helen Novak and Charlotte McNab spent an enjoyable week-end at the home of Vivian Florin at Cochrane, Wisconsin.

Eldrid Wike spent the week-end at her home in Colfax, Wisconsin.

Eleanor Vergin and Minnie Chromquist visited at their homes near Barron, Wisconsin.

Evelyn Preston was at home this week-end.

Emma Anderson, Margaret Senty, and Violet Parsons wish it to be known that they bicycled to Irvington Saturday afternoon.

Most of the girls spent much of their time this past week-end in the lake swimming! They report that the water is just fine!

TAINTER ANNEX

Many of the girls left the old home-stead and spent pleasant week-ends at various places—

The Misses Eileen Ross, Virginia Bechtol, Florence Verbrick, Ruth Lindall, and Mary Jane Dodson were in the Cities over the week-end.

The members of the W. A. A. from the Annex report a "whale" of a time at camp.

All in all, things were quite quiet at the Annex Saturday and Sunday — except for the door-bell and the telephone. Not even a serenade!

Miss Elizabeth Carter entertained her mother Sunday and Monday.

Miss Sterling, former student of The Stout Institute, visited Miss Evelyn Peterson and June Lockhart.

Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Bricker of Park Falls, Wisconsin, and Mr. Melvin

Let's Laugh

The S. S. A. election was a quiet one. No machine guns were necessary.

Th canoes and the lake are becoming very popular. Some paddlers are sporting a fresh coat of tan that they received on making a trip to Cedar Falls.

The warm weather caused many students to turn to summer sports of kittenball, tennis, and barnyard golf, (horse shoe pitching).

He (worried): "I don't feel right about this powder of yours on my coat."

She (nonchalantly): "It's quite all right. I have plenty more in my compact."

Employer: "Yes, I advertised for a boy who is good and strong. Think you can fill the bill?"

Applicant: "Well, I just finished licking nineteen other applicants outside the door."

I'm worried about my complexion. Look at my face!

"You ought to diet."

"That's a thought. What color should I use?"

"Tom, give me an example of nonsense."

"Well, nonsense is when an elephant is hanging over a cliff with his tail tied to a daisy."

That's True

Judge: "Whom did you marry?"

Client: "I married a woman."

Judge: "Well, you fool, did you ever know anyone that didn't marry a woman?"

Client: "Yes, sir, my sister; she married a man."

The teacher was giving a practical demonstration to the science class. Her subject for the class was "Steam and Its Uses."

"What have I in my hand?" she asked.

"A tin can," came the answer.

"Right. Is it an animate or inanimate object?"

"Inanimate," chorused the class.

"Correct. Now can any boy tell me how, with this can, it is possible to generate surprising amount of speed and power almost beyond control?"

There came no responsive chorus from the class this time, however. Not a murmur broke the painful silence. Then, a little boy tremblingly raised his hand.

"Please, Miss," he piped. "Tie it to a dog's tail and then watch."

"Give me your money or I'll blow your brains out," commanded the holdup. The intended victim calmly laughed in a manner that showed that he didn't care about either. He was a college boy.

Austin Bevans has ideas which David MacKenzie considers impractical. George Boyd is willing to co-operate with Bevans. You will enjoy "The Charm School".

"There goes our phone."
"Well, I told you to close that door."

Only two more weeks to wait—"The Charm School" is going to be good.

Bright Salesman

"I am an advertisement canvasser. Have you any small wants I can advertise?"

"Certainly not. My servant should not have admitted you. I have told him repeatedly that I do not see canvassers."

"Then dismiss him and advertise in our paper for a better one."

The Jury Grunted

A young lawyer, pleading his first case, had been retained by a farmer to prosecute a claim against a railroad for killing twenty-four hogs. He wanted to impress the jury with the magnitude of the damage.

"Twenty-four hogs gentlemen, twenty-four — twice the number of you there in the jury box."

Schultz of Butternut, Wisconsin, spent Sunday with Miss Berniece Bricker.

Miss Alice Lynam visited her home in Baldwin on Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Ardella Anderson was the guest of Miss Eleanor Overby of Minneapolis during the week-end.

Ardella Anderson and Anita Gundlach were guests of Eleanor Overby in Minneapolis from Thursday until Sunday.

Friday, May 16, 1930

High School Plays At Assembly Thurs.

The student assembly yesterday was treated to a most excellent musical program given by the Menomonie high school band and other young artists, under the direction of Mr. Paul Gregg.

Too much praise could not be given concerning the finish with which the several numbers by the band were rendered. Not a serious flaw could be found. The audience, by its rapt attention, proved that it was being thoroughly entertained by music which deserved to be called by that name. Mr. Gregg and his boys are herewith accorded the most sincere thanks of Stout for this program.

In addition to the band, the program was made finer and more enjoyable by a violin solo by Miss Jane Green, in which she was accompanied by Miss Lou Funk. They were called back for an encore. Both are artists, worthy to appear on any musical program. Miss Funk also gave a piano solo which was heartily applauded. Both young ladies are daughters of Stout families.

Retirement Law To Raise Teachers Level

(Continued from page one)

of saving for one's old age is put off until tomorrow.

The habit of thrift has therefore been inculcated into that particular group of the profession at an early age, and in those most likely to need the allowance should they continue to the point of retirement. Thrift is a human virtue, and received dramatic emphasis during the recent war period with amazing results.

We need more of it today in America, and the fact that the State has borne the cost of acting in a banking capacity for the collecting, accounting and investing of the deposits for those who will withdraw after a few years of service for the most natural and common reason—marriage—or for the many other reasons usually given, is bound to have a lasting and far reaching influence in whatever walk of life they may enter; thus making for a better and more thrifty citizenry. At this point, therefore, a sound retirement program may have a distinct social value.

The consideration that a teacher has rendered service previous to the enactment of a law must also be recognized in the inauguration of a retirement plan. Such a provision tends to emphasize the public service character of teaching and even disregards to some degree State or geographical lines. Thus a feeling of professional solidarity and continuity is encouraged.

Pension Based On Service

The State, in order to benefit immediately from its retirement provision must pay a retirement allowance based on such service as the teacher has rendered in the State previous to the enactment of the law in order to make such payment adequate. The fact that the State delayed the adoption of a retirement system makes its cost greater. Former service does amount to gigantic and staggering sums in the form of accrued liabilities, but the State must not repudiate its obligations.

The State's original and fundamental intention in the enactment of a retirement law is to improve the efficiency of the public school system by removing teachers who become incapacitated because of mental or physical disability or old age. Unless the payment is based on such service the basic idea for the justification of a retirement plan is bound to suffer defeat until such time as all those with prior service have been retired.

The salaries of teachers now approaching the retirement period have been low during the greater part of their teaching careers, so low that the majority of them have been able to save but little for that time when they become ineffective as teachers. The changing value of the dollar has made this saving appear as a crumb of consolation and all the more inadequate to properly and actually support them. With a sense of deepening discouragement they are consequently forced to remain in the service rather than face certain poverty.

States must be protected against such liabilities by buying continued effective service for school children through recognition of these conditions. Such recognition effects a more stimulated profession and a better social organization.

The State must compete with private industry in an endeavor to secure and retain only the best trained teachers for the youth of the Nation. The matter is more effective in the situation, than to make provision for the superannuated teacher, and thus make more adequate the educational system in America.

Senior Class Play To Be Given May 28

The Charm School is the play chosen by the senior class to be given at the Stout auditorium on Wednesday evening, May 28.

The play relates the adventures of a young automobile salesman, who, upon inheriting a girls' boarding school, insists on running it according to his own ideas, chief of which is that the main object taught in girls' schools should be charm. The situations that arise are clever and teeming with humor—clean, wholesome humor. In the end the young man gives up the school and promises to wait until the most precocious of his students reaches a marriageable age. The play is fresh, original, amusing, and the senior class promises an evening of pleasant entertainment.

Advanced Art Coeds Go To Minneapolis

(Continued from page one)

mostly in visiting the Minneapolis Art Galleries. Paintings by great artists, original etchings, sculpture, pottery, textile patterns, and priceless antiques kept every eye busy and all ears alert. Miss Mutz was the efficient guide. Among places visited were the Art Institute, The Beard Art Galleries, The Walker Art Gallery, Moore and Scriber's Art Gallery, and Mabel Ulrich's Book Shop. The Art History and the Advanced Design classes were guests at the Art Institute for lunch on Saturday.

Miss Carson's House Furnishings class studied a slightly different phase of art, mainly that related to furniture and other home furnishings. Places visited were French's factory, French's Model Home, Dayton's Model cottage, Young-Quinlan's, Donnalson's model home, Anderson's Art Shop, and the model home at the Northern States Power Co. The girls were guests of Dayton's for lunch on Friday.

All the classes feel benefited by their short stay in Minneapolis, because it has given them a basis for comparison which can be carried over to their class work. Seeing is believing in more ways than one.

As a special class project in Related Art Seminar, Ardella Anderson and Anita Gundlach chose as their subject "Color and Pattern on The Dining Table". Various table settings were tried, all being in the nature of experiments to set up certain standards for the correct choice of china, linen, glassware, and silverware and their consistent use in combination on the table. Much of the tableware was obtained through the courtesy of local dealers including Mr. Anshus, Mr. Madsen, Mr. Lee, and Mr. Olson.

"Isn't it funny the way things turn up?"
"Yes, especially noses!"

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
EAT
THE PEERLESS GRILL
"The Home of Good Food"

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
$25 to $32.50
A. E. HERREM

Haircuts at any hour of the day
Three first class barbers
THE ELECTRIC SHOP

THE SHAKER STUDIOS

ARE ALWAYS GLAD TO SERVE YOU
Let us Develop your Kodak Films

GOOD PROPOSITION - WRITE!

Students with cars can make good money taking orders for Clothes—Complete line for entire family—lowest price line on road.

COLUMBIA WOOLEN CO.

407 Cedar Ave.
Minneapolis, Minnesota

REMEMBER!

Senior-Faculty
Kittenball
Game
Monday-5:00
Stout Lot

I. E. Professors Go To Pine Point

The Industrial Education faculty and the men of the administrative staff of Stout, a total of 24, enjoyed their annual dinner and outing at Pine Point Tuesday evening.

The traditional baked ham dinner was served. Miss Burgoin and her cafeteria assistants prepared most of it, but the pies were the result of Mr. Kranzsch's artistry. The entire meal was voted excellent by the hungry two-dozen. The committee which planned the picnic and prepared the tables consisted of Mr. Faville, Mr. Good, Mr. Nelson, Mr. Price, and Mr. Welch. They were assisted in the entertainment by Mr. Hague's well known set of tricks. All got back.

To learn to be charming,
And enjoy yourself doing it—
What more can you ask for 25c?
Come and see the Charm School.
It's charming, delightful,
A right rollicking good pay.
You're missing much fun
If you dare stay away.
The Charm School—May 28.

See us for haircuts; we satisfy
our customers
THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

ORPHEUM
Tonight (Fri.) — Sat.
"THE LONE STAR RANGER" with George O'Brien and Sue Carol
Also News and Comedy

Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
Jack Oakie in
"HIT THE DECK"
Also Sound News
Mat. Sun. 2:30

Wed. - Thurs.
"THE KIBITZER"
Also News and Short Reels.
Note: Free tickets good Wed.

GRAND
Tonight (Fri.)
Lon Chaney in
"The Hunchback of Notre Dame"
Benefit of St. Joseph Library Fund
10 & 35c.

Sat. - Sun.
"TONIGHT AT TWELVE"
Also News and Comedy
Mat. Sun. 3:00

New Field House To Be Built On Stout Lot

(Continued from page one)

building will have an elevator installed exactly like the one in the present I. A. building.

Other Classes Help

The construction of this building is being brought about through the cooperation of a few other departments with the carpentry department. Prof. Good obtained all measuring angles for the various elevations, using a sextant. The architectural drafting department drew the elevations of the building; the carpentry department made the detailed drawings; the millwork department made the imitation brick work and moldings for the building; and the sheet-metal department will construct the tin roof.

The construction of this building makes a very profitable project for the carpentry students. There are types of work and construction involved which go beyond that of the ordinary small dwelling, and yet they are still in the realm of carpentry work. Units of construction such as sill construction, framing walls, fitting sash and doors, roof framing, cornice construction and floor laying will comprise some of the units in constructing this building.

Prexy Interested

President Nelson has for some time been interested in a field house for the Stout lot. Instead of building an ordinary shelter or bungalow, it was decided to make a miniature reproduction of the I. A. building. This building when completed and when well located on the lot should prove an interesting asset to Menomonie and to Stout.

Sentimental reasons may have played a part in deciding on this type of building. The architectural characteristics of the tower are so prominent that it has become, to a large degree, symbolic of the Stout Institute. We see the tower everywhere

Menomonie Baking Co.

Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

Victor Portables
and Victor Records
for your outing trip
Get them at
A. R. OLSON

Something New and Different in COMB, BRUSH, and MIRROR SETS
at
LEE'S DRUG STORE

THE OLYMPIA
The Place to go for Good Eats
Pete Jeatran

SERVICE
We do dry cleaning every day. If you need the use of your suit immediately, take advantage of our
"ONE DAY SERVICE"
SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
Spring Suits $22.50 to $35.00
MENOMONIE DYE HOUSE
RUNNING and COLE

STRAW HATS
New Shapes And Colors
$.89 — $4.50
EVENS TOBIN CO.

Society Formed By I. A. Professors

(Continued from page one)

tion of the results of these studies. In the outlining of working schedules for study groups and in the presentation and discussion of the reports of these groups, opportunities for specific experiences will be presented suggestive of future work on curriculum committees.

Frosh Have Gay Time At Annual Picnic

(Continued from page one)

superior ability of mastication.

Mr. Upson also showed his ability by his leadership of the "Light Brigade" in the game of "Sheep Come Home". His charges were brilliantly executed, but the enemy was too numerous, and he was finally captured.

These and other incidents served to pass the time quickly and made the party a success.

—on stationery, in books, and in advertising, and when we think of Stout a picture of the tower is likely to appear before our mind's eye.

ANNOUNCING

The Opening of a New—

MODERN BARBER SHOP

For MEN and WOMEN

Opposite Orpheum Theatre

Saturday, May 3

Lee's Barber Shop

L. C. HARSHMAN, Prop.

"Where Quality Comes First"

Stout Is Victorious In Three Cornered Match; Falls Second

"Swede" Fordham Is Again High Point Man With A Score Of Eight-Three

Finishing the newly inaugurated season in a blaze of glory the Stout golf team succeeded in amassing 22 points to 9 for River Falls and 3 for Eau Claire. Stout made 22 points out of a possible 24, showing that the boys were plenty "hot".

This was the final of three matches played between the schools. Stout was victorious in two with River Falls annexing the third. Eau Claire unable to cope with either of the other two, trailed on all three occasions.

"Swede" Fordham again was the low man of the day, coming through with an 83 score. Adolph has been the low man in all three meets thereby establishing a record for future stars to shoot at.

Close upon Fordham's heels is Rusty with an 87. Between these two they were the low pair in every meet. Lefty Hanson succeeded in making a 91 yesterday and was followed by "Ernie" Zick with a 100 score.

Summarizing the short three week season, it has been an entire success in the eyes of those who participated. This win puts Stout in the minor sports program. Winning one swimming meet and two golf matches, Stout is thus ahead of Eau Claire who won a swimming meet and River Falls who won a golf meet.

Woodworking Classes Visit Twin Cities Business Concerns

Spend Three Days Visiting
Wood-work And Allied Industrial Plants

The woodworking classes left Menomonie last Thursday morning on their annual trip to the Twin Cities for the purpose of visiting woodwork and allied industrial plants. The group, consisting of Mr. Hanson and twelve students, arrived in Minneapolis in time to attend the morning session of the Western Arts Association.

In the afternoon the boys proceeded to Bayport, to visit the Anderson Window Frame Company. Here Mr. H. J. Rothschild, Secretary and Treasurer of the company, and others, took the students through the entire plant, following every step in the manufacture of window frames. The guides were very obliging in answering the questions of the students. Mr. Beil, who reported this plant, led the group in asking questions.

The Anderson Company

This company produces all white pine window frames in standard dimensions for all types of dwellings. They own 250 acres of ground and the factory covers five and a quarter acres, all under roof. The work is highly specialized, each workman doing just one small operation on each frame. Nearly all of the machines used have been designed by the company itself. Certain machines now do work that formerly was done by six men. The initial cost of these machines is from $12,000 to $20,000.

The French Furniture Factory

On Friday morning the boys, together with a group of girls under the guidance of Miss Carson, visited the French Furniture Factory. The French Company manufactures only quality furniture. Their seal is burnt into every piece of furniture that they manufacture and is a guarantee of its quality.

Students Dine At Dayton's

Dayton's Department Store was hos to the woodworkers' group on Friday noon. Mr. Louis, the service manager, was the host and guide and, during a splendid meal in the Dining Room, he spoke to the boys on problems confronting the retailer in his relations with the consumer. Later he escorted the boys through the furniture department. He explained the methods of merchandising and how cooperative buying enabled the consumer to secure quality furniture at greatly reduced prices. He also showed how the tastes of buyers were influenced and guided, and showed

The Anderson Company consumes thirty-five million board feet of lumber yearly, all of it white pine from Minnesota, Idaho, and California. They produce 2,000 to 3,500 frames per day. These frames are shipped in carload lots, one carload being valued at $4,500 to $5,000. They have been in active service for nearly fifteen years and their product is sold in nearly every state in the Union. types of furniture now in demand. Many of these were antique pieces and, as he told how and why they were made, were very interesting.

See Dayton's Model Home

The model home which Dayton's have established on their furniture floor was probably of greatest interest. The furnishings in this home are changed about every two weeks. Thousands of people have visited this model home. Most of the furniture which is used in the model home is sold before it can be removed to the sales floor.

The students appreciated the kindness of Dayton's in entertaining them and also enjoyed the information which their guides volunteered as they went through the department.

The Foley Manufacturing Company

Early Saturday morning, the students visited the Foley Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of saw-filing machines, lawn mower sharpeners, and metal grinders. Here the operation of the machines was shown and then a visit through the plant showed the machine operations necessary to make the product.

Mr. Ringer, the General Manager, who had recently returned from a visit to the Industrial Fair at Leipsig, Germany, had a great deal of interest to the woodworkers to tell about industrial plants and working conditions in the different countries of Europe he visited. He also said his firm had established agencies in seven foreign countries through their exhibit at this great fair.

The students were shown samples of the finished product with details of the construction. One of the desks shown was of matched walnut and valued at $1,000. Each piece is subjected to special rubbing, sanding and finishing processes.

Use Much Imported Material

The veneer used is of their own manufacture and requires a period of two weeks to prepare and season. Most of the finished woods are imported, although some native American wood is used. All hardware fixtures are imported from England.

When a new style or piece of furniture is designed, a photograph of the article is taken in their own photography department. This photo is used in their catalogue for salesmen and buyers.

This visit was well-liked by the students as it gave them an opportunity to observe points of good design and good furniture construction which were of great value in their work at Stout.

Aaron Carlson, Inc.

On Friday afternoon Aaron Carlson, Inc., of Minneapolis, were hosts to the boys. These people are makers of interior trim for the more expensive residences, for museums, office buildings, and other large structures. Theirs is a business of the highest type of custom trade, examples of which are the Fisher Building and

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor

Pressing, Repairing, and Dry Cleaning done in short notice

Made-to-measure Suits $25 up

First Class Workmanship

"BYE" OLSONS GOOD CLOTHES Featuring Style and Quality For College Men

Good Meals and Refreshments SERVICE Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

We Grind
Our Own
Lenses

Broken
Lenses
Replaced

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

Alumni

Miss Gail Banks, a Stout graduate who is completing a successful year's teaching at Stanbough, Michigan, has been reelected to the same position for next year with an increase in salary. Miss Banks was a member of the graduating class of '28.

For this summer, Miss Banks has accepted a position at Hunt Haven, a summer resort on the banks of the Mississippi below Winona, where she will have charge of all dining room girls. Mrs. Hunt, who is the director at Hunt Haven, is a former Stout Fisher Theatre in Detroit, Mr. Edsel Ford's new museum near Dearborn, and the new Mart in Chicago.

They employ about 200 skilled mechanics, including a number of skilled artists in the hand-carving of wood. There are two general departments in the factory; cabinet work and the sash and door section. In one department, work was being done for a million-dollar home in Duluth. In the sash and door department, a number of huge doors were being built for Mr. Ford's museum in Detroit.

Variety of Work Done Here

Each man in this plant must be a master of the machine he operates and must also be able to do any part of the work other than his specialty if called upon to do so. Every job that goes through is different and varies in quantity, so that a highly specialized routing of the work is impossible.

Courteous Receptions Appreciated

The boys then went to the Art Institute where they secured their lunch at the cafeteria connected with the Institute. Afterwards they spent several hours wandering about the galleries. They seemed to find examples of ancient furniture interesting in comparison with our modern furniture.

The boys expressed great pleasure in their trip and appreciated the efforts of Mr. Hansen in arranging it. They also liked the cooperation of the plants they visited and the untiring courteous treatment they received everywhere.

If you want to give others the correct impression of your real, true self,—LOOK WELL.
By visiting your barber
I. W. NESSER

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

Home Towners Win Intra Mural Sports

By defeating the Cafeteria 13-8 in an interesting ball game, the Home Towners won the kittenball championship of the intra-mural league. This gives the Home Towners a big margin in the final check up of scores.

In the previous games the Home Towners defeated the Curtis House in the semi-finals. The Cafeteria had drawn a bye and thus met the Home Towners.

The interest in kittenball has been rather lax with the exception of the two final games. This was to be expected, however, because of the continuance of bad weather and the conflict with spring football.

The outcome of this event is as follows:

Home Towners—60
Cafeteria—50
Curtis—40
Greeleys—30
Eye Openers—15
Brakers—15

The 42 members of Mr. Faville's class in American Government were enlightened and entertained last Friday afternoon by Mr. Farnham Clark, district attorney of Dunn county.

Mr. Clark's subject was court procedure. He outlined for the class the process thru which a case must go before its final disposition in the courts, drawing upon his own experiences as lawyer and district attorney for several interesting illustrations. The students expressed their appreciation of this kind of contact with the actualities of the subject being studied.

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonic Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

A. GOLDGERG, Tailor
ALL KINDS OF TAILOR WORK
Pressing, Repairing and
Dry Cleaning
Next door to Crescent Creamery.

HEADQUARTERS FOR BASEBALL RETURNS

Take Advantage Of Our Great SAFETY RAZOR OFFER
$1.50 Value For $.49

F. E. MILLER

Homemade
Candy Ice-Cream Pastry
The Taste Tells
Open After The Dances
THE CANDY SHOPPE

HAASE'S APPAREL SHOP

THE WHOLE SMART WORLD'S WEARING DULL SHEAR STOCKINGS

—because their lustreless surface has the magic gift of making well-rounded legs look decidedly slimmer
—because their colors seem softer, more subtle —because their clever weave gives the illusion that they are much sheerer than they really are

WE HAVE
QUALITY SHOES
AT EXCEEDINGLY LOW PRICES
Swenson and Berndt
The Shoe Men

Demonstration Given Here By Miss Dahnke

(Continued from page one)

and Camembert. Miss Dahnke emphasized the point that Philadelphia Cream cheese is the most popular of their products. The average taste of Americans is for a mild cheese.

Some of the dishes prepared were: Cheese and spinach combination, various salads, decoration of salads, and an iced salad-sandwich. The dishes were very attractive looking as well as tasty.

—S—
When charming young ladies and school laws disagree—
Come to the Senior Play and view the debris!

We have a complete assortment of Diamond Rings
Select your Graduation Gifts
for your friends
Here
Nels Anshus

Senior Exercises And May Fete To Be Held On Wednesday

Program Will Begin at 10:00
O'Clock At The Tainter
Hall Lawn

On next Wednesday, May 28, the Class Day exercises and the May Fete will take place in honor of the graduating class of 1930.

The program will begin at exactly ten o'clock and a procession to the Tainter Annex lawn will be the opening number.

All students taking part in the Class Day exercises and in the May Fete are to be in the procession, and they will meet on the north side of Tainter Hall.

The order of the procession will be as follows:

The Stout Band
Art and Tribute Bearers
Seniors (in Caps and Gowns)
May Pole Dancers
Folk Dance Group
Dorothy Three-Step Group
Attendants to the Queen
Ladies in Waiting
Louise Whitehurst
Adele Lanckton
Crown Bearers
Coroner
Ardella Anderson
Maid of Honor
Mary Fox
Flower Girls
"May Queen"
Esther Sickler

(Continued to page three)

Present Underlings Lay Plans For Next Year's New-jay Class

Opening Weeks Of School Next Fall Will Be Busy Ones For
The New Freshmen

Plans, which are nearing completion indicate a hearty, rousing welcome to the incoming freshman class of the Stout Institute. The promoters, none other than the sophomore class, will make every effort possible to show the freshmen that they are backing them in every respect. The present freshman class under the direction of Theodore Pierson, president, and Janet Robertson, Vice-president, assisted by leaders in the sophomore class have the following group of activities.

Tuesday, Sept. 9—Registration
Freshman caps donned by freshmen men and women

Tuesday, 7:30 p. m.—Corridor dance, Home Economics students in the Home Economics building.
Election of freshman woman leader
Open House—freshman men at Men's dormitory.
Election of freshman man leader.

Wednesday, Sept. 10, 5 p. m.—All school picnic at Riverside Park.

Thursday, Sept. 11, 5 p. m.—Sophomore-freshman girls' meeting.
Open Night—freshman men.

Friday, Sept. 12, 7:30 p. m.—Churches reception for all students.

Saturday, Sept. 13, 2:30 p. m.—Stout Students Association matinee dance.

Sunday, Sept. 14, 2:30 to 5:00 p. m.—Open house for students of all dormitories.

Monday, Sept. 15, 5 p. m.—Tug of War, Freshmen and Sophomore men, Wilson Avenue.
Freshman girls' cheering section.

Tuesday, Sept. 16, 5 p. m.—Kitten-ball, Freshmen and Sophomore girls at gymnasium.
Baseball, Freshmen and sophomore men, Stout Field.

Wednesday, Sept. 17, 5 p. m.—Volley ball, Freshmen and Sophomore girls, gymnasium.

Volley ball, Freshman and Sophomore men, gymnasium.

Thursday, Sept. 18, 11 a. m.—Assembly Program.

5 p. m.—Bag Rush, Freshman and Sophomore men, Stout Field.
Girls in the cheering section.

Friday, Sept. 19, 7:30 p. m.—Y. M. C. A. party for all girls, Home Economics corridor.
Men's Mixer Party, gymnasium.

Saturday, Sept. 20, 2:30 p. m.—All Freshman dance, gymnasium.
8:30 p. m. Stout Student Association dance.

1930 May Queen
Miss Esther Sickler who will be crowned May Queen on May 28th.

Dean Bowman To Be Delegate At Meeting

Dean Bowman was appointed as one of thirteen delegates who will represent Wisconsin at the meeting of the National Education Association in Columbus, Ohio, at a meeting of the executive committee of the Wisconsin Teachers Association last Saturday.

This meeting, which will be held from June 23 to July 4, will be attended by delegates from colleges and universities throughout the country. Their topics for discussion will include educational problems prevailing throughout the country, and methods or remedy for adjusting such problems.

This appointment to Dean Bowman is an honor to the administration of Stout as the Wisconsin Teachers Association recognizes the capability of men who are the acknowledged education leaders of the state to represent it at national meetings of this kind.

Stout Observes Better Homes Week

"To encourage the establishment of courses of instruction in home economics in the public schools, and particularly the construction of home-economics cottages and home-management houses where girls in our public schools and colleges may, by actual practice, learn the best methods of conducting household operations and of home making." This is a statement of one of the purposes of the Better Homes Movement in America.

This week at The Stout Institute various things are being done to carry out a Better Homes in America program, most important of which is the opening of the North and South homemaking units for public inspection. Other exhibits include The Fashion Show presented by the clothing classes on Wednesday, May 21st and the Advanced Design classes' display of block printing and other decoration of textiles and accessories for the home, on Friday.

Mrs. Carson is County Chairman
Miss Carson who is chairman of Dunn County Better Homes Week will give an illustrated lecture in room 411 at 3:00 p. m., Friday, May 23. The subject of her lecture is "Furnishing the Small Home."

After this lecture the audience will

TOWER NOTICE

Tomorrow evening at the Stout gym the first annual Yearbook Hop will be staged.

This dance is to be the last of the 1930 school year and in order to assure everyone of a grand and glorious good time it will be absolutely informal; dress in any manner you may choose.

The 1930 edition of the Stout Tower will be distributed at the dance, upon the payment of $2.25 additional to the $1 pledge.

Harold's Campus Playboys (six-piece band) will furnish the music and the admission will be twenty-five cents.

NOTICE, STUDENTS

Students are reminded again to secure their free tickets on Monday from one to five p. m. at the S. S. A. office if they intend to be among those present at the all-school picnic on Tainter lawn next Wednesday noon. No tickets will be issued after Monday at five.

Baccalaureate Service To Be Held Sunday In Stout Auditorium

Dr. Livingston C. Lord Will Give Commencement
Address

The Baccalaureate Exercise for the seniors of 1930 will be held in the Stout auditorium next Sunday evening, May 25, at 8 o'clock, with Rev. H. L. Orions of Eau Claire as speaker. Everyone is invited to attend the exercises. The musical organizations of Stout will assist in the program for both the Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises.

The Commencement exercises will be held on Thursday morning at 11 o'clock in the Stout auditorium with Dr. Livingston C. Lord, President of the Eastern Illinois State Teachers College, delivering the commencement address.

Baccalaureate Exercises
Sunday Evening, May 25, 1930
Stout Auditorium

Processional, "Independencia March"
Hall ----- Stout Orchestra
Invocation ----- Rev. J. E. Kess

Immanuel Baptist Church
Chorus, "God of All Nature" from Andante Cantabile from 5th Symphony, Tchaikowsky. Arr. by B.
Remick.

Address, "Is Religion Outgrown?"
Rev. H. L. Orions, Olivet Evangelical Church, Eau Claire.

Chorus, "Evening Shadows" ----- Ricci
Girls Glee Club

Recessional ----- The Stout Orchestra
Commencement Exercise

Processional, "Independencia March,"
Hall ----- The Stout Orchestra

Chorus-----
To a Marching sine ----- Parks-Moore

Morning ----- Speaks-Baldwin
Mens' Glee Club

Invocation ----- Rev. Worth
Address, "Something About Human Nature", Dr. Livingston C. Lord,
President Eastern Ill. State Teachers College, Charleston, Ill.

Solos-----
Louis in My Heart-----R. Huntington

As We Part ----- McNair Ilgenfrid
Holiday ----- John Prindle Scott

Miss Hazel La Breck, Eau Claire
Conferring of Baccalaureate Degrees
Burton Edsel Nelson, President

Chorus, "God Help You Everywhere"
Mens' Glee Club

-----S-----

The Stoutonia Staff Makes Many Awards For Faithful Service

Editor Receives Gold Pin With Eleven Pearls in "S" Formation

At the last meeting of the school year, the members of the Stoutonia staff received their pins as a token of appreciation for their contributions in making the school paper an overwhelming success. The task which each member took upon his or herself is no easy one, for on many occasions time allotted for recreational purposes or other forms of activities had to be laid aside in order that the school news be published on time.

The success of the Stoutonia was the result of capable editorship, efficiency of the printing staff, and most of all the cooperation of the faculty advisers. The Stoutonia staff is also indebted to the student body, faculty members, and organizations for their cooperation and contributions to the success of the school paper.

The pins were presented to members who were members of the staff for one year or more. Members on the staff one year received a bronze pin, those two years received a silver pin, and a gold pin was presented to Barney Hagen who has been a member

(Continued on Page Five)

1929 May Queen
Pearl Lindall, who occupied the throne of May Queen last year.

Miss May McFadyen To Teach At Stout

Miss Gertrude Callahan has been granted leave of absence during the summer session. President Nelson announces the appointment of Miss Jesse May McFadyen of Minneapolis to take the place of Miss Callahan during the summer session.

Miss McFadyen was born in Tehuacana, Texas. She took her baccalaureate degree at Trinity University in Waxahachie, Texas, in 1916. In 1918 she took her Masters at the U. of Colorado. In 1926 she received her Ph. D. from the U. of Chicago.

For 3 years she taught English at the U. of Missouri. From 1923-1926 she was graduate assistant and fellow in English at the U. of Chicago. Since that date she has been instructor in English at the U. of Minnesota. Miss McFadyen was employed by Stout in February but no previous announcement has been made.

Faculty Are Gloomy Over Poor Fishing

Why have so many of the Industrial Arts faculty members been going around with such long faces the last few weeks?

The answer is short and simple. Everyone knows that trout don't bite during a thunder storm or when it is twenty below zero, and besides it is harder to put across a good "fish story" in this modern day and age than it used to be in the good old days when you did hook a big one now and then.

Finding that it is impossible to make anyone believe their "fish stories", most of the faculty members are bringing forth a bunch of excuses instead of stories. Of course, it is perfectly legitimate for them to say that they have had too much work to do, or that they have not been able to get out on account of the weather.

Professor Tustison guarantees to have some good stories to tell when he returns from his fishing trip to Canada, and Professor Brown is very sure he would have caught some dandies if he could have made the trip as he planned.

Keith and Burbidge in Lead

Professor Keith and Coach Burbidge hold the record so far this year. They have a total catch of thirty trout

(Continued to page three)

IT'S ALMOST HERE!

The date for the senior class play is May 28, 1930. Don't forget it.

See the brothers, Jim and Tim Simpkins, as professors in a girls boarding school; George Boyd and his love troubles; Austin Bevens and his affairs; David Mac Kenzie the young lawyer school teacher; and Homer Johns the successful business man and then the girls; beautiful Elise Bendotti, charming Sally Boyd, and the rest of the giggling crowd.

All together they will furnish you with laughs aplenty. Don't miss the Charm School.

Fifty-Two Students To Recieve B.S. Degree Thursday Morning

List Of Graduates Recently Released By Miss O'Brien, Stout Registrar

Fifty-two people will receive the Bachelor of Science degree from The Stout Institute on May 29, 1930. Following is the list of graduates as released by Miss O'Brien, registrar:
Sidney A. Eng, Chetek, Wisconsin.
Lawrence A. Johnson, Menomonie.
Earl W. Lockin, Berea, Kentucky
John F. Maerske, Watertown, Wisconsin.

Paul W. Marschner, La Crosse, Wis.
Thomas W. Nelson, Astoria, Oregon
Theodore L. Roswell, Menomonie
Ken F. Shepardson, La Crosse, Wis.
Charles R. Strong, Chetek, Wis.
Verner J. Turnwell, Kearney, Nebraska
Ralph H. Schauder, Union Grove, Wis.
Robert W. Schneider, Highland Park, Illinois

Gordon O. Johnson, Eau Claire, Wis.
Herbert C. Ritzman, Superior, Wis.
Eldon Schellschmidt, Fort Wayne, Indiana

Douglas Wayne Harris, Tomah, Wis.
Fred W. Handberg, Wellsburg, West Virginia

Nellie Bailey, Fennimore, Wis.
Esther C. Bock, Appleton, Wis.

Lois Ina Bunker, Menomonie, Wis.
Cora B. Burdick, Fresno, California
(Continued to page three)

Dance Is Facility To Release Towers, Says The Editor

Yearbook For The First Time
Under The Directions Of
Juniors

Our annual publication, the Tower, which has been in the making for the past eight months, will be released on Saturday, May 24, and the event will be the occasion for the last Stout dance of this session. On that night everyone who has pledged for the book, if present, will receive his copy.

For the first time, this year's publication has been under the direction of a staff selected entirely from the junior class. This group was headed by Ernest Christenson as Editor-in-chief with Ardella Anderson acting as Associate Editor. These two people have assumed a large part of the responsibility and have done much toward putting the book through in fine shape. As Business Manager, Kent Riggs has had charge of all finances. The organizations department was headed by Edna Matthews, with Vivian Hewitt and Bernard Hagen as assistants. Edwin Reed acted as Athletic Editor, with Frances Inenfeldt as assistant. Helen Novak and Ernest Muller had charge of features, and William Soucie was assisted by Frances Schroeder in the Art department. Miss Gertrude Callahan was Editorial Advisor and Mr. Hague was Business Advisor. This has been a very efficient staff, one that has cooperated to the best ability of each individual member, and it should be commended on an excellent piece of work.

The theme throughout the entire book is consistent in that it portrays the early activities which dominated the industries of Menomonie in the eighteen and early nineteen hundreds. To enlarge this theme, a two-page snapshot section will open the Menomonie division. These two pages contain snaps depicting the flourishing lumber industry with which Senator Stout was so closely allied. Uniformity is obtained throughout the book by placing upon each subdivision page a scene of early Menomonie and its correlation with The Stout Institute. In that the theme of the book integrates Menomonie, Stout Institute, and its founder, the dedication is of such a nature as to bring the development of The Stout Institute up to its present state.

The art and color scheme of the book is carried out in a conservative modernistic style, the dominating colors being silver and black. The make-up of the book in regard to class, organization, snapshot, and athletic sections does not follow the style which has been in customary use in the publication of the Towers.

THE STOUTONIA

Printed and Published every Friday by students at The Stout Institute. Entered as Second Class Matter at the Post Office, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

Subscription Price, $1.25 a year

Managing Editor .....E. V. Ahonen
Associate Editor .....Henrietta L. Quilling
News Editor .....Chester Mau
News Editor .....Anita Gundlach
Assistant News Editor .....Nicholas Marsilio
Assistant News Editor .....Vivian Hewitt
Feature Editor .....William Soucie
Feature Editor .....Kent Riggs
Feature Editor .....Arthur G. Johnson
Humor Editor .....Carl Roll
Sports Editor .....Georgia Aber
Sports Editor .....William Micheels
Exchange Editor .....Albert Gilles
Organization Editor .....Janet Kyle
Organization Editor .....Reuben Hanson
Cartoonist .....Kathleen Lind
Staff Photographer .....R. A. Jakoubek
Business Manager .....Earl C. Halverson
Circulation Manager .....Robert G. Reick
Asst. Circulation Manager .....Carl Roll
Asst. Circulation Manager .....Byron Canatsey
Advertising Manager .....Marlo McCullough
Asst. Advertising Mgr. ....Floyd C. Larson
Intertype Operator .....Arthur G. Johnson
Foreman of Mechanical Department .....Charles Childress Jr.
Under Direction of .....Mr. C. W. Hague
Editorial Adviser .....Mr. John Faville, Jr.
Associate Adviser .....Miss Helen Sarchet

COMMENCEMENT WEEK

It's all over now but the final checking up and the shouting. Next week is Commencement Week. Let's turn out en masse for the various activities which are to be given at that time. Help make this one of the biggest Commencement Weeks in the history of Stout.

Stay here to the final day and give the outgoing seniors a big hand.

THANK YOU, FOLKS!

With this issue of the STOUTONIA, we, the staff, terminate our work for the year of 1930.

We wish to take this means for thanking the student body, for the support that they have so willingly given us during the year; the advertisers and townspeople for their cooperation; the professors, for their contributions, especially Prof. Davison who has supplied us with "Anvil Sparks" and other articles; the alumni, for their aid in keeping the Alumni Column alive with interesting news; and our exchanges, for the many compliments that they have bestowed upon us.

We have made many mistakes, but we feel that these mistakes have helped us in our fight to avoid others.

TO HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS

Stout is a four year College of Industrial Arts and Home Economics. A degree of Bachelor of Science is given in either one of these fields.

We want you to join us at Stout and wish to encourage you to write to Stout for information regarding the curriculum, at this time let us as students talk about the major extra curricular activities.

Athletics: Stout has been very fortunate in securing Burbidge as head coach of the college. After spring football he announced that prospects were bright for a winning season next year in both football and basketball.

Dramatics: If you are interested in drama try out for the Manual Arts Players when you enter next fall.

Journalism: Try out for the Stoutonia staff and enjoy the work of publishing the school paper.

These are only a few of the major ones remember, but space is short and we wish to say one more thing.

Menomonie is a beautiful little college town. Large trees offer shade in every part of the town, Lake Menomin offers a place where you can forget about school work and enjoy a few minutes of rest after a hard days work.

We invite you and encourage you to come here, to join the crowd and be one of us.

SOCIETY NOTES

THE AREAME SOCIETY

The Areame Society held a regular meeting on Thursday evening, May 15. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President—Genevieve Dutton Vice-President—Georgia Aber Secretary—Alva Ades Treasurer—Vivian Hewitt After a short business during which several plans were made for next year, the group adjourned. This was the last meeting of the year.

THE S. M. A. SOCIETY

The S. M. A. Society met Tuesday night, May 20, at 5:00 o'clock and elected the following officers who will serve for the first semester of the regular session of the school year. Secretary—Myrtle Anderson Treasurer—Valeria Volp Carol McClurg and Laura Andreassen will continue in the exercise of their duties as president and vice-president respectively until the second semester of next year.

The society also planned a breakfast to be held at Riverside Park at 6:00 o'clock sharp on the morning of May Day. The food committee promises an excellent breakfast, and each member is urged to be present at the last function of the year.

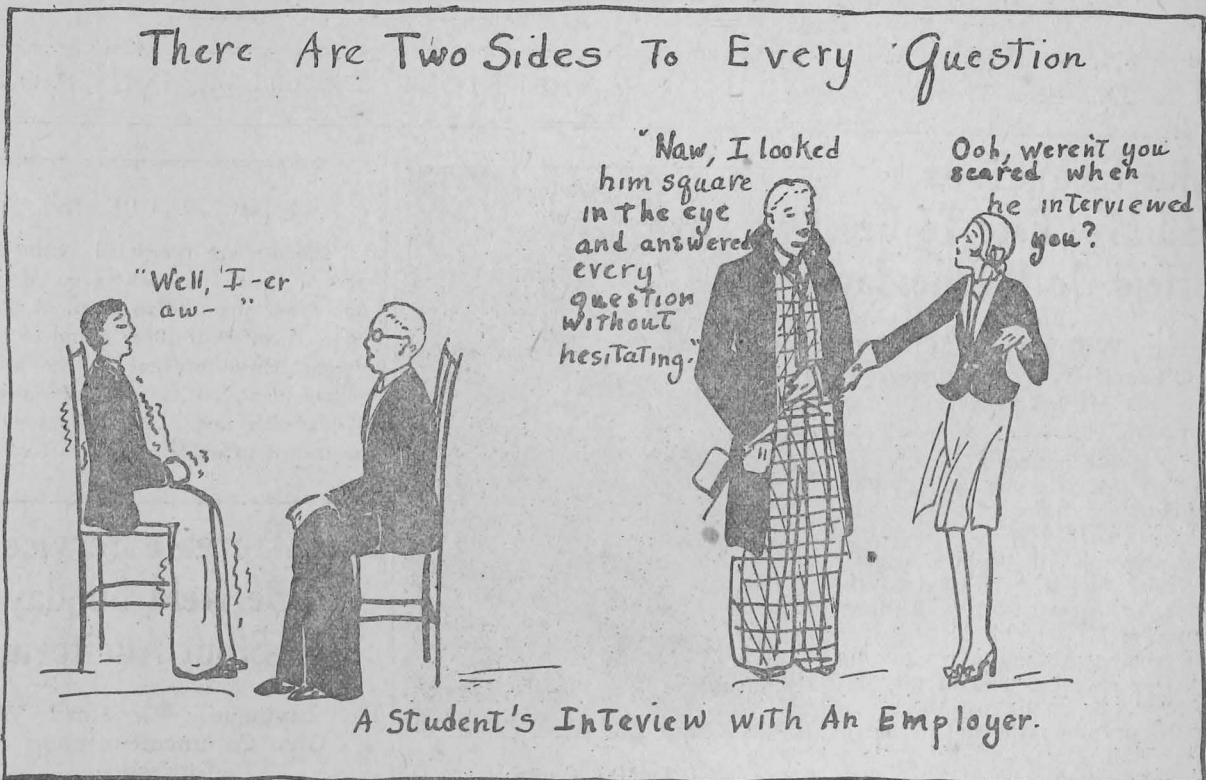

Motorist: "I have killed your cat. I shall replace the animal." Old Maid: "This is so sudden, but I'm afraid you can't catch mice."

Mrs. Newlywed: "Your wall papering looks fine, dear, but what are those funny bumps?" Mr. N: "Good heavens! I forgot to take down the pictures."

Hoeser: "Where did you get that hair cut, for it looks as if some one put a bowl over your head and cut around it?" Hoyer: "The next time I get a hair cut, I will give the barber a quarter." Hoeser: "I see! You got a half a hair cut."

CAMPUS CARTOONS

by Kathleen Lind

Personals

Mr. Davison gave the Commencement address at Cameron, Wis., on Thursday evening, May 22.

The Towers will be available Saturday night at the dance. Don't fail to be there to get yours.

Ellen Nelson and Emma Anderson spent Saturday in the Cities.

Irma Gilbertson and Marie Simonson went to Northfield, Minnesota, to attend the Music Festival there.

Miss Helen Louise Larson was a guest at Lynwood over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Spiers of Cameron, Wisconsin, visited their daughter, Doris, on Sunday afternoon.

The Misses Esther and Rose Chromquist and Mr. E. Kochendorfer of Barron, Wisconsin, and Mr. A. Folsstad of Abbotstford, Wisconsin, visited Minnie Chromquist on Sunday.

Doctor Bachman and Mrs. Lanckton entertained the Menomonie Business and Professional Women's Club Wednesday evening at Lynwood Hall.

The Lynwood girls enjoyed a pajama party in the recreation rooms on May 21. The freshman, sophomore, and junior classes each contributed to the program by performing a group stunt. Light refreshments were served.

Janet Wells of Stillwater, Minnesota, visited Frances Hill during the week-end.

Father: "I think you're very foolish to become engaged. I was 32 before I thought of taking a wife."

Son: "But father, this is different. I'm not thinking of taking anybody's wife."

The Last Dance Heavy-footed dancer: "May I have the last dance with you?" Pretty Partner (who has just weathered one ordeal) "you have just had it."

Helpless Case "What are you doing?" "Enameling my car." "Why are you doing it so quickly?" "To get it done before all the enamel is used up."

Prof: "What is an island Charles?" Charley: "A place where the bottom of the sea sticks up through the water."

Force of Habit A dentist says that he had an absent-minded motorist in his chair the other day. "Will you take?" he asked. "Yeah," replied the man, "and you'd better look at the oil, too."

Prof: "Is this perfectly clear now?" Voice: "Clear as mud." Prof: "Well, then—that covers the ground."

A Problem for Slip-Stick Artists There were no wind, no waves, and no women, but sail the canoe turned over.

Have you seen the pineapple hair-cuts? Short on the sides and long on top.

ANVIL SPARKS from Aries

The moon is not to be obtained by pointing at it or crying for it like a baby. In fact it is well-nigh impossible to get anything by that method.

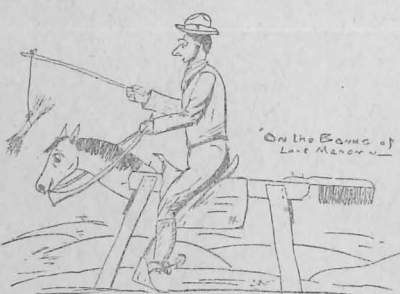

"Art for art's sake", did you say? Think again, the true justification is art for Humanity's sake.

A "final examination"? What an ossified survival of formalism it is!

Let's Laugh

"Do you know that Washington threw a silver dollar across the Potomac?"

"Why?" "He was teaching a couple of Scotchmen how to swim."

Two Stout men are attending the University of Hard Knocks, namely, Prof. Early and Major Hooper. Both of these men take their exercise sitting down. Major has just invented an electric exerciser for the purpose, and Prof. Early uses a horse. Every evening after working hours Prof. Early can be seen on his horse. Of course the horse is not the same kind that Icabod Crane used when he was the pedagogue. Mr. Early's route is around Lake Menomin, for which his time is one hour, and he hopes to better his time to one hour in twenty minutes. No one knows how he crosses the iron bridge, or makes his horse jump from pillar to pillar of the old bridge. The Prince of Wales would take the same route, because along the lake the ground is soft.

Old Gentleman: "So you are looking for a square meal, eh?" Tramp: "No, I'm looking for a round one."

Old Gentleman: "I never heard of such a thing. Pray, what is a round meal?" Tramp: "One that hasn't any end to it, sir."

"Papa, were all the animals already on earth when Adam and Eve lived in the garden of Eden?"

"Why, of course, my boy." "Then what did the clothes moths live on?"

Gentleman: "Are you sure this room is quiet?" Landlady: "Quiet? Why, it never makes a sound."

Angry Customer: "These eggs are not fresh." Indignant Grocer: "Not fresh? Why, the boy brought them from the country this morning."

Customer: "What country?"

Flashes

The dates for the Y. W. C. A. Geneva Conference of 1930 are June 21-30. It will be at College Camp, Wisconsin. Many of the most prominent leaders in religious thought are scheduled to appear on the program. This promises to make Geneva even more of an adventure and inspiration than usual.

The purpose of the 1930 conference is to rediscover some of the secrets and deepen the understanding of some of the resources for living most satisfactorily. The discussions will center around the following two main points: (1) "An understanding of ourselves and what every individual demands out of life; the application of class room information to this business f living; and an examination of group relationships. (2) A reinterpretation of religion in terms of daily life and a study of Jesus as a Master of living."

Some of the most outstanding world citizens have been chosen as leaders. Mr. Kirby Page, who has had some interesting experiences with Gandhi in India, Mr. Paul Harris of the United States and China, Mrs. Grace Loucks Elliott, and Miss Leslie Blanchard, executive secretary of the National Student Council, will be among those present.

Miss Edith Gates, one of the foremost leaders of recreation in America will direct recreation at Geneva this summer. Included in the recreational program are swimming, sailing, boating and hiking.

All in all, a most enjoyable and worthwhile time is certain of this Geneva Conference.

President and Mrs. B. E. Nelson will entertain the members of the graduating class and the faculty at their home on Monday evening, May 26th. The reception, which is an annual affair, is a very significant feature of the Commencement activities at Stout.

Miss Callahan, Miss Walsh, and Miss Froggatt attended the lecture and dinner of the State Meeting of Business and Professional Women at Chippewa Falls Friday. Emily Newell Blair, well-known writer, talked on Women in Business and in the Home.

The Home Economics department are putting out a publicity number similar to that published by the Printing department some time ago. At present the title page is being arranged. This bulletin should be finished and released some time in the near future. It covers the activities in the H. E. school. The story of these activities is told by a series of letters written from Stout by the students.

Frank Van Eynde and Mary Kashak were married in Blessed Sacrament Church in Chicago, last Saturday, May 17. Both were former Stout students.

Circle No. 2 of the Congregational church Auxiliary will sponsor a Food Sale at the Gas office on Saturday, May 24th. The sales begins at 10:00 o'clock.

Allard Rowe and George Bryant passed their Senior Life Saving tests and will receive the Senior Life Saving Emblems given the Red Cross.

Several Take Baths
Unexpectedly, Says
Feature Editors Tale

Extra-Curricular Activities Playing Important Role Among Stoutites

"Aw, write on any thing."
Such were the parting words of the editor-in-chief at the end of the weekly confab with the feature editor relative to what subject the week's feature should be about.
Since this is the last issue of the paper and therefore too late for any one, even a feature writer, to be ousted from the STOUTONIA staff, this hitherto humble feature editor is going to become a bit jocose, take the editor at his word, call his bluff, and write on anything. (In the first place the copy for this story is being written on wrapping paper. This involves the literal interpretation of the editor's ill-chosen statement.)
First let us discuss spring. Spring, Oh beautiful spring—she is here in all her splendor. The grass is green, the little birds are singing, Rusty is wearing his knickers, boys and girls are happy, Gilly is talking Kittenball in his sleep—why, even the snow is all gone! This writer, therefore, feels justified in assuming that spring has arrived. He hopes, however, that no snow falls before this story is published.
Secondly, let's review the high lights in the season's canoeing activities. The old Indian pastime was officially inaugurated into Stout Institute's extra-curricular program shortly after the ice had left the lake. The outstanding incident of the season so far is the pre-season swim of the editor-in-chief as related in a recent issue of the STOUTONIA. Since that time Pete Zimmerman and Eddie Canatsey have come to the front for the consistency of their participation in the sport. Quite a break for their lady friends! They even take row-boats when there are no canoes, so fond are they of being on the water. Of the recent events, however, the most significant is Charleston's unexpected swim last week. He and Art Will were on a canoeing expedition, so it seems, and had progressed as far as Picnic Point when Art splashed a little water upon the erstwhile Prom King's august anatomy. The E. P. K. in a siege of anger, lost all caution and forthwith arose to smite the cur with his paddle. SPLASH! If ever any one's emotional fire was dampened, the Intramural Manager's certainly was at that instant, not to mention Mr. Will.
After a short interruption caused by a lapse in the warm spring weather, canoeing has once more assumed its former status in the program of Stout Institute students, and Mike reports a good business at the boat house.
Coincidental with canoeing comes swimming in the lake. Although the water is a bit below 98 deg. F. at times, swimmers are now a common sight along the lake shore. The writer went in once and his teeth still chatter, even when they are on the dresser at night.
Judging from the number of caps and gowns to be seen on the campus and in assembly of late, commencement must be approaching. So let us dwell on that a bit.
Commencement! What does it mean? To the freshman it is a far distant event of which he has little comprehension and in which he is little concerned. To the sophomore it means the time when he, too, may wear a cap and gown, when he, too, will receive a degree, when he, too, will be educated, if you please! To the juniors it means the realization of his dream of a college education, going out on a job. To the senior it is a combination of the relief of "having it over with", and the sorrow of leaving the old friends and haunts which in the past four years he has come to love.
And now comes the end of school. Within the week most of us will be home once more. To some this means little because they live close to Menomonee and go home often; to others, who have been away a long time, it will mean much. It will seem good to be with the folks, the old sweetheart, old friends and all. College will be forgotten. Even now it is forgotten by some, judging from the moon-eyed expressions on their faces as they browse about the campus. Let's snap into it and make a whirlwind finish, take the exams into camp in royal fashion, have a big time at commencement week activities, and then "So long", and we'll hit the trail.
Since it is his last chance to do so publicly, this humble feature writer asks the forgiveness of his editor-in-chief for promiscuous use of the first person in this, his last story, but he sincerely hopes that he has otherwise fulfilled the honored one's orders namely, "To write on anything".

EXCHANGES

The annual spring festival and dance of the Eau Claire Teachers college is to be sponsored by the Strut and Fret, the Women's Athletic department, and the DeChatillons, the first two having charge of the program, and the last named of the dance. This great affair is to take place on May 28.

Milwaukee State Teachers college won a triangular track and field meet last week at the school campus by a slim margin of three points over Lake Forest and Elmhurst. The final score stood 54 points for Milwaukee to 51 for Lake Forest and 26 for Elmhurst.

Class Exercises To Be Held On Wednesday

(Continued from page one)

- Train Bearers
The following program has been arranged in honor of the graduates:
1. The May Queen Procession
May Queen—Esther Sickler
Maid of Honor—Mary Fox
Processional by The Stout Band
  2. The Crowning of the May Queen
Coroner—Ardella Anderson
  3. The Celebration in Honor of the Queen
a. Wreath Dance—Attendants
b. Solo Dance—Alice Nelson
c. Folk Dances
Goralski Tonic—Chalif
Tantoli—Morris
d. Dorothy Three-Step
e. May Pole Dance
  4. The Procession of the Art and Tribute Bearers
  5. The Presentation of the Torch
Ken F. Shepardson, President of the Senior Class
O. F. Julin, President of the Junior Class
  6. The Queen's Farewell
  7. Recessional—The Stout Band during Queen's exit.)
- (Audience is requested to stand After this program is completed, it will be time for every student to report to the all-school picnic which will be held on the Tainter Hall lawn.

Miss Carson Is Committee Chairman

(Continued from page one)

ally conducted through these units by the senior girls.
The north unit was planned and furnished by the tenth grade practice classes under the supervision of the practice teachers. The Stout House Furnishing classes planned and arranged the south unit.
Better Homes Week in America was from April 28 to May 3, but due to some delay in the work here at Stout this is being observed on Friday.
It has been shown and can be demonstrated now that "beauty and comfort are consistent with economy in house furnishing." If you want this demonstrated to you attend the lecture and see the units for "seeing is believing".

Lasting Impressions

The Seniors are viewing the Tower for the last time this week as students. But the memory will live on forever.

A TOAST

In the autumn when Dame Nature Spills her paints in careless ways, Over oaks and sumach hedges, Freshmen come thy name to praise. Beauteous valleys filled with treasures, Tallest pines and gurgling streams, Ice and snow and zero weather, Timid May—Oh glorious dreams!

Lessons too they're always with us, Shop and lab and English—booh! Faculty who strives forever Crowding four days into two. Dear old Prexy, here's a tribute, And the deans, We love them so! Even though their stern objections Give our schemes a mighty blow.

Alma Mater, how we love thee! Thou hast helped us rise above Many mean and sordid pleasures And the better things to love. Alma Mater, Alma Mater, Thou hast been our guiding star! Thousands of thee will lead us onward As we go to lands afar.

Ordinarily there are two magnetic poles on a generator, namely, north and south, but Hageness has discovered another pole which is the east pole.

Alumni

Alumni seem to have a peculiar affection for their college which undergraduates cannot know until graduation. The day will come for the undergraduates when they will leave their school work on graduation day and enter into the whirl of modern business, where old scenes and old friends are likely to become but memories. Why does this happy and pleasant association have to leave us? Why do we have to sever these acquaintances which are so deeply developed in us, and forget the familiar associations of our college life?

The Stout Alumni clubs in the various cities filled up this gap to some extent, but there still remains a problem for the Alumni to work at—the problem of associating with alumni who are unable to join a Stout alumni club, due to being located in a small town where there are but one or two Stout graduates. So it remains for our school paper to keep them acquainted with the activities of both undergraduates and their fellow-alumni.

Besides offering the usual services of a campus paper, the Stoutonia has not forgotten the alumni readers in editing the paper. News that would be of interest to alumni is arranged in the paper so those who otherwise would lose touch with their Alma Mater, might still keep in contact with the school.

Letters to the Alumni column from the various Stout graduates is one means to reach this end.

Last fall, many of our Stout students had the opportunity to see the Hudson high school football team defeat the Menomonee high school team 13 to 6. The coach of the Hudson team is Mr. Lewis Erchul, a graduate of Stout Institute in 1929.

"Kelly" Erchul stopped off at Menomonee this week-end on his way to Marshfield, Wisconsin, where he visited the Industrial Arts department of that city.

While at Stout, Mr. Erchul took an active part in the athletic activities, and showed his ability on the football field.

Faculty Are Gloomy
Over Poor Fishing

(Continued from page one)

from two trips. Believe it or not, they were all nice ones, and one of them weighed at least three pounds. Professor Brown has a good one left over from his trip to Canada last year about how he stood on one rock for one and one-half hours and pulled in so many big ones he couldn't keep track of the number. That is a better record than the one set by Professor Keith and Coach Burbidge, but it is taken from ancient history, so it cannot be considered.

Quite a number of the faculty members are planning to try their luck this week end. Here's hoping they come back with some "whoppers".

As yet no reports have come in from the students. Danny Green has done his best to get the students interested, but the cold and wet weather made it more desirable to stay at home.

Home Towners Take Intra Mural Cup
For This Season

Work Of Muller As Intramural Manager Deserves Great Credit

The second Intramural season is now over and in the eyes of those who participated, it was a complete success. In the final standings, we find the Home Towners in first place with 215 points. This means that the Home Towners' name will be engraved on the intramural cup as the winner for 1929-30. The other teams came in the following order: Cafeteria—180, Curtis—160, Eye Openers—115, Greeleys—85, and Brakers—80.

The Stoutonia wishes to congratulate Ernest Muller for the fine way in which the season was successfully run. Few of us realize the job which was thrust upon Mr. Muller last fall. It meant that he was responsible for the organizing and running off of all the events, together with keeping up interest in school.

The Home Towners in winning first place, won four out of five firsts. This accounts for the wide margin by which the locals won the title. This is the second year they have ended in the top rung, last year's finals ending in a tie with the Curtis House.

Below is a list of the various outcomes thruout the year:

| Major Sports |   |        |
|--------------|---|--------|
| VOLLEY-BALL  |   |        |
|              |   | Points |
| Home Towners | . | 60     |
| Curtis       | . | 45     |
| Cafeteria    | . | 45     |
| Eye Openers  | . | 30     |
| Greeley's    | . | 20     |
| Brakers      | . | 10     |
| BASKETBALL   |   |        |
| Home Towners | . | 60     |
| Eye Openers  | . | 40     |
| Cafeteria    | . | 40     |
| Brakers      | . | 40     |
| Curtis       | . | 20     |
| Greeleys     | . | 10     |
| KITTENBALL   |   |        |
| Home Towners | . | 60     |
| Cafeteria    | . | 50     |
| Curtis       | . | 40     |
| Greeleys     | . | 30     |
| Eye Openers  | . | 15     |
| Brakers      | . | 15     |

| Minor Sports            |             |        |
|-------------------------|-------------|--------|
| SWIMMING                |             |        |
| Home Towners            | .           | 30     |
| Curtis                  | .           | 25     |
| Cafeteria               | .           | 20     |
| Braker                  | .           | 10     |
| Greeleys                | .           | 10     |
| Eye Openers             | .           | 10     |
| BOWLING                 |             |        |
|                         | No. of Pins | Points |
| Curtis                  | 3753        | 30     |
| Cafeteria               | 3441        | 25     |
| Eye Openers             | 3255        | 20     |
| Greeleys                | 3124        | 15     |
| Home Towners            | 3114        | 10     |
| Brakers                 | 0           | 5      |
| Total Points for Places |             |        |
| Home Towners            | .           | 215    |
| Cafeteria               | .           | 180    |
| Curtis                  | .           | 160    |
| Eye Openers             | .           | 115    |
| Greeleys                | .           | 85     |
| Brakers                 | .           | 80     |

Merritt Way Haynes
Writes Printing Book

by Merritt Way Haynes, recently published by McGraw-Hill Book Co. for the students and young workers in the printing industry, is an excellent book. It is concise and clear and all complicated technical terms are carefully omitted. All the important and significant events are recorded together with the important dates, places and persons connected therewith.

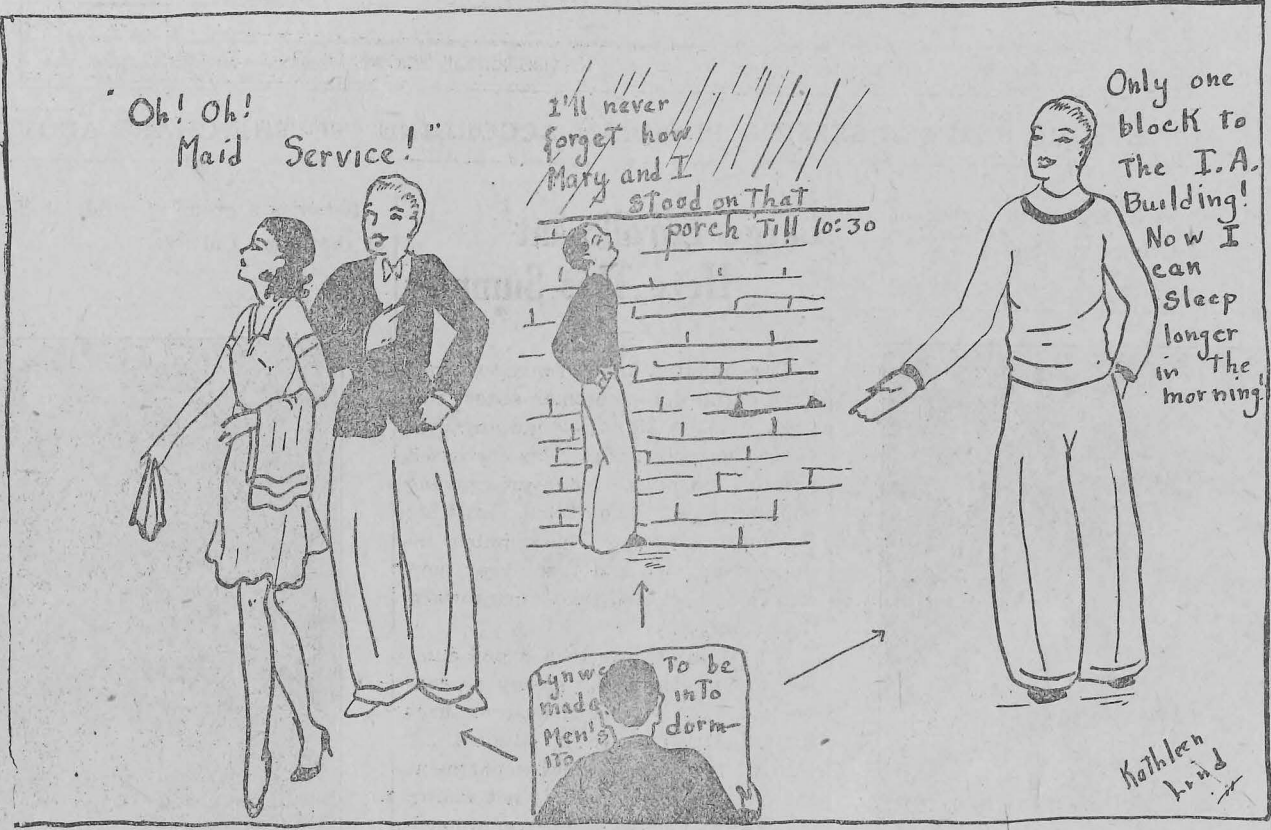

One of the outstanding features of the book is its chronological arrangement and is developed in such a way as to give the reader a clear perspective with reference to the origin and development of the printing industry. The book is not exhaustive; the author carefully omitting those events and factors which he thought were not of the greatest importance. The development of printing is divided into five eras; the era of beginnings (to 1397), the Gutenberg era (1397 to 1468), the typographic era (1468 to 1620), the early journalistic era (1620 to 1804), and the mechanical era (since 1804). Each of these periods is thoroughly discussed.

This history of printing would prove a valuable addition to the private library of a teacher of printing.

The faculty must have had a splendid picnic, for no one fell in the water, and everyone was back on the job the next day.

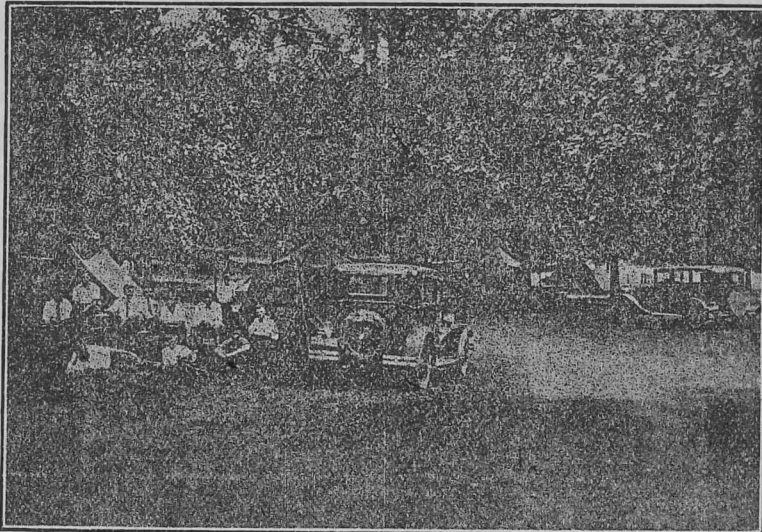

THOUGHTS FOR NEXT YEAR

by Kathleen Lind

Conrad

Fifty-Two Students
To Receive Degrees

(Continued from page one)

Cecelia M. Cadigan, Casco, Wisconsin
Ann McKinnon Carter, Menomonie
Winifred Lucile Cooper, Colfax, Wis.
Helen Costello, Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada

Mildred A. Dingee, Kilbourn, Wis.
Ruth H. Dodge, Menomonie, Wis.
Grace M. Dow, Menomonie, Wis.
Mary Lowell Fox, Elgin, Illinois
Jane Hamblly, Ramsey, Michigan
Margaret C. Hartwell, Viola, Wis.
Adele Mason Lanckton, Menomonie
Hazel C. Flaget, Fergus Falls, Minnesota

Margaret E. Casev, Bloomington, Wis.
Ruth Irene Lindall, St. Paul, Minn.
Violette C. Parsons, River Falls, Wis.
Myrtle Ray, Milwaukee, Wisconsin
Florence M. Richardson, Ironton, Minnesota

Louise B. Whitehurst, Savannah, Georgia

Mildred A. Belina, Owatonna, Minn.
Edith M. Brevig, Starbuck, Minn.
Janet E. Clark, Menomonie, Wis.
Kathryn S. Counsell, Oconomowoc, Wisconsin

Irma L. Nichols, Menomonie, Wis.
Elva M. Page, Elk River, Minnesota
Marjorie Gay Robb, Canton, Wis.
Henrietta M. Sievert, Marinette, Wis.
Beulah M. Todd, Houston, Minnesota
Alma D. Winzer, Heron Lake, Minn.
Ruth Ann Hood, Grand Rapids, Mich.

The Stoutonia Staff
Makes Many Awards

(Continued from page one)

for three years.

Seventeen Awards Made

The editor, E. V. Ahonen, received a gold pin with eleven pearls set in. Those receiving the pins were as follows:

|                    |        |
|--------------------|--------|
| Bernard Hagen      | Gold   |
| William Soucie     | Silver |
| Marlo McCullough   | Silver |
| Kathleen Lind      | Silver |
| Kent Riggs         | Silver |
| Henrietta Quilling | Bronz  |
| Chester Mau        | Bronz  |
| Carl Roll          | Bronz  |
| Anita Gundlock     | Bronz  |
| Robert Reick       | Bronz  |
| Earl Halverson     | Bronz  |
| Georgia Aber       | Bronz  |
| William Michaels   | Bronz  |
| Byron Canatsey     | Bronz  |
| Floyd Larson       | Bronz  |
| Nicholas Marsilio  | Bronz  |

Professor Faville, who was unable to attend the meeting, wrote the following which was read to the staff:

On Presentation of the Awards to Stoutonia Staff Members, May 19, '30

In accepting these journalistic symbols, you should feel that they mark you as persons who have participated in what is one of the most, if not the most, influential and vital of the extra-curricular activities on the campus. That you, at Stout, have not been as vital a factor in student affairs as is the case at most colleges, is a fact for which there seems to be no apparent remedy. It certainly is not the fault of the staff members, or of anyone else in particular. It is a condition over which we seem to have no present control.

Be satisfied that you have occupied a campus position which should, at least, earn the respect and even the envy of your fellow students. You have done much in an apparently intangible sense which cannot be measured by quick results. Be satisfied, again, that your influence has been felt.

If I were to review for you the little influences which the Stoutonia has had in the past, you would be surprised at the developed magnitude of those influences. What you may have done to create a happier and generally finer Stout may remain for your posterity to discover. I want you to know that I am satisfied with your endeavors, and I am sure that in saying so, I voice the conclusions of the other helpers, too. The editorial staff has relieved me of much supervisory responsibility, which is a real compliment to you. Sometimes I have overlooked abuses of the king's English rather than reduce commendable originality by editorial repression, so we have not had the finest writing on record, probably. But you have made an enviable record for promptness, willingness, and general staff efficiency which, I say again, is as good as any in my five years at Stout. Therefore, I hope you wear these pins with the pride and joy which can be brought only by real accomplishment. Come back next year, if possible, and help continue our transition and evolution toward a first class student newspaper.

Sincerely yours,
John Faville, Jr.

Farewell Party Held
At Lynwood Hall

One of the jolliest get-togethers of the school year for the Lynwood girls was the party Wednesday night. As usual every one was there. The junior sophomore, and freshman groups, each put on a stunt. We will never forget the engine trouble Emma Anderson had with her old Ford nor our astonishment when her spare tire rolled off. Who would have supposed that "Spike" who is so straight could be such a perfect circle.

Then the freshmen packed their suitcases and such fun as the girls reminisced various experiences of the year. We had forgotten so many funny things had happened in just one year.

I would be hard to say which stunt was the most fun, but surely the sophomores "did themselves proud" in a little one act play, "On with the Spirit of Lynwood", written by Marie Simonson. The prologue was clever and very funny but the biggest thrill came as a climax when Irma (?) arrived!

And then there was another surprise in the delicious orange ice and other refreshments. Of course the party could not end without singing all the special Lynwood songs and others including a Toast and Alma Mater. The treasurer gave a most welcome final surprise in returning to each a part of the money which was in the treasury and so

Good night Lynwood, Good night Lynwood,
We're going to leave you now.

Second Annual Senior
Breakfast Is Sunday

The second annual breakfast for the seniors given by the underclassmen will be Sunday morning, May 25th, at 8:30 in the third floor corridor. This is a traditional affair and is one of the memorable occasions of the commencement season.

An interesting program will be presented after the serving of a delicious breakfast.

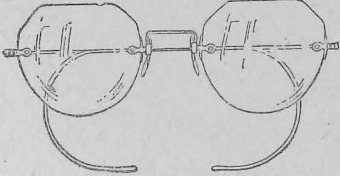

There Is No Question About It
This Is The Place To
EAT

THE PEERLESS GRILL
"The Home of Good Food"

SUITS MADE TO MEASURE
$25 to $32.50
A. E. HERREM

Haircuts at any hour of the day
Three first class barbers

THE ELECTRIC SHOP

THE SHAKER STUDIOS
ARE ALWAYS GLAD TO SERVE YOU
Let us Develop your Kodak Films

Have Your Eyes Examined Today

|                               |                                                                                     |                              |
|-------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------|
| We GrindOur OwnLenses |  | BrokenLensesReplaced |
|-------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------|

INGRAHAM BROS. & TORREY
C. H. INGRAHAM F. A. TORREY
REGISTERED OPTOMETRISTS

"BYE" OLSONS
GOOD CLOTHES
Featuring Style and Quality
For College Men

Milwaukee Journal
Gives Stout Write Up

When the Interim committee on Education appointed by the last legislature made their inspection of Stout they were accompanied by a staff correspondent of the Milwaukee Journal who listened to reports and discussions during the session.

As a result of this, the Journal came out with a long article on Stout in the paper of last Sunday. This article covers the history of Stout, the work which is being done, the caliber of graduates, and the demand for them. This article stresses the unusually good training facilities which are obtainable at Stout.

An executive committee was selected by the Junior girls to make plans for this event. The girls on this committee are: Ardella Anderson, chairman; Carol McClurg, Dorothy Williams, Florence Verbrick, Ethel Anderson, Emma Newby, and Lisle Huson.

This committee in turn selected other girls to act as chairmen of the various committees which would be responsible for the success of this breakfast. They are: Georgia Aber, food; Alice Cockerill, table setting; Alice Haslerud, program; Gail Galloway, serving; Vivian Hewitt, corridor decoration; Grace Quarters, table decoration; Ethel Anderson, finance; Doris Spiers, invitation; Mildred Haggard, clean-up; Valeria Volp, tables.

A. GOLDBERG, Tailor
ALL KINDS OF TAILOR WORK
Pressing, Repairing and
Dry Cleaning
Next door to Crescent Creamery.

See us for haircuts; we satisfy
our customers

THE LAKEVIEW BARBER SHOP

ORPHEUM

Tonight (Fri.) - Sat.
MONTE BLUE in
"THE ISLE OF ESCAPE"
Also Talking Comedy

Sun. - Mon. - Tues.
WINNIE LIGHTNER in
"HOLD EVERYTHING"
Also Sound News
Mat. Sunday 2:30

Wed. - Thurs.
"THE LOVE RACKET"
Also News and Short Reels
Free Tickets Good Wed.

GRAND

Sat. - Sun.
HOOT GIBSON in
"THE MOUNTED STRANGER"
Also Comedy and News
Mat. Sunday 3:00

Band Concert Was
Well Liked By Throng

It is the opinion of many that the Stout band played what was possibly the best concert of its entire career for the people of Menomonie in the city park Wednesday evening. The hearty applause of a large audience was marked, and the band, with its director, Mr. Ingraham, is to be highly complimented on its showing.

The Stout concert marked the opening of the outdoor season of band music in the city. The Ludington Guard band's concert shell was used by Mr. Ingraham's musicians, and the seats and other park areas were comfortably filled during the hour and a half that the band played.

Popular numbers like "The Stein Song" and Gerald Trader's clarinet solo with band accompaniment were encored, and all of the other finished renditions were well received. The band put a snap into its work which marked it as the lively, enthusiastic college band that it is, and set a mark in entertainment values which will

John Meyer, Merchant Tailor
Pressing, Repairing, and Dry
Cleaning done in short notice
Made-to-measure Suits $25 up
First Class Workmanship

Menomonie Baking Co.
Don't Forget Jaeger's Select
Doughnuts
Made The Electric Way

FOUNTAIN PENS
Waterman-Moore-Conklin
Pens cleaned and repaired
OLE MADSEN

THE OLYMPIA
The Place to go for Good Eats
Pete Jeatran

A. R. OLSON

Wishes the Stout Student Body a happy vacation and an early return in the fall.

STUDENTS
We Wish YOU
A PLEASANT VACATION and await YOUR RETURN
We hope our service has been satisfactory to you and we guarantee its successful continuation next fall

MENOMONIE DYE HOUSE
RUNNING AND COLE

STRAW HATS
New Shapes And Colors
$.89 — $4.50

EVENS TOBIN CO.

Good Meals and Refreshments
SERVICE

Hotel Marion Coffee Shop

give other park attractions this season a goal to shoot at.

—S—
"What's the largest room in the world?"
"What?"
"Room for improvement."

To Those Who Wish To Be Well Groomed
—See—
I. W. NESSER
"The Barber"

ANNOUNCING

The Opening of a New—

MODERN BARBER
SHOP

For MEN and WOMEN
Opposite Orpheum Theatre

Saturday, May 3

Lee's Barber Shop
L. C. HARSHMAN, Prop.
"Where Quality Comes First"

Many Letter Men To Be Back Next Year; Good Season Promised

Basketball Prospects For Coming Season Are Unusually Bright

Nine lettermen are included in the group which will be back for football next fall. This list includes Rude, Cronk, Schmidt, Hoernemann, Brownsey, Paulus, Harmon, and Schwartz. Together with these will be those who showed their prowess this spring.

Coach Burbidge is inclined rather to be pessimistic in his predictions of next year's teams. "The season's success will depend very much on the incoming freshmen", he says.

Wisconsin Valley To Send Men

Some real men have anticipated coming here next year and should be a real impetus toward a team of real calibre. Several of these are men from Antigo and other Wisconsin River towns.

The first week in September will probably see a Fall training camp somewhere in the vicinity. At present no definite plans have been made except that they are going to have one. The camp will probably be situated on a lake which will make an ideal place for such a thing.

Conditioning Camp Planned

With a lot of green material this will give Coach Burbidge a chance to concentrate on the first weeks' work. It will be an excellent chance for the men to get into condition also.

According to the list of those out for Spring practice there will be 30 men going. This does not include the incoming freshmen who will swell the number somewhat.

Basketball Prospects Bright

In basketball next year the chances are somewhat rosier. Six lettermen are slated to be back next year. They are: Haase, Burros, Johnson, Cven-gros, Paulus, and Hoernemann.

Coming thru this last season with a .500 percentage seems to indicate next year as a big one in basketball. It has been rumored around the campus that several stars from surrounding schools will be here to bolster up the line-up.

W.A.A. Gives Many Awards; Membership Is Growing Rapidly

Awards Given For Points In All Forms Of Exercise; Hiking, Swimming, Etc.

Women's Athletics in the Stout Institute is growing by leaps and bounds each year. This year many girls have earned emblems of various kinds for their activities here. These girls were very loyal and were always ready to support their respective classes; therefore the W. A. A. is very glad to give them their due rewards.

Misses Quilling and Inenfelt are the first Stout girls to receive the highest honors of the W. A. A. This high honor is a silver loving cup awarded to each girl earning 1500 points in athletics. These points may be earned by being on teams, for practice games, for hiking, swimming, canoeing, and all forms of exercise.

The second highest honors are the Stout "S". This spring Misses Aber, Edinger, DeCramer, and Cooper are to receive this honor. The girls need 1050 points to earn the "S".

Others Receive Emblems

The girls to receive the W. A. A. emblem, for earning 650 points are: Misses Ostrom, Ness, E. Hanson, Lamoa, Hill, and Andreasson.

Before girls may become W. A. A. members they must have earned 150 points. Already a number of the freshman girls have earned these points and affiliated as a W. A. A. member. Among the girls who have just recently earned the 150 points are Misses Evans, Quarters, Galloway, Verbrick, Rossler, E. Peterson, Lockhart, Foeller, Dodson, Madaen, Moe, and A. Nelson. When the girls have earned these points they are also privileged to purchase the W. A. A. pin.

Another indication which proves that girl's athletics are really coming to the top is shown in the fact that Women's Athletics have a section devoted to their activities in the 1930 Tower.

Don't forget the crowning of the May King. It will be plenty good.

The time is at hand for the leaves to begin to turn and the mid-night oil to be burning.

The favorite picnic food—"hot dog". Gillie must have been thinking of his girl friend when he made the announcement in assembly last week.

LEADERS OF 1930 ATHLETICS
From left to right:- Rude, football captain, Coach Burbidge, Haase, basketball captain

Home Ec. Faculty Are Hosts To Senior Coeds

The senior women were entertained by the Home Economics faculty at a 1:00 o'clock bridge luncheon Saturday, May 17th.

The Harvey Memorial, decorated with lilacs, tulips, and ferns was used as a reception room. The third floor corridor was entirely transformed into a delightful room by the use of lamps, screens, and flowers. White and purple lilacs scented the corridor, and tulips added a touch of color.

Tables were set for sixty-eight people. The table decorations consisted of pink honeysuckle and blue forget-me-nots. A three course luncheon was served by The Lunch-room problems class.

First prize in bridge was won by Miss Margaret Casey; second prize was won by Miss Gertrude Hansen;

Seniors Victorious In Riotous Game

The finale of the kittenball season was reached last Monday when the seniors met and defeated the faculty 16-13. The game was watched with interests by a large group of students who paid their dime to support the Tower.

Jack Faville started on the mound for the Invincibles and made a commendable showing until relieved by Coach Burbidge. The support offered the pedagogue pitchers was such as to arouse a great amount of comment from the fans.

and consolation prize was won by Miss Ruth Dodge.

The senior women appreciate this recognition by the Home Economics faculty.

Dean Price was the individual hero of the day by virtue of the home run he hit. Hague and Brown were also mainstays for the faculty with the other teachers coming in for due recognition.

Gilles, catching for the seniors, failed to comprehend the inevitable clash and Burbidge succeeded in spilling him for one run. This aroused indignation from several persons but according to Umpire Pete Jeatran, the mishap was entirely all right.

Very few students were tardy for their eight o'clock classes because many rose to take advantage of the cool refreshing morning air.

All School Field Day To Be Held Tuesday; Kittenball Featured

Numerous Events To Be Staged; All Students Are Invited To Participate

All students with track ability are urged to sign up for the annual field day to be held next Tuesday at 3:00. Two freshmen gym classes are sure to be there but all upper classmen are invited.

The list of events will probably include the following: 100 yard dash; poe vault; shot put; high jump; discus, and broad jump. Of these, some may be omitted and others added according to the interest shown. If your event is not down here see Coach Burbidge and if there are enough entrees it will be run off.

After the Field Day events there will be a kittenball game. If enough support is shown a frosh-soph vs. junior-senior game will be played. It will be remembered that last year the underclassmen won the tussle, and unless there is some quick action will probably do so this year.

Beinert has finally doctored his Ford to make it run like a Lincoln, except for a click in the fan belt.

It was surprising to see a number of the Sunday mid-day risers snap out of their tradition and be at the 6:30 annual M. A. P. breakfast.

Next year Branshaw is going to take five courses in electrical.

The Best Is None Too Good
Let GUS Clean Your Hats
and Shine Your Shoes
Menomonie Shoe Shining Parlor
Marion Hotel

TO THE STUDENTS!

We wish you an enjoyable vacation and hope that we will be able to serve you again in the fall.

Haases Apparel Shop

Homemade
Candy Ice-Cream Pastry
The Taste Tells
Open After The Dances
THE CANDY SHOPPE

WE HAVE
QUALITY SHOES
AT EXCEEDINGLY LOW PRICES
Swenson and Berndt
The Shoe Men

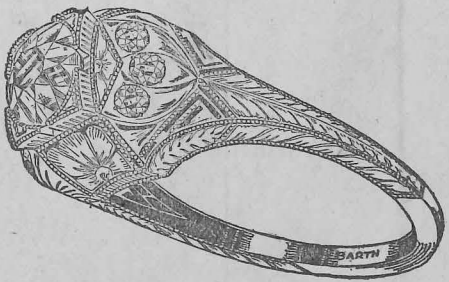

! BAGGAGE !

Careful Dependable Service

Trunks - - - - 50c | Anytime
Passenger - - 25c |

City Bus & Baggage Line
Phone 33

We Wish The Student Body An Enjoyable Vacation
And A
Hasty Return
ANNER and FRED

Nels, Melvin and Catherine thank you for your business during the past year and extend to you hearty wishes for a fine vacation.

We thank the Faculty and Students of the Stout Institute for their business during the school year.

In bidding you all goodbye for the summer you have our best hopes for a happy vacation and a joyous return to the Alma Mater in the fall.

Lee's Drug Store